CHS has seen a great deal of school spirit in almost every activity that students have participated in this school year: football, basketball, plays, choir, band. School spirit has been great, and as everyone is aware, you can't get too much of a good thing. Support is always deeply appreciated by the participants whether it be from classmates, faculty, or townspeople. Enthusiasm creates enthusiasm and the spirit of the Fighting Wildcats is to be commended.

Many activities are planned for the spring and it is the hope of the Wildcat that school spirit will swell to even greater heights as the Interscholastic League events.

The class would like to recognize the ball players for their victory over Chillicothe and their challenge with Paducah. The juniors are behind you all the way.

Sophomore Scoop

Many sophomores are learning the fundamentals of driving in the driver's education program being conducted by Mr. Welch. Students learn not only the proper driving procedures, but also learn a great deal about actual driving situations, the United States highway system, and driving courtesy.

Tests took up a great deal of sophomore students' time last week; however, students enjoyed the informative program on the heart campaign given on Wednesday.

Go, Wildcats!

In home ec, the girls learned the differences in face shapes and what hair styles were more becoming to them. They also studied lines and styles for fashions. # VALUES

nobody else can match

IT'S A FACT . . . our home merchants and service establishments give us a special type of Bargain every time we spend a dollar with them.

- And no competitors of theirs in another town or city can give us . . . who live in this area . . . anything like as good a deal when we're shopping.
- It's simple economics. The dollar we spend at home buys about the same goods or service that it will buy anywhere else . . . but . . . to make every purchase at home a better bargain, we also get to share in, and to profit from the more prosperous community that larger trade volume naturally builds.
- And this Extra Value . . . which we do not get when we spend our money in somebody else's community . . . is the real key to our own greater individual prosperity and enjoyment of life . . . and far more valuable in the long run than the merchandise we're buying.

Many Decisions Face Farm Families

FARM MANAGEMENT DECISIONS IN THE '70S

Farm families will face a multitude of management decisions in the 1970's. That's certainly an understatement if there ever was one. But wise management decisions hold the key to the continued survival of farming operations during this decade.

What decisions face farm families? Dr. William E. Black, economist in marketing and policy with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, discussed 13 issues at a Farm Family Management Conference recently in Lamesa.

To Farm or Not

1. With the continued narrowing of profit margins per unit of production, farmers are motivated to do one of two things—change their farming operation to more production units, or drop out of farming. For those who do not expand and must quit farming, the major decision is to drop out and what is the best alternative employment opportunity. Moving from farm to non-farm employment is more an adjustment than many farm families realize or are willing to make.

2. "If the decision is to stay farming, then the farmer should consider investing in marketing," says Black. The farmer will need to have his production locked into marketing arrangement ahead of time, or he will not produce. This marketing arrangement can become the basis for financing his production.

Right to Manage

3. "Farmers must retain their identity so that they will be able to make management decisions," emphasizes the economist. Whether farmers will fight for the type of marketing arrangements that will keep them as independent managers or not is one of the major decisions they will make in the '70's."

4. "The geographic and cultural divisions between the farm and non-farm world will continue to fade," contends Black. "Farms will not be able to operate in an agrarian world. They will become a bigger part of the process that allows society to survive." Thus the farm public will be demanding assistance in a wide variety of subject matter in addition to that for commercial agriculture.

Consumer Orientation Needed

11. "In order to compete with farm product substitutes, farmers must become more concerned with how the consumer accepts his product—and her desires regarding that product. They must relate their business to their customer rather than to themselves. Farmers must take a stronger hand in developing and maintaining markets for their products."

12. Agriculture will become more international. Thus farmers will need to relate to the world-wide dimensions of food and fiber, points out the economist. "International trade will continue to be one of the mainstays of our agricultural economy."

13. Financial arrangements will change as the financial structure

New Technology to Continue

6. New technology will continue to pose new opportunities and choices. Extensive investment in research and development will likely continue to pay off in more economical sources of power, highly automated systems and unique production techniques. How much investment the farmer will make to aid output—both in research and application—will be another decision.

7. Farmers will also be confronted with social programs that initially seem hard to swallow, such as the public concern about pesticides, nitrates and odors. These public concerns are bringing about restrictions on farm operations, and threats of further restrictions will influence the farmer's choices. Instead of remaining a part of the problem, Black suggests that farmers become a part of the solution.

Income Taxes will Increase

8. The economist cites two reasons for this—large anticipated income per farm, and greater demand for public services and programs at the local, state and national levels. Thus, taxes will become increasingly important as a consideration in managing farms—particularly income and estate taxes.

Labor Picture Changing

9. "The hired farm labor situation is changing. Farmers must now compete with the total economy in a more or less national market." As farmers expand in the labor-intensive enterprises, they become involved in new concepts for employing labor—employment and health insurance, minimum wages, pension plans and unionization rights. Part of these programs will be defrayed by the farmer directly.

Of Farms and Ranches Changes and could become a part of the marketing arrangement. More reliable sources of credit will be sought and there will be changes in rental arrangements, consultant services, custom work and incorporation. "Farmers must become more and more concerned with the threat of agribusiness takeover."

The management decisions

facing farm families in the 70's constitute a continuing and intense challenge to those planning to succeed in farming," points out Black. "Many adjustments must be made now, and the pace will continue to pick up. For those who fail to adjust to critical changes, the opportunity to adjust to future changes can be lost."

Austin, Tex. — Legislators face a week of major decisions.

Before the House are key portions of Gov. Preston Smith's finance plan. House followed the Senate in hurrying to a vote the proposal to lift the $80 million a year welfare spending lid.

An emergency $48.4 million deficit spending bill to avert a welfare crisis is perhaps their biggest problem today.

A four-fifth vote of both houses is required to suspend the Texas constitution's "pay as you go" requirement and permit lawmakers to go into the red for the balance of this fiscal year . . . which ends in August.

If legislators decline to take this route, they must pass a tax bill to raise the money by March 1.

To place a revenue-raising measure into immediate effect would require passage by a two-thirds majority.

Alternative is reduction in welfare benefits by early spring.

Another matter being moved to an early showdown is Governor Smith's proposal to float a $450 million state bond issue secured by income from permanent school fund revenue diversion. Both bond issue and tapping of school land lease money would require constitutional amendments.

Regardless of the House vote on the bond issue, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes sizes up Senate sentiment toward it as cold.

Mood of both houses appear to favor early passage of code of ethics legislation.

If Governor Smith's finance program doesn't fare better than he anticipates, Barnes says, he will ask House Speaker Gus Mutscher to join him in urging the Governor to submit some alternatives.

NEW CAR INSURANCE PLAN OFFERED

—Auto insurance agents in a hearing before the Insurance Board proposed "a much better insurance package" at reduced cost.

But a spokesman acknowledged no actuarial studies have been made to back up their claim.

While their plan keeps present liability coverage, it also would extend unlimited medical expense benefits to the insured regardless of who is at fault in accidents. It would replace up to 60 per cent of wages lost due to accident injuries to maximum of $250 a week, and provide death and dismemberment coverage.

Although all of the above (proposed as mandatory coverage in each policy) would increase costs, agents claimed the overall premium would be reduced if $150 deductible damage coverage was substituted for $50 and $100 deductible.

Two Minutes With the Bible

Simple As Can Be

Have you ever heard some preacher say: "There are many things in the Bible which are hard to understand, but, thank God, the plan of salvation is as simple as can be."

Well, the plan of salvation is simple if we obey II Timothy 2:15, "rightly dividing the Word of truth." Otherwise, it is far from simple.

The apostle Paul wrote: "We conclude that a man is justified by faith, without the works of the Law" (Rom. 3:28). Yet James wrote: "By works a man is justified, and not by faith only" (James 2:24).

Again, at Sinai God said to Israel through Moses: "If ye will obey My voice indeed, and keep My covenant, then shall ye be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people . . ." (Ex. 19:5). But our Lord said, as He sent His apostles to witness for Him, that "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved . . . and these signs shall follow them that believe: in My name shall they cast out demons, they shall speak with new tongues . . ." etc. Thus, according to their "great commission" water baptism was required for salvation and miraculous signs were the evidences of salvation.

Confusing? Contradictory? Not if we "rightly divide the Word of truth." It was after "the law was given by Moses," after our Lord's earthly ministry, after the commission to the twelve, that God raised up another apostle, Paul, and sent him forth with "the gospel of the grace of God" (Acts 20:24).

It was Paul who was sent to declare: "But now, the righteousness of God without the law is manifested . . ." (Rom. 3:24). "To him that worketh not, but believeth on Him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness" (Rom. 4:5). "Therefore, being justified by faith we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ" (Rom. 5:1).

Rock Inscribed With "1906" Found Northwest of Town

What was possibly the marker of a grave for a person who died many years ago, was found by Odell Williams on the Shamburger Ranch northwest of Crowell last Friday morning. Mr. Williams is foreman of the ranch.

The weather-beaten sandstone rock, which was flat and almost two feet long, was found with one end imbedded in the ground. Though the years had worn off the rock, the numbers "1906" were visible on the rock and a letter "A" was also visible to the left of the numbers.

The way the rock was found standing on end with the carvings on it led Mr. Williams to think that it probably was the headstone for a grave.

Hunting Seasons in Foard County Are All Closed

The ladies are still sewing in the afternoons. We do this on Mon., Wed., and Fri. when senior citizens aren't meeting. Curtains for living rooms have been made, vest, etc., completed this month. Some have been cooking.

Wilma Coleman and children are very proud of the way their home is progressing. It is very pretty, would like for each of you to drive by and see the improvement. Bruno Aranda is now at home and doing fine from his operation in Wichita Falls.

We would like to welcome the Tisdales and Gardners back to Crowell. We missed each of you, our community needs each of you.

Basketball Coach Speaker at Rotary Club Meeting

Bob Cook, Crowell High School basketball coach, was the principal speaker at the Wednesday meeting of the Rotary Club last week. Mr. Cook told the Rotarians something about himself and also about basketball.

Mr. Cook grew up in Denver, Colo. Upon finishing high school, because he is 6 feet, 7 inches tall, he began looking around for a place to play basketball and go to college. He chose Wayland College in Plainview. He enjoyed the long-standing history of winning teams from the girls there that are known as the "Flying Queens."

After finishing Wayland—he and Mrs. Cook were married while both were sophomores there—Bob thought of becoming a professional basketball player. He worked out a few weeks as a try-out and said he learned more about basketball in that short time than in all the years before. However, he decided to teach and coach instead of going into professional basketball.

Mr. Cook also gave some information about the game basketball. He said it is 100 per cent American and is one of the few sports that had its origin in this country. It started in 1891 and became collegiate in 1897. It started out with thirteen simple rules, but has changed a lot through the years. Most of the rules have been to speed up the game and to penalize tall players. The center jump after the goal was made was discontinued in 1937. The one-or-two bonus shot came into being in 1954. Then 10 seconds became the maximum time a team had in getting the ball back to their half of the court, and 3 seconds became the limit a player could spend in the center circle in front of the goal. With this speeding up of the game, it now takes more training, keeping in good condition, coordination and balance than any other game in sports.

CHS Track Team Now in Training
The Crowell High School track team for the coming spring season is coached by Scott Boyd, athletic director of the school.
The local team will attend track meets at Stephenville, Holliday, Knox City, Jayton, Vernon and Fort Stockton.

Cold Front Drops Mercury; Front Brings No Rain

The unseasonably warm weather experienced last week in Foard County was replaced early this week by frigid air which came in with a norther Sunday.

Last week the mercury was rising to the 70's and low 80's but early Monday of this week, it dropped to about 20 degrees.

A cloud cover moved over this area late Monday and hung on Tuesday, but no moisture fell.

Economic Battle Royal

"Most of the employed people in this country are engaged in an economic battle royal. Each group tries to get a bigger increase in wages or salaries than the others, and sees itself as in a contest only with its employer. In reality, however, each group is in conflict with all of the others. The struggle is becoming more intense each year, the combatants are demanding greater and greater increase, and more and more groups are joining the fray. As long as this kind of economic civil war continues unabated, the government's efforts to control inflation through monetary and fiscal means will have little chance of real success."—Havana, Ill., Mason County Democrat.

SOME QUESTIONS TO ASK THE PRINTING AND OFFICE SUPPLIES PEDDLER

When the person selling printing, office supplies and advertising solicits your business, here are some questions he should be willing to answer to YOUR SATISFACTION:

1. Is he a taxpayer in your community or county?
2. Does he donate space in the newspaper to local and county projects and enterprises?
3. Does he pay wages to employees who live and do business in your community?
4. Does he grant favors that you would ask of your local newspaper?
5. Does he donate newspaper space to promote you and your neighbor's business?
6. Does his price include freight, postage and insurance?
7. Does he support your civic organizations, schools and churches with free publicity?

We sincerely believe that these questions should be considered when you purchase printing and office supplies—a question of whether you should support those who help support you!

Billions of Pennies "Stashed Away"

The Elks Magazine reports that director of the Mint Mary T. Brooks estimates that billions of pennies have dropped out of circulation because Americans have stashed them away in their piggy banks. She says that if people would stop hoarding them, the government presses would not have to spend so much time making new ones and could be used to turn out other coins that would bring in more seigniorage or profit to the government.
