South African Youth Lions Club Visitor

Tahoka has been added to the vocabulary of another Lions Youth Exchange Program student. Our latest visitor turned out to be one of the most interesting and with the shortest time to stay.

Jeffrey Heyns, 21, of Cape Town, South Africa stayed in Tahoka four days with Lion Holden and family.

Jeff, a tall, clean cut, red haired young man arrived in America February 28 after spending three weeks on a freighter crossing the Atlantic.

Raised on an apple farm, Jeff studied palmology at Steffenborsch College. Other interests point toward Animal Husbandry. At present he is touring America by bus and will wind up at St. Paul Minnesota, where he will stay watched the Ta'bana Yua'ne Smoke-sunrise ceremony; appeared on KSEL Radio and Television; toured the Tech campus and Tech farms and attended the ABC Rodeo Thursday night.

Jeff's next stop was to be Anadarko, Oklahoma, St. Louis then Chicago.

Maybe, by chance, Jeff will be able to return to Tahoka for another visit.

for 1 year. During this time he will live and work with a Minnesota farm family. This program is a part of the exchange opportunities offered by the University of Minnesota.

Jeff saw quite a bit of our area and culture during the four days he was here.

While here he visited a cotton gin; went to Post and

3 Accidents In Lynn County

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Lynn County during the month of February, according to Sergeant H.E. Pirtle, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and no persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first two months of 1973 shows a total of 12 accidents resulting in no persons killed and three persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region No. 5 for February, 1973 shows a total of 380 accidents, resulting in ten persons killed and 173 persons injured, as compared to February, 1972 with 478 accidents, resulting in 15 persons killed and 233 persons injured. This was 98 less accidents, five less fatalities, and 60 less injuries in 1973 at the same period of time.

The veteran officer reminds you that Texas has over seven million licensed drivers. As the population increases, so does the congestion upon our highways.

The ten traffic deaths for the month of February, 1973 occurred in the following counties; Briscoe, Clay, Hall, Jack, Palo Pinto, Randall, Stonewall, Swisher, Terry, and Wichita, one each.

Hospital Addition Work Is Underway

Construction work on the $94,000 doctors' clinic addition to Lynn County Hospital is well underway, but completion is not expected before June, Hospital Administrator Joe Collins told the News this week.

The new addition will release rooms for six more patients, and will furnish quarters for Dr. Louis J. Cole and the new doctor, Dr. Richard Wright, who is coming here in June from England.

Revenue bonds payable in 10 years have been issued by the hospital district to pay for the new addition.

Completed in January 1971 at a cost of about $750,000, half of which was a Hill-Burton Act federal grant, the hospital has been operating "in the black" for the past year and has been full or nearly full of patients most of the time.

The two-doctor clinic addition on the west will connect with the hospital by a breezeway, will match the main building in appearance, being constructed of concrete, concrete blocks, brick and granite facing.

The addition is 52 X 56 feet in size, and each of the two doctor's units will contain a waiting room, business office, doctor's office, and three examining rooms.

There will be a new entrance on the west for ambulance and emergencies. Also, parking lot paving on the west will be increased to provide parking for 39 additional cars.

Mr. Collins says the addition had to meet standards set by the Federal government Health, Education and Welfare department and the Texas State Department of Health. Otherwise, the addition could have been made a lower cost.

Contractor for the addition is Knox, Galley and Meador, and the Architect is Brasher, Gayette and Rapier, both of Lubbock.

Dr. Richard Wright from London, England, expects to join the local hospital in early June. He could not come earlier because of red tape connected with his move here and his contracts to the socialized medical program of the British Government.

J. Fred Bucy Jr. Tech Director

J. Fred Bucy Jr. of Dallas and reared in Tahoka, last week was named by Gov.olph Briscoe, as one of three members of Texas Tech University Board of Regents, subject to approval of the State legislature.

J. Fred, age 44, is a graduate of Tahoka High School, received his B.S. degree in science from Texas Tech and master's degree in physics from University of Texas in 55.

On receiving his master's degree, he was employed by Texas Instruments, developer of computers, radar devices, etc., with a world-wide reputation. Since 1953, J. Fred has had a fantastic financial success while advancing to executive vice-president of Texas Instruments, Inc.

Bucy was interested in science as a child, and almost from first grade was "fooling around" with science kits.

Long before completing his education, J. Freddie married Miss Odetta Ruth Greer, also a local native of the Grassland area. They have three children, J. Fred III, Roxanne and Diane.

Vehicle Registration

For all practical purposes, Saturday (March 31) will be the last day to register motor vehicles for 1973, Robert W. Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department, said today.

Townsley noted that the law set the final registration date as April 1, which this year falls on Sunday when county tax offices are closed.

The 1973 license plates must be displayed on vehicles registered in Texas starting Monday, April 2. So they must be acquired not later than Saturday, March 31, to avoid penalty.

Townsley said many county tax officers had expressed concern that the pace of registration this year has slowed markedly. "It looks as if a great many vehicle owners are putting registration off to the last minute," he said.

Even though the easy, computerized registration system has speeded the registration process in the last few years if too many owners wait until the last minute, long waits in long lines at county tax offices and substations seem inevitable.

Moore Named Co. Cancer Chairman

Tom Landry, head coach of the Dallas Cowboys, has been named the 1973 Texas Crusade Chairman for the American Cancer Society. Mr. Howard Moore of the Lynn County unit commented that Coach Landry has said he will give as much effort to defeat cancer as he does to put together a winning football team.

In his volunteer position, Coach Landry's aim will be to help raise $4 million, the 1973 Cancer Crusade goal for Texas.

Coach Landry said he was eager to accept the challenge to raise money for the American Cancer Society. "My association with the late Vince Lombardi is why I want to do something," he explained. "A lot of us do not realize how serious this malignancy is until it strikes down a friend," he commented.

Landry explained that he befriended Lombardi who died of cancer, when both coached for the New York Giants for five years.

Coach Landry said he was impressed with the American Cancer Society as an organization, but believes its real strength is at the local level. "A lot of people believe in the American Cancer Society," he said, "they work and see results right in their own home town; that is why I believe we can win this fight we have to."

According to American Cancer Society statistics, over 1,500,000 people living today have been cured of cancer, but one person still dies from cancer every two minutes, or more than 900 people a day. Almost half of all cancer deaths occur among persons under retirement age, keeping people off the job for longer periods of time than any other major illness.

Dr. David Midkiff, President said, Howard Moore, has been named Crusade Chairman for the Lynn County Unit. Mr. Moore will be assisted by Jack Jaquess, Jr. in the business district and Mrs. Fredda Townes for the residential drive in Tahoka. Assistants for other communities in the county will be named later.

"We will need lots of help. I urge everyone to join Coach Landry's team to help wipe out cancer in our lifetime."

Rotary Subject Early History

Borden and Lynn County were closely related in early day history and development of this section? Mrs. Edna Miller of Fluvanna, who was born and reared in Borden, told Rotarians in talk before the club last Thursday noon.

In fact, she said, many of Lynn's early settlers has settled in Borden county prior to coming to the Plains. Borden county had been organized in 1891, and it was 12 years later before Lynn County was officially organized in 1903. The Borden Citizen, Gall's newspaper, was established in July, 1881, the same month and year Lubbock's first newspaper was published.

Some of Lynn's early day citizens who first settled in Borden county were the Sam Sanfords, the Jim Weatherfords, Tom Hale, The Nevils brothers, "Aunt Bonnie" Stokes, and many others.

If so many of Borden's people had not moved to Lynn County, she said Gall would be a much bigger town today.

Principally, her talk dealt with the campaigns against the Indians in the 1880's by the U.S. Cavalry as related to Borden and Lynn Counties. Among these were the expeditions of Gen. Mackenzie, Col. Shafter, and the ill-fated "Capt. Nolan's Lost Negro Expedition" of 1877 during which troops left Double Lakes in a hot dry July, went 86 hours without water, and four troopers died.

Calloway Huffaker arranged the program.

The week before, Ed Hamilton showed color slides and told of trips he and Mrs. Hamilton have made to Hawaii, Holland, and Jamaica. Warren Embree arranged that program.

Information From VA Officer

According to Sid A. Lowrey Veterans Service Officer for Lynn County, thousands of wives and children of veterans and servicemen are failing to take advantage of benefits and programs provided by Congress, despite intensive efforts by VA to inform each beneficiary.

Educational benefits for wives, widows and children of veterans whose total permanent disabilities, or deaths, were service-connected was cited by VA officials as one example of the many benefits available. Also eligible for educational benefits are wives and children of servicemen missing in action (MIA) or prisoners of war (POW) for more than 90 days. VA loans are available to wives of POWs and MIAs and to unmarried widows of veterans and servicemen whose deaths were service-connected.

Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) is paid by VA to widows and children if the veteran's death was service-connected. Pension is paid if death was non-service-connected. In certain cases, parents may be eligible for DIC checks. Still another benefit, an additional monthly aid and attendance payment of $55 is paid to eligible wives, widows and parents who are patients in nursing homes, helpless or blind, or so nearly helpless or blind that regular assistance from another person is required.

Most VA benefits for dependents and survivors of veterans are based on at least 90 days of military service. For post-Korea and Vietnam Era veterans, at least 181 days in service is required for GI home loans and educational benefits entitlement.

Full details of these and other benefits for dependents and survivors of veterans and servicemen are available from any VA office or the local veterans service officer.

Fire Department Receives Check

The Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of C.T. and Mary Louise Louder, Tahoka, Texas.

The money will be used for their purchase of equipment. The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

EASTER SEALS

Lynn County's Easter Seal Representative reported today that the 1973 Easter Seal Appeal of the Easter Seal Society for Cripple Children and Adults is going well. W.H. Eudy serves as Easter Seal Appeal Treasurer for Lynn County.

The 1973 Easter Seal Appeal will finance the Easter Seal Society's rehabilitation program for crippled children and adults in Texas. Last year the Society helped 16,572 disabled persons through its program of assistance in finding and making effective use of services for the disabled and their families.

The Easter Seal Society helps support 18 treatment facilities in Texas where children and adults not eligible for other assistance are treated. These centers offer physical therapy, medical diagnosis, speech and hearing programs and related services to help the disabled build happier and more useful lives.

As Easter Seal Representative, Eudy is the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society. He can be contacted at The First National Bank of Tahoka, Drawer C.

When contacted for services Eudy will provide the request to the Easter Seal Society to investigate the needs of the disabled person. The Society will advise the handicapped person of the best resources available to help him.

Eudy added that contributions to the Easter Seal Appeal should be sent to him as soon as possible.

Mrs. Lovie Weathers. The next meeting will be held April 17, at the church beginning at 4 p.m.

With spring rapidly approaching, the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation reminds homeowners that some power lawnmowers produce noise levels that can be potentially hazardous if exposure is prolonged or continuous. Persons operating such mowers should also use ear plugs to protect their hearing ability, the Crusade officials point out.

Gordon Musick, Minister

One of the most difficult passages of scripture to understand by many religious people of the world is Matt. 7:21 - 23. It is inconceivable as far as they are concerned for Jesus to turn away many who have done such good works in his name while they lived. While it is passed over by many as being of no importance, we should ask ourselves whether we will be in the number who will contend with Lord on the judgment day concerning entrance into heaven. Passing through life thinking that heaven will be our home, will we be set on the left with the goats? One would certainly want to know why and even contend for a right to enter in. Listen to these in Matt. 7:22, "We have taught in your name. We have cast out devils in your name. We have done many wonderful works in your name. Now why are we being cast out from you though eternity?" We can almost hear them adding, "We have given our lives because of you and your promises. We taught others to believe in you and we even suffered ridicule because of you. We helped the poor and the sick and suffering because of you. We gave ourselves to doing good because of you. Now, Why, Lord, Why? Why are we going to be cast away?"

On and on these will go with their reasoning, saying, "We called you Lord, lived our lives for you. You said that if we would only give a cup of water in your name we would not lose our reward, but Lord, We have given more. We have given up houses and lands and families and brothers and sisters because of you. Why, Lord are we to be cast out? We believed we would be able to rejoice with your coming. Now why this?" Innumerable will be the reasons given by those on the left, seeking entrance to the heavenly city.

Listen to the words of the Lord in answer, "Depart from me, ye that work iniquity, I never knew you." This answer seems so contradictory to the words of the contenders. Can it be that the Lord is two-faced, that he has respect of persons after all, choosing only certain ones to enter in? Such would be a terrible thought indeed - that we serve such a heartless and faithless master. His words must have another meaning than this. Considering the context of his words, we hear him saying, "Enter in at the strait gate, for strait is the gate and few will find it." Again he exhorted by the parable of the builders, "The wise builder hears my words and does them." This then would cause Jesus to say, "I never knew you." for they (the contenders) never entered the strait gate. They obeyed only the commands that they wanted to obey. Their "love" for the Lord was only superficial and their obedience also superficial. They called him "Lord" and obeyed him not.

They called him "friend" but were really his enemies for they taught disobedience and disrespect by their words and their deeds.

How will you stand before the Lord? As a contender or as an obedient child? You are now by your obedience or neglect setting the course of life for its final destination. When you stand before the Lord to be judged, will you stand as his sheep or as a goat? During this life the Lord Jesus will receive if you will come to him and obey him but if you deny Him, He will deny you in the day.

Down To Earth

America needs to stop killing her citizens. The destruction of human life assaults every moral sensibility. One of the greatest scenes of this destruction is on the streets and highways of our nation. We have had dramatically demonstrated to us that the death traps on our federal highways should be a matter of highest priority.

The killing of seventeen young people and their leaders traveling in a church bus on a narrow bridge in New Mexico, long since designated as a death trap, called national attention to the immorality of our neglect. It is unbelievable that we would pour millions of dollars into building expressways across our nation while leaving as matters of low priority the death trap bridges which become the place for slaughter of innocent young lives.

The United States Congress has passed legislation which placed the removal of death traps at a high priority. Yet the expressways continue to be built and death traps continue to kill. The state of New Mexico has announced that it will get around to that particular bridge. It will take two years before the monies become available to do something about it.

Meanwhile the expressways continue to be built. Communication to the President by an aroused citizenry is in order to bring to bear the basic principle of morality -- that human life is of the highest priority.

The death of 3,700 Texans a year on our highways calls to mind the matter of habitually - negligent drivers to which the Governor's legislative program has pointed. The majority of those killed are from drinking drivers and habitually - negligent drivers. Proposals are before the Texas Legislature to tighten the laws on habitually - negligent drivers. The idea of raising to the level of felony the ignoring of taking away the driver's right to drive plus several major offenses is a part of the Governor's package. The package needs to be examined very carefully in order to determine that it is reasonable. However, the urgency of addressing ourselves to getting the killer driver off the highways is of high priority.

It is far more dramatic to concern ourselves with preserving human life by striking out against war. It is far more dramatic to talk about social damage in terms of crime and violence. However, the way in which America is killing more of her citizens than any other is on the highways. Moral responsibility calls for us not only to press for group actions in our state to stem that tide but also to drive sanely ourselves.

Go Metric

In August of last year, the Senate passed legislation moving for U.S. adoption of the international metric system as our primary system and comparable action is anticipated in the House. From a number of viewpoints this is a most responsible decision.

In the first place, we are now the only industrial nation on earth not on or moving to the metric system. It is estimated that with metric-sized products we'll open up as much as $10 - billion additional foreign trade and heaven knows with our trade imbalance we can use it. Continuing to use our customary system places us in a technological trap of our own making and this is true in a world where all are moving to a single technology. Although the move will be expensive, evidence is such that failure to change will be more costly in the long run.

Domestically a shift to metrics will create some confusion for both the public and business, but in the long run we'll probably learn it better than our present system. After all, how much sense is there in a system that asks you to relate 12 inches to a foot, three feet to a yard, 36 inches to a yard, 1,760 yards to the mile or 5,280 feet to the mile? With metrics we measure simply - for length the meter is divided into decimeters (one-tenth), centimeters (one-one hundredth), millimeters (one - one hundredth thousandth), all you do is move a decimal point! The system is much more logical than our own.

The changeover will also encourage us to update our standards and specifications for products, offering us an unprecedented opportunity to improve them and cut out the unnecessary variety which increases cost.

Quick action on this vital legislation would be a service to America's economic future.

Sixty - seven left Tanoka Wednesday morning to be inducted into the armed forces of the United States, 37 for the Army and 30 for the Navy and the Marine Corps.

A number of married men, some with one or more children, were including in the group, but a majority of them were unmarried.

The names of the inductees were not available for publication this week, but we hope to have them next week.

If fruit had not already been killed, a cold wave this week got most of the remainder. During Monday night, the thermometer went down to 28 degrees, and Wednesday night to 31.

Tuesday afternoon, the Plains experienced a real come-back of Old Man Winter, with cold winds, rain, sleet, and snow falling. Though the fall was very light here, on the North Plains, heavy snow fell in some localities.

Mrs. M.L. Henery of near Draw has recently purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Johnson on East Second street and she and her son moved to it last week.

Mr. Johnson has purchased a place a place on West First street near the Nazarene church and moved to it last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Loyd recently purchased the A. D. McDonald home situated just south of the W. L. Knight residence and Mr. McDonald moved into a house on the highway two blocks east of the highway intersection now owned by Bill Burleson.

This place was formerly occupied by C.S. Wily, who moved into the H.P. Stewart house two or three blocks further east.

The Tahoka Bulldogs started spring training March 13. Spring training will end April 13. There will be two games at the end of the training. The Junior team will play a game and the Senior team will play boys who will graduate.

The Bulldogs started training with "the old team spirit," and will be in fine shape for the spring game. The squad is composed of a Red team, a White team and a blue team. They are as follows.

- Red: J.T. Miller, A.L. Hodge, Glen Newton, Lane Jones, Cecil Dorman, Irwin Lehman, W.T. Hines Bill Grider, Wayne Miller, LaVaughn Caraway, and Billy Barrington.
White; Buddy Bragg, Bill Ramsey, Bobby Scott, Charles Pennigton, Arvell Akin Donald Hall, Leslie McNeely, Dwain Vaughn, Leroy Clinton, Cleve Barrington Clois Leverett, Jerry Edwards, Billy Stephens.
Blue; Maurice Small, W. J. Kahl, Pete Schaffner, Joe Harvick, Jesse Adams, Claude Donaldson, J.A. Dodson, Elwayne Chandler, H.R. Tankersley, Dan Brookshire, Jacky Driver.

The people of Wilson and vicinity doubtless will be much interested in the announcement in this paper of the opening of a new grocery store in Wilson Messrs. Pat Campbell and W.I. Lemon.

Both of these gentlemen are well known to the people of this section of the county. They are experienced business men and are no novices at serving the public. They will undertake to please the public by giving service.

The vast number of families residing in Wilson and vicinity, who must buy groceries somewhere, would seem to guarantee the success of this new enterprise. You are invited to visit them Saturday and thereafter in the former Red and White place of business.

Joel Holloway, 19, of Redwine, suffered the fracture of the right leg several inches above the knee on Thursday afternoon of last week, when a broken pulley shaft let the wheel fall upon of against the leg.

The young man was brought hurriedly to the Tahoka Clinic, where First Aid treatment was given, and he was then taken to the Lubbock General Hospital, where the broken limb was placed in a plaster cast. He remained there for treatment and early this week was reported to be making satisfactory improvement.

Joe is the son Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Holloway. He was married about a year ago to Miss Mary Jean Luttrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wes Luttrell of Redwine.

Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. F.M. Turner, who lived six miles north of Grassland, in the Garnolia community, recently met at their place and worked their land for them. Mr. Turner recently spent a month in the hospital, and is not yet able to do hard work.

Those helping were: Jack Hoskins, Hy Turner, Jess Propst, Elmer Thomas, Lovic Sheppard, Anton Miller, and Carl Jones.

"We certainly appreciate these friends coming to our assistance," Mr. and Mrs. Turner asked The News to state, "Their kindness has been a great help to us, and we cannot find words with which to express how deeply we appreciate them and the aid they have given. It is wonderful to have friends like these."

Mrs. Madge Hall and Miss Ester Prestage of Draw visited in Lubbock and Slaton Saturday. Juanelle, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Barrington, who underwent an appendicitis operation at Lubbock Saturday night, is reported improving nicely. Mr. and Mrs. W.O. Thomas returned Tuesday from a two-weeks stay at Marlin.

No Favor

The stakes in the battle to curb federal spending are high. They boil down to one consideration -- the integrity of the dollar. If anyone doubts the need for curbing the growth of federal spending, he has but to look at the figures. Since 1960, social welfare spending has risen from $52 billion annually to $193 billion. Social insurance, including Medicare, is up from $35.4 billion to $61.4 billion in the past four years. Relief, in spite of good times, is up from $6.5 billion to $16 billion. Health and medical programs are up from $4.2 billion to $5.9 billion. Veterans' aid is up from $7.2 billion to $11.4 billion.

With the spending momentum that has been built up over many years. It will be little short of a miracle if the federal budget is tamed. It should be broadly understood, however, that in the long run those who advocate still greater government spending are not doing the voters and taxpayers of the nation any favor.

Still Best

Sometimes it's hard not to succumb to a case of the blues as daily reports of murders, skyjackings, wars and the like roll in. But there's still plenty to smile about, as the President's Council of Economic Advisers confirms.

It has called 1972 "a year of strong economic expansion, with a big increase of employment... and a lower rate of inflation." A Portland, Oregon, "Oregonian" editorial reports the Gross National Product rose 6 per cent in 1972 over 1971. The automobile and housing industries are booming, and the average American's personal income and spending ability are on the upswing.

So before you give in to the blahs, look around. The bad news is tempered with good, and the immigrants flooding our shores prove everyday that the U.S.A. is still one of the best choices around.

Spring Again

"When Spring unlocks the flowers to paint the laughing soil," wrote Reginald Heber, a wonderful thing happens; the Earth bursts forth in a vibrant splash of color, and the air is sweet with the scent of growing things. This year March 20 marks the official beginning of Spring.

The crippling snowstorms which accented a harsh winter are fast disappearing. In their place will come light, gentle days filled with flourishing crops and home gardens, children's laughter echoing from playgrounds and trips to the serenity of the countryside, mountains or beach "to get away from it all."

Spring is the eternal symbol of renewed life and happiness, with a lesson to teach if man will but listen.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

NEW KINK IN KING COTTON

With the Cotton Harvest finally nearing completion we agriculture people need to look back at the crop year. It was different than any of us can remember because of the weather but a productive year for both maize and cotton. As we reflect back over this year ask yourself did I do a good job of conserving my natural resources that God and others have entrusted into my care and management. If you had no erosion from wind or water and your land and water did not damage anyone else's land this year you are to be congratulated.

We have just recently gotten in to the wind erosion season which usually comes much earlier. Much of the land in Lynn County was protected better this year because we were late getting our crop out and residue kept the soil particles tied down better. Think what a sand storm would have been like if we had all the stalks shredded before the recent big blowing winds hit. Many fields had the cotton stalks standing in the field which has prevented much wind erosion. This is not recommended as a complete conservation practice in its self by the Soil Conservation Service. However it is a part several recommended practices. But if a person will look to see what it has done this year, then he will understand the advantages of these practices. Conservation Practices such as Minimum Tillage, Cover Crop, Conservation Cropping System, Crop Residue Management and others utilize plant residues such as stalks.

There appears to be adequate protection from wind erosion, on some of the tighter soil in Lynn County, with close spaced or broadcast cotton and minimum tillage. This is even improved where a bus extractor is used on the harvesting machine. Harold Sanders has a field that is parallel terraced and a side roll sprinkler system is used to irrigate it. He practices minimum tillage, conservation, cropping system crop residue use, irrigation water management and contour farming as the management of this field. Of course, the crop was late this year but he has had little or no blowing on this field.

This was not anymore problem for him to carry out than it was on his standard farming, in fact it was probably easier according to Sanders and made him more money per acre. The cost of operation was less therefore the net income is greater. Little or no sand fighting with residue management and minimum tillage made it a big advantage.

The hoeing was less cost per acre but harder to get it done. Sanders had to have a broadcast attachment to harvest his crop but he has been farming narrow row cotton for better than 3 years.

Before you put your next crop in the ground look at what you did last year to keep your land productive for the generations to come in the future.

Consider safety features -- such as good fit, color and reflectability -- when shopping for clothes, suggests Mrs. Becky Culp, clothing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

Arrange furniture according to a room's natural traffic areas -- don't block the room's entrances, notes Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

The greatest gift a parent can give a child is to "let him go" as he matures -- implying confidence in him, says Dr. Jennie Kitching, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

New Farming Technique

Reduced air pollution, lower farming costs - these are two goals of a new farming technique being used by Texas conservation farmers.

Called minimum tillage, the system limits cultural operations to only those essential to crop production.

Allen Sheppard, district conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service at Tahoka, said with minimum tillage farming, crops are planted directly into a mulch left undisturbed from the previous crop. Competition is controlled with herbicides.

"This system leaves a year-long cover on the soil surface," Sheppard pointed out. "Cover from dead stalks and leaves is one of the best known methods of reducing wind and water erosion."

Sheppard said farmers using the system in the Tahoka area report eliminating seven to ten (three to ten?) tractor trips across a field per crop. This only saves time but it also reduces production costs. Some of these savings, however, are offset by herbicide costs.

Cotton yields generally have been increased by minimum tillage, especially on the sandier soils, Sheppard said. Grain sorghum yields have been about the same or slightly less with minimum tillage.

Sheppard listed these other major advantages of minimum tillage:

1. Conserves moisture. The protective mulch of crop residues keeps the soil cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter; this effectively reduces evaporation.
2. Better seedling survival. Surface residues protect young seedlings from wind damage or from being covered by soil dislodged during heavy rains.
3. Increased wildlife food and cover. Stalks, leaves, and scattered seed left on the soil surface greatly benefit: quail, pheasant, and other wildlife.

To begin a minimum tillage farming system, Sheppard said farmers should either start with a high residue producing crop, such as grain sorghum or plant the first crop into a thick mulch of crop residues. He said minimum tillage systems can fail if a crop such as cotton is planted on land without sufficient cover to protect the young seedlings.

Most farmers adapt equipment on hand for minimum tillage farming. Flex planters, coulters, and packer wheels are usually mounted on double or triple tool bar hook-ups for planting in surface mulches.

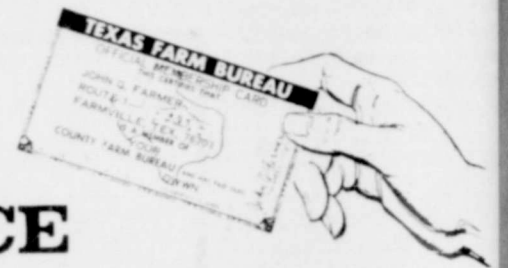

Sheppard said Soil Conservation Service technicians, working through the local Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District, can help farmers plan minimum tillage farming systems.

He also said SCS has a booklet available which explains minimum tillage in detail. To get a free copy, contact the SCS office, located at Tahoka, Texas, or write Soil Conservation Service, Box, 328, Tahoka, Tex.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS

Harvest Approaches 2 Million Bales

The South Plains cotton harvest is approaching the two million bale mark according to W.K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of the U.S.D.A.

Samples from 1,947,000 bales had been received at area U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Offices through Friday, March 23rd. Some cotton remains in fields but most of the remaining cotton to be ginned is stored in ricks.

Samples from 30,000 bales were tested and classed at the Lubbock office during the week ending Friday, March 23rd. This brought the total classed for the season to 1,918,000 bales.

Grades of cotton were about the same as the previous week. Low Middling Light Spotted (52) was the predominant grade, making up 24 percent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) made up 16 percent, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) 10 percent and Low Middling Spotted (53) 15 percent.

Average staple length also was about the same as the previous week. Staples were predominantly 30 to 32. Thirty-five percent had a staple length of 30, 29 percent stapled 31 and 17 percent was 32.

Micronaire readings continued low as the harvest neared completion. Only 10 percent of all cotton classed at Lubbock had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9, 9 percent "miked" 3.3 through 3.4, 31 percent was 3.0 through 3.2, 30 percent 2.7 through 2.9 and 20 percent was 2.6 and below.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A. reported active trading on the Lubbock market. Prices were $2.50 to $5.00 per bale higher. Prices ranged from $2.50 per bale over the loan for low grade, low micronaire cotton up to $60.00 per bale over the loan for high grade, premium micronaire cotton.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 30 - 28.30 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 31- 28.70, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 30 - 23.00 Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 31 - 23.30, Low Middling Spotted (53) staple 30 - 20.05 and Low Middling Spotted (53) staple 31 - 20.30.

Cottonseed prices were steady and farmers received $45 to $56 per ton for their cottonseed at gins.

Gardeners can produce a better crop of tomatoes by using wire cages. A five-by-five foot section of six-inch mesh concrete reinforcing wire makes an excellent cage about 19 inches in diameter when bent into a cylinder and the ends are bent together. By snipping off the bottom ring, the cage can be pushed into the ground about six inches deep.

Push the cage over each plant. No suckering, pruning or training is necessary. The plant grows up through the cage with some of the leaves and stems coming through the six-inch squares of wire mesh, supporting the plant in an upright position.

Cages allow plants to develop naturally, providing adequate shade for ripening fruit. Sunscald and fruit cracking are minimal with cage plants when soil moisture is maintained at an adequate level and foliage diseases are controlled.

Plastic, paper, aluminum foil or heavy organic mulch on the soil in the cage will control weeds and reduce moisture loss. However, organic mulch should be used only after the soil has become warm, as it can slow plant growth if used during cool spring weather.

Six caged plants of the large fruited tomato varieties should provide plenty of tomatoes for a family of four or five during the normal harvest period. Some growers have obtained over 50 pounds of fruit per plant in cages.

A good method of watering tomato plants, either with or without cages is in gallon cans placed in the ground with only about one inch of the sides above ground. Cut off the top of each can and perforate the bottom before placing it in the ground. Use two cans per plant or 14 cans for six plants. When tomato plants set two feet apart, place two cans about 16 inches apart between plants, starting with two cans on either end of the row.

After plants start to fruit, place one to two level teaspoons of a complete fertilizer in each can once a week. Fill the cans with water two to three times a week or as needed.

Fish fillets are cut from the fish side, away from the backbone - steaks are one-inch thick slices cut across the fish containing a small portion of backbone, explains Karl Kraljick, foods and nutrition specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

Drip faucets can be expensive as well as annoying - dripping up to 90 gallons of water in a single day, according to Lynn Bourland, Extension Management Specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

This method can also be used for producing fall tomatoes when seeds are started in June. However, black plastic mulch should not be used for a fall crop.

The 1973 Lynn County Agricultural Demonstration Handbooks are now available in the County Extension Office, 1600 Avenue J., Tahoka.

Do not forget about the Swine Meeting on April 4 at the Forrest Park Community Center in Lamesa, Texas. Registration starts at 9:00 a.m.

Nursing Home News

Hello once again from the Colonial Nursing Home.

We failed to report Homer Young being in the Lynn County Hospital but he is home again.

Mrs. Alyce Clark is in the Lynn County Hospital she has been quite ill but her son brought us news yesterday, that the doctor reports, she is slowly improving. We miss her and hope she can soon be back with us. Last reports are she is holding on. The sand storm didn't stop us from playing dominoes Wednesday and bingo Thursday. So many of our people would like to play but their eye sight won't let them, but you could come on out and watch those who are playing.

We are still hoping someone will come help us clean up and plow up our back yard. Several women have offered their help, but we have some one with a pick-up truck and boys to pick up the heavy junk so think it over.

We have one new patient Binnie Shepard a colored man from Post. Several have expressed a desire to move into the home. Come and look and believe you will like what you see.

Curis and Janet Harvick visited their parents the Leonard Norwood and Roy Harvick's.

Corine Izard and Ruby Harvick visited the Henry Mock Friday. We were saddened in the death of Mr. Mock.

Brother Daniel brought a message in song and scriptures March 25. Several of our people were out of the home and I didn't feel well so I don't know how many were out.

The Bertreaux children and Marla Jones visited Mr. Allen and Kate Jones often Mrs. H.B. Howell visited Mrs. Harter and others.

Bertha Jolly checks on her Dad often. Mrs. Doyle Terry of Lamesa visited Bud Klebarger also Sarita and baby and Jeanie.

Mrs. Black had company from Lubbock and took her and Virginia out riding. Monday the sun shined and there was no wind.

Our new patient seems to be adjusting ok.

Mrs. Hammonds and the lady's made their Monday singing which we all enjoyed very much.

Slim Elliott helped us out by getting a man to come put our flowers that had blown down also he picked up a lot of trash - but we still need the ground broke up for the flower beds. By for this week.

East ran the laundry while the Harris' made their trip.

Buddy Aaron and his mother of Eastland, Texas stopped to visit awhile Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Willis Pennington. Buddy was with the Farm Bureau for two years here and is now working with the bureau in Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. James Miers and son Johnny of Goran, Texas were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Collins. Their son-in-law Don White stopped briefly on his way to Odessa. After his football spring-training begins at WTSU Canyon next week, Don's trips will stop for a while.

Mrs. Mary Lancaster of Portales, New Mexico is visiting her granddaughter Mrs. Kerran Hartman and family. Mrs. Lancaster came Tuesday of last week to look the town over with the thought of making Tahoka her home. We hope you liked the city.

Monday, March 26, the children were home from school. There weren't many phone calls. Guess everyone is gone for the long week-end.

Last Sunday Rev. Daniel Rupp submitted his resignation to Sweet Street Baptist Church to be effective the last Sunday in April - April 29. He is leaving this church to pastor the First Baptist Church of Osprey, Florida, which is closer to his widowed mother. Mrs. Rupp, 1 owed mother. Mrs. Rupp, Linda, is doing work at Tech towards a teaching degree. They are the parents of two fine boys, Carl and Paul Rupp. We wish you much success in your new field of service. Our loss will be Osprey's gain.

Twenty-five young people and their sponsors Mr. and Mrs. T.R. Riddle and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Strait returned Monday night from a week-end retreat to Ruidoso, New Mexico. They stayed at Carrizo Lodge Saturday and Sunday nights. Sunday morning they sang at First Baptist Church in Cloudercroft. Monday was spent on the ski slopes of Sierra Blanca. Did everybody get sunburned?

Miss Zephia Cheyne from Jayton, Texas came Saturday to visit her sister and family Mrs. Bill Taylor.

Naomi Hunt Soloed Thursday

Naomi (Littlebit) Hunt of Tahoka soloed Thursday at the T-Bar Airport.

Naomi, affectionately known to the local airport bums as Littlebit, is 4'10" tall and the wife of Bill Hunt, who farms north of Tahoka. She is handicapped by the fact that her feet won't reach the rudder pedals, so Bill and her instructor, Marshall Baxter, who owns Tahoka Aviation, built a set of extensions for the rudder pedals and piled cushions behind and under her.

"I'm scared," she said on the radio, "How do I get down?" Her instructor replied "Don't worry, you will."

Bill Yarbro of Post, who has been taking instruction in Tahoka, passed his commercial pilot flight test on March 6.

4-H Builds For Tomorrow

Young people and their adult program leaders in Lynn County are literally "building for tomorrow" as they attempt to make a dream become a reality.

These young people and their program leaders believe that Texas 4-H members need a permanent home where many educational programs and activities can be conducted throughout the year. Many other states operate year-round centers for 4-H.

Thus, youth and leaders of Lynn County are joining with others from throughout Texas to help bring about a 4-H Center for Texas. "Put it all together with a 4-H Center" is the theme selected for the current 4-H Center campaign.

Lynn County young people some time ago assisted in the first phase of the campaign to raise funds for a State 4-H Center. They conducted a massive chocolate sales campaign, and with the help of leaders and local citizens they raised $1,890.00 for the project.

The enthusiasm of the young people and their adult leaders apparently motivated other business and industry groups around the state to join in the project. This spirit of cooperation is again needed as local citizens move to complete the building fund program. A 78-acre site overlooking scenic Lake Brownwood has been selected, and architects have drawn the plans for the proposed Center.

If county 4-H members and adult leaders or committee members assisting with the Center project contact you within the next several weeks, you'll have an opportunity to help them realize their building fund goal. The educational facility will serve other youth as well as 4-H, and will help mold our leaders of tomorrow.

"Should Congress fail to pass a meaningful cotton program this for 1974 and subsequent years, cotton production in the U.S. will be severely curtailed and the ill effects will be felt by every community, every city and every state in these United States."

Ray Joe Riley of Hart President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., made this statement March 22 before the House Agriculture Act of 1970 which expires with the 1973 crop year.

Riley stated that a government cotton program is essential to the continued production of cotton "because it costs more to produce cotton than the competitive price at which cotton must be sold, and no one can stay in business while continuously selling his product at below cost."

Enumerating some of the adversities that would be visited on the nation in the event of greatly reduced cotton production, Riley said "The consuming public would be defenseless against the pricing policies of a few man-made fiber manufacturers and would be denied the multiple advantages of clothing and other products with cotton-fiber content:

"The nation would be deprived of cotton's $500 million annual contribution to solving our balance of payment problem:

"A large part of some 12 million acres now devoted to cotton production would be thrown into the production of other crops, upsetting the agricultural balance and negating all efforts to provide a stable supply of all commodities at reasonable prices:

"More than $13 billion invested in land and equipment to grow cotton would be placed in jeopardy, plus billions more invested in gins, oil mills, warehouses, textile plants and related industries.

"Agricultural suppliers would be faced annually with finding new outlets for almost a billion dollars worth of power, equipment, labor, chemicals and other inputs now needed for cotton production, and-

"The gainful employment of almost 13 million people would be adversely affected, with a large number of these finding it necessary to look for a totally new source of livelihood."

Reterring that without supplemental income from a cotton program farmers cannot and will not continue the production of cotton on anything like the scale of recent years, Riley called for the following specific provisions in a future program;

1. A continuation of the 15 cents per pound payment, which he said was the absolute minimum which, when added to a competitive price for cotton, would cover production costs and provide even the most meager return to capital, management and labor.

2. A payment limitation no lower than the present $55,000 per person per crop.

3. A man loan level at 90 percent of the average world market price, with no authority for UADA to adjust the level downward.

4. A base cotton acreage allotment of which payments are made, no lower than the 11.5 million acre national allotment in effect for 1971 and 1972.

5. Acreage sale and lease provisions as contained in current law plus provision for leased acreage to become a leasing farms.

6. Farm yields for payment purposes determined by the current method, using a three-year average of actual yields adjusted for adverse conditions beyond producer control.

7. A continuation of the present anniversary date loan system which allows producers to retain control of their crops for 12 months or more, plus the initiation of an 18-month resale privilege, and:

8. Continued allocation of Commodity Credit Corporation funds for Cotton Incorporated to carry out product development, research and promotion activities in conjunction with the producers' dollar-a-bale program.

"Finally, Mr. Chairman," Riley concluded, "we would urge that the Act of 1970 be extended for a minimum of five years making it possible for us to plan our farming operations more than a year or two in advance."

Mrs. Wright Hosts Phebe K's

"Becoming Involved In Education" was the theme used when Phebe K. Warner Study Club met March 27 in the home of Mrs. Bryan Wright with Mrs. Roy LeMond as co-hostess.

The members answered roll call with their favorite school subject. Business was conducted by Mrs. Maurice Huffaker, president. Members were reminded to attend the Caprock District Convention this coming week-end in Lubbock. Voting delegates elected were Mrs. Lady Stewart and Mrs. Carl Griffing, Sr.

Mrs. Jerry Brown, Education Chairman introduced the program speakers and guest. Mr. Bill Burns and his wife Debbie were guest as well as Miss Melinda Sheppard and Miss Kim Chandler. Mr. Burns is director of Distributive Education in Tahoka Public Schools. He gave a very informative talk about the program in our school system. Present Tahoka has 28 DE and Sr's students involved. DE. Miss Melinda Sheppard one of the students in DE gave information about DECA, Distributive Education Club of America. She told about meetings attended this school year in Amarillo. Miss Kim Chandler explained the working conditions, hours and responsibilities that several of the DE students continue on their jobs. Members were allowed questions during the program, which proved very satisfying.

The meeting was adjourned with Mrs. Abbe leading the Club Collect.

PHILOSOPHER

Admits Things All Over Have Left Him As Confused As Everybody Else

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnsongrass farm seems clear this week about his confusion.

Dear editor:

"This has been a confusing week," the serious-faced news analyst began on his daily slot in the evening T.V. news the other day and what else he said I never found out because I immediately got side-tracked into thinking about that first sentence.

A confusing week? I'll tell you, anybody who can stretch his confusion out over a full week is scattering his attention over too wide a span. If he'd have said, "This has been a confusing half hour," I'd have figured he was in better command of the situation.

Take some examples. How are you going to stay un-confused when a bunch of terrorists slaughter some diplomats or a group of Olympic athletes for no good reason at all? Trying to defend against things like that is like trying to defend against a lightning bolt. Who can think straight about where they may strike next? Or for that matter, what airplane is going to be hijacked next?

Do you know anybody who knows anything for sure about the causes of the fluctuations of the dollar in the world markets? All I know is that while Europeans may not want to buy any dollars, they sure will accept them free, but that doesn't clear up anything other than shedding a little light on human nature.

Is there anybody who can think straight on the proposition of bombing Hanoi one month and paying for the damage the next?

You know any economist who wouldn't go to pieces if we turned inflation over to him with instructions to solve it on the basis of his theories?

How about drugs? Now there are some people who are clear about that. They think anybody who uses any kind ought to go to jail, until somebody in their own family is found trying the stuff.

I could go on for a dismally long time, mentioning traffic accidents, crime in the streets, welfare, poverty, busted railroads pointed in every direction including toward us, high taxes, tax dodgers, draft dodgers, baseball strikes, bankrupt cities, basketball recruiting scandals, graft in high places and low too if you can figure out a way to swing it... I say, I could go on but there's no point.

If anybody's not confused in this day and time, he's just not paying attention.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

John C. White, Commissioner

Which Way for Rural Texas? ... Cattle On Feed ... Citrus Production Increases ... Milk Production Declines.

Plans to improve job opportunities, community services, and the social and physical environment in rural Texas have been detailed by the Texas Rural Development Commission. The commission is a joint effort of the governor's office and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

The five-point program to revive rural Texas as outlined by the commission is as follows:

1. Give people a choice of where they live by providing attractive employment opportunities, adequate community facilities and services (including health, housing, transportation, and public protection), and a more attractive living environment in rural areas which will create a better balance in the distribution of population.
2. Attract new industries and develop existing industries in rural areas.
3. Provide relevant educational opportunities for rural residents.
4. Provide for the orderly development and protection of the natural environment in rural areas.
5. Maintain a profitable agricultural industry as a major element of the rural economy.

The commission also recommended the establishment of a committee on rural development in each house of the Texas Legislature.

About 20 percent of the state's population now lives in rural Texas. This is more than 2,250,000 people. Texas' rural population is more than the combined populations of five states—Alaska, Delaware, Nevada, Vermont, and Wyoming.

The commission is composed of 25 civic leaders from throughout the state. It notes that 85 percent of the state's net growth between 1960 and 1970 occurred in the Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio areas.

The rapid growth in metropolitan areas and the decline in rural areas has created an imbalance in the distribution of population and the quality of life.

TEXAS, naturally, retains its leadership as the nation's top beef cattle feeding state. There are 2,184,000 head of cattle and calves on feed for slaughter in Texas as of March 1. This is 18 percent above a year ago, but one percent below a month ago.

Placements into Texas feedlots during February totaled 341,000 head, which is 13 percent above February of last year but four percent below marketings for January. Nationwide, in the seven major cattle feeding states—Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas—there were 9,698,000 head on feed, a four percent decrease from a month ago, but eight percent more than a year ago. Iowa is closing in on Texas; it has 2,018,000 head of cattle and calves on feed.

CITRUS production for 1972-73 in Texas is now estimated at 18,100,000 boxes, which is 3,100,000 boxes more than last season's crop. It is also an increase of 900,000 boxes from the February 1 estimate.

Harvest of the crop is expected to improve as weather conditions return to normal. Citrus trees are in excellent condition and fruit continues to size well with the rains.

MILK production in Texas during February was down five percent below 1972 and 10 percent below the previous month's production. Nationwide, milk production also showed a decline of four percent compared to a year ago.

Milk production per cow in Texas was 705 pounds which is 40 pounds below a year ago and 75 pounds under a month ago.

birthday is in October. Another admirer is her uncle Mike Bragg, II, who now makes his home with his sister Mrs. Kerran Hartman. Mike is in the 6th grade of the local school.

Gale Hartman is an employee of Lyntegar Electric Cooperative in Tahoka, working as data-processing supervisor, a position he has held since moving to Tahoka from Lubbock in July 1964. His family moved in August of that year to the house on 8th street that was their home until last summer. The tall, slim Gale is a member of the Methodist church, and officer in the Lions Club and is involved in Scouting.

The pleasant, efficient homemaker of this household is Mrs. Gale (Kerran) Hartman. Kerran was born in Clovis, New Mexico. After finishing high school in Clovis, Kerran attended Fort Worth College studying business. Here she met Gale. She worked for an insurance company in Dallas before moving to Lubbock, where she found employment. Then Gale came to Lubbock and they were married March 1, 1963. They recently had a tenth wedding anniversary and made a trip to El Paso, Texas. While at this border city, they acquired some Mexican-Spanish pieces that enhances their entrance hall.

Kerran was a key-punch operator of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. and for Time, D.C. before moving here. After moving to Tahoka, she was a secretary and clerk in the office of the local high school. In the cotton season, she has returned to work for Farmers Coop in Lubbock. Now, her days are busy taking care of her family, or being secretary of the Wesleyan Service Guild, or working as a Sunday school teacher in the Methodist church. Her class is the first, second and third-grade boys and girls. Sandra Brown is her co-worker.

Chili is a healthy dish and is easy on the food budget. Kerran has a number of recipes using hamburger meat that they all enjoy eating. Chili is a favorite of this area and the Southwest. The Hartman's like their chili rather hot and Kerran uses the middle measurement of seasoning in this recipe. She sometimes adds catsup for color and liquid.

The large, gray two-story house on the corner of Main street and School road -- who lives there? The Gale Hartman family.

Once again this Tahoka landmark is alive with the busy activities of a growing family. The Hartman's moved into this home last July and they have been busy since converting the house to fit their individual needs. Outside, shrub and trees grass and weeds have been cleared away. Inside, the huge house includes a basement, seven rooms on the first floor, four rooms up stairs, plus big closets, bathrooms, two halls and a stairway and a sundeck. An impressive driveway and carport widens the house on the front. A storeroom and an upstairs apartment is on the southwest corner of the lot. An old kitchen upstairs is being converted into a sewing room, and the cabinets will hold dress materials and other sewing supplies. Sewing has become a new interest of Mrs. Hartman for her little daughter D'Layna. Downstairs one bedroom has been made into a nursery for the youngest member of the Hartman family, D'Layna Hartman, who is 15 months old. These are the major changes made in the house, to date.
