BY JOHNNY VALENTINE

The Country Editor says if taxes go much higher a guy will have to work like a dog to live like one.

After a summer of speculation we are very enthused about the 1970 Tahoka Bulldog Grid-ers. Coach A.J. Viertel has really brought the team around and if you attend the games you know just what we're talking about. The team moves the ball on offense and scores and the defense has allowed very little yardage. If you haven't been to the games you should go out and see them. The team should get even better as the season progresses.

It was confirmed late Tuesday that the dreaded Bubonic Plague has ravaged the rodent and animal life in a 100 square mile area in Gaines County. Dr. Bill McCollough warned farmers to stay out of the fields near the Cedar Lake area south of the Andrews County line. Plague is carried by a flea which is usually found on rodents or dogs. In Gaines County the 13 prairie dog colonies have been besieged with plague, and the population of the animals has almost completely decreased.

Rabbits have also been hit hard in the area, as have other types of wild life including rats, field mice, and coyotes.

Dr. McCollough said the carriers of the plague are fleas which infect rodents or other animals which they contact.

The Black Death of the Middle Ages is believed to have been Bubonic Plague. It claimed the lives of half of the population of the world and ran rampant for over 100 years.

The public health department says that if four per cent of fleas carried by rodents are the type which carry Bubonic Plague that it has reached the danger point. In Gaines County it has been revealed that 23 per cent of the flea population in the 100 mile area are infected with plague.

Dr. McCollough issued a stern warning concerning dogs being taken into the fields in the area. He said this must not be done, because the risk would be great.

The Seagraves M.D. said he favored the complete area Tuesday with Commissioner Travis Bradley, and is issuing the warning in the public interest. The Health Department and U.S. Department of Public Health are aware of the situation. The last epidemic of plague in the rodent population was in 1947 according to Dr. McCollough.

Demonstrations Will Be Given On Cottonseed

There are very few news releases today that do not mention hunger, food, or malnutrition. Texas was included in a survey on malnutrition and it was found that rickets, scurvy, goiter, night blindness, and wide spread tooth decay are all prevalent.

Man is much more discriminating in feeding his animals than feeding himself or his family, even all dog food rations are nutritionally balanced. It is estimated that 10,000 people starve to death every day.

How does this relate to cottonseed? Cottonseed protein, although, still not known as a human protein supplement could play an important role in overcoming the deficit in needed quality and quantity of protein existing in the world today.

Cotton breeders have developed a glandless cottonseed which can be used for human consumption rendering more protein than traditional products. It will be further into the 70's before glandless seed are available to all cotton growers in all varieties which they have been planting. Cotton breeders are confident that lint yield will hold up and that insect infestation will not increase.

If cotton breeders fail to push the glandless cottonseed, we will begin to see chemical plants built in order to degosypolize traditional cottonseed.

Plains Co-op Oil Mill at Lubbock will soon have such a plant to produce an edible inexpensive cottonseed flour and concentrate made from degosypolized cottonseed. These products can be used in baked products such as cookies, bread cakes, etc. Not only are these products palatable but offer a higher protein content than the same products made with wheat flour.

Surely, there is a future for cottonseed protein in food for human consumption.

Demonstrations will be given on the use of cottonseed flour in the month of October by your County Home Demonstration Agent. Call Linda Hufaker 998-4650 for more information.

Mr. and Mrs. Skip Taylor returned recently from visiting in San Antonio with Mrs. Taylor's mother and sisters, Mrs. A. Meador, Mrs. Jimmy Harris, Mrs. Evelyn O'Keefe and Frances Porter.

Host Olton Friday

The Tahoka Bulldogs, with spirits running high, downed the Crosbyton Chiefs in their second straight victory of the season here last Friday night, 19-8.

The first score of the night came from the Tahoka Bulldog eleven as the Tahoka gridders capitalized on Chief mistakes all night. Tailback Robert Montemayor started the scoring when he sliced around right end for 21 yards and a six-pointer. Fullback Larry Durham kicked the conversion to give the Big Blue team a 7-0 lead.

The Chiefs scored next on a safety when the ball was centered over Tahoka Punter Reggie Stark's head and he was tackled in the end zone.

The Chiefs went to the dressing room at the half with a one point lead after a Tahoka punter fumbled. On the very first play Chief halfback Bobby Williams went around right end 17 yards for a touchdown. PAT attempt failed leaving a half-time score of Crosbyton 8, Tahoka 7. No scores were recorded in the second quarter.

Even though the Bulldogs led at the half the Bulldogs, as they did in their first game against Stanton, looked like a completely different team in the second half holding the Chiefs to no score after the first quarter.

The next Bulldog score came after Chief fumble was recovered on their 25. Tahoka Bulldog Quarterback Cliff Gardner then tossed a 18 yard bomb to Gene Walker that wound up on the 7 yard line. Robert Montemayor then received the call around right and scored from the seven. Conversion by a pass attempt failed to get the Bulldogs a 2-pointer leaving a third quarter score of 13-8 with the Bulldogs out in the lead.

Scoring of the Bulldogs in the third quarter came after Danny Martinez covered a Chief fumble on the 2 yard line. Capitalizing on another Chief mistake the Bulldog Fullback Larry Durham blasted over from 2 yards out. PAT failed giving Big Blue a 19-8 victory.

Tahoka will host Olton this Friday night at 8 p.m. Olton, according to all indications, has a very fine ball club this year. In their opener of the season they defeated Tulsa 45-12 and last Friday night they defeated Muleshoe 21-14.

With the Bulldog defense being very tough so far this season and the offense able to score the Bulldogs should give Olton a good tussle.

Junior High School Football

Thurs., Sept. 14, Tahoka Jr. High Bulldogs beat Crosbyton, 22-12. Scoring for Tahoka were Joe Lara, Dennie Johnston and Roosevelt Moore. Making the extra points were Sammy Jasso and Moore.

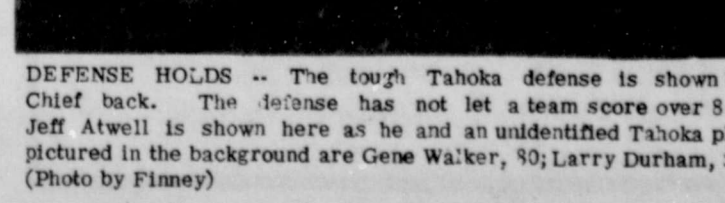

The seventh grade also played Crosbyton last Thursday with a 6-6 tie ballgame. Scoring for the Bulldogs was R.C. Calderon.

The eighth grade Bulldogs downed Brownfield 34-0, Tuesday, Sept. 22, at Brownfield. Making TD's were Roosevelt Moore - 2, Jerry Owen, Sammy Jasso and Joe Lara. Making the PAT's were Moore and Lara.

The seventh grade second team was beaten by Brownfield 14-0 last Tuesday night.

W.S.C.S. Met Monday Sept. 21

Cotton Defoliation Meeting Oct. 5

A meeting has been scheduled on October 5, at 2 p.m. in the Lyntegar building to discuss cotton defoliation and dessicants. The use of harvest aid chemicals and their effects on cotton quality.

Dr. Robert Metzger, Extension Area Agronomist, South Plain Research and Extension Center, Lubbock, will be the speaker to discuss the use of defoliant and dessicants.

The maturity of most of the cotton and re-growth of cotton due to the rains make this meeting very important for producers.

Booster Meeting Date Is Set

Films of the Tahoka-Olton game will be shown. All members and prospective members are urged to attend.

Past Days In Lynn County

Copied from Sept. 1, 1922

Brownfield, Texas, August 27 -- A mass meeting was held Saturday to protest against the use of a bathing pool by men and women at the same time. A committee had previously conferred with the proprietor on the matter, and he agreed that if the majority of the citizens wanted separate days for the sexes, he would agree to place the rule in force, otherwise he would continue as before.

Eighty citizens attended the meeting, and voted almost unanimously for the change. At this time, however, there is some difference of opinion by those who did not attend the meeting of the women of the town was held and nearly all present voiced their approval of the action of the men's meeting.

Most of them signed a petition to the proprietor of the pool, asking him to comply with the request for a change. The petition is being circulated. It is opposed by some, but it is believed that a majority will sign, and if so mixed bathing will be a thing of the past in Brownfield.

Those against the change base their belief that the change will cause serious loss to the proprietor of the pool. Those for the change believe that it will make no difference in that his business will be benefited, because there are a number of people who do not patronize him on account of the mixed bathing feature.

Misses Rea Mae Evans and Murel Max were Lubbock visitors yesterday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Wells Wednesday, August 30th, a boy.

Allen and Ramsey Rutledge, who have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. R.P. Weathers, and grandmother, Mrs. S.S. Ramsey, returned to their home in Fort Worth Wednesday.

M.C. Richie, of the Grassland community, was a Lamesa Business visitor Monday and Tuesday. He reported as many as five bales of cotton had been ginned in Lamesa this week.

W.H. Davis and family, of Aspermont, Texas, are here visiting his brother, E.S. Davis and family.

School opens Monday, September 4th, and the members of the Parent-Teachers' association desire to have a social meeting at the school house Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock and plan their work for the ensuing year. We want all the new members to renew their energy and efforts and all of the new patrons who have moved into our midst since last term to join us, and help make Tahoka school one of the best on the South Plains. It is possible to do this; we have the material and the best children and teachers to be wound any place. All we need is the full co-operation of the parents.

Last Friday afternoon a large crowd gathered at the football park in north Tahoka, to see the Lamesa "huskies" (supposedly high school boys) and the Tahoka High School team battled for supremacy. Owing to that fact that the Lamesa bunch were so much heavier than the locals the game resulted in the visitors favor 14 to 0. The Lamesa team has organized some two or three seasons and this together with one "star" player they had with them on their visit in Tahoka, was too much for the boys, who are playing in their first year of football, and were "lightweights" compared to their opponents. Football critics present at this game stated that Tahoka did exceedingly well to hold their own as well as they did. Although the score was rather one-sided it was a real good game and enjoyed by the student body as well as scores of citizens of the town and community. Post City will play the school team here this afternoon. Let everybody come out and give the home team a boost.

Prussic Acid A Threat Under Certain Grazing Conditions

Hybrid sorghum-sudan pastures, fast growing and excellent forage, can also be deadly, especially during the late summer and fall.

The breakdown of the sorghum's plant material by its own enzymes results in prussic acid poisoning for the animals which eat the plant material, Dr. John C. Reagar, toxicologist for the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, says. The actual agent causing death is hydrogen cyanide, the same chemical used in state gas chambers for executions, he adds.

"There are two times during which poisoning occurs," Dr. Reagar explained. "After frost, where there is damage to the plants, high levels of hydrogen cyanide are very common in the plants."

"The second case is when plants perk up and begin fast growth after a very dry period during which the plants have been burned up."

The hydrogen cyanide is very volatile and therefore stays in the plants for only a very short time, but while it is present, animals must be kept off the pasture, he said.

"Usually, if a severe outbreak occurs, cows exhibiting symptoms when the veterinarian is called, will be dead before he can arrive," Dr. Reagar said. "He will probably be able to save only those which are still breathing after he arrives."

Hay that is improperly cured can also present prussic acid poisoning problems for a short time, Dr. Reagar noted adding that the blood of poisoned animals will be cherry red.

Dr. Reagar also urged farmers to be on the lookout for nitrate poisoning that may occur during the late fall on winter pastures when there is a lot of cloudy weather.

The Nazareth Swifts defeated the New Home Leopards last Friday night with the score being 18-14.

The Leopards took an early lead as David Foster dashed 20 yards to score. Fillingim ran the extra point for the Leopards as they took an 8-0 lead.

Ojvera then scored for the Swifts but the PAT failed and New Home led, 8-6.

New Home stormed back after taking the second half kickoff and Maloney trancked 15 yards into the end zone. The kick for extra point was blocked, Nazareth scored again in the third period and two more TD's in the fourth.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q I don't have the money to pay all that I owe on my third quarter estimated tax. Can I pay part now and the rest next time?

A) You may have to pay a penalty based on a 6 percent annual rate if your payments are not made in full when they are due. To avoid the penalty, your estimated tax installments must be paid on time and should amount to at least 80 percent of your income tax when your return for the year is filed. Farmers and fishermen can avoid this penalty if their payments equal 66 2/3 percent of their total tax liability.

Q I used an employment agency to get my job. Are the fees I paid deductible?

A) Yes, if you itemize expenses this will be deductible. If a job was not secured, the fees are nondeductible.

Q I work part-time as a maid. How can I tell if social security is being paid for me?

A) Ask your employer whether these taxes are being paid for you. Employers are required to file a return and pay social security taxes for household employees when cash wages of $50 or more are paid to an employee during any calendar quarter. Employers are also required to provide employees with an annual statement of wages paid and social security taxes withheld.

A full statement of your Social Security coverage may be obtained by writing the Social Security Administration, Baltimore, Md. 21235. Give your name, address and social security number when you write.

Q My son has earned almost $600 this year. If he makes any more will I lose his exemption?

A) If your son is either under 19 at the end of the year or a full-time student for at least five months during the year, the amount of his earnings will not affect his status as your dependent. The other dependency tests, support for instance, must continue to be met.

Q I took a loss when I sold some stock I inherited. Can I deduct this on my return?

A) If you sold the stock for less than its fair market value on the date of the decedent's death then you are entitled to either a short or long term capital loss depending on how long you owned the stock beginning with the date of death. Any gain over six months would be a long term loss.

Q The bank where my daughter opened up a savings account wants her social security number. Where can she get one?

A) Your daughter may apply for a social security number by filling out Form SS-5 which may be obtained from your local Social Security or IRS office. Banks and other financial institutions are required by law to report certain dividend and interest payments by the identifying number of the recipient.

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

State Republican and Democratic parties have put their appeals to Texas voters in writing via the platforms drafted at their separate conventions last week.

Democrats party veterans said repeatedly, "wrote the most progressive planks ever."

Republicans put the emphasis on attacking crime, campus disorders and drug use.

Highlights of the Democratic statement of party goals include:

A far-reaching vocational-technical education program, repeal of annual voter registration requirements and substitution of "registration by voting" every four years, opposition to a tax on groceries, a minimum foundation program for policemen with state standards of qualification and pay, state civil service, expansion of unemployment insurance benefits.

Increase in workmen's compensation benefits, creation of a public utilities regulatory commission, establishment of an office of consumer protection, a year welfare outlay ceiling, an increase in minimum wage, sweeping insurance reforms and creation of a state management research commission to promote governmental efficiency.

Republican platform highlights are:

Legislation to end discrimination in state governmental employment and to insure equal pay for equal work, creation of single-member legislative districts, realistic technical and vocational courses commencing at junior high school level and offered in nearly all high schools, condemnation of forced busing of students to achieve racial balance;

Opposition to a tax on groceries, later voter registration deadlines, inclusion of all insurance company income in calculating auto insurance rates, admission of oral confessions in trials, and life sentence without parole for murdering a policeman.

ALF-CIO "BACKS" DEMOS--Following the conventions, Texas AFL-CIO leaders "urged" support by labor of all state-wide candidates of the Democratic party in the general election.

Decision, AFL-CIO President H.S. (Hank) Brown explained, left union members free to do as they pleased, since there was no formal "endorsement" carrying monetary support or mandatory vote.

Big labor's hang-up was in the U.S. Senate race. Some union spokesmen were reluctant to back Democrat Lloyd Bentsen but were likewise enthusiastic about Republican candidate George Bush.

Committee of Political Education (COPE) gave "special recognition" to Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Ag. Commissioner John White and Land Commissioner nominee Bob Armstrong.

MIXED DRINK STUDY URGED Alcoholic Beverage Commission directed its staff to study liquor-by-the-drink laws before the mixed drink constitutional amendment is voted on November 3.

ABC officials expressed concern that the liquor-by-the-drink law if approved by the voters and Legislature, be tightly enforced.

Meanwhile, Texans for Enforceable Liquor Laws, "sponsors of the liquor-by-the-drink amendment, announced a statewide publicity and advertising campaign to put over its amendment.

"Texans Who Care" organization will conduct an opposition campaign.

OIL ALLOWABLE UP -- TEXAS Railroad Commission bumped the state oil allowable for October to 87 per cent of potential.

This would be the highest since January, 1949. Increase was granted on the understanding of strict compliance with the order directing record allowable.

Order provides for no violation of the no-flare regulations, no gasoline plant processing casinghead gas to flare gas in October, and a curb on excessive brine production.

UNEMPLOYMENT PROGRAM CHANGED--Texas Employment Commission has called attention to a new federal law which will result in the biggest single increase in worker coverage since the federal-state program began.

An estimated 400,000 Texas workers will be covered, and 100,000 more employers will be liable for unemployment insurance tax beginning Jan. 1, 1972.

Federal law provides for payment of extended unemployment insurance up to a maximum of 13 weeks in times of high unemployment. Federal government will pay half the extended benefits -- once regular benefits are exhausted.

Bill also makes more job-holders eligible for benefits, makes more employers subject to insurance tax and increases the federal unemployment insurance tax paid by employers who already are covered by the law.

About 100,000 jobs in non-profit organizations are added to the coverage in Texas. These organizations employ four or more in 20 weeks of the current or preceding calendar year, and have the option of paying taxes or reimbursing the state for benefits paid.

Texas Education Agency can make appropriate adjustments in a school district's professional allotments to consider average daily attendance required to be transferred from one district to another. All allotments must be made without regard to race, creed or color.

Legal provisions relating to standards and specifications of public buildings are applicable to the Old Land Office (Museum) Building.

Texas Water Rights Commission may employ an Examiner in its proceedings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Deduct Traffic Fines?

While hurrying to a business appointment, you are sired to the curb by a traffic officer and given a ticket for speeding. Could you deduct the amount of the fine on your next income tax return as a "business expense"?

No. The law does allow you to deduct the "ordinary and necessary" expenses of doing business. But as a matter of public policy, courts usually will not recognize lawbreaking as ordinary and necessary. For if such deductions were allowed, the law would be imposing a penalty with one hand and "taking the sting" out of the penalty with the other.

However, a violation of law might involve other expenses, besides the fine itself, that would be perfectly legitimate deductions. Thus:

A businessman was found guilty of mail fraud. On his next tax return, he claimed a deduction for the legal expenses he had incurred in defending himself. Tax officials objected to the deduction, saying he never would have had those expenses if he had not broken the law in the first place. But the court felt otherwise, and allowed the deduction to be taken.

"No public policy is offended," said the court, "when a man faced with serious criminal charges employs a lawyer to help in his defense. It is his constitutional right."

Suppose you spend money on something which, while not strictly illegal, is still unethical. Consider this situation:

A manufacturer paid secret kickbacks to certain purchasing agents, in return for their giving preference to his products. Later, he tried to deduct these payments as business expenses.

But the court said such payments were not deductible even if they were within the letter of the law. Finding no evidence that kickbacks were common in this particular line of business, the judge said: "The mores of the market place of this nation (are) not such that kickbacks, while they do occur, are an ordinary means of securing or promoting business."

The Story Of Our Present Old Glory

Stripes were made in 1777, stars have been added as new states entered the Union until the last two representing Alaska and Hawaii were added - thus totalling fifty stars.

The number of stripes has been reduced to the original thirteen - seven red and six white.

The glory, beauty and simplicity of our flag stir us through sheer force of design. The flag symbolized our aspirations and achievements as Americans - our struggles and sacrifices - our devotion to the ideals expressed in the Declaration of Independence.

The thirteen red and white stripes recall to us the history of that long, bitter eight year struggle in which the colonies stood side by side and fought for freedom exemplifying the principle, "In Union there is strength."

Each star in the flag is an emblem that records a great event in the history of the country. Each tells the story of a great sovereign state which has entered the Union. The first thirteen represent the original thirteen states. The other stars stand for the work of those who have followed in their footsteps.

The red stripes proclaim

Tahoka High Happenings

BY DONNIE DUDGEON

Most of the students of Tahoka High School have now settled into the routine of classes, homework, and activities. It is always hard to get used to classes again but this year looks like the best yet in T.H.S. history.

Football and fall are synonymous. Our football season has started off especially well with two victories over Stanton and Crosbyton. We are looking forward to another win over Olton Friday night.

The band has elected the nominees for band sweetheart. They are: Carol Thomas, senior; Dana Martin, junior; and Cynthia Barham, sophomore. The band members will elect the sweetheart by secret ballot and she will be crowned at the home game on October 2.

The annual staff received some exciting news this week. They learned that the 1969-70 Kennel is an Honor Book. The total number of points that the book received was 1608, which is well above the number of points needed by a "AA" school. Congratulations to Karen Glenn, last year's editor and her staff.

Publisher's Report

ABOUT THE TIME MANY PEOPLE IN this country were agonizing publicly over the draft law, delegates to the Supreme Soviet of the USSR were unanimously passing a law providing for compulsory military training at age 15, and with an obligation extending to age 50.

Among other provisions, the new Russian draft law requires that:

(1) All male citizens, irrespective of race, or nationality, religion, education, domicile, social and property status, must serve actively in the Armed Forces;

(2) Schools conduct pre-draft training in the ninth school year, starting when the youth reached age 15, and continuing for two years until graduation;

(3) Young men not enrolled in daytime educational establishments take pre-draft training at centers set up in factories, institutions and collective farms. This continues until the trainee reaches draft age;

(4) Starting at age 17, competent young men will be trained for the various operational and technical specialties required by the Armed Forces. Presumably, in most cases, a Russian boy would take the general pre-draft training in his last two years of high school and then have one year of specialty training before induction;

(5) Physically qualified men, upon completing active duty, will be placed in the Reserve. Enlisted men remain in the Reserve until age 50, and take periodic active duty training;

(6) The draft age will be reduced from 19 to 18 and basically the draftee serve two years in the Army or Air Force, including Navy Air, or three years in the Navy;

(7) Young men going on to a higher education will be deferred until completion of schooling and then serve one year on active duty; and

(8) Deferment will be granted when the draftee is a family breadwinner. A married man with one child, however, is not exempt. He must have two or more children, or an invalid wife.

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

Worth seeing. Worth owning. Worth waiting for.

Vega. Not just another little car, but one little car that does everything well. You get more room, more weight and more power than most little cars give you, yet the gas mileage is right in the same neighborhood with the best of them. Vegas come dressed up, too, not stripped to the bone so you have to add a lot to make them liveable. Drive one. You'll see.

Caprice. There's a double layer of steel in the roof, a steel guard beam in each door, power disc brakes up front, a new power ventilation system inside, a wheelbase two and one-half inches longer. You get the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, but at Chevrolet prices. And that's the kind of change during these tight-money times that all of us can appreciate.

Vanishing tailgate. A big change in our big wagon. The window goes up into the roof, the Glide-Away tailgate vanishes beneath the floor. Out of sight. Out of your way for easy loading even in a closed garage or when you have a trailer hooked on.

See what we mean by putting you first? September 29 at your Chevrolet dealer's.

By MRS. W.W. DAVIES

Mrs. John Edwards and Gene Eades who share the same birthday were honored with a dinner in the home of Gene and his family, Monday, Sept. 14th. Given by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.G. Eades. This is the first time in 35 years, since Gene was 3 and Mary Bess, 1 year old, they have failed to have their picture made together on their birthday, but since Gene is recuperating from back surgery this part of their celebration had to be postponed for a few weeks. An interesting feature of their parents home is a display of the pictures. Others enjoying the turkey dinner were John, Karen and John Dudley Edwards, Sue Andrea and Alan Eades, Mr. and Mrs. Don Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Sport Beason, Lubbock.

Vanessa Brown of Plainview spent a week here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown and while she was here her great-grandmother, Mrs. C.M. Greer entertained her and a number of her friends on her 10th birthday at Mrs. Greer's home in Tahoka.

Dry, high quality cotton at harvesting time is more than luck.

Cotton should not be harvested with a moisture content of more than eight percent. Otherwise, the extra cleaning and drying required in ginning can lower the value.

Cotton should not be harvested before dew had dried from the lint. This means producers should usually wait until about 9:30 a.m. before getting into their fields. At about 6:00 p.m. the lint moisture will begin to rise and stripping or picking should be delayed until the next day.

"Even on the smallest farms a hygrometer can be important in preserving the quality of the product. For about $15 a cotton producer can get a hygrometer and set it in the field on a stake to observe the relative humidity."

The instrument, set at about boll height, will give the humidity in the field and will usually correlate directly with the moisture content of the lint in open bolls. Within a humidity range of 60 percent or less, fiber moisture will be eight percent or less.

Taking the reading at boll height in the field is necessary, because factors such as wind direction, wind velocity, soil moisture level, stalk size and condition of the cotton itself govern the humidity level in the field and in the fiber moisture.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

The Cheering Squad

Energy and exuberance are trademarks of youth. You can see it clearly when a group of cheerleaders go into action.

Quick reaction is a mark of youth. If the team wins, these girls will be on top of the world. If it loses, they will go home with shoulders slumped. They haven't really learned "to take it". Withstanding both success and failure is a mark of maturity, and finding the strength to go on becomes an act of faith.

Have you grown up? Do you have that kind of faith? If not, the first steps toward finding it might be a walk to the church door.

Visitors in the service on Sunday morning were Mrs. Hicks who is the mother of Mrs. Herman Huffaker, and Mrs. Hicks' great-granddaughters, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Rogers of Roswell, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Arval Lee Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Buford Mathis, Margie Leal and her son from the Grassland area.

Sunday evening service featured a singspiration, directed by Mrs. Joy Laws. We all enjoyed the music of the musicians who sang the hymns of the church in quartets, trio, duets and solos. Also, several of the younger ones gave us numbers on the piano. Nelda Murray is doing a fine job with the rhythm band.

Dinner guests on Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. W.G. McCleskey's home were Mrs. Lucy Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murray and the pastors.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crutchfield and son of Lubbock spent the weekend with Mrs. Crutchfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Riley of Tahoka spent last week in Borger, Texas, visiting with their sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Royce McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Riley.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Spears made a weekend visit in Colorado. They returned home on Sunday evening.

The fellowship supper announced by the Grassland Hobby Club for last Tuesday evening was postponed because of the stormy weather. A new date will be set and announced later.

Mrs. C.B. King has a nice fall garden and they are busy canning vegetables.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gribble have been on vacation. They toured west as far as Flagstaff, Arizona. They report having a good time.

We hear that Mr. Cletus Walker has a fine crop of cantaloupe. He has been sharing them with his neighbors. Thank you, Mr. Walker for this fine neighborly act.

Kelly Laws and C.W. Roberts motored to Wichita Falls on last Sunday to get Kelly's aunt, Mrs. May Lewis, who is visiting with the Kelly Laws this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W.G. McCleskey visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jurd Young on Friday.

The Jurd Youngs had their family reunion in Lubbock on Sunday. Mrs. Young's six sisters and parts of their families were in attendance. We understand that one sister, who lives in Roby, Texas was not able to attend. Also, on that day, Mr. and Mrs. Young celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

The Bob Normans have been having a siege with the flu. They are feeling better now.

Kim Gribble, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Gribble had a birthday party on Saturday afternoon. There were eleven children in attendance and all had an enjoyable time.

The revival meeting at the Church of the Nazarene in Grassland will continue through the week. Rev. Ed Purcell, pastor of Hamlet Church of the Nazarene in Amarillo is the speaker. We meet at 8:00 p.m. for the evening service. We are having morning service at 10:00 a.m. through Friday. All are invited to attend.

Wait -- don't pack away summer gear and summertime fun! Turn your September into Indian summer with the "sizzle sound" of a thick juicy steak broiling over charcoal.

Give the grill a real workout this month and explore the vast and delicious world of beef steaks. But don't get lost -- there are many different kinds of steak and also a range of quality in each kind.

It really is important that you know which steak cuts are best suited for cooking on the outdoor grill and what to look for in selecting quality. Here's a quick review of the "broilables":

Tenderloin (filet mignon) -- is the most tender of all steaks. It's boneless, has very little fat, and is sold for a higher price per pound than any of the others.

Porterhouse -- often considered the best steak, is ideal to serve for those special dinner guests. Most porterhouse steaks will be too large for an individual serving. However, they have a generous tenderloin section which can be removed and served separately as filet mignon.

T-bone -- is very similar in appearance to the porterhouse, but T-bone steaks have a smaller tenderloin section. Club -- cut from the same section as porterhouse and T-bone, has the same large muscle, but without the tenderloin.

The club steak is particularly well suited to individual servings.

Strip loin -- usually sold as a boneless cut, is also a very tender and flavorful steak. This steak contains the same large muscle as the porterhouse T-bone and club steaks.

Sirloin -- is a large steak, excellent for a family occasion or backyard party. The sirloin contains several different muscles, and varies in size, shape and bone size.

For maximum tenderness, select a sirloin with a long, flat bone. However, to get more for your money, select one with a smaller amount of bone, as the round or wedge-shaped bone.

Very often, sirloins are cut into two boneless steaks -- top sirloin and bottom sirloin. The top sirloin is the more tender of the two, and the better selection for cooking over charcoal.

Rib or rib eye -- has well-developed flavor and is very tender. Both of these cuts are from the rib section. The rib eye is a boneless steak cut from the eye or large muscle of a beef rib. The rib steak includes the rib bone along with the eye and other muscles. It differs from a rib roast only in thickness -- a roast usually is two or more ribs thick.

These steaks are the ones that are naturally the most tender -- and the most broilable. If you buy them by U.S. Department of Agriculture quality grades -- prime, choice, or good (the top three quality grades for beef) -- they will all be delicious!

When you're selecting steaks for barbecue, choice quality is highly desirable and is the one you'll find most often at the retail counter. You know you're assured of consistent quality when you buy by grade. When buying steak, just look for the purple shield-shaped grade stamp with the words USDA Prime, Choice, or Good on the outer covering of the meat.

For the sake of economy, you may occasionally wish to vary your outdoor grilling with cuts such as blade chuck steak (ask for the "first cut") or a top round steak. But when grilling or broiling these steaks be sure they are USDA prime, or choice grade.

You'll get much better results if you have a nice thick steak to start with. So select steak cuts at least 1 1/2 inch thick or better yet, 1 3/4 to 1 1/2 inches.

Want to make this Indian summer even more enjoyable? Planning in advance will do it! Start your fire 30 to 45 minutes before cooking by stacking briquets in a pyramid, or putting them in a large, open-end can with holes punched 1 inch from the bottom. Apply lighter fluid. Wait a minute or two, then light. After lighting, don't squirt extra fluid on the briquets. (If an electric lighter is used, be sure to follow the manufacturer's instructions.)

When the coals are gray, spread them over the cooking area. Leaving about an inch between coals will eliminate most flame-up. However, if fat should drip from the meat and start to flame, sprinkle the coals with water.

Cooking time will vary from 6 to 8 minutes per side for a 1 inch medium-rare steak, and from 10 to 15 minutes for a 1 1/2 inch medium-well steak. Distance between the heat and grill surface should be 3 to 5 inches, depending on the thickness of the steak. A good rule-of-thumb is to allow a distance of 2 inches for every inch of thickness.

To lend a special smoke flavor, try adding hickory, oak, apple, or cherry wood chips. Soak chips in water for 1 hour before using and add a few chips at a time. Closing the hooded grill will retain smoke and increase the smoke flavor.

If you would like additional "how-to's" in the selection and preparation of beef, send for the booklet, "How to Buy Steaks," and its companion, "How to Buy Beef Roasts." Both fully illustrate the popular cuts and explain the quality grades for beef. Single free copies are available from your County Home Demonstration Agent.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By Richard L. Christie

The farmers in Lynn County must be a "Jack of all Trades" to make the profession of farming pay off. This was well illustrated in an exhibit I saw recently at a fair. It showed many hats that a farmer wears these days. A profitable farm operation means he is good at each of these jobs. He must first of all be a manager, then he is an accountant, economist, businessman, mechanic, handyman, engineer, conservator, chemist, plant husbandryman, politician and many others depending on his operation.

The job of manager is the most important. He must see to it that all the other jobs are done and done well. He must coordinate them into one smooth operation. This is a problem often because one part may need to do one thing and another part do another. For example the engineering part may want it one way to make it more sturdy, but the economist part may want the job done more economically. This is where the manager part has to make the decision on what to do.

The conservatorist must and should be the second most important job the farmer does. This is evident by the fact that he will not have anything to manage if he does not take care of the resources that he now has. This also makes the job easier and more stable for the other aspects of farming. The economist in a farmer also helps the conservatorist in that it is more profitable if he utilizes all the resources available to their maximum. It makes the manager's job easier in that it heads off many problems and decisions that would occur in the future. Therefore, it is essential that the manager do a good job or there is no use of the others and the conservatorist in the farmer must do a good job or the business will be on the down hill side of success. The account needs to keep accurate records so the economist can apply principles of economics to get the job done the best way. The manager needs a good set of books to make it pay. The business man in him must choose how, when and where to buy and sell. He must have some legal know-how to make contracts, lease and other agreements. Sometimes it takes an attorney to understand and use regulations.

He needs to be a politician possibly this is one aspect he needs to look at closer. We must make people understand that operating a business in an economy and selling production in another completely different economy is very difficult. We buy in an area industrial open economy. We produce in a local business economy. And then we are expected to sell in a tight frantic world economy. The urban people of America don't understand. They think we should live, buy, trade and sell on 1930's standards while living in the 1970's. We need political leaders to tell the story.

The farmer must be a talented, versatile, intelligent person to do a good job of farming. The future of the Great Nation rest on his shoulders, with the expanding population and shrinking area he has to work with.

Now is the time to bundle up your home for winter. Modern electric comfort heating is already being enjoyed by over 4 million American families!... almost 5,000 in our area alone. You owe it to yourself and your family to get the facts about electric heating... and now is the time to do it.

Storm windows have proven their value in keeping out cold, wintry winds, holding down inner heat loss and contributing to lower heating costs. Storm windows do an excellent job of combating dust storms, too.

YOUNG FARMERS AND HOMEMAKERS WEEK PROCLAIMED

Harold Barrett, mayor of O'Donnell, has proclaimed the week of Sept. 20-26 as Young Farmers and Young Homemakers Week. The week had already been proclaimed in recognition of the organization by Gov. Preston Smith.

This week the O'Donnell young Farmers are in Pecos attending the Area II convention. O'Donnell is running for Outstanding Chapter and Kenneth Eaker is running for outstanding Area II Star Farmer Award.

"I grow old learning something new every day" can apply to VA whose recent anniversary marked 40 years of improving services to veterans.

The price of food purchased for use at home increased 25.8 percent in the ten-year ending December, 1969, while the overall cost of living rose 31.3 percent.
