Card of Thanks

We are extremely thankful for each and every gracious friend who made the passing of our precious loved one bearable. We realize that she could face the knowledge of her impending demise with a courage and fearlessness that would have been most difficult without her faith in God and her many friends. She lived under a cloud with its shadow of pain and agony for so many months, but waiting for her, above the cloud, was her star with its bright and shining light. And we know that pain is no longer pain when it is past.

The food, gifts, cards and flowers were very much appreciated. Our hope is that God will bless you everyone for your comforting words and numerous kindnesses shown to us. The family of Montie Whitley.

Card of Thanks

In appreciation for all the lovely flowers, gifts, cards, letters, prayers, visits and all the kind deeds of the neighbors and friends I shall never forget your thoughtfulness and kind remembrance. It made my stay in the Lubbock hospital more bearable to be so kindy thought of. Bless all of you. Woodrow Fielder.

That figure represents an estimated 48,323 vehicles stolen in the state during 1971.

Many average Texans conclude the absence of complaints means the absence of organized crime in the car theft racket.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

"At the present time, 80 to 85 per cent of all stolen vehicles are got any property back. recovered," said Colonel Speir, "but many of those not recovered are taken by professional thieves and organized theft rings."

Car theft, as a matter of record, often is the "kindergarten" for a young thug.

Underworld bosses, especially a 'fence' (the receiver of stolen goods), often sponsor fledglings in "lower level" crimes such as home burglary, hijackings and auto theft.

By bankrolling prospective employees, whom they are actually training and testing, the organized criminal element is the catalyst for street crime.

As former U. S. Attorney General John Mitchell has said, "When you read of housebreakings, shoplifting and industrial thefts, you should realize that organized crime provides a major network for the disposal of these stolen goods."

The DPS Criminal Law Enforcement Division and local authorities have uncovered evidence on more than 40 auto theft rings. In 34 instances, positive identification of the leader was made and names of members and method of operaion discovered. Many arrests

Car thieves and burglars who prowl cars for tape decks or other items must move swiftly.

Law enforcement officials also could use some changes in the penal code and authorization for modern surveillance techniques to help catch the fence.

Fences usually are difficult to run to ground, doing much of their business by telephone or in some cases selling off stolen goods a few items at a time.

But progress is being made in the theft and burglary field, as far as most law enforcement officials can tell.

A more aware and better educated public holds the best promise for solutions to the problem.

"We may never wipe it out completely, but if the public will help giant progress can be made,' Colonel Speir noted.

The next in this series of stories will deal with so-called "victimless crimes.'

The Frogs, with a 7-3 record, won the National League division.

The Eagles were probably the highest scoring outfit in local LD history compiling a total of 488 points during their 10 games. The Frogs scored 293 points; Ponies 327, Roadrunners 287; Turtles 200 and Hawks 194 points.

Most of this year's games proved to be exciting ones as a review of the scores show that six games were decided by a 1-point difference in score, one game was decided by 2 points; there were two 3-point difference games, and one 4-point difference game. Bud McLain said his team, the Ponies, was involved in three of those 1-point difference scores. Individual scoring statistics re

Other boys who scored over 100 points during the season were Steve Rodriquez, who played only about half the season and scored 101 points; Marshall Reed, 129; Dwayne Dishman, 149; Sammy Neal, 120.

Other high scorers were William Carroll, 76, Wade Davis 95, Jessie Henry 61; John McGee 61, and Dan Klepper 57.
