Sweet Street Baptist Revival Begins Sunday

Revival services will be held at the Sweet Street Baptist Church, April 21-28. Morning services will be at 10 a.m. and evening services at 8 p.m. Nursery care will be provided. Leslie Veteto will be the evangelist for the services. Lee R. Jones is pastor of the church. Everyone is invited to attend each of the services.

Papers Picked Up April 27

Saturday morning, April 27, has been set for pickup day for the Boy Scout Paper Drive, weather permitting.

Townpeople are asked to tie their papers securely (half folded) and leave them on their front porch. The boys will not be knocking on doors. Only the papers in plain sight will be picked up.

Saturday's pickup will begin at 8:00 a.m. and will cover everything north of South 3rd Street and West of Highway 87.

Residents in other areas of the city are asked to bring their papers to the Scout Hut Saturday morning between 9 and 12.

The Scouts are in need of a grain type truck with which to take the papers to Lubbock. Anyone having such a vehicle should contact the Scoutmaster, Ed Redwine.

Hospital Employees Plan Supper

The employees of Lynn County Hospital will sponsor an enchilada and taco supper on Friday, April 26, from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the El Sarape Restaurant. Prices will be $2.00 per plate of either tacos or enchiladas. Proceeds from this sale will be used to help finance a public address system for the hospital, a project which the hospital employees have expressed complete willingness to achieve.

On Saturday, April 27, the employees will sponsor a Garage Sale in the vacant building adjoining the formerly known Haberdasher on the north side. Any donations toward the Garage Sale will be sincerely appreciated, and will be picked up by a hospital employee. In conjunction with the Garage Sale, a Bake Sale will be conducted the same day at Parker Pharmacy, Tahoka Drug, and Piggly Wiggly No. 1 on Lockwood Street. Pastry prices will range from $2.00 to $5.00 and pastry orders may be picked up at the Piggly Wiggly No. 1. Call 998-4533 for special orders or donations toward the Garage Sale.

LUCKY ESCAPE--Robin Stark had a lucky escape as she turned her car over on Lockwood Street near Akin Grocery. Robin was alone in the car and was trying to avoid hitting a dog when her 1973 Honda rolled over. She was not injured.

New Home Baptist Revival April 21-28

The New Home Baptist Church revival will get underway Sunday, April 21, and continue through Sunday, April 28. Monday through Saturday services will be held from 12 to 1 p.m. (noon) and 7:30 p.m. and Sunday services will be 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Evangelist for the revival will be Rev. Jacky L. Newton, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, Iowa Park, Texas. Bill Keck, minister of music, Fielder Rd. Baptist Church, Arlington, Texas will lead the singing.

If you would have your heart "strangely warmed" by the Holy Spirit of God, come and attend any or all of these revival services. Everyone is welcome.

New Constitution Is Rotary Subject

Texas' new proposed constitution being formulated by the State Legislature was discussed at the Rotary Club last Thursday by Rep. E.L. Short of the local district and Renal B. Rosson of the Snyder district.

The Texas Constitution was last re-written in 1876, and since that time 218 amendments have been added, making it very lengthy. However, the new one the Legislature may propose is due to be pretty lengthy also.

There are many good points to the new constitution, but both men pointed out there are some bad features. Both predicted that if the final draft is approved by the Legislators certain articles will draw much criticism and voters of the state may not approve the new draft.

Mr. Rosson, who is retiring after 16 years as a legislator, pointed out, however, that the present legislature may be more conservative than will be the future membership, since the big cities are gradually gaining a majority and the rural area losing members. For example, Houston had nine representatives when he entered the House in 1959, and today that city has 24.

Both Short and Rosson had their wives with them, and Short had as guests several members of the Lions Club.

Cap Wharton arranged the interesting and informative program.

Revival At Wells Baptist Church

The Wells Baptist Church will begin revival services Sunday, April 21, and continue through Wednesday, April 24. Marion Baker, pastor, will be conducting the meeting and Leslie Lewis of Fort Worth will be leading the music.

Services will be at 11 a.m.

and 6 p.m. Sunday, and Monday through Wednesday services at 7:30 p.m.

Everyone is invited to attend each and every service.

Art Association To Meet Tuesday

The Lynn County Art Association will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

Purpose of the meeting will be to continue plans for the June Art Show.

A membership drive was started last month. You don't have to be an artist to join LCAA, just have an interest.

School Board Elects Officers

The Tahoka Board of Trustees met in regular session Monday, April 15, and canvassed the election returns of the trustee election held on April 6. Newly elected members Joe Brooks, Othell Meeks and Kenneth Turner took the oath of office. The Board reorganized with Kenneth Turner being elected president, Othell Meeks, vice president and Dayton Parker secretary.

In other action a driver training program was approved for the late spring and summer.

The Board accepted resignations, effective with the end of the current year, for Mrs. Diane McCartor, who teaches in the Resource Education Program and Kenneth Purcell, Assistant Football Coach. Mrs. Patricia Bickham was elected to elementary assignment for the 1974-75 school year, and Mrs. Leah Taylor was elected to teach in the Junior High School for the 1974-75 school year.

Other action of the Board resulted in provisions for compliance with the new minimum wage law, adjustments to coaching staff salaries for the new year and a change of policy, effective with the 1974-75 school year, that deletes the requirement of study halls for students who wish to take five solid subjects and two activities.

Members present were: Kenneth Turner, President; Othell Meeks, vice president; Dayton Parker, Secretary; Joe Brooks, Dan Curry and Robert Warren. The Superintendent and Director of Business Affairs were also in attendance.

National Library Week April 21-27

"Your Library is an Awareness of Information" is the theme for National Library Week in Texas to be observed April 21-27, 1974. The selection of and acceptance by Mrs. Dolph Briscoe to be Chairwoman of the NLW Committee emphasizes the importance of the library as a service institution to the citizens of the state, and the need for active support from everyone.

It was Thomas Jefferson who said that, "If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be." The library from its beginning has acquired, organized and made available--free to the public--the information which it needs for formal and continuing education. However, with the ever increasing rate at which new knowledge is being created, the task is becoming very difficult given the slow rate of library development as compared to this information explosion. Texas is experiencing more difficulties in this regard than most other states. It ranks 41st in the nation in per capita public library support, with twenty-one counties having a combined total population of 97,959, and another 610,210 Texans in other counties, having no public library service of any kind. Just three Texas public libraries are able to expend the $7.66 per capita as recommended by the American Library Association for adequate library service; the average is only $2.37 for total support of the population served in Texas.

Do you reside in an area served by one of the fortunate three? Visit your local library and find out just what services it can afford to offer; think what it could do with adequate resources and your continued support. Why not do it during National Library Week?

Three Accidents In Lynn Co.

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Lynn County during the month of March, 1974, according to Sergeant H.E. Pirtle, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and four persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first three months of 1974 shows a total of 14 accidents resulting in one person killed and 21 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for March, 1974, shows a total of 395 accidents resulting in 23 persons killed and 172 persons injured as compared to March, 1973, with 468 accidents resulting in 19 persons killed and 263 persons injured. This was 73 less accidents, four more killed, and 91 less injured in 1974 at the same period of time.

The 23 traffic deaths for the month of March, 1974, occurred in the following counties: five in Lubbock; four in Hale, two in Parker and Wichita; and one each in Deaf Smith, Foard, Gray, Hutchinson, Randall, Wheeler, Bailey, Palo Pinto, Terry, and Young counties.

AUSTIN, Tex. — It's show and tell time for political candidates, and many of them don't have as much to show as they would like to for their fund-raising efforts.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe ran second to Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Granberry in campaign spending up to March 25, according to the first contribution-spending reports filed with the secretary of state.

Granberry reported contributions and loans of $171,425 (including $22,500 of his own money) and spending of $171,425 since last summer when he began his race.

Briscoe's spending — including a $120,000 loan of his own money — was pegged at $153,754.

Frances "Sissy" Farenthold reported some $40,865 in expenditures and debts.

The effort is far below that of 1972 when Briscoe spent nearly $1.6 million in the primaries, and Mrs. Farenthold spent $672,441.

Comptroller Candidate Bob Bullock has reported spending of about $60,000 in his Democratic race, and Hugh Edubrg said he has outlays of about $12,900.

Edburg acknowledged he is using about $7,000 of his own money. Bullock said he has used $12,600 from his own resources, and has $38,300 in loans from his business partner, Ken Wendler of Austin.

One of the big-spending groups so far has been the Texas Citizens for Parimutuel Horse Racing, which reported a $7,000-cost campaign to get the issue of legalizing race track betting on primary ballots.

NEW CONVENTION GOAL — With the Constitutional Convention in recess, President Price Daniel Jr. has a new goal: he is aiming to wind up the revision task by May 31.

Actually, he conceded the first or second week of June is a more realistic target.

Two of the toughest articles — judiciary and general provisions (which includes the controversial right to work issue) — remain to be debated when delegates return to Austin.

They must also vote again (and muster a two-thirds majority) on the seven articles approved tentatively so far, and then decide the form of submission of the constitution, and alternative proposals to voters.

PRISONER COLLEGE PLAN OFFERED — Prison inmates at Ramsey Unit will be the first in the U.S. to be offered a chance at four-year college degrees through the University of Houston at Clear Lake City.

Junior college associate degrees have been available since 1965 through special programs.

Thirty-to-60 students will begin classes at Ramsey Unit in June. Next fall, Stephen F. Austin University is due to extend courses to inmates at Coffield Unit near Palestine.

"The more education a man has, the less likely he is to return to prison," said State Prison System Director W. J. Estelle.

CONTRACT AWARDED — A contract for the first modernization of property tax laws since 1925 has been awarded by the Legislative Property Tax Committee.

Law Research Corporation of Texas, an Austin group, received the maximum $125,590 — cost recodification contract.

LPTC abandoned a plan to conduct an intensive school property tax survey on a totally-random-selection basis. The 35 school districts will be re-selected to insure a geographic spread in five regions.

COURTS SPEAK — Power of city governments to regulate extended area telephone rates was approved by the State Supreme Court.

The High Court turned down a Houston woman's appeal in a lawsuit in which she has unsuccessfully claimed $635,000 in damages against a doctor due to an unusually-large appendectomy scar.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a San Saba murder conviction because the jury didn't decide a sanity question.

Murder conviction of a Dallas man who set fire to car in which another was asphyxiated lost an appeal from a life sentence.

Attorneys for former House Speaker Gus Mutscher, appealing a conviction for bribery conspiracy, argued before the Court of Criminal Appeals that no conspiracy was ever proved and the principal witness was not asked about it.

FAMILIES NOTIFIED — A new state program offering toll-free telephone service has contacted 861 families, relaying messages on runaway children, Governor Briscoe reported.

Since last September, Briscoe said, the program, "Operation Peace of Mind," has received 1,890 calls from runaways in 42 states. The national hotline enables the runaways to relay messages to their parents from a round-the-clock, volunteer-manned center in Houston.

APPOINTMENTS — Frank Hutchinson is new director of Minority Business Enterprise. Robert A. Sartwelle of Houston was appointed by Governor Briscoe to the San Jacinto Historical Advisory Board.

Dann Barger of Brownwood is new superintendent of the Crockett State School.

Kraege Polan Jr., former aide to Speaker Price Daniel Jr., has joined the staff of Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur in his campaign for speaker.

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale is a new member of the Education Commission of the States, a national organization of state leaders and educators.

MIGRANT OFFICE CREATED — A Migrant Affairs Office and Migrant Fuel Allocation Plan for Texas were set up by executive order of the governor last week.

The MAC will act as liaison with all agencies which serve migrant groups and try to identify present and future resources at federal, state and local levels to aid with problems.

The fuel program will permit migrants to obtain gasoline at 51 designated truck stops as they move north during agricultural seasons.

"PRIVATE" SUPERPORT ENDORSED — A Senate committee endorsed private ownership of a Texas superport, but two coastal area senators objected.

The Committee report said it is not "the responsibility of state government to underwrite this kind of risk when private enterprise is ready and willing to accept the challenge." Sens. D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur and Bob Gammage of Houston said state ownership of the proposed offshore unloading terminal for oil tankers is in the best public interest.

SHORT SNORTS
 The "capitol" will "move" to Amarillo, April 27, when Sen. Max Sherman becomes governor for a day. He is senate president pro tempore.

Governor Briscoe's top aide told a Senate sub-committee on consumer affairs there may be a need for regulation of intrastate long distance calls and in cities and rural areas where none now exists.

Introducing

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stapp of Tahoka are the parents of a son born Saturday, April 13, at 11:56 a.m. in Lubbock's St. Mary's Hospital.

The baby was 19 inches long, weighed 6 lbs. 6 ozs. and has been named Lental Wyatt. He has an older sister, Sonja, 14 months old. Mr. Stapp is assistant service manager at Bray Chevrolet Co.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Stapp and Mrs. Woody Stapp, all of Lubbock.

WHY WORRY

There are only two things to worry about—either you are well or you are sick. If you are well, then there is nothing to worry about, but if you are sick, there are two things to worry about—either you get well or you don't. If you get well, there is nothing to worry about. If you don't, there are two things to worry about—you will either go to Heaven or that other place. If you go to Heaven, there is nothing to worry about, and if you go to the other place, you'll be busy shaking hands with your friends, you have no time to worry.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Toy Gun

Grocer Hawkins put up no resistance as the youthful robber cleaned out his cash register. To Hawkins, the young man's pistol was all too real.

But in fact, the pistol was a toy. When the robber was later caught and brought to trial for "armed robbery," he insisted that the charge would not stand up.

"The simple truth is," he told the court, "that I was not armed at all. That gun I had couldn't hurt a flea."

Nevertheless, the court decided he was guilty as charged. The court said what mattered was not the actual character of the gun but the way it looked to the victim.

Most courts agree. That is, they view the holdup weapon "through the eyes of the beholder." They reason that the essence of the crime is putting the victim in fear, which can be done as effectively with a gun that only looks deadly as with one that really is.

There have even been cases of "armed robbery" in which the robber had no weapon at all. Thus: another holdup man terrified his victim merely by showing a menacing bulge in his coat pocket.

Yet, a court decided this was enough basis for a charge of armed robbery. The court said the fear that the robber had a gun, plus the fear that he might use it, was all that the law required by way of intimidation.

Still, the fear must be at least of physical harm—not of a lesser form of pressure. Suppose A says to B:

"Unless you hand over $500, I'll get you in trouble with the Internal Revenue Service."

If B pays off, A may be guilty of some offense—but not robbery. As one court put it:

"There can be no robbery without violence. The menace must be of a sort to excite reasonable apprehension of danger. Threat of prosecution for a crime is regarded as insufficient (because) a man in the hands of the law is not legally presumed to be in danger of bodily harm."

Having Dust Problems?

JET FLO Dustmaster mounts on the intake pipe of oil bath or dry filter. The ASPIRATOR mounts on the exhaust pipe. Both are connected with flexible tubing.

Air entering PRECLEANER (1) passes through stationary vanes (2) increasing the turbulence which throws dirt and micro-fine dust to the outside of PRECLEANER (3) and into a low pressure compartment (4) at bottom. A flexible steel hose (5) connects this contaminated air compartment with the ASPIRATOR. A venturi (6) in the ASPIRATOR through which the exhaust pressure passes, creates a constant vacuum pull on the contaminated air compartment of the PRECLEANER.

This engineering design offers a self-cleaning PRECLEANER with No Moving Parts or additional elements to replace or clean, saving endless cost of replacement elements and additional service time. Using waste power of exhaust pressure to discharge the contaminated air, adds much longer engine life for no more than the initial PRECLEANER COST!

FARM FACTS

Insect Control Pays Off

Control of insects in potato crops has increased U.S. production by one-third.

No Shoe-String Operation

It now takes a capital investment of about $250,000 to start a typical full-time owner-operated farm, reports the Farm Credit Administration.

Those Amber Waves

Nearly 50 million acres of wheat are harvested in the United States each year, and almost every state grows some wheat. Because of the widely diverse climate and soils across the country, more than 200 different varieties are grown.

Farm Decline Seen

By 1985, the U.S. will have some 700,000 fewer farms than it does now, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

It's A Narrow Margin

Selling prices of farm products averaged 35 percent higher in 1973 than in 1972, but farm production expenses zoomed upward by nearly one-third.

The Miracle Workers

Before 1930, it took more than half an hour of labor to produce a bushel of corn. In the last few years, U.S. farmers have produced a bushel of corn with less than three minutes' labor.

AROUND TOWN

BY LEONA WALDRIP
CALL 998-4496

Presiding at the regular meeting on Tuesday night, N.G. Rebekahs led her fellow Rebekahs in a discussion of the book the Lodge is assembling. Be ready with your favorite recipe when a Rebekah calls on you.
Mr. and Mrs. Borden Davis were called the first of last week to Pottsville Arkansas, by the illness of his sister's husband, Gene Roland. It has been reported that he has passed away but details are not known at this writing. The Rolands lived here in the 30's and 40's moving from here to Lorenzo and later to Arkansas.
Visiting during the Easter holidays in Garland are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Akins, with the Melvin Sims family. They left Wednesday. Visitors in the home of her mother here Miss Joyce Dewbre and a friend, Miss Marilyn Miller, both of Shreveport, La., spent Thursday night and Friday. They left for El Paso and the Big Bend National Park where they will spend some time before returning to their work at Medical College in Shreveport. They are both librarians.

In a letter from Mrs. J.E. Hill of Sulphur, Okla., she tells how much they enjoy getting Lynn County News, even though it's Monday before it reaches them. The Hills formerly lived here and Mr. Hill has been in the Veterans Hospital in Sulphur for 17 months. She is the mother of Leslie Paris and Billie McNealey. The Hills would enjoy hearing from old friends. The address is 1006 E. 6th, Sulphur, Okla., 73086.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClellan and their 3 youngsters were here for the Pool funeral last week. Charles who worked at Lynn County News for many years, had to rush back to his printing business in Ruidoso, New Mexico, but Peggy stayed on for a couple of days to visit old friends.

These few notes are being written early as I left Friday again for Okla. Will try to be back in time to get in a few lines next week so this column won't be entirely blank.

Lynn County News Change In SS Applications

People may be asked to prove their age, identity, and citizenship to get a social security number when applying for the first time, according to Clyde W. James, social security district manager in Lubbock.

The proof is required under an amendment to the social security law. "The requirement affects native United States citizens, naturalized citizens, and aliens," James said.

People can apply for a social security number by writing or visiting any social security office. Application forms are available at social security offices and post offices.

"Age can usually be proved with a birth or baptismal certificate," James said. "Identity can generally be proved with a driver's license, voter's card, or similar evidence-- preferably something that carries your signature."

People born in the United States can usually establish citizenship with the same papers they use to prove their age and identity, he said.

People applying for duplicate social security numbers because they've lost their social security cards or changed their name generally aren't affected by the proof requirement, according to James.

The proof requirement is intended to help prevent people from obtaining more than one social security number or obtaining or using a social security card under a false identity, James said.

A fine of up to $1,000, imprisonment of up to one year, or both may be imposed for fraudulent use of genuine or fake social security numbers to hide true identity or to get benefits from Federally funded programs.

"Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," James said. "You could retirement, disability, survivors and Medicare protection for yourself and your family by work and earnings credited to your social security number. Using more than one number could mean you're not getting full credit, which could adversely affect your social security payments in the future."

"You should apply for a social security number several weeks before you need it," James said. "Applications are generally screened against social security central files in Baltimore, and screening takes time.

"When you get a job covered by social security," he said, "make sure your employer copies your name and number correctly from your social security card to his records."
The Lubbock Social Security Office is at 1205 Texas. The phone number is 762-7381.

SANCAP. BECAUSE YOU HAVE ENOUGH SOIL PROBLEMS ALREADY.

If the soil in West Texas was the same as the soil everywhere else maybe the herbicides they use would be good enough for you.

But you've got different soil. Sandy soil. And different problems.

You need an herbicide specifically made for sand, loamy sands and fine sandy loam soils. You need Sancap*.

If you used it when we introduced it last season, you know what it can do.

STOP CARELESSWEED AND RUSSIAN THISTLE COLD.

Without hurting your cotton.

With just ordinary rainfall or irrigation.

And all you have to do is broadcast Sancap over your field at planting or within two days after.

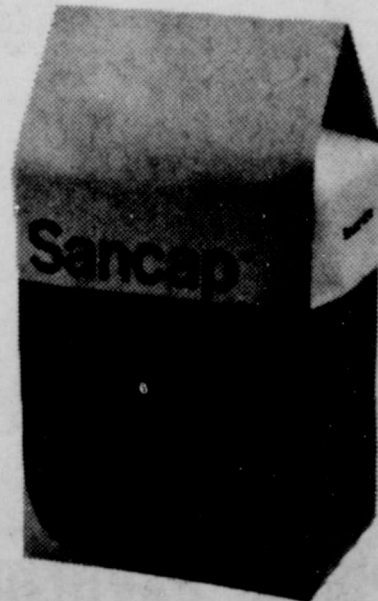

No incorporation, either.

Sancap. The only herbicide made for sandy soil. We made it especially for your soil and problems.

And not anybody else's.

Miss Henning At Hayloft

Miss Linda Kaye Henning is playing at the Hayloft Dinner Theater in Marcel Archard's "A Shot in the Dark". She is playing Josefa, the childlike and completely captivating chambermaid. The Hayloft has new, padded, very comfortable chairs to make dinner and the play even more enjoyable.

Miss Henning is a far cry from the girl who played the role of simple, homespun Betty Jo on "Petticoat Junction" for seven years. That girl has grown into a warm, sophisticated and talented actress whose roles have run the gamut from the gentle daughter of Tevye in "Fiddler on the Roof" to a sexy striptease dancer—"Gypsy" in the musical about Gypsy Rose Lee.

Linda has wanted to perform as far back as she can remember, and her mother—herself a successful actress before she married television writer, Paul Henning—saw to it that Linda had the necessary career foundation of ballet and voice lessons, both of which began for Linda at an early age.

As a freshman at San Fernando Valley State College, she became convinced that her range of expression would be broadened if she extended it to acting.

When her father was readying "Petticoat Junction" for the cameras, the late Bea Benadaret, who was to star, saw Linda on the stage in "Bus Stop", and suggested that she audition for the ingenue role with the result that Linda was given the role despite her parent rather than because of him. "With Bea in my corner, it really helped. But, I had to prove myself twice over to convince my father."

Off-screen, her interests and outside activities are kaleidoscopic. When she is at home and at leisure, she attends classes at UCLA, specializing in English Literature, purely for the pleasure of learning. She also attends, as well as addresses, acting seminars. She is involved in dancing and singing lessons and works out at a gym regularly. And, there are several charitable endeavors and fund-raising events in which she takes an active role.

Those who followed "Petticoat Junction" will remember that Linda married her co-star Mike Minor, both on and off-screen. After four and one-half years of marriage, they are now divorced.

"I have no desire to become a household word and no aspirations to be a 'star' observes Linda. "But, I would like to be well-known and respected for my acting ability so that I can always work. I love my work."

The new minimum wage bill signed into law April 8 by President Richard Nixon can only be called "planned inflation" according to PCG President Don Marble of South Plains, "as is any forced wage increase which is unrelated to increased productivity."

The law, enacted over PCG objections, increases minimum wages for various groups of workers from 19 percent to 38 percent beginning May 1 of this year. By 1978 the percentage increase over 1973 minimums grows to a high of 77 percent under the statute.

Farm labor, Marble points out, will register the biggest increases, going from a current $1.30 an hour to $1.60 on May 1, to $1.80 for all of 1975, to $2.00 in 1976, $2.20 in 1977, and to $2.30 in 1978. Farm workers covered, as under previous law, include those employed on farms using 500 or more man days in any calendar quarter of the previous year.

A "man day" is defined in the law as any day on which an employee performs as much as one hour of agricultural labor.

The minimum for all non-agricultural workers covered by minimum wage laws prior to 1966 will jump from $1.60 an hour to $1.90 beginning May 1, go to $2.10 in 1975 and to $2.30 in 1976.

Cotton ginners, whose workers were first covered by the minimum wage law of 1966, will be hit by both an increased minimum and a reduced overtime exemption. The minimum wage for gin workers on May 1 will be raised from $1.60 to $1.90, then to $2.00, $2.20 and $2.30 in the next three years.

Last year ginners could choose 14 weeks of the peak ginning season during which they were exempt from the law's overtime requirements on members of the active gin crew. Gin employees not on the active ginning crew could work up to ten hours a day and 50 hours a week during the same 14 week period without falling under overtime provisions.

Beginning in 1974 those overtime exemptions will be steadily whittled away. Ginners in 1974 will have a six week period during which they can offer employment of 72 hours per week without paying overtime, a four week period with up to 64 hours exempt, two weeks of a 54-hour exemption, and a 48-hour exemption for the remainder of the work weeks in the year. For 1975 the corresponding figures will be six weeks and 66 hours, four weeks and 60 hours, two weeks and 50 hours, an additional two weeks and a 46-hour exemption and a 44-hour exemption the remainder of the year. By 1976 the exemption will be cut to six weeks with 60 hours, four weeks with 56 hours, two weeks with 48 hours, two weeks with 44 hours, and no exemption at all for the remaining work weeks of the year.

Gin employees who are not a part of the active gin crew must be paid overtime compensation in 1974 for all hours in excess of 10 hours per day and 48 hours per work week for a period or periods not to exceed 14 work weeks in the calendar year.

Traditional overtime exemptions for cottonseed oil mills will be completely phased out in four steps, ending December 31, 1976. Compress and warehouse exemptions will be in effect 14 weeks in which workers can work a maximum of 48 hours per week, 10 hours per day. In 1973 this was 50 hours per week, 10 hours per day.

Preliminary calculations of PCG indicate that the cost of producing cotton under the new wage minimum will go up about $2.00 per bale, and that inflated ginning and other processing costs will bring the total increase to the neighborhood of $3.00 per bale.

Little League Work Night

There will be a work night at the Little League Park on Friday night, April 19, 1974. All fathers of players, bring your hoe, rakes and shovels and come and help get the field ready for League play. Come on down any time after 6:00 p.m.

Carolyn Haley Says...

Contrary to popular opinion, vitamins aren't pep pills.

According to a recent Food and Drug Administration study, most people believe that extra vitamins provide pep and energy—a false impression.

Instead, vitamins "make things happen."

They don't become energy or structure for the body.

Necessary in only very small amounts, vitamins work mainly as enzymes—and sometimes like enzyme helpers or coenzymes.

Without enzymes, certain chemical reactions—like breaking protein into amino acids during digestion—wouldn't take place.

Vitamins are usually combined with other nutrients—especially protein, carbohydrates and fat—in foods that supply calories. But alone, in pill form, they don't furnish calories.

There are two types—fat-soluble vitamins and water-soluble vitamins.

A person's body stores fat-soluble ones—such as Vitamins A, D, E, and K. However, excesses can present problems. For example, excessive vitamin A can cause increased pressure inside the skull.

Excess water-soluble vitamins, in contrast are excreted in urine. These vitamins—including the B-vitamins and vitamin C—are not stored to any large extent in the body.

Vitamins appear in a wide variety of foods. As a result, the average healthy person can get all he needs from foods in a balanced diet.

Supplemental vitamins should be taken only under a physician's directions, when there's increased body needs.

When on special, buy plenty of eggs—and freeze the extras. But don't just place eggs—shell and all—in a freezer.

To successfully freeze them, break eggs and blend whites and yolks together. Add one-fourth teaspoon of sugar or salt per egg—to prevent them from becoming thick and gummy—and cover tightly.

If preferred, yolks and whites can be frozen separately. To freeze egg yolks, add sugar or salt as instructed previously. Egg whites, on the other hand, don't require extra ingredients to maintain quality during freezing.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS

Two day's delay in cotton seedling emergence can result in yield losses ranging from 3 to 38 percent compared with the earliest seedlings, says a USDA agricultural engineer here.

Pointing to research conducted last May, Don Wanjura of the Agricultural Research Service- USDA said that uniform stands of cotton seedlings that have emerged in a short time are essential to top cotton yields.

He reported that a plant stand which has a long period between first and last seedling emergence means that a longer season is needed to mature the entire crop. And for irrigated production, it is more difficult to apply water effectively since there is a greater variability in the development stage of the field crop.

Cotton seedlings which emerge fast, Wanjura suggested, usually are vigorous plants. And the length of time between the first and last emerging plants affects the uniformity of the plant stand.

Seed quality and seed zone environment primarily influences how fast seeds germinate and emerge, the scientist said.

Making up the seed zone environment are soil, temperature and moisture, with planting depth an important factor in seedling emergence. Collectively these factors largely determine when the first seedlings emerge and the length of time between initial and final emergence.

Of these, Wanjura explained, temperature primarily affects how fast cotton germinates and emerges. Low soil temperatures after planting result in reduced emergence particularly of poor quality seed, since it is not sufficiently vigorous to emerge under conditions much less than ideal, he said.

Soil moisture and temperature

In the seed zone continually change after the planting operation is completed, according to the researcher. Since both temperature and moisture are fluctuating it is difficult to differentiate their individual effects on cotton emergence. Of course, if soil moisture is adequate at planting, a drying-out problem is more likely to develop early in the season when cooler temperatures prevail than later when warm temperatures are common, he said.

Typical weather which accompanies cool temperatures during the early season causes slow germination and soil drying; however, the soil drying under these conditions is occurring at a relatively faster rate in relation to the germination process than at higher temperatures later in the season.

Planting depth also influences the percentage of planted seed which can emerge, he added. Even if the seed zone environment is otherwise favorable, a seed planted three inches deep needs more energy to emerge than a seed planted at two inches. Thus, fewer seedlings emerge as planting depth increases, and planting rates become increasingly critical in assuring a desirable stand. Research has shown that two inches is the optimum planting depth for the South Plains, Wanjura noted.

A guide for adjusting seeding rates for different planting depths when conditions are favorable for cotton emergence was developed by the scientist. For producers who normally plant two inches deep, the guide indicates that the ratio of emergence percentage (EP) divided by germination percentage (GP) is .84. If the seed germination is 90 percent, multiplying 90 by .84 equals 75.6 percent. Thus the expected final emergence would be estimated at approximately 76 percent for the conditions described.

This guide, he said, can be used to estimate emergence percentage for other seed qualities by multiplying the proper value of EP-GP in the guide by the seed germination percentage.

Farmers on Roller Coaster... Red Meat Processing Down... Anti-Screwworms Plans Progress... Lack of Rain Reports Heard

THERE'S NO DOUBT that Texas farmers are better off than they used to be -- if you pick the right periods of time; and there's no doubt that they are worse off than they used to be—at other times.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says that the "All Farm Products Index of Prices Received" last March 15 was 543 per cent of the January, 1910-December, 1914 base. That is 34 points below the previous month of this year but 100 points (23 per cent) above a year ago.

On the other hand, the livestock products index was about eight per cent below February 1974 and 10 per cent below the same period last year, as any cattleman will testify. Beef cattle were down $3.40 a hundred from February and $5.60 below a year ago at $40.40 per hundred. Hogs at $33.20 a hundred were down $5.20 from February and $4 from a year ago.

PROCESSING OF RED MEAT was down during February 1974 in Texas. Slaughtering plants produced 160.9 million pounds during that month, which is 20 per cent lower than the 201.0 million pounds produced in January 1974 and four per cent below February 1973. February 1974 slaughter of cattle totaled 252,000 head, 65,000 head fewer than the previous month and 17,000 below February a year ago.

There were 569,000 head of cattle slaughtered during the first two months of this year; 214,500 sheep and lambs were killed during the same two months. Sheep and lambs killed totaled 98,500 during February, which is 17,500 fewer than the month earlier and 2,000 more than in February 1973.

SCREWWORMS are showing up more frequently now in Mexico, it is reported. Slow help is on the way, however. Mexican and U.S. officials are reported by USDA to be negotiating with contractors for construction of the main facility in southern Mexico in which to produce more than 300 million sterile screwworm flies each week.

The production plant is supposed to be completed in 1975. The plan is to eradicate screwworms north of Tuxtla Gutierrez, Mexico, then to keep a permanent barrier of sterile flies across Mexico's narrow Isthmus of Tehuantepec to keep the pest from moving northward.

LACK OF RAIN is a drawback to farming in many parts of Texas, but progress is reported in planting in 1974 crops. Oats are reported doing well in the southern and eastern half of the State where moisture has been adequate.

Wheat is heading out from the Cross Timbers to South Texas and is in the boot stage on the Low Plains. Irrigated wheat is making good growth on the High Plains, and rains a couple of weeks ago helped some dryland wheat, but most dryland wheat has poor prospects.

Rice seeding is reported more than half completed, and cotton planting is about seven per cent complete over the State, all of it in South Texas. Peanut planting is underway in South Texas.

IF PECAN buds herald true spring weather, then such weather is here; because pecans are leafing in most South Texas areas and budding in other areas of the State.
