The Slaton Savings & Loan Association had a groundbreaking ceremony, Friday for a new branch office to be located at the corner of Lockwood and Ave. M in Tahoka. Officials of the Loan Association, local officials and civic leaders participated in the ceremony. The building will contain 1400 square feet, which includes a community room for Lynn County residents. Contractor for the building will be Buddy Ramsel of Lubbock and architect is Ray L. Fraser A.I.A., of Lubbock. The building is scheduled to be completed by late January. The association will have temporary facilities by mid or late November in which to serve their Lynn County Customer.

The Slaton Savings and Loan Association home office is located at 100 West Garza, Slaton and a branch office is located at 106 North Broadway in Post.

New Post office For Tahoka

Bids were opened and contract awarded in Oklahoma City last week for a new, modern post-office building in Tahoka to be located on the South side of the First National Bank block.

Winning bid for the project was made by William F. Warnick and his father of Lubbock and Albuquerque, who will lease the building to the U.S. Postal Service for 10 years with an option to lease up to 20 additional years. Amount of the lease contract was not available to The News.

Plans in the hands of the Postmaster Charles Townes call for a building containing 4,440 square feet of floor space, 76 by 62 feet in size, containing modern facilities, many new boxes for patrons, storage rooms, loading dock, and ample paved parking space for both patrons and employees. The contractor has 210 days to complete the building.

The building located directly south of the bank on 20,000 square feet of ground, will face east toward Conway Street, adjacent to South Second and Avenue K.

The bids were submitted to Charles B. Bolar, manager of the Oklahoma City Postal District. Little is known here about the low bidder except that the younger Warnick is an attorney, and his father owns a postoffice building in Albuquerque and several other buildings which are leased out.

The present building has been occupied by Tahoka postoffice for nearly 50 years.

A new postoffice is currently being constructed in Wilson just west of the present postoffice. In this immediate area, new post-office buildings are planned for O'Donnell and Plains.

Bulldogs Play At Roosevelt

Tahoka Bulldogs journey to Roosevelt this Friday night for their third 5-AA conference game with the Eagles of East Lubbock county which starts at 7:30.

Last Friday night the Bulldogs lost to the Tigers at Slaton 28-0 in a game marred by penalties.

Tahoka kicked off to open the game, the Tigers couldn't move, and punted to the Tahoka 26. On fourth down back on their own 9, the short Bulldog punt traveled only to the 28. This series seemed to set the tempo of the game, as the Bulldogs frequently had to give up the ball deep in their own end of the field.

From the 26, the Tigers scored quickly, with Bill McClesky going the last 12 yards. PAT was good and Slaton led 7-0.

Following the kick off, Tahoka again had to give up the ball, with Slaton taking over at the Tahoka 30. Slaton moved in to score, but a holding penalty nullified the TD. Then, a Slaton pass was intercepted by Mitch Raindl, who returned to the Tahoka 16, who returned to the Tahoka 19. On the first play from scrimmage, Tahoka fumbled, Slaton recovered at the Tahoka 16, and from here McClesky went in to score. PAT was good and Slaton led 14-0.

Early in the second quarter, Tahoka punted from its 17. Trent Leverett got off a good punt to the Tahoka 45, and a Tiger returned the ball to the Tahoka. Again it was McClesky going for the TD, the place kick was good, and the Tigers led 21-0.

After receiving the kick off, aided by a 42 yard run by FB Richard Lopez, the Bulldogs moved to the Slaton 7 yard line for Tahoka's first scoring threat. But, here a Thoka pass was intercepted in the end zone by a Tiger to kill the Bulldog drive.

The third quarter was scoreless as neither team could move the ball consistently.

Early in the fourth quarter, Slaton had the ball on their own 28 yard line and on a draw play McClesky rambled 72 yards to score his fourth TD. PAT was good and 28-0 was the final score.

Slaton had 165 yards total offense and nine first downs. Tahoka had 104 yards on offense and eight first downs. Slaton was penalized a total of 170 yards, and Tahoka 85 yards.

This was a game of mishaps for the Bulldogs, as they are a better team than indicated by this contest.

SPAG Receives Criminal Grant

Governor Dolph Briscoe has announced his approval of a criminal justice grant of $35,185 to the Lubbock based South Plains Association of Governments.

The grant provides continuation funding of the regional law enforcement training project. SPAG will offer area officers two basic and nine advanced courses for a total of 22 weeks of training.

Money comes from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. CJD administers the state's block grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration under the Crime Control Act of 1973.

The local award was among 36 totaling $3,889,481 approved by the governor.

TO THE BUSINESS PEOPLE OF TAHOKA

When the Valentine's moved to Tahoka, in June of 1969, we decided this was where we wanted to make our permanent home. The people were friendly, the town was receptive and the Lynn County News was just the right size for a family operated newspaper.

As you know, or may not know, a newspaper has to depend on advertising as its main source of revenue, just as a TV or radio station depends on its commercials. Without this means of support, none of these can survive.

During the five years we have been in Tahoka, The Lynn County News has had one major change in advertising rates, that was in 1971. Effective January 1, 1975, there will be another small rate increase (see rate card in another section of paper for details.)

This hike is necessary because of increase cost of production, increase cost in paper prices, increase in labor and postage, plus a decrease in advertising revenue, such as Anthony's closing, etc. etc. What other service has not raised their prices 3 or 4 times?

Some of our advertisers have expressed their disapproval of our increase by suggesting they will no longer run advertising in The Lynn County News, but would choose other means of advertising their products or services.

So...this week you may notice a change in advertising policy never before practiced by this newspaper, that is out-of-town, itemized advertising on a consistent basis.

This policy is not intended to hurt Tahoka, or the Tahoka Business people. It is not for any reason except survival.

A community without a newspaper is either dying or dead.

Pat Buttram At Hayloft

Television star Pat Buttram arrives in Lubbock October 21st to start rehearsals for the hilarious Hayloft comedy "Send Me No Flowers."

Tattletale Bookkeeper

Parker, a businessman, was systematically cheating on his income taxes. One day his conscience-stricken bookkeeper took several incriminating documents out of Parker's safe and handed them over to the Internal Revenue Service.

In short order, Parker was charged with income tax evasion. But in court he insisted that the evidence, having been taken illegally, could not be used against him.

"This clearly falls under the Fourth Amendment," he said, "which forbids unreasonable search and seizure."

However, the court held the evidence admissible and Parker guilty. The court said the constitutional ban applies only to searches by government agents, not by private individuals.

Courts generally agree. They say the Fourth Amendment was designed to protect citizens from prying by the government, nothing more. Although the private searcher may indeed be committing an offense, the evidence that he finds remains acceptable.

The same is true if the evidence is discovered purely by accident. In another case, a departing guest in a motel left a suitcase in his room. The manager, peering into the suitcase, noticed some odd-looking checks. These he reported to the police.

Result: the guest was arrested for possessing forged checks. The judge said that even though the manager had no right to look into the suitcase, the evidence he found was nevertheless admissible in court.

But the rule changes when the search, although conducted by a private person, is done at police instigation. Another motel manager told a policeman that he suspected one of his guests of being a drug pusher. Instructed to search the man's room, he did so—and found heroin.

But this time, the evidence was rejected in court because of the police role in the search.

"The search was just as 'official,'" said the court, "as though the officer had acted in person."

New Home Loses

New Home were edged out of a very close game Friday night to Meadow, 8-7.

The Leopards scored in the second quarter on a 45 yard scamper by halfback Roy Villarreal. Kyle Johnston booted the PAT for a 7-0 lead that stood until the final minute of the game.

The District 2-B game left New Home with a 1-7 reading.

College. After getting a taste of college drama, Pat abruptly switched careers and hooked on at WSGN in Birmingham as a morning radio personality at the large sum of six dollars per week.

In 1933 he joined the "National Barn Dance" over Chicago's WLS with such stars as Gene Autry, Homer and Jethro and a 15 year old guitar playing yodeler who was billed as Little Georgie Gobel. Joining forces with Autry, Buttram remained as the singing cowboy's side kick for 15 years, starring in 70 movies and over a hundred television films.

In 1956 when Autry retired from show business, Buttram took stock of his career and entered the wide open circuit of after dinner speakers. He was great and is always busy hosting such things as the Friars, Masquers and Lambs Clubs when they meet to "Roast" one of their members. He has a delightful way of combining a sophisticated, pointed sense of humor with a genuine country-boy charm.

He is one of the most quoted men today in Hollywood.

At a dinner for Milton Berle, Pat poked fun by pointing out that "Berle had recently switched from comedy to drama. Unfortunately it happened while he was still doing comedy."

Of Hollywood, "I am proud to say that Hollywood has a heart. In Hollywood, if you need sympathy, love, affection, money or friendship, all you have to do is look in the Yellow Pages . . . under pool halls."

Pat Buttram lives with his wife and daughter on a small ranch in Southern California. He is a hobbyist and collects among other things button hooks. He is said to have one of the largest collections in the world.

The Hayloft is quite honored to secure the special brand of humor Pat brings to Lubbock and this area in the midst of his demanding schedule of appearances, TV and movies. Preview nights for "Send Me No Flowers" are October 29, 30, and 31.

VEGA '75

Vega is an economy car and a half.

It's a sporty little car that's comfortable and fun to drive, and shouldn't cost you a lot to own or to operate. We could have written that four years ago. But each year Vega gets a little better. This year we've made over 200 changes, and we've also made more options available, like the Comfortilt steering wheel.

It makes more sense than ever.

Vega takes economy seriously. And a true economy car should help save you money from the time you buy through the time you sell. Consider Vega's three economies.

Number one: Vega is one of the lowest priced cars made in America, as well as one of the best-selling cars.

Two, Vega's overhead-cam, lightweight engine is capable of taking you a long way on a gallon of gas.

Three, upkeep. Vega has its own version of Chevrolet's Efficiency System designed to cut your maintenance expenses. This year Vega should cost you even less to keep up.

Vega. Economy plus, plus, plus.

But Vega's more than just an economy car. With Vega you also get sportiness, roominess, roadability, range, quality, variety, bucket seats and carpeting, plus a lot of other little niceties. Take a test drive. Our 1975 Vega truly is Economy Plus.

Carolyn Haley Says...

A great day was Monday, October 21. On this day 51 people left Tahoka by Chartered bus (and two vehicles) to tour the Tech Reserach Center. After lunch the group toured the Tech Ranch Headquarters. The tour was one of four educational programs sponsored by the Lynn County Farm and Home Management Committee. The aim of the tour was to inform and to encourage use of cotton and cotton products.

We want to give a big thank you to four local gins, Farmers Co-operative Assn. No. 1, Tahoka Co-op Gin, A. E. Haney, Jr., Gin, and Louder Gin, for paying the chartered bus for the tour.

In these days of higher sugar prices, many people are turning to honey -- one of the oldest known sweets.

The sugars most commonly used for the table and cooking purposes, cane and beet sugars, must be broken down into simple sugars by digestion before they can be used by the body. The resulting simple sugars, dextrose and levulose, are those which occur naturally in honey. On the other hand, honey requires practically no digestion. Its sugars are almost wholly available for immediate absorption into the body.

Honey is unique because it is the only unmanufactured sweet available for immediate absorption available in commercial quantities.

The main commercial brands of honey come mostly from alfalfa and clover blends. Blending makes a product with uniform color and flavor.

Lynn County News

There are several forms of honey made.

-Liquid, or extracted, honey that is removed from the comb.

-Comb honey is honey just as it is stored by the bees.

-Chunk honey is a combination of comb honey and liquid honey that has been formed into minute crystals, giving a creamy texture. It makes an excellent spread.

-Honey butter is a mixture of honey and butter.

Honey will keep indefinitely stored tightly covered in a dry place at room temperature. If it becomes granulated, place the container in warm water to reliquify.

Heat extra thick honey in warm water for easier pouring. A good way to measure honey is to lightly grease the cup or spoon so the honey will pour out more readily.

In replacing sugar with honey in a recipe, the amount of liquid should be reduced one-fourth cup for each cup of honey used.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK: HONEY NUT BROWNIES

- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup honey
- 2 ounces chocolate
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup flour (sifted with 1/4 tea-spoon baking powder)
- 1 cup chopped nuts (walnuts)

Melt butter and chocolate together. Add honey, sugar and beaten eggs. Sift flour and measure and add baking powder and nuts.

Add this to first mixture. Bake in a shallow pan, which has been well greased and lined with wax paper, in a slow oven (300 degrees) for 45 minutes.

WILSON 0 WHITEFACE 6

The Whiteface Antelopes struggled to a 6-0 victory over the punchless Wilson Mustangs. The Wilson Mustangs were unable to capitalize on 2 blocked punts and fumbled away the ball 3 times in Antelope territory to lower their record to 4-4 and Whiteface raised their record to 4-2-2.

Wilson could muster only 65 yards rushing and 8 yards passing to Whiteface's 239 yards rushing and 0 yards passing. Wilson turned the ball over 5 times and Whiteface 2 times.

Whiteface dominated the game on 61 offensive plays to Wilson's 40 offensive plays.

The only score came with 1:57 gone in the first quarter after Wilson had fumbled on its first offensive play. Whiteface recovered the Wilson fumble on Wilson's 29 yard line and 5 plays later Kim Rudhardt scored from 8 yards out. From this point on, the game was a defensive battle.

Linebacker Mark Brieger had an outstanding defensive game with 20 tackles followed by Doug Spwell and Johnny Arellano with 19 tackles each.

Wilson and New Home square off this Friday night as the Leopards play Wilson on their homecoming. Game time is at 7:30 in New Home.

Scientists Sow Wild Oats In Worthy Aim

Plant breeders are sowing wild oats these days, and it's all in the interest of science.

The research effort—aimed at improving human nutrition—stems from recent discovery of a wild oat in the Mediteranean area that contains 13 percent more protein than standard commercial varieties. Scientists now are working to see if this high-protein characteristic can be transferred to high-yielding oat varieties.

Since small grains are the food staples of millions of people in the world, stepping up grains' protein content would improve nutrition.

One of the problems involved in plant breeding for a higher protein content in small grains is the accompanying reduction in yields that often occurs.

However, scientists already have been able to increase the protein content in rice while retaining fairly good yields.

Additional research is under way in developing wheat and dry beans with high protein content and quality.

Timely Cotton Harvesting

Cotton growers on the High Plains risk losing up to 15 percent of their crop yield if they wait too long to harvest, not to mention suffering economic losses from lower field grades. Profits also can be hurt if cotton is harvested before it's ready.

These findings in a study by two research scientists here emphasize the need for a producer to weigh his cotton harvesting options carefully.

The men are Dr. Levon Ray, cotton geneticist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Dr. Earl Minton, plant pathologist with the Agricultural Research Service -USDA. Both researchers are based at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center here.

DELAY REDUCES YIELD
Yield losses are surprisingly large in the early part of the weathering period, the two researchers report.

Tests conducted at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock were based on cotton left in the field 1 to 12 weeks after the crop was ready for harvest.

Says Ray, "For a 600 pound per yield, the average loss was 18 pounds per acre the first week, 48 pounds after four weeks, and 72 pounds after 12 weeks."

"This does not include ground loss which might be very large under certain conditions with non-stormproof varieties."

STAPLE LENGTH SHORTENED

Dr. Earl Minton, who collaborated on the study, adds that according to his findings, field weathering decreases staple length .32 of an inch in about 6 weeks.

Average grade equivalents were middling for the first three harvest dates, dropping to strict low middling for the fourth through the eighth week and to low middling for the last four weeks.

"In other words, the crop was reduced approximately one grade each month it remained in the field," he says.

Minton figures that because weather patterns tend to vary from year to year, the grade loss will be greater in some years than in others.

NO MIKE REDUCTION

Contrary to general belief, no reduction in mike (micronaire value) due to weathering was found, the two men report.

"It is true that cotton harvested later in the season usually has a lower mike than that harvested earlier," they admit. "But, factors other than direct effects of field weathering reasonably explain a seasonal drop in mike."

One factor is that the earlier maturing fields which produce the higher mikes are usually harvested first. Second, in the early season harvests, immature bolls are separated eliminating cotton with finer fibers. Late in the season, these bolls cannot be separated and they go into the harvested cotton and may reduce the mike substantially."

SEED QUALITY DOWN

According to the scientists, field weathering is generally recognized as a major factor in reducing planting seed quality. Germination, under both standard conditions and constant 65 degrees Fahrenheit (a low temperature test), is also decreased with field weathering. The lower germination will be reflected in poorer performance of the planting seed in the field.

DELAYS COSTLY

"Timely harvest is very important in producing good quality planting seed," the researchers stress. "Harvesting too early can be just as costly as leaving it in the field too long."

"Once the optimum date for harvesting is reached, the crop should be taken out of the field as soon as possible. A delay of only one week in harvesting an average crop of irrigated cotton could cause a loss of income, through reduced yields and quality, amounting to $10 to $15 per acre."

Leaving the cotton in the field for an extended period of time could easily cost the grower more than the total cost of harvesting the crop itself, say the researchers.

Full details on this test are contained in the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station report, MP 1118.

Dr. Wright Tells Of Yucatan Trip

Dr. Richard Wright, in a talk at Rotary Club last Thursday, told of a trip he and his wife took last June to the Yucatan area of Mexico during which they visited ruins of several Mayan cities. He showed slide pictures to illustrate his talk.

Mayan Indians evidently were a highly developed civilization from about 400 A. D. until conquered by the Spaniards in about 1520. Their cities, now in ruins, were built of stone, showed advance knowledge of architecture. Great stone pyramids were built, images were carved on building stones, roads were paved with stone, and many archillogical treasures indicate advancement of the people. Mayan ruins were visited both in the jungle lowlands and in the mountainous part of the Yucatan.

Dr. Wright's comments on the trip and pictures were intensely interesting to an area visited by a minimum number of tourists.

Sorghums Down, Corn Up... New Wheat Crop Coming

NOT ONLY ARE prices paid to farmers down from last year but production in most major crops is also down. Production of corn, rice, sugar cane and sugar beets, and pecans is expected to be up over the not-so-good crops of 1973; but production of cotton, grain sorghum, peanuts, soybeans and sweet potatoes is not expected to be as good as in the good year of 1973, says the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Dry conditions during the planting season plus a wet fall when low temperatures came early have caused the prediction of lesser yields in most major crops.

COTTON IS an example of what has happened with most major crops in Texas. The USDA estimated October 1 that 3,100,000 bales would be made in Texas this year, compared to 4,673,000 bales last year. And the October 1 estimate was 80,000 bales less than the previous monthly estimate and is still too high, according to some Texas estimates. Cool, wet weather set back cotton on the High Plains in September, and October's weather has not given it a chance to recover. The yield this year is expected to be 310 pounds of lint an acre, compared to 431 pounds an acre in 1973; and the estimated 4,800,000 acres to be harvested are 400,000 fewer than last year, although more acres were expected to be and were planted last spring than were planted in 1973. Cotton picking is expected to pick up in West and North Texas now that frost is causing defoliation. September rains slowed harvest as well as cotton growth. In the Lower Rio Grande Valley, South Texas, and the Upper Gulf Coast, harvest is over and many farmers have plowed up stalks in preparation for the next crop. Cotton prices ranged from 38 cents a pound (on the Plains) to around 47 cents, although trading was slow. Cottonseed prices over Texas ranged from $80.30 to $99.90 a ton during the first part of October.

SORGHUMS, THE Number 2 crop in Texas, have also suffered a decline in production. Now it is estimated that Texas will produce 295,000,000 bushels with harvest about 60 per cent complete, a rate of harvest behind last year's. In 1973, sorghum production totaled 417,000,000 bushels off 6,950,000 acres. This year 5,900,000 acres are expected to be harvested... Texas is expected to produce almost 70,000,000 bushels of corn this year off 775,000 acres, compared to almost 61,000,000 bushels last year off 640,000 acres. This yield is expected to average 90 bushels an acre, compared to 95 bushels an acre in 1973. The corn harvest is about 70 per cent complete... Cutting of the second crop of rice is underway in most of the growing areas. Yields average around 4,500 pounds an acre, compared to 3,740 an acre in 1973; and Texas production this year is predicted at 25,335,000 hundredweights, compared to 20,530,000 cwt. last year.

WHILE THE 1974 harvest heads down the home stretch, planting of the next wheat crop is progressing. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimated that wheat seeding was 78 per cent complete by October 15, rate slower than last year due to rain. Early stands are good, and moisture is reported enough to send the new crop into winter in good condition. Some Low and High Plains cowmen have had some grazing on wheat... Oat planting is also about three-fourths complete, and some grazing of oats in the Blacklands and East Texas has been available... Range conditions over the State are reported to be about 80 per cent of normal, West Texas and Panhandle areas not having fully recovered from the effects of dry weather. Rains in September and October, however, improved range conditions all over the State.

Ladd Roberts Accepted Into Ross Volunteers

COLLEGE STATION-- Ladd W. Roberts of Tahoka has been inducted into Texas' oldest student organization.

He was accepted Thursday into the Ross Volunteers, elite honor military unit at Texas A&M University.

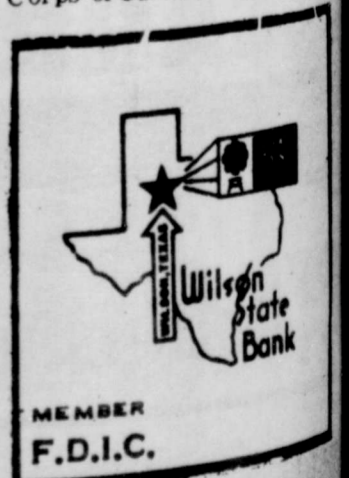

The company was organized in 1887. It is officially recognized as the honor guard for the governor of Texas. Membership is limited to seniors and juniors of TAMU's Corps of Cadets.

Cadets are selected in the fall semester of the junior year on the basis of academic standing, military achievement, character and student activities participation. Senior actives make new member selection.

A firing squad drawn from the Ross Volunteers Company fires at Silver Taps, the student body salute to Aggies who have died, and at the famous Aggi. Muster on April 21.

The Ross Volunteers also march as a special unit in several parades, including Mardi Gras at New Orleans.

An agricultural economics major, Roberts is the son of James F. Roberts, 1903 Ave. R. He is a member of Company G-1 in the Corps of Cadets.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS

Animals that graze on pasture that has recently been hit by a frost are subject to prussic acid poisoning.

Among grasses that are especially toxic to animals after a frost are Johnsongrass, Sudan and other sorghum hybrids.

Prussic acid poisoning is a disease which prevents oxygen in the blood from reaching the tissues and thus causes the death due to suffocation.

Symptoms of the disease are suffocation and muscular twitching, and the animal may have his head turned toward his flank. The blood of the animal has a bright red color. Animals usually become affected within 10 to 15 minutes after eating toxic material and rarely survive more than one to two hours.

"Livestock should not be allowed access to wilted material after a frost until it has dried completely," says the county agent. "Grazing should also be prevented after a rain when new sprouts begin to form on plants."

Wilted material will usually dry out in a day or two of strong sunlight. New growth usually becomes non-toxic within a week to 10 days after a rain and can then be grazed safely by livestock.

If you're not sure about your pasture, have a veterinarian check it with a picrate test or have a sample checked in a lab.

One way to check a pasture is to turn out a less valuable animal that has been without hay or grass for 24 hours. A hungry animal will fill up faster and show toxic symptoms if the plant material is dangerous.

If you think your animal shows signs of prussic acid poisoning, don't hesitate to call a vet immediately.

O'Donnell To Play Shallowater

The O'Donnell Eagles lost a close game last Friday night to Shallowater, with the score being 34-28. O'Donnell threatened only once when it marched to the 34 yard line in the second quarter. From there, however, they were forced to try a field goal but the halfback David Pearson's boot was wide.

By statistics, the teams were neck and neck, with O'Donnell garnering 200 yards rushing, passing and completing 3 of 4 passes. Ropes had an almost identical 188 yards rushing, passing and completed 1 of 2 passes.

Friday night, November 1, the Eagles travel to Shallowater, game time being at 7:00 p.m.

You know, the worse inflation gets the more we need somebody like Briscoe. He's created a lot of good jobs and he knows how to get things started.

It's quite refreshing for me to know that we have a man like Dolph Briscoe... a man who puts integrity before all things....

Dolph Briscoe's proved he has the contacts and the know how to bring new business to the State of Texas. We can't afford to lose him at a critical time like this.

We need new jobs and more income in this state and Governor Briscoe is helping us get them.

Briscoe's kept pace without adding new taxes - I voted Republican in 1972, but I'm voting for Briscoe this time.

They all promised no new taxes; Dolph Briscoe kept his promise.

I think Dolph Briscoe is a Governor you can believe in. I'm looking forward to voting for him in November.

Congratulations!

I've just spent $17,852.90.

That's how much a college diploma can cost these days. And it's a pretty heavy commitment for a parent to face.

So how do you put away a buffer that will insure your child has a chance at college? Simple. U.S. Savings Bonds. Buy them through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

If you start now, you'll have a hefty stockpile of bonds to draw on by the time your child's ready for school.

And the day he graduates, you'll feel pretty proud. Of yourself.

U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4% the first year). When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take your stock in America.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. will join the Lubbock Cotton Exchange in hosting and conducting a tour for 26 textile leaders and fiber purchasing agents representing 16 Far Eastern and European countries in Lubbock on November 6 and 7. The tour, part of a two-week visit to the United States, will provide first-hand information on how High Plains cotton is grown, processed and classed.

The tour is sponsored by a cotton orientation program arranged by the National Cotton Council, Cotton Council International, and USDA's Foreign Agriculture Service.

While in Lubbock, the group will visit the Textile Research Center and the instrument cotton classing lin at Texas Tech University, the Texas A&M Research & Extension Center, and have a drive-by tour of other Lubbock points of interest.

Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Italy, Morocco, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and Japan will be represented by one or more key textile officials.

Other points to be visited in the U.S. Cotton Belt will include Memphis, Tennessee; Stoneville, Tunica and Greenville, Mississippi; Dallas and El Paso, Texas; Phoenix, Arizona; and Bakersfield, Corcoran and Fresno, California. Between Phoenix and Bakersfield the visitors will spend an evening in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The group is scheduled to arrive in Lubbock at 5:25 p.m.
November 6 and will depart at 5:45 p.m. November 7.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice-President of PCG, said he is looking forward to the opportunity to show off the High Plains cotton production facilities and production research efforts, "and especially the open-end spinning research being conducted at the Textile Research Center." Open-end research at Texas Tech has shown that High Plains-type cottons perform exceptionally well on the open-end spinning system and many of the countries involved are converting much of their spinning capacity to open-end machinery, Johnson noted.

It is important that High Plains farmers receiving crop questionnaires from the Texas Crop & Livestock Reporting Service complete and return those questionnaires to the Agricultural Statistician in Austin, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice-President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Some 75,000 Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire during the period from mid-November to early January, 1975.

Accurate estimates have always been of great importance to producers and are even more important in light of the extreme effect of supply-demand factors on commodity prices in agriculture today, Johnson said.

A round-up survey of crop production and livestock numbers is made annually by the Texas Crop & Livestock Reporting Service. The Texas Department of Agriculture and USDA's Statistical Reporting Service then work together to provide comprehensive information on Texas agriculture.
Bulletins relating the compiled information can be obtained free from the Texas Crop & Livestock Reporting Service,
P.O. Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767.
