The light showers in town brought Tahoka's rainfall for this month to .87 inch and total for the year so far to 4.20 inches.

Living Memorials Gift Of Life

Memorial Day is an appropriate time to honor someone special with a memorial gift to the American Cancer Society.

Memorial gifts are thoughtful gifts-fitting tributes to those we love so that others might be helped. Living memorials may be used to honor someone on a special occasion, or memorials may be given in honor of the deceased.

Individuals, organizations and firms, in making memorial contributions, give material aid to cancer research programs in laboratories and hospitals across the nation-help to inform the public to the importance of detecting cancer in time and support service programs for those stricken with the

First Schools Started in 1902

Lynn was the first officially established public school in Lynn County, established in the fall of 1902 on petition of J. E. Ketherx and others to Lynn County Commissioners Court.

The entire county was then declared one school district, and a tax rate of 5 cents granted for its operation. Mrs. Jessie Randall, was the first teacher. Her husband had filed on land in Terry County, and her uncle, H. E. Randall was postmaster at Lynn.

However, the same fall, a "subscription" school was started at T. Bar, after Tahoka Cattle Company's brand, with B. Humphries, Dee Harris, and George Small among the supporters.

The district was not officially created until 1904.

In the summer of 1903, Lynn County Commissioners created Tahoka District, comprising the south half of the county, leaving the north half to Lynn. School started in the fall with W. S. Norton and wife the first teachers.

Until a one-room building could be erected, classes were held in the district court room of the new two-story frame court house.

J. B. Walker and Miss Minnie Chambers (later Mrs. J. W. Elliott) were the second teachers.

Later, as many as 28 schools were established in the county, but today these have been consolidated into only four, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Wilson, and New Home.

Five Accidents In Lynn County

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Lynn County during the month of April, 1975, according to Sergeant H. E. Pirtle, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and one persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first four months of 1975 shows a total of 15 accidents resulting in no persons killed and two persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for April, 1975 shows a total of 425 accidents resulting in 18 persons killed and 251 persons injured as compared to April, 1974 with 390 accidents resulting in 19 persons killed and 218 persons injured.

This was 35 more accidents, one less killed, and 33 more injured in the 1975 at the same period of time.

The 18 traffic deaths for the month of April, 1975 occurred in the following counties: four in Lubbock; two each in Bailey, Clay, and Garza; and one each in Hockley, Wise, Yoakum, Briscoe, Castro, Hartley, Ochiltree, and Potter.

State Tax Office New Location

Comptroller Bob Bullock said today that the Lubbock field office would open its doors on June 2nd in a new location, Suite 400 of the Terrace Shopping Center at 4902 34th Street.

Bullock said the move was necessary to make room for additional Comptroller Department employees to serve the 20-county South Plains region which has more than 7,100 taxpayer accounts.

The new office telephone number is area code 806-795-0691.

"The people in out field offices are our direct contact with the taxpayers in this state and this move will help the taxpayers in Lubbock and this area to be able to get their questions and problems in state taxes taken care of much more easily," Bullock said.

Bullock said the new location would be more convenient to reach for much of the growing business community of the area plus providing much better parking facilities.

Counties served by the Lubbock field office are Bailey, Cochran, Yoakum, Gaines, Dawson, Terry, Hockley, Lamb, Hale, Lubbock, Lynn, Borden, Garza, Crosby, Floyd, Motley, Dickens, Kent, Cottle and King.

Manager of the Compilation Section of the Lubbock field office is Jimmie Taylor. Manager of the audit section is Dick Ambrus.

Long Range Program Completed

A Long Range Program about Lynn County has been developed and published according to Bertice Askew of Tahoka, chairman of the County Program Building Committee.

"The document, developed by committee members, contains a detailed description and analysis of the county situation, points out problems and program areas of concern and provides long-range objectives for the continued growth and development of economic and social conditions of importance to county citizens," Askew said.

Askew urges all interested individuals and groups to become familiar with the Long Range Program and to support the Lynn County Program Building Committee in helping achieve the long-range objectives. The document will serve as the blueprint for the program building committee in developing annual educational programs through the local office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The County Program Building Committee is composed of 24 county citizens who work closely with the County Extension Agents to develop and carry out educational programs needed in the county, according to W. B. Griffin, County Extension Agent. Besides the chairman, committee officers include: Jim Bob Portfield, vice chairman, Tahoka and Mrs. W. C. Maeker Secretary Wilson, Tex.

1975 O'Donnell Graduating Seniors

Carolyn Haley Says...

Are you anticipating buying a new food freezer soon? If so, before having it delivered, you need to consider where to locate it. Location of a freezer is important because it will not function well in direct sunlight, near a heat source or in an unventilated area.

Most freezers are designed for operation within certain temperature limits. When the temperature goes below freezing, the life of the compressor may be shortened.

Temperatures above a certain point will cause the freezer to run frequently, and this increases operating costs and decreases the life of the appliance.

A freezer may weigh as much as 1500 pounds when fully loaded. So it's necessary to be sure the location can support the load and has a level floor for quite operation.

Unless the unit has a forced air condenser, it needs at least a three-inch space above it to allow warm air to circulate.

Since the appliance will probably be used frequently, locate it in an easily accessible place—next to a table or countertop. If space is a problem, the unit may have to be stored in a laundry room or garage. Before these areas are considered, the humidity also should be checked. If the area is too damp, some of the metal on the freezer may rust.

For maximum safety, the freezer must be grounded. Consult the owner's manual for instructions.

TEXAS TALK

By Fred Myers

Crop Camels have heads but no humps.

The term "Crop Camel" is used as a reference to any crop that gets along on little water but in this area is generally reserved for sorghum. Primary reason for the development of sorghum as a feed grain was because it provided essentially the same nutritive value as corn but had unique growing properties. Properties such as becoming practically dormant during a drought and then resuming growth as soon as water is available. Most common of the grain sorghum types are the kafirs and milos or a hybrid developed from the two varieties. According to authorities such as J. H. Martin, sorghum originated in east Africa with the kafir variety coming to the United States from South Africa in 1876. Milo followed in the early 1880's. Hybrid developments and farm improvements have moved average yield from under 20 bushels per acre in 1950 to a current average of close to 65 bushels.

The House vote on Tuesday (May 13) fell 39 votes short of the necessary margin to override a presidential veto.

GSPA executive director Elbert Harp, in expressing his regrets over the farm bill veto, said it would have helped to stabilize the market for both consumers and producers. He continued to stress that farmers should use production cutbacks and orderly marketing wherever possible to help stabilize the market.

Capitol Hill observers had predicted that the president would enact loan price increases if he vetoed the bill, but the veto message did not indicate such intent. The message stated that if farm prices were to drop sharply during the months ahead, the administration will review the possibility of raising the loan rate.

GSPA has continually emphasized that farmers, like any other businessmen, cannot afford to produce at a loss. Harp, in a letter to the president, pointed out that unless some provision is

G S P A Urges Farmers To Use Alternatives In Light Of Veto

Grain Sorghum Producers Association officials have expressed regret over the failure of Congress to override the farm bill veto, but are urging farmers to continue working toward the alternatives which are open to them.

GSPA officials point out that the farmer could still make production cutbacks in order to keep grain supplies stable, should continue to push for domestic and export sales and should use a program of orderly marketing.

The Lubbock-based national organization has worked continuously toward passage of the farm bill, testifying frequently before agricultural subcommittees. Immediately following the veto, GSPA Service Director Y. F. Snodgrass spent several days in Washington urging congressmen to override the veto. The House vote on Tuesday (May 13) fell 39 votes short of the necessary margin to override a presidential veto.

Outdoors in Texas
By: J. C. Roberts

Boat owners of Texas... Look Out!! You could be facing one of the largest tax bites ever. If some Washington legislators have their way, and bill HR 5005 is approved, a 20% Excise Tax will be placed on motorboat engines and replacement parts. The tax is contained in the Energy Conservation and Conversion Acts of 1975. However, the facts about pleasure boat gas usage don't lie... Boats use only 1/2 of 1 percent of the gas burned in the U.S. Not much of a savings, but look at the injustice to the sportsman. Everyone today should be fuel conscious but this bill will cripple, if not kill the massive boating industry. The cure would be worse than the illness. Write your representatives in Washington, D.C., 20515 or your Senator at Zip Code 20510.

Tip Of The Week: Gun thefts in Texas are on the increase. Record all serial numbers of your guns for easy identification in case your guns are stolen and recovered.

G S P A Urges Farmers To Use Alternatives In Light Of Veto

Grain Sorghum Producers Association officials have expressed regret over the failure of Congress to override the farm bill veto, but are urging farmers to continue working toward the alternatives which are open to them.

GSPA officials point out that the farmer could still make production cutbacks in order to keep grain supplies stable, should continue to push for domestic and export sales and should use a program of orderly marketing.

The Lubbock-based national organization has worked continuously toward passage of the farm bill, testifying frequently before agricultural subcommittees. Immediately following the veto, GSPA Service Director Y. F. Snodgrass spent several days in Washington urging congressmen to override the veto. The House vote on Tuesday (May 13) fell 39 votes short of the necessary margin to override a presidential veto.

GSPA executive director Elbert Harp, in expressing his regrets over the farm bill veto, said it would have helped to stabilize the market for both consumers and producers. He continued to stress that farmers should use production cutbacks and orderly marketing wherever possible to help stabilize the market.

Capitol Hill observers had predicted that the president would enact loan price increases if he vetoed the bill, but the veto message did not indicate such intent. The message stated that if farm prices were to drop sharply during the months ahead, the administration will review the possibility of raising the loan rate.

GSPA has continually emphasized that farmers, like any other businessmen, cannot afford to produce at a loss. Harp, in a letter to the president, pointed out that unless some provision is make to stabilize agricultural markets, many producers will be forced to shut down their farming operations at a time when they are expected to feed the world.

Phebe K Club Met Tuesday

Phebe K. Warner Study Club held it's last meeting of the year Tuesday, May 13 in the home of Mrs. Elmer Owens with Mrs. Truett Smith serving as co-hostess.

Reports were heard from Mrs. Mike Huffaker on the Bicentennial dresses each member is to make, from Mrs. W. H. Kenley on the Bicentennial quilt, and from Mrs. Binie White on Reaffirmation Day. This special day will be May 30 and all citizens are urged to sign the petitions which will be located in several stores. The petition states that we reaffirm our faith in America and it's democratic principles. This is part of the community Bicentennial Activities.

Roll call for the day was to tell the style of the wedding dress you wore. Each member told about her dress and some interesting facts about her wedding or marriage. Many members brought their dress or wore it.

The program was brought by Mrs. Mike Huffaker, Arts Chairman. After giving some general tips on fashion and style, Mrs. J. D. Atwell, Mrs. Eddy Holloway and Mrs. Ray Adams modeled fashions from the Cinderella Shop. Mrs. Pete Hegi, Mrs. Cecil Robinson, Mrs. Clayton Carter, Mrs. Truett Smith, and Mrs. Jim Wells modeled "fun creations."

Mrs. Cecil Robinson was elected as 3rd Vice President to fill in for Mrs. Atwell who is moving. Mrs. Jim Wells closed the meeting with a poem about the club's activities for the year. The club will resume meeting in September.

Outdoors in Texas

By: J. C. Roberts

Boat owners of Texas... Look Out!! You could be facing one of the largest tax bites ever. If some Washington legislators have their way, and bill HR 5005 is approved, a 20% Excise Tax will be placed on motorboat engines and replacement parts. The tax is contained in the Energy Conservation and Conversion Act of 1975. However, the facts about pleasure boat usage don't lie... Boats use only 1/2 of 1 percent of the gas burned in the U.S. Not much of a savings, but look at the injustice to the sportsman. Everyone today should be fuel conscious but this bill will cripple, if not kill the massive boating industry. The cure would be worse than the illness. Write your representatives in Washington, D.C., 20515 or your Senator at Zip Code 20510.

Tip Of The Week: Gun thefts in Texas are on the increase. Record all serial numbers of your guns for easy identification in case your guns are stolen and recovered.
