L. V. Robertson Died Thursday in California

Last Rites Held Monday for Pioneer Photographer

L. V. Robertson, who could be called the "official photographer" for Foard County back in the early one-third of the century, died in Granada Hills, Calif., on July 27 at the age of 89.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m., July 31 at the East-side Church of Christ in Crowell with Minister Harvey Taylor officiating.

Interment was in Eastview Cemetery in Vernon.

Pall bearers were Homer Ketchersid, Doris Gentry, Clyde Sellers, Billy Marlow, Walter Thomson, and Leonard Toie.

Lafayette Virmond Robertson was born in Dallas County on February 13, 1883, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Robertson.

Mr. Robertson lived most of his life in Vernon and Crowell where he owned and operated picture studios. He made literally thousands of pictures of children of Foard County residents for many years, and he captured on film many of the events in the history of the county.

One of the most memorable pictures made by Mr. Robertson in recent years was the one back in the 50's when he stood on top of the Crowell State Bank building and took an excellent photograph of wheat trucks backed up to the court house square waiting to dump their loads of grain.

Shortly thereafter, the construction of elevators in outlying communities brought a halt to this annual line-up of trucks in Crowell.

Mr. Robertson was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Coretha Campbell of Van Nuys, Calif., and Mrs. Roxie Hough of Crowell; two brothers, A. C. Robertson of Borger and G. L. Robertson of Odum; two sisters, Mrs. Roxie Rossen of Vernon and Mrs. Mary Lee Farthing of Pearland; eight grandchildren and twenty-eight great grandchildren.

Following a barbecue supper at 5:30 p. m., a vespers service will conclude the day's activities.

Amendments Now Being Published

Did You Know?

"Did You Know?", asks Commerce magazine, that "The oil countries of the Middle East and North Africa led the world in oil production in 1970, with 6.85 billion barrels—41 percent of total world production. These countries have more than two-thirds of the world's estimated proved oil reserves, accounting for some 381 billion barrels."

Good Insurance to Vaccinate Again Against VEE

It's just good insurance to vaccinate all horses, mules and donkeys against the dreaded sleeping sickness, Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE), even though the animals were vaccinated last year when the disease reached epidemic proportions in Texas.

"Revaccination is the surest and safest way to protect horses and other equine against VEE, even though the vaccine should provide immunity for more than a year," emphasizes Dr. James Armstrong, veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Revaccination is not compulsory but is an extra precaution."

The disease will remain a threat until late this fall when cooler weather suppresses mosquito populations. The mosquito is the main carrier of the disease.

Considerable progress has been made in the drive to clean up the downtown area of Crowell, a project undertaken here a few weeks ago and sponsored by the newly-organized Foard County Development Corporation.

The work is being done principally by National Youth Corps employees and the various service clubs in Crowell.

On the east side of the square, NYC workers cleaned up the vacant lot between Foard County Implement Co. and Mrs. Reclie Womack's building and also cleaned up behind the Womack building.

The Women's Service League is sponsoring the construction of a rock garden and rustic landscape scene between the sidewalk and curb across the street west of the Foard County Hospital. On the north of the lumber yard, repairs are being made to the building and plans are to plant shrubs along this area. The alley just south of the lumber yard has also been cleaned up.

Weeds have been cut around the Self and Speer buildings south of the hospital, and Frank Cooper has used a poison to kill weeds on several vacant lots and alleys in the downtown area.

Mike Manard is general chairman of the clean-up campaign.

All in all, things are certainly looking better around the downtown area of Crowell since the clean-up project was begun.

Respect, yes. But you're going to have to earn the respect that you receive."

Graduation certificates for completion of 140 hours of required training were presented by Ed Daniel, executive director of the North Texas Regional Planning Commission.

We had just moved here and I don't know who the man was, and I doubt if he even knew he was painting the pole. I wonder if you could print the picture in the Foard County News and see if the man can identify himself." The News and Mrs. Rummel would be glad to hear from anyone who knows who the flag pole painter was.

Texas Dove Hunters with Frostbite? It's a Possibility!

Texas dove hunters with frostbite? Unheard of! Until this season, Texas dove hunters were more prone to heat prostration or rattlesnake bite.

But recent action by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission split the mourning dove season, making a portion of it in September, and the remainder in January when the cold winds blow.

The North Zone season will be Sept. 1 through Oct. 14, 1972, and Jan. 6-21, 1973.

In the South Zone, the season will be Sept. 23 through Nov. 5, 1972, and Jan. 6 through Jan. 21, 1973, except that in counties having an open season for white-winged doves, the open season for mourning doves ends Nov. 2 during the fall segment of the season.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists stress the split season is just an experiment to see if the late season will result in additional recreation without unduly increasing the overall harvest of doves. They will keep a close eye on the results to see if late dove hunting in Texas might affect the breeding populations of other states.

Hunters have long been interested in such a season because of the many doves present in Texas during the winter months, according to department officials.

Biologists called for the experimental season this year because they now have the means to evaluate the effects of a split season, whereas in the past, sources of the information needed were not available.

Two Speeds

A man employed to wash windows at a factory in Boston was working so moderately that his actions might well be termed
"slow motion."

His superior demanded one day,
"Jim, why don't you move up a little faster and get this job done?"

"Boss," came the drawing reply, "I have only two speeds, and the other one is slower than this one."—Laughs.

Notice the Disparity

"Have you noticed the disparity of 'Help Wanted' and 'Situation Wanted' ads?—My heart bleeds for these 'unemployed' thousands—The help wanted ads fill several pages in each issue of the daily papers—and the situation wanted ads, a sparse three inches. I lived through the most famous 'depression' in the history of our country, and then even, anyone who wanted a job could get it. I'm desperately afraid that the trend, these days, is 'something for nothing'—in other words, 'Let George Do It' and you, my working friend, and I are George." — Metairie, La., Jefferson Parish Times.

Cars Inundated by Agnes Being Sold in the Southwest

Potential buyers of bargain-priced new or late model used cars should exercise extreme caution before making a purchase, Wm. M. Coffey, manager of the American Automobile Association, Texas division, said this week, since thousands of flood-damaged vehicles are being sold throughout the country with no warning of their condition.

The cars, he said, are being sold at low cost by car dealers, many of whom do issue a verbal warning of their condition, or by salvagers to so-called "gypsy" car dealers. These dealers then ship most of the automobiles to areas in the nation, particularly the South and Southwest, that did not experience the torrential floods that followed tropical storm Agnes.

The cars, which may not be safe to drive or may have a severely-limited operational life, are then sold for bargain prices as undamaged or new to unsuspecting consumers.

In Pennsylvania alone, at least 35 thousand cars were flood-damaged, and there is no estimate of how many other cars were damaged in New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

Even if an inspection of the vehicle satisfies the consumer that the car is in good condition, Coffey says that before signing a bill of sale he should ask for a written statement from the dealer that the vehicle was not flood-damaged and that he will stand behind whatever warranty is normally in effect from the manufacturer.

Why . . . In the Name of Common Sense

"It is said that national health insurance will cost every family about one thousand dollars a year. Blue Cross and Blue Shield is currently about $400 per year. Why . . . in the name of common sense do we want national health insurance at $1,000 per year when the present cost is $400. Most programs taken over by federal control usually have a much higher price tag than those operated by private business." — Merville, Iowa, Record.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights AND Sidelights

By Bill Boykin

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Gov. Preston Smith is threatening a special legislative session on insurance reform.

In a statewide, televised speech he announced he will ask the Legislature to abolish the paid, three-member State Insurance Board, which he charges is company dominated.

Angered by Senate rejection July 7 of his longtime friend, Larry Teaver, to the Board, Smith blamed the defeat on the "powerful insurance lobby."

His recommendations to "completely reorganize and reform the regulation of the insurance industry" will be delivered to a special session this year or to the next regular session in January.

Reaction to his speech, the governor said, will determine whether he goes through with the special session call. He feels reorganization of the board can be achieved only in a limited special session, but he isn't sure whether the public yet supports reform strongly enough to insure action.

Dallas Sen. Oscar Mauzy, a leader in the move to reject Teaver, challenged Smith to follow through and call the session immediately. He said he opposed Teaver, not because he was a consumer advocate on the board, but for "lack of character and ability."

$200 MILLION TAX NEED SEEN—The House Revenue and Taxation Committee received advice the Legislature may be looking at a $200 million money shortage for the next biennium when it reports next year.

James McGrew, Texas Research League director, told the committee spending from general revenue and other key state funds will jump $700 million over the present level next biennium. But he figured an additional $375 to $400 million in revenue is anticipated from present "growth" taxes, and a $100 million federal welfare windfall is foreseeable.

The committee also was reminded repeatedly of the likely effect of a federal court decision (now on appeal) holding the present method of financing public schools by ad valorem taxation unconstitutional. And a University of Texas official suggested property, income and sales taxes are all necessary to get "maximum equity" in the tax system.

Gov. Smith strongly disagreed with McGrew's forecast and said there is a strong possibility no new taxes at all will be needed next year.

COURTS SPEAK—The Supreme Court reconsidered and agreed to hear argument next October in a controversy in which the wife of a Wichita Falls doctor was granted a divorce settlement which included a $40,000 community property right in his medical practice.

In other cases, the High Court concluded:

"A city can cut off water service for failure of residents to pay a garbage collection fee."

"Lower court rulings should be left standing which assessed a Houston doctor $134,150 in damages for failure to exercise proper diligence in treating a child for a broken leg. The boy lost his leg."

INSURANCE CUT URGED—An 11 per cent average statewide cut in private passenger car insurance has been recommended to the State Insurance Board.

Board member Ned Price said the rate reduction—which could save more than $68 million—probably will be made by the board by mid-August, effective Sept. 1.

One Thing Good . . .

"There's one thing good that can be said about our 20 years of lack of communication with a nation of . . . (750) million people—this is one nation that hasn't taken one dollar of our foreign aid! And they probably respect us more than many of the nations that we have been dishing out hard earned tax dollars. But China and America are again communicating, and this is good. We don't have to agree, we don't have to approve—but we can talk. Lack of communication is the one thing that stands between solving the problems of friends, lovers, husbands and wives, parents and children, neighboring communities and countries. We can wish for peace on any level—but if we can't talk with those who disagree with us, if we can't compromise a little in the name of peace, it will never happen."—Isle, Minn., Mille Lacs Messenger.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "To set a six percent (6%) weighted average annual interest rate for bonds issued pursuant to constitutional authority presently having a specified interest ceiling."

Proposed

PUBLIC NOTICE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER 10 ON THE BALLOT (HJR 68)
General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article XVII, Section 1, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 1. The Legislature, at any regular session, or at any special session when the matter is included within the purposes for which the session is convened, may propose amendments revising the Constitution, to be voted upon by the qualified electors for statewide offices and propositions, as defined in the Constitution and statutes of this State. The date of the elections shall be specified by the Legislature. The proposal for submission must be approved by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each House, entered by yeas and nays on the journals. "A brief explanatory statement of the nature of a proposed amendment, together with the date of the election and the wording of the proposition as it is to appear on the ballot, shall be published twice in each newspaper in the State which meets requirements set by the Legislature for the publication of official notices of officers and departments of the state government. The explanatory statement shall be prepared by the Secretary of State and shall be approved by the Attorney General. The Secretary of State shall send a full and complete copy of the proposed amendment or amendments to each county clerk who shall post the same in a public place in the courthouse at least 30 days prior to the election on said amendment. The first notice shall be published not more than 60 days nor less than 50 days before the date of the election, and the second notice shall be published on the same day in the succeeding week. The Legislature shall fix the standards for the rate of charge for the publication, which may not be higher than the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch.

"The election shall be held in accordance with procedures prescribed by the Legislature, and the returning officer in each county shall make returns to the Secretary of State of the number of legal votes cast at the election for and against each amendment. If it appears from the returns that a majority of the votes cast have been cast in favor of an amendment, it shall become a part of this Constitution, and proclamation thereof shall be made by the Governor."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment revising provisions on the time and method of proposing amendments to the state constitution and the time and method of publishing notice of proposed amendments."

Dr. Martin Kralicke Tells About Carbon Monoxide Deaths in UPI Story

Denison, Texas (UPI) — A physician told Monday how he watched three persons—including his own wife—collapse Sunday of carbon monoxide poisoning on a cabin cruiser on Lake Texoma. Unable to do anything about it, the physician then fell to the deck senseless.

The carbon monoxide killed Mike Renig, manager of the Johnson & Johnson plant at Sherman, and Bill Gafford, owner of Gafford Construction Co. of Sherman.

Both men were 52 and among the most prominent citizens of Sherman.

The physician who watched them overcome was Dr. Martin Kralicke of Muenster. He and his wife and the wives of Renig and Gafford were almost killed by the carbon monoxide but were revived at Denison Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Kralicke said he was on the beach at Lake Texoma Sunday when Robert Hardwick of Dallas came up and said, "two women are sick in a boat and they need you."

There were about a dozen boats on the beach at Island View, 14 miles northwest of Denison, and Dr. Kralicke went to the boat Hardwick indicated—a 30-foot cruiser owned by Renig. Mrs. Kralicke, a former nurse, went with her husband.

Dr. Kralicke did not have his medical bag with him but checked the pulse of Mrs. Renig while his wife checked Mrs. Stafford. Renig told Dr. Kralicke that his wife suffered from high blood pressure, had felt faint before and he was not worried about her.

"I turned around to say something to Renig and he crumpled to the floor," Dr. Kralicke said. "Mrs. Kralicke then crumpled and I turned to Gafford and he crumpled."

"Then everything went foggy. I was acutely aware something was wrong and I had to get to the door of that boat. That was the last thing I remember until I came to in the hospital."

Possibly 30 minutes later, Dr. Gordon Lillie, a Sherman dermatologist who had come to the lake with the Kralicks, asked where they were. He was told they were in the Renig boat and went to see what had happened.

When Dr. Lillie opened the door, he found the three couples lying all over the floor. Yelling for help, he flung doors and windows open.

Half a dozen men came on board and started giving the Renigs, Gaffords and Kralicks mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and heat massage.

The Renig boat was run to Lee's High Port resort on the Texas side of the lake. Waiting ambulances took the six to the Denison hospital. Renig and Gafford were dead on arrival.

Renig was idling the engine of the boat because the air conditioning was going. The muffler was faulty and the air conditioner picked up the carbon monoxide and pulled it into the closed cabin.

Dr. Kralicke said that in 1967, Dr. B. J. Hejduk, a Czech surgeon he had brought to Texas, was asphyxiated with three other persons in Gainesville.

Communism Is a Religious Ideology

A. M. Tewksbury writes in the "Oregon Voter" magazine: "Nikita Khrushchev was wont to boast that the Soviet Union would catch up with the U. S. in 1970 in Gross National Product. The U. S. has, of course, kept far ahead in the economic race. Projections indicate that it will have a GNP lead of some $500 billion over Russia this year. As we have said so often, communism is a religious ideology, not a successful economic system."

"Prosperity Has Ruined Every Nation That Has Achieved It"

A. M. Tewksbury, writing the Oregon Voter Digest, comments: "As has long been obvious, an increasing number of American workers don't give a damn about their jobs. Their mind being fired. Their work sloppy and results in 'lemons' all kinds. Their influence on production statistics is evident. Productivity went up only 21 per cent in the first quarter compared with 3.2 per cent in the last quarter of 1971. Of course, productivity is a result of prosperity. Prosperity has ruined every nation that has achieved it. Now U. S. is over the hill and heading for history's backwater."

Be gentle with yourself. To love yourself, to forgive yourself, for only as we have the attitude toward ourselves can we have the right attitude toward others.—Wilfred Peterson.
