

Sherry Etheredge Says . . .

Spice is the variety of life-- in today's world of food, but in days gone by they served a more basic purpose. Briefly tracing the history of spices can help us understand their use.

Spices have been used for centuries to extend man's food reserve. In 1495, Vasco de Gama sailed two ships 24,000 miles in a round trip from Portugal to India and brought back spices and other products worth 60 times the cost of the voyage.

Spices are valuable because they help stretch inadequate food supplies. For that reason, during the Middie Ages a pound of ginger was worth a sheep, and a pound of mace, three sheep and half a cow.

Pepper, most valuable as a preservative, was counted out in individual peppercorns a sack of pepper was said to be worth a man's life.

Some spices disguised the flavor of spoiled foods, but others were preservatives that helped keep meat for a year or more without refrigeration.

Cloves for example, contain the chemical eugenol that inhibits the growth of bacteria. In fact, this is still used to preserve Virginia Ham.

When they had no pices, people often went hungry because they couldn't store enough food to carry them through the winter.

Today's homemakers use vinegar and salt to flavor as well as preserve quality. And sugar adds flavor as well as preserves quality-- particularly useful in making jellied products.

Adding spices to some foods is necessary because otherwise they can host spoilage organisms or undergo chemical changes before being eaten.

FINNEY SAYS

For the last 17 years we have had the pleasure of doing the Senior pictures for Tahoka High School. It has been a pleasant association.

We are happy and pleased to announce that we are doing them once again.

On another page in this issue, we are publishing our black and white prices which apply to Senior pictures ONLY.

You will notice that our prices are the same as they have been for the last three years. In this same period of time, a cup of coffee has gone up 400 percent, a piece of meat 250 percent, and sugar, "Oh My!" We are proud of the fact that we have held the prices down.

We will take 8 black and white proofs plus 5 natural color of each senior.

We will start shooting the first group of seniors September 6, and will finish up on the 20th and 27th.

The sponsor will give you an appointment.

Will see 'ya later.

Outdoors in Texas

By: J. C. Roberts
Hunting pressure . . . Will it ever stop? The public pressure on Mr. Hunter. Hunters in this country measure some 20 million, about 10% of the population, and most are sick and tired of being classes as "killers and murderers". The self-righteous animal lovers in this country, who know little of wildlife and its conservation, are building one of the most powerful lobbies in Washington, and the hunter must act now in order to survive. Avid hunters have given time and MONEY to bring back the turkey, deer, and antelope from the verge of extinction, and brought to this country the pheasant and chukar. At one time less than 50,000 elk were alive, now more than 85,000 are harvested annually, thanks to the effort of Mr. Hunter. Wyoming harvests more antelope every year than lived in the world in 1925! Some hunters are creeps, that's for sure . . . but every now and then a thief is discovered in the banking industry. Join a sporting club today with a Washington lobby, now, before it's too late.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS

Heavy infestations of cotton aphids are causing producers considerable concern. As you are aware, this is an unusual situation which we have not experienced before. Therefore, we do not have an economic threshold established on which to base control recommendations. However, damage to the cotton crop does not appear significant at this time. Heavy infestations causing severe leaf damage and premature leaf drop may result in a reduction in yield and lower fiber quality. However, this situation appears to exist only in spotted areas within fields and its not widespread. The presence of honeydew is not likely to cause any significant damage to the plants unless disease organisms develop on the honeydew and cause excessive leaf shed.

We should make it clear, that we are not saying that the aphid infestation will not result in some plant damage and reduction in yield and or quality. However, you must be made aware that the use of insecticide to control aphids may also result in a bollworm outbreak. It is most likely that even a moderate bollworm infestation will result in much more loss and greater expense than will result from the aphid infestation. I am outlining a few items which should be considered when making decisions on aphid control.

1. Stage of Plant Growth: Older more mature cotton with a good boll set is less likely to be adversely affected by aphid damage. Late planted cotton may be more affected by the aphids damage. Late planted cotton may be more adversely affected but is also more susceptible to bollworm damage.

2. Determine if the Aphid Population is Increasing or Decreasing: Do not determine the degree of infestation by the appearance of honeydew on the leaves and fall to evaluate the aphid population itself. In many fields the aphid population is being greatly reduced by predators and parasites. In our tests plots, honeydew is still present by the aphids are almost gone due to beneficial insect activity. Before treating, be sure that the aphid population has not already been controlled by beneficials.

Bollworms: Before treating check for bollworms, bollworm eggs, and worm damaged squares. If bollworms are present there is a very good chance that the destruction of beneficial insects will result in increased bollworm damage. We are now experiencing more bollworm pressure than we have seen for several years.

Plant Damage: In most instances in aphid infested fields appear vigorous and show little leaf curling or abnormal leaf drop in spite of the presence of aphids and honeydew.

In some areas, especially with determinant type varieties, excessive leaf shed etchies, excessive leaf shed is occurring.

However, our cotton physiologists point out that at this time of year, cotton plants are entering senescence and natural leaf drop of 20 - 25 percent is not abnormal. Dr. Jack Gipson says that the first leaves to shed are those attached to the main stem of the plant. At this time of the season, the loss of these leaves is not critical since they do not function in fruit development. Leaves on the fruiting limbs are involved in seed and fiber development and excessive loss could cause some yield reduction and lower micronaire.

I think that the overall appearance of plants is one of the best guidelines in making control decisions.

As a rough guide you may consider that leaf shed of 20 - 25 percent is normal. If aphid infestations are heavy and leaf drop in excess of 25 percent is occurring control might then be justified.

Control: In instances where control is considered necessary, I would recommend a low rate of Deme-ton (Systox) 0.125 lbs. acre, this should control the aphids with minimum damage to the beneficial population. Bidrin, methyl parathion, or parathion at 0.1 lbs. acre should give good control but will be more harsh on beneficials.

If aphids are still present and honeydew is evident on the leaves after the bolis start to open, I would recommend control. Honeydew in the lint reportedly causes a problem at the mills. I suggest that we keep a close watch on this aspect and make sure that we do not encounter pro-spotted lint. After to open the bolis, sure will be less and should not take control decisions. I hope that the lines will be of Please feel free to time if I can be ther assistance.

TEXAS TALK

By Fred Myers

Eleven-thousand dollars for a bale of cotton? According to studies made at the University of Texas, that's the value of a bale by the time it reaches the retail trade in the form of all cotton shirts. The same study indicates the value of the cotton increases more than five times after being processed into fabric. Obviously catching the ear of cotton producers, this economic message has succeeded in making them more aware of the importance of milling and fabric production. Feather Fabrics, Inc. is a joint venture between Lubbock area producers and a Dutch textile plant with the operation all ready underway. Farmers in the Littlefield area are planning to open their own 30 million dollar textile plant within the next two years. At least four other groups in the prime cotton producing country are looking toward similar operations and even more could be announced before the end of the year.

Exceptional Grain Harvests Expected By Texas Farmers

AUSTIN—Better weather conditions than last year will allow Texas farmers to produce a record wheat crop and the second largest sorghum crop in the state's history, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Wheat production is expected to be 131 million bushels. This contrasts to last year's 52.8 million bushel crop, which was plagued by drought.

Harvested acreage increased from 3,300,000 in 1974 to 5,700,000. This year's yield is 23 bushels per acre, compared with last year's 16 bushels per acre.

The grain sorghum crop is projected at 394.4 million bushels, compared with last year's harvest of only 312 million bushels. Harvested acreage is estimated at 6.8 million acres this year, almost one million acres more than last year.

Cotton production for 1975 is expected to be 3,100,000 bales, compared with last year's harvest of only 2,462,000. Harvested acreage declined 9 percent, from 4,400,000 acres to 4 million in 1975. This year's yield per acre is expected to be 372 pounds, compared with 269 pounds last year.

Corn production is expected to be the best since 1910 as yields should reach 115 million bushels, White said. This is an increase of 32 million bushels in 1974.

Corn acreage increased from 800,000 acres in 1974 to 1,100,000 in 1975. Rice harvest is forecast at 24,885,000 pounds per hundredweight, slightly less than last year's harvest of 25,258,000. Although acreage dropped from 562,000 to 553,000 acres, yield per acre rose from 4,494 to 4,500 pounds.

MRS. WILLIAM DANIEL MAGARO ... nee Kathryn Helen Stom

Stom - Magro Married Aug. 23

Kathryn Helen Stom and William Daniel Magaro exchanged wedding vows August 23, 8:30 p.m. in a double ring ceremony at First Christian Church, Lubbock. Reverend Bobby McMillan, First Methodist Church minister of Friona, officiated in the ceremony.

God The Author Of Confusion?

Do you understand that religious division is serious, and can never persuade people to agree on the Bible? Paul would not have urged the Corinthians to agree (1 Cor. 1:10) if unity were impossible. Do you prefer their denominational names and organizations to Christ's authority (Colossians 1:18)? We believe all denominations teaching Jesus and Savior are united as the "invisible" church of Christ. We are all on the way to heaven and have chosen different routes.

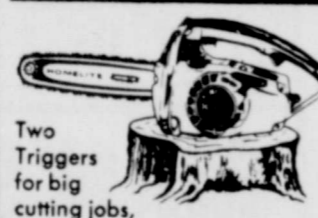

There are no examples in the New Testament of Christians being added to the church of Christ by joining a second man-made church. Neither is there an example of an invisible church in the Bible. The churches in Jerusalem and Corinth were visible or literal. As for there being many routes to heaven, notice the singularity of Matthew 7:14. The gate is small, and the way is narrow that leads to heaven, and few are those who find it." According to the Bible, the evangelist holding the crusade, "truth" is absolute. If "truth" is not absolute, then it cannot be truth. If there is no truth, there can be no law. Without law there cannot be "transgression of the law". If this is true, sin does not exist and Jesus Christ is not. Read I John 3:4.

Now I understand the simple unity for which we are agreed. Two surely cannot walk together except they are agreed. (Amos 3:3).

Parker Presents Lions Program

Dayton Parker of Parker Pharmacy in Tahoka gave an interesting program to the members and guests of the Tahoka Lions Club Wednesday, August 27th. The program was introduced by Bill Griffin, County Agent for Lynn County, Texas. Dayton explained in his remarks that many "over-the-counter" drugs are extremely dangerous when mixed with alcohol and that the combination could be fatal depending upon the strength of the drug and the quantity of the alcohol (which is also a drug). A sample of different drugs were passed around for examination. These included "red birds" goof balls, and several other "uppers and downers". In the above picture, Dayton is giving Bill a bit of added information after the meeting adjourned.

Membership in Lions International is by invitation only; however, if you are interested in belonging to an organization whose motto is "We Serve," the Tahoka Lions Club may be just what you are looking for. Any member of the local club will be glad to discuss membership with any man interested in bettering his community and willing to "Roll up his sleeves and go to work" to make it better. Ed Redwine is chairman of the Board of Directors and President of the Tahoka Lions Club and Belinda Williams a senior at Tahoka High School is the club's sweet heart.

Wheat production is expected to be 131 million bushels. This contrasts to last year's 52.8 million bushel crop, which was plagued by drought.

The grain sorghum crop is projected at 394.4 million bushels, compared with last year's harvest of only 312 million bushels. Harvested acreage is estimated at 6.8 million acres this year, almost one million acres more than last year.

Cotton production for 1975 is expected to be 3,100,000 bales, compared with last year's harvest of only 2,462,000. Harvested acreage declined 9 percent, from 4,400,000 acres to 4 million in 1975. This year's yield per acre is expected to be 372 pounds, compared with 269 pounds last year.

Corn production is expected to be the best since 1910 as yields should reach 115 million bushels, White said. This is an increase of 32 million bushels in 1974.

Corn acreage increased from 800,000 acres in 1974 to 1,100,000 in 1975.

Rice harvest is forecast at 24,885,000 pounds per hundredweight, slightly less than last year's harvest of 25,258,000. Although acreage dropped from 562,000 to 553,000 acres, yield per acre rose from 4,494 to 4,500 pounds.

Self-propel your way to bigger cotton profits with the extra savings you can get with this proved 2-row performer. You'll like the comfort of its all-weather cab... the convenience of its smooth-running hydrostatic drive... and its big-capacity clean stripping performance.

Advantages over tractor-mounted machines

- You're always ready to go. Nothing to mount, and you don't have to tie up a tractor.
- Saves time and labor cost for mounting and dismounting—up to $200
- Easier to service. Design makes service points more easily accessible.
- Brush roll or finger header flexibility to harvest the way you prefer.
- Less annual depreciation. Retains a much higher percentage of its original value from year to year.

'75 Cotton Harvest Underway

AUSTIN--After interruptions in harvest operations due to mid-July rains, cotton harvest is underway in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and the Coastal Bend area.

Early predictions estimate upland cotton production in Texas in 1975 to be 3,100,000 bales, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White. This compares with a harvest of only 2,462,000 bales in 1974.

Predicted yield of lint in 1975 is expected to be approximately 372 pounds per acre. This compares with an average yield of 269 pounds per acre last year, when drought caused low yields.

Cotton harvest for the state has reached three percent completion, compared with five percent last year and a three-year average of four percent.

Cotton crop prospects all over the state look good, White reported. In the Blacklands and Southcentral Texas, cotton is opening rapidly and harvest is expected to begin in the near future.

On the High and Low Plains, many fields are blooming and setting an excellent crop, although most stands are a little behind schedule. In the Trans-Pecos and Edwards Plateau areas, wet, cloudy weather has caused cotton to run several weeks behind schedule.

Abandoned cotton acreage is estimated at 500,000 acres in 1975. Although this is somewhat higher than normal, it is still below the 800,000 acres abandoned last year.

Some problems with insect infestations have occurred in most localities from the Blacklands southward and in the Trans-Pecos and Edwards Plateau regions. Boll weevil populations also have been high on the Low Plains and farmers there are concerned that control programs this late in the season may cause problems because of the loss of beneficial insects.

Rains have interrupted spray schedules from the Blacklands southward, and control has been difficult to achieve.

Moisture on the High and Low Plains is adequate to surplus and pressure on irrigation wells has been reduced in comparison with previous years.

Two eggs daily provide 20% of a person's daily requirement of protein and 35 to 121 percent of the essential amino acids, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

Land Program Deadline Near

AUSTIN--As the August 31 deadline for mailing applications to the Family Land Heritage Program approaches, persons interested in applying are urged to get their forms completed and turned in as soon as possible, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

"Any applications received by the Department after the August 31 deadline will be considered in the 1976 Program, rather than this year's Program," White said.

Nearly 230 applications have been received by the Department so far.

If persons wishing to apply cannot get forms from the county judge's office, they should write John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Family Land Heritage Program, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

The Program will honor families who have farmed or ranched the same land for over 100 years at the 1975 State Fair.

Last year, the Program honored over 560 families.

MR. & MRS. NAYMON EVERETT
50th anniversary

Naymon Everett's To Be Honored Sunday

A reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Naymon Everett for their Golden Wedding Anniversary will be held Sunday, September 7, 1975 from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church, O'Donnell, Texas.

Naymon, the son of J. Y. and Lucy Everett and Moody Burk, daughter, of W. T. and Ida Burk, were united in marriage September 8, 1925 with the Rev. W. C. Hart, officiating in Close City Methodist Church.

The couple has resided in O'Donnell all of their married life. Through the years they have been active citizens of the community. Naymon has barbered for almost fifty two years and is now semi retired. He has served on the Board of Trustees of the O'Donnell Independent School; served as Scout Master for the Boy Scouts (with Dan Blocker as one of his scouts). He is Past Master of the O'Donnell Masonic Lodge No. 1187 and was awarded a life membership by the Grand Lodge of Texas. Moody was O'Donnell City Secretary for twelve years and is Past Matron of the O'Donnell Chapter 725, Order of the Eastern Star. She and Naymon are faithful members of the First United Methodist Church. They have contributed much interest and support to the Borden County and O'Donnell Museums. The Everetts have one daughter, Nancy Gayle. She and her husband, Wayne Mott have a son Dan and a daughter, Danna, and reside in O'Donnell.

Friends and relatives of the couple are cordially invited to share this special occasion. There will be no local invitations sent.
