It is powered by a 455 cubic inch engine with nickel plated exhaust valves for greater durability. Max Trac, a computerized drive control system which improves directional stability on slippery roads, is introduced as an option on the Riviera.

has warned the public and has made every effort in his means to fight the plague. He said he has received little help in the matter.

Folmar said he has been in contact with Austin, Atlanta, Georgia, and Denver, Colorado since reporting the plague.

Folmar told the News editor that if people suspect they have rats on their property they should call him and he will kill the rats and will test the bodies to see if fleas are on them. He said it is important that he do this in order to run the plague tests.

He cautioned the public not to kill the rats themselves, but to call him in order that he can make scientific tests.

There is a major difference in the common sand flea and the bubonic flea. The Bubonic flea has two quills and the sand flea only one, like the mosquito.

Illustrations are being run in the news. If anyone suspects that these fleas are on their property, they should call Mr. Folmar at once.

At press time Folmar was investigating the possible spread of the plague to the prairie dog town just south of Seminole, and also in the flats in Seminole.

Folmar said that conflicting statements have been made saying that plague will burn itself out. He said this is not true and that in 1947 the plague was killed out by chemicals and by killing rodents. He said this is the only way to combat the plague.

Bubonic Plague Ravages Rodent Population in Area

Concern has been voiced that little has been done the past week to rid a 100 mile square area of the dreaded Bubonic Plague carriers in the rodent world. The rodents in the Cedar Lake area south to the Andrews County line have been found to carry the flea which causes the Plague.

Health Department sources have issued no releases to people in this area, and if they have done anything to rid the area of the Black Death, they have not reported the fact to the news media.

Dr. Evelyn Smiley, Public Health officer in Lamesa, told the editor of the News that the state health department has been aware of the plague threat since June. She said the Austin office felt nothing should be said to the people because of possible panic.

Dr. Smiley added that she believes the first freeze will kill the fleas which are not on rodents, and that the rodent population infected will die, and that the problem will work itself out.

A contrasting opinion was given by D. W. Folmar, who says the only way to rid the area of the plague flea is to use chemicals and to destroy the rodents remaining in the area.

The Bubonic Plague has ravaged the prairie dog population in 13 colonies in Gaines County, and has hit the rabbit and coyote species rendering them almost extinct.

Rats and mice also are carriers of the flea which carries the Plague, and dogs can also carry the disease with fleas infecting them.

Dr. Bill McCollough and Travis Bagley both issued warnings to hunters not to go into the areas. Workmen in the area are cautioned to wear rubber boots and protective clothing. At least one oil company sprayed an area with DDT in order to work on a pipe line.

D. W. Folmar reported that he sent samples of dead rodents to Denver on September 3, asking confirmation of the Bubonic Plague and that he has still not received a reply. Dr. Bill McCollough confirmed the fact, after touring the area last week with Commissioner Travis

Bagley.

Mr. Folmar said he received 7000 pounds of flea powder Tuesday and planned to go to the Commissioners Court on Wednesday to find a way to start combating the disease carriers. Folmar

'The Lunatics Are Running The Asylum'

So said Al Capp at the Tenth Anniversary convention of Young Americans for Freedom at Sharon, Connecticut, describing circumstances at a few college campuses in our country today.

"The new lunacy now dominates the old ceremonies," Mr. Capp told the 500 YAF delegates, representing 50,000 students from all parts of the country. "It has made carnivals of commencements so obscene that only the student hysterics and hyenas, the brawlers and the bedwetters, the muggers and the arsonists, the criminals and the creeps, can safely attend them. Some come to those ceremonies solely to stomp out of them, shrieking slogans from old editorials in the Daily Worker or from the sermons of William Sloan Coffin. Some, whose talent for obscenity has earned them the honor of speaking for their class, come to curse their parents, guests and faculty hosts. But the mindless and mannerless minority all come, in complete confidence that no matter how beastly their acts, how foul their mouths, they will be welcome and protected.

"Two students this year, more typical of the majority, didn't dare come to their graduation. They knew their colleges would not dare protect them from the hyenas, or even from being hurt by them.

"These two had committed such social crimes as attending classes instead of riots, and of getting married before they moved into an apartment together.

"But, most unforgivable of all, these two came from families considered by many in Princeton's Social Science Department, to be more ill-bred than the Jukes of the Kallikahs; they came from families which had bred a President.

"1970 is the year Julie and David Eisenhower were, in effect, barred from their graduations. It is the year Jerry Rubin and Abbie Hoffman took charge. It is the year of the lunatic."

Al Capp placed the blame squarely upon the "intellectuals" running the colleges — described by Capp as "the world's highest paid baby sitters." The university administrators who have allowed the new Hitlerites of the Socialist Scholars Conference and others to teach hatred and spread venom are directly responsible for the tragic deaths and destruction we have seen this past year. There are some who hope that we may be able to shame the academic community into initiating reform. But we doubt it. Those who have no sense of decency have a similar lack of capacity for shame.

Former Tahokan Subject Of Story In National Magazine

Mrs. Emil Prohl, wife of the local Doctor Prohl, found the story which follows about Dr. Conrad Lam, reared in Tahoka, who became known as one of the world's foremost heart specialists and one of the first to do surgery on the heart. A few years ago, Dr. Lam was speaker at the annual Tahoka High homecoming. His mother and a sister live at Denton City, and his younger brother, Eli, is a car dealer at Wichita Falls.

Seventy six Trombones led the big parade. Well, not quite many, but when the Frank Village Michigan Band goes down main street, you can bet that the man out front will be well-known Detroit throat surgeon, Dr. Conrad Lam, he's the town's "Music Man."

You've never heard of Frank Village? Well it's been around for such a long time, most people have forgotten about it, with the exception of those who live there, that is. Founded as a country village before the Civil War, this remote suburb of Detroit is now a collection of expensive country homes for area automotive and other industrial leaders and their professional people.

And they have a band. A tremendous band. One which is proudly conducted by Dr. Lam, who got involved in the delightful, consarned operation back in 1959. And one which, although it has been graced by such sit-in performers as Gene Krupa, boasts of "the finest bass drummer in the country" Mrs. Lam.

In 1959, someone decided the village hadn't had a band for concerts on the village green for more than a generation, so why not organize one? Dr. Lam, who hadn't touched his rusty old cornet since graduation from Yale University Medical School in 1932, heeded the call. He has been conductor of possible the highest paid collection of musicians in the country every since. Although not paid for playing, their incomes, if added together, would approach the federal governments annual deficit spending.

Dr. Lam worked his way through medical school as a music man on the model of Meredith Wilson's musical of that name. A native of Texas, he started to play his cornet in the Tahoka High School band. He played in the Hardin-Simmons University band while he did his undergraduate work and in the Yale band through medical school. While at Yale, he organized bands and sold instruments to young musicians he recruited in Essex and Branford, Conn., just like Harold Hill in "Music Man."

Dr. Lam went to Detroit right after graduation at Yale to intern at Henry Ford Hospital. The cornet was put away, replaced by medical endeavors. But then came the call for a band to play at the annual Round-up on the village green. He dug out the old cornet and showed up at the organizational meeting. As the first volunteer with any conducting experience, he got the job as conductor and can't seem to get rid of it. (He really doesn't want to, according to friends.)

The band's performance at the 1959 Round-up was so well received that it was not disbanded as originally planned. Now it's a tradition at the annual Round-up, and it plays for strawberry socials, "Michigan Week" celebrations, parades and like special events throughout the Detroit area. The band even gives an occasional concert in the auditorium of Henry Ford Hospital to raise money for worthwhile projects, and has made an album of recorded band music.

Memberships hovers around 25, but there has been considerable turnover since it was organized. "The big companies' transfer policies give me fits," Dr. Lam says.

But the band survives, because the transfer policies always seem to bring new talent to the village as well as take it away. Members are company presidents, teachers, sales executives, accountants, engineers, retailers, a newspaper sports writer and even an Internal Revenue Service appellate officer.

Yes, there are also members who list their occupation as "housewife." Five Franklin Village ladies have infiltrated, two as flautists, one as a saxophonist and another plays the snare drums.

Then, of course, there is Mrs. Lam. "Other things besides her drum playing attract me to her. That is just a bonus," says Dr. Lam. "But it sure has been nice that her father needed a bass drummer for the North Dakota 4-H Band when she was a girl. He introduced her to the instrument, and she's been pounding on it ever since."

MORE THAN DOLLARS ARE NEEDED

We have come a long way since the little Red School House was the universal seat of learning. We spend billions on schools and equipment... modern buildings in park-like surroundings... for teachers bedecked with high-sounding, impressive degrees... for school psychologists, counselors, nurses and other professional aides.

With only 6 per cent of the world's population and about one-third of its developed resources, we Americans now invest annually in education almost as much as all other nations combined.

In the past two decades, public school enrollment nearly doubled but the number of school employees tripled and financial support (in constant dollars) increased 350 per cent. Yet many educators, bemoaning the plight of today's schools, claim lack of money is the root of the problem.

But do vast expenditures alone automatically guarantee a good education for our children? In a recent speech, Roger A. Freeman, a special assistant to President Nixon, cited evidence to the contrary. He quoted a survey by James S. Coleman of Johns Hopkins University which found that "the physical and economic resources going into a school had very little relationship to the achievements coming out of it."

A detailed study of New York City schools showed reading and arithmetic achievement in some high-expenditure schools was well below that in schools with the lowest expenditures. The survey found little relationship between student achievement and such factors as class size, condition of buildings, teacher experience.

The school must provide a good education for the child. Just spending billions of taxpayers' money is no adequate substitute for tangible achievements. We must resolve to find the right answer without sacrificing our children to the experimentalists but rather by assuring them a sound education.

As Mr. Freeman points out, the belief in the educational magic of the dollar dies hard, particularly in legislative halls. It's up to citizens everywhere to demand more education for the dollar rather than more dollars for education.

Luxury abounds in 1971 Chevrolet Caprice Coupe

The 1971 regular Chevrolets are the most luxurious the division has ever built. There is greater glass area for improved visibility. Glass and body contours are more rounded. Flush lift-up door handles add to body smoothness. The Caprice gets added distinction with a special large grid grille, deep ribbed wheel covers and standard rear fender skirts. Wheelbase of regular Chevrolet is extended 2.5 inches for added riding comfort and increased rear leg room. The body has a new flow-through ventilation system and greater strength double-panel roof construction. The new chassis and suspension system give improved ride and handling. A power disc/drum brake system is standard. New Chevrolets go on sale Tuesday, September 29.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Ditto! Ditto! Ditto!

(Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reviews the tax situation this week in his own peculiar way.)

Dear editor:

Government officials are always hunting for new sources of tax revenue, in fact one state is offering a reward to anybody who comes up with a new idea for more money but I doubt if it'll be paid as the only source of taxes so far in the history of the human race has been people and I don't see any prospects for any change in the system.

Therefore the problem narrows down to a matter of timing -- when does Congress for example figure the people can stand a little more taxing without changing Congressmen, and the best method of gauging this was proclaimed by a Congressman in an article I read in a newspaper last night.

According to him, this is no time to increase taxes because "the people are in no mood for it." Now if Congress at any time is in doubt about the mood of the people for more taxes, I'll be glad to take the contract at a fair price to conduct a nation-wide opinion poll, with more accuracy than any other poll, including the British ones.

I'll guarantee that without even leaving the front porch of my house on this Johnson grass farm I can tell you exactly what the mood of 95 per cent of the people is, in this country or any other on earth, on the question of raising taxes. Furthermore, while I'm conducting the survey, for an additional fee I can determine how 95 percent of the people feel about increasing governmental services.

I can even narrow it down to any particular city you name. For example, my survey will show that New York City wants less Federal spending on nonessentials and more Federal spending on New York, Cincinnati? Ditto. Chicago? Ditto. You name the town or city and I'll supply the ditto.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Warm, Fresh Air

... direct from the manufacturer

Natural gas is the healthiest, most economical way to heat your house this winter. Gas is economical because it's the direct way to produce heat - you don't pay to convert heat to another energy source and then back to heat. And with gas you can afford to bring clean outside air into your home this winter instead of having to re-heat the same old stale air time after time.

So, if you're building or remodeling, be sure to specify gas heating. Gas is the "natural" fuel. It's like buying direct from the manufacturer. Call your heating contractor, plumber, or Pioneer Natural Gas.

Tahoka Bulldogs meet the Lubbock Cowhands on the local field tonight, Friday, at 8 o'clock, in a football game that promises to be evenly matched.

The Cowhands are the B team, or second team of Lubbock High School, and have been playing a full schedule of games with Class B schools of this district. Like Tahoka, they have lost to most of their Class B opponents, and on paper are about equal to the Bulldogs.

The Tahoka High School band will possibly appear in public for the first time at the game Friday night, and all people of the county are urged to come out and see the game and hear the new band.

E.S. Brown, who lives about ten miles east of Tahoka on the Post Highway, reports that both wheels on the right side of his car were stolen Monday night. A tire pump was also taken.

The car was a 1938 Chevrolet coach and was parked within 30 feet of his house, Mr. Brown says. He reported to officers Tuesday morning, and it is hoped that the culprits may be caught, though that is a most difficult task.

The Tahoka football fans will witness in addition to a jam up ball game, the Tahoka School Band this Friday night at the Football game.

Mr. Felts, band director, had consented to bring his band to the game. This is probably the youngest band that we have ever seen give an open air program. In only eight weeks time the band has progressed as much as one might expect from a band much older. Patrons, when you hear them play, remember that the are only eight-weeks old as a band and that just a little encouragement at the right time makes a fellow feel mighty good. So give them a big hand.

County Judge P.W. Goad received an official notice from the state highway commission Monday advising that at its meeting on October 25 a new highway had been designated, extending from Tahoka via Wilson, Slaton and Petersburg to Plainview.

It was also ordered that a survey of the route be made at an early day and the county was advised to procure deeds for rights-of-way.

Lon Ingram of Lubbock, local engineer, advised Judge Goad that he would probably begin making the survey within a few weeks.

Although survey is to be made at this time, the highway commission made it plain that it would have no money available with which to build the highway for a year or two yet.

The O'Donnell football game here on November 11 has been designated as Home-coming for all Tahoka exes. The junior class is sponsoring the ex get together and if you are an ex or if you know of one who lives in reach of us please contact some member of the Junior class in order that they may be invited.

This is the beginning of what is hoped will be a permanent organization of exes and an annual affair. Seats will be reserved for all exes whose names we have ahead of time.

Everyone try to help us by contacting all exes of Tahoka High School and let Mr. Armstrong or any member of the junior class know just how many in your party will attend the O'Donnell game which will definitely be played at 2 p.m. Come on Exes let's form a permanent organization.

Copied from Nov. 11, 1938
Contract for the improvement of the road side park on state highway No. 9, Federal highway No. 87, four miles north of Tahoka is to be let by the highway department on November 18, notices to that effect is being published in this issue of the News.

County Judge P.W. Goad says that the project calls for the planting of approximately 400 trees and shrubs, the building of substantial roads through the park grounds, the drilling of a well and the erection of a tank and windmill, for the construction of a couple furnaces and making other improvements.

The park site consists of about two and a half acres of land lying in a triangle formed by the junction of the old and new highways on the west line of the Knight farm four miles north of Tahoka. The land was purchased by the county as a park site about two years ago, with the agreement that the state highway department would make the improvements. State and Federal funds are being furnished for the purpose.

We have no information as to the kind and variety of trees and shrubs to be planted but this plot of ground can be converted into a beautiful park.

The new 1939 model Ford cars have been on display at the Tahoka Motor Company here since last Friday. The new Ford is the most beautiful car the Ford people have ever put on the market. This latest model will doubtless sustain and even enhance the popularity of this ever popular car.

The first snow of the season was ushered in Sunday night on the wings of a blizzard that swept in from the Rockies or some other region far to the northwest.

The norther came up early Sunday morning and continued to do business all day, calling into service innumerable wraps and overcoats. The skies were overcast all day and just about nightfall snow began falling. It continued far into the night, and on Monday morning a carpet of snow possibly two inches deep covered the face of the earth. The moisture content of the fall was about a quarter of an inch.

The skies cleared Monday and cool weather has prevailed ever since. The lowest temperatures registered were around the 25 degree mark.

Leaving Tahoka early Sunday morning, Mr. Randolph Rutherford and Miss Doris Jean Cade of this city were united in marriage in Santa Fe, New Mexico, late that afternoon.

Immediately after the wedding they sent a telegram to the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Cade telling them of their marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Cade know the intentions of the young couple before they left but did not know where the nuptial vows would be taken.

The bride was a member of the senior class of the Tahoka High School. She had been reared in this county, principally in Tahoka.

The groom came to Tahoka about a year ago as manager of the Cobb Department Store. He is a young man of pleasing personality and excellent business ability.

G.D. Flores Earns MAC Award

Albuquerque, N.M. - U.S. Air Force Sergeant Guadalupe D. Flores, son of Mr. and Mrs. Saturnino Flores of Tahoka, Tex., has been recognized for helping his unit earn the Military Airlift Command's (MAC) flying safety award for three years of accident-free flying.

Sergeant Flores is a supply specialist with the 58th Weather Reconnaissance Squadron Stationed at Kirtland AFB, N.M. The unit, which conducts missions in the RB-57 jet aircraft above 60,000 feet on a world-wide scale extending from the Arctic to the Straits of Magellan on the southern tip of South America, compiled over 27,000 flying hours without an accident during the three-year period ending Dec. 31, 1969. Flight Crews wear space suits similar to those used by astronauts to protect them in the hostile environment on such high altitude missions.

Presentation of the award delayed by deployment of squadron personnel for lengthy periods was made by Major General Russell K. Pierce Jr., commander of the Air Weather Service (AWS), during recent ceremonies at Kirtland.

AWS, a sub-command of MAC, provides weather information for military flight operations. The sergeant, who has served in Thailand, entered the Air Force in April 1955. He is a 1953 graduate of Tahoka High School. His wife is the former Elvia V. Cervantes.

1971. Buick introduces a new set of values.

Value, not gimmicks or ornamentation, sells cars. More people have been coming to Buick each year for just that reason. Buick concentrates on value. And this year, Buick introduces a new set of values. Features that will help make your new Buick perform better, last longer and get you more of a return on your investment at trade-in time.

Only a Buick dealer can offer you our new set of values. So, test your values against our new ones. Then ask yourself this simple question. Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Something to believe in.

1971 Buick Riviera. A totally new design concept. And that's not all. Riviera offers MaxTrac, an exclusive power control system you can order with its own on-board computer. It helps you get securely over slick surfaces by reducing rear-wheel slipping. The new body features side-guard beams for protection, a bigger trunk, and a driver cockpit with a control center designed around the driver for new ease and convenience.

1971 Buick Electra 225. A new interpretation of quiet elegance. We've improved our Electra everywhere you look. There's more room in every direction, interiors that can be appreciated as much for their durability as for their beauty and comfort, even a new balanced braking system. A unique valve proportions braking force front to rear to help give you quick, smooth straight-line stops.

1971 Buick Centurion. This is our newest Buick, a city car with sleekness and grace as well as muscle. It features more nimble variable-ratio power steering, power front disc brakes, Full-Flo ventilation, and a vinyl roof on the Centurion Formal Coupe as standard equipment.

1971 Buick Skylark Custom. This is the car that has set the pace for value in its price class. Rocker panels that wash and dry themselves, big-Buick room and comfort inside, a cooling system that should never overheat, inner fenders that protect the outer fenders, and a modest price have put our Buick Skylark traditionally among the resale leaders in its class.

1971 Buick LeSabre. An incredible new offering of Buick value. The LeSabre, like the Riviera, Electra and Centurion, features AccuDrive, a new version of the directional stability system we pioneered. It will help give you smooth handling.

An important improvement. Every new Buick engine is now designed to run smoothly and efficiently, and with lower exhaust emissions, on no-lead and low-lead gasolines. And every Buick V-8 engine will have exclusive nickel-plated exhaust valves for smoother operation and longer valve life, and a new time-modulated choke to help give quicker warm-up and a more consistent fuel mixture.

Agriculture No Weak Industry

Agriculture comprises the largest single market for labor and industry. Agriculture employs 5 million people, more than the combined employment in transportation, public utilities, auto manufacturing and the steel industry.

It is a $50 billion customer of the American economy. Farmers spend more than $4.8 billion annually for tractors and equipment and over $4 billion for transportation for their crops and livestock.

For 1971, Oldsmobile's intermediate models—bearing the F-85, Cutlass, Cutlass 'S', Cutlass Supreme and 4-4-2 nameplates—have been smartly redesigned to enhance their sporty appearance. The Cutlass 'S' series consists of a Hardtop Coupe (above) and a Sports Coupe. Suspension improvements in all of the new Oldsmobiles result in a smoother, quieter and more stable ride.

Commercial Hog Feeding Booklet Out

A new booklet, "The Feasibility of Commercial Hog Marketing in Texas," is available to producers and investors considering expanding or entering a feeder-pig and finished-hog marketing program on a commercial scale.

John C. White, commissioner of the Texas Department of Agriculture, said that the information was developed to assist in an orderly expansion of the state's swine industry which pumps about $50 million annually into the Texas economy.

White indicated that strong hog prices the past two years, the fact that Texas is a "hog-deficit" state, and increased interest in agrifusiness investment are prime factors in current demand for swine market-

Best Weekly Food Buys

Best weekly food buys include potatoes, blackeye and purple hull peas, cooking greens, corn, tomatoes, carrots, cabbage and cucumbers, reports Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension specialist in consumer marketing. New crop sweet potatoes are also appearing on produce counters at attractive prices.

Jonathan, Red Delicious and Golden Delicious apples are here in good supply. Bananas are reasonably priced, as well as cantaloupes, watermelons, prunes and grapes.

In the meat market beef roasts may be a bit cheaper, but there is little overall change in meat prices. Pork shoulders, pork chops and some brands of bacon are somewhat more reasonable. September, "Better Breakfast Month", reminds homemakers of good selections for meat to start the day. Corned beef hash, dried beef, cubed steaks, ham slices, picnic slices and ground beef patties are hearty breakfast suggestions.

No Questions Asked

Many a conscientious husband seeks peace of mind by buying life insurance to protect his family in case he dies.

But he may also have a nagging worry: will the insurance company really pay off when the time comes, or will it find some flaw making the policy null and void?

To cut this worry to a minimum, most policies now contain what is known as an "incontestable clause." Under this clause, after a stated period (usually two years), the insurance company can no longer raise technical objections about the validity of the policy. It must generally pay off "with no questions asked."

Suppose, for example, that a man applying for insurance fails to mention the fact that he has a drinking problem. And suppose, after his death, the insurance company finds out about it. Under the incontestable clause, the company could not raise this point to escape paying the insurance to the widow.

In fact, the incontestable clause applies in most states even if the applicant told a deliberate lie. Take this case:

A man filling out an insurance application was asked if he was in good health. He said he was—even though he knew he had serious heart trouble.

After his death, the insurance company tried to cancel the policy on grounds of fraud. But a court ruled that, despite the fraud, the company would still have to pay off—because more than two years had gone by. As one judge explained:

"Even though dishonest people are given advantages under incontestable clauses, still the sense of security given to the great majority of honest policyholders makes it worth the cost."

But not even an incontestable clause will help if the fraud involves the very existence of the policy. Thus:

A man suffering from tuberculosis managed to get life insurance by sending a healthy friend to take the medical examination for him. After the man died, the insurance company found out about the trick and denied liability.

The widow tried to rely on the incontestable clause, but a court ruled that there had never been an insurance contract in the first place. The court said that on one basic fact, the identity of the insured person, there was never a "meeting of the minds."

Mustangs Upset Forsan 40-12

The Wilson Mustangs upset Forsan, 40-12, for their third straight win of the season. Mike Koslan ran 34 yards on Wilson's first offensive play of the game.

The Mustangs rolled 247 yards rushing and 24 through the air and led 40-0 at one time. Steve Bedbarz hit paydirt from six yards out and John Earl Fields converted to make it 13-0 after one quarter.

Woody Follis hit over from the one and then ran the points to start the second quarter. David Wied scored on seven and five yard runs and Fields booted a PAT to make it 34-0 at the half.

Wied passed to Koslan in the fourth quarter before Forsan could get started. Will Morgan scored from a yard out and then Phillip Medlin recovered a fumble in the end zone on the final play of the game.

Tahoka Boys Awarded State Farmer Degree

Tahoka Boys awarded state de Lone Star Farmer Certificates were received last week by Charles Ashbrook, Bruce Franklin and Cliff Gardner. These three Tahoka High School seniors were recognized at the state F.F.A. Convention in San Antonio in July.

Only 2 percent of active Future Farmers may achieve this high degree and to qualify a boy must have earned $500.00 from his supervised project program. This money must be profitably invested in a farming program or shown by bank deposit statement. In addition, the boy must show outstanding leadership in his local F.F.A. Chapter and must participate in Area and State Future Farmer activities. All three of the Tahoka boys have met and surpassed these minimum qualifications and are to be congratulated.

Charles Ashbrook is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ashbrook, Bruce Franklin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gne Franklin and Cliff Gardner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Gardner. V.P. Alvie Knows The Answers

How long does it take to hatch an ostrich egg? How many bachelors in Bolivia? How much blubber in a male whale?

Alvie knows these answers and a jillion others. Folks smile and agree that Alvie is a regular encyclopedia of "useless information" but they never question the accuracy of his peculiar knowledge. That's because everybody knows Alvie gets his "answers" by memorizing the little space fillers we all see in our newspapers.

And to all of us, what we see in our home-town newspaper is immediately acceptable and believable.

The same is particularly true of advertising. To put your advertising message before all the people in this area put it in the Lynn County News.

It Doesn't Jerk . . . It Pulls

"If there is one enterprise on earth that the quitter should let alone, it is advertising. Advertising does not jerk . . . it pulls. It begins gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day, year after year, until exerts an irresistible power." — John Wanamaker.

1,410,000 Texas Cattle in Lots

There were 1,410,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter market in Texas on September 1, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

This is 7 percent above a year ago and 2 percent above the 1,388,000 on feed a month ago.

Feedlots of 1,000 or more capacity held 1,377,000 (98 percent) of the total being fattened for slaughter market. This size group is up 7 percent from September 1969 and percent above last month count. Of the 266 large feedlots, there were 179 that reported having cattle on feed September 1.

Placements into Texas feedlots during August totaled 256,000 head. These placements are 7 percent below August 1969 and down 6 percent from the previous month.

Marketings of fat cattle during August totaled 234,000 head, which is 8 percent above August 1969 but 2 percent below marketings for July.

Prussic Acid A Threat

Hybrid sorghum - sudan pastures, fast growing and excellent forage, can also be deadly, especially during the late summer and fall.

The breakdown of the sorghum's plant material by its own enzymes results in prussic acid poisoning for the animals which eat the plant material, Dr. John C. Reagor, toxicologist for the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, says. The actual agent causing death is hydrogen cyanide, the same chemical used in state gas chambers for executions, he adds.

"There are two times during which poisoning occurs," Dr. Reagor explained. "After frost where there is damage to the plants, high levels of hydrogen cyanide are very common in the plants.

"The second case is when plants perk up and begin fast growth after a very dry period during which the plants have been burned up."

The hydrogen cyanide is very volatile and therefore stays in the plants for only a very short time, but while it is present, animals must be kept off the pasture, he said.

"Usually, if a severe outbreak occurs, cows exhibiting symptoms when the veterinarian is called, will be dead before he can arrive," Dr. Reagor said. "He will probably be able to save only those which are still breathing after he arrives."

Hay that is improperly cured can also present prussic acid poisoning problems for a short time, Dr. Reagor noted adding that the blood of poisoned animals will be cherry red.

Dr. Reagor also urged farmers to be on the lookout for nitrate poisoning that may occur during the late fall on winter pastures when there is a lot of cloudy weather.

"The plants, instead of growing and changing nitrates into protein, just accumulate the nitrates," Dr. Reagor said. "Animals must also be taken off these pastures until the plants have had a chance to grow and convert the nitrates to protein.

Dr. Reagor noted that the blood of animals that have died from nitrate poisoning will be chocolate brown, just the opposite from those dying from prussic acid poisoning.

Practice a little wine-wizardry this summer on salads. Use wine when making crisp greens, marinated vegetable or tangy fruit salads. You'll be surprised at the flavor pick-up wine gives to dressings and marinades. Here are some salad-making tips:

Wash lettuce when you get it home from the store. Break romaine, leaf lettuce and bibb lettuce into leaves, wash well and store in plastic bags. Soak endive for several minutes in cool water to remove fine dirt particles and store in a plastic container or plastic bag.

Catawba wine is an excellent flavor enhancer for salad dressings. For a tasty dressing over green salads the home economist at Mogen David recommends: Combine in a jar: ¼ cup red wine, ¼ cup salad oil, ¼ cup red wine vinegar, 3 tablespoons Red Catawba wine, 1 clove garlic, 1 tablespoon chili sauce, 1 tablespoon mixed Italian herbs. Shake until well blended. Let stand to blend flavors. Remove garlic before adding to green salad.

For a delightful new flavor marinate fresh fruit in Cherry, Blackberry or Rosé wine several hours before serving.

White or Rosé wine is perfect to serve with green salads, while Dry Red, Cherry, Blackberry and Concord wine are good accompaniments for fruit salads.

A good dressing for a fruit salad is made with Cherry wine; combine ¼ cup sour cream, ¼ cup of cream, whipped and 2 tablespoons Cherry wine with a small amount of fruit juice to taste.

A.S.C.S. NEWS

Texas, Lynn County residents are well aware that U.S. - Japanese trade is extensive, Bertice Askew, Chairman of the Lynn County ASC Committee, commented recently.

"Almost everyone recognizes that Americans are important customers for Japanese goods. I wonder how many of us realize that the Japanese are major customers for American goods, especially for American farm commodities.

"In fact, Japan imports more U.S. agricultural products than any other country in the world -- a record $1.1 billion worth during the 1970 fiscal year," Askew said.

He pointed out that feed grains, soybeans, wheat, and cotton are important farm crops in Texas and that exports of these farm products to Japan have gone up dramatically in recent years.

More than six million tons of feed grains were shipped to Japan last fiscal year -- just about one-third of U.S. feed grain exports. Soybean exports to Japan had a 251 million dollar value, and wheat exports $136 million. Japan is our best cotton customer, taking one-fourth of its cotton from the U.S. and Japan bought $50 million worth of tobacco from the U.S. during the last fiscal year.

The ASC Committee Chairman reported that Secretary of Agriculture, Clifford M. Hardin recently took note of the American - Japanese trade story, calling it unprecedented.

Secretary Hardin also said: "The Japanese economy has paralleled that nation's growth in trade. In the years between 1960 and 1965, Japanese shipments in world trade more than doubled. By 1969, they had almost doubled again reaching $16 billion. Shipments to the United States increased in those nine years by more than four times -- $4.9 billion.

"The Japanese householder's disposable income has more than tripled since 1960. His demand for meat, milk, and eggs -- a good 'horseback' measure of consumer prosperity -- has increased by more than four times in 15 years.

"He is diversifying his eating habits as his income goes up. For example, per person consumption of wheat flour in this traditionally rice-eating society has increased by 30 percent in a decade and a half.

"Ten years ago, Japan's agricultural imports from the U.S. were $440 million. In the fiscal year just past, they were more than twice as great -- nearly $1.1 billion.

"But the agricultural exports are only one aspect of a beneficial trading relationship that can be summarized very simply: In terms of total exports, the United States is Japan's best customer, and Japan is the United States' best customer, and Japan is the United States' best off-shore customer.

"As you might expect, two-thirds of U.S. shipments to Japan last year were raw materials, mineral fuels, and food stuffs, while 90 percent of Japan's shipments to the U.S. were manufactured goods.

"This is the basis of beneficial world trade -- an exchange of goods based primarily on production efficiency.

"It is this principle that led Japan to look to efficient producers on the broad farmlands for the feed grains needed to satisfy its people's rising demand for livestock products.

"As a result, imported feed grains have triggered a rapid expansion of Japanese livestock production. This has brought Japanese consumers more meat and poultry at better prices; it has opened opportunities for Japanese farmers for new and profitable livestock enterprises; it has meant an important and expanding feed grain market for world agriculture.

"Almost the whole range of U.S. farm commodities finds Japan a leading customer.

"Japan wants, needs, and can afford these products, and the U.S. can supply them in any system of international trade in which price quality, and availability are the primary factors.

"In a world of competition, export expansion means salesmanship and service as well as price, quality and availability. The producers and marketers of the major U.S. agricultural products have understood this, and they support some 68 private trade organizations formed to develop markets overseas in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture. This is, of course, a mutual effort -- with many strong Japanese organizations bringing to it their special knowledge, their special abilities."

In closing, Agriculture Secretary Hardin gave special recognition to the trade organizations which last year accounted for two-thirds of total U.S. agricultural exports to Japan -- feed grains, soybeans, and wheat.

White and green, the symbolic 4-H colors, are likely to be noted with regularity during the week of October 4-10. 4-H Club members in Texas and the nation during this period will be observing National 4-H Club Week.

Governor Preston Smith in proclaiming 4-H Week said, "The purpose of 4-H Club work is to give equal training to the Head, Heart, Hands and Health of Texas young people and to help prepare them to be better leaders and citizens who will fit into the society where their life's work may take them.

"4-H is a part of the educational program of the Texas A&M University Cooperative Extension Service and is supervised at the local level by county Extension agents along with the help of 16,000 local volunteer 4-H leaders who are outstanding men and women in the local community.

"Texas 4-H members working with more than 202,500 educational learn-by-doing projects, apply the latest research and scientific information to their work, keeping records, arranging exhibits and giving demonstrations to pass this information to others.

"The leadership and citizenship training which 4-H members receive in this program is a valuable asset to our democratic way of life.

"Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of October 4-10 as 4-H Club Week in Texas, and urge all of our citizens to support and encourage the work of this organization which has as its motto, 'To Make the Best Better'."

According to the State 4-H leaders, observances are being planned throughout the state, either on the local county or county basis. A primary objective, they say, is to acquaint youth who are not now 4-H members with programs and activities available to them through 4-H. Also to acquaint the general public with the work the members are doing and their plans for future events and activities.

SPECIALIST BELIEVES

Meat Inspection Should Not Be Cause Of Plant Closing

As the enactment date of the Wholesome Meat Act of 1967 nears, many small livestock slaughter plants are going out of business, Woodrow W. Bailey, Extension livestock and meat specialist, reports.

"In December, 1967, Congress passed the Wholesome Meat Act, an amendment to the Meat Inspection Act of 1906," Bailey said. "It provided that within two years from passage, each State must furnish inspection equal to the Federal program in intrastate plants, but the enactment date was extended until Dec. 15, 1970."

Some counties in Texas are having slaughter plants closed by owners that have been serving a substantial number of people as their only source of animal slaughter and processing, Bailey said.

Some plant owners, when contacted by the local inspectors, have just decided to go out of business when they were told about the provisions of the new Texas Meat Inspection Law, he added, noting, however, that in most cases, plant owners should find that the regulations can be followed without hardships.

Bailey urged plant owners, thinking of closing plants, to thoroughly investigate the new law before making a final decision. He also added that there are definite advantages in having meat inspection.

"The public will have more confidence in the packing plants products, and criticism and complaints will be reduced," he said. "Products will have a longer shelf and storage life, and by observing label require-

Rep. E.L. Short Studying Farm Tax

AUSTIN -- State Representative E.L. Short of Tahoka is in the State Capitol for a Tuesday meeting of the House Interim Committee to study all matters pertaining to the taxation of farm, ranch and forest lands on the basis of their capability to support the raising of livestock and/or to produce farm and forest crops.

The District 73 House Member has been a farmer and rancher in Lynn County for 24 years and will begin his second term in the House when the Legislature convenes in January.

During his stay in Austin, Rep. Short met with Speaker Gus F. Mutscher.

Speaker Mutscher praised Rep. Short for his work in the interest of rural Texas during the past session.

"Rep. Short joins me in my Concern over the medical crisis facing Texas if recently enforced rules concerning Class 7C hospitals cause our rural hospitals to close down," Mutscher said. "We certainly appreciate Rep. Short's offer of his assistance in the work of the Texas Health Care Committee."

Mutscher said that Texas has 40 percent of the nation's Class 7C hospitals because of the large areas in Texas with sparse population, particularly in West Texas. Hospitals who do not comply with the regulations, such as having registered nurses around the clock, are in danger of having Medicare payments terminated, which would in turn force their closure.

Rep. Short is also serving on the House Interim County Government Study Committee at the request of the Speaker.

Farmers & Ranchers Will Receive Questionnaires

Information supplied by some 25,000 Texas farmers and ranchers will become the basis for the official crop production estimates for each county and the State.

County Agent Bill Griffin said a representative number of farmers and ranchers in Lynn County will be among the 25,000 in Texas receiving the questionnaire from State Statistician Cary Palmer of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin. The questionnaire will be mailed during the last half of October and early November.

Accurate estimates are of great importance to producers in planning their production and marketing, farm program participation and also for providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture, emphasized Griffin.

The program of estimates for each county is provided by the Texas Legislature. Since Texas covers such a wide area and with great diversification of production, State totals provide adequate information on our most basic industry, Agriculture, the county agent explained. This is a joint project, he said, between the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Statistical Reporting Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Because of the importance of the program, the county agent urges every producer in the county who receives a questionnaire from the Crop and Livestock Reporting Service to fill it out completely for his farm or ranch and return it to the Austin Office of the Reporting Service.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

With 90 percent of the grain harvested and the cotton well on its way to being ready to harvest farmers begin to turn their attention to putting the land up.

On fields where the grain is already in the elevator, chiselling is probably the best way to prepare the land. The big ox and similar chisel plows have added a great deal to our being able to hold moisture on this land. With the average row crop tractor we use today and a big shanked chisel plow we can destroy the plow pan and open the soil up to depths of one foot and greater. The soil fills back in where the chisel has passed and when the rain comes it all soaks in if it doesn't fall too fast.

With these heavy tractors and plowing through the field 3 to 20 times a year a piece of land really gets packed. You could readily see this in July and August by thrusting a sharp shooter shovel into the soil. It would go into the ground until it hit the plow pan then stop all of a sudden. Rain can not soak in near as well with a plow pan as it can when it is destroyed.

If a farmer leaves the residue from the grain crop on the surface of the land each stalk will act as a wind break to keep the land from blowing.

Managing the residue in this manner and using a chisel plow is the best way to take care of the land. Each stalk will push the blowing wind up off of the surface of the soil, therefore, the wind velocity at the ground level is not very great. The stalks will decompose during the winter adding organic matter and plant nutrients to the soil.

This decomposition is faster on the surface than it is turned under and it stops the valuable top soil from blowing away.

Says.....

The beauty of an apple goes a long way past the skin—right into the pulp of this tasty fruit. Appearance is a good guide to quality, but that doesn't help when you want "eating" apples and have mistakenly purchased cooking apples. That's where the variety is important. If the store has not labeled the apples, ask for the variety name.

It's often not easy to tell the variety just by looking. Usually you can identify the Delicious by the five knobs on the blossom end. But the Delicious apples grown in certain areas have knobs less pronounced. The popular Delicious apples both red and yellow -- are excellent for eating raw. Use them for dessert and for salads and fruit cups. The red variety has been around since 1894.

For a good cooking apple, try Rome Beauty. The romes have an especially good reputation as "bakers". They're also fine for stewing and frying--and for applesauce, apple pie and other cookery. Too, many enjoy their special tart taste for fresh eating.

Jonathans and Winesaps are excellent for both cooking and eating. You'll find these and many other apple varieties in especially plentiful supply, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. October is the peak month for apple harvesting, and a large volume will be moving to Market.

You can place a generous two-week supply of apples in the refrigerator. It's best to put them in the vegetable drawer or a plastic bag. The apples will remain crisp and fresh for eating out of hand and be at their peak of quality for cooking.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Pork Chops and Apple Buffet Dish
12 pork chops, 3/4 inch thick
About 45 to 50 cooked apple slices (6 to 8 medium-size apples)
1 cup apple juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon tabasco
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1 tablespoon cornstarch

Brown pork chops in hot fat. Place chops in a baking pan in a single layer but close together. Place 3 or 4 cooked apple slices atop each chop. Combine apple juice, lemon juice, tabasco and ground cloves. Pour this mixture over the chops. Bake until tender in a 325 degree oven for about 1 1/2 hours. Remove chops and use cooking juices for gravy. To thicken, use the cornstarch. Add a tablespoon of gravy to each chop before placing on buffet tray. Serves 12.

Fire Prevention Week Proclaimed

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:
I, V.F. Jones County Judge of Lynn County, do hereby declare the week of October 4-10, 1970 as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK in Lynn County, for the following reasons:
WHEREAS, according to the National Fire Protection Association - FIRE'S DAILY TOLL "...every single day in the U.S. is an average of 33 lives, 1,495 homes, 196 apartments, 26 school and college buildings, 10 churches, 22 hospitals and nursing homes, 111 farm buildings, 180 industrial plants, and 219 stores, restaurants, and office buildings."
WHEREAS fire claimed 12,100 lives and $2.4 billion in losses last year as a result of ordinary human carelessness -- a failure to observe basic safety precautions.
WHEREAS every year about half of America's destructive fires occur in towns under 10,000 population; and
WHEREAS we feel that rural America should be specifically included in FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, October 4-10, 1970, we urge all rural citizens of this county to be especially careful in using liquefied petroleum gas, gasoline and other petroleum gas, gasoline and other petroleum products, electrical appliances, as well as oil or gas fired heating systems; and
WHEREAS consideration should be given to protecting all farm buildings from lightning damage, that all trash is burned in an approved manner, that all heating systems are in proper working order, and that good housekeeping is practiced not only during FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, but 365 days of the year; and
WHEREAS the Lynn County Farm Bureau, in conjunction with all fire departments in the county have worked together to emphasize fire prevention and protection in the rural areas as well as in our cities and towns;
THEREFORE, I urge all citizens of Lynn County to join hands in recognizing this special period by working together fifty two weeks a year to more fully realize the benefits of FIRE PREVENTION WEEK. (signed) V.F. Jones Lynn County Judge
