Baseball Team Wins Game at Quanah

The Crowell Rotary Wildcats baseball team, preparing for the coming season as a member of the Vernon League, won a practice game from Quanah Saturday night 7-4.

Coaches Carl Brock and Gary Hobson were generally pleased with the performance of their team, but noted the players did make several mistakes, mostly mental.

David Bell started on the mound for the Rotary Wildcats and was the winning pitcher. Wallace Sillemmon looked good in a relief role as he pitched two good innings.

Crowell was a little weak with the bat, but Steve Stapp, Keith McDaniel and Richard Williams did manage to rap the horsehide with some authority.

The Wildcats played almost errorless baseball in the field and several good plays were turned in by Dwain Crosby, Sillemmon and William Bachman.

Quanah's Larry Jackson proved to be tough on the Crowell hitters as he struck out 10. However, the left handed fireballer was charged with loss.

Other players making the trip to Quanah and seeing action were Rudy Rodriguez, Dee Finley, Steve Settiff, Randy Prince, Jack Whitley, Melvin Westover and Adrian Martinez.

Earlier in the day, the entire team, with the exception of Allen Tapp, were in Vernon picking up their uniforms. Each boy was issued pants, shirt, cap and leggings. Crowell's colors will be grey, trimmed with green.

Another practice game or two may be scheduled before the Vernon Kid League starts on May 27. Crowell will play another game with Quanah and hopefully one or two with Knox City. All games will have to be played out of town due to lack of facilities here for this age group.

However, some interest is developing for the construction of a playing field in Crowell. One or two sites are available and would make an excellent baseball field.

A complete schedule of the Crowell Rotary Wildcats will be published in this week's paper so that anyone interested in these boys can see them in action. All games will be played in Vernon.

Copper Breaks Has Stark, Barren Beauty

Copper Breaks State Park in Hardeman County is a park designed for recreation but whose stark and barren beauty has historical significance for those who visit there.

In spite of the modern camping facilities in the parks, the restrooms, the electrical hookups and the running water, the park still gives the impression of the wilderness which early settlers had to face when they first came to this part of Texas.

The first Indians identified with the area around Hardeman County were the Lipan Apaches and the Wichitas. But these tribes were forced out by the Kiowas and Comanches, Indians who were later to give white settlers a tough time.

Settling Hardeman County, an area remote from the rest of Texas, was unthinkable until the Indians were driven out. The U.S. Cavalry and the Texas Rangers worked toward this end throughout Texas. In 1860 Captain Sul Ross' Rangers along with a detachment of the 2nd Cavalry attacked a band of Comanches at a site south of the Pease River on Mule Creek in Foard County.

In this famous incident, they captured Cynthia Ann Parker who was taken from her family by Comanches when she was a little girl in Limestone County in 1836.

She was the mother of Quanah Parker, a well-known chieftain of the Kwahadi Comanches who led his tribe to the reservations in 1875. The town of Quanah in Hardeman County was named after Quanah Parker.

With the Indians cleared from the area, Hardeman County was opened to settlers. The first to come were the ranchers, followed later by the farmers who fenced the land. Real prosperity came to the area in the middle 1880's with the railroads.

A smelter was built in Hardeman County to process copper ore which occurs in small quantities in this part of the state and for which Copper Breaks State Park was named.

The 1,933-acre site which comprises the State Park was dedicated recently by Governor Dolph Briscoe to the early settlers who came to the park. He pointed out that these men and women faced great hardships from the Indians and from nature. He also said that the park would serve to remind 20th Century man of these hardships because the land in the park would remain pretty much as the first settlers found it.

There are several small ponds stocked with fish within the park, and the Parks and Wildlife Department is completing a

W. F. Statser Is Rotary Speaker

Rotarian W. F. Statser, whose Rotary classification is land construction, was the speaker at the local Rotary Club's meeting Wednesday of last week and made a classification talk, that is, he told about his occupation.

He said his business consisted mainly of brush control, root plowing, terracing and pond construction.

Statser returned to Foard County in 1946 from the service, and started doing terracing work. He said about the first terracing was done in the county in the late 30's and early 40's under the direction of then County Agent John Nagy, now a resident of Blossom. He explained how the concept of terraces has changed through the ensuing years to the present day parallel terraces. He gave some of the prices charged, such as $20 an acre for root plowing, 12 cents per running foot for parallel terraces, 24 cents per cubic yard for pond construction, and 20 cents per cubic yard for diversion terraces.

In commenting on the cost of equipment, Statser said that a D6 Cat bought new in 1956 cost about $12,000, while today the cost is about $50,000.

A visitor at the meeting was Rotarian Ross Hendrick of Vernon.

Randall Gene Ryan Hired as CHS Coach

Randall Gene Ryan, 25, a 1967 graduate of Paducah High School, has been hired as the new head basketball coach for Crowell High School. It was announced last week. Ryan has been coaching for the past three years at Bowles Home High School at Quinlan, Texas. He attended Lubbock Christian College and received his bachelor's degree from Abilene Christian College. Mrs. Ryan is a graduate of Quanah High School. They are the parents of two children.

Thomas Hughston delivered the first load of 1974 Foard County wheat to the Farmers Elevator in Crowell about 6 p. m. Thursday, May 16.

According to elevator manager Homer Johnson, the load contained 344 bushels and tested 62 pounds per bushel. Moisture content was 13.56. He added that Mr. Hughston cut three more loads that same afternoon.

The wheat harvest in Truscott got underway on Friday, May 17, when Charlie McNeese sent the first load of 1974 wheat to the elevator. Reports from that area are that yields are from 6 to 8 bushels per acre.

The Foard County Mill reported its first load of 1974 grain was received Friday from T. R. Cates Jr. of Thalia.

Harvest got off to a good start Saturday and Sunday, with humidity Monday being very high and holding off much of the wheat cutting. Reports from the elevators early Tuesday show that 164,000 bushels of wheat had been brought in up to that time.

Yield averages, according to one elevator man, range from 8 to 10 bushels per acre in the south and west parts of the county. The best wheat is in the eastern part of the county with yields running from 18 to 25 bushels.

Test weights have been exceptionally good thus far, mostly 61 and 62 pounds.

Market price of wheat last Thursday when the first load was cut was $3.47 per bushel and early Tuesday had dropped to $3.14.

This time last year, there was a reported shortage of railroad cars, but this year, cars are plentiful on sidings near the elevator.

From the looks of vacant lots around town, there seems to be an adequate supply of combines. Due to drastically increased fuel costs, farmers are paying more for cutting and hauling this year.

Conservation Pays Big Dividends to Farmers

Conservation pays dividends for those who plan for their farm or ranch to have a prosperous future. This only comes about through the concentrated efforts of each land user in our county.

There are ways to keep our "good earth good" and these ways are being practiced daily by Conservation Ranchers and Farmers in the county. Strength comes from the soil.

Progressive land users participating in the outstanding work of the Foard County Soil and Water Conservation District continue to plan for a more productive future.

Soil Conservation today continues to keep farm productivity from going "down the drain". The prosperity of your farm continues to become more vital to the future of this community and nation. In comparison, one Soil and Water Conservation District circulated a "for sale" circular that read approximately as follows: FOR SALE—One West Texas farm (Top six inches on its way to or into the Mississippi River—All minerals gone with the topsoil).

All fields in excellent condition for washing 41 gullies, 3 to 10 feet deep (subject to grow larger).

2 empty houses, windows and doors missing, lean-to, 4 rooms and a path.

1 extra large leaning barn, to be moved on account of lack of storage for manure.

100 bales of Russian Thistle, dock, broom and poverty weeds.

144 bales of mixed grasses, mostly junk grass.

10 mineral-deficient cows. They are all gentle and used to being tailed up all winter. All are guaranteed to have no calves and also their performance shows rickets are present. 2 miles of two-wire fence with plenty of baling wire for repairs. 43 hens and roosters used to roosting in mesquite trees.

2 sows and 4 pigs—will eat anything. 120 acres of forage and small grain stubble—recently consumed by fire.

Multitude of other items too worthless to mention. Reason for selling: Present owner is going to work for a Conservation Farmer and Rancher who has taken care of his soil.

Will your farm ever be in the same condition as the one described above? Would you like to do something to stop the destructive waste of our most precious natural resource—the soil? If so, join hands with the Foard County SWCD. Conservation does not cost—it pays! Now may be the time to think of the future generation.

4-H ROUNDUP TIME

The State 4-H Food Show is set for June 4 as a part of Roundup.

2 Minutes with the Bible

THINGS NEW AND OLD

When our Lord had finished His familiar discourse on "the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven," he said:

"Therefore, every scribe which is instructed about the Kingdom of Heaven is like a man that is a householder, who brings forth out of His treasure things new and old" (Matt. 13:52).

A new era had just dawned in the world's history. A new message was being proclaimed. John the Baptist had begun to cry: "Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand!" and the Lord Jesus and the twelve had taken up the same message.

Some listened eagerly, others turned away—among them many of the scribes, the Bible teachers of the day. They did not welcome any new teaching. Yet Christ's message of the kingdom in no way conflicted with the Old Testament Scriptures. Indeed, it was based on the Old Testament and confirmed by it. This is why our Lord reminded His hearers that the right kind of scribe would bring forth out of the treasure-house of Scripture, things both new and old.

How this lesson is needed today! Some cast away precious treasures out of the Bible, contending that they are old and out of date. Others, while clinging tenaciously to old truths, reject new light. While mere professors of religion too often cast aside old truths with the complaint that they are outworn, true professors often reject new light simply because it is new. They vie with each other to be orthodox instead of vying to find more light from the unfathomable Word of God.

Is it possible that we have drained the Well of Scripture dry? Are there no more stones in that exhaustless Mine? Have any of us received all the light that shines from the Holy Bible? Then, cost what it may, let's keep digging into the Scripture, that as we minister to others we may bring forth out of the Divine Treasure-house things both new and old.

Since more labor is required to remove parts of an old structure, remodeling or altering an existing structure costs more than starting from scratch, says the extension service.

Effective discipline helps a child learn to be self-directing and responsible for his actions, says the extension service.

WATER AFFECTS INSECTICIDE

The effectiveness of the insecticide you mix with water may depend on the type of water used, points out an entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Water from municipal supplies is generally alkaline and thus reduces the effectiveness of many insecticide mixes. Use of distilled water or rain water is generally best in preparing insecticide sprays.

Price Introduces Legislation Last Week

Legislation designed to provide agricultural producers with a degree of protection against rising costs, was last week introduced in the U. S. House of Representatives by House Agriculture Committee member Bob Price of Texas.

The Price bill would immediately activate an escalator clause in the current Farm Act so that target prices could be adjusted by the Secretary of Agriculture to rise along with farm cost increases. The current Farm Act contains the escalator clause, suggested by Price and approved by the House Agriculture Committee, and later defended from attack by Price in the House Chamber last year, but under a compromise with the Senate it does not take effect until the 1976 crop year.

Price's new bill would take effect immediately upon enactment. Target prices were built into the new Farm Act to provide a floor for agricultural prices without interfering in natural supply-and-demand factors during normal periods. Current market prices for farm commodities are well above the target prices are intended to provide protection for farmers against sudden and drastic dips in market prices.

Citing considerable recent rises in farm costs, Price argued that without the escalator clause to move the target prices up along with the increased farm costs, the goal of target prices is subverted.

"Perhaps target prices will never be used," Price said, "but if they are, we must provide a measure which will not force the farmers to absorb all of the 1974 and 1975 cost increases in producing the nation's food and fiber," before the target price mechanism is activated.

"The cost of land, feed, seed, fuel, machinery, wage rates, taxes and even interest on borrowed money, are all up significantly," Price said.

"The target prices represent a minimum level of producer support by the federal government," Price emphasized, "and would not result in any payments as long as farm prices stay above the target price levels."

The Texas Congressman said current prices would still be well above the target prices even if they were adjusted under his escalator clause but that the

Called
"Profit Robbers"

Are mesquite, Juniper, Salt Cedar or weeds stealing needed moisture and nutrients from your field of mixed or sod forming grasses? These are "profit robbers". Worse yet, they get more than their share of water and minerals. It takes 1500 to 2500 pounds of water to grow one pound of mesquite wood. In comparison, native grasses such as Sideoats grama, Buffalo grass, Blue grama and little Bluestem need only 300 to 700 pounds of water to produce a pound of grass. Also, undesirable grasses such as Needlegrass, and Russian thistle require 300 to 600 pounds of water. They also get more than their share of minerals from the soil. A field that has 25% undesirable grass and weeds may get 40% of the total nutrients or fertilizer dollar.

Mesquite alone can rob the rancher from 3 to 5 pounds of grass for every pound of mesquite produced. Therefore, rangeland free of mesquite will produce one-third plus more pounds of grass by controlling this out of place tree.

Aerial spraying is one way of control. Also, root plowing, treedozing and grubbing are other methods.

If you are interested in doing brush control, pasture planting or range seeding on your farm or ranch, contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office.

1+ DIALING IS HERE

Now that you have 1+ Dialing, it is important that you know the many advantages of dialing your own long distance calls.

Since an operator is not required to handle your station-to-station calls when you dial it yourself, we pass this savings on to you by charging a lower dial-it-yourself rate. Station-to-station, collect, credit card and calls charged to a third number—which are placed with the operator—cost more than station-to-station calls you dial yourself. Person-to-person calls are even more costly than other operator handled calls.

This savings—along with the faster service and the convenience of dialing your own call—is not all. For example, to get an unknown number in any distant city, you can dial directory assistance yourself at no charge. Just dial 1+ the area code (if different from yours) +555-1212. This Universal Directory Assistance number can be dialed from anywhere in the United States.

Other helpful information is found on the 1+ instruction card you received earlier. So remember to use this convenient new long distance service.

Gambleville Club Has Program on Freezing Food

Mrs. Vera Thomas was hostess when the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club met for a regular meeting in her home at 2:30 p. m. Friday, May 17, with the president, Mrs. James Sandlin, presiding. Roll call was answered by ten members and one visitor, Miss Sally Sowell, the extension agent, and she gave the program on "Foods to Freeze."

She stated freezing is one of the simplest and fastest methods of preserving foods at home. It keeps the natural color, fresh flavor and food values of most fruits, vegetables and meats better than other methods of food preservation.

Freezing provides the convenience of having the food products that can be prepared quickly for serving.

Miss Sowell gave five points to success in freezing foods: Good quality—careful selection of foods to be frozen is important. The food coming out of the locker drawer or home freezer is no better than it was before it was frozen and stored.

Careful preparation—speed in preparation is necessary. Promptness in handling, chilling and freezing any product helps retain quality. Follow the instructions carefully in the preparation of any food for freezing.

Proper packaging—the purpose of packaging or wrapping food is to keep it from drying out and to preserve food value, flavor, color and pleasing texture. The selection of containers depends upon the type of food to be frozen and personal preference.

Loading the freezer—freeze fruits and vegetables soon after they are packed.

Freeze packaged meat as soon as possible to prevent meat juices from draining.

Put no more unfrozen food into a freezer than will freeze within 24 hours. Overloading slows down rate of freezing, and foods that freeze too slowly may lose quality or spoil.

Length of storage—frozen food undergoes slow changes in storage and will not retain its quality indefinitely. The length of time that frozen products may keep without loss of quality depends on proper handling before freezing, packaging material used, storage temperature, kind of food stored.

Do not store frozen food too long. Suggested lengths of storage for different foods are: fruits and vegetables, 1 year or less. Fresh pork and fish, 3 to 6 months. Poultry, 6 months. Sausage and ground meats, 1 to 3 months. Lamb and veal, 6 to 9 months. Beef, 6 months to 12 months. Liver, 1 to 12 months. Cooked foods, storage varies greatly for different products.

Slides were shown of different containers and methods of freezing foods by the agent.

Carrie J. Bond's life was given by the hostess for the opening exercise and Mrs.

Have you ever thought about what you would do if your home freezer stopped running? If your freezer does stop running or the electricity goes off for some time, these tips will keep your food from spoiling.

Dr. Bob Borchardt Addresses Adelphian Club Last Week

The final meeting of the Adelphian Club was held Wednesday, May 15, at 3:30 in the Housing Authority Community Building.

First on the program was a youth square dance by Jay Wall, Don Johnson, Willie Bachman, Richard Naylor and Misses Sandra Bachman, Hedi Vecera, Anita Vecera and Kathy Whitfield. Ed Schuman of Vernon was the caller for the dances.

Mrs. Vera Manard then presented an entertaining, amusing and delightful monologue about an old mountain woman. Mrs. Manard was appropriately costumed for the character she portrayed.

The speaker, Dr. Bob Borchardt of Vernon and son of club member Mrs. Henry Borchardt discussed "What's New in Medicine"—Government intervention in medicine, medical politics and the trend toward family practice for the family unit both young and old were the main topics of his talk.

Following the program, a business meeting was held at which time Mrs. Ed Huskey was installed as treasurer and the president, Mrs. Clarence Garrett announced that Mrs. Otto Bachman Jr. and Mrs. Duane Naylor were the new sub-junior Adelphian co-sponsors.

The hostesses, Mrs. John McAllister and Mrs. Sally Archer served a buffet refreshment as the guests arrived. The centerpiece was a large ceramic cowboy with all table appointments carrying out the cowboy motif.

David Scott gave a quiz on different kinds of cloth. Council report was given by Mrs. Sandlin in the absence of the delegate, Mrs. Betty Chatfield, who is on her way to Europe.

The president appointed the club committees: Mrs. Willie Garrett, yearbook; finance, Mrs. Elton Carroll, Mrs. J. E. Brasher; EEE, Mrs. Elton Carroll; 4-H leader, recreation, Mrs. David Scott; Mrs. Clarence Garrett, reporter. Mrs. Garrett was elected alternate council delegate.

The program of work sheets were filled out to be sent to the THDA. Mrs. Charlie Bartley drew the hostess gift.

how long the food will keep. The length of time food will stay frozen depends on the following: the amount of food in the freezer; a full freezer will stay cold many hours longer than one only a quarter full. The kind of food. A freezer full of meat will not warm up as fast as a freezer of baked foods. The temperature of the food. The colder the food, the longer it will stay frozen. The freezer itself. A well-insulated freezer will keep food frozen much longer than one with little insulation. Size of freezer. The larger the freezer, the longer the food will stay frozen.

Make advanced arrangements with a locker plant to take care of food during an emergency. When transporting the food to the locker, wrap it in plenty of newspaper and blankets, or use insulated boxes.

Your next best alternative is to add "dry ice" to the freezer to try to retain the cold. The more dry ice used, the longer food will remain frozen.

If all else fails, bring out the home canning equipment and cook the thawed food. Be sure you have containers, lids, and other canning equipment on hand, as well as canning recipes.

Meat or poultry should be examined before you decide what to do with it, because it may become unsafe to eat if it starts to spoil. Get rid of the food if the color or odor of the thawed food is questionable.

Be prepared when your home freezer stops running. Don't let a power blackout wipe out your frozen foods.

HOME GARDENS VS. VEGETABLE INDUSTRY
Home vegetable gardens could actually be a boom to the fresh vegetable industry in Texas, believes a vegetable specialist for the extension service. He feels that the taste of fresh homegrown vegetables will "turn on" many homeowners and cause them to buy more fresh produce. In recent years the trend has been away from purchasing fresh vegetables to increased buying of canned, frozen and instant produce. Home gardening will also give consumers a much better appreciation of the commercial vegetable industry, as they have to contend with the weather, insects and diseases—plus additional expenses and labor.

AND OTHER AGRICULTURAL DATA

Published monthly to cover states served by Santa Fe Railway, Gulf Central Pipeline and Santa Fe Trail Transportation Co. Edited by Agricultural Development Staff, Santa Fe Bldg., Amarillo, Texas 79171, and Santa Fe Station, Fresno, California 93718.

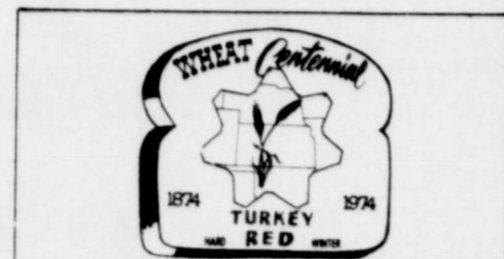

MAY, 1974

MOISTURE - FEAST and FAMINE: The moisture situation over the Santa Fe served states ranges from adequate to excess with delays in field operations over much of the area from Central Texas through Central Oklahoma, Central Kansas, into much of Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois and throughout many states to the East because of wet fields. In much of the western half of Texas, through Western Oklahoma, into Southwest Kansas, Southeast Colorado as well as in most of New Mexico, and Arizona moisture generally has been deficient since late September of 1973, with some non-irrigated areas having received but one effective rain since that time. This has caused delays in preparation of land for planting 1974 spring planted crops, damaged considerable acreage of winter wheat beyond recovery and resulted in damage to many fields by high winds.

WINTER WHEAT: Except in the dry areas of the Texas High and Low Rolling Plains, as well as in adjacent areas in Oklahoma and New Mexico and to a lesser extent in Southeast Colorado and Southwest Kansas most of the 1974 winter wheat crop appears to be in generally good condition. In this dry area, which has had little effective moisture in over seven months, high winds and above normal temperatures, along with infestations of greenbugs, wheat mites, cutworms and other insects have all taken their toll to the extent many farmers feel their non-irrigated acreage will not recover (even with adequate to surplus moisture from now until harvest time) sufficiently to justify paying cost of harvesting and many are grazing out such acreage where there is any growth available for use by livestock.

In spite of all the problems of those without adequate moisture there is a good possibility of the five states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico producing a crop in excess of 600 million bushels from a seeded 27,431,000 acres. This will be the second largest crop ever produced in the five states, exceeded only by the 708.5 million bushels harvested in 1973. Records of past years indicate of the 27 crops of wheat harvested from 1946 through 1972 only ten produced over 500 million bushels, with the crop of 1955 totaling only 185,233,000 bushels in these states. Assuming normal weather conditions the 1974 hard red winter wheat harvest should get under way during the period May 20-25.

Information regarding "Wheat Centennial" may be secured from Wheat Centennial Office, 121 South Main, Hillsboro, Kansas 67063.

Ag. Disaster Declarations Are Being Discussed

The possibility of agricultural disaster declarations for some Texas counties is now being discussed because of crop failures or reduced yields, now being suffered by wheat growers due to persistent lack of moisture.

Because of the interest in this possibility, Congressman Bob Price is making this special report to inform Foard landowners of the procedures necessary for such disaster declarations.

1. If more than 25 farmers feel that natural disaster has severely damaged crop production, they may make such a claim with the Farmers Home Administration office nearest them, and ask for a survey of their crops. This survey is separate from the ASC assessments made with regard to payments under the new Farm Act.

2. Upon petition from 25 farmers in the county, a FHA supervisor will make a survey of the area to determine whether conditions meet disaster area qualifications.

3. If the FHA supervisor determines a disaster declaration is merited, he will submit his findings and recommendation to the local County Judge.

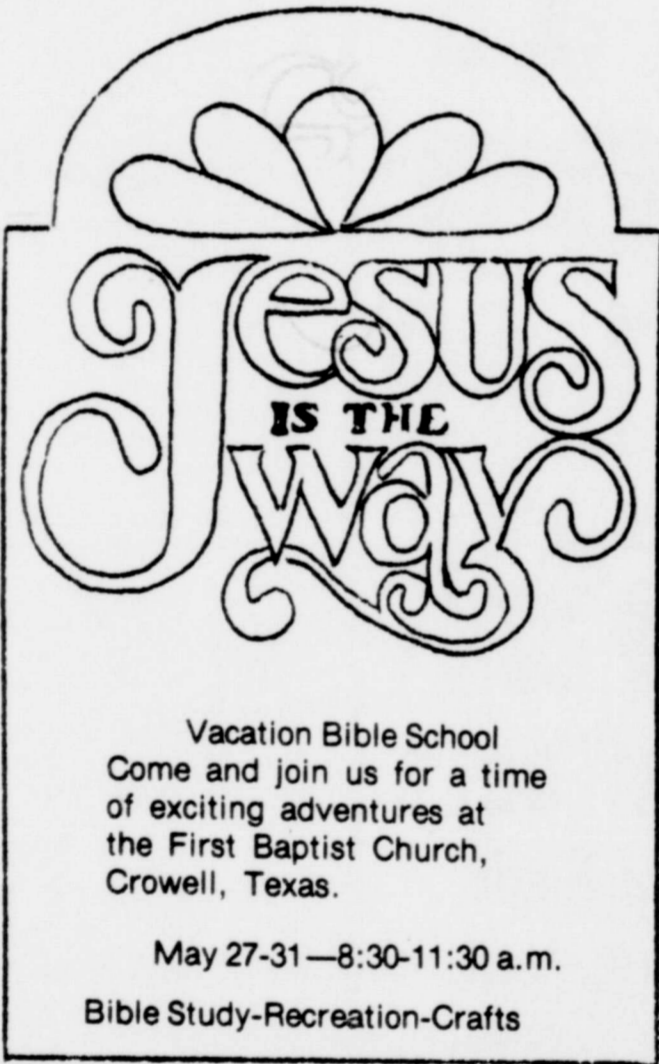

4. If the County Judge concurs, he may petition the Governor.

5. If the Governor concurs, he may ask the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture to make a disaster declaration covering the counties recommended by the County Judges for those counties.

6. After the Secretary declares a county a disaster area, farmers within that county may obtain, upon application to the FHA, disaster loans at five percent interest.

Invited to Band Camp

High school and junior high students from Crowell are being invited to attend the Summer Music Camp featuring band and choir training June 17-29 at McMurry College in Abilene. Dr. David Blackburn, director of the McMurry Chanters, and Roger Rush, director of McMurry Band, are in the process of assembling a faculty of distinguished musical educators both from Abilene and elsewhere.

"I hope some vocalists and instrumentalists from Crowell can take advantage of this total and exciting musical experience which we plan," said Dr. Blackburn, who is also chairman of McMurry's division of fine arts. "We also intend to mix in some fun."

The camp will not only provide musical training for junior and senior high students, but will provide advanced college credit for music teachers.

Blackburn himself will be both camp and choral director. Rush will be instrumental director.

McMurry formerly conducted a widely known summer camp in instrumental music and twirling.

"We plan to have camp recreating and a distinguished concert series as well," says Rush. "The emphasis will be upon creative learning in music."

Classes for youth will include conducting, organ, voice, piano, theory, twirling, drum majoring, and guitar. With youth choral training will be the summer concert choir, ensembles, private and class lessons. A lab band will give young musicians experience in jazz, rock, and other popular music forms.

Music teachers may earn up to four hours of credit. A two-hour course in techniques of arranging, and a two-hour course in vocal and choral techniques will be taught.

According to a new Food and Drug Administration regulation—effective March 18, 1974—food products must give "common or unusual name" of any chemical additive used in the product, along with a separate description of its function. Examples of descriptions include "to retard spoilage," "to help protect flavor," "a mold inhibitor" and "to aid in color retention," says the Extension Service.

Cattle Should Be Vaccinated Each Year

All cattle under two year of age should be vaccinated for blackleg every year, advises Joe Burkett, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Blackleg is a disease which is usually fatal to young cattle. The death or lameness of the best young calf in a herd often signals an outbreak of the disease. The most common sign that an animal has the disease is a swelling of the heavy muscles in the hip and shoulder.

May Named Older Americans Month

COLLEGE STATION—May marks the 12th national observance of Older American Month, and one authority on aging in Texas says older people in the state are an "untapped resource."

AG TRAINING SESSIONS GROW

Educational programs conducted by agricultural specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service continued to gain in popularity during 1972. More than 99,000 farmers and ranchers, businessmen and homeowners participated in short courses, clinics and workshops, an increase of more than 11,000 over 1971. Attendance was highest for programs related to fruit and nut (pecan) production and processing. Next in popularity were programs on landscaping and ornamentals. Programs in cotton and beef cattle production also had high enrollments.

REVIEW INSURANCE PROGRAM

A regular review of an individual's insurance program is a wise move, contends an agricultural economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Personal insurance, such as life, health and accident, as well as property insurance should be reviewed annually or each time family obligations change or property changes occur. Houses, for instance, have increased 30 percent in average value in Texas during the past five years, yet less than a quarter of the residents have increased their insurance coverage. Also, with changes in financial positions, certain types of insurance may no longer be needed.

May 24 Time to Spray Tr

Control measures pecan nut casebearer applied during the period May 24-27 in Foard County according to Joe Burkett, County Agent.

Pecan nut casebearer emerged over an extended period of time. The second application is needed five to seven days following the first application.

To further time down the timing of when pecan casebearers should be inspected producers are urged to inspect the small nutlets flat light green to white nut casebearer eggs. Eggs are about the size of a pinhead and generally deposited on the brown of the small nutlets. Once observed the eggs will be in a few days and must be applied to nutlets.

By inspecting the nutlets closely after they have been found, exact for control of pecan casebearer can be determined even further. Control should be applied as soon as first damaged nutlets are observed. This method is very well for those people that are willing to spend time required to inspect first damage of the pecan casebearer.

Some insecticides might be used for control pecan nut casebearer and Malathion and Zolene.

Information on other materials can be obtained from your Extension Agent. The side that is used should be mixed and applied according to the directions on the label.
