Wildcats Complete Season with 7-6 Loss to Paducah

Cats Only Team in District to Defeat District Champs

The Crowell Wildcats, hampered by injuries to key personnel all season long, concluded a 4-6 season at Paducah last Friday night by losing 7-6 to the Dragons in a game which saw the Wildcats penalized over the length of the field—130 yards in all.

The Wildcats dominated play all during the first half, but neither team scored as the Wildcats made two deep thrusts into Dragon territory, but for one reason or another, could not push the pigskin over the goal line.

Tim Daniel scored the Wildcat touchdown in the third quarter following a 70 yard drive. Rex Driver made several long gainers in this drive.

The Wildcats' try for extra point missed its mark.

The Dragons got their touchdown on a 74-yard drive in the fourth quarter. The score came on a pass from quarterback Steve Burns to Carl Wright. Donnie Lamineck added the point-after.

Four Wildcats finished their high school football careers Friday night: John Urquiza, who played a fine game as a ball carrier, Rex Driver, another standout all year for the Cats, Rocky Bachman, a stalwart on the Wildcat team for four years and Doug Pharis, Wildcat center, who had been out of the lineup for several weeks after he had knee surgery.

Other standouts for the Wildcats Friday night were Bob Taylor, Philip Bell, Terry Tamplen, Allen Tapp, Hal Williams, Rocky Glascock, Freddy Matysek, David Bell, Steve Graves and Jackie Eavenson.

CONSTRUCTION BEGINS ON NEW STATE PARK

The initial phase of converting the Copper Breaks State Park site between Crowell and Quanah into one of the major recreation parks of Texas got underway last week when Weaver Adair, Plainview contractor, moved in heavy equipment to start work on $374,400 worth of improvements.

Workmen are expected to start on road construction within the next few days.

Also to be started soon is a three-bedroom brick residence with shake shingle roof for Mr. Martin and his family.

The $374,400 contract also includes two restrooms with showers in the park area, one rest room without shower and 25 multi-use camp sites with shade shelters, grills for cooking and other camping conveniences.

Four picnic sites will be built throughout the park area and the contracting firm will install water and electrical utilities throughout the park. Parking areas will also be located strategically throughout the park at scenic spots.

Adair's contract calls for 260 working calendar days with dates specified Nov. 8, 1972, through July 25, 1973, which means that much of the park will be ready for the public to enjoy the latter part of the summer of 1973.

Martin pointed out that other work to follow includes an interpretative center and other improvements as Copper Breaks State Park is converted into one of the top parks within the state system.

What Can Thanksgiving Say to This Society?

In a day and age such as ours the true meanings to some of our most cherished possessions seem lost. Let's take a look at Thanksgiving. The Pilgrims came to the New World to find personal freedom from the "Established Way" which had grown corrupt. They felt that the uncertainty of their surviving the long journey across the Atlantic Ocean was easier to endure than the persecution which they encountered. To them, the Establishment had tread upon their rights long enough.

When the Thanksgiving holiday rolls around each year, we say "thanks" to God for his wonderful bounty . . . but do we really? In a land where there are many nationalities, ethnic groups and the like, we should become tolerant and appreciative for the contributions which they have added. Are we becoming the type of "Establishment" in which the Pilgrims fled by our prejudice and hatred?

 This Thanksgiving, as we should every day, let us thank God not only for His Goodness, but for His variety which he had given to us not to hate and despise, but to appreciate and benefit.

Two Minutes with the Bible

Everlasting Life

Romans 8:2, when correctly read, is a most blessed passage of Scripture. To get the sense of the words "Spirit" and "of." Thus we should place a dash between it would read: "For the law of the Spirit—of life in Christ Jesus, hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

When a sinner places his trust in Christ as Savior, he is justified before the bar of God because Christ's death and righteousness are imputed to him. This is a judicial matter.

But at the same moment something else happens: the Spirit regenerates and gives new life (Tit. 3:5). Now this is a law, an inexorable, law. The sinner who sincerely places his trust in Christ as Savior is given life by the Holy Spirit. It is always so; it is never otherwise. I John 5:12 says: "He that hath the Son hath life . . . John 3:36 says that "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life" and Col. 3:4 declares that the believer's life is "hid with Christ in God."

Thus the apostle could say: "The Law of the Spirit, (that of) life in Christ, hath made me free from the law of sin and death." Adam forfeited his life by sin, but the believer's new life can never be forfeited, for this life is nothing less than the life of Christ, in whom the sinner has already died and paid for his sins—and in whom he now stands perfect and complete before God.

It is a law, a fixed unchangeable law, that sin brings forth death (Rom. 5:12; 6:23; et al.). This is called "the law of sin and death," but the believer has already died for sin in Christ and has been given a new life by the Spirit. Thus "the law of the Spirit," that of "life in Christ," has made the simplest believer free from "the law of sin and death."

Thank God for "the law of the Spirit," everlasting life through the Lord Jesus Christ, who died for our sins.

Fort Worth Fat Stock Show Set for Jan. 26-Feb. 4

Fort Worth—Entries for the 1973 Southwestern Exposition Fat Stock Show, January through February 4, are ahead this time a year ago, reports R. Watt, Jr., general manager.

Watt noted one principal reason for the early increase is that Polled Hereford exhibitors here until November 15 to enter bring cattle in the 50th anniversary national show of the American Polled Hereford Association held in conjunction with the annual stock show. Other cattle, junior divisions, horses, sheep, swine entries will close Dec. 15.

Exhibitors of poultry, rabbits and pigeons have until Jan. 15 to make their entries.
 "Entries are being processed daily by the stock show office," Watt said. "We expect to have over 500 entries in the Polled Hereford show and over 11,000 for the entire stock show."

New breeds in the stock show for 1973 include Simmental and Limousin steers in the junior show, Gelbvich cattle at auction and Peruvian Paso horses in the horse show classes.

Premiums have been boosted to a record of over $260,000 in the various divisions.
 Guest entertainment for the 55th edition of the World's Original Indoor Rodeo, held in conjunction with the stock show, will be LeRoy Van Dyke and the "Auctioneers," popular country western singing group from Nashville.

Shortly after the Korean conflict, Van Dyke broke into country and western music with "Auctioneer," his first song and a million-seller. He followed it with "Walk On By," of three tunes ever to hit top of the country and western and pop charts at the same time.

Requests for stock show entry information and mail orders for rodeo tickets should be made at the Southwestern Exposition and Stock Show, PO Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

American agriculture has advanced more in the past two generations than in all prior years of our history.

ARE YOU SATISFIED

...with LESS than you pay for?

WOULD YOU BE CONTENTED with eight eggs for a dozen . . . three quarts of paint for a gallon . . . one and a half socks for a pair? No? Yet, as a matter of fact, you actually do get short-valued — on the things you buy away from home.

It's basic economics, you know . . . some 30% of the price tag on goods is community overhead expense — city, county, school services, and the development of better job and business opportunities for the exclusive benefit of the people who live in the community where the purchase is made.

Which simply means that trading in the area where you live is the only way to get all of your money's worth.

Wheat Producers Association to Hold Annual Meeting in Amarillo Nov. 29-30

With more acres sowed to wheat than in recent years — wheat growers from throughout Texas will gather in Amarillo November 29 and 30 for a two-day look at current and future problems and opportunities facing their crop and their wheat income. Amarillo is the headquarters location for their organizations—Texas Wheat Producers Association and Producers Board.

A "wheat symposium" is scheduled Wednesday, Nov. 29. It is a cooperative effort between the extension service in Districts I, II, and III and the Texas Wheat Producers Board. Leaders in the Rolling Plains Economic Program in the Foard County area, the Panhandle Economic Program in the Amarillo area, and the South

Social Security News

A reminder from your social security office—you don't have to stop work in order to have medicare coverage. If you are within 3 months of age 65, call your social security office for information about filing a claim for medicare coverage. Remember this entire process can be done by telephone.

Plains Development Program out of Lubbock assisted in planning and conducting the educational symposium. Subjects to be covered range from new varieties to insect control and from grazing to wheat feeding, according to Ken Kendrick, Stratford, chairman of the Producers Board, hosts for the program.

The Texas Wheat Producers Association 22nd annual meeting is scheduled Thursday, November 30. A parade of speakers from Washington state to Washington, D. C. and from Chicago to Texas in between will cover subjects from new markets to transportation and future farm programs to the Russia wheat sale. The Association's meeting will be followed by a meeting of the directors of the Association, according to Leo Witkowski, Hereford, the organization's president.

All the general sessions are open to the public and interested wheat producers, grain dealers, farm leaders and agri-business people are specifically invited to attend and participate in discussion periods following each of the subject matter presentations. All sessions will begin at 10 a. m. at the Holiday Inn West in Amarillo.

New Year's Is Important to Social Security Recipients

New year's isn't too far away, and new year's is important to social security beneficiaries for 2 reasons. First, December 31, 1972, is the last date to file medicare claims on physicians' services rendered before October 1, 1971. If anyone has medical bills incurred before October 1, 1971, they have only a few more weeks in which to submit them to medicare.

On January 1, 1973, a general enrollment period for medicare opens. This enrollment period will give any person who let his enrollment period go by an opportunity to sign up for "Part B" (doctor bill) medicare coverage. This enrollment period will last until March 31, 1972.

Childress Couple to Be Honored on 50th Anniversary

Couple Are Parents of Former Foard County Dentist

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon A. Sanders of Childress will be observed the afternoon of Sunday, December 3, with a reception in the Women's Department Club. Calling hours will be from 2 to 4 o'clock and all of their friends are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders are well known in Crowell and are the parents of Dr. Durwood E. Sanders of Lubbock, a former Crowell dentist.

Hosts will be their children, Dr. and Mrs. Durwood Sanders of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. John Bragg of Midland. Assisting will be grandchildren, Mrs. David Swindle, and husband from Abilene, Don Sanders and David Sanders of Lubbock and young Darin Bragg of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders were wed December 3, 1922, in the presence of family members and a score of college friends. Mr. Klingman, the officiant, was Bible professor at Abilene Christian College and had taught the young people. Mrs. Sanders was still a student in ACC at the time of marriage and her bridegroom had graduated from the college and taken a teaching position in Quannah the previous August. They lived in Quannah several years and from 1931 to 1945, he served as superintendent of the Quannah schools.

In 1945 he resigned his administrative post and became Home Superintendent for Tipton Children's Home, a position he held until 1949, when they moved to Childress, where he served in the school system as a teacher and curriculum supervisor until his retirement July 1, 1967.

He has continued his civic enthusiasm. He is a member of the Childress Hospital District board; is president of the American Cancer Society chapter at Childress; is a past president of the Childress Red Cross Chapter, is a member of the Board of Trustees for Lubbock Christian College; is listed in Personalities of the South; is a member of the International Platform Association, and for decades has been minister for the Kirkland Church of Christ.

Mrs. Sanders, a talented homemaker, seamstress and clothes designer, describes herself as devoted mostly to "Backing Eldon in all the things he does." The Sanders are Childress' most traveled couple. Since retirement they have toured many countries. Only Africa, Russia, South America and India have failed to attract them.

About 35 parents and friends of the Crowell High School Wildcat band attended the Band Booster Club meeting Monday night and saw a film of the band as it performed at the UIL marching contest in Wichita Falls week before last. The band received a Division I rating for its performance. James Streit is director of the band and Miss Karen Gray served as drum major for the contest performance.

Clois Cobb, president of the Band Booster Club, presided at the meeting and told those present that the $2,508.27 taken in at the concession stand for all of Crowell's home football games was a record amount. Expenses excluding soft drinks and a grocery bill, totaled $675.46.

Donald Werley gave a report of the financial condition of the club, and it was announced that some families had not as yet paid their $5.00 annual membership dues.

There are considerable expenses paid for by the band boosters and memberships in the organization are solicited from every resident who is proud of the local band.

The $1,832.81 from concession stand operation cannot be spent by the band boosters, but goes into a fund administered by Mr. Streit.

The organization voted to sponsor a barbecued chicken dinner for the 69 members of the band on Thursday, Nov. 30, in the school cafeteria.

In other business action, Mr. Streit told of the invitation the band—as a sweepstakes winner last year—had received to enter a band contest at Six Flags some time next spring.

Rusty Russell was named general chairman for the chicken barbecue, and the Booster Club members gave Russell a vote of thanks for his tireless work in the concession stand at all of the home football games.

In final action, it was voted to buy another deep freeze for the concession stand. Cost is $60.00.

Hereford Bull Gains 5.92 Pounds a Day During Test

A 14-month-old Hereford bull belonging to Paul Dauer of Panhandle has shown an average daily gain of 5.92 pounds during the first 28 days on consignment to the Texas Tech University Center at Amarillo.

He is one of 54 bulls from 16 producers on the 140-day performance tests at the center near Pantex. The bulls will be sold at auction in the spring.

Six of 23 Herefords, one of 11 Angus, two of 12 Charolais, and one Simmental gained five pounds or more per day during the period, according to research information prepared by test coordinator Nolan Poteet, of the Center, a part of the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University.

The cattle on the program this year include 23 Herefords, 11 Angus, 12 Charolais, five Santa Gertrudis, two Simmentals and one Red Poll.

The cooperators in the program are Robert O. Andrews of Olney, Dauer, Emmett Lefors of Pampa, Robert Wiseman of Dumas, and Jim Threadgill of Dallas, Herefords; Frank Hinkson of Muleshoe, Duane Jekes of Higgs, and Harold O'Neal of Panhandle, Angus; Derral Schroder of Campo, Colo., Doug Rittenberry of Canyon and Reggie Laubhan of Follett, Charolais; Texas Tech of Lubbock and Byron Thomas of White Deer, Santa Gertrudis; Coldwater Cattle Co. of Amarillo and Andrews, Simmentals, and Andrew Kershen of Hereford, Red Poll.

Three of the seven Herefords consigned by Andrews showed gains of five pounds or more during the first 28 days; two of five by Dauer were over five pounds; one of six by Lefors.

Top gained among Angus was a yearling belonging to Jenkins with 5.21 pounds per day average increase. Another Jenkins entry gained 4.6.

Two Charolais owned by Schroder gained 5.53 and 5.39 per day each to lead that breed. A Simmental belonging to Andrews gained 5.25.

Another summary of results will be released after the animals have been on the special ration 56 days.

The Gobbler Is Back

The Highway Gobbler is the driver who acts like he's the only one on the road. He always drives a little faster than the speed limit, passes to get a little further ahead or tailgates when he can't pass.

This Thanksgiving weekend, the Highway Gobbler is back. He really hasn't been gone. He's been there all along making his generous contribution to the toll of death and injury and property damage on our highways. But he's recognizable for what he is during the Thanksgiving holiday season.

There's no room for the Highway Gobbler—this Thanksgiving or any time of the year.

Texas Rangers Baseball Has New Speakers Bureau

Establishment of a speakers bureau to fulfill requests for appearances of members of the Texas Rangers and a library of films on baseball was announced last week by the Rangers.

Bill Gogolewski, Rich Hand, Don Stanhouse and Elliott Maddox have joined the public relations staff of the Rangers during the off-season and will work with the general staff of the Rangers, including Burt Hawkins, press relations director, John Welaj and Joe Macko. Oscar Molomot, director of promotions, will direct this off-season activity.

The ball players will be available for baseball clinics at local schools, before service, social and professional groups and participation at award banquets.

Molomot invites requests for appearances which should be directed to the promotion department of the Rangers, P. O. Box 1111, Arlington, Texas 76010.

He explained that this public relations activity will be coordinated with ticket promotion efforts for next season in order to encourage a greater turnout of delegation groups.

Isn't It Funny?

Isn't it funny—when the other fellow takes a long time to do something, he's slow. But when I take a long time to do something, I'm thorough. When the other fellow doesn't do it, he's too lazy. But when I don't do it, I'm too busy. When the other fellow goes ahead and does something without being told, he's overstepping his bounds. But when I go ahead and do something without being told, that's initiative! When the other fellow states his side of a question strongly, he's bullheaded. But when I state a side of a question strongly, I'm being firm. When the other fellow overlooks a few of the rules of etiquette, he's rude. But when I skip a few of the rules I'm original. When the other fellow does something that pleases the boss, he's polishing the brass. But when I do something that pleases the boss, that's cooperation. When the other fellow gets ahead, he sure had the lucky breaks. But when I manage to get ahead, Man! Hard work did that! Funny, isn't it—or is it!

Winter wheat furnishing grazing... Rio Grande Valley citrus production increasing... Texas still cattle feeding king

Full grazing capacity of the state's winter wheat crop is expected when weather conditions improve. Seeding of wheat is nearing completion. About 40 per cent of the 1973 wheat crop is already of sufficient growth to permit grazing; last year at this time only 10 per cent of the crop could be grazed.

AN INCREASE of 15 per cent for the state's citrus production is forecast by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Grapefruit production is expected to total 10.4 million boxes, 13 per cent above the 9.2 million boxes produced last year. Early and mid-season oranges are forecast at 415 million boxes, 18 per cent above last year.

As production is up, so is the quality of Texas citrus this year. Increased fresh market shipments are expected through November. Trees are in excellent condition, although cooler weather would help color and size the fruit.

CATTLE feeding honors still belong to Texas. As of November 1, there were 2,266,000 head of cattle and calves on feed in Texas. This is 30 per cent above 1971 and is also eight per cent above a month ago.

Marketings of fat cattle during October totaled 406,000 head which is 14 per cent above October of last year.

In the seven major cattle feeding states—Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas—there is a nine per cent increase in cattle on feed compared to a month ago and 13 per cent more than a year ago.

LIVESTOCK questionnaires have been mailed to 60,000 livestock producers in the state as a part of the annual livestock survey conducted for Texas. If you receive one of the questionnaires, you are requested to fill it out as accurately as possible and return it as soon as possible. This is the basis for estimating the state's livestock numbers and getting as complete a picture of the livestock industry as possible. None of the information will be divulged on an individual basis. It will be compiled into county, area and statewide totals.

A county-by-county report on all agricultural production for 1971 is now available. All 254 counties in the state—from A to Z (Anderson to Zapata) are included. Information on each county includes all agricultural production as well as cash receipts and government payments. A statewide total is also included.

To get your copy free, write to Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. Ask for 1971 Texas County Statistics.

Most Texas Birds Protected by Law

Quail season is coming up and the mourning dove is getting a breather until January.

Don't be tempted to take a pot-shot at a bluejay just to stay in practice.

Of the more than 500 species of birds in Texas, each falls into one of three categories: game, nongame and unprotected.

Game birds are protected and hunted during regular seasons and cause little confusion.

Considerable controversy, however, rages over nongame and unprotected birds.

According to state and federal regulations, only three birds may be shot at any time. English sparrows, European starlings and feral pigeons may be killed at any time and their eggs and nests destroyed.

The federal government protects hundreds of species, most of which are also guarded by state law, including all song birds, raptors, shore birds, other nongame species and all game birds.

In March 1972 the U. S. and Mexico agreed to add 32 families of migratory nongame birds to the protected list and caused some misunderstandings.

Several birds which formerly could be hunted are now protected by the act. The disputed species are crows, grackles, red-winged blackbirds and cowbirds.

These birds are still unprotected by state law and the federal government has amended its ruling to permit control if the birds are "found committing or about to commit depredations upon ornamental or shade trees, agricultural crops, livestock, or wildlife, or when concentrated in such numbers and manner as to constitute a health hazard or other nuisance."

Hunting protected birds can draw a fine of up to $500.

Game Warden Is W. S. L. Speaker Last Thursday

Texas game wardens are well-screened, versatile men as evidenced in a slide commentary presented by Jim Harris to the Women's Service League last Thursday at the community center. Mr. Harris, of Quanah, is game warden for Foard and Hardeman counties.

When an individual's application is received by the department, he is carefully investigated on his local level and, if approved, tested. A further weeding out takes place and the successful applicants attend Texas A&M University for a period of courses, followed by vigorous physical training emphasizing swimming. Positions are usually very limited for those successfully completing the training. Mr. Harris said the wardens are sent to various schools frequently after being employed.

A peace officer in all respects, the wardens also are public relations officials, aid in rescue, check game population and water pollution. All equipment — including car, boat, uniforms and firearms — is furnished.

Mr. Harris has bird lines in Foard County that he checks regularly to determine the crop. Deer run over by motorists are given to non-profit institutions. The wardens trap game in overstocked areas and release them in places where there is a shortage. They also take applications for fish in private ponds.

He asked members to compare the number of traffic accidents with those of boating during warm weather holidays. He noted alcohol or improper safety measures were found in a high percentage of the mishaps.

Always keeping an eye on possible law violators, the men staff the department's exhibits at fairs and other events. Mr. Harris was introduced by Mrs. Cecil Carroll.

Mrs. Baxter Gentry, WSL president, appointed Mes. Howard Ferguson, W. W. Lemons and W. L. Johnson to investigate the possibility of having two one-act plays as a fund-raising project. The organization's next meeting will be on November 30 due to Thanksgiving.

Daughter of Former Crowell Resident Named to Who's Who

Miss Connie Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Everett Long of Route 3, Quanah, was among nineteen seniors at Mary-Hardin Baylor College in Belton to be chosen for inclusion in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, 1972-73.

Miss Long's father was born and reared in Crowell and she is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, pioneer residents of this section.

A 1969 graduate of Quanah High School, Miss Long is a vocational home economics major at MH-B. While at MH-B, she has been a member of Alpha Chi, a national scholarship organization, past dorm and intra-dorm council chairman, and a member of Psi Theta, home economics club.

She graduated from MH-B this past summer, but is being allowed to do her student teaching this fall at Killeen. She is living on campus while she does her student teaching. Miss Long already has a teaching position lined up in January at Belton.

Those to be included in the publication from Mary-Hardin-Baylor College will receive certificates of membership, which will be presented during spring awards ceremonies. They are nominated on the basis of academic achievement and leadership ability by a committee of faculty and administrative personnel.

Fashion Pages Provide Barometer to Social Change

Discover an unlikely barometer and current guide to social change by turning to the fashion pages of the women's section of current newspapers and magazines.

"There you'll see fashions and fabrics reflecting the current world situations, moods and trends," noted Roxanne Schnorr of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University. "Fashions have become a national symbol representing the spirit of America."

The clothing specialist explained that turning back the pages of U. S. fashion history gives illustrative examples. Following World War I, women's dresses became simplified in style. Hems were raised from the floor length found in earlier gowns and skirts.

A reflection? Yes. Women were beginning to enter the work force — they needed practical styles and lengths to work efficiently. As women started actively participating in sports, freedom and simplicity in clothes was projected to meet the situation.

"In the early 1920's, the bouffant, sleeveless, flat chested dresses in knee lengths pointed out the very beginnings of women's liberation movements," Miss Schnorr said. "Women demanded the right to vote. The growing prosperity and leisurely atmosphere contributed to the new expressiveness and freedom in clothes."

The strict, uniform and untrimmed dresses of the World War II era definitely described the national crisis. The number of women taking jobs in the labor force increased dramatically. Many women took men's jobs. They didn't need or want feminine attire. The simple styles reflected the problem of expensive and rationed materials.

What about today? Are there signs of the national concerns? Miss Schnorr reported that the 1972 fashions provide definite indications of the changing national attitude toward Red China.

"Oriental styles began to infiltrate American fashions at the entrance of Red China to the United Nations—long before President Nixon's visit to that country," Miss Schnorr said.

"The ecological movement and the publicity it's had in our society is reflected in clothing as well," the specialist explained. "Floral and fauna prints, fruit and vegetable accessories and clean, natural colors repeat the desire of the U. S. to retain and preserve the natural environment."

The American theme prevails this year in the extravagant use of red, white and blue and nautical costumes. The national fever to bring the service men home, the cry to spend federal money in social reformation within the country and the rulings to prevent imports from hurting the American economy all promote a national spirit of Americanism. "You'll note common beliefs and nationwide sentiments by surveying the fashions of the U. S. population in 1972," the specialist concluded. "Fashion has been and still is sensitive in answering the social needs of our people."

Monahans Sandhills Abound in Legends and Scenery

Those fantastic rolling hills of sand five miles northeast of Monahans present some odd contradictions.

For one thing, probably no place on earth better fits the mental image of a desert than the miles and miles of barren sand. Pioneers on their way west avoided the dunes, mistakenly thinking them to mean sure death to travelers.

The sandhills, in fact, offered the only source of easily obtainable water for many miles. Raiding Kiowas and Comanches used the sandhills' waterholes as rest stops on their way to and from plundering forays into Mexico.

While the dunes appear desolate, they are actually situated in one of the most unusual oak forests in North America. This shin oak forest covers 40,000 acres both in and out of the 3,840-acre Monahans Sandhills State Park.

True, the largest of the trees barely exceeds 30 inches in height but they send roots as long as 90 feet into the sand. And one botanist speculated that in no other forested section, the Amazon Valley not excepted, can there be found a higher proportion of fruit to wood.

The old proverb, "Great oaks from little acorns grow," is reversed in the Monahans Sandhills, for these tiny oaks grow from acorns one inch long and a half-inch wide compared to the mighty live oak's acorn barely one-half inch long.

This profusion of food attracted both Indians and wildlife, belying the sandhills' sterile appearance. Once, many deer and javelina roamed the area. Sometimes the wind will shift the sand, uncovering one of the stone metates used by the Indians to grind the acorns into paste.

In the late Pleistocene period the area was covered with grass and small lakes, and primitive man stalked huge bison and ele-

NEW METHOD OF FINANCING PUBLIC SCHOOLS SYSTEM TO BE STUDIED AT AUSTIN MEETING

The State Board of Education will hold a special call in Austin on December 15 to study the new Comprehensive Foundation School Program proposed by its Public School Finance Committee in November.

The board approves or disapproves the report, or the committee report, or the report will be sent to the 63rd Legislature.

Members of the committee's 14-member board, in addition to being members of the State Board of Education, are also being assigned to groups and individual districts to study the 1,150 school districts.

The board is presenting our proposals in order to give it the best possible public input," Ben Howell of the State Board of Education said.

Howell also headed its finance committee, said.

The proposal needs to be studied to see if it will provide the quality of education desired for Texas within the ability of the State to pay."

Designed to expand the current Foundation School Program into a finance system which would provide state dollars for a wide range of public school efforts, the board committee proposal is keyed to seven major recommendations:

- (1) Implement scheduled increases for kindergarten, vocational, special education, and professional salaries already authorized under the Foundation School Program.
- (2) Improve staffing formulas to align the Foundation School Program more closely with actual local district practice.
- (3) Provide school districts with adequate allowances for operating costs other than professional staff salaries.
- (4) Increase transportation formulas by approximately $800 per bus route.
- (5) Supplement Title I of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act expenditures for educationally disadvantaged students by a state allotment of $100 per pupil.

(6) Fund the Comprehensive Foundation School Program completely from state revenue sources. Guaranteed financing of the program would also be continued.

(7) Implement the changes over a six-year period.

Presently authorized increases in the Foundation School Program will account for a $464 million addition by 1978-79. Proposed improvements are estimated to cost $400 million by 1978-79.

Increases in allocations for transportation, special duty teachers, aides, counselors, administrators, and other non-teaching professionals would be implemented in 1973-74. State support for compensatory education would be implemented in 1974-75.

Increases in the operating allowance would be phased in over the six-year period beginning in 1973-74.

The local share of the Foundation School Program would be gradually reduced from 20 percent in 1973-74 to zero in 1978-79.

Expansion of the Foundation School Program is designed to replace a substantial portion of existing local enrichment costs, the Board committee proposal states.

Upon full implementation of this program, local districts should be able to reduce local property taxes for the support of educational programs.

"Basically, the new plan expands the current Foundation School Program to bring efforts currently mandated by the Texas Legislature under a single state-wide funding system," Howell explains.

"It also insures that instructional and non-instructional programs now in general practice in the average Texas school districts at local expense will be supported by the state."

Enactment and implementation of the Comprehensive Foundation School Program will require some of the most far-reaching public policy decisions ever made in Texas, according to the State Board of Education chairman.

"The cost of improving educational opportunity in Texas is considerable," Howell points out.

"But the failure to provide an adequate educational program for all of the children in Texas is even more expensive. Now, as in the past, Texans must take advantage of the opportunity to create meaningful improvement in public education," he added.

BY MRS. MAGGIE CAPPS

Rainy weather has taken over the past two weeks and seems to have kept everyone at home this week. The rain isn't news any more. We would like to see six weeks of sunny weather now so the farmers can finish sowing their wheat and could harvest their bountiful crops of cotton. Too little or no rain is bad and so is too much rain and continued cloudy weather.

Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Cornelius were here from Dallas over the week end for him to fill his regular appointment at the Baptist Church. They reported encountering much stormy weather and heavy rain. They visited Mrs. Maggie Hammonds Saturday and attended the Baptist revival in Crowell Saturday night.

Wilson Holman of Fort Worth visited Mrs. Maggie Hammonds Sunday. He was here to fill his appointments at the Methodist Churches here and at Margaret.

Mrs. Fay Whitman spent a few days last week with her sister, Mrs. Ray Downing, and husband at Lubbock. Mrs. Downing underwent surgery last week, but is doing very nicely at her home in Lubbock. Mrs. Whitman returned Saturday.

Mrs. T. R. Cates, Jr. spent Saturday night with her son, Pat, a student at Texas Tech, Lubbock, and attended a play in which he had a role. "The Country Wife," of the 16th century was the play and its setting and it proved to be an excellent play well done by its performers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cates and Mrs. Georgia Johnson attended funeral services for a relative in Colorado City Sunday.

News of the death of an ex-resident, Jesse Breedlove of Tyler, was received by Mrs. H. W. Gray and family last week end. He and his family resided on the Gray farm several years before moving to Tyler.

Lake Kemp Dispute Settled Last Week

An agreement was announced last week on acquisition of flowage easement on Waggoner estate lands adjacent to Lake Kemp that is considered favorable to lakeside cabin owners, many of whom at one time were threatened with the prospect of removal of cabins from shoreline locations because of reconstruction of lake facilities.

The city of Wichita Falls and Wichita County Water Improvement District No. 2, owners of Lake Kemp, and the W. T. Waggoner Estate, owner of land surrounding the lake, jointly announced the agreement.

Under terms of the contract with the Corps of Engineers, the City of Wichita Falls and the water district are responsible for all land and improvement acquisitions involved in the reconstruction project.

An important milestone in the $7.8 million reconstruction project, which raises the level of the lake spillway, was reached last week when new outlet works for the lake were formally accepted from the contractor and placed into operation.

Spokesmen representing all parties of the new agreement cited recent changes in Corps of Engineers acquisition guidelines for Lake Kemp as significant in enabling the consummation of the agreement without litigation.

The original guidelines in 1969 provided for the removal of some 630 cabins below elevation 1,163 feet.

This requirement was altered in 1967 to 1,159 feet, reducing the number of cabins to be removed to approximately 450.

In response to numerous appeals, the Corps has now changed the requirement to provide for cabin removal or relocation over an extended period of time.

All lake cabins with a first floor elevation below 1,150 feet may remain on location until January 1, 1978. It is estimated that only 20 cabins come within this category and the owners will be compensated.

All cabins with a first floor elevation above 1,150 feet and below 1,159 feet may remain on location until the year 2000—a period of 28 years.

The governmental bodies will require the W. T. Waggoner estate to obtain releases from damages which might be caused from the storage of waters in Lake Kemp from all leases with cabins below 1,163 feet, although the risk of flooding is considered remote.

Markers will be placed on the lake at regular intervals to indicate the various elevations. Roads will be raised in certain low-lying areas to facilitate exit by cabin owners in the event of high waters.

The agreement provides for the conveyance by the W. T. Waggoner estate of a flowage easement up to elevation 1163 feet, included within the flowage easement are an estimated 20,000 acres originally conveyed by W. T. Waggoner in 1922 plus an additional 6,330 acres occasioned by the present reconstruction.

In a joint announcement, the parties to the new agreement stated:

"The present agreement represents a continuation of the cooperative relations between the W.T. Waggoner estate and the city of Wichita Falls and Wichita County Water Improvement District No. 2 which began with the original Lake Kemp agreement with Mr. W. T. Waggoner in 1922. More recently, the W. T. Waggoner estate conveyed 475 acres in 1968 at the damsite area.

"The new agreement is particularly significant as to its effect on the Lake Kemp cabin owners and the taxpayers of the city and water district. Because of the agreement, the acquisition costs to be paid by the city and water district have been substantially reduced and the great majority of the cabin owners affected will be able to utilize the full useful life of their improvements."

The City of Wichita Falls had taken the original position that cabins must be removed at an early date without compensation.

Pride and Faith . . .

The author and American statesman, Henry Cabot Lodge, in 1884 remarked, "Of 'Americanism' of the right sort we cannot have too much. Mere vaporism and boasting become a nation as little as a man. But honest, outspoken pride and faith in our country are infinitely to be respected."

According to "Food and Nutrition News," the average 1,000-pound steer yields only about 75 pounds of porterhouse, T-bone, club and sirloin steaks and four times as much of the less tender cuts of beef as the round, chuck, rump and beef for stew or grinding. In total, that 1,000 pounds is reduced to just 480 pounds of retail meat cuts at the store counter.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

Cents Off, Introductory Offers, And Economy Size

"How do I know if I'm really getting a bargain when I buy something with 'cents off,' 'introductory offer' or 'economy size'?" Consumers I've talked to throughout Texas ask me about these special price promotions, which are often confusing and misleading.

The Federal Trade Commission is very concerned with this problem and recently issued new regulations to help the consumer when buying nonfood consumer products. The Food and Drug Administration is writing its own regulations to make them compatible with the FTC's. They'll be completed soon, and will apply the same kinds of controls to food, drugs, and cosmetics. Let's take a close look at these rules and see just what they mean to you.

"Introductory offers," under the new regulations, can be made for only six months. They are limited to a new product or one that has been changed in a functional way, such as a soap which adds "deodorant protection." The introductory offer must be made at a lower price than what will normally be charged after the introductory offer.

You've probably seen one brand of a product offered in "economy," "family" and "budget" size, and know how confusing it can be determining which is the best bargain.

Now, "economy size" promotions may not be made unless a company offers only one-size package with a label designating it as a money-saving size, such as "economy" or "family." The company must also at the same time offer the same brand of the commodity in at least one smaller size.

The economy size package must sell at a substantially reduced price per unit of weight, volume, measure, or count.

More specifically, it must save the consumer at least 5 per cent of the actual price of any other package of the same brand.

The new regulations for "cents off" basically concerns the method of informing the consumer that the price of the product is a stated number of "cents off" the regular price. The company must supply the retail store with a sign or shelf marker clearly showing the "cents off" and the "regular price." For example: "Regular price, 67c, 8c off, you pay 59c."

As of June 30, 1972, the product's package or label must also clearly show that the price marked represents the savings in the specific amount of "cents off" the "regular price."

These new regulations will guarantee that you really will get the savings promised by "cents off," "introductory offer" and "economy size." The Federal Trade Commission has made the chore of distinguishing between real and implied savings a little easier for all of us.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—A total revision of the finance system for Texas public schools will be reviewed by the State Board of Education at a special meeting December 9.

The plan, which would hand to the state over a six-year period the entire cost of the basic public school program, was submitted by a board public school finance committee November 11.

A three-judge federal court last December in San Antonio held unconstitutional the present school finance formulas which are based heavily on local property taxes. The decision, now on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, concluded the system provides educational advantages for pupils in rich districts over those in poor districts.

Under the five-member panel's recommendations, the state would assume the "comprehensive foundation school program" cost completely from state taxes by 1978-79. Local share of the current foundation school program is about 20 per cent.

Local taxes after 1978-79 would be relied on only for building and equipping schools and for "enrichment" (expansion beyond the state standard) of individual school programs.

Increases already approved in the foundation school program will cost $464 million during the next six years. The committee-proposed improvements are estimated to cost $400 million by 1978-1979.

"Enactment and implementation of the comprehensive foundation school program will require some of the most far-reaching public policy decisions ever made in Texas," said State Board of Education Chairman Ben Howell of El Paso.

Committee members made clear they stand back of the recommendations regardless of the Supreme Court's ruling in the finance case.

PAY BOOST PROPOSED—A $92 million pay increase for state employees has been recommended by the Legislative Budget Board, but the people it would benefit term the proposal "woefully short."

Raises of 3.4 per cent a year, plus provisions for merit boosts of up to 3.4 per cent were suggested by the board. Amount is subject to change before the final LBB budget draft is submitted to the Legislature on January 9.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION PLANNED—First steps toward implementation of a new plan for revising the 96-year-old state constitution were taken by a state Senator-elect last week.

Voters on November 7 approved a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to sit as a constitutional convention in January of 1974. The amendment also authorized appointment of a citizens' commission to study needed constitutional changes and report its recommendations next November.

Sen. Nelson Wolff pre-filed resolutions calling for appointment of a 36-member commission by a five-member group headed by the Governor and for formation of a 10-member House-Senate committee to plan convention mechanics. Wolff also offered a bill to appropriate $900,000 to the commission for its work. Any constitutional revision agreed on would have to be approved by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature and submitted to voters for a final review.

A message received from Senator Lloyd Bentsen's office in Washington last Friday afternoon told of the approval of a grant in the amount of $23,265.00 to fund head start programs in two area counties for the coming year.

The program, operated by the Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation, will serve some 30 children on a part-time basis in Cottle and Wilbarger counties. There are now head start programs in either Foard or Hardeman counties, F. W. Taylor, executive director of the EOAC, said last Friday.

As many as 6,000 kinds of foods and food preparations are available at the supermarket today.
