WILDCATS PLACE NINE PLAYERS IN ALL-DISTRICT FOOTBALL TEAMS

Rocky Bachman

Douglas Chowning

The 1970 Crowell Wildcats were well represented on the all-district football selections announced this week.

Named to the all-district offense team were Mike Weathered, quarterback; Kenneth Sellers, split end; Douglas Chowning, tackle; and Jesse Barrera, center. Jim Tom (Frog) Smith, Wildcat fullback, was named to the second team, offense.

On the all-district defense team were George Evanson, end; Rocky Bachman, tackle; Jesse Barrera, guard; Weathered, linebacker; and Junior Urquizo, half-back.

Terry Farrar, linebacker, and Sellers, safety, were listed on the defensive second team.

Selections for all-district honors were made by the coaches of the district at a recent meeting.

Holiday, winner of District 8A, placed 10 men on all-district, and the second place Wildcats have 9 on the mythical team.

There were three unanimous choices in the selections, and the Wildcats had two of these: Sellers on offense and Bachman on defense. Bachman was the only sophomore in the entire district to be named on the all-district teams.

Three boys in the district were selected on both offense and defense and Crowell had two of these: Weathered and Barrera.

Coach Scott Boyd said Monday that selections were difficult to make this year due to the large number of fine ball players in the district. This is Coach Boyd's first year as CHS football coach and his assistant is Bob Cook.

Total of 246 Bales Foard Cotton Are Classed Last Week

The Altus Cotton Classing Office classed a total of 246 bales of Foard County cotton last week. This brings the total from this county up to 608 bales for the season. This time last year, the Altus office had classed 105 bales while two years ago, a total of 4,063 bales of Foard cotton had been classed in Altus.

The Altus office classed a total of 25,900 samples last week. Total bales classed this season is now 100,000 bales.

Grade distribution on the cotton classed during the week indicated twenty per cent in the white grades, and 73 per cent light spotted.

The Consumer and Marketing Service reported prices continued to decline. Average prices on predominant qualities showed that the farmer received from $1.50 to $3.25 per bale less than the previous week. Demand was strongest for the lower grades and shorter staples. These qualities averaged from $12.00 to $15.00 per bale above government loan.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING CONTEST TO BE SPONSORED BY H. D. CLUBS

Red Arrow Motor Freight Seeking to Purchase ICX Routes in West Texas

Red Arrow Freight Lines of San Antonio, a 42-year-old motor freight company presently serving more than 400 points in Central and South Texas, has entered into a contract to purchase the West Texas area franchises of Illinois-California Express (ICX) and has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas to approve the sale and transfer, Pat Riddle, vice president of sales for Red Arrow, said last week.

Mr. Riddle said that a hearing has been set for January 18 in Lubbock before the Texas Railroad Commission, which hears evidence both for the Railroad Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. Riddle said that if the application is approved, Red Arrow will extend its service to some 90 to 100 area cities and towns including Vernon, Quanah, Crowell, Electra, Childress, Paducah and Seymour in this immediate vicinity.

The general franchise area is bounded by Dallas on the east and includes Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Abilene and the areas in between.

The company vice president said that overnight service to this area from the Dallas-Fort Worth area would be established. He pointed out that the company has a sound background in the motor freight business and "in serving the number of points we do, we feel like we will be able to serve the West Texas area as well as we've been serving Central and South Texas."

This area has been experiencing considerable difficulty with delivery of freight.

She taught the first grade here from 1942 until she retired on Sept. 1, 1956. She was a public school teacher for a total of 34 years.

Weekly Schedule

Monday: Southern Assembly.
Tuesday: Betty Crocker homemaking test, senior girls, Library Club, 3:30; games with Matador, there.
Thursday: Army achievement test, 8:30.
Thursday, Friday, Saturday: basketball tournament at Munday.

The Senior Scene

During the Thanksgiving holidays, seniors had various activities: Toni Baggett ate turkey; George Eavenson messed around and worked; Karen Eavenson went to Rockies; Pat Cates lounged and watched "Galloping Gourmet." Brenda McBeath visited parents, several worked, went hunting, visited, and some had the same idea as Mieke Owens, "to do a heck of a lot of nothing." Jimmy Glover's plans were spoiled when the Cow-boys won their game. (Sorry, Jimmy!) These were representative of all senior plans.

Seniors remember: Christmas is not too far off. Better get that shopping done.

Junior Jabber

Before the holiday vacation, juniors had tests in Algebra II, history, homemaking and speech.

Tuesday the Crowell Wildcats played Harrold, defeating the Hornets in both games. Friday the Cats played Vernon; we were defeated but we played a hard game. Juniors participating in basketball are Rhonda Swan, Rhonda Howard, Bette Barry, Gladys Whitley, Gail Wheeler, Vicki Foster, Bob Burkett, Bill Erwin, Terry Farrar, Billy Ray Neal, Ishmael Santos, Lee Whitley and Harry Lee Swan.

The juniors are ready for the Christmas holidays. Are you?

Sophomore Scoop

Last week was a short week for the student body due to the Thanksgiving holidays. Although short, the week was full of events. A basketball pep rally was held Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium. Coach Cook introduced the players on the teams. That night the CHS teams emerged victorious over Harrold.

School dismissed Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 after a program presented to the student body.

Flying Fish

Monday morning didn't seem quite so blue this past week when the freshmen remembered they had only 3 days of school before the holidays.

This reminder: all freshmen should pay their money for the hayride. Turn it in to Martha Martin, Julie Streit or Floyd Borchart.

Congratulations

Congratulations go to the former Shayne Garrett, who became Mrs. Edward Mechell, Jr., during the Thanksgiving holidays. The Wildcat wishes Mr. and Mrs. Mechell many years of happiness.

Southern Assembly

Students of Crowell schools were entertained on Monday, Nov. 30, by Leo Gasca, presenting a Southern Assembly on physical fitness. Mr. Gasca, who has been a professional juggler and balance artist for more than 22 years, delighted younger students and amazed high schoolers with his feats requiring physical concentration and dexterity. He had two volunteers, Bill Erwin and Jesse Barrera, assist him in tricks with jugglers' hoops. His final and most outstanding feat was twirling hoops on his arms and legs while balanced on his head in a small swinging trapeze. Now residing in Pennsylvania, Mr. Gasca encouraged all students to develop themselves to their full physical potential by the use of exercises, while developing mentally in school. His antics and demonstrations were enjoyed by all.

Sports

Have you ever realized how different basketball is from football? Though some boys play both the two sports are as different as night and day.

It is true there are four quarters in both, but the extra four minutes in football really make a difference in scoring.

You ask if the number of players makes a difference. It surely does! Where five players are sufficient for basketball, eleven are

This Christmas— Wrap Her In Terry

A sure-to-please gift for any woman on your shopping list—whether she's liberated or still enchained—is a robe.

This year wrap her to the ankles in a luxurious cotton terry robe elegant enough to double as a hostess gown.

Once limited to bath or beachwear, terry robes have now entered the realm of high fashion to play dual roles as hostess gowns, loungewear, and dramatic patio outfits.

One reason for terry's ascension up the fashion ladder, reports the National Cotton Council, is that improved dyeing and printing methods have been developed to suit the fabric's loopy pile.

As a result, terry is turning up in brilliant colorings and exotic prints that make it a natural for its more luxurious role.

In addition, terry can be sculptured into rich jacquard designs or knitted into plush velours that are smooth and velvety to the touch.

Aside from its new-found elegance and high styling, terry has its practical side, too. It's washable, requires no ironing, and gets softer and more luxurious feeling the longer it's worn.

REGAL—Plush cotton terry in a sculptured jacquard weave creates a dramatic Empire-style robe. Elegant enough to double as a hostess gown. It's by Robes of California.

SOFT TOUCH—Cotton terry with loops sheared for a velvety touch shapes an elegant wrap in a vivid butterfly print. The reverse side of the Robes of California design is in uncut terry.

LUXURIOUS—Patchwork and border prints are combined for a colorful effect in this cotton terry hostess dress. Styled with a zipper-front and wide collar, the belted design is by Robes of California.

From the News . . . THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Nov. 28, 1940, issue of The Foard County News:

An election to determine whether or not a bond issue of $36,000 will be made by Foard County for the construction of a hard-surfaced road to run in a southeasterly direction to the Baylor County line was ordered to be held in this county on Saturday, Dec. 28, by the Commissioners' Court.

Oscar Boman, who is at home after having spent four months in the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo, says it is one of the greatest hospitals in the country.

David Lee Solis has joined the Army Air Corps and is a member of the Puerto Rico Detachment, Company B, Barksdale Field at Shreveport, La., where he will remain for four weeks. He will take training in mechanics.

While new weather records were being set on the Plains and Amarillo was thrown without lights and water for a number of hours due to icy weather which put the power lines down and blocked roads so that the city was isolated from the world for more than a day, Foard County was receiving a slow, gentle, general rain which practically assures enough moisture to carry wheat through until late next spring. Crowell received 2.67 inches.

J. M. Hill returned to Crowell last Thursday from Kansas City, Mo., where he represented the Crowell FFA Chapter at the National FFA Convention held in the municipal auditorium in that city.

Mrs. Willie Cato, who has been attending a beauty culture school in Wichita Falls, has opened a beauty shop in her home in Thalia.

Charles Flowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Flowers of Crowell, is among the youths selected by the National Youth Administration in the Fort Worth District to be given work-experience at the Inks Dam Resident Center near Burn-Texas.

Valton Wallace left last Wednesday for Brownwood where he will be employed in the construction of the big training camp to be built near there.

Alton Bell came in last Thursday from a hunting trip in the Davis Mountains where he bagged a large buck.

Twenty-year-old Miss Helga Scluter of Southart, N. J., has been indicted for tearing a United States flag.

Practice sessions for the 1940-41 basketball season were opened here Monday when thirteen aspirants reported to Coach Grady Graves for the first workout. Not a player is back from last year's squad. The men trying for positions are W. D. Hudgeons, T. L. Owens, Ralph Flesher, Joe Wells, Charlie Thompson, Charles Davis, Charles Nelson, John Clark Long, H. L. Blevins, Alton Roark, Bill Owens, Duane Capps and Stanley Sanders. Duane Capps, who is playing his first season with the Wildcats, should give much strength to the team. He transferred from Thalia two years ago and was a member of the strong Tiger team of 1938. He was ineligible for play last year, but is ready for action now.

Dr. Don Todd Joins Texas A&I

Dr. Don Todd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walker P. Todd of Quanah and a grandson of Mrs. Edith Bell of Crowell, has accepted a position as professor in the electrical engineering department of Texas A&I University at Kingsville.

Dr. Todd has been assigned the task of installing a control and computer system in the college. He moved to Kingsville from Dallas where he served as an electrical engineer for Texas Instruments.

Christmas Is For Children Everywhere

A medical study in Lahore, Pakistan, shows that 9 of 10 babies who reach their first birthday have already started a lifetime of undernourishment, the Associated Press reported recently.

Other studies have shown that malnutrition afflicts half the children in underdeveloped countries, and may cause permanent mental and physical damage in the young.

These poignant facts underscore the holiday-season CARE Food Crusade appeal, which asks Americans to help the world's hungry children grow into healthy, educated, self-supporting adults. Now, as we plan and shop to make Christmas happy for our children, it behooves us to remember these others who need help so badly.

Under CARE's plan, during the coming year, some 23.4 million infants, young children and school children will be fed regularly at institutions — including schools and nutrition centers CARE helped build, and hospitals where CARE-MEDICO teams are working. They form the vast majority of a total 25 million people CARE will help feed in 35 countries, from Latin America to Africa and Asia.

To complete the plan, funds are needed to deliver 6,700,000 food packages, at $1 per package. U. S. donations of farm foods and operating support contributed by host governments will multiply the gift dollars. For example: every dollar can help feed a child for three months; $10 serves a full lunch to 900 children. Somewhere, the young will thrive and have a brighter future if you mail a check to CARE Food Crusade, 109 N. Akard St., Dallas, Texas 75201.

All of this talk about inflation, gross national product, pollution, and dropping hemlines is enough to make a woman get hooked on soap operas.

They're ideal, I've found, for getting away from your own problems by escaping into some one else's... especially when other people's problems involve such simple matters as John's other wife's son eloping with her current husband's daughter by his first marriage and using John's present wife's second car to elope in.

My husband doesn't exactly see eye to eye with me on this "escape" routine. He's a firm believer in facing problems squarely with a cool head... unless it's some domestic crisis like that one glass of milk that keeps getting overturned at every family meal. Things like that really make the old boy lose his cool, but I kind of enjoy them 'cause it's the one time I turn into a model of efficiency. (Unfortunately, the image lasts only as long as it takes me to wipe up the spill... so lately I've toyed with the idea of adding a little dance routine to my mopping-up chores to prolong the image a few minutes more.)

Anyway, the other night we had one of those serious husband-to-wife talks after the kids were in bed and the pillow-fights had dropped off to a normal boys-will-be-boys level. Seems that he had been thinking seriously about inflation, gross national product, etc., and decided we should contribute to their solution by starting in our own home.

For one wild moment, I thought he was about to suggest that I go on a diet to combat my own personal inflation and slim down from a gross local product. But then he started talking about all of the garbage we have at our house... disposable soft drink bottles, plastic milk cartons, paper towels, etc. I was about to remind him it's his dear little wife who has to empty the garbage every night, but the caution light was clearly on.

If the average family, he said, would refuse to buy "disposable" items and demand reusable or returnable containers, it would do more to reduce pollution than eliminating all the factory smoke stacks in America.

Before I could think that one out, he started talking about all the money we could save, too. Turned out we could save $30 a year just by buying a few kitchen cotton towels, washing them with our regular laundry, and using them over and over again. What's more, he continued, buying soft drinks in returnable bottles would not only save money but reduce our garbage by about 600 bottles a year. (We're our own drinking uncles.)

My husband apparently didn't realize he had also offered me a solution to the hemline problem. With the savings we'll have by disposing of disposables in our grocery shopping, I just might be able to buy me a new midi this fall.

Crime Deal a Staggering Blow
"Crime has been dealt another staggering blow in the nation's largest city. A theatrical press agent was arrested and fined $5 the other day for having retrieved a newspaper from a wastebasket of the subway station at Eighth Avenue and 42nd Street. . . reports The New York Times. The press agent was arrested in his office and, accompanied by a plainclothesman and three uniformed policemen, was taken to the Criminal Courts Building where swift justice was meted out to him. Now that New York's subways are safe for discarded newspapers, some wise guy will inevitably suggest that they be made safe for people, too. As if the police can be everywhere."—Marysville, Calif., Appeal-Democrat.

Social Security and Disability Insurance

Last year social security disability insurance payments totaled over two billion dollars—all paid to disabled workers under 65 and their families. "These payments are part of the social security program for younger people," said Wayne Klipping, social security manager in Vernon.

Disability cash benefits are paid to workers who become unable to work because of a physical or mental condition when they have enough work credits under social security to qualify for benefits.

Klipping explained that the disabling condition must be expected to last 12 months or more. The work requirement for persons age 31 and over is five years credit under social security in the ten years just before the disability began.

Younger people are not required to have as much work. If you become disabled before age 24, you need credit for 1½ years of work during the last three years. If you become disabled between 24 and 31, you need work credit for half the time after 21 and before you become disabled.

"For more information get in touch with your social security office," Klipping said. "Ask for the booklet, 'If You Become Disabled' which is available without charge."

"Occupant" Mails Big Check

"In one of the trade magazines that comes into our office, we read about a fellow who got tired of those 'begging' letters that come in the mail addressed to 'Boxholder' or 'Occupant,' asking for handouts for all kinds of charities or money-raising campaigns. He said he finally decided to do something about a particular one, so he wrote a check to the organization for $10,000 and signed it 'Occupant.' That'll teach 'em a thing or two, he commented."

Winter Weed Control on Cotton Land
Next year's cotton yields can be influenced by soil management and weed control practices during the upcoming winter months. Timely land preparation, says Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, should be the first step. Then he suggests the use of mechanical or chemical methods to keep weeds under control until planting time. He notes that local county agents have available new information on the subject as well as others relating to cotton production and believes cotton producers will find them valuable references.
Would Rather Be The First
"One man tackles the hard job first and keeps on until he completes it. He succeeds, goes up the ladder and pays taxes to help support the government by income payments. Another man does the easy job first and sidesteps the hard one. He fails in business or loses his job and the government helps support him out of the first man's taxes. Nevertheless, most of us would rather be the first man."—Gotebo, Okla., Record-Times.
Far-Out Prediction
"Had anyone predicted eight years ago, when the federal budget first passed the $100-billion mark, that less than a decade later we would be spending twice that much money he would have been dismissed as an alarmist. Had he added that even at that fantastic figure the spending projection would have been represented as a belt tightening exercise he would have been regarded as a crackpot. Yet both have come to pass. President Nixon has submitted a prospective schedule calling for the expenditure of $209.8 billion during the fiscal year 1970-71 and calls it an "austerity" budget." — Fort Dodge, Iowa, Messenger.

Tax Reform . . .
"One hears considerable talk these days about tax reform. To the person who talks reform it means that he hopes someone else will pay more taxes so he may pay less. We, the people, have long since passed the stage where reform will do any good. The reform will only mean different inequities. What would help, would be tax reduction. This is possible but not probable. The only way there could be tax reduction would be to have the different governments quit throwing money away. This is not likely to happen. Too many people get the checks. Of course someone has to put in the money, but why think about that? It's easy to rob Peter to pay Paul." — Corsica, S. D., Globe.

Achievement . . .
"Recipe for successful achievement. Choose a career you love . . . Give it the best there is in you . . . Seize your opportunities . . . And be a member of the team. In no Country but America, we believe, is it possible to fulfill all four of these requirements."—Fountain, Colo., Security Advertiser.

The home of Mrs. Ray Shirley was the scene of a bridal kitchen shower and coffee given for Miss Melody Hiatt of Vernon Saturday morning. Miss Hiatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hiatt of Vernon and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bert Self of Crowell, will marry Terry Putnam, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Putnam of Vernon.

Royal blue, the bride's color, was predominate on the polished mahogany reception table where an antique blue and white water basin and pitcher filled with fall fruits, nuts and holly formed the centerpiece. A silver coffee service, silver accessories, and blue and white antique turkey plates and platter completed the decor.

The bride-elect followed a ball of twine to her gayly-wrapped kitchen gifts hidden in a closet "guarded" by a mannequin made of a broom, mop, and various brushes and kitchen gadgets "dressed" in potholders and apron. The coffee table in the living room was accented by a bride doll made of funnels, brushes, dish rags, and small kitchen magnets. The hostesses also presented the bride-elect with a presto cooker.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Shirley, Gordon Bell, Paul Shirley and J. H. Minnick. Twenty-eight guests from Crowell and Vernon registered for the event.

Budget-Minded? Turn Towels Into Toys

TOYS WITH BOY APPEAL—Easy-to-make toys from colorful cotton terry towels and wash cloths include a bright red locomotive, complete with cowcatcher, and a jaunty boat that sails under the name of S.S. Wash Cloth. The locomotive is made from a hand towel and a group of Cannon wash cloths. The boat, fashioned from seven wash cloths, also makes a good gag gift for grown-up boatmen.

Inexpensive toys with loads of appeal can be made in minutes from colorful cotton terry towels and wash cloths.

Fun and easy to make, the toys are formed by rolling and stitching the towels and wash cloths. Trims can be made from scraps in the sewing basket.

For starters, try Perry Penguin—complete with perky expression and formal attire. He's fashioned from two white bath towels and three black fingertip guest towels. Scraps of cotton velvet, corduroy, or felt can be used for his feet, eyes, bill, and necktie.

Sailor-minded youngsters will welcome the S.S. Wash Cloth to their fleet of toys. It's a jaunty ship made from blue and white wash cloths, trimmed with curtain rings, ribbon, and small flags.

Another towel toy with boy appeal is a big red locomotive complete with cab, cylinders, and cowcatcher. It's made from a hand towel and eight wash cloths. An empty spool serves as the smokestack, and cardboard is shaped into a cowcatcher.

For detailed instructions, send ten cents to Cannon Homemaking Service, P. O. Drawer 107, Kannapolis, N. C. 28081.

PENGUIN PAL—Little girls (and coeds, too) will take to Perry, the terry penguin. He's made from two cotton bath towels and three wash cloths. Cannon Homemaking Service points out that the towels are not cut and can be unrolled for later use in the bath.

DEVELOPMENT OF AREA RIVERS IS PREDICTED

Calvin Watts of Shreveport, La., executive vice chairman of the Red River Valley Association, told a group of civic leaders from Quannah, Crowell and Vernon at a meeting Thursday of last week in the First National Bank building in Quannah that his association would consider any feasible water plan by area groups including the construction of a lake on the Pease River near the new state park between Quannah and Crowell.

Watts described the Red River Association as a four state organization which has been active since 1928 at the federal level to develop water resources of the Red River.

He was introduced by Fred Parkey of Wichita Falls, executive director of the Red River Water Authority of Texas.

In reviewing the Red River Valley Association, founded in 1925, Watts pointed out the original goal was to provide navigation whereas now the Association is charged with that phase of developing the Red River basin plus broadened to include all aspects of land and water resource development such as flood control, channel stabilization, water quality, water supply, pollution control and soil conservation. Navigation objectives have been enlarged to extend from the mouth of Red River to Daingerfield, Texas, via Alexandria and Shreveport, La.

After 45 years work by the Association, this year Congress provided funds in the amount of $600,000 as a start on the project to be used for engineering and design on the first two locks and dams below Alexandria. Total estimated cost of the project, including bank stabilization is now nearly three-fourths of a billion dollars.

On the federal level, the House and Senate passed a Public Works Appropriation bill for the 1971 fiscal year providing a total of $5.2 billion for various work over the country. Included in that bill is $28,746,700 for some 29 Red River Valley projects.

In reaching the full potential of developing the Red River Basin below Denison, engineers and the Red River Valley Association, Red River Water Authority of Texas and other towns and counties in the Red River basin from Denison north are due to be brought into the planning and implementation programs.

With the "know-how" available to control the heavy salt pollution in the North Texas areas of the Red River Valley basin, including tributaries such as Pease River, a tremendous amount of work on developing the valley and basin north of Denison can be expected.

"The projects will move as fast as the people in the Red River basin demonstrate interest and their willingness to participate in planning and assuming responsibilities in asking for federal and state help," the group was reminded by area people who have worked for many years on various water projects on Red and Pease Rivers.

Parkey reviewed for those present several ways the Red River Valley Association had already assisted in the development of water supplies along the Red River basin and also explained the procedures needed to be followed in obtaining assistance in projects of this area. He reminded those present that water plans should be made 50 years in advance as it takes considerable time to develop such plans and get appropriations from the government.

John E. McAlister, technician with the Soil Conservation Service in Crowell who has been working on a Resource, Conservation and Development project for the Four Winds Industrial Foundation counties of Hardeeman, Foard, Cottle and Childress, presented an aerial map of the new state park and a proposed site of a lake on the Pease River just west of the park. The lake would be in addition to the proposed lake on Canal Creek to control the salt content of Pease River from reaching into lakes on Red River.

McAlister, who also worked on securing the state park with area soil conservation offices, pointed out that the new lake would not only provide needed water for public consumption and irrigation, but also for recreation.

The U. S. Corps of Engineers has completed 27 projects on Red River at a total cost of $259,670,055 and has 16 projects under construction at a cost of $246,100,000. Five projects have been authorized but not started at a cost of $786,900,000 for a total of work underway or authorized of $1,292,670,055. In the figure is a salinity control project on the Wichita River totaling $60,000,000.

W. C. Howard, of Quannah, long time advocate of developing all the water and land resources of the area and prominent in local, district, state and national Soil Conservation Service work as an executive officer of the levels of SCS, welcomed the visitors to Quannah and introduced Parkey who chaired the meeting for the Red River Water Authority of Texas. Parkey had invited Watts to go to Quannah and let those living on the upper part of Red River basin become acquainted with long-range plans for the basin.

He urged area people to get together and plan on the local level project prerogatives and work toward making them become realities.

Attending the meeting from Foard County were Mr. McAlister, Roy Ayers and J. A. Marr.

Two Minutes With the Bible

True Riches

To know God through Christ and His redeeming work is to be rich indeed.

The Scriptures have much to say about the infinite riches of God. They tell us of "the riches of His glory" (Rom. 9:23; Eph. 3:16, "the riches of His wisdom and knowledge" (Rom. 11:33), "the riches of His goodness and forbearance and long-suffering" (Rom. 2:4) and "the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7; 2:7). God would have us enjoy these riches through faith in Christ, who died for our sins.

"For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes became poor, that ye through poverty might be rich" (2 Cor. 8:9).

We should rejoice that God, in addition to His rich in wisdom and knowledge in glory and power, is also rich in mercy" (Eph. 2:4) and "the same Lord over all" who unto all that call upon Him whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Rom. 10:12,13).

To St. Paul, the chief riches, saved by grace, God has given the greatest riches of all: "Unto me, who am the least of all saints is this grace, that I should preach the nations the unsearchable riches include, among other things, "all the riches of the fullness of understanding" (Eph. 2:2). How wonderful to have intelligent understanding of the plan of salvation and of what has purposed in His heart for those who accept the plan He has provided through His beloved Son!

True riches are not of material things. The Bible calls these "uncertain riches" warns us not to trust in them (Tim. 6:17). True riches know the love of Christ, passeth knowledge" and be "filled with all the fullness of God" (Eph. 3:19).
