News of Our MEN IN SERVICE

Staff Sgt. James C. Doyal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sterner of Route 3, Paducah, has completed an Army Air Defense Command annual service practice at Sea Range in Korea.

He is a Platoon Sergeant in Battery C, 2nd Battalion, 61st Air Defense Artillery of the 2nd Infantry Division at Camp Casey, Korea.

All year long, the firing battery drills and trains for its air defense role in Korea and then gets to actually fire during the practice.

Doyal's wife and son live in Quanah. He is presently here on leave.

Brother of Campaign Begins for Mrs. Setliff Rest Home Funds

Funeral services were held in Quanah Friday for Wilbert Joe Duncan, 46, payroll and gin supply clerk at Quanah Cotton Oil Co. Mr. Duncan was a brother of Mrs. Joe Ray Setliff of Crowell.

Mr. Duncan died Wednesday of last week after a short illness. He moved to Quanah from Rayland in 1945. He served in the Navy from 1946 to 1948 in the Pacific theatre and returned to Quanah and has been employed by the Quanah Cotton Oil Co. for the past 25 years. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include his wife; his mother of Vernon; three daughters; one brother, Robert Duncan of Pierre, S. D.; two sisters, Mrs. Setliff of Crowell and Mrs. Ruby Cash of Plainview, and 2 grandchildren.

Fifteen Foard County residents gathered for a breakfast meeting at the community center Tuesday morning to kick off a drive for funds to prepare the way for the construction of a rest home in Crowell. Henry Black presided at the meeting and passed out lists of prospective donors to the workers. The workers were urged to contact people on their list as soon as possible, as the drive will need to be completed within at least two weeks. A goal of $8,500 for the drive has been set as the minimum needed to pay for land to locate the rest home, pay the legal fees involved, pave the street in front of the home and pave a parking area, move a major sewer line and re-route a water line in the area.

Joe Don Brown reported that work to obtain a Small Business Administration loan for the builder will be started this week as soon as bids are received from contractors. Gene Wood of Munday will be one of the owners of the rest home.

Lists of prospective donors will inadvertently miss some residents. This is a community-wide project and anyone who is not contacted is urged to mail their contribution or take it to Jon Lee Black at the Crowell State Bank.

The workers will meet again next Tuesday morning to report on their work during the week.

Cotton Harvest Off and Running; Price Is Good

Beautiful weather last week gave cotton farmers an opportunity to get started gathering what appears to be the best crop of cotton in Foard County in a number of years.

The gin yard in Crowell was covered with trailers holding cotton waiting to be ginned early this week. A light shower Monday morning accompanying a cold front probably did not delay harvest. Cotton is still selling above 50 cents per pound—a price far in excess of any received in many years—if ever.

Sister Died at Tulsa

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Margin were held Saturday in Tulsa, Ok. Mrs. Martin, a resident of Tulsa, was a sister of O. C. Allen and Mrs. Lula Bradford of Margaret. Mr. Allen and Mrs. Bradford attended the services.

The four children, Johnny, Ronny, Paula and Tanja, are all enrolled in the Crowell Schools.

Altus Cotton Classing Office Gives Report

The USDA Cotton Division Classing Office at Altus graded 21,900 samples for the week ending November 30, and the season total stood at 53,300 classes. This year's harvest gained momentum during the week, according to C. E. Cox, officer in charge at Altus, but was still more than three weeks behind last year. A year ago at this date 92,200 samples had been graded.

Total classed from North Texas counties this year stood at 4,900 samples, compared with 12,600 at this date last year. Grades on North Texas cotton classed during the week were 42 per cent white and 55 per cent light spotted. Predominant grade was 42, accounting for 35 per cent of the total. Thirteen per cent was reduced in grade because of bark or grass, compared with 17 per cent the previous week.

Senior Citizens Luncheon Planned Thursday

A fire Monday afternoon practically destroyed the home of Mrs. Bill Bond at Margaret. The Crowell Volunteer Fire Department answered the alarm and extinguished the blaze but not before everything in the house was damaged or destroyed.

Mrs. Bond was at home at the time the fire was discovered in the bathroom area of the residence.

Your Help is Needed

Henry Black so aptly put it Tuesday, "I have sat here for 75 years and nobody has come in and built us a rest home yet." Finally, the possibility of a rest home for Foard County is better right now than it has been.

Workers in a drive to raise at least $8,500 for Foard County's part of the bargain met Tuesday morning and were assigned names of people to ask for contributions.

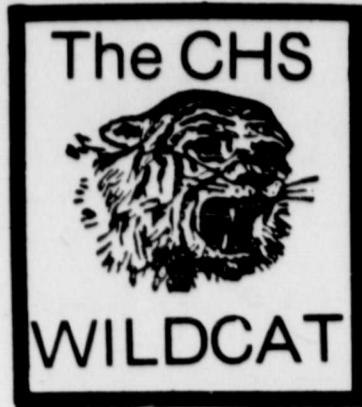

When a worker comes to see you, won't you please be extra generous and give all you can? If you are not contacted, don't feel left out. Take your check or mail it to Jon Lee Black at the Crowell State Bank.

The rest home will benefit the entire area. Don't let it fail to materialize because you didn't help.

DRIVE BEGINS FOR REST HOME FUNDS—Henry Black is pictured above as he hands out lists of prospective donors to workers who will be raising $8,500 for

Best Citrus Harvest Since '47 Forecast

People who have started listening can already hear the jingle of Christmas bells off in the distance.

They're not imagining things. The holidays are just around the corner. And, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, this may be the right year to add Texas citrus to the gift list.

The best citrus crop in 25 years is forecast for the 1973-74 season in the Rio Grande Valley where harvest is under way. Around 20,500,000 boxes of citrus are expected to be shipped in the coming months.

"This is seven per cent above the amount produced last year and a whopping 37 per cent more than the '71-'72 crop."

The Commissioner said, "The current grapefruit crop will be the largest since 1947 and production of oranges in the Valley is expected to be the biggest since estimates were started in 1919."

White also noted that fall rains, which slowed harvest temporarily, had improved the quality by allowing the fruit longer to mature.

Christmas shipments will start leaving the Valley around Dec. 1. Most take eight to ten days for delivery. They are available in a variety of sizes ranging in price from $5 to $20, shipping costs included.

Oranges and grapefruit which spoil rapidly refrigerated, are a gift packages from the Valley.

Commissioner urged consumers to certain they are getting a reputable firm sending gift fruit. The Citrus and Vegetable Growers Association, 671, Harlingen, 78540, provide the names of shippers who are members of the association, observe strict standards of quality and efficient delivery. When association members, damaged in shipping are replaced free of charge.

Henry Black Is Speaker Rotary Club Meeting

Henry Black, who did a large amount of work in securing the Foard County portion of the Tertiary Water System, was the speaker at the Wednesday, November 28, meeting of the Rotary Club and told something about the new system.

Black, who was introduced by Rotarian Cecil Davis, said it took about four years of work before construction began. He said the first meeting with Fred Parkey, president of the Red River Authority, was when V. A. Johnson, Jack Welch, Kenneth Halbert and himself met with Parkey to see what the chances were of getting water into rural Foard County. Mr. Black had maps which showed the route of the 56 miles of Foard County lines which will serve about 80 people at an initial cost of some $200,000.

Mr. Black praised the Greenbelt Water System and added that if it was not for the Greenbelt lake, there could be no rural water system due to the unavailability of water. Mr. Black said that on October 1, 1967, when Crowell started getting its water from Lake Greenbelt, the lake covered some 410 acres and contained 5,268 acre feet of water. On January 1, 1973, the lake covered some 1,000 acres and contained 22,900 acre feet of water. When the lake fills, it will cover 1,990 acres and contain 59,900 acre feet of water.

According to local water rates, Mr. Black says that Crowell residents pay some 13 cents for a ton of water. He compared this with milk at $1.65 a gallon, Coke at $1.48 gallon, prune juice $2.00 gallon.

Mr. Black said the late C. T. Schlagal will be remembered as the mayor who spearheaded the drive for the local sewer system, and Hubert Brown as the mayor who was responsible for the paved streets, new city hall and swimming pool. He said Robert Kincaid, present mayor, has done a great deal in keeping a lower water rate in Crowell. At the conclusion of the meeting, several Rotarians paid tribute to Mr. Black for his many years of civic work, including several Other guests at the meeting were Joe Haynie, student guest, and Rotarians Wayne Underwood and R. L. Neman of Vernon.

Avoid wasting food and money during the holidays—make overeating a "no no." Also, use refrigerated left-overs within two or three days and frozen ones while still in prime condition, says Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

COLORFUL FIREPLACE

FLAMES

Add color to the flames in your fireplace this winter by treating wood chips, pine cones or wood or paper logs with certain chemicals, says the extension service. Calcium chloride produces orange flames; copper chloride, blue; potassium chloride, purple; strantium nitrate, red; lithium chloride, carmine; and copper sulfate, emerald green. Dissolve one pound of chemical in a gallon of water and immerse the wood or paper material for at least 10 minutes. Allow overnight drying.

KOHOUTEK LOCATIONS—The Moody Planetarium of the museum of Texas Tech University suggests that amateur astronomers may find these charts useful in locating the Comet Kohoutek during December and January. To the naked eye the comet looks like a star that is blurred as if it is viewed through a mist. The tail shows as a faint stream trailing behind the bright comet head. The planetarium is interested in obtaining copies of any photographs taken of the comet. Astronomers suggest that photographers use a tripod, set the lens wide open, focus to infinity, and expose a very fast film for a few seconds.

FOARD COUNTY NATIVE JO RAY DIED
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30 IN CONNECTICUT

Jo Ray, 74, a native of Foard County, died Friday November 30, in Westport, Conn.

Mr. Ray was born on the Ray farm in Foard County Sept. 28, 1899, son of the late John S. and Addie Hunt Ray.

He is survived by his wife, Eloise, of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Patricia Ray Achelpohl of Iowa City, Iowa; one son, Christopher Ray of Minneapolis, Minn.; six grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Martha Gardner of Albuquerque, N. M.; stepmother, Mrs. John S. Ray of Crowell.

Mr. Ray was an architect of considerable fame and a recent article in the Westport News told something of his work. The article follows:

When Lockwood House in Norwalk opened recently, Westporter Jo Ray's contribution was the quiet simplicity of gardens, setting the mood for a time and place long since disappeared from a world symbolized by the swooshing cars along the nearby turnpike.

Simplicity is the hallmark of Jo Ray's work which has spanned 48 years and every kind of project from private homes to the 1939 World's Fair layout.

Born and raised on the flat plains of West Texas, Jo followed the pioneering footsteps of his forbears in becoming a landscape architect. Pursuing his desire to be an artist at Texas A&M College, he learned about the profession of landscape architecture.

He earned the first degree of Bachelor of Landscape Architecture ever issued by Cornell University in 1925, left for study and travel in Italy and returned to begin his career with the famed Frederick Law Olmstead firm in Boston.

In his early career, he specialized in estate designing and his handiwork lives on in the huge gardens of such families as Cyrus McCormick of Chicago, the Fords of Detroit, the Paul Mellons and Mrs. Roy Hunt of Pittsburgh.

He had gone to Pittsburgh to work in a partnership with Ralph Griswold, and wound up in a lifelong partnership with another landscape architect, his wife, Eloise.

The Great Depression stifled large estate building and the pioneering Ray struck out on his own in the New York area, moving his family to Westport in 1933.

Recognizing his ability, New York City officials hired him for a WPA project in the Park Department. There, under Robert Moses, he designed a number of playgrounds, parks and highways, including the redesign of Bryant Park, back of the New York library.

He was the first man on the site of the 1939 World's Fair and turned Flushing Meadows into a design of lagoons, roads, cloverleafs and parks so endurable that much of it remains today.

"Simplicity is the key to my planning," he said, "if a design becomes hard to do, it's the wrong way to do it."

Fellow architects describe his designs as "superb" praising his "propensity for seeing through a lot of knotty problems." Knotty problems arise, they say, in adapting the grade of the building, site work, exterior structures and the plantings.

All of this must be done within the framework of the plans and budget of the architects and the owners, but it must also meet the exacting criteria that the landscape architect puts on his own work: seeing the whole project as a aesthetic creation.

This was the challenge presented by the Lockwood House job. Scarcely more than an acre in size, the parcel was to be the site of a 17-room repository of 18th and 19th century furniture and silver.

It has been described by town officials as "a left over piece of real estate near the turnpike." Ray's job was to revamp the existing property to fit the proposed building. It required an exterior setting to blend with the Georgian type building and a mood to reflect the objects housed in the museum.

Founded as a gift from Manice deForest Lockwood and Miss Julia Belden Lockwood, the Colonial museum took two years to build.

Lockwood House is the latest in a prodigious list of projects done by Ray. His public projects include "defense housing" in which he attempted to include beauty and aesthetics in the hurry-up work of providing housing—in all he did 47 housing projects including the grounds for apartment houses such as the Alfred E. Smith complex in New York City.

Schools, hospitals, parks and churches all over Massachusetts and Connecticut bear his hallmark of simple elegance in the design of the grounds. In Westport, his stamp is on the Coleytown elementary and Long Lots Junior High School, as well as the Sagatuck Congregational Church and parsonage on the Post Road.

With his two sons, Chris and John, Ray was a familiar sight in the Westport yacht basin aboard his boat "Hardtack" in all kinds of weather. Peter Barlow caught the essence of Ray, the man, in a picture published this year in his "Marine Photography" by Peter Barlow, showing his boat.

Ray, the man, is a delight to his friends. His colleague, friend and wife, Eloise says, "He is always entertaining, always spinning puns, always making people laugh. His infinite capacity for finding something humorous in every situation is the delight of Jo's friends."

Ways Being Sought To Up Beef Supply

One way scientists are working to insure an adequate food supply for tomorrow's growing markets is through animal breeding programs.

A recent study by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service shows that young bulls will generally produce 25 to 40% more lean meat than steers on the same diet.

A related study also indicates Holstein dairy steers may become an even more important source of beef. Tests revealed that Holstein steers produced acceptable carcasses and performed as well if not better in the feedlot than Hereford breeds.

Young Men Must Still Register at Age 18

You don't hear much about the "draft" anymore. It ended when induction authority for Selective Service expired last June... but did you know that you are still required by federal law to register with Selective Service when you turn 18?

You can register with Ray Shirley in Crowell. All you need is some positive means of identification—like your drivers license—your social security number, and you should know the names and addresses of at least two people who will always know your whereabouts.

"Timely registration" is completed within a 60 day period beginning 30 days before your 18th birthday, but if you are already 18 and have not registered, you should report for registration immediately—for your own good. You are subject to federal prosecution if you do not register with selective service.

John C. White, Commissioner

Not True Any More... Egg Production Up and Down... Sheep and Lambs on Feed About Steady... Cattle, Calf Sales Increase.

Time was when the majority of the beef breeding herds in the state were in West Texas, but this is not true any more. Almost 60 per cent of the Texas beef breeding herd is located in the state east of a line running from Fort Worth to San Antonio and then southeast to Kleberg County.

East Texas is now the home of the biggest percentage of beef cows in the state with 21 per cent. The Blacklands are second with 16 per cent followed closely by south central and coastal bend areas with 15 per cent; the Valley and South Texas account for 11 per cent. The West Texas areas, where at one time the big cattle herds roamed, account for barely 30 per cent of the state's beef breeding herd.

EGG production in Texas during October, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes, is two per cent below a year ago but four per cent above last month.

Nationwide, production was up four per cent from September.

Texas layers, totaled 11,200,000 (not quite as many as the human population); this is up one per cent from a month earlier. Texas eggs laid daily per 100 hens averaged 58.6 compared with 61.2 on the national level.

The October hatch of egg-type chickens in Texas is up two per cent from a month ago. The hatch of broiler chicks is one per cent less than a month ago.

The turkey poult hatch was seven per cent above a month ago.

Nationwide, egg-type chicks hatched are up seven per cent over the previous month, broiler-type chicks are up one per cent from a month ago, and turkey poulters are five per cent higher than a month ago.

ONLY a one per cent decline in the number of sheep and lambs on feed in Texas is noted during November. Texas sheep and lambs on feed as of Nov. 1 totaled 209,000 head.

Sheep and lambs placed on feed during September and October totaled 197,000 head, up nine per cent from a year ago. Marketings of feed sheep during this period totaled 129,000 head, down nine per cent from a year ago.

SALES of cattle and calves in Texas during October are 26 per cent above a month ago. Sales of sheep are 41 per cent above a month ago and sales of goats are 36 per cent below last month.

Cattle and calves marketed through auctions in the state during October totaled 760,000 head, down six per cent from a year ago, and 26 per cent above a month ago.

Sheep sales totaled 106,000, up four per cent above a year ago and 41 per cent above a month ago.

Goat sales totaled 21,000, or 43 per cent below last year and 36 per cent below last month.

Hogs sold during October at 48,000 head were seven per cent above a year ago and 30 per cent above last month.

DON'T forget. If you are one of 75,000 farmers or ranchers in Texas who have received or will receive shortly a crop and livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service be sure to fill it out as accurately as possible and return it promptly.

You'll be doing your part to make sure that a complete and accurate picture of Texas agriculture is obtained by cooperating in this venture.

EOAC Receives $26,000 Grant

A $26,000 grant to continue funding of the Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation of Wilbarger, Foard, Hardeman and Cottle Counties has been received for a three-month period, Executive Director Felix W. Taylor of Crowell announced in Vernon last week.

Mr. Taylor said that the EOAC is assured of funding at this time on a quarterly basis only through June of 1974, and that efforts are presently being made to develop a regional board under a unified program that would meet federal standards requiring at least 100,000 population in areas for such programs as those operated by the EOAC, the Community Action for Foard, Wilbarger, Hardeman and Cottle Counties.

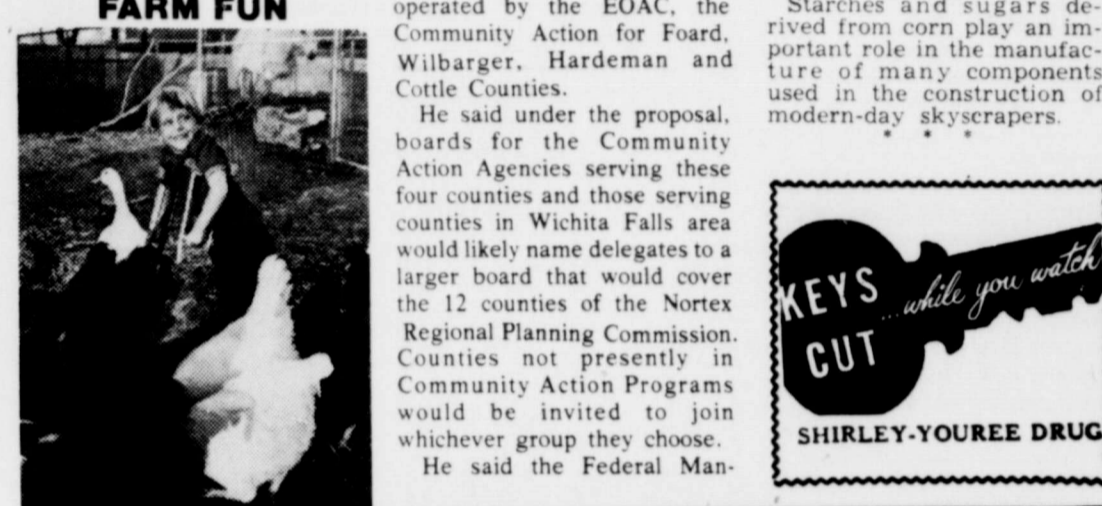

He said under the proposal, boards for the Community Action Agencies serving these four counties and those serving counties in Wichita Falls area would likely name delegates to a larger board that would cover the 12 counties of the Nortex Regional Planning Commission. Counties not presently in Community Action Programs would be invited to join whichever group they choose.

He said the Federal Manpower program formerly operated by EOAC has been changed to supervision of the Nortex Regional Planning Commission and provided funding of $212,000 for 56 persons in the 12 Nortex counties.

Nortex, however, has designated EOAC to direct the expanded program. Bob Harrison is director of the Manpower Development Program while Carl Baldwin is counselor. The counties involved in addition to the four in EOAC are Childress, Baylor, Archer, Clay, Young, Jack Montague and Wichita.

County Federation Meets

The Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs met last Monday at the Adelpian Club house for a regular meeting with the president, Mrs. Ray Shirley, presiding. A nominating committee composed of Mmes. Allen Shultz, Clarence Garrett and Parker Churchill was appointed. Election of officers will take place at the January meeting. Reports were given by the treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Brown and library committee chairman, Mrs. Ed Huskey. Mrs. Brown said state dues had been increased to $3 per club membership, and that she had forwarded the $18 to headquarters, leaving a balance of $16.70 in the treasury. She reminded clubs that local county federation dues were payable January 1. Mrs. Huskey's report is printed elsewhere under the library committee news.

Mrs. James Sandlin, president of the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club, introduced the program. Mrs. Curtis Casey of Truscott played a piano arrangement of an ancient hymn on Jerusalem and a medley of Christmas carols. An informative talk on the Holy Land was given by Mrs. A. V. McCombs, who, with her mother, Mrs. J. M. Hill, toured there last spring. They were in Israel at the beginning of the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of its founding.

Mrs. McCombs described places Christ was said to have visited according to Biblical scripture. She stated that churches have been erected at the most holy places. During the week they were in Israel, there were thousands of Jews visiting and celebrating the anniversary from all over the world.

There was no fighting between the Arabs and Israelites at that time, but it was very apparent to the Americans that the two nationalities totally disliked and distrusted each other. Though making a few remarks on the political situation, Mrs. McCombs mainly spoke on the Biblical places which are today.

Hostesses were Mmes. Clarence Garrett, Warren Haynie, Ed Huskey, Virgil Johnson of the Adelpian Club. Cake and coffee were served to the nineteen members present.

The next quarterly meeting of the federation will be Jan. 28, with the Women's Service League as program leader and the Riverside Home Demonstration Club as hostess.

NEW CATTLE FEEDERS HANDBOOK

A new handbook for Texas cattle feeders has just been published by the extension service. It covers all aspects of cattle feeding, such as nutrition, feed preparation and storage, animal health, feedlot management, feedlot planning and equipment, and waste management. County extension agents have information on ordering the new handbook.

Library Committee Reports

The library committee of the Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs met at the court house Monday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Ed Huskey, chairman, presided. Four clubs were represented, along with the committee officers and county librarian.

The treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Brown, stated there was a balance in the library fund of $351.91 as of November 26, 1973. Construction of a new bookshelf in the library has been delayed, but it is hoped a carpenter can get to it by the first of the year.

Six new books have been purchased for the library, according to Mrs. Veatrice Brock, librarian. They include "The Hollow Hills" by Mary Stewart; "No Bed of Roses" by Faith Baldwin; "Oklahoma Crude" by Marc Norman; "A Day No Pigs Would Die" by Robert Newton Peck; "Yellow Hawk" by Janet Stuart; and a Christian Herald Book Shelf selection, "Season of Love" by Catherine L. Clay.

Fourteen memorial books on the pre-school level have also been added to the children's shelf of the library.

The librarian stated that a number of books have been checked out and never returned. Readers were urged to return these books, as their purchase price is rising and the small library book fund prohibits replacement.

The library committee voted that when a book is overdue one week that the reader be notified by card; then, if not returned, be contacted by phone to please return the book or books. The possibility of publishing overdue book titles and names of those who checked them out was discussed, but it was decided to wait for a decision on that move until response to the new ruling could be evaluated. The librarian was instructed by the committee to enforce an old ruling that no additional books may be checked out by a party who has overdue books.

SUB-JUNIOR ADELPHIAN CLUB HAS MEETING

The Sub Junior Adelpian Club met November 28 in the club house. Sandy Whitfield was in charge of the meeting. Terry Cobb called the roll and read the minutes which were approved. Karen Statter gave the treasurer's report.

A business meeting then started. The spaghetti supper date was set as Dec. 11, from 6:30 to 7:30 in the school cafeteria. Money raised will be spent on a band for the annual new year's eve party.

The girls were reminded that the next meeting will be Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. Robert Kincaid with the mother club. Secret ballot votes were taken on whether to have a live band or use tape decks. The votes were in favor of the live band. Another vote showed members preferred a rock band over country. Vicki McDaniel led the pledge to the flag. Kathy Whitfield, leader, introduced Karen Statter who gave an interesting program on her trip last summer to Washington, D. C. Refreshments were served by Nora and Mrs. Durham.

RIVERSIDE H. D. CLUB

The Riverside Home Demonstration Club met Nov. 20 in the home of Mrs. L. H. Hammonds with Mrs. Ervin Schoolcraft as presiding officer.

Club committees: yearbook, Mrs. Allen Shultz; finance, Mrs. Billy Cleveland; EEE, Mrs. Robert Hammonds; 4-H leader, Mrs. Grover Moore; telephone, Mrs. L. H. Hammonds; recreation, Mrs. John Ray; reporter, Mrs. Grover Moore.

Club demonstrators: foods and nutrition, Mrs. Billy Cleveland; home improvement, Mrs. Robert Hammonds; home management, Mrs. Schoolcraft; clothing, Mrs. Allen Shultz; health and safety, Mrs. Grover Moore.

Mrs. Clarence Garret gave a very interesting report of the state convention in September. Three guests, Mmes. Jimmie Hammonds, Willie Garrett and Homer Ketchersid, attended.

Next meeting will be the Christmas party December 11 in the home of Mrs. Robert Hammonds. Mmes. Grover Moore and John Ray will have charge of the program. Members should bring gifts for the state hospital.

The Bride Wore a Dress

[William H. Evans, 60, veteran editor of the Groversville-Johnstown, N. Y. Leader-Herald and opponent of the traditional small-town newspaper wedding story, wrote the following account of his marriage ceremony. The story appeared in the Leader-Herald. It was recently re-published in the Publishers' Auxiliary.]

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y.—After a whirlwind courtship of 20 some years, most of them odd, Mrs. Helen M. Andrezewski, a blonde bombshell divorcee, became the bride last night of William H. Evans, an office-worn, brunet-tinted widower.

Sentence was pronounced by Supreme Court Justice Arthur C. Aulisi at the home of the bridegroom, 92 East State Street, in the high-mortgage district.

The judge, long-time friend of the bridegroom, said the sentence was for life but that he was giving the bridegroom one night out for every 25 years of good behavior. It wasn't quite like awarding a fried cake to a full-time employe of Dunkin Donuts.

Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Desantis, who gave their address as 18 Gillen Terrace.

The bridegroom was attired in a green houndstooth check double-knit sports jacket, double-knit green pants and tie and socks to match. He wore black shoes and exhibited a well-worn wallet (a 1969 pre-Christmas salesmen's display sample styled by St. Thomas) containing two photographs of George Washington. The green color matched everything else.

The bride wore a dress. The male attendant was wearing a $1.98 sports shirt he generally uses while golfing. It was a gift last Christmas from the bridegroom and was making its 114th appearance this year. The dark-blue pants somewhat matched the shirt. The shoes and socks were sort of off-color but contained no holes.

The female attendant wore slacks, shirt, shoes and socks of multiple colors and her hair was in curlers. She did not figure she would be pressed into service for the surprise event.

The bride, who resided at 331 E. Main St., Amsterdam, N. Y., after years on Cork Hill in that city, is employed by the state Department of Taxation and Finance (Income Tax) in Albany. The bridegroom is employed as a handyman by the William B. Collins Co., printers and publishers in Groversville. Non-traditional wedding music was provided, on recordings by Engelbert Humperdinck, who sang, "I'll Be Your Baby Tonight," "For the Good Times," "Everybody's Talking," and "Take Me for Now, Love."

ceremony for an indefinite (until the money runs out) stay in southern Florida.

Upon return, they will make their home at 92 E. State Street with their 14-month-old mongrel, Snoopy, a dropout from

The business part of the program was opened by a prayer by Mrs. Annie Shultz. Mrs. Mary Moore had charge of the devotional. Members quoted Bible verses expressing the theme of Thanksgiving or gave personal testimonials. Mrs. Doc Callaway brought the Bible quiz.

Crowell, Tx., December 6, 1973

From the News...
30 Years Ago

News items below were taken from the Thursday, December 2, 1943, issue of The Foard County News:

The Crowell High School football team became bi-district winner of Districts 11-A and 12-A Thursday afternoon when it defeated the Stamford team by a 7 to 6 score at Stamford.

Seven members of the Wildcat squad were named on the all-district team. They are Pat McDaniel, Kenneth Archer, Cecil Parkhill, Gordon Erwin, Bob Gobin, Glen Taylor and Billy Fred Short.

A P-38 plane crashed in a pasture in the Vivian community Monday afternoon and was completely destroyed by fire. The plane was piloted by Lt. C. L. Rudolph from Rogers Field, Okla., who was en route to El Paso. At a height of 30,000 feet, Lt. Rudolph had engine trouble. He started to come down and at 20,000 feet the plane caught fire. He fought fire for about 10 minutes and, after realizing they he could not control it, bailed out. He landed safely, sustaining only a slight shoulder injury and minor burns. Egbert Fish and his son, Herbert Fish, who were watching the plane from the yard of their home, hurried to where the pilot landed and brought him to Crowell for treatment at the local hospital.

The Boles Orphan Home truck will arrive in Crowell on Tuesday, Dec. 7, and will appreciate donations of food or otherwise, according to Martin Kamstra, minister of the East Side Church of Christ.

Five Foard County men were inducted in the armed forces in Lubbock Nov. 23. Three of these men, Gus N. Neill, Hugh O. Norman and Hugh H. Sollis, were chosen for the Navy and the two other men, C. J. Marts and Lawrence M. Glover, were selected for the Army.

An Associated Press story reveals the fact that Lt. T. P. Hunter, Jr., son of Mrs. Mary Hunter of Margaret, has been through a Japanese trap, killing 22 of the enemy and making their way back to their own lines recently on Bougainville Island in the Solomons.

Pvt. Daniel F. Brisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brisco of Crowell, successfully made his fifth and qualifying jump Friday night, according to information furnished by the Parachute School at Fort Benning, Ga.

A war dog certificate from the Quartermaster General's office has been received by H. L. Ayers, Jr., who sent his dog, "Mack," to the U. S. service several weeks ago.

Cpl. J. B. Weathered of Foard City, who is stationed somewhere in England, was married to Miss Sylvia Mary Willars, in a quiet, but pretty wedding ceremony on October 13, according to a news paper clipping from a paper in England.

Mrs. Marvin Myers celebrated the second birthday of her daughter, Mary Anne, by entertaining with a party for a number of little friends at her home Saturday. Guests were Judy Borchardt, Patricia Ann Prosser, Jana Black, Charlie Bell, Betty Davis, Rickey Tackett, Sue Bursey, Carolyn Bursey, Ann Walden, Tommy Crowell, Nelda Kaye Brooks, Marcia Kincaid, Jean Hughston and the honoree, Mary Anne.

May Be Legal, But Isn't Safe

AUSTIN -- Hunting from a vehicle on private land may be legal, but it sure isn't safe, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department hunting safety officials.

Statistics compiled from the "Hunter Casualty Reports" submitted by department game wardens show loaded guns inside or in the vicinity of vehicles accounted for approximately 22 percent of the reported 94 hunting accidents from Sept. 1, 1972, to August 31, 1973.

Six of the 28 fatalities for this time period involved loaded firearms and vehicles.

According to officials, most of the injuries were to the upper body of the victim and were caused by maneuvering firearms in limited quarters or using the vehicle as a gun rest.

Carelessness accounted for the majority of vehicle-firearms accidents. For example, many of the victims were shot while they were pulling a firearm by the muzzle from the back seat or gun rack.

Also, several hunters were injured when a firearm, which they had leaned against a vehicle, slipped and discharged.

Orange Drink Label Guides

Although the actual percentage of natural orange juice in orange drinks now on the market can range from 5% to 95%, that information hasn't usually appeared on labels.

To help consumers better know what they are purchasing, the Food and Drug Administration has developed regulations which will require that the percentage of natural orange juice in a product appear in large letters on the label.

FDA is also requiring that products which look and taste like orange juice, but actually contain none, state this clearly on the label.

Aspirin Overdose In Children

What should a parent do if a child gets an overdose of aspirin? Here are some suggestions from the Food and Drug Administration.

First of all, know the early signs of aspirin poisoning. They are vomiting and heavy breathing. Also, keep in mind that a child with aspirin poisoning can develop a fever—a condition which aspirin is often used to treat.

If you suspect aspirin poisoning, don't wait for the more advanced and serious symptoms, such as coma or convulsions. Delay can make matters worse. Take the child immediately to a doctor for medical evaluation.

Taxes Run Higher Than Food Costs

Taxes take almost twice as big a chunk out of the consumer dollar as food does. In 1973, the average American will have to work 2 hours and 39 minutes of each 8-hour day just to pay his taxes.

But he'll only have to work 58 minutes to pay for his food and beverages.
