Texas Historical Marker To Be Erected Labor Day

Official Texas Historical Marker for Tahoka will be erected on Labor Day, Sept. 2, 1974, at 5:00 p.m.; it was announced by John Ed Redwine of Tahoka, chairman of the Lynn County Historical Survey Commission.

The marker will be placed on the front lawn of the Tahoka Hall. Made of cast aluminum with a fish steel effect, the marker measures 27 by 42 inches and is sponsored by Tahoka Lions Club and City of Tahoka.

Speaking on the dedication program will be Redwine; Mel Leslie, mayor; Lee Holden, Lions Club president; and a representative of the Texas Historical Commission. Frank Hill is the local marker chairman.

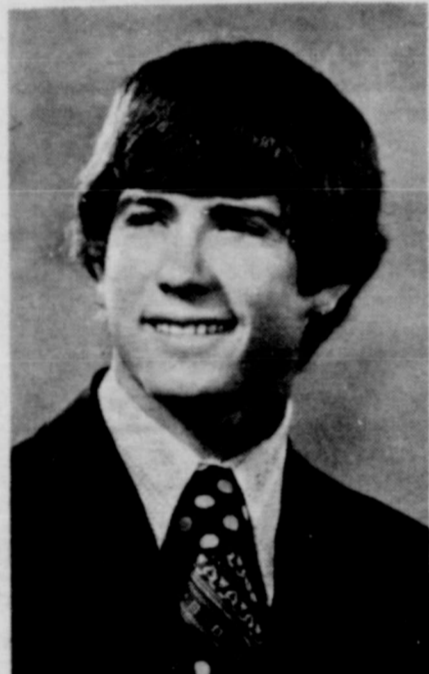

The inscription on the marker reads: "In Dec. 1902, over 100 men met around a bonfire in Tahoka to the southwest of Lake and voted to petition county organization and select a townsite for a county to be named 'Tahoka', a word meaning 'fresh water'. Early in 1903, B. G. Jack Alley, and W. T. Petty organized the Tahoka Townsite Company. They surveyed and platted the site and he and L. E. King established the first mercantile store opposite the southwest corner of the public square. Elections were held on July 7, 1903, and the Tahoka office opened on April 1, 1904, with Fannie N. Henderson as postmaster."

Tahoka soon boasted a 2-story frame courthouse, a school, two churches, a hotel, several businesses, including a newspaper, "The Lynn County News", first published Oct. 9, 1903, by Otis and Lilly. In 1906, a bank and cotton gin were built, the Fe railroad was extended from Slaton to Tahoka in 1907 and for several years, Tahoka was one of the largest shipping points in the county. The community was incorporated on June 13, 1915, and E. Stokes elected mayor. Tahoka serves as a trade center for Lynn County farmers and ranchers.

The marking of local historical sites and landmarks is part of the Texas Historical Commission's program of preservation activities. These include archaeological investigations, small museums consultation, and administering the National Historic Preservation Act in Texas. As of 1970 the Historical Commission had erected more than 5,000 official markers.

The name and location of the marker will appear in the next edition of the Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers in order to stimulate tourist travel in this area, and to acquaint the people of this locale with their unique heritage.

Icy Step

Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night ever kept George from delivering the mail at the Jenkins house. But an icy step finally did him in. He skidded, went sprawling, and dislocated his shoulder.

"They have a special problem at their house," he pointed out in court. "The roof spills rainwater across the front steps, and in cold weather this creates an unusually slick coating of ice. I didn't know about the situation until after I fell."

This "special problem," which Jenkins did not deny, was held enough basis to establish legal liability. The court said a home owner must take precautions against hazards that a visitor is not likely to notice by himself.

What kind of precautions? Perhaps sprinkling salt or spreading ashes on the ice.

Or perhaps providing adequate lighting. Thus, another home owner was held liable for neglecting to turn on his porch light, after having ordered a taxicab to come to the house at 8 p.m.

True, the cab driver realized that the steps might be icy from an afternoon storm. Still, handicapped by the darkness, he slipped anyhow. And a court later granted his claim for damages. The court said that while the home owner could not be blamed for the ice, he could indeed be blamed for showing so little regard for the cabbie's safety.

But both of these cases involved some degree of fault on the part of the home owner. If he is fault-free, he is generally free from liability as well.

The claimant in another case was a newsboy who slipped while delivering the evening paper. But the visibility was all right and the step he slipped on, though icy, was no worse than the other steps on the block.

Result: no liability. The court said a home owner owed "only that care which an ordinarily prudent person in like circumstances would exercise"—but no more.

Although the cotton market is still fairly quiet, the situation should change before too long, says an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Mill stocks are dwindling and production estimates are declining due to dry conditions in Texas and some of the other cotton growing areas. So far mills have stayed out of the market due to high interest rates and a desire to hold the price line as long as possible.

FARM EQUIPMENT SALES--

Although demands for farm equipment have been strong this year, sales have generally leveled off due to a shortage of available equipment, notes an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. For instance, unit tractor sales in the 1st quarter of 1974 fell slightly under the first quarter 1973 rate while sales of other lines of farm machinery declined more sharply. Farm equipment sales surged up during 1972 and 1973 due to increased crop production and record high farm incomes.

FmHA to Guarantee Emergency Loans

Financial assistance to livestock and poultry producers under the Emergency Livestock Credit Act will become available next week through a new loan guarantee authority of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), a rural credit service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Billy H. Stewart, FmHA County Supervisor said agency will be prepared to implement the recently-enacted law by guaranteeing up to 80 percent of possible loss on loans made by legally organized lenders to livestock and poultry producers.

Under terms of the act, the loan guarantee program will be in effect through July 25, 1975. It may be extended for 6 months beyond that date if the Secretary of Agriculture determines that it is needed to help the livestock industry obtain sufficient credit.

The law calls for loans to be made by banks or other legally organized lenders. Mr. Stewart said producers are urged to make applications to, and complete loan arrangements with lending institutions. The lender in turn will ask FmHA for a loan guarantee if one is required. The lender will process the application, close the loan and service it.

The maximum loan to any single borrower that can be assisted by a FmHA guarantee is $250,000. Loans can be repayable in 1 to 3 years, although renewal for 2 years may be authorized. Interest rates are determined between borrower and lender.

Mr. Stewart said the agency is authorized to guarantee up to 80 percent loss a lender may incur on loans to bonafide farmers and ranchers who breed, raise, fatten or market beef and dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, goats, chickens and turkeys. A majority of the borrower's time must come from the operation, and a majority portion of the borrower's time must be devoted to the livestock or poultry production.

In case of a corporation or partnership, assistance can be extended only when the majority partners or stockholders are primarily engaged in the livestock or poultry production.

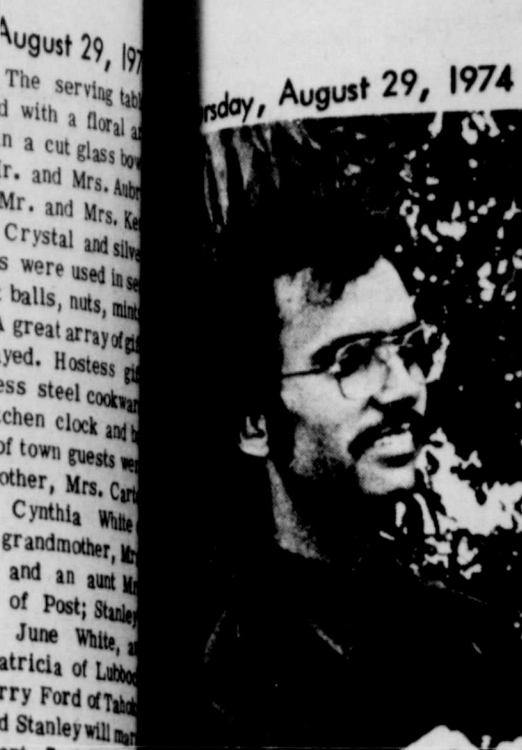

FmHA guarantees will be made only when the bonafide farmer or rancher cannot obtain financing without a guarantee. Loans may not be used to expand operations.

Mr. Stewart said the county FmHA office serving the area where the borrower's livestock or poultry operations are conducted will handle requests from lenders for guarantees, or supply information on the loan guaranty program.

The FmHA Office serving Lynn and Garza County is located in the Federal Land Bank Building in Tahoka, Texas.

Boys Ranch

Rodeo Sept. 1

The biggest Labor Day attraction of the Texas Panhandle is the annual Boy's Ranch Rodeo at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch where more than 370 boys will be putting on the 30th presentation of the nationally-known event.

The Ranch's boys have been preparing for most of the summer by trying to become contestants by riding calves, steering bulls and bucking brooms. The rodeo's two-hour time limit restricts the number of entries to about 150 boys, but all will have some part in the rodeo production. Trophies are awarded to riders for the best performances in each riding event. All the boys will be competing for the titles of Junior and Senior All-Around Cowboys. The two top riders will also share the Michael McAnge Thomas Memorial trophy, a sculpture created by Amarillo artist Jim Thomas in memory of his son.

The rodeo will also be an annual reunion of the Boys Ranch Alumni Association whose members are composed of young men who have lived at the Ranch since its founding by Cal Farley in 1939. Another attraction will be bar-be-que beef plates that will be prepared and sold by the boys for $1.50. Rodeo performances are scheduled for 2:30 p.m., September 1 and 2. Re-

Spears Receives Letter From Rhodes

The following letter was received by Watson Spears. Dear Friend:

Although President Nixon has resigned and the matter of impeachment is now moot, I want you to know that I appreciate your having taken the time to share your views with me.

It is my sincere hope that all Americans will now join together and give President Ford their full support. The time for debate is past; the time to lift our thoughts to the president is now-out of fairness to our new President and ourselves.

Yours Sincerely,
John J. Rhodes
Minority Leader

The President's decision to resign was a courageous one, made with the best interests of the American people in mind. His was an act of supreme statesmanship that all Americans can admire and applaud.

Lynn County News

President Nixon will have left a legacy of having improved dramatically the climate for world peace. The tragic end of his administration will not diminish the many positive things he did to improve the welfare of the people of America and the world. His place in history is ensured.

Now our task must be to place the agony of this event and the events which led up to it in the past and turn our attention towards the future as a Nation. Our new President, Gerald Ford, will need our active support as well as our prayers. He will have mine.

The personal sadness which I feel on this day does not obviate or diminish the genuine optimism which I have for the future of America. Lesser governments could not have survived the ordeal which this nation has experienced. Lesser peoples would have lost all hope. We can take pride and be encouraged by the fact that we remain together as a people, united now in our desire to move ahead with the business of Government.

I am confident that in years to come, it will be said that America not only survived the ordeal of Watergate, but was actually made better and stronger because of it.

Everyone in the community is needed to back our young people this year. Join the Booster Club. Come to the games. Let's get some spirit among the adults in our community. Our next meeting will be September 3 at 8:00 in the cafeteria. Everyone plan to attend.

Hill Awarded $1500 Fellowship

The following is taken from University of Houston Newspaper.

Gary Hill, architecture senior, has won a $1,500 Texas Historical Resources Fellowship from the San Antonio Conservation Society for 1974-75.

Judging for the fellowship was conducted by the Texas Architectural Foundation, whose professional architects chose Hill for a survey he is conducting of the original 12 blocks of Bastrop, Tex.

Of his project at Bastrop, some 25 miles southeast of Austin on State Hwy. 71. Hill said, "To me the most important achievement in architecture is when people produce structures that please not only people, but the environment, and the sense of art. In this region of Texas, the old houses, stores and churches are of a small scale and simple, but exhibit the same, if not more exquisite beauty than the grand.

From now to September he will do extensive research and correspondence with the Texas Landmarks Commission, the Texas Archives, Bastrop County Museum and Historical society. Hill also plans extensive exploration of deeds, architecture and town history.

Hill is the grandson of Mrs. G.A. Henry and the late G.A. Henry of Tahoka. Also the nephew of Jacky Henry and Mrs. Dan Thomas of Tahoka. Gary was born in Tahoka in 1951 and lived all his life at Lubbock and graduated from Coronado High School in Lubbock. He, with his family, moved to Houston upon his graduation. The family now lives in Little Rock, Arkansas, where his father is District Manager of Arkansas for Orkin Exterminating Co. His mother is the former Katherine Henry of Tahoka and his father, S.E., was raised at Post.

FINNEY

SAYS

Amidst the complexities of a corrupt and sophisticated society, man is prone to forget the simple, common, everyday things of life.

The trickle of a child's laughter, the beauty of a teenage girl, the pride in a strong and handsome son. These are the things that Audrey and I have sought to capture in our portraits.

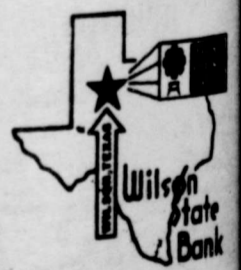

Don't forget... time is fleeting, the child grows up... the teenagers become men and women and scatter to the four corners of the earth.

Now is the time to have their portraits made.

Have a nice day.

BILL GRIFFIN
SAYS

Cattlemen should be alert for signs of anaplasmosis, a serious blood disease of cattle. Horseflies--the most common insect spreader of the disease--are emerging in large numbers and will remain active for some time.

Anaplasmosis, characterized by anemia, is infectious but not contagious. This means the organism must get into the blood stream of an animal either from an insect bite or careless handling of medical or other instruments.

In addition to horseflies, mosquitos can also spread the disease along with certain ticks.

Man can also spread anaplasmosis. This is especially true of those who engage in do-it-yourself veterinary service. In the hands of careless individuals, hypodermic needles, nose leads, and dehorners can be transmitters of the disease.

Anaplasmosis is particularly severe in mature cattle, often causing 30 to 50 per cent death losses among infected animals. Annual losses to the livestock industry nationally are estimated at well over $100 million.

What should cattlemen look for? When an animal becomes weak and lags behind the herd, anaplasmosis should be suspected. The skin first becomes pale around the eyes, on the muzzle, lips and teats, and then turns yellow.

Following the acute stage of the disease, infectious organisms can remain in the body of survivors, and these animals become carriers. Significantly, some animals--especially younger ones--become carriers without showing any sign of illness.

If anaplasmosis is suspected, cattlemen should consult their veterinarians about control and preventive measures. Testing is most important to identify carriers.

The Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory is equipped to perform the rapid card test for anaplasmosis. Local veterinarians can provide additional information on this test.

Unfortunately, this is not the best time of the year to test because blood samples from animals recently infected will not react to the test. They must have the infection 30 days or more to show a reaction.

Ideally, testing should be carried out during the winter. Then depending upon the size of the herd and the number of carriers found, one of five alternate plans should be put into effect:

- If only a few carriers are found, send them to slaughter.
- If a large number are found and facilities are available, separate the carriers from the healthy animals and maintain them as two separate "herds". This works because the horsefly must bite an infected animal and then a healthy animal within five minutes to transfer the disease.

--Treat carrier animals with high levels of antibiotics (tetracyclines) in the feed to eliminate infection. Withdrawal time should be observed.

--With a very high level of carriers, use low levels of antibiotics, not as a cure but to prevent new cases.

--Vaccinate negative (noninfected) animals. However, vaccination is occasionally associated with anemia in newborn calves and can complicate future testing since vaccinated animals may show reaction to the blood test.

"Operation Motorcide"

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today estimated that traffic accidents in Texas over the Labor Day Weekend will claim 34 lives.

Speir noted that traffic deaths in Texas, which earlier were running up to 30 percent under the 1973 toll, have been rising throughout the summer months. He said the upward trend is related to heavier traffic and an alarming disregard for the 55 mile speed limit.

The DPS director said every effort would be made to prevent accidents and deaths by placing all available DPS troopers on duty during the holiday period which extends from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 30, through midnight Monday, Sept. 2.

Speir noted that many local law enforcement agencies will be cooperating in all out effort to make the streets and highways safe.

In addition, he said the DPS would be working with the news media in a special public education program called "Operation Motorcide." A concerted effort will be made to focus public attention on where and why fatal accidents are occurring during the holiday.

The Secretary of Agriculture is required by law to determine and announce the loan level for the 1975 crop of U.S. upland cotton by November 1, 1974, and the national production goal and national base acreage allotment by November 15, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

An announcement of the Secretary's intention to make these determinations appeared in the August 15 Federal Register along with a call for written industry comment by September 16, and PCG is now preparing its views and recommendations, Johnson said.

Under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 the loan level must reflect--for Middling one-inch cotton with 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire at average location--90 percent of the average price of American cotton in world markets for the three years August 1, 1971 through July 31, 1974 or 90 percent of the "then current" average world market price if the current world market price is lower than the three-year average.

For the 1974 crop Secretary Earl Butz in late August of 1973 announced a "preliminary" loan of 25.26 cents per pound for Middling one-inch cotton, translated that figure to 27.05 cents for Strict Low Middling inch-and-a-sixteenth cotton and used that as the base rate. USDA stated that the loan level would be reviewed in early 1974 to determine if an adjustment was needed.

But it was not until July 18 of 1974, only two weeks before the end of the 1973-74 marketing year, that USDA announced the 27.05-cent rate as final. Presumably the finalization of the loan was delayed to allow time for the current year market price to become evident.

Industry people were not happy with this procedure last year, and, with the current market situation, are not likely to be pleased if it is followed again this year.

Rough calculations indicate that the three-year average market price for American cotton in world markets is about 43 cents per pound, 90 percent of which would give a loan rate of almost 39 cents per pound for 1975-crop U.S. cotton. However, with the drastic decline in world market prices over the past several months, there is a good possibility that the current year's price will be well below 43 cents. If so the Secretary could set a preliminary loan rate before November 1 and then set a considerably lower loan rate prior to the end of the 1974-75 marketing year--something which has not been done during the past 40 years of government programs.

strations and glandless cotton demonstrations will be visited.

October 9 is the date of the Texas State Hay Show. This year it will be held on the Harold Green Ranch east of Austin. The show will feature the judging of hay samples throughout the state. Exhibits of the latest making equipment, according to Jack Doby, Travis County agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. September 20 is the deadline for submission entries. These should be mailed or delivered to Doby at the Travis County Extension Office, 1000 San Antonio, Austin 78701. Each entry must be accompanied by a profit analysis or $3.50 to cover the cost of a laboratory analysis.

In the eighteen year period between 1955 and 1973, the number of Americans of the age of 65 increased from 14,383,000 to 19,827,000. This represents an increase of almost 30%.

The incoming president, Florene King from Post, conducted the planning session which was followed by a salad luncheon.

Lynn County members attending were: Pearl Davidson, Virginia Howle, Laverne Lewis, LaVonne Sharp, Alta Line, Eleanor Dudgeon, Donna Hopkins, Nola Bolch, Ann Adams, and Peggy Atwell.

CATTLE FEEDING GROWTH PREDICTED--Cattle feeding in Texas should mushroom from 4.3 million head in 1972 to 7.3 million head by 1980, a 70 per cent increase, predicts a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Demand for beef should continue to rise steadily due to a larger population and a substantial increase in per capita disposable income. The cattle feeding industry is also expected to grow throughout the nation, so that Texas' share of the national output will only increase from 17 per cent last year to 19 per cent in 1980.

Rep. Short Talks On Convention

Some good may come yet from the recent Constitutional Convention, although approval of the body failed by a narrow margin, State Representative E. L. Short declared in a talk before the Rotary Club last Tuesday noon.

The good may come from proposals in the proposed new Texas Constitution in that a lot of the material resulting from the study is likely to in new laws the Legislature will consider in the future.

Some of these proposed Constitution items include taxes on agricultural lands, health care, rights of the handicapped, right to work, and home rule for cities of 1,500 or more population.

Short said the Constitutional Convention cost the taxpayers $4 million dollars, but if the new Constitution had been approved by the body, and election on the instrument would have cost another $3 million.

He declared organized labor was not such a decisive factor in failure to pass as indicated by the press. Labor had 30 locked-in-votes, he said out of 181. There were 62 votes against passage, three short of the necessary two-thirds majority. Of the 62 votes against, 30 were by Labor, 20 who were against a new constitution from the start, and 12 simply thought the new Constitution was not in the best interest of the State.

Rev. Frank Ogelsby was in charge of the program and in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

President David Midkiff announced the official visit of District Governor and Mrs. Emil Prohl for this Wednesday and Thursday. All Rotarians and their wives are urged to attend a meal at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Lyntegar Meeting room, followed by a Club Assembly for the men and a reception for the ladies in Community Room of the First National Bank. Dr. Prohl will speak at the Thursday noon club meeting.

Dr. Midkiff announced the annual Teachers meeting for Monday, September 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the football stadium, the annual Farmers Day meeting on September 19 at noon, and the Lubbock Intercity Meeting the evening of September 24.

Copied From Lorenzo Paper

The following appeared in Karen Thompson's "Big Lo" column in "The Lorenzo Leader". This also applies to Tahoka.

"I am going to tell you guys one more time, if you don't support your hometown merchants to the fullest extent then we might as well close it up and instead of four or five empty buildings we will just have them all empty. Many of you are buying school clothes (and this is just one instance) before you head for that big city that makes millions every year off the little town shop for that item here FIRST. Why pump dollars into the economy of another town when it is so desperately needed here at home... When the town is out of stores and merchants... those that have been driving forty miles to buy a box of soap, get a prescription filled, buy a radio, buy clothes or pantyhose... they will scream the loudest. The merchants are here at your service... I would hate for our obituary to read like the brainless lady...Lorenzo, Texas died due to lack of support.
