"TWO BITS WORTH"
BY JOHNNY VALENTINE

Ann Davidson turned this article into the Lynn County News this week and we felt with football season getting under way for the Bulldogs as well as most high school footballers Friday night it would be appropriate to run it this week.

Friday night, in virtually every city and hamlet from the windy plains of the Panhandle to the sun-kissed Rio Grande Valley, from the piney woods of East Texas to the Big Bend Country, Texas' September Song will again ring through the air. High School football, played as only the youth of the Lone Star State can play it, will light fields and fill stands everywhere.

It's a time when a very special breed of youngster steps into the spotlight - some rather bashfully, others as if to ask what in the world took so long. He's the school boy football player, a magically complex kid with short-cropped hair and a skinned nose; a boy who looks upon his evening chores with stoned-faced stare - a little afraid, yet determined; unsure, but eager to give it his dead level best.

He's the kid down the block; son of a lawyer or banker, postman or plumber, prepared through daily sacrifice to give his all for the honor of his school and teammates. He's useful, yet anxious to do his part, modest, but firm in his belief that his particular team is the best around.

He's the super hero who makes the sportswriter's job easy and the college scout's mouth water. The scrub who prospers in that quiet satisfaction that comes from just being a part. Both with the same vigor and enthusiasm, determination and dedication. In doing so, the great and not-so-great stand on equal ground.

The High School football player is tomorrow's poet and scientist, teacher and politician trying today, in the way he knows best, to show that he deserves admittance to that fascinating, often bewildering, world of manhood. He's today's hope - assurance that tomorrow will be a brighter day.

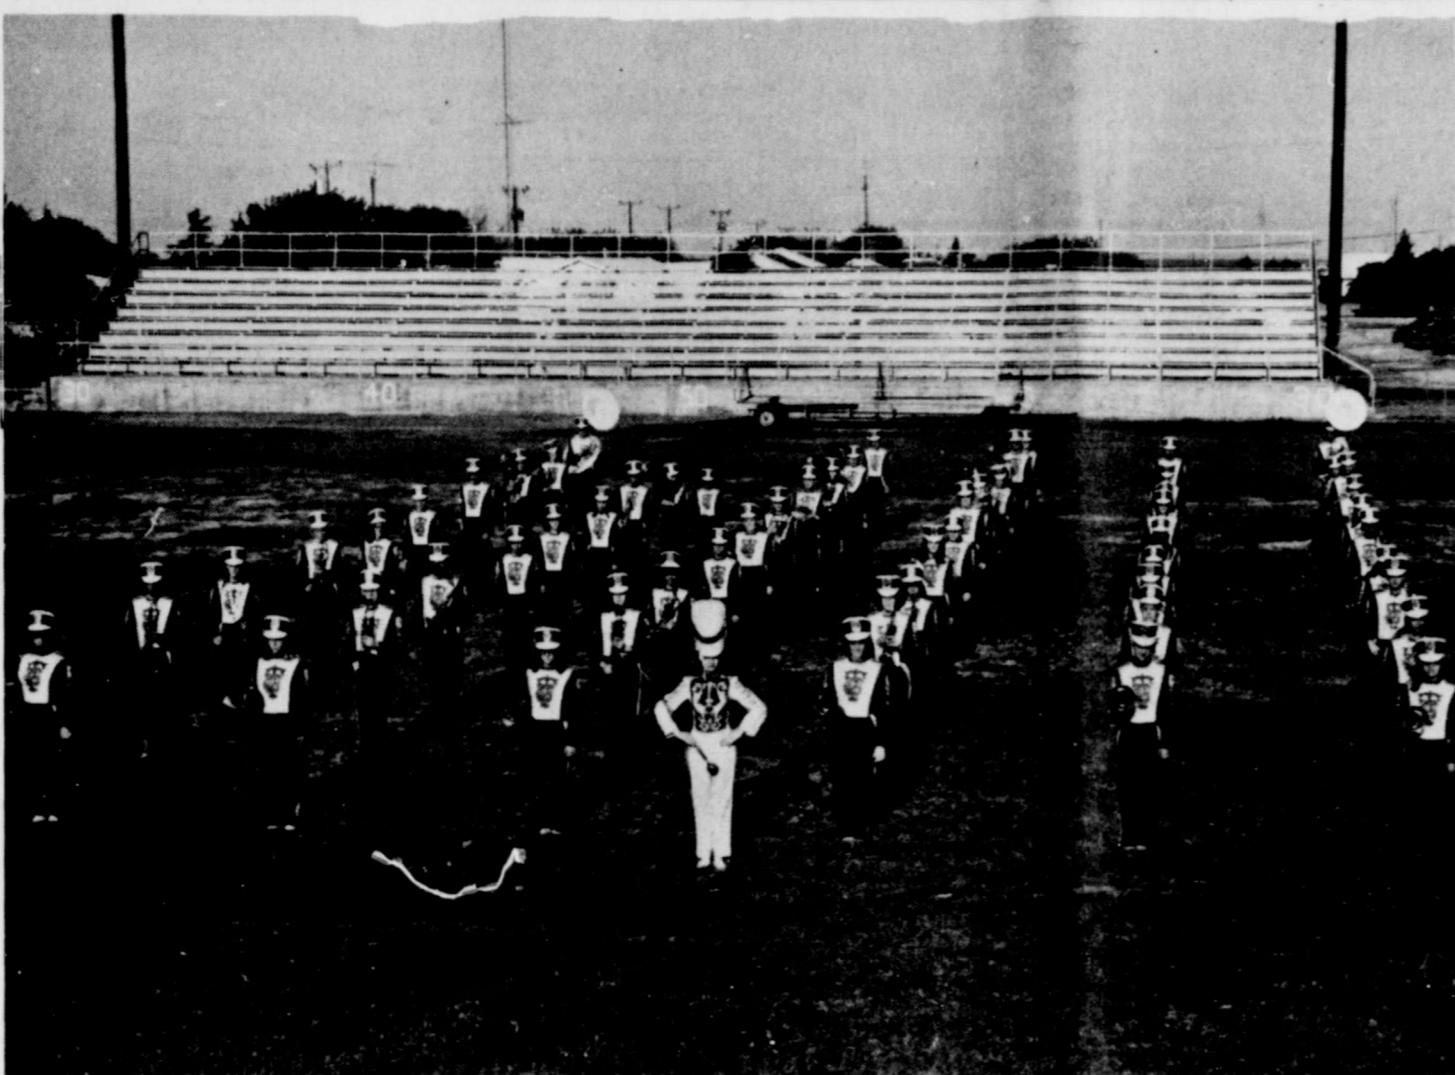

He likes out of town trips, pep rallies, short workout days and the swelling pride that comes from seeing his name in the morning paper. He's the natural athlete to whom everything comes easy; the skinny kid who spends long hours perfecting the most simple of tasks. He's the Hero of little brothers and friends, and mothers who live in the constant fear that her boy will be injured. He's the culmination of dad's dream - a youngster he can proudly point to and say, "That's my boy ..."

On his shoulders ride the hopes of the entire community the students, the man on the street, and all those who have worn the school's colors before him. He readily accepts the Challenge, without reservation or doubt, vowing to perform to the best of his ability.

He's too busy doing windprints to bother with stealing hub caps, too tired after an afternoon of blocking and tackling to build protest signs. He may not get the same headlines as those who are threatening the very foundation of our society, but he'll run until he's ready to drop if it will help defeat an upcoming opponent.

He's the kid who blushes from praise yet bristles if you degrade his teammates or coaches the kind of fella who can make you feel mighty small when, criticizing a defeat, he answers simply that "we did our best."

He's what the Red, White and Blue is all about; as American as apple pie; refreshing as the cool breezes which signal him to center ring. It'll be good to see him again...

1970-71 MARCHING BAND--Pictured above is the 1970-71 Bulldog Marching Band that will perform at half-time activities of the Tahoka Football games as well as other functions throughout the year. The Band is directed by J.D. Stocks and did a tremendous job last year and we're looking forward to seeing them perform again this year.

Bulldogs To Kick Off Football Season Friday Night At Stanton

The Tahoka Bulldogs will kick-off the 1970 football season this Friday night when they travel to Stanton for a non-conference game. The team under direction of a new head coach, A.J. Viertel seem to be progressing at a rapid pace.

The Bulldogs defeated the Buffaloes last year in a close battle, 7-6.

Both teams have held two scrimmage games with both looking fairly well in both games. O'Donnell scored twice against the Bulldogs last Friday night with the Bulldogs only scoring once. According to Coach A.J. Viertel the Team accomplished at O'Donnell what it set out to do. The team executed its plays well and the defense played well. A scrimmage is for experience not scoring.

In the Buffalo team the Bulldogs will meet a larger team which will probably be the case in every game they play this season.

Something you can look for in the Buffalo team is they like to throw the ball. They have a passing quarterback and will run from several different formations.

The 9th grade team will play this coming Thursday. So don't miss that game.

On-The-Job Training Program For Tahoka High Students

According to Mr. Harold Reynolds, Superintendent of Schools a new on-the-job training program for high school students will be launched this fall at Tahoka High School. An "Off-Farm Agricultural Occupations" curriculum has been developed by the Teaching Materials Center, Texas A&M University, in cooperation with the vocational agriculture teachers and a state advisory committee in each related agricultural occupation.

This program will give student an opportunity to spend part of their school time in on-the-job training with local agricultural business and industrial firms. Students participating will enroll in regular high school courses, including one period of related agricultural instruction, during which time they will study information related to their on-the-job training. They will spend 15 hours each weekday on the job, learning the skills and management practices involved, under the guidance of a skilled instructor selected from the firm in which the student is working.

This phase of the vocational agriculture program is designed to offer training to all high school students who have an interest in an off-farm agricultural occupation. This training can lead to in-school employment and immediate employment after completion of the high school program, or serve as a background for post-high school study.

A survey conducted recently indicates many ag-related businesses in the Tahoka area. Several of these firms are interested in employing a student trainee. Further information concerning the program may be obtained by contacting Taylor Knight, Voc-Ag Instructor or Clifton Gardner, high school principal.

The Co-op agriculture students and their employers are as follows: Charles Ashbrook - Tatum Bros. Elevator; Tommy Rash - Jim Bob Porterfield farm; Jackie White - Oran Short farm; Arthur Whitley - Tahoka Implement; Rafael Gonzales - Tahoka Co-op Gin; Edwin Pebbworth - Boyd Pebbworth farm.

Lynn Forum For Aged People Sept. 21

Lynn County Forum for people age 55 up will be held Sept. 21 at 2:00 p.m. at Lyntegar meeting room, Tahoka, Texas.

The President has called a White House Conference on Aging. The goal: To bring into being a more realistic and more comprehensive national policy for older Americans.

The Conference will meet in Washington the week of November 28, 1971. It will be a citizens' Conference, preceded by forums, hearings, meetings and other White House Conferences at community and state levels. More than one million Americans will take part in its preparation including:

Older Americans -- and middle-aged Americans facing retirement.

The Providers of Services -- people who work in programs providing direct services for older people.

The Specialists -- people who work in planning, research or teaching or other professional roles in the field of aging.

And other interested and concerned Americans.

The Conference will build on the results of the first White House Conference on Aging a decade ago. The 1961 Conference marked an important and historic beginning at meeting the needs of older people. The 1971 Conference will move forward by charting new goals and new directions for the 1970's.

It will be organized in a different way. Most important will be the involvement of older people. The Conference will turn to them for its first events of 1970: a series of Older Americans White House Forums in communities throughout the nation. The ideas older Americans advance, inspeaking out on their basic human needs and how they see them selves helping to meet these needs, will lead to the recommendations of the Conference in 1971.

The President has asked John B. Martin, his Special Assistant for the Aging, to organize and direct the Conference. Mr. Martin is also the U.S. Commissioner on Aging, the head of the Administration on Aging in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

One in every ten Americans has reached or passed his 65th birthday. In round numbers there are 20,000,000 older Americans in our total population of more than 200,000,000.

The number is growing ... at a net rate of 900 a day, 330,000 a year.

And changing ... By 1971 more than 70 percent of the 65-plus age group will have joined it since the 1961 White House Conference on Aging.

The landmark Conference of 1961 stimulated a new national awareness of older people and their circumstances and needs. In response to its recommendations:

Governments at all levels geared themselves to better meet their obligations to older people.

An Administration on Aging was set up by Congress as a focal point in the Federal Government for older peoples' interests.

Nearly every State now has a State unit on aging.

Thousands of communities have new programs and new opportunities for older people.

More than 50 universities and professional schools train people for work in the field of aging.

Legislation for Medicare and Medicaid was finally approved.

Progress has been real. But 20,000,000 older Americans still face many serious problems. Almost one fourth are poor. Nearly all are trapped in a squeeze on their fixed incomes. And with advancing years they must struggle as well, often in isolation, against multiplying problems in health, housing, employment and their retirement roles and activities.

The same problems also threaten the futures of 42,000,000 middle-aged Americans: more than 18,000,000 men and women, aged 55 to 64, who will be tomorrow's older Americans, and nearly 24,000,000 men and women, aged 45 to 54, who find themselves "old" in the labor market, caught in the conflict between the lengthening of life and the shortening of work careers.

Mrs. J.H. Lambright, Lynn County Coordinator, attended a meeting with Governors Committee of Texas in Austin, Tex. Sept. 1. She received information to hold county forums.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill returned Saturday from Lake City, Colorado, where they spent two months of the summer in that Western Slope mountain resort.

Tahoka Co-op Gins First Bale Of Lynn Co. Cotton

L.P. Perkins of Tahoka brought in the first bale of Lynn County Cotton last Saturday. It hit the scales of Tahoka Co-Op gin about 1:40 p.m. The bale brought 545 pounds of lint from 2240 lbs. of seed cotton and netted Mr. Perkins 50c a lb. plus free ginning and a 100 dollar check from the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce.

The cotton is Dunn 668 and was pulled from approximately seven acres.

The cotton was planted on the 28th day of April about one and one-half miles east of Tahoka.

Mr. Perkins said it was the first time that he had ever had the first bale of cotton in Lynn County.

J.O. Reed, manager of Tahoka Co-op Gin estimated the cotton to be about 1 inch staple.

This was not the first bale of cotton ginned in Lynn County but it was the first bale gathered in Lynn County.

The first bale of cotton ginned on the South Plains was ginned in Tahoka on August 25 and was gathered in Garza County near Post.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By Richard L. Christie

The Great Plains Conservation Program has meant a million dollars to Lynn County. This is a great boost to the economy of the county. It helps everyone in the county in one way or another. The petroleum companies sell a large quantity of products to conservation contractors and service personnel. The repair business is increased as a result of this work. The household goods, rent and utilities used by these people help out the economy. The Soil Conservation Service shared in the Cost of these practices in the amount of $627,404.71.

These cost share items were for 13 different conservation practices. They run from Brush Control on mesquites to Land Leveling for irrigation; Pipelines for irrigation and livestock water along with mechanical practices such as terraces, diversions, water ways, and improving vegetative cover on grass lands. These Great Plains Conservation Program Contracts covered 147,443 acres in Lynn County and were with 264 different producers. These units varied from 40 acres in size to as large as 26,000 acres.

The increase in the economy of Lynn County is felt by all its citizens. We benefit from more production of the land, increased ease of operation and a more stable agricultural outlook as a result of this program. The Soil Conservation Service does not have to promote the program in Lynn County. The people in the program and those that were previously in the program tell their friends and neighbors it is the best thing that has happened to their land.

The greatest benefit that comes from this program is the fact that it prevents erosion and conserves our greatest natural resources, soil and water. If we held every drop of water where it fell in Lynn County we would have enough water to make a productive crop every year. You only need to look to see the benefits of this. Several farmers have said "I would not have had nearly so good a crop this year if it weren't for the conservation I had done in the past."

Linda Huffaker, CHD Agent, Says.....

Spices, that have sparked the flavor of foods for centuries, have outgrown ye old spice shelf as greater interest has developed in them.

Aromatic seeds from around the world have invaded the spice shelf. Poppy, caraway, sesame, anise and fennel, five aromatic seeds, are called baking seeds because they add flavor plus a crunchy texture to bread, cakes and cookies.

Spices provide numerous ways to vary the taste of foods and so contribute to the food budget.

Buttered snap beans take on a new flavor when showered with toasted sesame seeds.

Baked potatoes make a tasty side dish when seasoned with toasted poppy seeds. Scrape the pulp from the potatoes, season and add butter and a little hot milk plus toasted poppy seeds. Put back into the shell and brown in the oven.

Apple pie becomes a second helping tempter when fennel seed is sprinkled over the sliced apples before sealing with the top crust.

Marketing Said Key To Farm Survival

The market is the basis of survival in the "farming game," and many farmers are becoming much more aware that they must pay more attention to the market," Dr. William E. Black, Extension agricultural economist, says. "They are realizing too that agriculture is marked NOT by a scarcity of goods, but rather by a scarcity of markets."

As a result of this realization, some farmers see agriculture gaining more by being oriented outward toward the market, instead of inward toward the commodity, he said. The purpose of agriculture must be to satisfy people, not to produce endless piles of food and fibers, he added.

Dr. Black noted that there are several reasons why marketing is getting much more attention and interest from producers.

"Producers are finding that only through marketing are they able to measure the real worth of their effort," he said. "Gone are the days when the farmer considered his success during a growing season by the fullness of the grainery or barn at the end of the year."

"The real measure of success, now, is how much money was put in the bank and how much of this money was in excess of costs."

Through marketing, farmers are converting from bushels, tons and bales to dollars, Dr. Black said.

There is also no longer a clear delineation between production and marketing as there was in the past, Dr. Black added. Today, marketing and production are entwined into one large complex, and in this complex, marketing controls production rather than production controlling marketing, he said.

"The farmer's most important asset in 1980 will be a market ahead of time for what he is going to produce, and if a man has a market arrangement, he will be more likely to secure necessary finances to farm," Dr. Black said. "Farming is becoming a 'residual activity'. It is something that will be done after obtaining a market and financing."

A third reason is that farmers are realizing that marketing is also a profit generator, he said, adding that marketing is an economic activity just as farming and with higher returns.

"How well a farmer farms determines the amount he will produce, and how well he markets his products determines his income," Dr. Black said. "Money invested in marketing returns three times as much as that invested in farming, so many farmers are investing a little less in the farming enterprise in order to invest a little more in marketing."

Simply, those farmers who obtain money from both farming and marketing are better off than those who earn money from only farming, he said. "As we look down the road, we see more farmers joining together into marketing organizations," Dr. Black said. This type of group action is available to the producer as long as he owns what he produces.

"When he no longer owns what is produced, his only alternative is to become part of a bargaining association in order to get better returns for his labor and capital investments. These, too, will become more prominent."

Chemicals, planes and people were in place for a daybreak start Monday of aerial insecticide applications in the seventh year of the imposing High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program.

Involved this year are 18 spray planes, some 150,000 acres of cotton, several tank cars of bulk malathion and over 100 people including pilots, flag men, monitors and entomologists.

Spraying is to cover weevil infested cotton in parts of 15 counties stretching over 200 miles along the eastern and southern edges of the concentrated cotton production area on the Plains. Counties in the four "units" of the control zone include Briscoe, Borden, Crosby, Dickens, Dawson, Floyd, Garza, Hall, Kent, Lynn, Lubbock, Motley, Howard, Martin, Andrews and Dickens.

The program for six years has successfully prevented weevils from becoming established cotton pests on the Plains by stopping migration from the East and South. Entomologists contend the program has saved High Plains cotton growers up to $30 per acre per year in control costs, quality and yield losses.

Following the proven pattern of past years, spraying in the first two applications is on a five to seven day schedule, using 12 ounces per acre of ultra low volume malathion. These first applications tend to break the weevil's reproductive cycle and greatly reduce populations later in the season.

Additional applications, up to an estimated maximum of six, will be made every 12 days at the rate of 16 ounces per acre to prevent weevils not killed earlier from going into hibernation. This schedule of spraying will continue on all infested cotton until harvest or until cotton is killed by frost or desiccation, thereby destroying the weevil's food supply. It is anticipated that aggregate acreage sprayed will reach near 1,250,000.

The control zone is broken into four units. Spray contracts were let to the low bidder on each of the four. The smallest of the units, at the northern end of the zone, went to Esslinger Spraying Service of Marion, Kansas on a bid of $1.82 per gallon of insecticide applied.

Contract for Units two, three and four were let to D&D Flying Service of Rantoul, Kansas on a low bid of $1.62 per gallon. Both are new contractors in the Plains program and both bids are below contracts let in 1969 at $1.92 and $1.65 respectively.

According to Ed Dean, field service director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization responsible to growers for the program, per-acre cost of each spraying will be in the neighborhood of $1 including insecticide and application. He noted, however, that this cost did not include the cost of surveys, monitoring, mapping and other activities necessary to the program.

The weevil control operation is jointly financed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, cotton producers in the Plains area and the Texas Department of Agriculture. The producer's part is paid in connection with compress receiving charges, this year at the rate of 50 cents per bale. Producer funds, plus varying amounts from the TDA, are matched dollar for dollar by USDA each year.

Dean stated "With favorable weather we have hopes of carrying out a full program this year that will deal another severe blow to weevil populations." He went on to say, "With a little luck this year there is a good chance we can hit the weevil hard enough to reduce the acreage that will need spraying next year."

PCG is the organization that initiated the boll weevil control effort in 1964 and continues to serve as the coordinating agency. Funds for the program, while collected through PCG's Boll Weevil Steering Committee, are completely separate and apart from the operating funds of the producer organization. PCG's regular programs are carried out with money collected through gins at 15 cents per bale.

Governor Smith Supports Tap

The TAP (Texas Agricultural Products) program has the support of Texas' top citizen.

Governor Preston Smith has again affirmed his support by affixing the bright black and green TAP bumper sticker next to his No. 1 license plate on his official state car.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White originated the idea of TAP in November of 1968. The primary goal of the program is to inform Texans of the limitless abundance and high quality of foods and fibers produced within the state. Now nearly two years old, TAP has made great strides in the marketing and promotion of homegrown products. Specific items are chosen for promotion by the Texas Department of Agriculture's marketing division every two months.

MRS. JOHN EDWIN MOFFATT

...NEE JEAN FLIPPIN

Flippin-Moffatt Wedding Today

In a 10 a.m. ceremony Thursday, Sept. 10, Miss Jean Flippin will become the wife of John Edwin Moffatt in her parents' home here.

W.E. Cox Jr., Seminole justice of the peace, will read the vows for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Welch Flippin, Route 5, and the son of Mrs. Bettie R. Patterson, Seminole.

Escorted by her father, the bride will wear a white street-length sheath of satin overlaid with lace. Long full sleeves of mira-mist are accented at the wrist by matching lace.

Near the rolled collar the bride will wear a hand-painted porcelain pin, traditional among brides in Mexico. She found the pin there while spending the summer as Seminole's Rotary Club community ambassador.

Her headpiece will be a satin bow anchoring a lace veil encrusted with seed pearls. She will carry a bouquet of traditional white flowers.

Attending the couple will be Mr. and Mrs. Barney Thompson of Denver City, Mrs. Thompson will wear a sheath of green crepe and carry a bouquet of fall flowers.

nuts will be served. Mrs. Perry Flippin of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride, will register guests.

Assisting in the houseparty will be Mmes. Howard Draper, Grace Dupre, Buel Draper and Fred McGinty, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Leighton Knox.

For a short wedding trip, Mrs. Moffatt will wear a navy blue dress accented with touches of red and white, and the corsage from her bouquet. Navy and red accessories will complete the outfit.

A 1965 graduate of Tahoka High School, she holds degrees from Lubbock Christian College and Harding College. Since September, 1968, she has been editor of the Seminole Sentinel.

This summer she represented the Rotary Club as community ambassador to Mexico. She is in her second year as sweetheart of the Lions Club.

She holds memberships in the Business and Professional Women's Club, Seminole Music Club, Junior Study Club and Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Moffatt, a Seminole High School graduate, is commercial printer for the Seminole Sentinel.

The couple will be at home at 503 SW 13, Seminole.

Short, Too Long, Too Short Again

In 1968 the average staple length of cotton grown on the High Plains was 32.3 thirty-seconds of an inch - the longest in history. In 1969 the average dropped to 31.5 thirty-seconds. And if USDA's estimate of varieties planted in the area this year is correct, there'll be another drop in staple length this year. Generally speaking, shorter staple varieties since 1968 have been gaining ground at the expense of the longer varieties.

Road Improvement In Lynn County

The Texas Highway Commission has approved the expenditure of $379,000.00 for highway safety and betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement in Lynn County during 1971.

District Engineer Oscar L. Crain of Lubbock said that a total of 12.2 miles in Lynn County will be involved in the annual program. Work will be under the supervision of H.M. Ables of Lamesa.

The work is part of the Highway Commission's combined Farm to Market Road Improvement and State Highway Safety and Betterment Program for 1971.

The farm to market road improvement program will cost an estimated $379,000.00 for 12.2 miles of FM roads.

Mr. Crain stated that the proposed improvements play an important role in the Department's continuing highway safety program.

He said that the types of work included in the program includes seal coating, surface widening, base strengthening, and resurfacing and rebuilding of shoulders.

World agricultural production increased about 3 percent in 1968. The rise in the United States was just under 2 percent.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lichey were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Giles of Fort Worth and Mrs. Gladys Holden. Mrs. Giles and Mrs. Holden are Mrs. Lichey's sisters. Saturday the group visited the ladies brother, R.W. McCrary in Denver City.

Bill Griffin, County Agent Says.....

Fields treated with most defoliant, dessicants, insecticides and some herbicides should not be grazed by livestock.

Agricultural chemicals, commonly used as herbicides, insecticides, defoliant and dessicants, are necessary for profit able cotton production in Texas. Some of these chemicals are highly toxic to livestock and animal death can occur when treated fields are grazed.

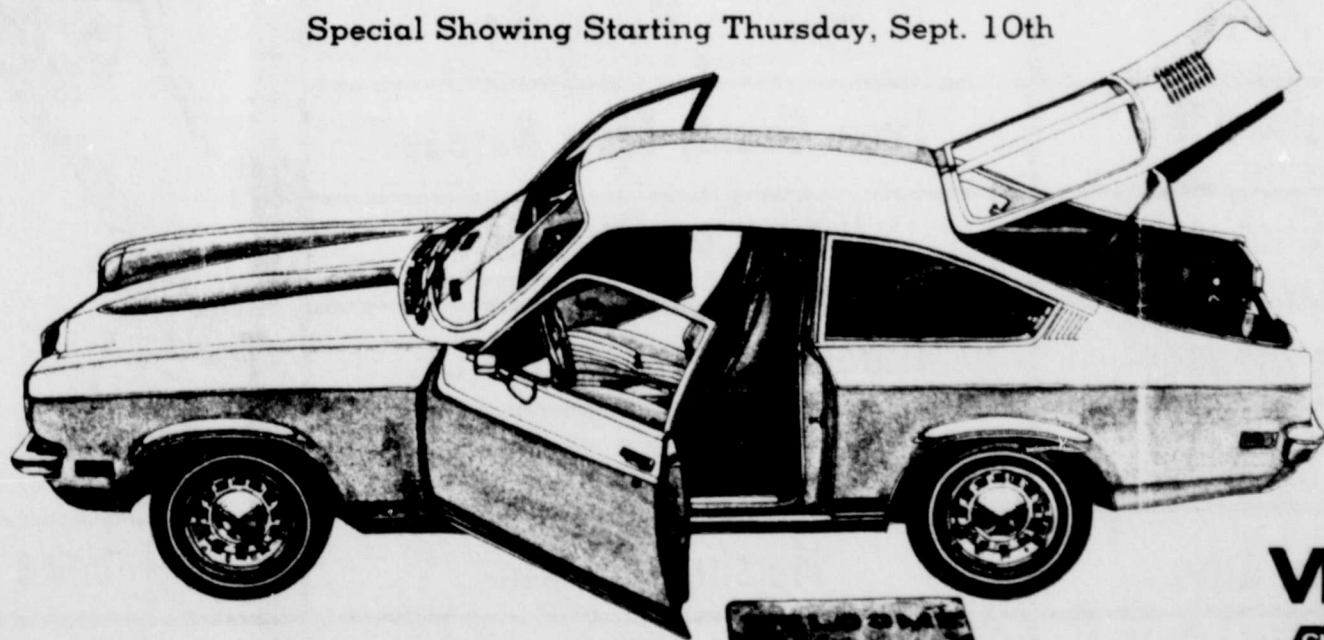

Besides causing direct death to animals, chemical residues from treated fields may contaminate meat or milk and make them subject to seizure under state and federal regulations, advises the county agent.

It is a producers responsibility to adhere to specific restrictions on grazing fields treated with any pesticide or harvest aid chemicals. Follow all label instructions, and if in doubt about grazing restrictions, check with your county agricultural agent before livestock are permitted to graze treated fields.

Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided, of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much? Is it possible to read the Bible too much? The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, example and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag enough, not nearly enough. It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the stars and stripes. Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day of America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home and building? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of cancerous patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best that is in us...for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy. Isn't our flag a synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired? Ladies and gentlemen, I believe it is time for us... for the mad, rushing Twentieth Century American... to stop for a moment and think.

Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so-called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded. Should not every home own and proudly display the colors on holidays and other such occasions? Isn't the flag Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington, Nathan Hale, Gettysburg and Valley Forge, Paul Revere, Jackson and other great men and women who have given us our heritage. When you look at the flag can't you see the Alamo, Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, The Monitor, The Merrimac, Wake Island, and Korea? Lest we forget, isn't the flag Flanders Field, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Babe Ruth and Davy Crockett? The great events of our past and present are wrapped up in our flag. It is a symbol of this blessed nation, a giant in industry, education and commerce. Millions of fertile square miles, wheatlands, coal mines, steel plants. Our great republic, the chosen infant destined to be man's last and remaining hope for suffering humanity, a shining beacon of light, noble and glorious, the haven for the oppressed and persecuted and truly God's gift to mankind.

That is what the flag means to me. Can we wave it too much? I don't think so.

Wouldn't it be great to see the flag flying on the antennas of every car in Lynn County. These are available at Parker Pharmacy, Tahoka Drug, First National Bank and the Youth Center in Tahoka.

Ben Hardy gets results
advertising in the News.
Last week he asked, in a letter, that the person who has his strong box from the Methodist Church
return the same and no questions would be asked. Bro.
went away on a short vacation, and when he returned he found the strong box in its place in his study.
The box contained papers valuable to the owner but of no value to anyone else.
Hardy was certainly tickled over the results from the ad, or whoever or whatever was responsible for the return of the box.

Heck, president of the Rural Electric Co-operation, reports that he and other men have been sign-

Terry, and Garza and hope to have their lines completed this week.
They are now laying special lines on lines which will be within about two miles of the north and to the south and on a line in the vicinity of O'Donnell. However, they yet lack sufficient money to put these lines over.
Many as three consumers per mile are needed to secure a rural electric line. The proposes to build 300 miles of line in the three counties. Sufficient signers are needed.

Short Staple Cotton In Short Supply

"Looks now like the tightest supply situation will exist in the cheaper short staple cottons, as was the case last year," says the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.
"There is virtually no short staple cotton in government stocks or in private hands. But the High Plains, if varieties planted are properly pegged, should produce significantly more cotton stapling below an inch than in either of the past two years."

Farm Bill Races Against Time On Troubled Track

The Federal farm bill is in a race against time. If it can't push across the finish line before about mid-October, Congress will take up the track and go home.

After 18 months of hard running the bill completed the first lap of the race, through the House Ag Committee, on July
22. It stumbled through the full House August 5 and is now on the 3rd leg of the course in the Senate Ag Committee.

The bill literally needs to spring from here on in - through the Senate Committee, the Senate, a House-Senate Conference Committee, another lap around the House and Senate and on to the President's desk.

THE RIGHT KEY FOR LABOR DAY

LABOR DAY 1970

Labor Day marks the end of summer vacations and the beginning—at least psychologically—of a new work year. It's a good time for taking stock of where we are and where we want to go.

Aside from the war in Indochina, the American people seem most concerned about continued inflation, the threat of recession, and what to do about it all.

President Nixon has called for greater productivity as a means of countering both threats. He's created a special commission to make a study of the need for higher productivity and ways to achieve it.

The key, of course, is held by the people who actually do the work. Greater productivity means more goods in the market place; more goods mean lower prices; lower prices mean more sales, more jobs—and eventually—higher wages that aren't inflationary.

But it all must start with a determination on the part of each of us to work harder to produce more efficiently. This Labor Day, 1970, is a made-to-order moment for every jobholder to make this kind of commitment.

FHA Loans Are Available

Loan funds are available from the Farmers Home Administration to build and improve home during calendar year 1970, the Federal agency's county supervisor, Billy H. Stewart, reported today.

These funds, advanced under the Farmers Home Administration rural housing program provided better and more comfortable houses for persons in the rural areas.

"We are attempting to keep housing credit flowing into our small towns despite the tight money situation," FHA County Supervisor Stewart said. "At the same time, we are encouraging builders and developers to step up their efforts to invest in rural America by increasing the number of houses built in rural areas."

Stewart noted that local banks and lending institutions participate in providing loan funds which are insured by the agency. He added that nationally more than 98 percent of individual family rural housing loan funds were provided by private investors.

Farmers Home Administration housing loans are made only to applicants unable to obtain credit from other sources, and who live in communities of not more than 5500 population. The Lynn County office is located in the Federal Land Bank Building in Tahoka.

Visitors attending services last Sunday at the First Baptist Church were: E.W. Frost of Brady, Bob Copeland of El Paso, Belinda and Cindy Howle of Lubbock, Mike Roseberry of Lubbock, Cherie and Cindy Sloan of Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sanders of Tahoka.

Unique Features Spotlight of Extension Center Field Day

This year's field day and open house at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock will offer several unique features, according to County Agricultural Agent Doyle G. Warren. The annual event is slated for Tuesday, September 15 beginning at 1 p.m.

Detailed discussions will be presented on cotton and grain sorghum varieties, weed control, narrow-row cotton and grain sorghum insects. These will be presented on special tours to particular field locations throughout the afternoon. Visitors may select any one or all of these tours.

Also featured will be specialists in various phases of agriculture who will be available for individual consultation. So, agricultural producers, homeowners and gardeners are encouraged to bring their questions on insect, disease and weed control, fertilizer use, irrigation or whatever for the "experts." Warren also encourages them to bring any plant specimens they may have.

A mainstay at the annual event will be general tours to the various field research plots on the Center's 300 acres, all Warren. This tour will give visitors a bird's-eye view of the many phases of agricultural research being conducted.

Displays and exhibits will also be featured for public viewing. These will include plant diseases, vegetable production, soil testing, plant physiology and herbicide use. Other attractions will include a large machinery exhibit, the cotton ginning research laboratory and a research rose garden.

The theme of this year's field day and open house will be "Agricultural Research for '70's."

Warren invites everyone in the county interested in agriculture in the West Texas area to make plans now to attend field day and to spend a pleasant afternoon.

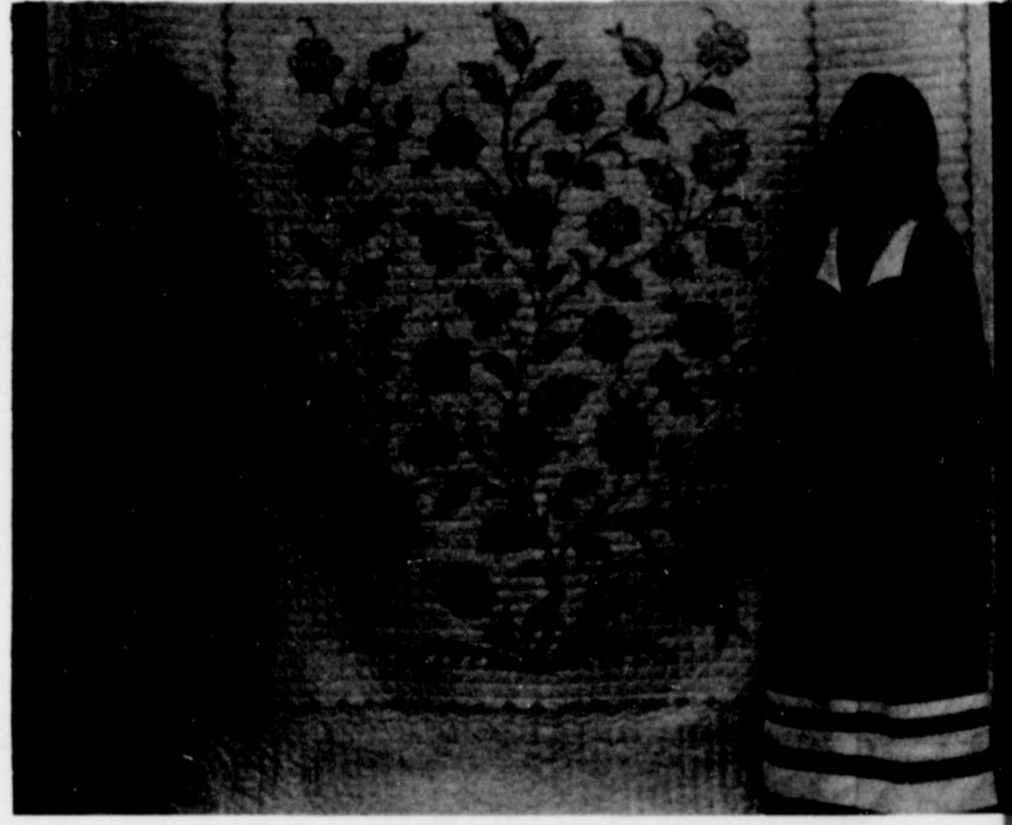

The Center is located about seven and one-half miles west of Lubbock on U.S. 87.

Chemical Named For Spider Mite Control

Preliminary research conducted by the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board shows granular Di-syston to be the most effective control of spider mites. To date, it appears to be the only effective chemical control.

The spider mite has invaded the grain sorghum of the Plains again this summer and is seriously damaging the crop. It is a microscopic insect, that covers the underside of the leaves and sucks the nutrients from it, which sets it up for lodging and a large reduction of yields. A webbing on leaves is an indication of the presence of mites. It also causes a rapid deterioration and browning of the leaves.

Elbert Harp, TGSBP Executive Director, expressed concern about the mite causing severe damage to the area's production this year. Farmers should be aware of its presence.

SEW IT WITH COTTON CONTEST - Lynn County Set It With Cotton contest will be held Sept. 19, in New Home. You may use cotton in bedspreads, sports wear or formal wear, all 100 percent cotton. She will go to Dallas in October to represent Lynn Co. She will model her all cotton wardrobe at the contest. The bedspread in the background was made by Mrs. Gena Adams, which is 100 percent cotton.

Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Top-flight business and industrial executives are getting an invitation to study the administration of state agencies and tell them how to do a better job, hopefully for less money. House Committee on Efficiency and Economy urged Speaker Gus Mutscher to take the initiative in setting up an outside committee of experts.

Proposal actually originated with a Chicago consultant's preliminary review of 12 selected agencies. Consultant called for seven study teams of experts to do in-depth surveys.

Chairman, Rep. Russell Cummings of Houston, said nearly everyone advocates "economy in the abstract," but "seldom is a studied, rational set of specifics advanced as a plan for saving tax dollars."

Committee is under no illusions that additional state spending will not be required as the state grows. "The citizens are entitled to know that every tax dollar is being spent with maximum attention to efficiency and economy," said Cummings. "I feel that most of state government is being operated efficiently, but I am also convinced that additional savings can be pinpointed by experts from private enterprise organizations studying operations within their own expertise."

JUNIOR COLLEGE SHIFT ADVISED - A far-reaching recommendation to discontinue financing junior colleges through local property taxes and turn the job over to the state has been offered by the Texas Research League.

During the next biennium, if this proposal were adopted, local taxpayers would be relieved of $72.9 million. State taxes of that amount would have to be provided. An alternative League recommendation is for the state to pay the operating costs and cost of future construction but to leave existing bonded indebtedness as the obligation of local property taxpayers. This would reduce the local-to-state tax transfer to $56 million, instead of $72.9 million.

League recommends a $200 million bond issue for 1971 and a $200 million issue for 1975 to pay for construction at all state colleges. Community college league claimed should be operated through locally elected regional boards which might supervise several campuses.

League Director James W. McGrew said appropriations for community colleges, which will enroll two out of three freshmen and sophomores in state schools by the end of this decade, should be handled through the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System.

LABOR DAY TOLL WEIGHED - Forty-nine persons will be killed in Texas traffic crashes during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday weekend (September 4-7), Texas Department of Public Safety forecasts.

DPS will undertake activities to hold down holiday tragedies on streets and highways, but noted that drivers themselves have the only real solution.

Most fatal accidents, DPS Director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir states, are due to general carelessness, excessive speed for conditions, failure to yield or stop, drinking drivers or drinking pedestrians. Most of these accidents, records show involved only one vehicle.

Drivers were urged to be alert for developing dangerous situations and to be sure their vehicles are well maintained.

MARCH RECALLED - Mexican-American group leaders announced in advance they plan to issue a Labor Day proclamation "of vast political consequences," on the fourth anniversary of the 1966 minimum wage march.

Ceremonies (dedication of a monument to marchers and issuing the proclamation) will be held in New Braunfels where former Gov. John Connally confronted the 1966 group in a meeting which had long-lasting political repercussions.

Three to five thousand will participate in the September 7 events, a spokesman said. He declined to reveal if the proclamation will be an endorsement of candidates.

APPPOINTMENTS - Gov. Preston Smith has named Joe K. Butler of Houston to the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Smith also announced these appointments:

Texas Turnpike Authority - J. Frank Holt III of Dallas. Nimitz Memorial Naval Museum Commission - W.B. Wetzel Jr. of Sweetwater.

Governor's Advisory Council of Aging - Dr. Chaires Ballard Dryden Jr. of Wichita Falls

Southwest Campaign Coordinator - former Congressman Joe Kilgore of Austin.

South Texas regional consultant's job for the Texas Industrial Commission went to Patrick A. Williams of Houston.

Former Gov. Allan Shivers accepted the honorary chairmanship of a drive to raise $300,000 in funds to assist Texas Warm Spring Foundation Center and Hospital at Gonzales. AIRPORT FUNDS ALLOTTED - Texas Aeronautics Commission allocated $238,000 for airport construction where no federal aid is available.

Three thousand went to repair minor Hurricane Celia damage at Aransas Pass Airport and to install lighting.

These allocations were approved for new airports: $27,500 each for Bastrop, Dell City, Jayton-Kent County and Throckmorton County; $24,000 for Follett and $20,000 to Winnsboro.

For completion of facilities, Commission earmarked $7,500 for Vega, $15,000 for Commerce $14,000 for Rock Springs, $15,000 for San Augustine, $7,500 for Miami, $18,000 for Pleasanton and $4,000 for Nocona.

TAXES EXAMINED - A new committee study notes that Texas state and local taxes have increased 15 times - from $207 million in 1932 to $3.1 billion in 1969.

Property, sales, severance and business taxation make up 93 per cent of the total state and local tax revenue, reports the Committee on State and Local Tax Policy. Yet the other seven per cent amounts to more than $200 million a year (motor vehicle registration fees, inheritance taxes and drivers' licenses).

CITY REPRIMANDED - City of San Antonio drew a sharp reprimand from the Texas Water Quality Board for dumping 12 million gallons of raw sewage into the San Antonio River on August 3 (in anticipation of a heavy rain).

Board sent the matter to the attorney general to determine if a penalty suit should be filed and handed down an order threatening an injunction if the violation ever happens again. Dissatisfied with the city's lack of an emergency corrective plan Board directed its own staff to come up with something to give San Antonians in certain areas relief from overcrowded sewage facilities pending passage of a bond issue for vast new lines.

FUNDS APPROVED - Governor approved a $243,751 Office of Economic Opportunity contract with the Taft Independent School District for an incentive remedial education experiment.
