HS Nominated for Sportsmanship Trophy Award

Wichita Falls Cage Officials Association Makes Nomination

The Crowell Schools have been nominated by the Southwest Basketball Officials Association of Wichita Falls for the sportsmanship trophy given annually to the school displaying good sportsmanship.

Copy of a letter sent by Bill Sizol, recording secretary of the Wichita Falls chapter of Southwest Basketball Officials Association follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to inform you that your school is being nominated by our chapter for the sportsmanship trophy given annually to the school displaying good sportsmanship. On behalf of this chapter, thanks for being good sports."

An interesting quotation appeared on the letterhead of the basketball officials' association:

"Basketball is the most difficult game to officiate. Each decision must be made in a fraction of a second. Two officials often see an infraction differently, due mostly to their different position. They are unbiased and they know the rules. They value their reputation too highly to intentionally make an error. They will make mistakes but no one will regret it more than they."

Condensed Statements of Bank Compared

Bank Statements Were from 1930 Up to Present Time

A group of condensed statements of the Crowell State Bank and its predecessor, The First State Bank, shows some interesting comparisons through the years.

The earliest date on any of the bank statements was March 27, 1930. At that time, deposits were $230,446.16. Then on Dec. 31, 1930, as the depression worsened, deposits had dropped to $142,647.79. It was known as the First State Bank at this time.

The next of the statements was dated Dec. 31, 1932, and was from the newly-organized Crowell State Bank. At that time deposits were $174,959.70. From that time on, deposits in the local bank have shown a steady increase and totaled $5,195,225.90 on Dec. 31, 1972.

An interesting item on the Dec. 30, 1939, statement was the fact that bank listed $1.00 worth of real estate.

In March 1930 the late S. S. Bell was listed as president, and in December that year, the late Dr. R. L. Kincaid was listed as president. Dr. Kincaid served as president from 1930 until his death in 1955. His son, Merl Kincaid, took over the presidency at that time and served until his death in 1970, and his son, Robert, has been president since that time.

Removal of the Chinese elm trees on the campus was approved with Arizona ash trees to be planted as time and money permit.

School will be held Saturday, April 7, to make up for the day missed during the snow. However, it will still be a five-day week as school will be dismissed Monday of that week when the UIL literary events contests will be held here.

The board approved the insolvent and delinquent tax rolls for 1971 and also discussed graveling of some of the parking areas, all of which turned into a quagmire during the extremely wet winter. Also approved was the selling to the highest bidder of one 48-passenger bus and two station wagons.

A plan was drawn and approved by the board for remodeling the office areas at the high school.

The board employed Lupe de los Santos as a bus driver to replace George Fox, who resigned after serving as school bus driver for over 20 years.

The superintendent reported to the board that average daily attendance thus far this year is 464 which is down 24 from the 480 recorded last year. He added that present enrollment of 506 is the highest of the year.

Proceeding the meeting, members of the FHA served dinner to board members and their wives. At this time Mike Bird, member of the board for 21 years, was presented a plaque from Jeff Bell, vice president of the board, in recognition of Bird's many years service on the board.

Easter Seal Society Lists Services It Provides

The Texas Easter Seal Society can provide the following services for handicapped persons who cannot afford to pay all or part of the costs involved, and who are not eligible for help from any other resource—public or private.

1. Assistance in paying for physical, occupational, and speech therapy when it is prescribed by a medical doctor.
2. Pay for specific diagnostic evaluation (such as orthopedic, audiological, language and psychological).
3. Purchase orthopedic equipment such as wheelchairs, walkers, crutches, braces, etc., when prescribed by a medical doctor. (There is a $200 limit placed on artificial limbs. 4. Help to defray transportation costs for treatment or evaluation when the family is unable to meet these costs. This is determined by paying 30¢ per gallon—based on 10 miles per gallon, figured on a round trip basis—or by purchase-

People are often eligible for services from public or private agencies but do not know the person, eligibility requirements, or place to obtain the services needed.

A limit of $150 per client per year for therapy and $150 for transportation has been set except in unusual cases requiring special attention. This limit can be exceeded only with the permission of the treatment and service committee of the state board.

All services must be authorized before being rendered by the treatment and service department of the Texas Easter Seal Society.

Two Minutes with the Bible

The Accomplishments of Calvary

Three times in Romans 5 we read that Christ died for us. Verse 6 tells us that He died for us in our weakness. Verse 8 that He died for us in our sin, and verse 10 that He died for us in our rebellion.

First, Verse 6 says: "For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly."

Men sometimes try to make themselves acceptable to God by human effort, but they never succeed. We can't walk or run to heaven, we can't even fly there, and we certainly can't climb there—not even by doing good works, for good works is what we ought to do, and we should not expect them to counter-balance our sinful thoughts and deeds. Anyway, Heaven is God's and He says we cannot gain it by works. "For by grace are ye saved, through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2:8,9).

Next, Rom. 5:8 says: "God commendeth His love toward us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

Many people feel shut out of heaven, not merely because of a sense of helplessness, but because of a sense of sinfulness and condemnation. To such God proclaims the glad news that "Christ died for sinners," and "came into the world to save sinners" (1 Tim. 1:15). At Calvary He paid the just penalty for sin—for the sins of all mankind—so that we, by faith, might be "justified freely by God's grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Rom. 3:24).

But Rom. 5:10 goes even farther, offering hope and grace to those who have resisted God's grace and rejected His Son, for here the greatest Christ-rejector of all time, now gloriously saved and changed, declares:

"When we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of His Son" (Rom. 5:10).

And so the helpless, the sinful, yes, and the rebellious, can find acceptance with God if only they will turn from their sin and failure to Him. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

Illegal Oystering Nets Big Fines

Eight oyster boat crews recently had a costly run-in with the law.

Game wardens A. G. Cook of Seabrook, Ralph Bishop of High Island and B. J. Heitman of Port Arthur caught the boats oystering in closed waters in Trinity Bay. Some waters are closed to oystering by the Texas Health Department because poor water quality may make the oysters unsuitable for human consumption.

The wardens wrote 23 citations. Nine pleaded guilty and paid fines totaling $2,236.50. Fourteen other crew members made bond for a total of $3,500.

Effect of Devaluation Dollar Told

According to a special report from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the recent U. S. devaluation should boost natural exports. However, consumers will pay higher prices for certain imported food products such as bananas, coffee, cocoa, silk and rubber.

Food Price Check

The Federal Trade Commission is proposing a check on prices to determine the effect of claims such as "lowest" and "discount prices." The commission would like to know if consumers would be interested in a survey of chains accounting for 10 per cent or more of the total gross retail area.

continued favorable growing conditions during the next three to four months) there is a good possibility that five states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico could produce 20 to 25 per cent more winter wheat this year than the 504,079,000 bushels produced in 1972.

No Age Limit for Payment of Social Security Taxes

There is no age limit for the payment of social security taxes, but all workers, regardless of their age, pay the tax on their covered earnings. This reminder comes from Henry Chustz, manager of the Vernon social security office.

"It makes no difference that a worker may be over age 65 or over 72, or receiving social security insurance payments," Chustz explained. "Social security taxes are payable if a worker is paid covered wages of any amount, or has covered income of $400 or more from his own business in a year." Wages paid to the spouse, or child under age 21, by an individual employer, are not covered by social security, and should not be reported, Chustz pointed out; however, the wages of a parent who works in the business of his son or daughter are covered but not if the parent works in his child's home.

Santa Fe Crop
 Report Looks at Wheat Situation

Here's what the March issue of Santa Fe Crop Report had to say about the winter wheat situation in its territory:

The 1973 winter wheat crop continues to show excellent prospects over most of the wheat producing areas of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico, except in a few areas where late planting resulted in fields too wet to plant at the normal time. Top growth in many areas is still not adequate to protect the crop from damage from wind erosion, but generally with the adequate to surplus moisture available, a few days of warm weather will see a considerable reduction in the acreage which might be subject to wind damage.

Wet, cold weather since mid-October, 1972, has resulted in only limited acreage available for grazing by livestock but as weather warms and wheat plants start out of winter dormancy many fields, especially in the southern half of the five states appear to be supporting an increasing number of livestock. Whether some fields will be allowed to mature for harvest for grain or will be grazed out by livestock in the next three months will depend to a great degree on farmer participation in the USDA voluntary "set aside" program and on the outlook for the price of wheat to the farmer at time of harvest.

While it is difficult to assess farmers' plans at this time it would appear that a larger percentage of the acreage seeded last fall for 1973 harvest will be cut for grain than has been the case in the past several years.

With a break from the weather during harvest time (and with ommendations to the Legislature by November. Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin, former Republican state vice chairman, is commission vice chairman. The Legislature will sit at a constitutional convention next year, using the Commission's work as its starting point.

The Commission includes four Republicans, four women, three blacks and three Mexican-Americans. Neither group was satisfied with its numerical representation, although individuals named by the selection committee generally drew commendation.

Calvert is expected to call the group together soon after the Legislature's "veto period" expires. Members were warned they may as well be prepared to block off at least half their time for the next year to the revision task.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

* Financial requirements of a proposed state officials' code of ethics are constitutional, although there are some "problem areas" with the bill.

* Amendments to the budgets of counties under 225,000 population can be made at any time prior to and during the affected tax year.

COURTS SPEAK — The State Supreme Court upheld lower court rulings that former Crystal City School Superintendent John Briggs was due a $21,000 contract settlement due to removal from duties in 1970.

The High Court also said a Houston hotel is responsible for loss of a purse a customer left in the restaurant.

A San Antonio grocery store owner who sold a magazine that may have been "unpleasant, uncouth and tawdry" should not be fined for violating pornography laws, the Court of Criminal Appeals said.

SALES TAX RECOMMENDATIONS — Tens of millions of dollars in sales tax collections are not finding their way into the state treasury, a Senate committee reported last week.

Former Sen. Joe Christie said the final report of the interim committee to study the sales tax reveals "glaring deficiencies in the way sales taxes now are collected."

Christie said the report is not meant as an attack on the office of the comptroller, the state's chief tax collector, but as an effort to suggest better and more efficient ways to get maximum yield out of the lucrative and sensitive sales tax.

In the committee's opinion, the state lost at least $18.2 million in 1971 due to faulty administration of the levy.

Committee members offered these recommendations:

- * Employment of more auditors to monitor payments by business firms to the state.
- * Authority for cities to pursue in the courts collection of sales taxes once they are declared delinquent by the comptroller.
- * Requirement that business firms post bond to insure payment of their sales taxes.

Sens. O. H. (Ike) Harris and Oscar Mauzy, both of Dallas, served on the committee and will co-sponsor legislation to carry out the report's recommendations in

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—"Future financing of public schools in Texas is the hot topic, but least understood, problem in the state today," Sen. Pete Snelson told the 63rd Texas Press Association at their winter meeting in Midland.

"The courts have said that the health of a school district cannot be the criteria for future financing," he explained. "And all future school financing in the state is affected by the court suit on the Edgewood district of San Antonio. Public school financing has been challenged in the courts in 10 states."

He compared Edgewood with Odessa's school district. Odessa has 24,984 pupils, 1,119 teachers with a starting salary of $7,445. Edgewood has 22,134 students, 1,055 teachers with a starting salary of $6,000. This is not the equality promised under the 4th Amendment, the courts have ruled—and the U. S. Supreme Court is looking at the appeals in this and other state cases.

The U. S. Supreme Court decision will write the next public school financing formulas in Texas, Snelson added, which might force a special session of the Texas Legislature—after this 63rd regular session has adjourned.

He speculated on the future of school districts—pointing out that Texas has ranged from a "statewide school district" to more consolidations of school districts—unitizing all districts in counties and statewide "property assessment at true market value."

Snelson, vice chairman of the Senate Education Committee, quoted an El Paso newspaper clipping which said: "We are watching the demise of public education in Texas."

"The wealth of Texas as a whole will determine our future laws on public education," Snelson concluded—and asked these questions: "What will be the effect on the state tax structure? What will it do to consolidation of 1,100 school districts?" and "Will there be room for local enrichment programs?"

CONSTITUTIONAL PANEL IS PICKED — Legislators have until the end of the week to lodge their objections to the 37-member Texas Constitutional Revision Commission selected by the state's top six officials.

In order to reject the slate, a majority of both houses would have to signify their objections with the Secretary of State. Apparently, a relatively small number of objections will be lodged, although complaints on equality of the representation on the Commission were lodged by blacks, Republicans, women, youth and a West Texan. Mexican-Americans were also among signers of the objection petition.

Former State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert was named chairman of the Commission which must report its rec-

RATTLESNAKE RITUAL SUBJECT OF STORY

Mrs. Jack Walker, who has returned home after a short visit in Portales, N. M., has furnished the News with a story concerning rattlesnakes. Since the big rattlesnake hunt is coming up here this week end, the News is printing the story. It follows:

Reptile Ritual—If snakes make you nervous, this column isn't for you.

But if you share a curiosity about wildlife that includes entertaining the possibility that one of mankind's most despised creatures, the rattlesnake, is capable to something very similar to tender affection, then read on.

We are indebted to Stuart Williams, a student of the Dora school, for bringing this to our attention. He overheard a casual remark by our daughter, Patricia, who is currently interested in wildlife, including snakes, and he told of seeing some color photos of a "snake dance" at the home of a friend of his.

This friend's father, Wayne Victor, consented to letting us reproduce the accompanying photo which he made in color in September, 1968, on his farm, late one afternoon.

He said he had witnessed the "snake dance" first just east of his place in October, 1967, but didn't have a camera at the time. It was nearly a year later, near the same place that he and his father, Kenneth Victor, came upon two snakes engaged in a mysterious ritual in a sandy turnout.

This time Wayne had an Instamatic camera with him loaded with color film, and as his father waited in the car with a gun handy, he slipped out and cautiously approached the two snakes.

"I first started photographing them from a distance, but got closer when they didn't seem to pay any attention," he said. The picture reproduced in the newspaper, the Portales News-Tribune, was made at a distance of four feet, with Victor on his stomach. He hadn't made any noise during his approach, but when he finished photographing the snakes he spoke to his father. The two snakes immediately ceased their gyrations, and one of them crawled directly toward Victor, and kept coming as he backed away. A gunshot from the pickup dispatched the snake, and later the other one also.

The two men watched for an hour, however, and in Wayne's words were fascinated. "It seemed as though they were keeping time to music, but the only sound was the scraping of their dry skin. They sounded their rattles only when they dropped to the ground between intervals."

"The two appeared to be in a sort of contest to see which could raise his head higher. It was something like Indian wrestling."

During the hour that the two men watched, the pair of snakes had moved gradually down the turn row a distance of ten yards or so, and judging from the "tracks" of nearly 100 yards they had left in the sand before the Victor's arrived, the peculiar contest must have been going on for hours if not all day.

The two snakes were almost identical in size, but one seemed just a shade lighter. They were unusually large for prairie rattlers—"about as big as I have ever seen," Victor said.

He is certain it wasn't the same pair of snakes he had seen a year earlier, although the locales were only a half mile apart. He had killed both snakes in 1967.

Victor said he had color enlargements made of his slides and at the suggestion of friends who saw them, sent a print to Life magazine. After about five months the magazine sent it back to him with only a pre-printed acknowledgment.

Victor said that his son was snake bitten in the same area two years later, but had no serious complications, although he missed a week of school.

We have shown copies of Victor's photos to Dr. Antonio Gennaro, curator of the Natural History Museum at Eastern New Mexico University, and Dr. Gennaro, who has a background of study of reptiles, says that this appears to be a "territorial display" between two male rattlers, although if it hadn't been in the late fall, he would have guessed it was a "courtship dance" which precedes mating.

Experts say that the territorial display and the courtship ritual are very similar, but it wouldn't be normal for mating to occur in September. Mating usually occurs in April or May, about the same time the prairie chickens are going through a ritual with remarkable similarities.

The gestation period for a snake is short—probably only a few weeks.

The courtship is a long and intricate affair, Dr. Gennaro says, lasting all day. It is rarely witnessed by humans.

The territorial display between two males is somewhat more familiar, and the entwined snakes, which is known as the Caduceus, symbol for the medical profession, is taken from such a contest between two males of the southern European snake known as the aesculapian. The entwined snakes, with their bodies forming a lyre shape has special significance also in music.

The series of photographs made by Wayne Victor captures some of these senuous shapes, and if one can escape his squeamish inclination about reptiles, the creatures are engaged in a ritual which has aesthetic appeal. The American Indians have long recognized this, and the Hopis call the rattlesnake "our little brother."

Dr. Gennaro thinks that the snake which crawled toward Wayne Victor when he spoke was actually not in the mood to attack, but that instead he had recognized the right of the other male to this territory, and was vacating the field of contest. This is the usual culmination of a "territorial display" as contrasted to a "courtship" dance which is culminated in the mating act.

Dr. Gennaro says that it is very difficult to tell a male from a female rattlesnake, and that snakes are sensitive to heat and odor, and not to sound. They recognize each other by the sensory organs in their tongues.

Independent Cage Team Wins over Seymour Quintet

Local Independent Team to Sponsor Tournament

The Crowell all-star basketball team hosted the Seymour team here Monday night following the Little Dribbler games and won 65 to 56 over the Baylor County visitors.

The local all-stars are scheduled to play in the Chillicothe tournament this week end. The locals' first game is Thursday at 5 with Harrold.

An all-star tournament is being planned for Crowell March 20, 23, 24 with about 8 teams entered.

West Side H. D. Club

Mrs. Claudius Carroll was hostess to the West Side Home Demonstration Club February 27 in her home. The president, Mrs. George Riethmayer, presided. For opening exercise, Mrs. Carroll read a prayer, Little Things Bug Me, Lord. Roll call was answered with an experience with snakes. Many interesting experiences were revealed. Secretary Mrs. J. W. Fielder called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

The council report was given by the delegate, Mrs. Homer Ketchersid. All three clubs were represented. The delegates were elected to go to district THDA meeting to be held April 5 at Jayton. Those elected were: West Side, Mrs. Louise Churchill; Riverside, Mrs. W. E. Schoolcraft; and Gambierville, Mrs. Milton Hunter. The THDA contributions of 50 cents per club member was sent in by the council secretary, Miss Thelma Wirges, district agent from Vernon, was present for the council meeting.

A program on snake bites was given by two 4-H girls, Remelle Marlow and April Werley. After they gave the correct way to treat a snake bite, Mrs. Lela Hunter told of her experience of being bitten by a rattlesnake when she was a child. It is a miracle that she is alive to tell about it as everything done for her was the wrong thing.

Mrs. Carroll, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Donald Werley, served delicious refreshments to seven members and five visitors. The visitors were Mrs. Betty Chatfield, Mrs. Milton Hunter, Mrs. Donald Werley, Misses April Werley and Remelle Marlow.

The next meeting will be March 13 in the home of Mrs. J. W. Fielder. The program by Mrs. Louise Churchill will be on communication, a way of life. Visitors are always welcome.

Former Crowell Man Does Creative Work with Wood

The following story appeared in the March 2 issue of the Sioux Falls, (S. D.) Argus-Leader. Mr. Carroll is the son of Mrs. Mattie Carroll of Crowell, and he graduated from Crowell High School in 1942. The article follows:

How many people can take a gnarled piece of drift wood or a water-logged, walnut tree root and create a stunning work of sculptured art?

For the past five years, the Richard "Dick" Carrolls, 2700 W. 26th St., have been doing just this with their self-taught wood sculpturing and carving hobby.

"I wanted something for my walls," chuckled Sherry Carroll. Funny as it may sound, that's how their hobby began. Previously they dabbled in oil painting and other crafts. But once embarked on the wood medium, they discovered a whole new art form. Sherry gets many of her designs from Mexican photography. She then recreates them on decorative wall hangings.

Homemade tools and odd wood shapes are Dick's keys to unusual figures and birds.

"After I started sculpturing, I found it hard to find the tools that I needed," Dick said. "So, I now heat and form my own steel gouges and chisels."

Dick's figures are not pre-designed. What may begin as a Mose's profile can well become a bird. His viewpoint changes as the composition of the wood changes. That's one of the rewards of a hobby—freedom to take an "artist's license" and change design at will. Once the piece is completed, it is varnished, lacquered or stained to give it a professional finish and preserve the wood.

Satisfactions from a hobby are many. For the Carroll family, it has meant memorable vacations in Texas, Mexico, the Badlands and the Black Hills. The three children, Scott, who now has a private business in Rapid City; Stuart, a student at the U. S. Military Academy in West Point, and Sarah, a Laura Wilder elementary student, have helped their parents collect unusual pieces of wood.

"This is one of the hardest aspects of the hobby," commented Dick. "It's difficult to find wood that we can use."

Two intrinsic rewards include the personal satisfaction of acceptance for their art form and new friendships.

Dick Carroll is terminal superintendent for Williams Brothers Pipe Line Co. Sherry is a special education teacher at Axtell Park Junior High School.

Marvin Myers Presents Program on Project Show

Rotarian Marvin Myers presented the program at the Wednesday luncheon last week of the Crowell Rotary Club. He spoke on the upcoming project show which is sponsored by the Rotary Club. This is the 36th annual show, and the Rotary Club has been the sponsoring organization since during World War II.

Mr. Myers showed slides of the shows held since 1967. One of the young people pictured in the late 60's with his prize winning lamb was Ike Everson, now a member of the Rotary Club.

In commenting on the entries in this year's show, Mr. Myers said there are Charolais crosses, Herefords and Angus in the calf division of the show.

The club elected the following slate of officers for the new year beginning this summer:

Bill Klepper, president; Roy M. Whitley, vice president; Cecil Davis, secretary-treasurer; and directors, Bud McLain, Ray Brown, Glen Goodwin and Ike Everson.

Cost of Congress Has Gone Up

"Cost of Congress," says the Elks magazine, "has gone up. House members have voted to give themselves 38 free trips home per two-year session instead of 26. They also have increased their stationery allowance from $3,500 to $4,250 per year. If they do not spend the whole sum in the House stationery store, they can draw what is left in cash."

Where Does That Leave the Public?

"It is said that the prevailing assumption in our society today sees but two sides to labor litigation: management and union. Where does that leave the public?" queries the Arizona Farm Bureau Federation.

Former Frankie Haney Died in El Paso Sunday

Funeral Services Held Wednesday in Las Cruces, N. M.

Mrs. B. A. Barton, the former Miss Frankie Haney of Crowell, died Sunday night in an El Paso hospital after a long illness.

Funeral services were held in Las Cruces, N. M., Wednesday with burial also at Las Cruces.

Mrs. Barton is survived by one son, Bill, of Las Cruces; her mother, Mrs. T. M. Haney of Vernon; one brother, T. S. Haney of Crowell; and three sisters, Mrs. John Rasor of Lawton, Okla., Mrs. Ruth Rowand of Arizona and Mrs. Corrine Boykin of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney of Crowell and Mr. and Mrs. Rasor of Lawton went to Las Cruces Monday.

Carried Too Far

"The idea of welfare is good, but, like motherhood, it has sometimes been carried too far. In some areas, welfare recipients have organized and 'demanded' more money. My reaction to this is unprintable. Some legislators are now proposing that welfare recipients register for work, and if work is available and they are physically able, they must accept work. This radical idea appeals to us taxpayers who are sick and tired of supporting lazy people."

—Belton, Texas, Journal and Democrat.

How About $15.00

"We have been tipped off by our spies in the Nation's Capitol that plans are in the legislative mill to raise the salaries of Congressmen from the present $42,500 a year to a flat $50,000. What with inflation and all it is understandable that our hardworking representatives might want a raise—but how about something a little more reasonable—say $15.00 a week? That's a bigger raise than most of us will be getting."

—Wytheville, Va., Southwest Virginia Enterprise.

Several farmers in this community are now in the process of having many mesquite trees plowed up in their pastures. We are all proud of this work being done as you can see much further now. The one every one is really proud of is the one east of the railroad tracks which is now owned by J. W. Erwin of Vernon. Coming in on the east highway, you can now see Margaret City from far off. This one spot was such a hazard, crossing the railroad tracks, as the trees had blocked all the view.

In the second game, Harvey Ward left his big guns in all the way and the Eagles took a lopsided 59 to 13 win over the Frogs.

With about 12 seconds left, Tyrone Tucker tossed in the winning 2 points. Tucker had a total of 16 points for the night. Dan Klepper had 2.

Columbian Club

The Columbian Club met Feb. 28 in the home of Mrs. Roberts. After the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Kenner led the pledge of allegiance.

During the business meeting the first of the bicentennial commemorative plates were displayed and sold, one white and one blue. The design of the 1973 plate is "the seeds are sown." The price as each plate is issued is the minimum as it increases each quarter. After the 1976 plate is issued on July 4, 1976, there will be a ceremony at Independence Hall where all the molds for these plates will be publicly destroyed. The making and selling of these plates is a project of GFWC.

Mrs. Halbert as leader introduced Mrs. Virgil Johnson who spoke on "Texas around us." She told in a very interesting way how and why the counties around Foard were formed, how each county got its name and some interesting anecdotes about the early days. The story of Josiah Wilbarger proved very interesting, especially to those who had never heard the story of his scalping.

The club will meet March 14 with Mrs. E. J. Jones. During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments to thirteen members and three guests, Mrs. Jo Ray of Westport, Conn., Mrs. Jackie Brown of Truscott, and Mrs. David Johnson of Crowell.

Eastern Star Members Invited to Meeting

Crowell Eastern Star members are invited to a salad supper and stated meeting at Vernon Monday beginning at 6:30 p. m. A fun program has been planned.

Gambleville H. D. Club

Mrs. Clarence Garrett was hostess in her home Friday afternoon for the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Garrett read a poem, "Home," for opening exercise, which was very appropriate for the POWs and boys returning home from overseas. Mrs. Elton Carroll called the roll which was answered by six members and one visitor, Mrs. Peggy Meads, giving "what communications mean to me." She also gave the treasurer's report and read the minutes. Mrs. Garrett listed important dates, such as the April 5 district meeting in Jayton and September state meeting at Waco. Mrs. James Sandlin and Mrs. Willie Garrett gave council report.

Mrs. Meads, a visitor, gave a very informative report on ways of communication which are five:

hearing, taste, sight, touch and smell. Then she called on members for their ways of communications which fit in with their daily lives.

Mrs. Elton Carroll was awarded the hostess gift. Next meeting on March 16 is in the home of Mrs. Milton Hunter.

Foard History Given to Sam Rayburn Library

Tuesday, February 27, was the regular monthly meeting date for the Foard County Historical Survey Committee.

At this meeting, along with the customary order of business, the treasurer, Mrs. Mae Solomon, reported on the sale of the new history supplement. These are being mailed out daily from The Foard County News.

The chairman read a letter from the Sam Rayburn Library asking for a copy of the county history. A book will go as a compliment from the local committee.

At this meeting, Jim Mack Gafford displayed his collection of old pocketknives.

Mrs. David Johnson was hostess to members of the Pioneer Circle of the United Methodist Church on Monday, March 5, in the home of Mrs. Grady Halbert. Mrs. Charlie Bryson, circle chairman, presided.

The devotional service was led by Mrs. Allen Sanders. She spoke of Key 73, an evangelistic movement, which emphasizes Bible study and lay witnesses. Each member cited specific deeds that could be done to show our concern for others. Mrs. J. N. Ribble was leader and chose "Personal Mission" as her topic for discussion, and she made the women aware of the many opportunities for mission.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Halbert to ten Circle members, and to Mmes. W. O. Rucker and W. M. Alcorn of Odessa.

Attends Meeting in Wichita Falls

Felix Taylor, executive director of the Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation of Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties; Joe Don Brown, economic development specialist with the EOAC, and Wilbarger county judge Bob Arnold were in Wichita Falls Tuesday night of last week attending a meeting of the North Texas Manpower Planning Council.

Following that meeting, Judge Arnold said that there is no immediate indication that revenue sharing funds will be needed to maintain Economic Opportunity programs such as the senior citizen centers in the four counties.

Mr. Taylor, in an interview with the Vernon Record last week, was quoted as saying that although it is strictly talk at this stage, it is anticipated that "most of the programs we are operating will be transferred to some other federal agency."

For instance, he said, it is expected that the EOAC can apply for funding through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare "for the day care portion of what we're doing in the neighborhood center." The EOAC is operating neighborhood centers in Crowell, Paducah, Quanah and Vernon.

He said it is also expected that one of several other federal agencies might yet fund the senior citizen center activity.

He said there are more serious questions at the moment about administrative funds for the central EOAC office at Crowell than about some of the programs which the office directs.

He said the EOAC has until the end of its funding year, which is November 30, to determine funding sources, making its situation better than that of some other Community Action Agencies in Wichita Falls and other cities where funding nears end shortly and normal OEO income sources have been cut off.

"I am concerned, but I'm not alarmed," he said of the EOAC funding outlook. "Judges and mayors are all members of our board and they are aware of what's going on . . . It's too early to tell. If our program end was March 1, we would be hunting something. But we do have a little time."

"I don't foresee any drastic things happening to us. But you can't tell . . . Congress hasn't made any moves. After all, this is a law (under which the EOAC operates) . . ."

Taylor said he heard in the Wichita Falls meeting discussion for the first time of special revenue sharing funds from the Department of Labor for work training programs such as that operated by the EOAC.

The EOAC now operates 44 manpower training slots in Foard, Cottle, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties, the counties that are joined in the OEO office operation and additional counties of Knox, Baylor, Childress and Motley.

The current contract on the manpower program goes through Sept. 6 of this year.

"I have talked with the Department of Labor and their people think funding will continue to come right on through," Mr. Taylor said.

A department of Labor representative, Andrew Nunn of Dallas, was on hand for the meeting in Wichita Falls last week of the North Texas Manpower Planning Council, along with Mr. Taylor and Mr. Brown of Crowell, and Judge Arnold of Vernon, as well as a variety of agencies in Wichita Falls.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News
Farmcast
Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Planting plans postponed . . . Six counties lose . . . What's your beef . . . International cooperation.

The 1973 Texas spring planting season is off to a slow start. Cotton planting in the Lower Rio Grande Valley has been delayed at least a month due to cold, wet weather.

Texas Department of Agriculture officials report less than five per cent of the Valley's cotton has been planted thus far, and probably most of that will have to be replanted. Normally, about two-thirds of the crop would be in the ground in the Valley by now.

Meanwhile, on the High Plains—550 miles to the north—harvest of the 1972 cotton crop is now virtually complete. Rains and cold weather delayed harvest in that area for several weeks.

Wet conditions over the state are also causing some headaches for livestock producers, who normally welcome rains. Too much rain is keeping fields too muddy for grazing in many areas of the state. Supplemental feeding is continuing with some shortages of hay and cottonseed products reported.

SIX counties in Texas have lost their "modified-certified brucellosis" status because of non-compliance with certain minimum requirements of the cooperative state-federal brucellosis eradication program.

The counties in Texas are Denton, Freestone, Harrison, Kaufman, Navarro and Wood.

Counties initially receive the "modified-certified brucellosis" status when the areas are in compliance with all requirements of the eradication program.

According to officials, the counties did not meet one or more of the following requirements:

Retest infected herds for brucellosis within six months;

Test or quarantine the herd of origin when an infested animal is found through the market cattle testing program;

Test a dairy herd within 30 days after a suspicious brucellosis milk ring test has been reported.

Necessary corrective steps are being taken so that the counties may again receive their modified-certified brucellosis area status.

IF YOU'RE concerned about getting the most for your food dollar—and who isn't—you should be utilizing some information from the Texas Department of Agriculture about beef. TDA has available some tips on how to get the most from your beef dollar.

These include a beef chart showing the cuts of beef and cooking instructions for the various cuts and a pamphlet titled "Stretching Your Beef Dollar." Both are available by writing the Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

INTERNATIONAL cooperation is providing Texas agricultural producers with better varieties of grain sorghum and forage sorghums. About 200 acres of grain sorghums are being grown to determine purity tests in Guatemala and Mexico.

This program is being carried on through the seed division of the Texas Department of Agriculture under direction of Bill Staffel. Texas is the largest producer

DOG-A-LOO

The perfect "indestructible" dog house from Quannah Res-A-Glass. Dogs love the "Dog-A-Loos" and kids will too. They're bright and shiny like a new orange and they stay that way—through kids and dogs and wind and weather. And with features like these Everybody will want a Dog-A-Loos:

- Cast of solid fibreglass construction—won't bend, break or give in to those "heavy chewers."
- Sanitary—Hose 'em out or scrub with soap and water.
- Removable floor for easy cleaning.
- Snug and warm (no seams) in winter; completely rain proof (with door entrance) and cool in summer.

NOTICE
Greenbug populations in Archer, Knox, Haskell and Morton counties, ranging to 6 greenbugs per foot of grain, says this is light when it is compared to populations of 200 to 300 bugs per foot of grain, which generally are tolerated because of economic damaging levels. Winter grain mites of 2 to 4 per foot of grain reported from Foard, Wilbarger and Wichita counties. As warmer weather is experienced, the damage from winter mites becomes smaller. Burketts then added "populations of pests have generally been during the past three years."

Legal pads in three sizes. Get them at the News office.
