

Big Red Too Much For Tahoka Bulldogs

District Hopes Stopped By DC

The Tahoka Bulldogs got just a little bit too much of Big Red last Friday night as Denver City edged the Bulldogs Eleven by a score of 15-12 to completely eliminate the Bulldogs from District contention and throw Denver City into a tie for the District Championship with Cooper. Cooper will represent the District in the playoff since they beat Denver City.

Tahoka received the opening kickoff last Friday night and failed to move and were forced to punt to Denver City. Denver City took the ball on their own 38 yard line and moved 62 yards to score, aided in the drive by 4 off-side penalties against the over-eager Bulldog linemen and a 29 yard pass from quarterback Thorne to half-back Bruce Shores. Qualway the last 3 yards for the touchdown and Connally kicked the point after to give Denver City an early 7-0 lead with just 6:06 left in the first quarter of action. The Bulldogs came right back in the first quarter and marched 79 yards for a touchdown in 10 plays. Fullback John Thomas went 28 yards, breaking several tackles to score. The attempted pass for the PAT was incomplete leaving the score at 6-7 with 1:23 left in the first quarter of action.

The Post Antelopes will travel to Tahoka this Friday night to end the season for both teams. Pride will be the only thing involved in the game as both teams are out of contention for titles.

The Bulldogs played a hard fought game against the Mustangs but were just unable to contain the running game of Denver City.

County Hospital Administrator Killed In Plane Crash Sunday

Lynn County Hospital Administrator, James F. Thompson, Jr., a missing Tahoka pilot, was found dead in his engine aircraft at 3:05 Tuesday on the Boffel Ranch, 18 miles north of Breckenridge.

Thompson had been flying since late Sunday. He was reportedly taken to Redbird Airport at Dalhart. He was flying a gold and red Cessna 182 plane with the FAA registration N657AK. His last communication came at 6:03 Sunday, 13 minutes after he reported flying over the top of the clouds at 5,000 feet.

There was a 500-foot overcast at Redbird when he took off and he was faced by a line of thunderstorms stretching north and south on the west side of Abilene.

The aircraft was spotted by a Redbird man, Dayton Park. Koonie Eagle, who took from Tahoka Airport at 7 p.m. Tuesday and flew westward route that Thompson might have flown.

Office of the Peace J.B. of Breckenridge ruled the crash due to accidental causes. It occurred between 6:45 and 7:15 p.m. Sunday, he said. Civil Air Patrol pilots from Fort Worth covered nearly 12,000 square miles on the second day of the search and nearly 5,000 square miles Monday.

Eleven aircraft from Lubbock's Town and Country Airport flew 15 sorties Tuesday, with Capt. Bill Wilkenson and Lt. Jack Reeves in charge of the Cap search here.

After the two Tahoka men spotted the wreckage, law enforcement officer from Stephens County first reached the crash site and returned the body to Satterwhite Funeral Home in Breckenridge.

James F. Thompson, Jr. was a native of Dallas and it was reported that his services would be held in that city.

The 26 year old Lynn County Hospital Administrator came to Tahoka a little over a year ago from Van Horn, where he resided before taking over his duties in Tahoka.

Survivors include his wife Barbara, a son Tobe; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Thompson Sr. of Dallas.

Mrs. Robinson's Rites On Monday

Mrs. B.H. (Ethel) Robinson, 84, resident of Lynn County for 74 years, died at about 12:30 p.m. Sunday in Lynn County Hospital following a long illness.

Funeral services were held Monday at 3 p.m. in First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Jim Turner, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Mrs. Robinson was born in Kaufman, near Dallas, February 23, 1888. She first came to Lubbock with her mother, Mrs. Eklie Cooke, in 1891, and they returned there to live in 1896. Mrs. Cooke, a widow, married Jack Alley at Lubbock in 1898, and they came to Lynn County to live at Col. C.C. Slaughter's Tahoka Lake Ranch, where Mr. Alley was the manager. Ranch headquarters were then on the present Marshall Stewart farm east of Tahoka but was soon moved to the north springs at Tahoka Lake, where Mr. Alley had filed on four sections of land.

The ranch then covered much of the east half of the county, and as a child Ethel and her mother frequently rode the range with the cowboys, attended cowboy dances and parties, and even help fight prairie fires. At one time Ethel was the only child in the county.

She attended school at Lubbock, a convent in Stanton, Tahoka, old Birdwell College in Big Spring, and Simmons College in Abilene.

She was married here to Britton Hall Robinson May 5, 1908. She was a member of the Eastern Star and the Methodist Church. She owned and operated Robinson Ready-to-Wear many years until failing health forced her to retire several years ago.

Survivors include her husband; one son, Jack Alley Robinson of Tahoka; two grandchildren, Britt and Julie Robinson; and one great-grandchild, Jackie Robinson all of Tahoka.

Pallbearers were Albert Curry, Tom W. Hale, Norvell Redwine, W.H. Kenley, Oscar Whitaker and George McCracken.

Board Approves Annual Audit

The Tahoka ISD Board of Education met for its regular monthly meeting Thursday, November 9, and was presented with a report of the annual audit of all school funds by a representative of Bollinger, Segars, Gilbert and Moss, the firm of certified public accountants that has been engaged by the Board to make the annual audit for the past three years. Each local school district, each year, is to have a local textbook committee appointed by the local Board of Education. The local Textbook committee examines sample textbooks that have been approved by the State Board of Education for use in Texas Schools and makes recommendations for such adoption as are to be used in the local schools.

The following areas of study will have new textbook adoptions for 1973-74, and the adoptions will be made in the spring of 1973:

Basal Readers, Grade 4; Basal Readers, Grade 5; Basal Readers, Grade 6; Supplementary Readers, Grade 4; Supplementary Readers, Grade 5; Supplementary Readers, Grade 6; History, Grade 5; American History, Grade 8; Civil Government (Citizenship) Grade 8; Trigonometry; World Geography Studies; American History; Civil Government; Economics; French, Level Four; German, Level Three; Homemaking; Voc. U.S. Cotton Allotment Cut 1.5 Million Acres

A REDUCTION of 1.5 million acres in the national allotment and elimination of the "set-aside" requirement were announced for the 1973 cotton program Tuesday by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

U. S. Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock was informed of the program announcements by Kenneth Frick, administrator of the USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Provisions Outlined

The congressman expressed concern about the allotment reduction, pointing out it will mean a cut in cotton payments issued to producers.

Major provisions of the 1973 program include:

- A national paying base, or allotment, of 10 million acres, compared with 11.5 million in 1972.
- No cotton set-aside (idle acreage) requirement as a condition for eligibility for price support loans and production payments.
- A national production goal of 11.1 million bales, down nearly 3 million bales from this year's estimated crop.
- A preliminary government payment rate of 15 cents a pound, to be paid as soon after next July 1 as practicable, same as 1972.

The National Cotton Advisory Committee and the National Cotton Council, along with the Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., had urged the USDA to make changes in the acreage allotment or the set-aside level.

Under the 1972 program, growers had to set-aside, or idle, the equivalent of 20 per cent of their base allotment.

Could Count Blanks

On the Texas High Plains, where the base allotment this year totaled almost 17 million acres in 25 counties, the cotton set-aside amounted to approximately 340,000 acres.

Many growers, however, used skip-row planting patterns, and were allowed to count the blank rows—provided they were at least two rows of normal size in width—on their set-aside requirements.

The program changes for 1973 were described by USDA officials as a move to give growers more income and less government aid.

A grower who retained the payment yield next year that he had in 1972 might expect the total farm cotton payment in 1973 to be down something like 13 per cent, some agricultural officials at Lubbock speculated.

This, they said, was based on assumption of a fairly uniform distribution among states, counties and farms of pro rata shares of the national allotment cut. Allotments by counties are expected to be announced later this year.

The 1973 allotment for Texas was announced at 4,250,719 acres, down from 4,885,568 acres this year. The New Mexico allotment was set at 107,762 acres, compared with 123,711 acres in 1972.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz said in a statement:

"The (1973) program takes into account today's cotton situation and aims at providing a stable supply and maintaining adequate carryover stocks.

"The program should provide, farmers broader opportunities to diversify their operations by raising other crops, such as soybeans or grain sorghum, on what formerly would have been set-aside land or land in cotton."

Frick was asked what would happen if bad weather such as marked the fall in Texas last year should again set in and cut deeply into this state's cotton production.

"Prices 'Could' Adjust

"What we are hoping is that the commercial world will learn enough to make its own adjustments," he said.

Prices could adjust to handle such situations as too large or too small a carryover, the ASCS administrator said.

"Each individual farmer would react according to his own situation," Frick said, "and that's what we are after."

With the elimination of the set-aside, and with the reduced acreage allotment for cotton, farmers might be expected to plant about 1 million more acres to soybeans, perhaps 200,000 to 300,000 acres in sorghum and smaller acreages of other things such as corn, Frick estimated.

Will Permit Transfers

"The need for soybeans is the overriding one," he asserted.

To the federal government, the changes can mean the cotton program will cost $704 million next year, compared with $810 million this year, officials said.

To the farmer, with demand brisk for some other crops and prices good, the changes might mean he could make more money than with cotton, depending upon many variables, USDA spokesmen contended.

Butz said: "Cotton farmers have been shifting toward greater reliance on markets as a source of their income for the past two years by transferring allotments, through the leasing process, to areas where cotton can best be produced. The 1973 program will continue to allow such transfers."

To Spur Activity

Allotment brokers at Lubbock said elimination of the set-aside might spur activity in transferring cotton acreages from other parts of Texas to the High Plains, since growers will not be obligated to idle two-tenths of every acre leased.

The set-aside change also will mean growers will not run a risk of being called out of compliance with the farm program, or subjected to penalties, for failure to idle cotton land of "average productivity."

The Tahoka Junior Varsity Football took another close victory last Thursday by downing Slaton 6-0. It was a close defensive game all the way with the Bulldogs dominating the game all the way but missing out on several scoring opportunities.

The Bulldogs finally posted a score early in the fourth quarter when quarterback David Sisney hit Terry McCord with a pass that covered 15 yards and McCord went in for the score. The try for extra point failed and Tahoka led 6-0.

Linda Huffaker Says . . .

Simply using a small ruler can help the shopper determine several important characteristics about a knit fabric.

Consider stability and shrinkage factors to coordinate knit fabrics and patterns.

The knit's stability is important. Moderately stretchy and very stretchy knits require more care in construction, including scrupulous stay-stitching where the sewer doesn't want the seams to stretch.

Stability can be determined by gripping the knit fabric and ruler in your left hand, four inches from the raw edge. Next, stretch the fabric toward the right and measure how much it stretches.

If the stretch is no more than half an inch, the fabric is stable; up to 1/4 inch is stretchy; up to 1/2 inch means it's moderately stretchy; and more than 1/2 inch means the fabric is very stretchy.

After determining the stability in this way, check the back of the pattern envelope to see if the fabric's stretchiness is suitable for the style chosen.

In addition to determining the knit's stability, the shopper can check its recovery ability as well.

After stretching the knit, let it go with your right hand. If it springs back to its original shape immediately, it has good recovery ability and won't grow during construction.

If it doesn't snap back right away, then special care in sewing and handling will be necessary.

Also, shrinkage is easily converted from percent to inches per yard with the ruler.

By knowing the shrinkage, the purchaser can decide whether to allow additional yardage for shrinkage in washable knits.

Wilson Dehorned Whiteface, 36-0

The Wilson Mustangs raised their win-loss record to 7-2 on Friday night by dehorning Whiteface Antelopes 36-0. The Wilson defense playing outstanding game limited Whiteface to only 2 yards in the first half, 79 the third quarter and 29 the fourth quarter. While the Mustang defense was performing its duties the offense was rolling up 42 yards making it three times in a row in which the offense has gained over 400 yards. The Wilson defense was led by Danny Crowson with 21 tackles, Leland Brieger with 18, Laster Walker and Greg with 11, and Johnny Arend with 9. The offense was led by Chris Coleman who threw 3 T.D.'s, one on a 63 yard pass run, one on a 21 yard end-around, and one on a 47 yard punt return. The Mustangs were able to score with only 53 seconds in the first quarter on a 42 yard run up the middle. David Hernandez, John Adams kicked the first of 4 points. The 2nd quarter was more productive as the Mustangs scored 21 points. On Wilson's first play of the second quarter, John Fields hit Chris Coleman with a perfect pass and Coleman raced the rest of the 63 yards to pay dirt. Adams kick was good. After a 41 yard field goal attempt by Adams was wide, Coleman raced 47 yards on an end-around for Wilson's third T.D. and Fields kicked the extra point. Wilson finished off the first half on a 5 yard T.D. pass from Fields to Danny Crowson. Fields made it a perfect night with his 4th extra point kick.

The Wilson reserves took over in the 3rd quarter and battled Whiteface nose to nose with neither team being able to score.

The fourth quarter was a repeat of the third quarter with the exception of a brilliant 88 yard T.D. punt return by Chris Coleman. Fields faked the E.P. kick and passed to Danny Crowson for the 2 points to make the final score 36-0.

The Mustangs travel to Matador this Friday night to end their season against the Matador Matadors.

U. S. COTTON

A cotton farmer receives a federal payment on a certain allotted acreage. That is, if he has a 320-acre farm, he might have a 100-acre allotment for growing cotton.

Eligible For Loans
The set-aside meant he had to agree not to grow cotton on a certain portion of the allotment. But the payment still was made on the basis of 50 acres. And he could grow whatever he wanted - including cotton - on the rest of the farm, except that he could not get the payment for the "extra" portion.

All the cotton a cooperating farmer produces is eligible for a price support loan set at least 10 per cent below the average world market price.

The base loan rate for 1973, as announced last month, will be 19.5 cents per pound for middling one-inch, 3-5-9 microaire, at average location. This is unchanged from the 1972 loan level.

Allotments Disclosed
Federal farm policy officials now figure farmers will plant about 12 million acres of cotton next year, compared with 13.7 million for 1972.

The 1973 allotments by states also will be 587,516 acres in Alabama, 208,060 in Arizona, 831,428 in Arkansas, 462,725 in California, 18,893 in Florida, 506,201 in Georgia, 1,771 in Illinois, 7 in Kansas, 4,238 in Kentucky, 348,292 in Louisiana, 956,654 in Mississippi, 223,759 in Missouri, 2,202 in Nevada, 270,800 in North Carolina, 464,480 in Oklahoma, 413,183 in South Carolina, 332,069 in Tennessee and 9,501 in Virginia.

Soil Custodians
American farmers and ranchers spend millions of dollars every year to protect our soil and water supplies and to stop pollution. As members of 3,000 local soil and water conservation districts, farmers have improved more than 575 million acres of private land, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

editorially speaking - Convincing Proof Near

There were places in the United States during the past summer where motorists might have encountered a gasoline shortage. Their experience could well be a prelude of events to come. As Mr. Roger W. Benedict writes in The Wall Street Journal, "Once - abundant supplies of gasoline and heating oil are shrinking faster than anybody expected and too fast . . . to do much about. Possibly as soon as this winter and almost certainly by next summer, consumers could begin feeling the pinch of tightening supplies - raising the outside possibility of some people shivering in their homes and others occasionally finding their favorite service station's pumps dry."

These shortages - and impending shortages - are the cumulative result of many factors. Perhaps the greatest factor is lack of a coordinated, national energy policy. In the words of a major oil company executive, "The government has to realize that its policies have put the oil industry in a hell of a fix." He said the incentive simply ". . . isn't there to build new refining capacity." He also observed that price controls threatened already shaky profits of refiners. Capital investments in refineries return only about 3 per cent or less. By 1980, the country will need at least 58 additional refineries with an average capacity of 150,000 barrels a day or more. Yet a major new refinery hasn't been built on the East Coast since 1959, while eight old ones have closed in the last decade. Environmental restrictions have halted refinery construction while pollution control devices on autos, for example, have greatly stepped up gasoline consumption.

These are a few reasons why in - the - not - too - distant future American motorists can expect to encounter much higher prices, a gasoline shortage - or both. That should convince even the most complacent that oil men are not kidding when they present the strongest possible case for "a national oil policy," that will greatly stimulate energy resource development.

Political Affluence

While lawmakers of state after state, as well as the federal government, vote themselves salary increases to keep up with the cost of living, family purchasing power has declined. The Wall Street Journal reports the trend. Says The Journal: "In Pennsylvania, lawmakers are expected to adopt a special panel's recommendation that their pay be hiked to $19,200 from $7,200 a year. . . . Lawmakers' pay has spurred in many states: in California, they now get $19,200 a year, up from $5,000 in 1966." On family incomes, The Journal observes: "Half of U.S. families earned $10,285 or more in 1971. . . . But in terms of 'real' dollars, adjusted to strip away the effects of inflation. . . last year was the second consecutive year of declining purchasing power." Meanwhile, the number of people living below the poverty line last year was 25.6 million compared with 25.4 million a year earlier.

As the bureaucracy of big government grows, and the tentacles of a welfare state reach deeper into the pockets of working citizens, austerity becomes the companion of more and more people, and affluence is reserved for those who spend the taxes and write the laws. It is an old, old story that the oppressed of many lands have lived with throughout history.

A Father's Hope

Most young people find that sometime in their early and middle teens, parents may become quite a burden and may stay that way for quite awhile. It is during this trying time that youngsters test their wings and out of the confusion gain some understanding of life. But now that higher education is being spread around a little more liberally than it used to be, most youngsters pack off to college just about the time they are at the height of their teen - age confusion. Very often the Ived Halls do little, at least for the first two or three years, to nurture the tender seed of common sense and human wisdom which may be seeking to take root somewhere in the student's cranial area.

Mr. William F. McCurdy, an executive of one of the nation's largest retailing organizations, wrote a letter to his son on the occasion of his beginning his college career. His letter offers good advice for a lot of older people as well as those on the young side of the generation gap. He said, "Above all else we hope that you will not destroy the private enterprise system of America. We hope rather that you will understand it, appreciate it, learn to cherish it, because if you don't my son, I predict that 20 years from now you're going to have a son driving off to school during another generation gap and you're going to be defending your generation against his generation and he's going to be saying that your generation turned out to be a bunch of sociological weirdos who were the residual legatees of an economic Garden of Eden and had neither the good sense nor strength to preserve it." It is the job of young and old alike to see that this can never be said about any generation of Americans.

Stock Market Is Rotary Subject

"Sitting Tight for 60 Years" was the subject of a talk at Tahoka Rotary Club last Thursday by Wm. C. (Bill) Sharpley, an assistant football coach here back in the early 1950's and now a Lubbock stock broker.

Sharpley pointed out in his talk somewhat gloomy predictions of conservative investors made each 10 years from 1914 until date on stock investments, while during this period stocks generally have increased tremendously in value. For example, he said, a wise investment in 1950 would have increased tenfold by today. The average investor, he said, has lost money "sitting tight".

Harold Green was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

The Tigers made a strong effort to score with 2 minutes remaining in the game but were stopped by the Bulldogs on the 8 yard line when a fourth down try failed with only seconds remaining. Before this drive the Tigers were held to only 2 first downs the first half and only 1 first down the last half. The drive by the Tigers with time running out was the only time that they were allowed on Tahoka's end of the field. Several boys contributed outstanding play on defense with Kent Harvick and Benjie Williams both blocking Tiger punts and forcing them to hurry on other occasions; Jeff Roberts intercepted a Tiger pass and Kent Payne recovered 2 Tiger fumbles.

The Bulldogs have allowed only 59 points to be scored against them and 28 of these were in one game when they defeated Crosbyton 34-28. They have now played 7 games and in 3 of the contests they did not allow their opponent to score.

The next game is Thursday night at Post.

WARNING TO HUNTERS

Texas has a law on its books which makes it a felony to carry prohibited weapons such as firearms of any type or character, or a knife with a blade of more than five and a half inches in length into any place where alcoholic beverages are "sold or consumed." Penalty is five years in the penitentiary.

This law also provides that all licensed premises must display a sign warning all patrons of the existence of the statute.

Particular attention is being called to this law since liquor, as well as beer has now become legalized in many areas of the state.

So, if you want to stop for a cool one, or a six-pack, while enroute to that hunting site, leave that gun (unloaded) in the car. Don't even think of taking it inside a beer tavern or any place serving or selling liquor of any kind.

And treat the deer-skinning knife or other long blade with the same respect. The scabbard is legal, but what's in it is not.

Last Of The Minors Playing Here Friday

After 48 years of football probably the last of the Minor clan will see action on a Tahoka football field Friday night when the Bulldogs meet the Post Antelopes.

But this time the Minor is an Antelope. He is Johnny Minor, youngest son of James Minor of Post, and grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Minor of Tahoka.

Actually Tahoka had its first football team in 1922. Two years later, the first of the Minors, A.J., now a building contractor in Spokane, Washington, A.J. played guard and tackle as a sophomore in 1924.

Next came Jack, now owner of a food store in Seagraves, who was an outstanding half-back 1928 through 1930. Tahoka's 1930 team was said to have had the fastest backfield ever to appear in this area in Minor, Billy Lester, Coughran Ketter, and Curtis Stephens, all of whom were clocked at 10 seconds or less in the 100 yard dash. That was also believed to have been one of Tahoka's greatest teams ever.

James was the next Tahoka athlete playing football here four years 1932-1935, then at Howard Payne College four years 1936-39, where he was all-Texas Conference quarterback three years, Little All-American second team one year and honorable mention two years. In track he did the 100 yard dash in 9.5 on a dirt track covered with goat heads. Incidentally, James was president of his class all the way through high school and college. During World War II he distinguished himself as a member of the 36th Division in the invasion of Italy, France and Germany rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, and since has served as president of the 36th Division Association. He presently operates Mason Funeral and Mason Furniture in Post.

Max Minor, who became Tahoka's most distinguished athlete, played here four years 1936-39, broke all kinds of South Plains football and track records and had the highest scholastic record of any boy ever to graduate from Tahoka High. He was recruited by Blair Cherry for Dana X. Bible, coach of the University of Texas. After playing there two years, he received an appointment to West Point, and played on the Army team as a blocking back for the famed Davis and Blanchard. At Army, he was voted the most valuable player, and Coach "Red" Blaid once declared "Max Minor was the best all-around football player I have ever coached or seen."

While at West Point he also set new Intercollegiate 50- and 60-yard dash records. Still in the Army Air Force currently at the Pentagon, Max has risen to the rank of Colonel.

Joe Don was last of the Minor brothers to star for Tahoka, also was recruited by Texas U., He was on the Texas freshman team when he received a severe head injury and doctor's orders Coach Cherry would not permit him to play anymore. Joe Don lives in Austin. James' older son, Jimmy was quite a player at Post and made all-district his senior year but was too small for college ball. The youngest, son, Johnny, who plays here Friday, was a running back until he had a knee operation then got the other knee injured, and still is said to be "tough as a boot" but has to play offensive guard and defensive end.

Although James will be rooting for Post Friday, he will probably shed a tear because of the fact the Minor name will probably never again appear among the participants in Tahoka football games.

Cottonseed Is Estimated At $45

Agriculturalists all over the South Plains Area are estimating that farmers will receive only about $45 a ton for cottonseed this season and according to Rep. Short, E., of Tahoka, "there will be no hopes of very much increase throughout this ginning season."

Rep. Short stated, "George Brazier, vice - president of Paymaster Oil Mill in Lubbock, and Mr. Dick McClung Plains Cooperative Mill in Lubbock, and Mr. Howard Akers, U.S. Department of Agriculture in the Office of Secretary Earl Buz, all agree that the federal government has permitted the importation of palm oil into this country. This is in direct competition with cottonseed oil and soybean oil, and has caused a direct lowering of cottonseed prices." Palm oil is relatively new in competition to

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

The State Legislature which convenes January 9 will be vastly different from the present one which has served through the 1971 regular and four special sessions.

There will be 77 new faces in the 150-member House and 15 new members of the 31-member Senate. (Five of the House newcomers have served before the 1971 session, and six present House members will be serving in the Senate).

Dolph Briscoe, of course, will succeed Preston Smith as governor, and Bill Hobby will preside over the Senate, succeeding Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. Rep. Price Daniel of Liberty will become Speaker of the House, replacing Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine.

Basically, the House is expected to be a more liberal body than the present one, and the new Senate considerably more conservative.

Republicans, women and blacks increased their strength in the House; and the GOP added one more senator, for a total of three. There will be 17 Republican state representatives -- seven from Dallas, seven from Houston, two from San Antonio and one from Midland. GOP senators were elected in Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth.

The House, which now has a single woman member, will have five (including two blacks) in January. Mrs. Betty Andujar of Fort Worth, wife of a physician, is the new woman senator. She is a Republican.

The Senate's only woman member at present is Miss Barbara Jordan of Houston, a black, liberal Democrat who was elected to Congress November 7.

Black membership of the House will increase from two to eight.

$91.2 MILLION IN AID SOUGHT -- Governor Smith went to Washington last week in search of $91.2 million in additional federal social service funding.

Smith argues people involved received the same services throughout the year, and the state is entitled to compensation for the first three quarters of fiscal 1972, as well as the last quarter.

The funding will be important in determining whether the next legislature will have to pass a substantial tax bill.

TAX LINE CAN BE HELD-- Texas Research League predicts a major tax increase can be avoided next year if lawmakers can keep reasonable controls on spending.

Spending, says TRL, probably can be held within bounds of a $750 million raise over the next two years -- unless federal court rulings require sharp increases in funds for public schools.

An increase in revenue from existing taxes is estimated at $375 million. A $40 million surplus is expected to be available at the end of the fiscal year, and federal revenue sharing may provide the state as much as $315 million during the biennium, according to TRL. That is within $20 million of the new spending projection.

Texas Highway Department is due to ask for a two-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax hike next year, which would add another $70 million to key fund revenues in addition to earmarked road-building purposes.

AG OPINIONS -- Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin declared unconstitutional a Johnson County system of compensating a justice of the peace $4 only when he gets a conviction for a traffic violation.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

- Commissioners in counties less than 10,000 have authority to submit to an election the question of creating the office of tax assessor-collector and can appoint the official if approved.
- Hiring of a private accounting firm of an Ector County commissioner by a 17-county Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission (of which Ector is a member) creates no conflict of interest.
- Harris County Hospital District can employ chaplains in its hospitals as an "established part of medical and hospital care."
- Tyler State College may not purchase fire and extended coverage insurance on its buildings, but can pay for auto public liability coverage.
- A four-wheel riding lawn mower used to mow grass on residential lots is not exempt from registration as an "implement of husbandry."
- Such a machine used to mow grass on highway right-of-ways does not have to be registered as a highway motor vehicle, however.
- Where tax suits are dismissed for want of prosecution, taxpayers are entitled to redemption certificates on payment of delinquent taxes, penalty and interest.
- Motor carrier equipment operated entirely within the boundaries of a commercial zone established by the Railroad Commission is not operated under a certified carrier's certificate and need not be reported upon although employed in conjunction with regulated transportation.
- Judges can be paid the difference between their salaries as district judges and the amount allowed a Court of Criminal Appeals Commissioner while serving in that capacity. Appointees as commissioner are also entitled to travel expenses to and from Austin and a $25 per day expense allowance while serving.

COURTS SPEAK-- A state law permitting landlords to seize property for non-payment of rent was declared unconstitutional by the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Texas Supreme Court held good will of a medical practice is not part of community property of a married couple.

The High Court held constitutional a statute under which a Nueces County woman seeks to recover as separate property damages for injuries sustained in a car-truck wreck.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial for a man convicted of murder who was not allowed to present testimony on the character of the shooting victim.

A Houston school teacher was awarded $1.5 million in a suit against General Motors for a defective steering wheel that caused a wreck.

APPOINTMENTS -- Jack R. Blackmon of Corpus Christi was named by Governor Smith as district judge of the 117th judicial district.

Smith designated Charles E. Simons of Dallas as chairman of the State Highway Commission. He succeeds Dewitt C. Greer who will remain on the commission. Simons has been serving on the commission for more than a year.

The Governor also named Jim J. Hatcher of Galvestone as 235th judicial district attorney; Dr. A.J. Gill of Dallas to the advisory hospital council; and Mrs. LaVerne A. Dobbs of Houston, Judge Martin Dies Jr. of Beaumont and Richard Morehead of Austin to the Texas Civil Justice Council.

Calf Prices Above Parity... Stalk Destruction Deadline Nears... SAD Help Is On The Way... Turkey Time Nears.

Calf prices, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes, are above parity by almost $3 per hundredweight. Effective parity for calves is $44.90; average market price in Texas is $47.70. But only calves are above effective parity levels. All other farm prices remain below parity.

The all-products index of prices received by farmers and ranchers is 15 percent above a year ago; the livestock index is 20 percent above last year while the all crops index is four percent above last year.

Cotton showed the biggest decline in price of all other crops. The average cotton price in the state is 21.6 cents per pound. This compared with 26 cents one year ago. Effective parity for cotton is 56.06 cents per pound.

In other crops, wheat showed a gain of 21 cents compared to a month ago with an average price now at $1.96 per bushel. Corn was up five cents at $1.42 per bushel compared to a month ago. Grain sorghum also showed a nickel increase at $2.16 average per hundredweight.

Hog prices were down slightly in Texas compared to a month ago. Average now is $26.80 per hundred pounds compared to $27.70 a month ago. Effective parity for hogs is $31.10 per hundred pounds. Beef cattle averaged $33.40 per hundredweight, still well below the effective parity of $37.40 per hundred pounds.

Egg producers continue to have pricing problems with a 36 cent per dozen average to 38 cents a month ago. Effective parity for eggs is 56.8 cents per dozen.

Gold Star 4-H's To Be Honored

The top 4-H boy and girl from each of the 20 South Plains counties in District 2 of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be honored at the 15th annual District 4-H Gold Star Banquet here at the Coronado High School Cafeteria on Monday, November 20, at 6:30 p.m.

These 40 4-H's have been selected to receive the Gold Star Award, the highest county award given by the Extension Service, according to District Extension Agents Mrs. Catherine B. Crawford and Billy C. Gunter. Personal development, leadership, outstanding achievement in 4-H result demonstrations and activities plus contributions to the overall county 4-H program are factors considered in selecting the award winners.

Guest speaker at the annual event will be Dr. H.O. Kunkel, Dean of Agriculture, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas.

Ed Wilkes, Farm Director of KFYO Radio, will serve as master of ceremonies, and James Laney, State Representative-Elect, District 76, will be the narrator for the presentation of awards.

About 450 people are expected to attend the banquet which is sponsored each year by the 12 Rural Electric Cooperatives on the South Plains. Gold Star winners from Lynn County are Jan Wilke of Wilson and Richard Taber of O'Donnell.

Cotton Harvest Increasing Daily

Cotton harvest operations are increasing daily on the South Plains, according to W.K. Palmer, in charge of the U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. This increase is reflected in the increasing number of cotton samples being received at the area U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Offices.

Due to this increase in harvest activities, the seasonal U.S.D.A. Classing Offices at Brownfield and Levelland will open on Monday, November 13. The seasonal office in Lamesa is already in operation.

The U.S.D.A. Classing Offices at Lubbock and Lamesa classed samples from 13,000 bales during the week ending Friday, November 10th, bringing the season's total to 14,200. At this date last year 6,100 samples of the 1971 crop had been classed.

Quality of this early cotton varied widely depending on the condition of the fields at the time of harvest.

Low middling was the predominant grade at Lubbock last week making up 47 percent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling made up 31 percent, Strict Good Ordinary 7 percent, and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 7 percent.

Staples were predominantly 31 to 34. Seventeen percent had a staple length of 31, 23 percent stapled 32, 18 percent was 33 and 13 percent was 34.

Sixty-one percent of all cotton classed at the Lubbock office last week had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9, 1 percent "miked" 5.0-5.2, 20 percent 3.3 through 3.4, 20 percent 3.0 through 3.2, 1 percent 2.7 through 2.9 and 2 percent was 2.6 and below.

Trading was slow on the Lubbock market due to the small volume of cotton harvested. Prices were steady.

Tahoka High Happenings

By... BECKY BURKS

Last Wednesday, Tahoka High School was on an assembly schedule for monthly FHA and FFA meetings. At the FHA meeting, Donna Draper and Betty Curry were responsible for a group of skits pertaining to the need of a good education in the job-finding world.

Friday was "hats off for the Bulldogs" and "sock it to 'em day." Many students wore unusual hats and socks. The pep rally was great. Many business men and women attended. However, the Bulldogs were defeated by the Mustangs 12 to 15.

The freshman and junior varsity teams competed against Littlefield and Stanton respectively this past week. The freshmen were defeated 42 to 6. The junior varsity team was victorious 6 to 0.

Monday, all members of the junior class met in the auditorium to take an armed forces qualifications test. The scores will be returned to the high school in about a month.

The high school will have an assembly on Thursday in order to have a brief preview of the 1972-73 KENNEL

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS.....

You should incur ricked seed cotton.

Your minimum coverage should be for fire. To qualify for CCC loans, you may need additional coverage for windstorm, lightning, cyclone and tornado.

Notify your insurance agent before you rick your cotton. Technically cotton is not insured until you notify the agent. The technicality is important, since the first few hours of storage offer the greatest possibility of fire because of machines and people around the rick.

Most fires are accidental, or they are caused by carelessness of people. Therefore, you should locate your rick in areas that minimize the number of people.

You might, for example, locate ricks away from frequently travelled roads. You might post no trespass signs.

Most insurance companies limit the insurable value of a single rick. A fairly common limit is $3,000.

The rick length necessary to store one bale of cotton can vary from six to twelve feet. You can estimate the length of your rick that stores one bale of lint cotton two ways:

- (1) load and weigh a measured length of the rick;
- (2) estimate the bale equivalents of lint cotton in each harvester dump, then calculate the number of dumps required to rick the insurable limit.

Do not leave the ricker on the rick overnight. If you leave a partially completed rick overnight, pull the ricker forward a few feet. When you are ready to re-start ricking, you can back the ricker over the partial rick with little trouble.

Producers in West Texas need no covering over their ricks.

In rainfall areas, ricks may be covered with a tarpaulin or a plastic sheet.

A lightweight net over a plastic sheet can be carried in rolls on the back of the ricker. It unrolls as the rick is formed.

To help keep the net and plastic in place, use weights or tiedowns to short stakes that you drive under the rick.

Under no circumstances should you use a plastic sheet under the rick. It will trap moisture at the bottom of the rick. It will also interfere with loading ricked cotton.

Leopards Pelt Amherst, 38-0

New Home Leopards, Stanley McNeely, Stan Thomas, dished out a 38-0 victory over Amherst last night. The Leopards started fast with the first TD in the first quarter. Thomas ran for a TD, 4 yards for a TD. Point try failed.

In the second stanza, full-back McNeely put on a sprint exhibition with a 20-yard TD run and right after it, dashed off an 80-yard beauty for another one. Thomas ran two extras after each TD.

The Leopards got a TD in the third on a 5-yard Thomas run. Jerry Pectol ran extra. And in the final stanza, David Smith passed 20 extra yards to Pectol for the final TD of the night. James Sharp ran extra.

New Home ran 15 first downs and 271 yards rushing and 51 yards passing.

The Leopards are 3-5 for the season.

Tahoka Cub Scouts received advancement awards and enjoyed a highly entertaining program on Tuesday night, November 30, with Cub Master Jim Foust, assisted by the Den Mothers and others. Each Den was seated together with its Den Mother. By Dens, the boys were called individually to "play" mike to give his name and say a few words. Later, it turned out, a real microphone had been hidden in the play mike (a tin can), and the program had been tape-recorded. Toward the end of the program, the boys were greatly surprised when their voices were played back to them.

The Bobcat Candlelight ceremony was presented by Alton Lee, Jerry Day, Oscar Perez, Mike Burkhardt, Truett McCada, Harvey Grayson, Joe Young, Tony Morton, Dean Elliott, Gerald Short, Leigh Carter, and Leighton Roddy.

Several hundred school children and patrons witnessed the beautiful coronation ceremony.

Saturday will be Band Day in Tahoka Mayor K.R. Durham has officially proclaimed in appreciation of the hard work and fine service its director and members have given the community. During the morning, the band will parade down town and will play Christmas carols on the court house square.

Members will sell tags to citizens of the town. The purpose of this is to help buy 10 or 12 more new uniforms. Director Bill Tregoe states he has 15 students he could advance to the Senior organization but does not have the uniforms to suit them out.

The Band Booster Club has raised some funds for new uniforms and music, but more funds are needed for the project.

Tahoka Daisies entered in the Rock Island, Illinois, Fall Flower Show recently won third place in the Daisies Class.

Dale Thuren, local farm store owner, last spring sent some Tahoka Daisy seed to his mother, Mrs. S.A. Thuren of Sherrard, Ill., who in turn gave them to his aunt, Mrs. Mae Johnston of Rock Island.

Mrs. Johnson planted the seed, and entered some specimen flowers produced there from in the show, winning third place.

Mr. and Mrs. Calloway Huffaker and boys have moved into their beautiful new eight room Austin-stone home, recently completed at 2309 N. Second St., a block southwest of the High School.

The new home is built for living and is furnished with ranch-style and conventional furniture, complete home laundry and kitchen electrical equipment. Walls are textured, except in the family room and dining room, where the walls are of birch paneling.

The Huffakers are extending an open invitation to all friends and acquaintances to call and inspect the home at any time Sunday between the hours of 3 and 7 p.m.

Tahoka's poultry judging team won third place with a ranking of 1177 points in competition with eighteen other schools. Claude, with 1304 and McLean with 1295, were the two which out-ranked Tahoka.

The contest was held at Tullia High School Saturday. Nine-teen schools were represented by a hundred and twenty boys in the second annual contest. J.D. Strickland, teacher of vocational agriculture at this place, took several of his students, the following of whom placed in the respective ranking; Robert Maddox 10th; Harold Snowden, 11th; and Joy Edwin Brown, 17th.

The home economics club of Tullia High School served a dinner at which the contestants were guests.

Tahoka celebrated President Roosevelt's birthday Wednesday night with two entertainments, between two and three hundred people attending.

The celebration began with a program at the Legion Hall consisting of readings, solos, tap dances, music by the Tahoka band and by Mayor Ross Edward's orchestra from Lubbock.

Following this program there was a dance at the Dance Palace attended by a capacity crowd of dancers and spectators. Old time square dances, as well as the more modern ones, were featured.

Proceeds from the celebration, about $125.00 will go toward the treatment of infantile paralysis sufferers. Admission was one dollar a couple, 30 cents of each dollar going to the National committee and 70 cents remaining for treatment of Lynn county's afflicted.

Cotton Safer For Bedding

The U.S. cotton batting industry is pushing forward in three separate research areas in a coordinated effort to perfect methods that will meet new government safety regulations for bedding and furniture products.

Work continues on a pilot line operation to manufacture low-cost flame-retardant cotton raw stock. The pilot line, developed by Lummus Industries, Inc., produces flame-treated cotton cushioning material which is expected to be an element in meeting new, impending flammability regulations. The Lummus project is sponsored by the National Cotton Batting Institute and Cotton Incorporated.

In cooperation with USDA scientists at the Southern Regional Research Laboratories, New Orleans, the NCBI is also supporting research to meet a proposed flammability standard for mattresses that employs lighted cigarettes.

Investigations to date indicate that heat dissipation techniques offer promising ways of inhibiting ignition of mattresses by cigarettes. Sample mattresses have been constructed of flame retardant batting covered with flame retardant and backcoated ticking, which successfully passed the cigarette test. Other sample mattresses are being further tested by bedding industry researchers to ascertain the full safety potential of the treated batting-backcoated ticking combination.

In a third area of research, NCBI is exploring methods for treating bedding components in furniture uses. New safety standards for furniture have not been announced by the government, but are expected.

The problem of maintaining continuously adequate cotton supplies is not a problem peculiar to the United States. And, now more than ever before, the world cotton industry is coming to recognize this fact.

This was one of the conclusions drawn from the recent International Cotton Advisory Committee meeting in Managua, Nicaragua, at which delegates were in attendance from just about every nation in the world.

For many years the U.S. Government has shouldered the responsibility and assumed the cost of carrying cotton stocks at levels high enough to assure the world supply in any given year. But the U.S. Government has now stated, flatly, that it will no longer carry stocks at the high levels of the recent past.

This new U.S. position plus the wide price-supply fluctuations of the last few years has placed an inescapable spotlight on the world industry need for some manner of stabilizing both supplies and prices.

Consequently the ICAC meeting saw considerable time devoted to discussions of the problem of stocks and how they affect prices, marketing and production. On a world basis it was the consensus at the meeting that stocks equivalent to five

O'Donnell Belts Shallowwater, 20-

The Shallowwater Mustangs jumped out to an early lead and a deadlock at halftime, but the O'Donnell Eagles rallied in the second half to whip the Mustangs, 20-12 Friday night.

O'Donnell scored a second quarter TD. It came on a 48-yard pass play from Benny Hancock to Ronnie Casarez. Point try was no good. The Eagles went in front in the third stanza on a 62-yard run by Walter Brown to TD.

THE MOST VALUABLE PART OF YOUR BACTERIA IS GONE WHEN YOU HAVE IT PUMPED!

This is important! When someone calls at your home with a truck and tells you that your tank is almost full, that is correct. It has to be full to be filtering properly, and the most harmful thing you could do would be to have it pumped, for pumping destroys the most valuable part of your bacteria. Pumping doesn't clean your lines or eliminate odors and you pay an enormous price for the harm done.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Mystery Mishap

At 7:13 p.m., in the main dining room of a large hotel, a mirror suddenly fell from the wall and landed on the head of an unsuspecting diner.

No one could figure out exactly why the mirror had fallen. Nevertheless the diner, painfully injured, filed a lawsuit for damages against the hotel.

"He has no case," the management argued in court. "He cannot point to any specific thing we did wrong."

But the court upheld the man's claim.

"Mirrors do not ordinarily fall off walls," reasoned the court, "unless someone is negligent."

The court was invoking a famous legal doctrine known as res ipsa loquitur—"the thing speaks for itself." This doctrine is widely used when there is no direct, eyewitness evidence of an act of negligence. Weighing the odds, the law decides that an act of negligence—even though unseen—probably did occur.

Thus: Using res ipsa loquitur, a court found negligence when a car, parked on a steep slope, started to roll downhill. Chances were good, said the court, that the driver had neglected to set his brakes and cramp his front wheel against the curb.

Also using res ipsa loquitur, another court found negligence when a housewife encountered a piece of glass in a newly opened can of spinach. Chances were good, said the court, that someone in the canning factory had been careless.

But the mere fact that an accident has happened does not necessarily justify the use of the doctrine. Consider this situation:

A woman climbing down from a trolley lost her footing and fell to the pavement. Demanding damages later from the trolley company, she said the car had probably moved just as she was getting off.

But the court said there was an equal probability that she herself had simply failed to watch her step. With no odds in her favor, said the court, she could not use res ipsa loquitur to win her case.
