He participated in various training exercises and visited several islands in the Western Pacific.

Operation Motorcade

"Traffic speeds are up and more people are expected to be on Texas Highways this Fourth of July Holiday," advises Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Fifty-four persons are expected to die in the three day holiday period starting 6:00 P. M. July 3 and ending midnight July 6.

"It is most tragic that the start of the Bicentennial Anniversary of our country may be one of the most wasteful in terms of loss of human life," reiterated Major Bell. "We will have Operation Motorcade in full scale operation throughout the holiday period with every available trooper on the road at all times."

Major Bell added that two violations will lead to the greatest loss in life; they are speeding and drinking while driving. "Every driver should be aware of both the condition of the road and vehicle as well as his personal condition before he gets behind the wheel. Also, he should drive as if his life depended on it, because it does." With more and more drivers on the road, and with more persons showing a higher disregard for the speed limits, Operation Motorcade will take on an even more important role in an attempt to control the highway slaughter.

The Texas Department of Public Safety urges each and every driver to do his part this holiday period by "Driving Friendly" and practicing Defensive Driving to stay alive.

4-H Camping Available

Summer is camping time for 4-Hers all over Texas.

And the Texas 4-H Center at Brownwood is offering a camping program that promises both fun and learning.

"Beginning in July, four camping programs designed for different age groups will be offered at the new 4-H Center," announces Marshall Crouch, 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and program coordinator at the Center. "Programs feature leadership training, recreation leadership, nature studies, special activities, outdoor sports, swimming, and crafts."

The weeklong sessions are July 7 - 11 and July 14 - 18 for 12 to 14 years old, July 21 - 25 for 10 - 11 years old, and July 28 - Aug. 1 for those 15 years and older. Each week's program will include practical "Learning by doing" experiences, points out Crouch, with leadership provided by a staff of qualified counselors.

"Getting young people together for 4-H camping experiences can mean new friendships, new skills and new ideas. And the personal growth and development of the youthful camper is a head start toward the process of maturity," contends the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"The combination of recreation, skill and the enthusiasm of a good staff along with the closeness to nature can shape a program affecting the lives of many young people."

The Texas 4-H Center itself offers modern dining, sleeping and recreation facilities on a 78-acre site overlooking Lake Brownwood.

Cost per camping session at the Texas 4-H Center is $30.35 including full insurance coverage and all meals adds Crouch.

Additional information on summer programs at the Texas 4-H Center is available from local county Extension agents, the State 4-H and Youth office at Texas A&M University or the Texas 4-H Center, Box 880, Brownwood 76801.

TEXAS TALK

By Fred Myers

All it takes is a glance at the long run you have more coming in than going out. The same principal was more desirable than a deficit. American farmers did far more to reduce a trade deficit off by the high prices of eastern oil. Agricultural exports last year were 3 billion dollars. But much less than that, considered by many to be harbinger of agriculture's position in world. Farmers and ranchers are more directly into light as they produce and keep us number one.

This Holiday Do Something Revolutionary

Take A Break At A Safety Rest Area

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

AUSTIN—With today practically the eve of the nation's bicentennial celebration, the Texas Legislature gave Texans an early birthday present that should enhance this state's observation of America's revolutionary beginning.

I am hopeful and have every reason to believe that Governor Briscoe will sign into law soon the omnibus tax reduction bill which contains a significant tax exemption that relates to bicentennial activities.

This exemption will permit any non-profit organization which is engaged in commemorating the bicentennial of the American Revolution from having to pay sales tax on any item that organization buys and uses in operating its office or in any other way commemorating the bicentennial, such as building a float for a parade.

It is very important, though, that the distinction is made that this exemption will not apply to products sold by the organization. The bicentennial groups around the state still must collect and send to the state the sales tax on such items as medallions or belt buckles or anything else they sell.

But for many local community organizations, the saving of four or five per cent on things they have to buy to keep their organization going will be a substantial benefit.

This is where the true spirit of Americanism flourishes and it's good to see that so many communities, almost 300 already, have set up organizations not to make money but to make sure that the proper respect and observance is given to this historical date.

There have been some confusing technicalities about this tax exemption and they need to be clarified.

First, the legislation, after the governor signs it into law, will not become effective until September 1st of this year. Obviously this means any purchases by bicentennial groups will not be tax exempt until that time and organizers may want to take this into account as they plan their spending programs and projects.

To receive the exemption, the purchasing organization will merely present an exemption certificate to the retail seller. Before the law becomes effective on September 1, the Comptroller's Office will be in touch with the bicentennial organizations across the state to explain exactly what they will be able to purchase that will fall under the tax exemption law. We will also be sending out the exemption certificates before the September 1 date.

I think this seemingly small tax reduction will make a big impact in helping people across Texas plan a truly grand bicentennial party.

Proper Canning Ends Food Poisoning Fears

AUSTIN—Backyard and community gardens are booming as Americans get back to the earth and try to beat the high cost of living at the same time.

But what happens when all those beans, carrots and tomatoes ripen at once?

Based on estimates from seed experts, some 6 million people will try their hand at gardening this year, and anywhere from 25 to 50 percent of them will attempt home canning or freezing for the first time.

Health officials believe an increase in spoiled foods and botulism, a serious form of food poisoning which can cause death, is bound to coincide with the upsurge in canning.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), there were 20 outbreaks of foodborne botulism involving 30 people last year, the largest number since 1935. Seven people died, five from home canned foods.

To combat further outbreaks the USDA has scheduled regional conferences around the country to explain proper procedures in the home preservation of food. A conference was held in Dallas in May.

The Texas Department of Agriculture is cooperating in the safety effort in publishing a booklet, "Freezing and Canning," this month.

"We are all aware of the necessity of canning food the right way to avoid spoilage, illness and possible death," said Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. "This booklet is one way to join in the safety effort."

TDA home economists, who compiled information for the booklet, remind consumers that the foods they preserve will be no better than the raw foods they begin with. They suggest using fresh, firm fruits, and tender, young vegetables as soon after harvest as possible. Certain overripe foods such as tomatoes lose acidity as they mature.

To destroy microorganisms that cause botulism, other types of food poisoning and food spoilage, a specific heat processing treatment is necessary. Food acidity is the chief factor in determining the temperature and times required for heat processing.

Fruits, pickled vegetables and tomatoes contain enough acid to destroy bacteria in them at 212 degrees F. Therefore, they can be processed safely in a boiling water bath canner. Higher temperatures are required to destroy the botulinum bacteria in low acid foods such as meats and poultry and all vegetables except tomatoes. The only safe way to can these foods is in a steam-pressure canner which provides temperatures higher than that of boiling water.

Jars manufactured especially for home canning must be used. Those which contained coffee, mayonnaise, peanut butter and other household items are less resistant to extremes of temperatures and mechanical shock and may break more readily.

Standard jar closures—new flat metal disks with rubber screw bands or porcelain-lined zinc caps with new rubber rings—are also necessary. Flat metal lids should be used only once.

After jars of processed foods have cooled, the center of the flat metal lids must be pressed to determine if the lid has sealed. If it won't move, it has. Jars sealed with porcelain-lined zinc caps should not leak when turned partly over in the hands.

Jars should be labeled and dated and screwbands from two-piece lids removed.

Canned foods store best in a cool, dry place.

Before eating home-canned foods, examine the jars carefully. When they show signs of spoilage—bulging lids, leaks, spurting liquid, off-odors or mold—destroy without tasting.

Farm-facts A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture John C. White, Commissioner

Boom, Boom, Boom... Good News For Livestock... Milk Production Up... Cotton planting is finished on the High Plains... Harvesting is underway in the Valley; grain sorghum is well underway in South Texas as planting is finished in the north; prospects for many crops are now they've been in years.

GOOD NEWS, a thing which has been hard to come by in agriculture in the past couple of years, is making the livestock industry.

Cattle on feed in Texas, as well as in the other feeding states, is showing an upward trend. Cattle on feed in the state is up six per cent from a month ago.

Even though the June 1 estimate is 42 per cent above a year ago, cattle feeding has shown a turn-around.

Cattle on feed in Texas as of June 1 totaled 2,880,000 head. Texas cattle feeders placed 288,000 head lots during May.

Cattle and calves on feed June 1 in the other feeding states totaled 5,841,000 head. Although down from a year ago, it is an increase over a month ago.

May placements of cattle and calves on feed in the other feeding states totaled 584,100 head, a 10 per cent increase over a year ago.

Cattle feeders are showing some profit now. Will this last? Economists note that more cattle are coming to market in the months ahead, and this will tend to lower prices to producers later this year.

But for the time being, cattlemen are seeing signs of improvement in their price situation.

MILK PRODUCTION is having its ups and downs in Texas. During May, milk production in the state was 10 per cent above last month, but one per cent below a year ago.

Production per cow is the same as last year a month ago. Milk cows on farms are down one per cent from a year ago. Milk cow numbers declined 26,000 in April, the largest month-to-month drop nationwide since the month of January, 1974.

SOFTBALL NEWS:

Eleven in a row! The Law played a close game the 24th of June with Richs Wings. The Law won 7 - 1 and played defense at their best. But they never got their bats out of the trunk. Larry Langenhans hit his fourteenth home of the year, Ricky Gandy and Dennie Fenton drove in four runs. Clyde Curry had a sut out until the sixth when he gave up a home run.

Jeff Atwell, David Birdsong, Mike Davis, David Moses, and Charlie Holland all hit home runs Friday night and enabled the Law to win 10 - 8 over Yellowhouse Machinery. Yellowhouse jumped off to a one to nothing lead when their lead off man handed off to Clyde Curry 3-2 pitch. It wasn't until the third inning when the Law began to roll. David Birdsong hit a solo blast to put the Law ahead 2-1. Charlie Holland followed with a two run shot 4-1, Atwell hit a three run home runs. Davis hit a solotopush it to 8-1.

Yellowhouse continued to stay away at the lead and had trimmed it to 8-6 in the fifth. David Moses hit a two run home run to the give runs in the top of the seventh but good defense by Dennis Fenton, Larry Langenhans, David Moses and Rick Gandy led Yellowhouse with two men on base and the part of their batters coming up. Space-Age Cameras Study Human Body Without X-Ray

A "twilight zone-type" camera apparatus has been used for the past 8 years to peer inside astronauts and observe muscle, heart and nutritional changes after space flights. The technique is called stereometric measurement of body volume, and it is so accurate scientists are hoping the process can be used in health-related areas on the local level. Expense is a main blocking agent.

Actually, there is nothing mystical about the new method. It's a real process invented by real engineers that can help determine if you are receiving proper nutrition or if your internal body makeup is forming correctly, no matter what your age.

Besides giving an accurate picture of the interior body, stereometrics is faster than the conventional method of measuring the circumference of limbs, the head, skin folds, etc. and then trying to tally body volume. The new process is more sensitive to nutritional changes than presently used techniques and can accurately, easily and quickly detect certain malformations such as curvature of the spine.

If the stereometric process reaches a local physician level, you would stand between two cameras which would produce a 3-dimensional front and rear view called stereopairs. Before, a 3-d observation couldn't be made. These stereopairs would then be fed into a computer which would draw an outline of your body. The outline would contain a map showing growth of muscles, bone structure and other interior makeup of body volume. Using this map as a guide, your doctor, along with a biochemist, could observe and treat your interior medical problems as easily as the obvious external ones.

Dr. R. E. Herron of the biostereometrics laboratory at the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston has been principal investigator in studies using the body volume measurement technique. He is working along with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researchers at the recently established Human Nutrition Center on the Texas A&M University campus in College Station. A coworker and biochemist, Dr. Roscoe Lewis of A&M, is in charge of the biochemical analysis of nutritional intake after the stereometric process is used. Herron and he are applying their techniques to a research project involving 100 pre-teen girls in the Bryan-College Station area. These girls are representative of the racial distribution and income levels within that area.

In the 5-year study, Lewis and Herron will determine exact nutrition needs of pre-adolescent children.

"By using the stereometric process, we can find out exactly how nutrition is affecting internal growth," Lewis related. "The camera process also gives us a permanent record that we can always refer to."

"Right now stereometrics is so expensive we can only use it at a research level. Hopefully, costs will come down and it will be made available to the general public," Lewis commented.

Stereometrics is just one example of joint research projects going on at the Human Nutrition Center. In the future, with such improved technology, people will be given a chance to live longer, healthier lives.

Madeline Murry O'Hair Is At It Again

Madeline Murry O'Hair has again succeeded in making her way to read the Bible in public schools. She has obtained 27,000 signatures protesting the presence of the Astronauts in the Bible as a Christ-like figure to the world.

publically censored for their act as a further demand to prohibit any further demonstration of religion by public leaders. If this goes through, it can stop the mention of God and prayer on T.V. and radio.

are still many who do believe in God. National Aeronautic & Space Adm.

Manned Space Craft Center, Astronauts Office, Houston, Texas, 77058

This is petition No. RM-2493. VOLUNTARY SCHOOL PRAYER LEGISLATION:

The effort to restore voluntary prayer to our schools and other public institutions is now taking a new approach. Identical bills have been introduced in both houses of Congress by Senator Jesse Helms (S283) and Representative John Asbrook (HR 2414) which will accomplish the restoration of voluntary prayer in one step, unlike the difficult and complicated Constitutional Amendment process.

These bills would take away from the Supreme Court of the U. S. and the District Courts any jurisdiction over cases that have to do with voluntary prayer in our schools and other public institutions. The final decision will then rest with the state supreme courts. National legislators and lawyers often forget that local and state authorities should decide local and state issues.

The wording of both S-283 and HR2414 is identical and reads in part: "A bill to limit the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of the United States and of the District Courts to enter any judgment, decree, or order denying or restricting as unconstitutional voluntary prayer in any public school."

Fortunately our forefathers were wise men. They set up a system of checks and balances on all branches of government. The check on the Supreme Court is the Congress. In Article III section 2 the Constitution states clearly that the appellate power of the court is subject to "such exceptions, and under such regulations as the Congress shall make." This proposed legislation does not temper with the Constitution. Rather it invokes the Constitution, and will return the basic civil rights of freedom of religion, freedom of speech, and in some instances, freedom of assembly which have been denied to millions of school children for the past 13 years.

The important question is how can we move the hearts of our elected officials to give top priority to this crucial legislation? The answer lies in the hands of those each legislator represents. Congress responds to the wishes of their constituents if they demand it. A few letters will not influence a Congressman, but thousands will. Write a short sincere letter to your senators and representative giving them your views on this legislation and urging them strongly to support it. Early expression of support brings us closer to our goals. Address all Senators: Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515. Address all Representatives: House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515. Senator Helms expects hearings to be held in October 1975.

Mrs. Bennett G. Miller of Washington, D. C., National Coordinator of the National Back to God Movement states, "It would be futile to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the founding of our nation unless the freedom to pray and read Holy Writ is restored to our children in their classrooms. Our history is replete with references to God and Divine Guidance. How can we be true to our National Heritage if hold any mention of Him Odd."

Let all Godly men and women rise up from the apathy, indifference and procrastination that has paralyzed our nation and demand this Congress restore our nation to its moral and spiritual heritage so that as Lincoln said, "This nation shall not perish from the earth."

For further information contact Mrs. Bennett Miller 3004 Adams St. N. E., Washington, D. C. 20018 (202) 526-3613.

Striped Bass
Texas has long been known for its braggin' size bass...How about a 27 pounder? You say the record is only 22 lbs. 4 oz., caught in Georgia in the 30's...Well, I am talking about the recently introduced striped bass, not the black bass. The striper, a native of salt water, is now living in 17 reservoirs in Texas, and the record fish for the state is 27 lbs., 5 oz., caught below Denison Dam in the Red River last December. Biologists will dump a million new striper fingerlings into Texas waters this year. Striper fishing is slow during the summer, but you can pick them up by watching for gulls. Stripers follow the shad just like white bass, and the gulls follow the shad. Best bets for a new record striper are Lake Spence near San Angelo, Texoma, and Toledo Bend. Tip of the Week: Striper fishing? Try trolling the deep open water with deep running lures with vibrating action... Deep water jigging with spoons or lead head jigs, and get those lures DEEP.

PRODUCERS TEST "THE NATURAL" ... Members of the executive committee of the Cotton Incorporated board of directors get an advanced look at a new woven dress shirt containing 60 per cent cotton. The shirt, called "The Natural," will be available in retail stores by late summer. Fabric in the shirt conforms to Cotton Incorporated's "Natural Blend" specifications. "The Natural" shirt is made by the Hanes Shirt Company, the third largest manufacturer of men's shirts in the United States.

Madeline Murry O'Hair is again making headlines. Several years ago she succeeded in making it possible to read the Bible in public schools. She has obtained 27,000 signatures protesting the removal of the Astronauts from the Bible as a Christmas message to the world. She is now in space craft while the moon in December. She will present these astronauts with a NASA award.

are still many who do believe in God. National Aeronautic & Space Administration. Manned Space Craft Center, Astronauts Office, Houston, Texas, 77058. This is petition No. RM-2493. VOLUNTARY SCHOOL PRAYER LEGISLATION: The effort to restore voluntary prayer to our schools and other public institutions is now taking a new approach. Identical bills have been introduced in both houses of Congress by Senator Jesse Helms (S283) and Representative John Asbrook (HR 2414) which will accomplish the restoration of voluntary prayer in one step, unlike the difficult and complicated Constitutional Amendment process.

These bills would take away from the Supreme Court of the U. S. and the District Courts any jurisdiction over cases that have to do with voluntary prayer in our schools and other public institutions. The final decision will then rest with the state supreme courts. National legislators and lawyers often forget that local and state authorities should decide local and state issues.

The wording of both S-283 and HR2414 is identical and reads in part: "A bill to limit the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of the United States and of the District Courts to enter any judgment, decree, or order denying or restricting as unconstitutional voluntary prayer in any public school."

Fortunately our forefathers were wise men. They set up a system of checks and balances on all branches of government. The check on the Supreme Court is the Congress. In Article III section 2 the Constitution states clearly that the appellate power of the court is subject to "such exceptions, and under such regulations as the Congress shall make." This proposed legislation does not temper with the Constitution. Rather it invokes the Constitution, and will return the basic civil rights of freedom of religion, freedom of speech, and in some instances, freedom of assembly which have been denied to millions of school children for the past 13 years.

The important question is how can we move the hearts of our elected officials to give top priority to this crucial legislation? The answer lies in the hands of those each legislator represents. Congress responds to the wishes of their constituents if they demand it. A few letters will not influence a Congressman, but thousands will. Write a short sincere letter to your senators and representative giving them your views on this legislation and urging them strongly to support it. Early expression of support brings us closer to our goals. Address all Senators: Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515. Address all Representatives: House Office Building, Washington, D. C. 20515. Senator Helms expects hearings to be held in October 1975.

Mrs. Bennett G. Miller of Washington, D. C., National Coordinator of the National Back to God Movement states, "It would be futile to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the founding of our nation unless the freedom to pray and read Holy Writ is restored our children in their classrooms. Our history is replete with references to God and Divine Guidance. How can we be true to our National Heritage if hold any mention of Him Odd."

Let all Godly men and women rise up from the apathy, indifference and procrastination that has paralyzed our nation and demand this Congress restore our nation to its moral and spiritual heritage so that as Lincoln said, "This nation shall not perish from the earth."

Outdoors in Texas

Striped Bass
Texas has long been known for its braggin' size bass... How about a 27 pounder? You say the record is only 22 lbs. 4 oz., caught in Georgia in the 30's... Well, I am talking about the recently introduced striped bass, not the black bass. The striper, a native of salt water, is now living in 17 reservoirs in Texas, and the record fish for the state is 27 lbs., 5 oz., caught below Denison Dam in the Red River last December. Biologists will dump a million new striper fingerlings into Texas waters this year. Striper fishing is slow during the summer, but you can pick them up by watching for gulls. Stripers follow the shad just like white bass, and the gulls follow the shad. Best bets for a new record striper are Lake Spence near San Angelo, Texoma, and Toledo Bend. Tip of the Week: Striper fishing? Try trolling the deep open water with deep running lures with vibrating action... Deep water jigging with spoons or lead-head jigs, and get those lures DEEP.

FACTS FOR YOU

from Texas Farm Bureau

STATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS ARTICLE 11:

The amendments to be voted on in November under the heading of Proposition 1 (see FACTS FOR YOU, June 6, 1975, page 133), if approved, will add a new Article II to the State Constitution. The new proposal uses new language, but states that there will be a legislative, executive and judicial branch of government, and that each of these can exercise only the powers properly attached to their office; except as authorized in the Constitution. The U.S. Constitution does not expressly provide for the separation of powers the U.S. Supreme Court has decided that the equivalent of a distributing clause is contained therein. Both the U. S. and Texas Constitution provide for a legislative, judicial and executive branch in separate articles.

WHY NOT COMMUNISM? In FACTS FOR YOU dated May 30, 1975, under the heading of "Why Not Communism?" on page 129 the word "classicide" is used. This word is not found in the dictionaries, but as used, it means the destruction of its own kind. For example, there is no job quite as hazardous to one's life as being a top leader in the communist party. Our own government reports that practically all the leading communist who associated with Lenin for the conquest of Russia were rewarded by being executed by the communist police.

In conclusion, the word can be properly understood by simply saying that communism devours its own and therefore, it is cannibalistic.

GAS FROM MANURE
THE WALL ATREET JOURNAL of June 16, 1975, released a story from Chicago indicating that the idea of producing gas from manure is making good progress. The National Gas Pipeline Company of America a unit of People Gas Company, announced that it signed an agreement with Era Incorporated, Lubbock, Texas to purchase gas generated from 80,000 tons of cow dung. Last fall the company said it would purchase methane gas from a similar plant to be built in the Oklahoma Panhandle by Calorific Recovery Anerobbic Process, Inc. of Oklahoma City. Another company, Bio Gas of Colorado, Inc. has a similar plan to make 4 million cubic feet of gas daily from 450,000 tons of manure.

The base price computed for methane gas produced in Deaf Smith County area is $1.30 per thousand cubic feet. The contract with Calorific calls for base price of $1.33 per thousand cubic feet. This price is somewhat higher than natural gas, but significantly lower than liquefied natural gas that is currently being developed. Era plans to begin construction in August 1975, if the Federal Power Commission approves.

It is computed that there is enough manure in the United States to produce 10 to 15 percent of the nation's energy requirements. If the Texas pilot plant proves feasible, Era would build about 40 large manure gas plants in feedlot areas around the country.

FEDERAL BUDGET: According to the U. S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT of June 23, 1975, the current federal budget of 323.6 billion dollars is equal to $1,516.00 per person in America, up from $610.00 only ten years ago. That allows for population gains but still far outstrips the 69 percent jump in prices.

Income -- security programs cost the most, $611.00 per person, an increase of 287 percent since 1965. These costs cover such outlays as social security, unemployment insurance, welfare, food stamps, government workers pension.

THE FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM:

This is a report with regard to what can be done in a community to encourage the teaching of the American free enterprise system. Frank J. Shaller, a cattleman, from Canadian, Texas started a month or so ago to encourage his school and public organizations to join him in promoting the teaching of the American free enterprise system. THE AMARILLO DAILY NEWS of June 2, 1975, reported the following regard to the work being done in Canadian: (1) Nathalie Sanders, a Canadian teacher, has just been awarded a scholarship from the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge and will attend a seminar this summer on the subject of teaching free enterprise.

(2) Directors of the Lions Club of Canadian have pledged $500.00 to finance the contests and debate and essay writing on free enterprise with scholarships and prizes. Local school board and superintendent report the program.

Frank, in a letter to this writer, encouraged all county Farm Bureau leaders to take an active role in promoting the teaching of the free enterprise system in their communities.

COTTON LOAN PROGRAM: The Commodity Credit Corporation released the following report with regard to its inventory and outstanding cotton loan program: CCC loan entries of 1974 crop cotton reported through May 29 totaled 2,412,100 bales. Loan repayments were reported on 966,00 bales, leaving loans outstanding on 1,445,500 bales. Through May 30 last year, 1,752,600 bales of 1973 crop cotton had been placed under CCC loan and

1,254,100 bales had been repaid, leaving loans outstanding on 498,500 bales of 1973 crop cotton. End of May CCC Owned and loan stocks alleged 101; CCC loan cotton; 1974 crop upland stocks 1,410,081; 1974 crop American Pima loan stocks 35,389; Total CCC - controlled cotton 1,445,571. VOTING RIGHTS AND PROPERTY OWNERSHIP:

The Supreme Court of the United States has rules that state law cannot require the ownership of property as an eligibility requirement for voting in a general bond election. The majority of the Supreme Court argued that the disenfranchisement of those who do not render property for taxation violated the equal protection clause. The minority argued that all citizens could have voted in the election had they rendered their property according to law. In other words, those who could not vote were not disenfranchised, they simply failed to render their property for taxation, as required by law.

However, the argument goes, it now seems that in public elections non-property owners as well as property owners can vote to increase the debt against property. Those who own no property are in a position to vote heavy on those who do have property.

ELIMINATION OF NATURAL GAS AS BOILER FUEL

The Railroad Commission of Texas held hearings in Austin on June 3, in an attempt to collect information with regard to the elimination of natural gas used as a boiler fuel in Texas. This action was taken by the Railroad Commission under the authority of state laws attempting to regulate utilities. The current hearings would apply to the use of natural gas when used to fire a boiler using a hundred thousand cubic feet of gas, on the average, per day. The implications are of course, that this curtailment could and surely may apply to any use of it in the future.

In summary, the only part of agriculture that would be affected by the present action of the Railroad Commission would be some of the cotton compresses that use in excess of hundred thousand cubic feet of natural gas per day on the average. The State Legislature passed the law authorizing the Railroad Commission's action in 1939 and added a major amendment in 1959. (See Vernon's Statute Article 6053) U.S. Congress approved a law in 1974 entitled, "Energy Supply and Environmental Coordination Act of 1974" (P. L. 93-319). This is an act to provide for means of dealing with the energy shortages by requiring reports with respect to energy resources as follows: temporary suspension of certain air pollution requirements, coal conversion and for other purposes.

The part of the federal law that seems to be pertinent at the moment is Section 2 entitled "Coal Conversion and Allocations." The Federal Energy Administration under the terms of this law can, by an order, prohibit any power plant from burning natural gas or petroleum products as its primary source of energy. In other words, the Federal Administrator does have the power to force a company to convert from natural gas or petroleum products to coal. The Federal Administrator has released his regulations with regard to those part of the law and they are listed in the FEDERAL REGISTER of May 9, 1975, beginning on page 20462.

TAXING PROPERTY:

The U. S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT of May 26, 1975, on page 61, reported that the United States Supreme Court has invalidated as unconstitutional Texas statutory and Constitutional provisions that permit only those people who have paid personal or real property taxes to vote on city bond proposals. That restriction has also been in effect in a number of other states.

Sherry Etheredge

Says . . .

According to Frances Reasonover, food and nutrition specialist, July 4th meals are fun -- but make them safe.

A picnic in the park or supper in the backyard can make the holiday one to remember, but prepare and serve the food safely to be sure the memory is a pleasant one.

Food poisoning bacteria thrive in temperatures between 50 - 120 degrees F. So consumers can start right from the grocery store to make the food safe for 1 make the food safe for picnic or barbecue.

She suggested buying ground beef a day or two before the holiday unless it can be frozen for a longer time. Shop in a store that displays meat and poultry in a clean refrigerated area. Avoid packages that have been broken or have punctured wrappers, she said.

Thaw frozen meat in the refrigerator to prevent bacterial growth. Don't allow this meat to stand unrefrigerated for more than an hour at the most.

And be sure to cook hamburgers and hot dogs in batches small enough to be used quickly so they don't stand allowing bacteria to grow.

Also cleanliness in preparing foods is always important -- but especially with hamburgers. Always wash hands thoroughly with soap and hot water before and after handling raw meat.

Baked beans is another dish that shouldn't be kept at room temperature for more than two hours.

Bacteria grow well in eggs at room temperature. Leave boiled eggs out of potato salad unless it is refrigerated until serving time. Make potato salad with eggs the same day it is to be served.

Turning to exact directions for avoiding food borne illness, she said, "Keep perishable foods cold, at or below 40 degrees F. Foods in this category are cream, pies, seafood and dishes made with eggs, fish meat and poultry."

Or keep the perishable foods such as seafood, poultry and cooked meats hot -- about 140 degrees F. Bacteria grow best in lukewarm foods so never let these foods stand at room temperature for more than two hours." Miss Reasonover cautioned.

Often foodborne illness is mistaken for a simple "bug" or virus. The real cause may be that the food wasn't properly prepared handled or served. This can be prevented by serving hot foods hot and cold food cold, she reminded.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK:
GRILLED INDIVIDUAL SUPPERS:

1 pound round steak cut in 1 - inch chunks
 3/4 cup bottled barbecue sauce
 4 medium carrots, sliced
 4 medium potatoes, cubed
 1 1/3 cups sliced celery
 2 teaspoons salt

ABOUT 3 HOURS AHEAD OR EARLY IN THE DAY: In small shallow baking dish arrange meat; pour in barbecue sauce. Cover and refrigerate about 2 hours, turning meat occasionally.

ABOUT 1 HOUR BEFORE SERVING: Prepare outdoor grill for barbecuing. Cut heavy duty foil into four 18" by 12" pieces. Divide meat and vegetables among pieces of foil and sprinkle each with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Fold foil over and seal ends tightly. Place directly on hot coals and cook 35 to 45 minutes until meat and vegetables are fork tender. Serve from foil packages. Makes 4 servings.

TO BAKE IN OVEN: Preheat oven to 425 degrees F. Place wrapper suppers on cookie sheet and bake 30 minutes.

SUMMERTIME CHANGE OF PACE - Traditionally a holiday favorite, turkey adds menu variety when served during the summer. Roast turkey breast is a favorite with white meat enthusiasts. It's kept moist and juicy during cooking with a butter-lemon-herb baste. Bake small tender onions and fresh mushrooms with the turkey during the last 20 minutes. For additional recipes write Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Tex. 78711.

Another Fine Texas Recipe

ROAST TURKEY BREAST

1/2 turkey breast (4-4 1/2 pounds)
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 1/2 tsp. salt
2 Tbsp. butter
1/2 tsp. paprika
1/8 tsp. powdered thyme
1/8 tsp. powdered basil

1/8 tsp. white pepper
1/2 cup rose wine
1 chicken bouillon cube, crushed
2 cups small fresh mushrooms
1 8-ounce can small whole onions, drained

Sprinkle turkey breast with lemon juice and season underside with 1/2 tsp. salt. Mix remaining teaspoon salt with butter, paprika, herbs and pepper and rub over skin. Place turkey skin-side up in shallow pan. Roast in 400-degree oven 20 minutes until skin begins to brown. Re-set thermostat to 325 degrees and roast 1-1 1/2 hours until meat is tender, basting frequently with wine mixed with bouillon cube. Add mushrooms, halved or whole, and onions last 20 minutes. If desired, thicken pan juices slightly with cornstarch. Yield: 6-8 servings.

Drought Hurts Grain, Pasture

AUSTIN - Pastures and dryland grain sorghum suffered but row crops were hardly harmed during the six-month drought in the Lower Rio Grande Valley which was dampened recently by two to five inches of rain.

Most row crops are on irrigated land, but 60 percent of the grain sorghum is dryland.

"Until recently there had been no significant rainfall in the Valley since before the first of this year," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said. "Ranchers probably suffered the most because of dry pasture conditions."

White said the rain is expected to help grain yield considerably. Grain sorghum is being harvested now, but vegetable harvest is nearly over.

The watermelon crop was harmed by a hail storm several weeks ago which took 4,000 acres. Harvest is underway and production per acre is expected to be down.

White Lauds Seven Boards For Efforts

AUSTIN - Agriculture Commissioner John C. White recently praised the state's seven commodity boards for their "excellent job in agricultural research and sales promotion" of the commodities they represent.

Peanuts, grain sorghum, soybeans, wheat, pecans, turkeys and pork are currently represented by the farmer-operated and administered boards.

The commodity board system was established under state law in 1967 to develop programs in research, disease control, disease education and promotion and to encourage production and marketing.

"These boards have been a boon to Texas agricultural producers in many ways," White said. "One that comes quickly to mind is in the field of export. Because of their membership in national commodity organizations, several boards have direct access to offices in major world capitals. This greatly simplifies the arrangement of sales to foreign countries, a factor which producers of wheat, soybeans, grain sorghum and certain other commodities depend on greatly for their livelihood."

Boards also sponsor tours into production areas for foreign buyers. Those boards that belong to national commodity organizations promote their products throughout the United States.

White also commended the boards for their devotion to scientific research, which includes better breeding methods as well as disease, weed and insect control.

"Farmers represented by commodity boards are getting their money's worth in terms of development programs which enrich all of Texas agriculture," White concluded.
