Heavy Rains Little Help To Crops

Although too late to help crops, heavy rains this week brought smiles to faces of most Lynn County people because there had been almost no rain here in two and a half months.

But when the rain did come Monday, a total of 4.22 inches fell in Tahoka in less than 15 minutes that day, the greatest amount in such a short period since U.S. Weather Bureau records were started here in 1954.

Another .98 inch fell Monday afternoon and night, and a drizzle of .02 Tuesday brought the week's total to 5.22. Total for the year now stands at 11.94 inches.

Since June 30, when a half inch rain came, Tahoka had received only .29 in six little showers during the long hot summer.

Due to an unprecedented 48 inches in March, followed by .20 in April, .81 in May, and .19 in June, farmers managed to get their crops planted and growing.

Due to the deep moisture, dryland cotton and milo survived the drought unscathed well considering the weather.

Some observers are now predicting dryland cotton will make up a half bale average, and that maize will produce 1,000 bushels per acre or more unless wet fall now causes crops to over-ripen.

Lynn County has 100,000 to 80,000 acres of irrigated cotton. The September rain will be a great benefit to pastures and the small acreage of wheat and other small grains. The drought and heavy rain this week brought up questions raised by some citizens concerning previous records.

In checking his records, Frank Hill, local observer for the Weather Bureau, found there have been several times when no rain, or very little fell for three months, particularly the first three months of the years 1950 and 1954.

Long time normal for September in Tahoka is 2.25 inches, but heaviest fall was back in September, 1936, when 13.58 inches fell during the month, over half the year's total of 24.53 inches.

September, 1941, had 6.30 inches, 1942 there was 6.84, and in 1950 there was 5.41 inches.

Hardest rains ever recorded in Tahoka were June 23, 1959, when 1.75 inches fell in 20 minutes, and the May 29-30 flood of 1963 when 3.48 inches fell in one hour and five minutes.

But, Tahoka has missed out on the really big rains that have hit some other parts of the county, including 14 inches which fell in Midway May 2, 1930; the 10 to 12 inches that fell at Draw July 19, 1955 and the 10 to 11 inches in Wilson and New Home areas July 7, 1960; and the flood at Wilson in late May, 1963, when Jearrel Crowson, 23, was drowned when his car was washed off Farm Road 400 at the Tahoka Lake Draw.

Hill told The News he could find no instance in the Weather Bureau records where as much as four inches had ever been measured in Tahoka before in one 24-hour period.

Bulldogs Defeat Stanton 14-7

GARDNER SCORES -- Cliff Gardner is shown here minutes before he scored the final Bulldog touchdown against the Stanton Buffaloes last Friday night. The Buffaloes led most of the game but the Bulldogs pulled it out in the final period for a 14-7 victory.

Play First Home Game Friday

The Tahoka Bulldogs, looking like an entirely different ball club the last half Friday night, came from behind in the last stanza to defeat the Stanton Buffaloes by a score of 14-7.

The Stanton Buffaloes scored their lone touchdown in the second period of play after a bad snap from center caused the Bulldogs to lose the ball on their own 6 yard line. The Buffaloes scored the 6 pointer on a pass play to Don Jones. Stanton's quarter back kicked the extra point to give the Buffaloes a 7-0 lead at half time.

In the third period the Tahoka Bulldog quarterback, Cliff Gardner tossed a 24 yard touchdown strike to Gene Walker who was open. The Bulldogs failed on the pass attempt to get a two-pointer to leave the Bulldogs behind by one point.

Defensive end Gene Walker and nose guard Johnny Martin, playing heads up ball, smashed Buffaloe quarterback David Ray in the end zone in the final period Friday night to give the Bulldogs a one point lead on a safety with six minutes to play.

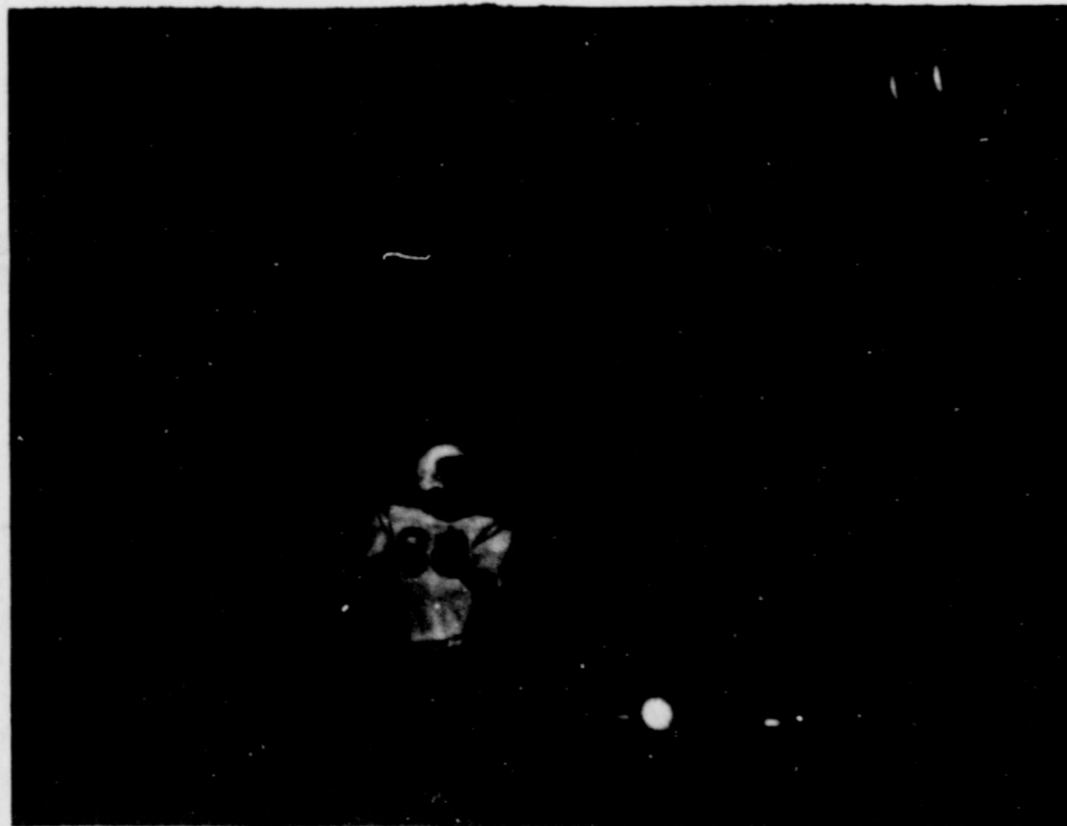

With two minutes left on the clock the Bulldogs clinched the win with another six pointer by Tahoka Bulldog quarterback when he smashed over from the 4 yard line. That was the end of the scoring and the Bulldogs racked up their first win of the season 14-7.

The Bulldogs will play their first home game this Friday night against Crosbyton. Crosbyton will be a tough opponent with spirits running high after defeating Littlefield in their opener last Friday night. They beat Littlefield 18-14 with only 13 seconds showing on the clock.

Here's how other teams on the Bulldog schedule this year fared.

- Frenship 54, LCHS 0
- Denver City 6, Seminole 13
- Roosevelt 29, New Deal 9
- Slaton 13, Brownfield 32
- Post 12, Hale Center 12
- Olton 45, Tulla 12
- Idalou 0, Kress 12
- Floydada 41, Ralls 0

ALL ALONE -- Gene Walker, No. 80, is pictured wide open with the football in the air above just before he catches the ball and scores Tahoka's first touchdown against Stanton. It was a 24 yard touchdown pass from Bulldog quarterback, Cliff Gardner. The pass broke the ice for the Bulldogs and they went on to win the contest 14-7.

6 Six Accidents In Lynn Co. During August

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Lynn County during the month of August, according to Sergeant H.E. Pirtle Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in six persons injured and an estimated property damage of $4,030.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first eight months of 1970 shows a total of 54 accidents resulting in three persons killed, 34 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $45,160.00.

The sergeant reminded all Texas motorists that vehicles bearing red motor vehicle inspection stickers with the large black numeral "9" in the lower left-hand corner of the windshield must be reinspected before midnight, September 30.

All motor vehicles and certain classes of trailers registered in Texas are subject to the mandatory inspection of certain equipment which includes brakes, lighting, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, steering, wheels and rims, exhaust system, exhaust emission system and front seat belts in vehicles where seat belts anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle.

Aging Conference To Be Held

Senior Citizens in Lynn County, as well as those in every other community in the nation, will have an opportunity to speak out on their needs.

During the week of September 20-26, Community White House Conferences on Aging will be held throughout the nation, advises County Home Demonstration Agent Linda Huffaker. The "mini" White House Conferences will take the form of community forums and every Senior Citizen is invited to attend and speak out on their needs. Nationally, more than a million are expected to participate, says the home agent.

These local conferences are basic to the White House Conference on Aging which will be held in Washington, D.C. November 29-December 3, 1971. In the meantime, state conferences will be held to develop the information gathered from the community forums into recommendations or programs for presentation at the national meeting.

In general, the basic needs of older people deal with such areas as income, health, nutrition, housing, transportation, employment and retirement, education, activities and spiritual well-being. The local forums may uncover other needs, the home agent noted.

U.S. Commissioner on Aging, John B. Martin, who also serves as special assistant for aging to President Nixon, will direct the White House Conference. He says the approach being developed will cover a three-year period. The very basic local forums will be held in September 1970, the State and National White House Conferences in 1971 and the plan of action developed in 1972.

The home demonstration agent said that plans developed by the county program building committee call for the forum to be held Sept. 21 at 2:00 p.m. Lyntegar Room Tahoka, Texas.

Every Senior Citizen in the county has a special invitation to attend and speak out on his or her needs or other subjects which are important to them. It's your opportunity to make your voice heard all the way to the National Conference point out the local forum leaders.

Garden Club Luncheon

The Tahoka Garden Club will have a salad luncheon at the Tahoka Community Center, Tuesday, September 22, from 9:30 to 1 p.m. Hostesses will be Mrs. G.H. Hines and Mrs. L.D. Howell.

Stewart, Mrs. Garland Pennington will present the flower show schedule interpretation and Mrs. Roy Appling will present the conservation reminder of the month. Floral Exhibits entitled "September Song" will be shown by Mrs. H.R. Tankersley, Mrs. Oscar Roberts, Mrs. Lucy Brice, Mrs. Robert Abbe and Mrs. J.B. Oliver.

FHA Has Meet

The Tahoka Future Homemakers of America chapter met Wednesday, September 9, 1970 for their first chapter meeting of the year. The theme of this month's meeting was "Promote International Good Will". To carry out this theme Carol Thomas showed slides taken while on a recent trip to Europe and explained some of the customs and ways of the people. Southern Wells and Elda Cruce were in charge of the meeting.

Two Views of 'Patton'

TROY MARTIN in The Canyon News: I saw the movie "Patton" over the weekend. Patton was a motorized Stonewall Jackson with a sense of history. He probably contributed as much to our winning the war in Europe as any other man.

I can feel nothing but disgust for those who criticize him while enjoying the fruits of his efforts. True, he slapped a young man who broke in battle but his iron will and experience probably saved lives of thousands of others. He was Eisenhower's answer to blitzkrieg. He was highly respected by both Jodi and Rommel. His lightning thrust across Europe may well have saved England and even the world from Nazi conquest.

Let the H. M. Baggarlys who criticize Patton chew on this a bit. The Germans were perilously close to perfecting an atom bomb of their own.

Suppose we had let the war in Europe drag out as it could have with politically orientated generals such as Ike and Omar Bradley in charge. Suppose Hitler had gotten his atom bomb.

He had a V-2 rocket for a delivery system and could have annihilated the British Isles and possibly laid waste to the cities of America.

I only wish we had a few more Pattons and McArthur's now. Things might be different. H. M. BAGGARLY in The Tulsa Herald: Ray H. Greene of Gilmer, in a letter to the editor published last week, sort of took issue with us over the Patton movie. He wondered if we had seen "the same movie."

We had likened George Scott, who played the part of Patton, to a combination of Bing Crosby and Will Rogers, a lovable character that tended to make Patton the hero and Eisenhower the villain, that tended to make the point that "the end justifies the means." Greene thought Scott interpreted Patton to be at least marginally related to the mad general he portrayed in "Dr. Strangelove." He saw Patton as a dangerous man with a "latent madness."

The movie has been controversial in this respect. Some reached our conclusion, some the conclusion of Editor Greene.

We would certainly agree that Greene has a point. Back of Scott's veneer of affability, one could easily read madness into his personality.

But Editor Greene forgot one thing. . . he forgot that we saw the movie with an Amarillo audience! And our conclusions were based largely on the reaction of the Amarillo audience. It all but cheered when Patton clashed with his military superiors. It very definitely considered Patton the hero, the audience laughed when Patton slapped the soldier! We suspect that had a vote been taken more Amarilloan; in the audience would have supported Patton than sympathized with the sick soldier.

But what else could we expect in such a rightwing stronghold as Amarillo? We would expect Amarillo. . . and a segment of Canyon. . . to be an apologist for Patton just as we would expect any John Birchler to seize the incident to prove that Eisenhower was a Communist and desired to sell us out to Russia!

Everything that happens in the Texas Panhandle must be evaluated in the context of our political environment.

We Had Something

Editor Bill Thompson of the Paris (Texas) News ran across an item that he thought worth passing on to his readers. Bill doesn't know who wrote it, and neither do I, but I agree that it describes "growing up" pretty much the way it was with those who shared their school days with me. Read on:

"I didn't have a very happy childhood. . . But nobody worried very much about it. I was too busy, I guess - cutting lawns, shoveling snow, running errands, delivering groceries for 10 cents a load, selling newspapers, doing house chores, going to school. I passed my grades, too. If I hadn't, I'd have had the hide strapped off me."

"No one concerned himself about my amusements. What fun we had, we made. But if we did any damage-like breaking a window in a ball game-we paid for it by working it out."

"I don't suppose people understood me; but if I had said so, my mother would have asked: 'Why should they?' And no one ever gave a thought to my 'problems.' They were mine, weren't they? Mine to solve. Why should I expect anyone else to bother?

"We never heard phrases like 'standard of living,' 'subsistence level' or 'minimum requirements.' Our standard of living was whatever my father earned. If my father was laid off, we stopped spending on anything but food and a lot less of that. My dad spent every waking hour looking for work-an any work. We lived on savings and if things became too tight we'd move in with relatives- or the relatives would move in with us. If there had been no relatives, we'd have gone to the only place left- the County Poor House, but that would have been an admission that we couldn't take care of ourselves."

"I guess we didn't have much. But we had something that was infinitely more important; infinitely more rewarding- we had self-respect, because whatever we had, we earned."

"It seems to me that is why America is the strong nation it is today-and it will stay strong only so long as there are enough Americans more interested in earning than getting."

Texas Leads In Breeding Swine Export

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has revealed that not only is Texas No. 1 in exports of breeding cattle but now is also No. 1 in exports of breeding swine. Figures released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture confirm that Texas leads the nation in exporting breeding swine, the Texas Department of Agriculture chief said.

The figures show that 48 percent of U.S. breeding swine exports were provided by Texas producers. Total U.S. exports were 23,724 and Texas provided 11,399 of those. Indiana ranked second with exports of 1,540 head of hogs.

Commissioner White said Texas swine producers deserve considerable credit for achieving a high level of quality in their breeding stock, and he praised swine breeders for the cooperation they have given the Texas Department of Agriculture's Marketing Division in carrying out programs to promote increased sales both domestically and abroad.

The swine industry currently is one of the most rapidly growing segments of Texas agriculture, Commissioner White said, and export sales of breeding swine will stimulate even greater growth.

Mite Control Study Underway At Center

Research entomologists at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock are conducting field tests in three High Plains locations to evaluate control methods for the current Banks grass mite problem in grain sorghum.

During the past two weeks, insecticides were applied to cooperative farmer's grain sorghum fields near McAdoo, New Deal and Springlake, report Experiment Station Entomologists Dr. D. G. Bottrell and J. R. Cate Jr. These locations were selected on the basis of different levels of mite infestations and different stages of grain sorghum maturity.

"We greatly need information on controlling various sizes of mite populations attacking grain sorghum in different stages of growth," says the entomologists. "Previous research indicates that control is probably most beneficial when aimed at heavy mite infestations on plants in the soft dough or earlier stages. However, severe mite infestations on more mature grain sorghum will sometimes kill most of the plant leaves. Farmers have reported that such infestations have caused plant lodging and resulting harvesting difficulties."

Spray insecticides were applied by aircraft to large acreage plots in tests at McAdoo and Springlake. Tests at New Deal consisted of sprays and granular formulations applied to small, four-row plots. Insecticides registered for usage on grain sorghum as well as several non-registered experimental compounds are being evaluated.

"Disulfoton (Di-Systox), carbophenothion (Trithion) diazinon and ethylparathion gave fairly good control at McAdoo with disulfoton giving the most rapid knockdown and longest control," point out Bottrell and Cate. "However, the mite populations at McAdoo were not as heavy as at Springlake. Control data from disulfoton and other materials at the Springlake and New Deal test sites are still incomplete."

The insecticide test plots will be compared to the untreated check plots to determine the degree of control over a period of several weeks. Data on harvest yield, grain test weight and percentage of lodged plants will also be gathered.

Bottrell and Cate believe that the Banks grass mite problem in grain sorghum may be at least partially related to the massive insecticide attack on the greenbug earlier this summer. "Most insecticides used to control greenbugs will kill a high percentage of beneficial insects that probably are valuable in holding the mites in balance. Once these good insects are removed by insecticides, then the mite may increase rapidly to damaging proportions."

Another fear expressed by the entomologists is that the wide usage of insecticides for controlling greenbugs throughout the season will result in the mites' resistance to insecticide.

"If used repeatedly and indiscriminately, those insecticides used to control greenbugs that also control mites could result in a mite population that is highly resistant to the organophosphate insecticides such as disulfoton and parathion. If this should occur over widespread areas, then insecticide control of the mite could become impractical. We therefore feel that the greenbug and mite problem must be attacked logically through expanded research to develop sound pest management practices that take maximum advantage from beneficial insect populations."

Cotton Exports

The USDA reports exports of 269,000 bales during June. This brings the U.S. total to 2,582,000 bales exports for the first 11 months of the 1969-70 marketing year.

United States Department of Agriculture now says to expect this year's exports to match last year's 2.7 million bales.

Farmers in the United States today produce nearly three times as much as in 1930, according to New Holland Division of Sperry Rand.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Just when highway construction in the state is at an all-time high the Texas Highway Commission has cancelled the regular December lettings of highway contracts.

The Commission blames the construction moratorium on the recent setback of part of Texas' apportionment from the Federal Highway Trust Fund. Action came at a time when, because of favorable weather, highway construction was at its highest. For the past two months, lettings for construction completed by Texas Contractors has set new records in dollar volume.

Contractors were paid $42.6 million in July for work completed in July. Payments represented work on 501 contracts in June and 593 contracts in July.

The Federal Aid Highway Act of 1968, as approved by Congress, provides that states should receive $5.4 billion for the 1971 fiscal year from the Highway Trust Fund. Amount allocated, however, was reduced by the Administration, Highway Commission Chairman Dewitt Greer said, to $4.6 billion nationally and resulted in a reduction of the Texas share from $275 million to $2.0 billion - $65 million less than was expected.

Proceeds in the Federal Highway Trust Fund are derived from special taxes levied on motor vehicle users. Fund was set up in 1956 to provide a stable source of revenue for the construction of National System Interstate and De-fense Highways.

Cancellation of the December letting is the first since World War II, Greer said. The Commission Chairman said the reduction has come because of the condition of the finances of the Federal Government has required that it borrow money from the Federal Highway Trust Fund for government operation.

even though the trust fund was established for the specific purpose of building the highways system these revenues, in accordance with agreements made 14 years ago.

HOSPITAL TROUBLES IN TEXAS - State Rep. R.H. "Dick" Cory and House Speaker Gus Mutscher made a trip to Washington seeking better interpretation of recent Social Security regulations which threaten to close 158 of the state's hospitals.

Most are in rural areas and are having extreme difficulty complying with new regulations such as the one requiring them to have registered nurses on duty around the clock. A Texas nursing shortage of 10,000, plus the difficulty of finding nurses willing to live in smaller communities, contribute to the problem.

Hospitals which do not comply with the regulations are in danger of having Medicare payments terminated, which would in turn force them to close their doors. Representative Cory, who is chairman of a special speaker's committee on Texas Health Care, noted that Texas, because of sparse population in wide areas of the state, has 40 percent of the nation's Class 7C hospitals.

Another fear of the committee is that if the small hospitals close their doors many physicians will move away due to lack of hospital facilities.

IMMUNIZATION LEGISLATION UPCOMING - Gov. Preston Smith says he'll ask the 62nd Legislature which convenes in January, to pass legislation requiring immunization against several communicable diseases before a child may enter Texas schools.

Governor Proposes Compulsory immunization against measles, polio, whooping cough, tetanus and ... in the wake of the epidemic in San Antonio ...

protection against diphtheria. Smith said figures available to him for 1968, the latest year for which complete data is available, indicate that Texas has the highest incidence rate in the nation for measles and polio, the second highest for diphtheria and the fourth highest for whooping cough. Tetanus is not an epidemic disease, but a single injection generally immunizes against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS - A non-profit, charitable organization which conducts a driver training program must be licensed to do so by the Texas Department of Public Safety, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin. The exceptions are training or classes conducted by colleges, universities, high schools and junior high schools for regularly enrolled students.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

A county may extend City-County Health Unit services to a city within county boundaries even though the city does not participate in the unit; however the county may contribute only those services normally made available by the county unless the city wishes to join the City-County Health Unit.

Justice of the Peace is not entitled to collect a fee for actions transferred or dismissed without trial from his court.

TIME TO BACK-OFF

SET PRIORITIES NOW

The need for setting priorities in federal spending becomes critical with each roll call in Congress. This warning has been repeated so often, it's in danger of becoming a political cliché rather than the standard practice it should be.

It is obvious in setting priorities that not every spending program is necessary. Some projects must wait for more favorable times. Others must be cut back.

To do this, we must insist on maximum efforts on the part of the Administration and Congress to:

- Stay within budget requests or find other areas of saving when this cannot be done;
- Phase out doubtful and outmoded programs;
- Resist making commitments for future spending until the fiscal situation has improved.

House actions to July 9, 1970 on all spending bills have exceeded the President's budget authority requests for fiscal 1971 by $7,486,977,000.

On the Senate side, similar actions through the same date have exceeded the President's requests by $4,335,950,000.

It is time someone starting worrying about the taxpayers who have to come across with these vast billions. The spending spree has got to stop if inflation is ever going to be controllable.

LEARN TO BE A SMART CONSUMER

NEW YORK—Buying a used (or new) car?

- Need a good doctor? Lawyer?
- Buying something on credit?
- Need a loan?
- Had a death in the family?
- Want good, reasonable insurance coverage?
- Know what to do if you get arrested?
- Know how to read a contract (including the small print)?
- Ever deal with a sharp salesman?
- Know what to look for in advertising and labeling claims (including the small print)?

Tomorrow's consumers will know the answers to these and similar questions, and will be much wiser shoppers, when a new consumer education program is introduced to schools this summer and fall.

Modern Consumer Education covers 39 different consumer areas with self-instructional texts, filmstrips and tapes. It is designed as a complete consumer education course, or it can fit into existing home economics, social studies, business education and other high school programs.

The course, developed over the past three years by experts in various fields, was extensively use-tested in the Job Corps and is being acquired right now by schools from the largest publicly-held encyclopedia and educational materials publisher in the world—Grolier, Inc.—which publishes Encyclopedia Americana; The New Book of Knowledge; Encyclopedia International; The World's Great Classics; and other fine sets and reference texts.

"Too often today, consumerism is concerned with locking the barn door after the horse has already escaped," says Theodore Waller, President of Grolier Educational Corporation, 845 Third Ave., New York (10022), which, with Educational Design, Inc., recently developed and is now marketing the widely-hailed Modern Consumer Education program.

"Consumers who already have good buying habits have little to fear in the marketplace. Unfortunately, their good habits often were learned the hard way. The object of this Modern Consumer Education program is to teach people sound consumer buying habits while they are young, before they become adult shoppers. The program is extremely valuable for adult education courses, too," Mr. Waller said.

The First Stars And Stripes

The Stars and Stripes, whose birthday we observe on June 14th, was the first flag authorized by the Continental Congress. On that date in 1777, they resolved: "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

It is said that the committee consisting of General Washington, Robert Morris and Colonel Ross, called on Betsy Ross, Widow of John Ross, who kept an upholsterer's shop on Arch Street, Philadelphia, and asked her if she would make a flag after the design they showed her. She agreed to, but suggested that the stars be five pointed - the French rule, rather than six pointed - the English rule. Her suggestion was accepted.

It is claimed that the first using of the stars and stripes in actual military service was at Fort Stanwix, renamed Fort Schuyler, when it was besieged by the English and Indians.

This flag cheered the patriots at Valley Forge the next winter, it waved at Yorktown, and shared in the rejoicings at the close of the war.

In 1789, when Washington took the presidential chair for the first term, he is reputed to have described its symbolism as follows: "We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

Let's fly our Stars and Stripes proudly. If you want one for your home, it will be delivered

Bill Griffin, County Agent Says.....

Green bolls belong in the fields and not in cotton trailers heading for the gin. As harvesting begins in Lynn County, farmers should be on the lookout for green bolls mixed with high quality cotton because lower returns are almost always the result. Green bolls add nothing to cotton quality and very little to total weight. They distribute green fibers among mature fibers in the bale and cause a reduction in uniformity of the product which is so important to spinners.

The immature bolls that are not removed, are often chopped apart and the wet fibers are mixed with the mature fibers. Some of these "green" fibers are later thrown out by the extracting saws in a lint cleaner, but not before they have done their damage to the high quality lint.

Producers should always be sure that the condition of the crop is at its peak at harvesting time. Overall maturity and humidity conditions in the field should be closely checked.

The green boll separators on the stripper should be adjusted to remove as many rejects as possible. The modern high efficiency vertical type boll units will do the job nearly 100 percent if properly adjusted.

If, under conditions which can't be avoided, green bolls are included in the stripping operation, the ginner should be notified at the time the cotton arrived at the gin. The modern gin is equipped with machines to remove green leaves, green bolls, sticks, stems, dust and trash, but it can do the job better if the ginner can be adjusted for the extra load.

Interest in defoliation and desiccants has increased. Producers should wait until the cotton is 90 percent open when desiccants are applied.

Mr. John Fulford remains a patient in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock.

Mrs. Inez Hamilton of Star City, Ark. is visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Chandler and family.

More Than Dollars Are Needed

We have come a long way since the little Red School House was the universal seat of learning. We spend billions of dollars on schools and equipment... modern buildings in park-like surroundings...for teachers bedecked with high-sounding, impressive degrees...for school psychologists, counselors, nurses and other professional aides.

With only 6 per cent of the world's population and about one-third of its developed resources, we Americans now invest annually in education almost as much as all other nations combined.

In the past two decades, public school enrollment nearly doubled but the number of school employees tripled and financial support (in constant dollars) increased 350 per cent. Yet many educators, bemoaning the plight of today's schools, claim lack of money is the root of the problem.

But do vast expenditures alone automatically guarantee a good education for our children? In a recent speech, Roger A. Freeman, a special assistant to President Nixon, cited evidence to the contrary. He quoted a survey by James S. Coleman of Johns Hopkins University which found that "the physical and economic resources going into a school had very little relationship to the achievements coming out of it."

A detailed study of New York City schools showed reading and arithmetic achievement in some high-expenditure schools as well below that in schools with the lowest expenditures. The survey found little relationship between student achievement and such factors as class size, condition of buildings, teacher experience.

The school must provide a good education for the child. Just spending billions of taxpayers' money is no adequate substitute for tangible achievements. We must resolve to find the answer without sacrificing our children to the experimentalists but rather by assuring them a sound education.

As Mr. Freeman points out, the belief in the educational magic of the dollar dies hard, particularly in legislative halls. It's up to citizens everywhere to demand more education for the dollar rather than more dollars for education.

Mustangs Stomp Bulldogs 40-6

The Wilson Mustangs stomped the Anton Bulldogs 40-6 last Friday night. Bednarz failed to score but led the Mustangs with 248 yards rushing, primarily on runs of 53 and 59 yards. Woody Follis gained 111 yards on the ground.

The first score for the Mustangs was Mike Loslands 30-yard interception and runback. Then Follis scored on an 8 yard run. Both attempts at point-after conversions failed. Follis hit paydirt again with a three-yard dive. Quarterback David Wied scored on a 15-yard run and John Fields added the extra points. Mustang half-back Gregg Wied ran eight yards for another TD, but the Pat failed.

Anton's lone score came on a 99-yard run by Bulldog defensive end Bill Walthall, who wrestled the ball away from Mustang quarterback Wied and put the visitors on the scoreboard.

Darrow Talkmitt scored the final tally for Wilson on a three-yard plunge, then Fields passed to Phil Kitten for the PAT.

Defensive standouts for the Mustangs were Danny Crowson, linebacker and Richard Savell, tackle.

Past Days In Lynn County

Copied from Sept. 11, 1936

Coach Prentice Walker has a nice bunch of candidates for the 1936 Bulldog football team working out each afternoon in preparation for the first game of the season, which is at Littlefield Friday night of next week.

With only a few of last year's first string on hand, the coach is grooming several of last year's first string on hand, the year's second string and a number of new men from the rural schools for positions on the team. The squad is a little light, but Walker will no doubt put a fast and smart eleven on the field.

Prospects took a setback Wednesday when it was learned that co-captain Delton Pemberton and F.E. Redwine were suffering from attacks of appendicitis. The other co-captains Sam Garrard, has been declared eligible for play this year.

A five room house on the Truett Smith farm in the Magnolia community, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeMond, was totally destroyed by fire Sunday. All the household goods except two beds and some clothing were also destroyed.

Mr. LeMond says that the fire evidently resulted from an oil stove explosion. His wife had just turned out the fire in the oil stove, and they had gone to the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Edwards, who live near by, when they discovered their residence to be enveloped in flames. Mr. LeMond says that they had not been gone more than five minutes.

Mr. Smith carried some insurance on the house but the LeMonds had no insurance on the furniture. Neighbors and friends generously contributed to them in order to make the minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards were preparing to leave for a few days to visit the Texas Centennial and the LeMonds were to look after the home in their absence. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards did go to the Centennial a little later.

Jim Cloe and Reed Parker brought to the News office last Saturday a turtle which had evidently been captured once before, branded and turned loose again to roam at large in the wide open spaces. He probably hadn't wandered far, however, from his ancestral home, for he bore on his back the initial letters of two former Tahoka boys, who resided in the vicinity where this harmless hard-shell pilgrim was found.

To make a long story short, the boys picked this turtle near Central Ward school building. On his back, had been carved apparently with a pocket knife the figures 1921, which was presumably the date of his former captivity. Above the figures were the letters, F.D.R. and below them the letters, J.T.J. Jim and Reed surmised that these letters were the initials of F.D. Richardson and J.T. Johnson.

The boys were getting much kick out of their capture. They were thinking of trying to match a race between this plodding animal and the first jack rabbit they might be able to capture, in order to try to determine whether there was anything to that old story about the tortoise winning the race against the hare.

Announcement was made early this week that D.W. Gaignat had accepted the agency for the sale of Plymouth and Dodge cars here, and the former Brashear building just across Main Street west of the D.W. Gaignat Hardware store is being remodeled for the use of the new dealer as a show room and workshop. Leroy Knight of this city, an experienced car salesman, will have active charge of the business. An expert mechanic will be retained to run the shop.

Messrs. Gaignat and Knight expect to have the building ready to occupy by Saturday.

While wielding a fly-swatter last Sunday morning, Mrs. A.A. Thomas, 84, mother of A.I. Clifford, and Otho Thomas, fell and broke her hip. The accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Thomas where she has been residing.

She was taken to Lubbock and placed in the Lubbock Sanitarium, where the injury is being treated, and it is said that she is improving very satisfactorily.

Her many friends here deeply regret this most unfortunate accident.

The Resettlement office is now open for business every day except Sunday, according to Geo. C. Jones, who has been transferred to Tahoka from the Lubbock office. Mr. Jones is now in charge of the office here.

The Resettlement office is located on the second floor of the courthouse.

A traffic light in Tahoka is an innovation, but it came none too soon.

The city council this week had traffic lights installed at the intersection of the two highways near the northern limits of the business section of the town. New stop signs have also been placed at other street intersections.

Every person hereafter detected in violating the stop signal regulations will be fined $1.

Reckless drivers will be fined from $5.00 to $25.00. City Marshal Milt Finch has been instructed to enforce these regulations. All law-abiding citizens will cooperate and strictly comply with these regulations.

The Wilson H.D. Club met at the home of Mrs. J.E. Richardson September 24. Due to the weather there was no program. Mrs. M.C. Brandon gave a detailed report of her trip to the Short course at A&M College.

"I enjoyed every minute of the trip," said Mrs. Brandon. "I think anyone should consider it a privilege to make the trip. The lectures were intensely interesting."

Members present: Mrs. Howard Cook, Mrs. M.S. Scaer, Mrs. P.D. Server, Mrs. J.F. Covey, Mrs. J.W. Wilson, Mrs. M.C. Brandon, Mrs. J.E. Richardson, and Mrs. S.G. Anthony.

The children of the sixth and seventh grades have organized an English Club. It will meet every Friday. The officers are: Johnnie Rainold, president; Aubrey Roper, vice president; Vernon Roper, secretary; Robert Warren, sergeant-at-arms.

Kahlch shared the rostrum with Dr. Davis Armistead of Lubbock, featured speaker for the noon luncheon.

Governor Kahlch spoke on Lions International, Lionism and Americanism.

Dr. Armistead presented the second half of the program and told of his trip to Russia with a delegation of Doctors and their wives. He provided an excellent colorful slides taken around the Kremlin.

Dr. Armistead brought out some interesting facts about Russia in his lecture. First

The Lion's Line

It's a brand new contest for the Lion Clubs of District 2-T-2. September 1st marked the opening day of the contest between clubs for the coveted Governor's Trophy.

The award is based on a point system and different Lion activities merit different point totals. Visitation is an important part of the contest and the local club has already visited a number of neighboring clubs since the 1st of September. The Tahoka Club won third place in the contest for the 1969-70 term.

The Local Club welcomed a visiting delegation of Lions from the Wilson Club, Wednesday, September 9, including District 2-T-2 Governor Roy L. Kahlch.

Men interested in becoming Lions or visiting the club are welcome at the noon luncheon meetings held each Wednesday at Tahoka Cafeteria. Gale Hartman is president of the local club.

Phil Adams, a football player for A&M, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Adams of Tahoka, recently suffered a knee injury during work-outs. Phil will be unable to play for the rest of the season.

Dedication ceremonies at Girlstown, near Whiteface, of a recently completed lighting project will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19.

The Caprock District of the Texas Federation of Women's Club and Pioneer Natural Gas Company sponsored a project to eliminate an inadequate lighting problem which previously existed on the campus.

The plan dubbed "Lighting Of The Avenue of Opportunity," entailed the installation of 62 gas lights situated on both sides of the lane from the highway to the campus and around the campus proper.

Contributions from clubs, individuals and families made the project a success, according to Marshall W. Cooper, executive director.

Phebe K. Warner Club and Tahoka Junior Women's Club jointly gave a gas light. Many members of both organizations plan to attend the dedication ceremony.

conscience.--My conscience, always speaks up when I violate the "Right" principles, or practice the "Wrong" principles.

IF I AM to be content with myself, I must recognize, also, that I am human and have many limitations.--If I am fair-minded about the matter I will understand that I will have to make allowance for myself. No man can be happy and live in self-denial.

Yet, I must know that I am making "allowances" and not excuses! A "good conscience" demands that I do my best!

I DO NOT HAVE the same talents and abilities as my fellow man. I should be able to recognize and understand this knowing, also, that I may have some of these gifts that THEY don't have.

We are INDIVIDUALS, not prototypes! If I am to be happy I must be happy with my fellow man. And to be happy with my fellow man, I must understand that the above, is true.

When I recognize this, I can make the proper allowances for my brother, also. We know that the "hypocritical man is miserable, indeed." He has no tolerance, either, for himself, or others.

GREED IS A ROBBER of happiness and a canker to the soul. The word miserable is a form of the word "Miser". Miserable indeed, is the miser!

NO GREEDY PERSON can be happy.--Envy and pride are a part of their makeup. Along with jealousy, greed comes from a sense of insecurity.--(The generous people are the happy people.--The grasping and tight-fisted decay in the stench of their own pollution). And insecurity breeds fear, and the fearful are not happy.

Since I only have one life to live, I want it to be a full life, and to be full, I must have friends.--The only way this is possible is to be a friend, myself. No one likes to face life alone, and I need to make friends with God and man.

THERE'S NOTHING so heart-warming as the genuine handshake of friendship, nor as gratifying as the assurance of a clear conscience toward God.--To have one is good. To have both is riches beyond value!

The person that has these will never be lonely.--Can you imagine the loneliness of one facing death without either???

TO HAVE FRIENDS, I will have to be honest.--No one loves a dishonest person. Liars, gossips, and cheats are usually avoided by all, except their own kind, and their own kind don't trust them!--What's a "friend" without trust???

In order to have a "good conscience" toward God, I'll have to live according to His teaching.

The Apostle said: "Godliness with contentment, is great gain." We can't have one without the other! The lawbreakers are afraid.

NOW, IF I CAN round out my life to fit the above specifications, my life can't help but be fruitful. And a life worth living, along with Hope in the Hereafter!

So-o-o, IF I HAD BUT ONE LIFE, would it be wise to make it a good one???

Kelly J. Barnes Services Held

Kelly was born in Lamesa April 2, 1952, and had lived in Lynn County all his life. He attended O'Donnell High School of which he was a sophomore and a member of the Future Farmers of America chapter.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Barnes of Rt. 2, O'Donnell; a sister, Mrs. Douglas Mires of Lubbock; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Van McKee of O'Donnell and Mrs. Mary Barnes of Lubbock.

Palbearers were Billy Barnes, Ronnie Barnes, Mike Barnes, Jerry Dee Franklin, Tony Jordan and Jackie Stidham. Honorary palbearers were Andy Jordan, Laleon Jordan, Gene Cantwell, Ardis Pace, James Reed and Leonard Mires.

Dedication ceremonies at Girlstown, near Whiteface, of a recently completed lighting project will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19.

The Caprock District of the Texas Federation of Women's Club and Pioneer Natural Gas Company sponsored a project to eliminate an inadequate lighting problem which previously existed on the campus.

The plan dubbed "Lighting Of The Avenue of Opportunity," entailed the installation of 62 gas lights situated on both sides of the lane from the highway to the campus and around the campus proper.

Contributions from clubs, individuals and families made the project a success, according to Marshall W. Cooper, executive director.

Phebe K. Warner Club and Tahoka Junior Women's Club jointly gave a gas light. Many members of both organizations plan to attend the dedication ceremony.

The annual meeting of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has been set for 9:30 a.m. September 29 in the Municipal Auditorium on the Texas Tech campus.

According to Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President, speakers for the two hour morning program will include J. Duker Wooters, newly appointed General Manager of Cotton Producers Institute and Charles G. Scruggs, Editor of Progressive Farmer magazine and chairman of the Texas Legislature's Interim study committee on natural fibers and textile development.

The program calls for adjournment of the PCG meeting at 11:30 a.m. to permit those interested to attend a Cotton Producers Institute presentation scheduled for noon in the Red Raider Convention Center.

A separate luncheon program is being planned for the ladies, with details to be announced later, Johnson said.

The first application of low volume malathion in the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program was successfully completed on Friday, September 4. And according to Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the organization responsible to producers for the program, "this is an excellent start."

Dean said "It rained August 31, the first scheduled day of spraying, but after that the weather cooperated beautifully and spray planes flew with only minor interruptions for the next four days." The first dose of weevil-killing insecticide this year covered just under 100,000 acres, about a third less than was covered by the first application in 1969.

"Extensive surveying this year discovered fewer infested acres than were found last year," Dean explained. He cautioned however that it is impossible to tell at this stage to what extent the control zone may have to be enlarged as the season progresses. "But," he said, "we know from past experience that additional infestations will crop up and the control base will have to be broadened."

In 1969 it became necessary to add over 50,000 acres to the control area that was sprayed in the first application.

Weather permitting, program officials hope to begin aerial spraying again on September 7 in order to complete the second application on approximately the same acreage by September 11. These first two rapid-fire shots are designed to reduce populations and either stop or reduce migration by breaking the weevil's reproductive cycle. Subsequent applications, on a 12 day schedule, will continue until the end of the season to kill remaining weevils before they can attain "diapause," the stage in which they hibernate through the winter.

HAPPY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

IF I HAD BUT one life to live, I would want it to be the best, fullest, and happiest life that one could have.--It would, of necessity, be a life of self-satisfaction. It would, of course, need to be a fruitful life--and honest.

When you stop and think of all the things that go into life and all the things of which life is made, the business of LIVING, indeed, becomes quite involved.

SAD, INDEED is the obituary of one who has never lived!--One that has only experienced the bitterness and disappointments that the living dead make of their existence.--So many times we hear the sad words of some aged person when they say: "If I, only, had my life to live over!"

I, myself, find it hard to realize that "I shall not, again, pass this way."--It becomes quite depressing to know that one, and only one, life upon this earth is mine. And that the sands of time are, swiftly, running out!

I FIND THEN, that the need to know the business of living becomes of utmost importance. And, to live successfully, I need to know the rules, and the ingredients that go into LIFE!

Happiness, I believe, would rank number one.

Happiness defined, means: "Contentedness, along with actual pleasure."

THE NUMBER ONE question, then: "CAN I CAUSE MYSELF TO BE HAPPY?" The first requirement, we have found, is to be in a state of contentment.

The great Apostle of long ago wrote: "I have learned that whatever my state, therein to be content." This statement is paraphrased somewhat, but, nevertheless contains one of the basic and necessary requirements for happiness.

A CARDINAL RULE of contentment is to be content with self.--If I am not content with myself, the battle is lost, already. Because the person with whom I am in constant contact causes displeasure.--My first question, then: "Am I the kind of person I like to associate with?"--If the answer is negative, then I have homework to do.

None of us likes a liar, a hypocrite, a cheat, a bigot, or snob, a weakling, a two-faced person, a miser, a busy-body, or a greedy person.

If I fit in one or more of the above categories, my work is cut out for me.--It will be necessary for me to become the kind of person that I admire.--I should remember, also, that I can mislead nearly everyone except God, and myself!

IF I AM to be content, I must live in good conscience. No man can be happy if his conscience is constantly accusing him.--In delving into this fact I find another facet. I can forgive others more quickly than I can forgive myself.--My number one target in this matter is to so live that my conscience has no reason to condemn me!

I MUST RECOGNIZE that my conscience is a product of my moral education.--The good and bad, the right and wrong that I have learned are the controlling factors of my Natural gas is the healthiest, most economical way to heat your house this winter. Gas is economical because it's the direct way to produce heat -- you don't pay to convert heat to another energy source and then back to heat. And with gas you can afford to bring clean outside air into your home this winter instead of having to re-heat the same old stale air time after time.

So, if you're building or remodeling, be sure to specify gas heating. Gas is the "natural" fuel. It's like buying direct from the manufacturer. Call your heating contractor, plumber, or Pioneer Natural Gas.

in oats. Blend together eggs, shortening and bananas; add to dry ingredients, stirring until just combined; add blueberries stir just enough to distribute them evenly throughout batter.
 Pour batter into greased and floured 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inch loaf pan. Bake in preheated moderate oven 350 degrees F., about 60 minutes. Let cool 10 minutes; remove from pan and cool completely. Wrap cooled bread and store 1 day before slicing. Make 1 loaf.
 "Set the table!" is a familiar ring in many households, often accompanied by a host of "oh no's" and "not again's" by not-too-eager kitchen volunteers.
 But setting the table doesn't have to be a dull chore. Young girls will find it more exciting to set the table if they have an opportunity to express some creativity.
 Color-coordinated table settings are available in many popular colors and at reasonable prices. Flowers in the yard, houseplants or fruit arrangements also brighten the table at meal time.
 Too tired to bother after working all day? You may be surprised how an attractive table will lift your spirits.
 Automobile accidents are one of the greatest causes of death and injury to youngsters under five.
 Many parents allow children to ride in the family car without proper protection. When a parent holds a small child in his lap or arms and a quick stop or collision occurs, the child may be thrown against the car dash or even out of the car.
 The safest place for an infant is in a carefully constructed and securely fastened car bed in the back seat.
 For children weighing under 50 pounds, a child safety seat or harness provides protection. Harness should strap around the child's chest to keep him from lurching forward.
 Children weighing more than 50 pounds may be able to wear a standard seat belt.
 Take a few seconds more to protect your child and while you're at it; buckle yourself for protection.
