Private Schools

In England the Labor Party, led by Harold Wilson, is proposing to do away with what are called, in England, the public schools. These are, in reality, private schools and include such famous schools as Eton, Harrow, etc.

At present in England these schools accommodate about seven per cent of the students, so to abolish them would place an immediate burden on the English school system. Laborites oppose the "public" schools because they turn out a disproportionate number of government and industry leaders, thereby see them as snob schools or schools giving graduates special advantages.

Those defending the schools see them as simply more efficient, doing a better job; there is, of course, much tradition surrounding these famous schools and many prominent families have patronized them for centuries. Surprisingly enough, they are not overly expensive, but it's difficult to obtain entry and impossible if such entrance isn't planned many years in advance.

In America private schools aren't threatened; they have, ironically, expanded greatly in the South, usually where massive integration was ordered. Church schools, however, Catholic schools particularly, have declined in number. Financing has been the Catholic problem, plus the fact that the public schools in America often offer better educational opportunity, more diversified facilities.

A traditional democratic strength and influence in the United States has been the public school, where all come to learn with equal opportunity and treatment. Aside from the metropolitan areas, where private schools have always existed, the public school in America in most rural areas and small towns has been a vital and formative part of our democratic society, and should be.

While one would hope that the public schools in this country would always graduate the vast majority of our students, in an admirable democratic tradition, and with their unifying influence, private schools have a right to exist. They do not, under the Constitution, have a right to public funds for support, which some have sought for them as church schools have faced hard financial times in recent years.

The Money

One of the benefits certain to derive from Watergate is better supervision of, and reporting on, money collected in political campaigns. The Watergate affair has shown that the accounting of those who handled the money for the Committee To Re-elect the President left much to be desired.

John Dean, for example, reportedly admits he took some thousands of the money to finance his honeymoon. More recently he has repaid this somewhat unorthodox loan.

Others have unquestionably contributed, to both parties, and failed to accurately report their contributions. In the 1968 campaign, there were certainly strange maneuverings among Democrats. No one knew for a time who would pay for many of the late Robert Kennedy's campaign activities. Finally, the National Committee accepted that obligation. The Democrats tried to renege on a huge telephone bill. There were other sloppy examples of financing and accounting.

Certainly 1973 was the year of the Republicans, if 1968 was the year of the Democrats. What voters are entitled to in the future is careful, and carefully supervised, campaign accounting by both parties, and Congress should enact the necessary legislation to make that a certainty.

Burglars broke into O'Donnell Post Office and Ellis Chevrolet Co. some time during Tuesday night, taking $35.75 in cash from an unlocked safe in the automobile firm but failing to open the Post Office safe.

No arrest have been made according to Sheriff Norvell (Doo) Redwine, who has been investigating the crime along with postal authorities. It is believed at least two men entered the buildings.

Entrance to each building was gained through a skylight on the roof.

Nob of the Post Office safe was knocked off, but the burglars failed to open it. The 1,000-pound safe was dragged about 70 feet to the rear of the building. They brought a cutting torch and oxygen tank from the automobile firm to the Post Office which played out before they could get through the safe.

The burglaries were not discovered until early Wednesday morning.

A lot of fun is planned during the event that should appeal to all. The event will be held on the football field.

Two Tahoka Future Farmers of America and their sponsors left Tuesday for San Antonio where they are attending Wednesday through Friday, the State FFA convention.

Mrs. Ed Follis and daughters Barbara and Linda, of New Home returned home Sunday from a two weeks visit in Houston with James Follis and family.

While there, James took them to Galveston for their first look at the ocean, and they also traveled through two tunnels under the bay and saw several big ships. They also visited the Zoo in Houston. Mrs. Follis says the trip was a great thrill to them, and the girls especially were thrilled to wade in the Gulf.

James and family brought them as far as Comanche, where they were met by Ed, "Pee-wee" and Junior, the latter returning to Houston with James for a visit of two or three weeks.

George Baker's Services Retained

Representative E. L. Short, Demo., Tahoka and some other West Texas legislators have retained the services of former State Representative George Baker of Fort Stockton, widely known West Texas newspaper publisher and editor, to meet with the 37 member Constitutional Committee and the Sub-Committees studying the various phases that they will be recommending to the Constitutional Convention next year.

Representative Short said, "there are so many meetings on the different sections of the constitution that are being studied that I feel like Mr. Baker will be a tremendous asset to me in gaining first hand knowledge of the proposals that will be presented to us as delegates at the Constitutional Convention". Baker sees his job as a dual responsibility to help a group of House members become better informed on constitutional planning and to provide Commission members with a broader insight into the needs and problems of the basically rural and agricultural communities of the state, especially the West Texas area.

That NATO can be described best as a collective defensive security arrangement of 15 European nations pledged to bind themselves in a defensive alliance?

That the mission of NATO today is the same as it has been for 24 years-to deter aggression but, if deterrence fails, to defend NATO nations as far forward as possible?

A balanced American force contribution in Europe-one not substantially less than we have today-is essential to the continued existence of a strong collective force; it is

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

The State Insurance Board, as predicted, last week said it will order auto insurance reductions averaging 4.3 per cent for private cars and totalling at least $25 million.

Even further savings may be allowed under new competitive rating effective September 1, which allows companies to deviate above and below standard rates set by the Board.

However, insurance industry spokesman warned, other new laws going into effect may drive rates up substantially next year.

Rates cited by the Board do not include, for example, effect of new optional additional coverage for medical expenses and wage losses (up to $2500 for driver and passenger). Actually, the coverage is added automatically unless the car owner rejects it in writing.

Industry officials estimated the $2500 additional "personal injury protection" will cost from $8 to $23 a year, which would exceed the cost of savings on other coverage in the same territories.

Changes in the "guest statute" -- which will allow passengers other than members of the driver's family to sue in event of accidental injury -- will add at least another five per cent to premiums, according to a top industry source.

The new comparative negligence statute will increase property damage liability costs at least 10 per cent, estimates the Texas Automobile Insurance Office, which represents companies writing 98 per cent of Texas auto coverage.

The guest statute and comparative negligence law changes will not be reflected in premiums ordered into effect August 27, since there is no experience to base calculations on.

Rates vary substantially among 40 rating territories. An average statewide cut of 11.2 per cent was ordered last year.

GAS RATE HIKE SOUGHT -- Lone Star Gas Company is applying for an increase in rates it can charge Texas cities to 51.86 cents per 1,000 cubic feet from the present level of 41.40 cents.

However cities served by the Company are seeking State Railroad Commission review of the Lone Star system's market value.

A rate increase by the Company got Commission approval three years ago following a value survey of its system.

Meanwhile, the Commission has postponed until July 23 a hearing on Coastal State Gas Corporation's Lo-Vaca distribution subsidiary for a rate hike.

COURTS SPEAK -- Texas Supreme Court will review a case involving refusal by the mayor of Flower Mound New Town to call an election to disannex about a mile of territory. In other recent decisions, the High Court:

+ Agreed to review a dispute over whether a Van Zandt County farmer "voluntarily exposed" himself to a bite by a wild boar. The farmer sued a neighbor for $154,179 when the boar bit him.

+ Reversed a $57,500 award against a Dallas woman accused of making harmful remarks about a competitor in the field of removing body hair by electrolysis.

+ Sent back a 1966 medical malpractice suit to an intermediate court in Houston.

+ Set for review a controversy over value of land taken near the new Dallas - Fort Worth regional airport.

AG OPINIONS -- Plucking of pigeons' tail feathers to make their flight erratic and then tossing them up to be shot in marksmanship contests might support convictions for torturing, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinion, Hill concluded:

+ Public junior colleges can charge higher tuitions for non-residents, but disqualify themselves from state funds if they do.

+ Positions of local hospital board member and city commissioner are incompatible, and a person shouldn't hold both.

+ A negative vote on a county-wide local option election for sale of alcoholic beverages would not affect areas of a county already wet.

+ Parks and Wildlife Department may capture and transport wildlife or fish for investigation, propagation, distribution or science and issue permits for others to do so.

+ Cases before a court - appointed master instituted against judges by the Judicial Qualifications Commission need not be postponed because the judge's attorney is attending a legislative session.

+ Animal Health Commission members have a lot of leeway in determining whether their actions are "official" and entitled to expense reimbursement from the state.

+ Firebrick relining of steel furnaces may be deducted in computing franchise taxes.

APPOINTMENTS -- Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Judge Stephen F. Preslar of El Paso chief justice of the 8th Court of Civil Appeals and Midland Attorney, Max N. Osborn, as associate justice of the same court.

Briscoe named Edwin Brown of Troup and James R. Dickson Jr. of Waco to the Finance Commission; Frank Lewis of Bay City to the Texas Water Quality Board; William D. Decker of Dickinson to be 212th district judge effective January 1; and Gary Pogue of Kenedy, Jerome Brite of Pleasanton, C. A. Morris of Crystal City, Arthur F. Flores of Eagle Pass, Leslie H. Laffere of Uvalde, Tom Reding of Taft, John H. Burris of Alice, Jack S. Graves of Uvalde, Albert Ivy of Carrizo Springs, George Jambers of Whitsett and Ray M. Keck Jr. of Laredo to the Nueces River Authority.

District Judge James R. Meyers of Austin was appointed by Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr. to the new State Election Commission.

NEW GUARD PROGRAM OFFERED -- A new enlistment option in the Texas National Guard has been offered non-prior service personnel for a 90-day trial period.

Under the plan, non-veterans can enlist in the Guard for six years with the option of serving three in an active drill status and the final three in the Individual Ready Reserve (IRR) Control Group. No monthly drills would be required in the last three years, although summer training may be ordered. Texas is one of 16 states offering the option.

TAX EXPERTS TO BE CALLED -- In the search for a solution to school revenue problems, the Legislative Property Tax Committee may be asked to bring in expert witnesses to discuss taxing of intangible property like bank accounts, stocks and bonds.

A House education committee sub-panel is exploring the intangible tax field in determining wealth of school districts, but has encountered little enthusiasm for taxing all such wealth.

POLLUTION PLAN AIRED -- Texas Air Control Board held a series of news conferences in five metropolitan areas to air information on the federal government's plan to impose transportation controls.

The Board was told by its executive secretary proposed anti-pollution controls are unreasonable and would cost Texas $300 million for auto emission controls that effect only one per cent of the pollution problem. The Board balked on a staff motion to test in court federal power to control auto pollution in the state.

Meanwhile, the federal Environmental Protection Agency scheduled July 17 - 19 public hearings in Texas to get reaction. Controls would go into effect August 15, involving gas supply, parking, car pools, anti-pollution devices and special road lanes for buses.

SHORT SNORTS
House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. directed his Human Resources Committee to conduct a full investigation of all child care, education and child guidance facilities. State Welfare Board gave unlicensed child-care facilities notice of a new law requiring them to get licensed or face fines and possible jail terms. Texas Animal Health Commission slapped fever tick quarantines on portions of Maverick, Dimmit, Webb and Zavala counties, including Governor Briscoe's big Catarina Ranch. Texas Daily Newspaper Association will be briefed on work of the Constitutional Revision Committee at Lakeway in Austin July 26. Texas Press Association full Commission meeting will be held July 27-28-29.

Carolyn Haley Says...

Have you had problems of spoilage of home canned foods? Take a look at the jars and lids you have been using.

Do the jars have chips or nicks at the top? If they do this can cause a poor seal -- thus spoilage. Do not use these jars for canning.

Do you tighten the two piece lid as tight as you can get it before and after processing? If you do, this can cause the sealing material to be broken -- and again spoilage.

What can you do? Run your finger around the tops of jars and inspect them visably to make sure they are smooth and free from nicks and cracks.

If two - piece, self - seal lids are used, follow the manufacturer's instructions in adjusting the lid and tightening the metal rings. After processing, when the canned product is thoroughly cool, take off the metal ring, if possible without forcing. If the ring sticks, cover it with a hot, damp cloth for a minute or two to loosen. Then wash them to prevent rust and they may be used again. However, the lid may be used only once.

It is tomato season again. Do you have a surplus or can you buy them at a reasonably low price? Can them to eat, or use in soup or any other dish requiring cooked tomatoes. They are good sources of vitamins A and C, needed for good health of every cell in the body.

How are they canned? Wash and sort fresh, firm, vine ripened tomatoes. Put them in a wire basket or thin cheese cloth bag and dip in boiling water for 1 minute or until the skins crack. Plunge them into cold water immediately. Remove the core and skins. Leave them whole or cut them into halves or quarters. Pack them into clean jars leaving 1/2 inch at top of the jar, pressing gently to fill spaces. Add no water. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to each pint or 1 teaspoon to each quart.

Wipe off the sealing surface of the jars and close according to the type of lid being used, following the manufacturer's directions.

Place the jars in a boiling water bath canner which is a large container with a rack in the bottom to hold the jars about one inch from the bottom. It should be tall enough to have space to cover the jar with about the same amount of space above the water.

The water should be hot but not boiling when you place the filled jars in the canner.

Place lid on the canner and bring the water to a rolling boil, but reduce the heat to just boiling. This prevents the juice from being drawn out of the jars.

Boll pint jars 35 minutes and quart jars 45 minutes.

Remove the jars from the water bath and let them cool.

The tomatoes can be canned without salt for the person on a low salt diet.

If you want to know more about canning, call or write to Mrs. Carolyn Haley, Asst. County Extension Agent for a free copy of B-194 "Home Canning Fruits and Vegetables."

The Texas Department of Public Safety is actively recruiting applicants to fill the ranks of its uniformed services. Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the DPS, announced that the training school for new uniformed law enforcement personnel will begin September 25, 1973.

The Major noted that the DPS has been increasingly successful in recruiting persons from minority groups to these positions and said efforts in this direction will continue.

Also in keeping with the current trend, female applicants will be considered for these rewarding careers in law enforcement.

Major Bell said general qualifications for DPS officers are these: applicants must be 20 through 35 years of age; height not less than 68 inches; weight not less than two pounds per inch of height; visual acuity of 20-40 correctable to 20-20; and a minimum of 45 semester hours of college credit.

Applications may be obtained by contacting any DPS employee or any DPS office. The completed application form should be taken to offices in Lubbock, Amarillo or Wichita Falls where the competitive examination is given each Tuesday and Wednesday at 9:00 a.m.

Major Bell said persons selected as cadets will be assigned to Austin for training at the DPS Academy. The salary during training will be $625.00 per month. Upon being commissioned the salary is raised to $719.00 monthly with the opportunity to advance to $848.00 per month.

Uniformed personnel receive additional longevity pay for each five years of service to 25 years. They are also granted a monthly uniform cleaning allowance, and receive travel expenses when away from their station.

Uniforms, vehicles, weapons, ammunition and related equipment are furnished. Group life and hospitalization are paid for the employee and dependent coverage is available at reasonable rates. Officers participate in the Employees Retirement System of Texas as well as Social Security. Vacation, holidays and sick leave are as provided for all State employees.

Successful graduates will be assigned to the Highway Patrol, License and Weight Service, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, or Drivers License Service, according to the needs of the DPS and consideration of personal preference.

All officers are eligible to compete for promotions after two years of service. Experienced uniformed DPS personnel interested in criminal investigation may apply for appointment to positions in the Criminal Law Enforcement Division, which includes Narcotics, Intelligence, Motor Vehicle Theft and Texas Ranger services as vacancies occur.

Arrangement will be made for a physical examination. A character investigation will be conducted and those persons who are accepted for employment will be notified prior to the beginning of the September recruit school.

FAMILY CAMPING DO'S & DON'TS

Whether or not you've ever gone camping before, having on hand the basic camping gear-plus the tips in this article-may make it a lot easier for you to take off for a weekend, or weeks, of outdoor fun.

DO mark up route maps early. The service station may be out of them on the day you plan to leave.

DON'T arrive at night and expect to set up camp in the dark.

DO make sure your tent is long enough for the tallest member of your group.

DON'T expect to find a babbling brook for drinking and washing water wherever you go. Be prepared-carry water with you.

DO bring along a complete first-aid kit, and know how to use it. One good item to include is a can of Rholispray, a highly effective treatment for poison ivy and poison oak as well as insect bites, mild sunburn and other minor skin irritations.

DON'T take your complete wardrobe with you. Make a list-then leave half the items behind. Drip-dry synthetic fabrics perform best for most camping purposes, but cotton knit shirts and blouses are cooler for hot spells.

DO pack for convenience. Pack so that when you reach a campsite, first things come out first-the tent and sleeping gear, then the camping equipment, then clothing, etc.

DON'T forget to observe camping etiquette. Open fires should be kept low to avoid sending sparks all over. When you leave the campsite, the fire should be doused with water and every spark extinguished.

DO let someone of authority in the area, like the police or forest ranger, know where you'll be camping out. And know where the nearest physician is in case of an emergency.

DON'T carry clothes in the airtight and potentially dangerous thin film bags that dry cleaners use, especially if you have playful and curious small children. Instead, use heavy transparent plastic zipper bags, which you can see through at a glance.

DO end your vacation on the same note it began-a note pitched for family fun!

School Board Approves Plans in Kindergarten

Shokola ISD Board of Education in regular monthly session Tuesday evening, July 12, approved for phasing five-year olds into the kindergarten program by January 1974. The 63rd Legislature ended in May, amendments pertaining to the State Kindergarten Program provide for the attendance of all five-year olds beginning of the 1973-74 year.

Original legislation provided that those children not designated as economically deprived (family income $3000 per year) or language handicapped may attend kindergarten, beginning with the school year, on a half-day basis. The new law providing for these pupils on a half-day basis for 180 days a full-day basis for 180 days.

High attendance in kindergarten is not included in the current school attendance report. Officials urge the attendance of all those who are

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS .....

Competent operation, use of protective equipment and proper maintenance could prevent most tractor and farm machinery accident.

And National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31, is a good time to review farm safety and to take preventative action where necessary.

The National Safety Council, which sponsors National Farm Safety Week along with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, estimates that tractor accidents from 800 to 1,000 lives and causes thousands of injuries annually.

More than half of all tractor accident fatalities involve overturns. Rollover protective cabs and frames could eliminate more than 90 percent of the fatalities.

Many farmers do not have rollover protection on their equipment due to the investment it requires. However, such protection is important and is being considered as a possible requirement under the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

To avoid hazards of farm machinery operation and operators to:

--Stay clear of ditches, embankments and holes to avoid upsets.
--Cut speed when turning, crossing slopes and rough, slick or muddy surfaces.

--Watch where you're going at row ends, on roads and near trees; watch for and avoid obstacles and be sure everyone is clear before moving.

--Stay off hills and slopes too steep for safe operation.

--Don't overload; engage the clutch slowly with a heavy load to avoid backward tip.

--Hitch loads only to the drawbar (if the drawbar is on a three-point hitch, set it no higher than the fixed drawbar); use front weights to balance the tractor.
--Keep PTO shields in place;

shut off PTO before unclogging; adjusting or servicing equipment.
--Set wheels as wide as practical for better stability.

--When stopped, put tractor out of gear, firmly set brakes and use the park lock; remove the key.

--Keep children off and away from machinery.

--Stay clear of running machinery when there is no need to be near.

--Never jump on or off moving equipment.

--Take breaks to reduce fatigue.

"Of course, I'll get it for you, darling . . . Stand away, while I kick the window in!"

"Now son . . . stand like this, then simply push your feet like . . . HELP!"

Falls Top Accident Li

CHICAGO — Falls are among the most common accidents in agriculture, yet they are perhaps the most difficult cause of injuries to guard against, according to the Farm Department of the National Safety Council.

Nearly one-third of all reported injuries in a study of farm and ranch accidents in ten states were the result of falls. An in-depth investigation of 955 of these accidents by the National Safety Council showed that the majority of those injured (863) were members of the farm family, and more than half of the accidents attributed to falls occurred on-the-job.

In a detailed study of 86 homestead falls, the Safety Council found that 76 percent of the falls resulted in serious injury, and that 50 percent of the victims were admitted to the hospital while 33 percent required hospital emergency room treatment. The investigation further revealed that the yard and the kitchen were the scenes of nearly 40 percent of all accidents, and in more than half of all the cases reviewed the victim was simply walking — not climbing up ladders or running down stairs.

The best weapon against accidental falls is alertness, according to the Safety Council. In addition to being alert and aware of the potential for a trip or slip, the Council points out that your chances of falling are increased by illness, haste, fatigue, emotional upset, alcohol and drugs.

There are several common hazards around the farm or ranch that one must watch for to aid in the prevention of accidental falls. Among these are:

—Cluttered work areas and passageways.

—Slippery surfaces resulting from ice, mud, water spills, oil, etc.

—Broken flooring and loose rugs.

—Ladders in a poor state of repair.

In combating injuries due to falls, the Council reminds farmers to:

—Keep stairs repaired and lighted.

—Provide sturdy hand rails.

—Do not carry a load that blocks your vision.

—Set ladders on firm footing. Follow 4 to 1 rule for straight ladders—set base one foot out from building or tree for every four feet up.

—Keep materials and tools well secured and within easy reach.

—Wear shoes with non-skid soles and heels.

—Do not work up high when the weather is windy or stormy.

—Do not work in a high place when you are ill, taking strong medicines.

—Allow no one to ride the draw bar or towed machinery.

—Stay clear of running machinery so that an accidental slip or stumble won't throw you into moving parts.

Falls and injuries can be prevented, but it is up to the individual to always be alert to cause accidental tumbles to happen without warning time or at any place.

week observers in Washington were doubtful that the House could be induced to reverse its vote on any major point.

The only other possible solution mentioned as the week ended was an amendment to reduce the term of the bill from four years to two years. Cost increases under the escalator, or adjustment, clause, according to Administration projections would occur mainly during the final two years of the bill. Thus it is reasoned that if the law were scheduled to expire after two years the President might be more inclined to sign it.

It is noteworthy that the Administration amassed all its forces behind the first effort to defeat the target price adjustment feature, and failed by 66 votes.

"So, fortunatley I think," Johnson stated, "the administration isn't necessarily in a position to dictate the terms of the compromise sought by those of us on the other side of the question."

Failure to resolve this issue to the satisfaction of both the Administration and the House could lead to all manner of possibilities, Johnson commented. "The House could pass a bill that the President would veto, in which case we might go back to the Act of 1958 until such time as Congress saw fit to change or repeal it. Or, the same situation could exist if the House simply failed to act at all. And it has been mentioned that the House might go for a one year extension of the present program if no new program seems possible."

"So the possibilities are almost without limit, with one being no less likely than the other at this point," he concluded.

Stubble Mulching Improves Soil

Stubble Mulching is the managing of plant residues of crops on a year-round basis in which harvesting, plowing, planting and cultivating operations are done in such a way as to keep protective amounts of plant material on the surface of the soil. The purpose of this practice is to reduce soil losses from wind and water, improve the rate which water passes through the soil, and improve the physical conditions of the soil.

Before you shrug off the idea of stubble mulching as "another investment in new machinery," you should check to see how much of the machinery you now own can be adapted for this purpose. You may find the cost surprisingly low.

Certain tools tend to leave more plant residue on the soil surface than others. For example, a one-way disc plow reduces surface residue by 50% each trip over the field, while an implement with 24-inch sweeps destroys only 10%.

The amount of residue you need to leave will depend on the soil type. For example, sandy type soils require more residues to be left on the soil surface than clay loam soils found in Lynn County. Sandy soils should have about 1,250 pounds per acre of small grain residue left for protection, while clay loam soils need only about 750 pounds per acre.

If you are interested in determining just how much residue you are leaving, make out an area measuring three feet each direction on three different but typical locations in the field. Remove all the stubble from each square yard area and weigh it in ounces. Multiply this figure by 100 and you have an approximate residue measurement.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

man Bob Poage of as, Chairman of the Agriculture Committee back for the team of ers trying to pass farm in the House, called Thursday, July 12 to come plan already gone mittee bill calls for a ce on cotton at 38 round with government to producers equal to ce between the target rage market price for target for other crops on $1.38 per bushel about $2.35 per cwt (sorghum) and $2.05 for wheat. There is called "escalator which eventually be- primary cause of Poa- wal strategy, calling

"But this fact seems completely ignored nstration," he said. as the bill was br- floor it was bombarded by amendments and was in trouble almost immediately. House members first tacked on a $20,000 per person limit on program benefits and outlawed sale or lease of cotton allotments. Then a provision for continued use of federal funds to supplement producer investments in Cotton Incorporated's research and promotion program was killed.

Johnson, noting that these actions hit hardest at cotton producers, said "Right from the start it began to look like 'kill cotton week' in Washington."

The clincher came when an amendment to knock out the "escalator" clause was defeated. With that clause intact Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan bluntly advised that President Nixon would "undoubtedly" veto the entire measure. The accuracy of Ford's statement was further confirmed by other Administration officials, and Poage was convinced that any play called to further advance the farm program ball would be rubbed out by the officials.

So, stating that he was interested only in passing a bill that would become law, not in just "doing something for the record," Poage called time.

Immediate strategy, while subject to change, was that over the week - end prominent members of the Agriculture Committee would confer with Administration officials in search of a means to break the escalator clause stalemate. Poage then hopes to bring the bill back to the floor July 16 or 17.

Actions already taken on the bill, including the House membership's endorsement of the escalator clause, unless superceded by new actions, will stand as recorded. And at the end of the

MRS. MARTIN WARREN
... NEE JILL BERTRAND

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Jill Bertrand became the bride of Martin Warren in a double ring, candlelight ceremony at 7:00 Saturday evening, July 14, in the United Methodist Church in Floydada. The Reverend Jimmy Tidwell, pastor of the church, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bertrand of Floydada are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warren of Tahoka, are the groom's parents.

While guests were seated by the ushers -- Jimmy McCord of Dallas, Danny Stone of Tahoka, Mike Simpson of Floydada--Miss Penny Bertrand played selections on the organ. The pastor then read a scripture from Genesis 2 while Miss RexAnne Jones of Odessa lit a candle on the altar. He then recited a scripture from the first chapter of Ruth while Miss Kim Bertrand of Floydada lit another candle on the altar. These two candles, representatives of the bride's and groom's lives, were then later used during the ceremony by the wedding couple to light the eternal candle.

After Mike Cunningham of Lubbock sang "A Time For Us", the wedding march was played while the bride was escorted to the altar and given away by her father. Miss Bertrand wore a gown of illusion silk bombazine and lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline and long tapering sleeves caught with self - buttons and ending in a point at her hands. The bouffant skirt, highlighted by lace appliques, fell into a three - tiered chapel train. The gown was purchased by the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. P. F. Bertrand, for her granddaughters, and Miss Bertrand is the fourth granddaughter to wear the dress.

For something old, the bride tied her maternal grandmother's (the late Mrs. A. M. Battey) wedding ring in her bouquet. For something borrowed, she carried a pure linen and lace handkerchief from Ireland which belongs to Mrs. H. M. Thomas. Something new was her bridal veil, and something blue was the traditional blue garter.

The vows were read, and Mr. Cunningham sang "Until The Twelfth of Never". After lighting the eternal candle on the altar, Jill presented Mrs. Warren with a red rose while Martin gave one to Mrs. Bertrand. The "Lord's Prayer" was then sang by the vocalist while the couple knelt before the altar.

Miss Reagan Cagle of Floydada was maid of honor. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Danny Stone of Tahoka, and bridesmaids were Miss Janet Watts of Austin and Miss Suzanne Warren, sister of the groom, of Tahoka. Miss Angie Bertrand, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. The feminine attendants were dressed identically, except for the color, in empire, floor - length gowns and straw picture hats to match the color of their dress. The various colors worn were yellow, blue, pink, and orchid. The attendants carried white straw baskets filled with summer flowers.

The groom's brother, Weldon Warren of Tahoka, served as best man. David Rogers of Lubbock, Doug White of Kilgore, and Rex Hamilton of Wilson served as groomsmen.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall. Misses Jean Campbell, D'Ann Cates, and Nancy Williams, all of Floydada, and Mrs. Travis Welch of Comanche assisted in serving at the bride's table. The table was laid with a white drawnwork cloth over a pink liner. The centerpiece was summer flowers surrounding a crystal hurricane lamp with crystal candle holders on either side. A three - tiered wedding cake graced the table. Banana crush punch was served from a crystal punch bowl.

The groom's table was laid with a cutwork cloth brought from Hong Kong by the groom's father. A brown candle surrounded with greenery was the centerpiece. Mr. John Huffaker of Lubbock and Mr. Bruce Franklin of Tahoka served German chocolate cake and coffee from a silver service set.

Registering guests were Mrs. Lanny Glasscock of Lockney and Mrs. Mike Fillingim of New Home. Special guests from out of town were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Warren.

For traveling, the bride changed to a pink and beige knit dress topped with a multi - colored, pastel, waist - length jacket. She wore beige accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will make their home in Lubbock. The bride graduated from Texas Tech last May. Mr. Warren, a member of Saddle Tramps and Block and Bridle, will attend Texas Tech this fall and also farm in Tahoka.
