Barnes Retires From SWCD Board

Boyd Barnes recently completed ten years of service to the landowners and operators as a district director with the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District. Barnes was elected by the landowners in October of 1961 and served until his neighbors elected Elbert Crawford when Barnes declined to serve a

"I have seen many changes come about in the field of soil, water, plant and wildlife conservation," Barnes said.

"One of the major changes to come about is the learning how to plan, design and construct parallel terraces. I have seen our district lead the state the last six years in the amount of parallel terraces constructed. To date landowners and operators have installed 8,354,462 feet of parallel terraces," Barnes added.

"The Great Plains Conservation Program has made an outstanding contribution to our district program. It has provided assistances to our farmers to plan and carry out soil, water and plant conservation program," Barnes stressed.

"For twenty-nine years our district has been concerned with soil erosion, water conservation, water and air pollution and our total environment being a better place to live, raise our families and work to gain a livelihood. When we treat our soils to prevent wind and water erosion, we controll air and water pollution," Barnes explained.

Barnes is a native of Brownwood, Texas and moved to Lynn County in 1932. In 1940 he and Fern Caswell, a native of Montague County, were married and settled down at Draw to raise their family and spend their lives raising food and fiber which is necessary for the high standard of living that we enjoy. Their family consist of three daughters, Brenda Furlow, Draw, Janie Isbell, Tahoka, and Reginia, a second grader at O'-Donnell and one son Ricky a senior in the O'Donnell High Barnes has been very active in church, agricultural programs, sports and the Masonic Lodge where he earned the Master Mason Degree. For many years Barnes has taught the young peoples class and served on the board of stewards of the Draw Methodist Church. He has served five years on the Lynn County Agricultral Stabilization and Conservation Service.

When Draw fielded and supported a baseball team, Boyd played second base. For many years the Draw Baseballteam was known for their ability to play, win and bring home the first place trophy. These are displayed at the Draw Gin one of the sponsors.

New Game Laws And Seasons Outlined At Lions Meeting

Texas will probably have a gun safety act similar to Colorado's in the near future, according to Bobby L. Goff, Enforcement officer for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Goff was in Tahoka Wednesday to address the noon meeting of Lions.

Colorado now has a gun safety act and requires certain age hunters to attend safety sessions before a hunting license can be issued.

Goff showed slides outling the T.P.&W. use of an air. plane in making wildlife census counts and he also predicted the use of the airplane to apprehend violators.

Goff also reported a large hailstorm of September 16th in the west and south patts of the county. The greatest loss was to quail and he estimated over 50 percent of this years crop was lost.

The quail season has been set back to December 1 and will continue thru February 15th. Although hunting digests are available, a special quail supplement will be issued at a later date. Of interest to hunters, will be the fact that plugs are no longer required in shotguns in counties under jurisdiction of the Parks and Wildlife Department, except for water fowl and dove. Counties under general law still require a three shot capacity in shotguns. For hunters, interested in hunting the Sandhill or Little Brown crane, the season will open October 30 in Zone A, (west of highway 87) and will close January 30. Zone B (east of highway 87) will begin December 4 and continure thru January 30. Bag limit this year has been raised to three with a possession limit of 6.

Goff says more and more hunters are going after crane with marked success. People are learning how to hunt them. Goff also reports crane meet to be delicious chicken fried.

Goff reminded Lions of the fact that a hunting license is required when hunting out of your home county for ANY type of game. He cited a recent case where some out-of-county men were fined for hunting in this county without a license. They, consequently, were not hunting protected or seasoned

The Club still has some Halloween candy left for sale. One dollar buys a bag of assorted candy, each piece individually wrapped, 160 pieces to the bag. The money from this project will go to the Youth Center and to the Lions Camp for Crippled Children. See any Lion for your candy.

Visitors at the October 20th meeting included Garland Thornton, Mike Reid and Rudy Johnston.

Bobby Goff was introduced by October program Chairman Ed Redwine.

Visitors are welcome at the Lions Wednesday noon meetings. Jackie Jaquess is boss lion....

ways this can be done. Conservation districts are local sub-divisions of state government which utilize and coordinate assistance from the U. S. The Lynn Soil and Water Conservation District Directors will co . sponsor a range tour on the Post - Montgomery Ranch, Thursday, November 4 to observe and discuss new findings in chemical control of mesquite and redberry juniper (cedar), A. The tour will start at 9:00 a.m. at the Graham Community Center and travel to the ranch and observe various chemical treatments on both mesquite and ceder. Return to the Graham Community Center for a dutch treat barbeque. The afternoon will be spent studying the conversion of mesquite to livestock feed by bacteria. Observation and discussions of the use of five, new shredder design, chaining, aerial spraying, and basal treatment of mesquite with experimental chemical, Sheppard explained.

Texas Tech University is doing some of the brush control work with funds made available to them from the Brush Control and Range Improvement Association which receives their funds from ranchers that give 1 cent per acre to fight the brush problem in Texas, Sheppard added.

Delaware is the second smallest state in the Union.

Lubbock-based cotton producer organization, is objecting to the lack of changes in the 1972 cotton program as announced in Dallas October 18 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

PCG objections and the reasoning behind them were expressed October 22 in a letter to Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin from PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. The text of the letter fol'ows.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.,

"We have studied the announced provisions of the 1972 cotton program and find that we are not entirely in agreement that they are all in the best interest of cotton producers and the cotton industry.

"We commend your decision to increase the minimum price at which Commodity Credit Corporation stocks can be sold in competition with cotton held by producers. The new 115 percent of the loan, as opposed to the previous 110 percent of the loan minimum, will give us a little better opportunity to benefit from market price fluctuations in the future, and we appreciate being given that opportunity. "On the other hand, as we have indicated to you previous. ly, we feel (1) that the level of the 19.5 cent loan should be raised and (2) that there should be either a reduction in the required 20 percent setaside for cotton or else per-

rent conditions are needed to give producers added price protection in the marketplace and to give our cotton customers in this country and abroad greater assurance that U. S. farmers in 1972 will produce adequate supplies to meet their needs. Without such assurance they have no choice but to protect their investments by planning in the direction of other fibers. At least one maker of bed sheets has indicated already that consideration is being given to a shift from a 50-50 polyester cotton blend to a 65-35 blend for this very reason.

"In light of present market conditions the level of the loan may not appear to be of great significance, but this situation could change rapidly. Producers know this and therefore desperately need an increase in the 'floor' under their prices if they are to secure the necessary financing for increased cotton acreage.

"All cotton people have long been concerned that a higher loan level sometimes encour. ages increased cotton production in competing foreign countries. But such is not now the case. World market prices are such that the great danger of stimulating foreign production lies not in the U.S. loan level but in giving foreign producers confidence that the U

S. will not produce enough cot. ton to supply its export mar-kets. The Cotton and General Economic Review, published in Liverpool and widely read throughout the world, commented prior to announcement of 1972 program provisions 'On present indications the USDA intends neither to raise the basic acreage allotment nor to ease the set-aside regulations and will rely upon current market values and a modest increase in the loan to effect an expansion of plantings.

"Of greater significance, however, from the same paragraph is the following: 'Recollection of events last spring, when high prices were already a foregone conclusion, engenders little faith in such a policy. Farmers in other producing countries should now be actively encouraged to aim at a bumper 1972-73 crop and will manifestly face little price risk in doing so.'

"Without even a 'modest increase in the loan' as referred to above, and with confirmation of this respected writer's suspicions that there would be no increase in base allotments or relaxing of setaside requirements, we must conclude that foreign producers will in fact 'aim at a bumper 1972 crop.

"We cannot conceive of any better evidence than the foregoing that the program provis. ions announced for next year are seriously lacking in their prospects for avoiding effects detrimental to the U. S. cotton producer and the U. S. cotton industry. "As you know it has been repored that the 1972 program is a 'tentative' program and that changes may be made following the planting intentions survey in January. And we are grateful for this indi. cation that the Department is not locked in on a program which we believe is not in the best interest of U. S. cotton producers. But at the same time we would point out that late January or early Feb. ruary program revisions will be too late to inspire additional plantings on many U. S. farms and too late to deter expanded acreage in many competing countries.

"If U. S. cotton producers are to be given the price protection and other incentivies necessary to increased production; if U. S. textile mills are to have any assurance at all that adequate, balanced supplies will be available to meet their demands; and if foreign cotton producers are not to be given strong and log. ical reasons for acreage increases, changes in 1972 cot. ton program provisions are required at the earliest pos. sible date."

NURSING HOME NEWS

Our news is a little short this week as our on-the-jobreporter, Corine Izard has been ill all week. Dr. Thomas was in to see her and order. ed antibiotics for her. We know she didn't feel well as she couldn't even make it to the dining room. And, Corine just doesn't pass up a trip to the dining room unless she's awful sick. But, at this writing she is feeling much better and is thankful for prayers in her behalf. Ruby Harvick and Louise Wyatt were in often to check on her. We were sorry to lose our Mrs. King this past week. She moved to Lubbock to another nursing home and is enjoying a nice sized private room. We hope she is very happy in her new home.

Our boss, Mr. Bales, has been gone four days to Houston for a meeting. We miss his hand in our work out hope that he had a pleasant and profitable trip.

We miss our Mr. Allen from the home too. He had gone to live with his daughter, Ruby. We do hope he'll be happy and come back to visit his friends here soon and often.

Mrs. Dovle Terry and Mrs. McGrew were here Monday to visit their brother, Mr. Inklebarger. While they were here, Mrs. Edgar Hammonds came to play the piano and lead us in singing. These ladies helped us sing as did Mrs. Short. We sounded real good all together.

Grandmother Harvick baked a huge stawberry lavered cake and sent it to Corine. She shared with all the staff. It sure was good!

Mrs. McCord was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Short this past week and Valeta Burks was in Lubbock with her mother. She came home Thurs. nice visit.

The Colver's from New Mexico were here to visit Mr. Stone. Mrs. Colyer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stone. They had a wonderful visit together.

Mrs. Slover brought us some lovely flowers to brighten the the flower show.

home as did the ladies from Mr. Garland Pennington came through this week with some more Sunday newspapers. We sure enjoy getting these extra ones.

Mrs. Clark was out Sunday to church and then home with Slim Pyburn, her son for fresh catfish dinner. Sounds good! Mr. Hunt's daughter from

Amarillo was in to visit him this week. Mrs. Harters' sister was here over the weekend and she got to spend the night away from the home with her.

Mrs. Reed was out of the nome to visit Mrs. Russell at Golden Manner. With Cornie feeling better maybe we will have more news next week. Remember us all with your prayers and visits.

Recent visitors signing our book were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Colyer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Opal Barrington, Mrs. Addie Roy, Elwayne Chandler, Tom Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Luttrell, Carlis and Ruth Edwards.
