Gov. Smith told The Foard County News on making the appointment, "It's good for Texas to have Dick Todd on the team. We have a big state government and we need men like Todd to serve on the boards of our state institutions so that we can have the best of talent to lead our efforts."

There are some 250,000 American babies born each year with defects, but through the efforts of the American public, researchers are learning more and more about what causes birth defects, and how to conquer them."

Investigator Is Named by District Attorney Neal

Russell, 44, of Vernon, has had 14 years experience in law enforcement, including services with the Vernon police department, Texas Liquor Control Board and the Wilbarger county sheriff's office. Russell has served as a captain on the Vernon police department and as an inspector for the Liquor Control Board. For the past three years, he has served as a Wilbarger county deputy sheriff.

Russell began his new duties on January 1. His duties as criminal investigator will include assisting in the preparation of criminal cases for the grand jury and later in the actual jury trial of these cases in the 46th Judicial District which includes Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties.

He will also serve as a link between the district attorney's office and all area law enforcement agencies and will be available to these agencies at any time he is needed to assist them in criminal investigations.

The employment of a criminal investigator for the DA's office was made possible by a recent grant from the Criminal Justice Council in Austin. No local funds will have to be spent on the project.

For the twenty-fifth consecutive year, George Self gave the first program of the year for the Crowell Rotary Club, and he made his annual predictions. His predictions were 65 per cent correct for 1971. Some of Mr. Self's predictions for 1972 follow:

City of Crowell: Financially the City is in good condition. For the fifth time, Mr. Self reminded members that the city needs a fire truck, which he says can be financed by a 1 per cent city sales tax. The town has bought and paid for 1 1/2 blocks of land to give the Housing Authority a place to build 30 units, tenant paying 20 per cent of salary for rent. "Some of these will be finished in 1972," Mr. Self said.

Foard County: In good condition financially. "It will maintain its status quo in 1972." Voters, (1100) predicting (1400), are registered for three years. The 750 square mile school district is in sound financial condition for 1972. The ASCS program will remain about the same, maybe a 1 per cent increase added to the $1.25 bushel for wheat. Might increase to $1.56 or maybe $1.60 a bushel.

Agriculture: Largest wheat crop ever. County average is 17 bushels per acre. Mr. Self predicts for 1972, 25 bushels an acre. He also gave a rundown on the different companies that are making bigger tractors in 1972.

Politics: The county will remain the same. The state and national will have a "fruit basket turn over". He predicts some of the dirtiest campaigning ever witnessed.

Taxes: He warned about the possibility of a state income tax. He urged residents to get a commitment from the candidates against this.

Other needs: permanent foundation for the cemetery fund. Rest home in connection with the hospital. Paint the chairs in the community building.

Rotary Club: There will be a 10 per cent decrease in membership. Therefore the club must increase by 15 per cent. He said that Rotary International will be meeting in Houston in June. He said it will be the largest convention ever, and he urged members to plan to spend two weeks in Houston at that time.

Other predictions: LVN school will open in February. The Crowell Wildcats will win the district in 1972. Cowboys will win the Super Bowl. Three of the six wildcats staked in Foard County will produce oil. Offsets might increase the wells by 12.

Senior Sidelines

Seniors are beginning to get back into school routines again after enjoying the Christmas holidays. Many realized on Monday morning that it was awfully hard to get up at 6:30 and 7 after sleeping late all those mornings. When a few seniors were asked what one of their Christmas gifts were, some replied:
 Bob Burkett: western boots.
 Bette Sue Barry: cowboy hat.
 Betty Whitfield: one-third of a car.
 Rhonda Howard: promise ring.
 Beth Welch: ring.
 Carolyn Jones: luggage.
 Bill Erwin, Ronny Naylor, Trey Autry, Bill Taylor, Jackie Daniel: clothes.

 English IV book reports are due Friday and the Wildcats open up their district games that night. Good luck.
 Seniors hope each of you had plenty of blackeyed peas to assure good luck throughout the new year.

Typical Student's New Year's Resolutions

Do not peek at anyone's paper. (Let them show it to you).
 Do not throw erasers. (Books are heavier).
 Do not copy. (Pay others to do it for you).
 Do not be late for class. (Take the whole day off instead.)
 Do not borrow the teacher's pen. (Just take it).
 Do not run in the halls. (Sliding is more fun).
 Do not whisper. (You can be heard better if you shout).
 Do not fall asleep in class. (Loud snoring wakes the teacher).

New Courses Offered

Two new semester courses began last week in Crowell High School. A driver's education program, taught by James Welch, enables qualified students to get a provisional license at age sixteen and helps to insure that all new vehicle operators have the necessary instruction.
 Trigonometry is offered under Jim Mac Gafford for students who want to study higher mathematics. For many courses and majors offered in college, trigonometry is a prerequisite.
 The broader a student's educational background, the easier it is for the student to become successful in later life.

Golden Rule For Drivers

With driver's education underway, the Wildcat dedicates the following to the student drivers: "Ten Commandments" for motorists:

1. Thou shalt not make unto thee a god of thy horsepower.
2. Thou shalt hold only the steering wheel.
3. Thou shalt not take the center lane in vain.
4. Remember the driver behind to help him pass thee.
5. Honor thy father and mother and all other passengers.
6. Thou shalt not kill.
7. Thou shalt not commit inebriated driving.
8. Thou shalt not steal—not thy neighbor's eyes with thy headlights, nor his ear with thy horn, nor his enjoyment with thy litter.
9. Thou shalt not bear false witness with thy signals.
10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's right of way.

Sports

Well, here it is 1972 and I'm sure everyone wants to start it off right. I know a real nice way—by coming to all the Wildcats' basketball games! They need and deserve your support. So let's keep that in mind, especially when district play starts.

January 7, the girls will take on Electra here at 5 p.m. The girls will play Vernon there, 5:00. I hope to see all of you Wildcat fans there!

Cafeteria Menu January 10-14

Winter Wheat Prospects Good, Says Crop Report

The Santa Fe Crop report for January 1972 had the following comments on the winter wheat crop prospects:

Prospects are generally bright for the 1972 winter wheat crop. Except for a few areas where planting was delayed due to lack of sufficient moisture and where reseeding was necessary reports from the Santa Fe-served states indicate good stands are the general rule. Rains throughout most of the winter wheat area during the fall season and recent snows have stimulated growth that is furnishing excellent pasture for livestock and should furnish adequate cover for protection from wind erosion. Only a few areas have reported rust and streak mosaic damage. Freeze damage could occur in some areas where rank growth has not been kept grazed off.

The estimated 1972 winter wheat crop is expected to total 1,291 million bushels according to the USDA's December 1 forecast. This will be some 11 per cent above the 1971 crop of 1,163 million bushels. Winter wheat seedings indicate some 42,239,000 acres have been planted for the 1972 crop, this is some 9.2 per cent above the 1971 seeding of 38,698,000 acres.

Total production in the Santa Fe-served states in 1972 is forecast to be 915,431,000 bushels from 31,508,000 acres seeded as opposed to 812,577,000 bushels from 29,307,000 acres planted in 1971.

Check your social security record every 3 years. You wouldn't let a savings account go unnoticed for years without checking on it. Get a postcard form from any social security office. Complete the card and mail it. Social security will check your record and send you a copy without charge. If it does not agree with your records, let social security know. They will investigate and correct your record where it is incorrect. The periodic check is suggested because some employers do not keep records any longer than necessary.

Important Mail Being Sent to Vehicle Owners

Austin—If you own one or more of the more than seven-and-a-half million motor vehicles in Texas, some important mail is coming your way.

The first of 7.5 million renewal applications from the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department were dispatched from the post office's facilities in Dallas on Friday, December 31.

Owners of motor vehicles should be receiving the renewal applications—for obtaining 1972 Texas license plates—early in January.

The actual motor vehicle registration "season" at county tax offices does not begin until February 1. However, vehicle owners may go ahead and order their license plates by mail immediately.

All that is required is to send the entire renewal application, the registration fee and $1 for each vehicle to be registered to the local county tax office. License plates will be returned by mail after registration begins formally on February 1.

Vehicle owners should allow at least 30 days for processing and delivery. The application should be sent to the local county tax office—not to the Texas Highway Department.

License plates can be obtained in person at county tax offices beginning on February 1.

In any case, registration will go faster if the owner leaves the three-part form intact and does not separate any of the three parts. Complete, easy-to-follow instructions are contained on the form and on the envelope.

Deadline for displaying 1972 license plates is midnight, April 1.

Austin, Tex. — A three-judge federal court in San Antonio stunned Texas public officials with a Christmas Eve decision that the state's system of financing public schools is unconstitutional.

The ruling, which Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes called one of the most far-reaching in recent history, triggered a round of new studies and re-directed attention to prior studies of alternative finance formulas.

To make education "a function of the local property tax base" violates constitutional guarantees of equal protection under the laws, the three judges held. Parents and children of Edgewood Independent School District (Bexar County) filed the suit on July 30, 1968.

Allowing each district to set property taxes to raise a portion of instructional costs discriminates against poor districts with low property values and frequently high minority group populations, the court contended.

Judges gave state legislators two years to work out a new system. If lawmakers fail, they warned, the court "will take such further steps as may be necessary to implement both the purpose and the spirit of this order."

Some observers feared the ruling would undermine local control of school districts. Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin asked the court to clarify whether the decision meant districts could not continue to pay off their bonds from property taxes.

Gov. Preston Smith said it would be premature to speculate on ultimate effect of the ruling on taxes and educational programs. Some predicted state corporate and personal income taxes will be necessary to pick up a new state cost load estimated to range at least as high as $500 million a biennium.

Smith called for a team effort by state officials and agencies, local school authorities and the courts to reach a satisfactory solution. The Senate Committee on Occupational Education immediately took up the problem. Texas Research League already is studying the foundation school program and plans to offer some choices by the end of next year.

Governor said he is considering naming an education task force which will cooperate with other study groups.

State Education Commissioner Dr. J. W. Edgar viewed the present crisis "as another opportunity for the people to design a better public educational opportunity for the children and youth of Texas." He expressed confidence such a plan can be developed which will preserve local school control.

State Board of Education will review the decision at a January 8 meeting. Meanwhile, Martin asked the court whether the ruling permits an appeal.

WELFARE PROBLEMS GROWING — Warning that Texas faces its most difficult welfare problems during the next two years, Governor Smith said drastic assistance cuts may be necessary after next September.

At the same time, the governor announced appointment of former U. S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Wilbur Cohen as a special advisor to help him formulate plans in the areas of welfare and child development.

Smith said he will go before the U. S. Senate finance committee next month to renew a plea for complete federalization of welfare program financing.

Current assistance levels can be maintained within the state's $80 million constitutional ceiling for major categorical welfare programs the rest of this fiscal year. After next September, however, he said average aid to families with dependent children grants may have to be slashed from $116.66 a month to $77.

Smith assigned top priority to attacking the growing welfare problem, which he estimated will cost $325 million next year. He said findings of a new commission on children and youth will be among cornerstones of his message to the 1972 special legislative session.

REDISTRICT SUIT ADVANCES — A three-judge federal court was due to begin trial Monday (January 3) of suits attacking 1971 legislative redistricting.

The consolidated cases were filed in Dallas, Houston, Tyler and San Antonio and transferred to Austin for hearing.

Judges originally named University of Texas law partner George Schatzki a special master to collect evidence and draw conclusions in the cases. However, the order naming Schatzki was rescinded after Attorney General Martin and State Democratic Chairman Roy Orr complained of the professor's former close professional relationship with attorneys and plaintiffs in the cases.

Houston attorney Leon Jaworski will direct the state's defense as a special attorney.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS EXTENDED — Extended unemployment compensation benefits will go into effect early in January.

January 10 is the first date claims may be filed for them in Texas. Benefits are payable only to claimants who have exhausted regular benefits. Claimants may receive as much as 50 per cent of total regular unemployment benefits, payable at the same weekly rate as regular benefits. Those covered must not be eligible for regular benefits in any state or territory and must have a benefit year that ends on or after January 2.

Short Snorts
Top Texas officials are still pushing for retroactive pay raises for all Texas state employees, including school teachers.

More than half the drug offenders in Texas prisons have been involved in other crimes. About 12.4 per cent of the total prison population is made up of these drug users.

All retailers must prominently display base prices in each department, Internal Revenue Service advises.

Workshops to brief teachers on best use of reading and math test results will be held in 20 centers beginning January 10.

We Can't Afford It

"From the point of view of the American taxpayer, who would have to foot the bills for nationalization, suggesting government takeover is akin to suggesting double pneumonia is less serious than a head cold. . . . Nationalization of railroads also has been a financial disaster for the taxpayers in every foreign country that has tried it. If anyone mentions the possibility of nationalization to you, please tell him we taxpayers can't afford it." —Louis W. Menk, chairman of the Burlington Northern, Inc.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

What is a pyramid or multilevel marketing plan? Basically, under this sales scheme, a company sells a contract to individuals which permits them to market a "fabulous" new product or service. These individuals in turn induce others to invest. Prospects are encouraged to believe they will receive enormous amounts of money in profits from the product or service that they sell, in rebates paid for each person they recruit, and in "overrides" on all sales.

The marketing plan offers far greater rewards for recruiting other participants than from selling the product or service. If a friend, neighbor, or relative invites you to attend a meeting to learn about a program to earn money, he may be attempting to recruit you into a multilevel marketing plan. If this does happen, you should consider the following factors. First, the product or service is often nothing more than a vehicle used to recruit people and in some cases consists of a personal improvement course or a series of lectures to attend.

Second, great emphasis is placed upon the enormous earnings which await participants. Third, the salesmen are extremely persuasive and an immediate decision to join the program must be made. It is now or never, and you can join at one of three or four levels depending upon how much money you can gather together and how much "ambition" you can muster. Finally, little or no mention is made regarding market saturation as the ever-increasing number of participants attempt to recoup their investment by recruiting from the ever-decreasing number of potential investors in a given geographic area.

In summary, it is very difficult to recruit enough individuals into a multilevel program to recover your original investment. While the promoters talk of money and success with a virtually endless chain of new recruits flocking to the program, participants will oftentimes find the product difficult to sell and recruiting even more difficult. Since the entire marketing program is based upon the exploitation of others, market saturation is the end result of any multilevel or pyramid program.

Not Everything Is Getting Bigger

The Elks Magazine states that not everything is getting bigger in the United States. The U. S. Census Bureau reports that four American towns lost their entire populations during the last 10 years. Ironton, Colorado, which had a population of one in 1960, disappeared when its single resident moved away. Ridotta, Iowa, declined from 6 to 0; Lakeside, Colorado, from 28 to 0; and Lost River, Idaho, from 58 to 0.

The Need for Austere Federal Spending Noted

Economic restrictions and controls of wages and prices would not be needed today if the federal government had not contributed to inflation by its own actions during the 1960s, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States says.

The government, by spending more than $60 billion more than it took in over the last six years, was one of the prime causes of inflation. These enormous deficits, beginning in a drum-tight economy of the mid-1960s, required extensive government borrowings to cover such red ink spending. The result was a situation where neither business nor labor could resist the inflationary pull of too much demand on wages, prices and other costs, the national chamber maintains.

The federal government — accounting for well over one-fifth of all spending in the nation — should also be subject to the same controls that it is asking of the private sector. While imposing limits on wages and prices, the government itself should also seek to bring its own spending in line with its income. Otherwise, deficit spending by the government could easily initiate another round of inflation and a return to the economic predicament that required the wage and price freeze, the national chamber warns.

To help avoid such a situation and to assure the success of sacrifices being asked of the American public, the national chamber and its underlying membership of more than five million, are calling on Congress to bring federal spending into line with income. Even if this means an austere federal budget for the next fiscal year and a postponement of spending programs, the long range benefits of such action will be more than repaid in a stronger dollar, a healthier employment picture and a growing, expanding economy, the chamber asserts.

From June through October, Veterans Administration increased the number of drug abuse treatment centers from five to 32, thus completing a six-fold increase announced in June 1971.

WATER BUCKETS ARE PART OF THE PAST

Electric cooperative members are problem solvers. And they know their job is a continuing one.

While we made the kerosene lamp a family heirloom, we know that many communities are still without a dependable supply of pure water.

But this challenge is rapidly being met by dedicated community leaders, many of whom are electric cooperative members.

In recent years, water districts have been developed in many areas of the Southwest and are now providing residents with a dependable supply of pure water.

Rather Odd, Isn't It!

"Although prayer is the order of the day in Congress; although we pay to have chaplains conduct religious services for our soldiers; although both an invocation and a benediction are in order at any public gathering, official or unofficial; although we publicly honor God as our Creator and even remind ourselves on our money 'In God We Trust,' the Supreme Court denies the right of prayer to children in school. This deplorable inconsistency is captured in this anonymous school prayer: 'Now I sit me down in school where praying is against the rule. For this great nation, under God, finds public mention of Him odd.'"—Bastrop, La., Enterprise.

Mythical Pandora

"A mythical Pandora has lived in history for having opened the lid on a box she was warned to leave closed. Despite the fact that Pandora won no awards or popularity contests, she may have contributed to the public good for she, according to mythology, opened the lid on the box that contained the sins of the world and exposed them to public view. Government today—even in small counties—is big business and is getting bigger and more complex. The official actions of elected officers are recorded in the minute books and other public documents and not in Pandora's box. No one should be permitted to sit on the lid or keep the records under cover."—Chester, Ill., Herald Tribune.

Tires should be checked for proper inflation pressure when they are cool, before starting out on a trip. Pressure can increase several pounds when tires are hot from driving.

Training Course Underway for Hunter Safety

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has launched a massive program aimed at training more than 30,000 youngsters in shooting and gun safety during 1972 in an effort to curb tragic hunting accidents in the state.

Theron D. Carroll, staffer in charge of the Texas Voluntary Hunter Safety Training Program, announced he has begun accepting applications to fill the 2,000-plus volunteer instructor jobs expected to be needed.

The basic six-hour course for youngsters 12 and older is a cooperative effort of the department and the National Rifle Association (NRA).

Persons interested in serving as volunteer instructors are asked to write to Hunter Safety, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701, for the application-examination and instructions.

The applicants accepted for the program will be tested and certified as official NRA instructors and will be responsible for organizing classes of as many as 15 students. The instructors will be expected to provide any firearms to be used, and arrange for the use of rifle ranges if "live firing" is to be included in the course.

The department will furnish supervision, instructional materials and ammunition, and will issue hunter safety cards to youngsters who complete the course. Carroll said the first "graduates" of the course are expected to be certified after Feb. 1.

The new program makes the department the official hunter safety training agency for the state. Instructors who are certified by the department will be recognized by the NRA.

Four of the course's hours will be composed of the same type of instruction as the NRA hunter safety course. The other two hours will deal with matters more directly related to the state of Texas, such as game laws, field safety, sportsmanship and game identification.

Carroll said 32 hunting accidents have been reported so far in 1971, and 12 of them resulted in fatalities. Through statewide gun safety training, Carroll said, the department hopes to reduce this tragic toll.

Two Minutes With the Bible

It's Your Attitude

Many people fear that they will never reach heaven. Some try not to think about it, while others struggle to "be good," hoping that they will finally "make it." Very few comparatively, are sure of heaven.

The real pity is that so few understand what it is that keeps people out of heaven. If you are confused about this, just remember that according to Scripture, it is not one's sins that keep him out of heaven, but his attitude.

God has made full provision for our sins. "Christ died for our sins" (1 Cor. 15:3) and "we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7).

But God has made no provision for a self-righteous attitude. He gave the law "that every mouth might be stopped and that all the world might become guilty before God" (Rom. 3:19). Thus He does not want you to keep saying things in your own defense. In fact, before you can know God as your Savior, you must recognize Him as your Judge, righteously condemning you as a sinner.

Often, when capital crimes are involved, the defendant's attorney will tell him: "It will be to your advantage to plead guilty and to throw yourself on the mercy of the court."

This is especially true of us sinners in the sight of a holy God. If we will only plead guilty and cast ourselves upon His mercy we will find Him more than gracious, for He has already paid the penalty for our sins Himself.

Thus Eph. 2:3-7 declares of every believer in Christ that though we were "the children of wrath . . . God, who is rich in mercy, for His great love wherewith He loved us" has saved us by grace, giving us a position in Christ, "that in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us through Christ Jesus."

Yes, unsaved friend, it will be to your eternal advantage to plead guilty before God and cast yourself upon His mercy, "for the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 6:23).

Anglers Secretly Smile at Hunters

San Angelo—A lot of West Texas fishermen are sitting in their boats, practically all alone in the midst of hungry fish while others are wearing themselves out looking for deer or quail.

These smug fellows found out long ago that fish bite the year around, and many who might otherwise be fishing are now going hunting and leaving the fish to the dedicated purists.

Big bass are hitting on many West Texas lakes, and anglers are taking the walleye from Lakes Meredith and North Concho. On Spence Reservoir three-and-four-pound striped bass are being taken occasionally on artificial lures or live bait.

Summer days may be more comfortable to the angler, but cold wintry mornings and late afternoons are productive for those who dare to brave the wind and chill.

Lakes Brownwood, Nasworthy, Brady, Oak Creek and other reservoirs got lots of new water from rain during the past months and fishing has been just as good or better than it was last summer in much of the western portion of the state.

Impossible to Legislate Maturity

"The simplest thing to do is legislate maturity. It is impossible to legislate maturity. We will be watching the coming years to see how well our newly enfranchised young people handle their role as voting citizens."—Caruthers, Cal., Gazette.

Registration Changes Face Boat Owners

Beginning January 1, boat owners found some changes have been made in boat registration procedures.

Renewal notices will be sent out as usual, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials, but because the department is shifting to a staggered system of renewals, different registrations will expire at different times and the registration rates will be prorated accordingly.

All water craft powered by any sort of machinery must be registered with the department. This includes canoes with trolling motors as well as cabin cruisers. Even if the machinery is not the principal source of propulsion, the boat must still be registered.

The new certificates of number will be a plastic card which can be carried in the boat owner's wallet. Two decals in shape of the state will come with each certificate of number and are color coded with the expiration dates marked on the face. They are to be placed on a line even with and three inches to the right of the registration numbers on the boat so that game management officers can check the current registration status of the boat without boarding it.

Rates for registration are: up to 16 feet, $6; 16 to 26, $9; 26 to 40 feet, $12; and over 40 feet, $15.

'Establishment'

"Though it marks me strictly 'establishment,' I suppose I'll never cease to thrill a bit when our national colors, carried by a sharp marching unit, pass on parade. I find it genuinely inspiring. It is my privilege to stand at attention when the flag goes by. The fact that I am a citizen of the greatest free nation on earth, gives me that privilege, along with countless other privileges. The flag, of course, is the symbol of every one of those privileges."—Leroy, Kans., Reporter.

Spy Story

"Then there is the story of the spy who wrote home, 'Poverty prevails in the USA. The girls and boys have no shoes and as for their mothers, they are wearing the garments of their little sons and daughters.' Now, it looks as if those torrid trousers . . . and mini skirts fooled him."—Brookhaven, N. Y., Review.

Change Due in Hospital Deductible of Medicare Program

"The hospital deductible under the Medicare program will go up to $68 beginning in January 1972," Wayne Klipping of the Vernon social security office, said this week.

"The change in the deductible does not change the fact that a Medicare patient can still have up to 60 days of covered services in a hospital with cost to the patient only $68," Klipping said.

He went on to say that changes will also be made in the amounts a Medicare beneficiary will pay when his hospital stay is longer than 60 days or a post-hospital stay in an extended care facility is more than 20 days. If a Medicare beneficiary is in the hospital more than 60 days, he will pay $17 a day for the 61st through the 90th day. If he has a post-hospital stay of over 20 days in an extended care facility, he will pay $8.50 a day of the cost for the 21st day through the 100th day. If he needs more than 90 days hospital care in the same benefit period and he chooses to draw on his lifetime reserve, he will pay $34 for each day used instead of the present $30 a day.

You'd Help Him . . .

"If you could prevent a youngster from making a mistake that would cost him $65,000, you'd do it, wouldn't you? Suppose that mistake would cost him $169,000? You'd do everything in your power to help him avoid a tragic error, wouldn't you? Yet that's exactly what happens when a boy or girl fails to finish high school—or becomes a dropout. The $65,000 is the difference in lifetime earning power a high school graduate has over a dropout. And the $169,000 is the difference in lifetime earning power between a college graduate and a dropout."—Wiggins, Miss., Enterprise.

DDT Home Use to Be Halted

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White announced registration of DDT for use around the home will not be continued in Texas. This means that use of DDT for household use in Texas will not be allowed under the Texas pesticide law. Household use of DDT can continue until August 31, 1972. After that date, formulators have to change their labels showing that DDT is not registered for household use.

Cheaper Than Postcards

The Public Service Company of Colorado observes that it is less than one cent to move a ton of oil from Texas to New York—one fifth the charge sending a postcard the same distance.
