More Than Half of 1974 Farm Census Returned

More than half of the 4 million 1974 Census of Agriculture report forms mailed to farmers and ranches nationwide have already been completed and returned, the Bureau of Economic Statistics announced, mailed the night after Christmas. The rate of return is ahead of the rate in 1969 when the farm census was completed by mail.

The U. S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Census and Statistics had this to say about Census Bureau Confidentiality: "There has never been a single claim substantiated that the Bureau of the Census has made individual information available outside the Bureau or that the Bureau has ever used any information received other than for authorized purposes."
The only authorized purposes are for statistical totals. Even here, the census law on confidentiality holds. Statistical tables must be published in such a way that no individual, no farm, no business can be identified. For example, suppose there is one large ranch that spreads over most of a county. No data will be published for the county that would make it possible for an informed reader to figure out confidential information about the big ranch. The same public law that imposes confidentiality on the Census Bureau makes response by farm operators mandatory. The completed forms are to be mailed back in the postpaid, addressed return envelope enclosed with the form. The '74 Farm Census cannot be closed until every form mailed out is accounted for; thus the sooner the forms are returned, the sooner results can be made available. Census by mail allows operators to fill out their reports at their convenience and use their farm business records. Estimates are acceptable and should be reported, in the absence of records.

Many changes have been made to keep the Girl Scout program timely and available to all girls throughout the years. But, the principles on which Girl Scouting is based -- honesty, fairness, and respect for oneself and others -- have remained constant. ### Funeral Services for Vernon Willhoit Today

Vernon Willhoit, 68, of Rt. 4, Tahoka, died at 7:30 p.m. March 4 at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock from injuries suffered in a tractor accident Saturday near Tahoka.

Services will be held at 2 p.m., today, Thursday, March 6, at the Tahoka First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Frank Ogelsby, pastor, officiating. Assisting will be the Rev. Hugh Daniel of Lockney.

Burial will be in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Willhoit was born October 2, 1906 in Barksdale. When he was 6 weeks old his family moved to Lea County, New Mexico and at the age of 17 he moved to New Home. He was married to Mary Lou Link December 29, 1928 in Lubbock and moved to Tahoka in 1925 and farmed until retirement. He was a member of the United Methodist Church.

Mr. Willhoit, who retired from farming in January, had taken three grandchildren for a picnic to Guthrie Lake draw on the Roy Self place about three miles west of town. For some reason, he had started up a tractor and in some way the tractor, possibly in gear when started ran over him crushing the chest.

His eldest granddaughter, Shelley Stevens of Lubbock, age 10, ran to the Jack Hoskins farm house about a half mile to the north for help. Mrs. Hoskins and her son-in-law called the local ambulance and officers, who rushed to the scene. Mrs. Hoskins highly praised the little girl for her heroic effort to get help and the ambulance driver who arrived in 8 to 10 minutes. In the meantime, the other two grandchildren, ages about eight and six, washed his face with kleenex and moved the pick up near him. However, Vernon had lost consciousness when the ambulance had arrived.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Demic of Tyler and Mrs. Frances Barker of Lubbock; one son, Dale Willhoit of Carlsbad, New Mexico; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Newman of Brownfield, Mrs. Jim Twidwell of Roseburg, Oregon, and Mrs. Archie Blosser of Klamath Falls, Oregon; three brothers; David Willhoit of Hobbs, New Mex., Tim Willhoit of Brownfield and Guy Willhoit of Citrus Heights, California; and frozen without rewrapping and stored in the freezer for a period of 1 to 2 weeks. For longer freezer storage, the original package should be over-wrapped with special freezer material.

If properly wrapped, beef cuts will maintain their quality for 8 to 12 months. If stored longer than a year, the beef may lose some of its quality.

Beef should be wrapped in such vapor proof wraps as aluminum foil, or in heavily waxed freezer paper. Wrap meat closely, eliminating as much air as possible. You can avoid freezer burn by using moisture and vapor-proof paper, moisture is drawn from the meat and freezer burn can result.

In freezing individual steaks, a double thickness of waxed paper should be placed between each steak for easy removal of one or two.

Make certain that all packages are sealed and dated. Follow the rule "first in first out".

TEXAS TALK

By Fred Myers

Q: I've been told some grocery stores have their own meat grades. Is there more than one system for grading beef cuts?

A: Some meat packers utilize their own grading systems known as name brand or in-house grading. However the grade you see in the supermarket is almost always that assigned the meat by the Standardization and Grading Branch of the United States Department of Agriculture. Meat products will generally carry a label reading "USDA-Choice, USDA-Prime", or whatever the appropriate grade. USDA grading is done on the basis of carcass classification and is supposed to reflect the eating quality of the meat. A USDA grading system seldom noticed by consumers is the Yield Grade. Purpose of the Yield Grade is the determination of the relative cutability of the carcass. Specifically, how much of the carcass can be used in the four major retail cuts of beef. Highest Yield Grade for beef is USDA-1. Lowest is USDA-5.

The loan level for any crop of upland cotton shall be determined and announced not later than November 1 of the calendar year preceding the marketing year for which such loan is to be effective. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the carryover of upland cotton as of the beginning of the marketing year for the 1972 through 1977 crops exceeds 7.2 million bales, producers on any farm harvesting cotton of such crop from an acreage in excess of the base acreage allotment for such farm shall be entitled to loans and purchases only on an amount of the cotton of such crop produced on such farm determined by multiplying the yield used in computing payments for such farm by the base acreage allotment for such farm.

The Senate House Conference Report on the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 states that "The Conference intend that the Secretary shall obtain quotations in world markets for American cotton, supplemented by any other relevant price information available, for use in the determination of average price and in the establishment of the loan level at ninety percent of the three year average."

The Secretary of Agriculture's regulations implementing the Congressional policy follows:

Sec. 1427. 1102 General Statement. It is generally recognized that prices in world markets for identical grades and staple lengths of American cotton vary because of factors such as the locality where grown, Pressley strength, micronaire reading, storage area and estimated weight gain during ocean shipment. Less than one - half of one percent of the American crop in recent years has been Middling 1 - inch cotton, consequently such quality is not universally quoted in foreign markets. Most foreign market quotations are based Strict Middling one and one - sixteenth inch cotton. Further, reliable price quotations based on U. S. quality standards are notably meager in all foreign markets. It is generally conceded that quality determinations made in most world markets are more tolerant than those made under evaluations in the United States. The complexity of this situation makes a determination of a precise average price of Middling 1 - inch American cotton in world markets extremely difficult.

Sec. 1427. 1103 Procedures and factors.

The following procedures and factors shall be used in determining the average price of American cotton in world markets based Middling 1 - inch (micronaire 3.5 through 4.9) at average location in the United States for the three - year period ending July 31 in the year in which the loan level for the following crop of upland cotton is announced.

(a) Monthly average market price quotations per pound of American upland cotton quoted in foreign markets shall be obtained for the principal markets of the world for the applicable three - year period. In selecting the qualities and markets to be examined, there shall be taken into account to the extent that information is available, reliability of quotations, volume of sales, and any other relevant information that may be available.

(b) Monthly average price quotations obtained under paragraph (a) of this section shall be averaged for the applicable three - year period.

(c) The three year average price of American cotton in world markets determined under paragraph (b) of this section shall be adjusted to a U. S. Middling 1 - inch (micronaire 3.5 through 4.9) net weight basis to compensate for any lack of comparability, of for differences in quality evaluation or designation relative to U. S. quality standards.

(d) The average cost per pound of appropriate charges and costs related to marketing and handling and transporting upland cotton from average U. S. location to world markets shall be determined for the applicable three - year period on the basis of the latest information available at the time.

(e) Such average cost per pound determined under paragraph (d) of this section shall be deducted from the three - year average world price, adjusted as provided under paragraph (c) of this section, to adjust such price to average location in the United States.

In summary, the guidelines provided by Congress for setting the loan rate for upland cotton for 1975 are very difficult, if not impossible, to interpret correctly. Thus, the Secretary is charged with the responsibility of establishing a loan rate to the best of his ability that will provide the assistance to the producer in marketing his crop as directed by the general policy of the law. The Agriculture Act of 1949 attempts to stabilize prices of agricultural commodities.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TEXTBOOKS: Public school administrators are now in the process of selecting one of the several state approved textbooks for each subject taught. County Farm Bureau leaders can assist school administrators in making their selections by cooperating with the administrators and the school board. Printed on pages 47 and 48 are the 1975 textbook listings as published by the Mel Gablers, P. O. Box 7518, Longview, Texas 75601, Telephone Number A C 214 - 753-5993. Any additional information regarding this material should be directed to the Gablers in Longview, Texas.

1975 TEXTBOOK LISTINGS: Information in detail is available on the listed textbooks. This sheet is applicable nationwide, though based on textbooks approved for Texas beginning in September, 1975.

Page and line references pinpoint "questionable content" which needs special consideration in regard to its effect on students' thinking. ALWAYS check for yourself to form your OWN opinion. The countless hours spent in researching and analyzing these books has been to expedite this end. "Questionable content" is the sole criterion for reviews unless otherwise noted. Listings are not necessarily in preference order. REVIEWS ARE BASED ON BOOKS SUBMITTED FOR ADOPTION, BEFORE "REQUESTED CHANGES" WERE MADE.

AVAILABLE INFORMATION INCLUDES:

1. Page and line references arranged by grade and then by topic.
2. Reviews giving references plus explanations of "questionable" material.
3. Bills of Particulars (B/P) as submitted to the State of Texas. These consist of page and line references for each excerpt, plus objections. Because these are lengthy, they are expensive.

man, BLASTING OFF and ORBITING EARTH. These books will hold the interest of teenagers. Anyone claiming otherwise, evidently just skimmed through, but not read these texts. Written on a low reading level designed to reinforce skills needed by most students, the content challenges and motivates readers to a worthwhile life. One must ask, "Is it better to refresh all students with reading skills from books which include moral and character building material or is it necessary to provide students with content "designed" for their grade level, but which indoctrinates them away from wholesome values?"

The content of this series is much more REALISTIC and more RELEVANT to most students' lives than the fictional concept, dogmatically repeated that 7th and 8th graders are interested only in "blood and guts" type content. This concept, if true, would be overwhelming evidence that students have previously been mistaught and now need constructive reading instead of more "mind-bending" toward violence and disrespect.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS

4-H and youth programs help young people know the "when, how and why of decision making." The 4-H meeting is a key part of the decision making process.

By involving young people in the planning and evaluation stages of 4-H meetings, they learn to become better decision makers.

Discussions and programs are planned by officers and volunteers before the meeting begins. Materials such as films, speakers, brochures, reports, panel discussions and trips are also planned before the meeting.

The 4-H meeting is a good example of democracy on a small scale. Business is handled through parliamentary procedure and decisions are made by the group.

Each member of the club should have a part in program planning. And special attention should be given to provide for different age interests within a club.

Recreation is also a vital part of 4-H activities. It provides a physical outlet and helps promote a team spirit.

The decision making skills acquired in 4-H can carry over into school, work, and play.

Citrus Crop Forecast Shows Drop

AUSTIN—This year's crop of Texas citrus is forecast at 12.9 million boxes, a drop of 25 percent from the 17.3 million boxes produced during the 1973-74 season.

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, February projections estimated grapefruit production at 7.8 million boxes and early and mid-season oranges at 3.2 million boxes. Valencia orange output is forecast at 1.9 million boxes, 14 percent below the 2.2 million boxes harvested last season.

White said a freeze in December 1973 was the culprit in the production decline.

The 1974 cotton crop from the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. was characterized by the second longest staple average in history, reasonably good fiber strength, fair grades, a lot of bark and the second worst micronaire average since PCG began recording High Plains cotton quality in 1958.

PCG's 1974-Crop Quality Report, covering 1,070,000 running bales of a crop that now looks as if it will slightly top 1,100,000, has been completed and will be published soon, according to PCG Executive Vice President Donald A. Johnson. PCG makes the computer-compiled report available to PCG members, the cotton trade, the textile industry and others, providing a detailed account of quality and fiber relationships of High Plains cotton. USDA Cotton Classing Offices in the area and the Texas Tech Textile Research Center cooperate in making the report possible.

Staple average of the 1974 crop came to 31.7 thirty-seconds of an inch, well above the 31.06 thirty-seconds of an inch recorded in 1973, but somewhat below the all-time high 1968 average of 32.3 thirty-seconds.

Pressley strength of the crop measured an average 81,410 pounds per square inch, as compared to 81,940 pounds for the 1973 crop. All-time high pressley for the area was 85,000 pounds per square inch in 1970.

In grade, 50 per cent of the area crop fell in the White category, 43.9 per cent was Light Spot, and 5.8 per cent graded Spot. Corresponding 1973 figures were 74.7 per cent, 28.7 per cent and 1.5 per cent. The highest percentage of white cotton produced on the Plains came in 1958 when 71 per cent was in that grouping. The lowest percentage was 9 per cent White cotton in 1966.

Micronaire readings for 1974 averaged 3.07 micrograms, only slightly above the previous record low of 2.9 micrograms established in 1971, and far below the excellent 1973 crop when the micronaire average was 4.13. That 1973 figure was the highest ever achieved in the 25 High Plains counties.

Cotton classed as "Barky" in 1974 accounted for 34.6 per cent of the crop, which compares with only 4 per cent Barky cotton in 1973. The worst year in Plains history for bark was 1971 when 68 per cent of the bales carried that designation.

Prior to 1973, Barky bales were penalized 50 points in the cotton loan schedule in addition to being reduced in grade. The 50 point penalty was removed by USDA in 1973 after PCG presented evidence that the "double penalty" was not justified by loss of spinning and finishing utility. Thus, the 375,000 plus bales of Barky cotton in 1974 were valued at an additional $2.40 each by the loan schedule.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Wheat Prospects . . . Planting Plans . . . Orange Harvest Underway . . . Remember March 17. -

A record wheat harvest for 1975? No one knows yet, but the stage is set for what could be the third consecutive record wheat harvest. Winter wheat producers have expanded plantings by six per cent. In Texas, wheat on the High and Low Plains has made little growth due to cold weather.

Slow growth caused short grazing conditions. However, gains during the first 60 days of the grazing period have been good. Green bug problems are developing.

Nationwide, the 1975 wheat crop could reach more than two billion bushels. Wheat harvest will begin in Texas in May.

In order to give Texas wheat producers more information, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will issue a Texas winter wheat forecast on April 9.

Only estimated production for Texas will be published at that time. The early Texas wheat estimate will be included in the April Texas Crop Report. If you want a copy of it, write to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767.

WHILE some farmers are still making 1975 cropping plans, other producers in Texas are busy with planting chores. And while cotton harvesting operations are winding up on the High Plains, farmers in the Rio Grande Valley are planting cotton.

Primarily because of weather, only a small per cent of the cotton crop has been planted to date in the Valley. Estimates are that less than five per cent of the 1975 crop has been put in the ground. Projections that at least a 50 per cent reduction in cotton acres in that area continues to be valid.

Meanwhile, South Texas farmers are planting sorghum and producers in Central Texas are "chomping at the bit" to get started, too. Many areas of the state are still too wet to work for spring crops.

Farmers—as well as city dwellers—are also making big plans for home gardens this year throughout the state.

HARVEST of oranges in the Rio Grande Valley is approaching the final stages. Based on Feb. 1 conditions, the 1974-75 Texas citrus crop is forecast at 12.9 million boxes; this is down 25 per cent from the previous season. Overall, grapefruit harvest is down 27 per cent from last year.

And while citrus harvest is nearing its end, cotton planting is in progress in the Valley. Indications there still point to a 50 per cent reduction in acreage compared to last year. One of the reasons for this is that about two-thirds of the 1974 cotton crop in Texas is still unsold.
