Judge Jones Named Chairman

Lynn County Judge V. F. Jones has been named chairman of the local Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week observance which will be November 15-21, the week before Thanksgiving, according to C. G. Scruggs, Dallas, vice-president and editor of The Progressive Farmer magazine and chairman of the board of the statewide council promoting the special event.

Judge Jones is expected to call on agricultural and business leaders in the county to work as a committee in promoting appreciation for the abundance of food and fiber from the state's farms and ranches.

Texas Governor Preston Smith and John C. White, state commissioner of agriculture, are honorary chairmen for the statewide observance. Leon Slaughter, Abilene, projects director for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is coordinator for the Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Council, a non-profit organization chartered in May, 1971, "to sponsor public relations programs designed to gain consumer appreciation for the abundance, quality and value of food and fiber."

In addition to Slaughter and Scruggs, the other charter directors of the Council include Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture, Texas A & M University; Dr. Wayland Bennett, vice president for academic affairs, Texas Tech University; and Don Blacketer, Honey Grove farmer. The latter three serve as vice chairmen. James L. (Curly) Hays, Abilene, West Texas Utilities Co., is Treasurer of the Council.

A large number of professional people in agriculture-related businesses, organizations, state and federal agencies, news media, and educational institutions working in the Council.

The first organizational meetings of the Council were held in February in Fort Worth and Austin. Task force committees met in April in Austin, and the finance committee held its first meeting June 29 in Houston. Money to finance news releases, films for television and tapes for radio will come from voluntary contributions.

In the letter naming Judge Jones as chairman of the county Food and Fiber observance, Scruggs pointed out that agriculture is today -- and has been for many years -- the number one industry in the State of Texas.

"In this day and age of confusion and confrontation, drugs, pollution, etc., all of us tend to forget that through the unparalleled efficiency of agriculture, America is the best-fed -- and at least cost -- of any nation in the world," Scruggs said.

The Council state chairman said that even though a large part of Texas' population is now found in urban areas, the food and fiber industry of Texas figures strongly in the daily economic life of every Texan. "Over and above that," Scruggs added, "the bountiful array of food and natural fibers available to all is a blessing which no other nation enjoys."

To call attention to these facts, the county just before Thanksgiving -- November 15-21 -- has been designated as "Texas Food and Fiber Abundance Week." County judges all across Texas are being asked to give leadership to the effort on the county level.

News media are being asked to contribute free time and a space for publicizing the statewide celebration.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The Board of Directors of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has adopted a $199,450 budget for the organization's 1971-72 fiscal year. Officials state that the cotton producer association's funds each year are dedicated to a wide range of activities designed to "better the conditions under which High Plains cotton is grown and marketed."

Voluntary producer dues to PCG are 15 cents per bale, paid through gins, and these account for some 85 percent of the organization's income. Additional dues are paid by ginners, compresses, oil mills, banks and other cotton-oriented businesses. The association covers 25 counties surrounding Lubbock and has almost 25,000 members who in 1970 produced over half the cotton grown in Texas and about 17 percent of national production.

Lloyd Cline of Lamesa, Chairman of PCG's 15-man Finance Committee, told the Board "We have tried to bring you a budget which allocates available funds in a manner which will return maximum benefits to PCG members, and budget which authorizes only those expenditures absolutely necessary to the achievement of association goals."

The budget is up $5,050 from the previous year, generally reflecting the inflationary pressures acting on all society, Cline said. He noted however, that the organization will effect economies wherever it is possible to do so without reducing benefits to the membership. As evidence of PCG's "conservative management," he reported that of the $194,400 budget authorized by the Board of 1970-71, less than $170,000 was actually spent.

Final approval of the all-budgetary and policy matters at PCG is required of a 50-member Board, with two members from each of the organization's 25 counties. Donald Robinson of Lubbock serves as PCG's Executive Vice President.

Major items in the 1971-72 budget include: Agricultural Research ($23,000), under which grants-in-aid are made to established research institutions for work in variety breeding, temperature studies, moisture studies, gin pollution control, minimum tillage, narrow row or "broadcast" cotton culture, and the control of cotton diseases, insects and weeds; Fiber Research and Service ($12,000), which covers the cost of fiber and spinning tests on new and established High Plains varieties, plus technical services to spinning mills that are customers or potential customers of High Plains cotton;

Fiber Quality Analysis and Reports ($3,000), includes a twice monthly, computerized cataloging of each year's High Plains crop by grade, color, staple, strength, micronaire and elongation, with reports going to merchants and mills around the world as the crop is harvested;

Advertising and Public Relations ($25,000), for the publication of a monthly membership newsletter and for national, international and area advertising of High Plains cotton's availability and spinning qualities;

Salaries and Employee Retirement ($65,000), for the full time employment of four men and two secretaries, plus a part-time textile consultant and supplemental help at periods of peak work-load, and Travel ($17,500), which takes staff members and other officially authorized PCG representatives to meetings, hearings, textile mills, Washington, Austin and other places where decisions are made that affect the future of cotton and cotton producers.

The remainder of the Budget includes a $4,000 contingency fund and money for rent, taxes, insurance, accounting, legal counsel, office supplies and equipment, depreciation and other items necessary to the operation of a business.

PCA Loans Millions To Farmers

Area farmers and ranchers borrowed more than $21½ million from Lubbock Production Credit Association during the first six months of 1971, according to Alton Strickland, president.

This figure represents an increase of more than $900,000 over the same period last year. Texas' 34 Production Credit Associations loaned more than $448 million the first half of 1971, an increase of $33 million over the same period last year.

Lubbock PCA has offices in Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland, Ralls, Seminole and Tahoka. The Association makes agricultural loans in Cochran, Crosby, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties.

Bill Clinton County Agent Says...

Pesticides can be a blessing to gardeners and agricultural producers when insect pests come on the scene. But these chemicals can also be dangerous if used carelessly.

Certain steps should be followed before using any pesticide. First of all, be sure there is a need to use a pesticide. Check the garden or field closely to determine whether insect pests are present and the amount of damage that is being done. Identify the insect or contact the county Extension office for assistance.

Once the insect is identified and the situation warrants control measures, the next step is to select the proper pesticide for the particular job. Check the label carefully to be sure that the pesticide can be used safely on the crop in your field or garden. Pay particular attention to the waiting period described on the label which identifies the number of days required from the time of application until harvesting, grazing or other use of the crop.

Indiscriminate use of pesticides is the biggest problem with these chemical materials. Pesticides can work wonders in times of need, but they must be used cautiously. Do not spray during windy conditions so as to avoid drift onto another field or garden. Keep application equipment in good operating condition and wear protective clothing especially rubber gloves and a respirator.

In case of pesticide poisoning or injury, contact the nearest Poison Control Center at once, Lubbock Methodist Emergency Room.

All pesticide users should keep an accurate record of all material used, date of application, crop, weather conditions, soil type and any other information that may be valuable for later reference. Last, but not least, by any means, is the destruction of leftover pesticides and empty pesticide containers. This can be done by burying them at least 18 inches deep in an isolated area. If pesticides must be kept from the next season, be sure to store them in a locked room or shed where they will remain dry.

Billy Clinton In Akron, Ohio

Billy Clinton, who will receive a master's degree in general business from Texas Technological University this month, left Sunday for Akron, Ohio where he will be working in the management department of the Firestone Company. Prior to starting work he will have a three to four months travel assignment with a representative of the company which will take him over most of the United States. Upon completion of the tour he will be assigned a territory of his own to supervise. Billy hopes this will be in the Dallas area.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By RICHARD L. CHRISTIE

High school students are working this summer helping farmers to better utilize their resources. They survey the field, get elevations, made a grid map, and plot the contour line preparing the map for Soil Conservation Technicians to design parallel terraces. The farmer pays the wages of two Tahoka High School students and Soil Conservation Service the equipment, one employee and a supervisor. This fall when crops are harvested farmers will not have to delay construction until the work is done. They can begin construction as soon as crop is harvested.

David Turner, Rux Hensley, Terry Ayer, and Carlton Harvick, have been employed by farmers this summer. Johnny Martin has worked under Neighborhood Youth Corp and is now a Summer Aid employed by the Soil Conservation Service. Loamuh Harston has trained and supervised the work of these high school students. These young men have received valuable training in field engineering, note keeping procedures, and layout and design of conservation practices. They have obtained good knowledge of the problems and hazards of wind and water erosion as well as techniques and practices to prevent and control such problems.

The benefits of this type of work are numerous. The farmer benefits in that he can get the work done prior to the fall and at a time when he can not do it himself. He can be more definite in planning his word and dealing with a contractor to do the work. He can get the work done when the weather is not bad. It benefits the Soil Conservation Service in that they can spread their work load out. It allows this work to be done in slow season of word instead of peak season of work. The weather conditions also are better for them. It enables the SCS to assist more people. The other benefits not mentioned above are the income to the high school student as well as work experience.

This is a new type of working arrangement. We feel it will allow us to do a better job assisting the cooperators of Lynn County Soil Conservation District.

Softball Tourney Now Underway

GUEST EDITORIAL

Urban Renewal, American Way

There's a fellow in Cleveland who is probably doing more to re-sell America and the American system to disillusioned citizens than any congressman, columnist, or college president in the country.

He's the man who writes the ads for Warner & Swasey, the people who make machine tools for industry around the world.

For some years now the work of this man has shown up, every few months, in the big magazines. Always it is in the form of a short essay - two or three paragraphs, usually - designed to shore up the reader's faith in the system that has brought so much well-being to humanity.

Yesterday we began to flip through the new U.S. News & World Report, and there, on page 1, just inside the front cover, was one of the familiar Warner & Swasey page ads with a modest photo of a machine tool at work at the bottom.

The top half of the page is given over to our friend's current essay, which carries the title, "They changed their ghetto into a neighborhood."

There follow three short paragraphs. We take the liberty of reprinting them here in case your copy of U.S. News isn't handy:

"In a midwestern city is a street of once-comfortable homes which had become a shambles. One resident finally got tired of filth, and did something about it. He nailed up his fallen steps, swept the walk, washed his windows, picked up the trash in his tiny yard, replaced some rotten siding. His next-door neighbor liked the improvement, and did the same. Then a few more. Next they went to the others on the street and talked or badgered them into cleaning up. They all did it together for an old couple and a cripple.

"Someone a few streets away heard about it, came to look, went back and got his own street started. In time 14 areas, some white, some black, in that city had cleaned themselves up, by their own efforts, aided by nothing but their two hands and self-respect.

"That is true urban renewal - in the finest American tradition."

That's all. But doesn't it give you a lift to be reminded that there are still people willing to do things for themselves with no more leadership than a suggestion by the man next door?"

The Deacon Says

BY W. H. McNEELY

One who gives of his tithes because he feels it is his duty, receives little joy from it. But, one who gives because he loves God and Man will rejoice in his giving.

August is here and we've chosen our resident of the month. Mrs. Mattie McCord holds this honor, as decided by the staff and management. Congratulations, Mrs. McCord! We have lots of birthdays in August. At least five of us claim to be getting older, they are as follows: Olga Alcirra, the 13th; William Haney the 15th; Moyelle Banks the 26th; Woodrow Chancy the 27; and Virginia Dann, the 29th happy Birthday, folks!

We have so many blessings to be thankful for this week. You people have really been good to us. We'd like to thank Mrs. Tom Hale, Sr. for bringing in the homemade cake. Isn't our home pretty with all the flowers that have been brought! Mrs. Claude Thomas is responsible for bouquets in our living room and in Mrs. McCord's room. And, members of the First Baptist Church sent over some lovely flowers, too.

Mrs. Treadway, who owns the O'Donnell flower shop sent some yellow roses to Mrs. Cunningham. They sure cheered her up and brighten her room.

Mrs. Vivian Barnett, LVN, brought us several cartons of frozen vegetables. We will be eating good for a long time and sure appreciate you folks thinking about us in this manner.

We'd like to thank Mrs. Ray Smith from Grassland Nazarene Church for being so faithful to bring us special music on Thursday evenings. This past week she brought her mother with her to help her sing. Thank you Mrs. Lee Smart for helping bring us this treat. Mrs. Smart lives in Hamlin, Texas. Leighton Knox came with them also, and we enjoyed his playing the mandolin.

Mrs. Hammonds was here Monday to play the piano for us. Mrs. C. E. Short led us in singing hymns and we had a real good turn out. Thank you ladies for giving this time for your friends at the home!

We are so glad to report our Mr. Allen, who has been in the hospital at Lubbock for the past three weeks, has had his surgery and is doing very well. We expect him back here at the home in a week or ten days. Thank you for your prayers in his behalf.

Woody Chancy had a real treat this week. He got to go to Brownfield, Texas to attend the Chancy and Cloe reunion. Billy Chancy drove him down and he certainly enjoyed his day!

Mr. Hunt was doubly blessed this week as Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ricksecker of Topeka, Kansas had a baby girl, making him a proud great-grandfather again and his daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Truett Smith returned from their overseas trip. Mr. and Mrs. Smith went to London, England to attend an American Bar meeting. After the meeting they drove into northern England with its beautiful hills and lakes. Then, on to Paris, France, to visit Mrs. Smith's second cousin who showed them around southern France. "We had a wonderful time," was Mrs. Smith's comment.

Bonnie Smith's parents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hale are visiting in Kentucky. Mrs. Hale's mother and sister live there. We hope they have a good visit and a safe trip back home. Ida Rushing, LVN here at the home, suffered the death of her mother Sunday night. Our sympathy and prayers go out to her and her family at this difficult time. She had been a patient in Slaton Hospital for some time.

Martin White Has Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney I. Dean and family of Ohio spent the night at Tahoka with Martin and Billie White last week. There were on their way to California for vacation.

Sidney and Martin were overseas together during WWII serving in the U. S. Navy Medical Corps. Both were Lab technicians and were in charge of the Navy Morgue. On several occasions they had over 100 deaths to embalm and ship back to the States for burial.

Sidney and Martin had kept in contact with each other as Sidney owned a Funeral Home in Ohio until he sold about three years ago due to a heart attack. He is now assistant director with the State Department of Health of several counties in Ohio. This was the first time they had seen each other in 27 years - as Sidney was sent to the South Atlantic and Martin was a Medic with an Underwater demolition team in the South Pacific until WW II was ended. They planned to visit another Pharmacist Mate with whom they worked with and had made a Physician (Dr. G. J. Floyd, MD) of Arkansas. Dr. Floyd passed away recently due to a heart attack.

FREE AIR AND ELECTRICITY

Formula suggests positive results and that's what you're looking for in air conditioning. The successful formula for COOL is free air and electricity. Electric air conditioners are as dependable as your electric refrigerator, can be easily serviced by your neighborhood dealer, and cool your home or business no matter the outside temperature... even when the thermometer hits 100 degrees or more. Insist on the correct formula for cooling success.
