Bulldogs Journey To Dimmitt Friday

Tahoka Bulldogs take on another toughy this Friday night as they journey to Dimmitt for their last non-conference game. Many fans, including a chartered bus-load, will follow the team.

Although showing improvement, Coach Ronnie Fowlkes' young team lost their second game again one victory last Friday night at Idalou 21 to 8.

Idalou's opening kick-off was returned by Leslie White to the Bulldog 33. Runs by Ernest Bailey and Britt Brooks, a 16-yard pass by David Glenn to Tommy Botkin, and a 6-yarder to Danny Moore moved the ball to the Idalou 34. Here, the Wildcats covered a Bulldog fumble. Then, Idalou moved to the Tahoka 34, and Tahoka covered a Wildcat fumble. The Bulldogs drove to the Idalou 40, and Botkin got off a good punt to the Idalou 7 yard line.

But, the Wildcats completely dominated the second quarter as they drove 93 yards, with Danny Weems going in from the 5. Extra point try failed, and Idalou led 6-0.

With 6:11 left in the first half, Tahoka had the kick-off ball on their own 25, where the ball was fumbled and Idalou recovered. On the first play Tailback Gary Galloway broke over his own left tackle and raced 25 yards for the Wildcats' second TD. A run for points was good and Idalou led 14-0.

The rest of the second quarter was scoreless, as White intercepted an Idalou pass to stop another Idalou drive.

Tahoka kicked off to open the second half. Idalou moved to their own 36, where Tahoka covered a fumble, and Tahoka drove to the Idalou 5 but couldn't push the ball across. Idalou then drove to the Tahoka 30, where the Bulldogs took over on downs as the third quarter ended.

The Bulldogs picked up on one first down, then Brooks quick-kicked to the Idalou 15. But a penalty against Tahoka moved the ball out to the 30. From here, Idalou scored again in eight plays with Isaac Espinoza going over for 21 yards out. Extra point was good and Idalou led 21-0.

Tahoka had the kick-off on its own 35, and then moved to the Idalou 36. From here, Tahoka scored on a 36-yard pass-rush play, Glenn to Mitch Raindl, the latter doing a fine bit of broken field running. PAT was no good and Idalou led 21-6.

Tahoka picked up a 2-point safety later in the fourth quarter when the Idalou punter was trapped in the end zone, making the final score 21-8.

Idalou had 21 downs, 278 yard rushing and 73 passing. Tahoka had 11 first downs, 69 yards rushing and 106 yards passing.

The coaches felt the Tahoka boys put out a good effort and played much better ball than in previous games. They feel the Bulldogs will continue to improve. Coach Fowlkes commented that he was proud of the boys for their effort and the fact that they held their poise much better, even late in the game when they knew they were facing defeat.

The Bulldogs have an open date next week, before opening the conference season against Frenship here on October 10.

Consumer Program At Post Office

A nationwide Consumer Service Program designed to improve and broaden the quality of mail service was announced today by Postmaster Charles Townes.

Beginning Oct. 1, the U.S. Postal Service will introduce a program at the Tahoka Post Office and other offices across the nation to encourage mail users to register problems they may have with their mail service.

At the core of the program is a consumer service card, through which problems are identified and which postal managers attempt to expeditiously resolve.

The Consumer Service Program reflects Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar's determination that mail services to the public will be "friendly, courteous and efficient, as well as speedy and reliable."

"Good service is a far broader concept than just fast mail handling, as important as that is," the Postmaster General says. "It is also built on employee courtesy, our responsiveness to customer needs, the sympathy and understanding we bring to your own expectations of what good postal service is all about."

Postmaster Townes urged customers in this area to bring their inquiries and complaints to the attention of postal managers. And if people feel their problems have not been properly handled, the Postmaster said, they should see him personally.

To make it easier for a customer to make a suggestion or complaint about postal service, the new consumer service card will be available from rural letter carriers and at post offices.

According to Postmaster Townes, the card is two postal cards with carbon paper between them. "One copy goes to me so work can begin on the problem," he said. "The other goes to Postal Service Headquarters in Washington for cataloging and analysis. The cards will help management spot problem areas and trends and take corrective action if necessary."

The card should take no more than two minutes to fill out. The postmaster also said he and his staff are willing to discuss any problems, including lack of courtesy, irregularities in deliveries or collections, collection box convenience and postal office hours.

"We want you to come to us with your problems," concluded the postmaster. "The whole point of this service program is to bring your problems and gripes out into the open where we can attempt to resolve them."

Booster Club Activities

The Bulldog Booster Club met Monday night, September 22nd, in Tubb Elementary Cafeteria at which time films of the Idalou vs. Tahoka game were shown, narrated by Athletic Director Ronnie Fowlkes. Treasurer Wanda Kelly reported that there are 119 paid memberships in the Club at the present time.

Learn to Speak "Milk-ese" To Save Your Food Dollars

Having rising food costs forced you to look for items with the lowest price tags? When you are tempted to substitute one milk for a less expensive one, be sure you know what you're buying, lest you shortchange your family on nutrition.

Most supermarkets feature a variety of different milks, each with a different price tag. How confusing all these varieties of milk can be unless you know "milk-ese".

You can master the dairy counter language of "milk-ese" with this glossary of terms from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Fresh Fluid Whole Milk is usually homogenized and fortified with vitamins. Sometimes it's also fortified with minerals. It must meet the requirements for minimum milkfat content set by the state or municipality where it is sold. The milkfat content is usually about 3.25 percent, the minimum recommended by the Public Health Service "Grade A Pasteurized Milk Ordinance."

Grade A Milk is pasteurized -- heated to kill harmful bacteria. It must come from healthy cows and be produced, pasteurized and handled under strict sanitary control enforced by state and local milk sanitation officials. Remember, the "Grade A" rating designates a wholesomeness rather than a level of quality.

Homogenized milk has been treated to reduce the size of the milkfat globules. In homogenized milk, the cream does not separate and the product stays uniform throughout.

Vitamin D Milk has a vitamin D content of at least 400 U.S.P. units per quart. This is the minimum daily requirement for children, pregnant women and nursing mothers.

Skim Milk or nonfat milk usually has less than 0.5 percent milkfat, the percentage recommended under the Pasteurized Milk Ordinance. It is often fortified with vitamins A and D. Skim milk contains all the nutrients of whole milk except the fat.

Did you know that the flavor and food value of skim milk can be improved by adding a teaspoonful of instant nonfat dry milk to each glass?

Lowfat Milk usually has between 0.5 and 2 percent milkfat, depending on state regulations. This milk may also be labeled "2 percent" or "2-10" milk in the store.

Low-Fat Milk contains less milk fat than whole milk, more totals solids than skim milk. Low-fat milk is always enriched with nonfat milk solids. Addition of nonfat solids increases the already important protein content of the milk.

You can make this milk at home by using half whole milk and half skim or instant nonfat dry milk.

Nonfat Dry Milk is a powder made by removing nearly all the fat and water from pasteurized milk. "Instant" nonfat dry milk is made of larger particles which are more easily dissolved in water. Nonfat dry milk has about half the calories of whole milk and the same nutritive value as fresh skim milk. Some instant nonfat dry milk contains added vitamins A and D.

Shown by 19-year-old Steve Miller of Tahoka, the barrow exhibited "all the things we look for in pigs such as production potential and desirable carcass merit," said Dr. T.D. Tanksley Jr. of College Station.

Tanksley, with the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University, watched 215 barrows pass before choosing Miller's heavyweight.

"The pig had an excellent depth of chest and looked to be the kind that would grow rapidly in the feedlot," he said.

Breed champions were exhibited by Daron Norwood of Tahoka, Hampshire; Miller, Duroc; and Holcomb, crossbred.

BRUCELLOSIS PROGRAM

The Texas Animal Health Commission refused to approve revised brucellosis regulations on September 4, 1975. Current state laws direct a state brucellosis eradication program and state money is available. The net result of the Commission's action on September 4, is to refuse to bring state regulations in line with federal standards, which will result in re-negotiation of the federal-state cooperative program and federal assistance. There is also the maintaining of the states present status under terms of the federal-state program. (See FACTS FOR YOU, August 22, 1975, page 199)

The cooperative State - Federal brucellosis program began in 1935. The Texas program got under way in 1959 when the state legislature approved House Bill 31. The State Legislature has amended the basic laws on a number of occasions and these laws are now listed in VERNON'S ANNOTATED STATUTE as Article 7014F-1, Section 23A. The purpose of the law reads as follows:

It is the purpose of this section to bring about the effective control and eventual eradication of bovine brucellosis in the State of Texas and to establish that purpose in the most effective, practical, and expeditious manner. (Article 7014F-1, Section 23A (1))

Current laws also state:

When all of the counties of this State are certified by the Commission as having reached "modified certified brucellosis free" status, the Commission is authorized to begin all reasonably necessary operations to establish and maintain the counties of this State as "certified brucellosis free."

The law then defines certified brucellosis free as follows:

"Certified brucellosis free" is defined as that status which is reached when, in the eighteen (18) months preceding this request for county certification: (1) No more than two-tenths of one percent (.2 percent) of the cattle in the county shall have been found infected; (2) No more than one percent (1 percent) of the herds in the county, or one herd, whichever is greater, shall have been found infected; and (3) There are no herds under quarantine for cattle brucellosis at the time of the request for county certification. In carrying out this objective the Commission is authorized to promulgate necessary rules and regulations following publication of any proposed rules in not less than three (3) newspapers of statewide circulation, and a public hearing on such rules at a regular or special meeting of the Commission. (Art. 7014F-1, Sec. 23B)

The State of Texas was officially declared a modified certified brucellosis free area on August 10, 1973. It was recognized by the State Legislature in 1975 that it would be necessary to pay indemnities to certain cattle owners in hardship cases to qualify the state as a certified area. State laws prohibit the payment of indemnities for cattle that react to brucellosis test. The law in subparagraph (19) of Article 7014F-1, Section 23A reads as follows:

Indemnities shall not be paid for any cattle which may be reactors to any test for brucellosis made under the provision of this section.

This section refers to Section 23A of Article 7014F-1. The State Legislature meeting in 1975 did not repeal subparagraph (19) quoted above, but it did add the following to the law:

Section 1. In order to aid the Texas Animal Health Commission in its program to control and eventually eradicate bovine brucellosis in this state, as provided in Chapter 52, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 7014F-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the Texas Animal Health Commission may pay the owner of any cattle which are exposed to bovine brucellosis an amount of not more than $40 per head in problem herds and extreme hardship cases as determined by the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Section 2. The Texas Animal Health Commission may promulgate regulations to implement this Act, including regulations determining eligibility for compensation as provided in this Act. The commission shall determine in each case the amount to be paid for each head of cattle exposed to bovine brucellosis, within the limit prescribed in this Act and within the amount of funds appropriated for this purpose by the legislature. However, no funds so appropriated shall be used for any purpose other than direct payments to owners of exposed cattle. (CATTLE - EXPOSURE TO BOVINE BRUCELLOSIS - COMPENSATION TO OWNER, H.B. 1590) (Added to Article 7014F-1)

The net results of the new law approved by the State

Lynn County News

Legislation in 1975 would permit the payment of up to $40.00 per head in problem areas for exposed cattle.

The State Legislature meeting in 1975, did appropriate considerable money for the brucellosis program. There is $132,305 appropriated for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1976 and $132,305 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1977 for the indemnity payments. This appropriation is not tied to any one individual program and it is assumed that it will be used to pay indemnities in programs other than brucellosis, such as Tuberculosis.

Under the heading of eradication and control program, there is an appropriation specifically designated for brucellosis (estimated $1,299,397 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1976 and $1,338,365 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1977).

Estimated Federal funds are $589,920 for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1976 and $589,920 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1977. It is assumed that these Federal Funds would be for all programs conducted in the State.

The State Legislature also appropriated $155,784 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1976 and $155,784 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1977, designated as an emergency fund. It would appear that these funds could be used after the Animal Health Commission submits to the governor certain designated facts, and the Governor approves.

The State Legislature, meeting in 1973, appropriated $325,085 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1974 and $339,403 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1975 for brucellosis eradication.

In addition to the regular brucellosis appropriation, the State Legislature appropriated $495,019 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1974 and $505,219 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1975, which the Governor vetoed. These extra funds were contingent upon the passage of House Bill 785 or Senate Bill 681. Actually, Senate Bill 681 passed the State Legislature in 1973 and, in effect, provided authorization for the Texas Animal Health Commission to launch into a certified brucellosis free program in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

In summary, the Texas Animal Health Commission is charged, by law, to formulate and carry out a brucellosis eradication program in the State of Texas, in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture, that will produce a certified free status for the state as soon as possible. There is considerable money available through August 31, 1977 for the implementation of this program. If the Texas Animal Health Commission does not like the rules and regulations discussed on September 4, 1975, it is now their duty to formulate other rules and regulations that they do like in keeping with the law and approved by the administrators of the federal program.

COMPROMISE?

It is not uncommon to find a state or national legislator explaining his votes by the fact that he compromised in order to get "some results." These statements are always based on an assumption by the individual making the statement that unless he compromised he would not have gotten anything. This assumption is always wrong; when a person makes up his mind to compromise, he has, in effect, surrendered. Stated another way, the question is, what would have been the results had he not compromised? In that he did compromise, the answer will never be known and that is a "vote getting" position for any politician.

Political leaders in the State Legislature and Congress surely know that there are some points that cannot be compromised. The question is: What did you get for what you gave? Example: A thief points a gun at a citizen and tells him he is going to kill him. The thief, after some pleading, agrees to a compromise: Give me a $1,000 and I won't shoot you. The citizen agrees to the gift and thanks the thief for not killing him. Would the thief have killed the citizen had he refused to pay the $1,000?

FOOD CONSUMPTION
THE NATIONAL FOOD SITUATION of 1975 released the following statement: "A sharp reduction in the consumption of animal related food products will account for almost all of the nearly 1.5 percent decline in per capita food consumption now estimated for 1975. Supplies of fed beef, pork, and poultry products have been severely restricted this year because of tight supplies and high cost of livestock feed, resulting from the drought - reduced harvest of feed grains and soybeans in 1974. Crop related food consumption, per person, likely, will be down fractionally from 1974.

"Per capita consumption of animal - related foods in 1975 is now expected to be only slightly above the depressed level of 1973 and down nearly 2 1/2 percent from last year. Compared to the record high of 1971, consumption of livestock - related foods may be down over 4 percent in 1975. A sharp reduction for pork and grain fed beef will more than offset an increase for other beef and veal, so that the total red meat consumption in 1975 will be down nearly 4 percent. Poultry, eggs, and animal fat consumption, per person, will also be down significantly. Small increases for dairy products and fish, may be partially offsetting.

FERTILIZER CONSUMPTION

June 1975 fertilizer consumption was 14 percent less than a year earlier, and 41 percent less than June 1973, based on reports submitted by State Fertilizer Control Officials in the 14 States for which three years of comparable monthly data are available. Total mixed fertilizers were down 17 percent from June 1974, and materials for direct application decreased 10 percent. The tonnages were down 24 percent for dry bagged fertilizer and 18 percent for dry bulk but up 4 percent for liquid fertilizers.

The July - June fertilizer year total for these 14 States showed a 14 percent decrease in total primary nutrient materials and mixed fertilizers consumed compared with the same period a year earlier. Consumption of direct application materials during the 1974-75 fertilizer year dropped 6 percent while mixtures decreased 17 percent. The tonnages for the year were 8 percent less than fertilizer year 1972-73. (COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER, Aug. 29, 1975)

GRAIN SALES TO RUSSIA

USDA's report through August 24, 1975, reveals that the USSR has purchased 979,000 metric tons or 36 million bushels of hard red winter wheat to be shipped during the marketing year beginning on July 1, 1975. U.S. grain dealers have already shipped to the USSR during the marketing year, beginning on July 1, 1975, 464,500 metric tons or 17.1 million bushels. For the marketing year, beginning on July 1, 1976, USSR has obligated itself for 195,000 metric tons of hard red winter wheat.

U.S. grain dealers have shipped to Russia 849,000 metric tons or 33.4 million bushels of corn this marketing year, beginning on October 1, 1974, as of August 24, 1975. For the marketing year, beginning on October 1, 1975, USSR has purchased 200,000 metric tons or 7.9 million bushels of corn that has not been shipped.

Corn and wheat are the only two grains appearing in USDA's report as of August 24, 1975.

FEDERAL SAFETY PROGRAMS

The September 1975 professional safety, the official journal of the American Safety Engineers, reported that the Federal government had awarded the University of Utah at Salt Lake City, Utah, an operational safety contract for management and operation of agriculture, safety and health program is the amount of $547,250.

MEAT INSPECTION - FEDERAL

The Honorable Neal Smith, a Representative from Iowa entered some interesting information in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD of September 5, 1975 on page E4546-7. This information expressed the Congressman's objection to a Department of Agriculture proposal that the U. S. government pay 80 percent of the cost of a state program initiated under a Federal - State meat inspection program agreement. (Talmadge - Aiken Act Agreements) The U.S. government is now paying 50 percent under these agreements.

The Congressman reported that there are now 287 meat plants operating under a federal-state Talmadge - Aiken agreement in 26 states. There are 6,292 plants operating entirely under Federal inspection and 5,835 under state inspection. The Congressman's concern was that if the Federal government raised their payment to 80 percent, states would shift the total cost of the meat program to the Federal government.

Most states have already gotten the message that they can shift all the cost of meat inspection to the Federal government by simply not signing an agreement. Regardless of what Congress intended, it should have been obvious from the beginning that States would soon discover that they can have the same program without an agreement at no cost to the State.

The Federal - State cooperative meat and poultry program cost has exploded during the six fiscal years ending on June 30, 1971: 1971 - $29.2 billion; 1973 - $29.2 billion; 1974 - $30.5 billion; 1975 - $32.6 billion; 1976 (est.) $35.7 billion. In fiscal year 1971 there were 47 meat and 40 poultry cooperative agreements and in fiscal year 1975 there are 40 meat and 31 poultry cooperative agreements. (Part 3, Agriculture Appropriations, 1976)

COMMUNIST SUPPORT FARM LABOR UNION

Congressman Larry McDonald of Georgia placed in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD of October 4, 1975 at pages E4504-5 information with regard to the National Convention of the October League, a Marxist, Leninist, self-proclaimed Communist organization devoted to Mao Tse Tung's variety of Communism. This convention was held on June 28-29, 1975 in Epes, Alabama at the Federation of Southern Coops.

The Congressman's article reported: An analysis of the October League's convention materials indicates the area of most immediate organizing will be the formal creation of the new Communist Party. Other areas of future OL activity documented in the materials include:

This section refers to Section 23A of Article 7014f-1. The State Legislature meeting in 1975 did not repeal subparagraph (19) quoted above, but it did add the following to the law:

Section 1. In order to aid the Texas Animal Health Commission in its program to control and eventually eradicate bovine brucellosis in this state, as provided in Chapter 52, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 7014f-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the Texas Animal Health Commission may pay the owner of any cattle which are exposed to bovine brucellosis an amount of not more than $40 per head in problem herds and extreme hardship cases as determined by the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Section 2. The Texas Animal Health Commission may promulgate regulations to implement this Act, including regulations determining eligibility for compensation as provided in this Act. The commission shall determine in each case the amount to be paid for each head of cattle exposed to bovine brucellosis, within the limit prescribed in this Act and within the amount of funds appropriated for this purpose by the legislature. However, no funds so appropriated shall be used for any purpose other than direct payments to owners of exposed cattle. (CATTLE - EXPOSURE TO BOVINE BRUCELLOSIS - COMPENSATION TO OWNER, H.B. 1590) (Added to Article 7014f-1)

The net results of the new law approved by the State Legislature in 1975 would permit the payment of up to $40.00 per head in problem areas for exposed cattle.

The State Legislature meeting in 1975, did appropriate considerable money for the brucellosis program. There is $132,305 appropriated for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1976 and $132,305 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1977 for the indemnity payments. This appropriation is not tied to any one individual program and it is assumed that it will be used to pay indemnities in programs other than brucellosis, such as Tuberculosis.

Under the heading of eradication and control program, there is an appropriation specifically designated for brucellosis (estimated $1,299,397 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1976 and $1,338,365 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1977). Estimated Federal funds are $589,920 for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1976 and $589,920 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1977. It is assumed that these Federal Funds would be for all programs conducted in the State.

The State Legislature also appropriated $155,784 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1976 and $155,784 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1977, designated as an emergency fund. It would appear that these funds could be used after the Animal Health Commission submits to the governor certain designated facts, and the Governor approves.

The State Legislature, meeting in 1973, appropriated $325,085 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1974 and $339,403 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1975 for brucellosis eradication.

In addition to the regular brucellosis appropriation, the State Legislature appropriated $495,019 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1974 and $505,219 for the fiscal year ending on August 31, 1975, which the Governor vetoed. These extra funds were contingent upon the passage of House Bill 785 or Senate Bill 681. Actually, Senate Bill 681 passed the State Legislature in 1973 and, in effect, provided authorization for the Texas Animal Health Commission to launch into a certified brucellosis free program in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

In summary, the Texas Animal Health Commission is charged, by law, to formulate and carry out a brucellosis eradication program in the State of Texas, in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture, that will produce a certified free status for the state as soon as possible. There is considerable money available through August 31, 1977 for the implementation of this program. If the Texas Animal Health Commission does not like the rules and regulations discussed on September 4, 1975, it is now their duty to formulate other rules and regulations that they do like in keeping with the law and approved by the administrators of the federal program.

Lynn County News

consumption of animal related food products will account for almost all of the nearly 1.5 percent decline in per capita food consumption now estimated for 1975. Supplies of fed beef, pork, and poultry products have been severely restricted this year because of tight supplies and high cost of livestock feed, resulting from the drought - reduced harvest of feed grains and soybeans in 1974. Crop related food consumption, per person, likely, will be down fractionally from 1974.

"Per capita consumption of animal - related foods in 1975 is now expected to be only slightly above the depressed level of 1973 and down nearly 2 1/2 percent from last year. Compared to the record high of 1971, consumption of livestock - related foods may be down over 4 percent in 1975. A sharp reduction for pork and grain fed beef will more than offset an increase for other beef and veal, so that the total red meat consumption in 1975 will be down nearly 4 percent. Poultry, eggs, and animal fat consumption, per person, will also be down significantly. Small increases for dairy products and fish may be partially offsetting.

FEDERAL SAFETY PROGRAMS

The September 1975 professional safety, the official journal of the American Safety Engineers, reported that the Federal government had awarded the University of Utah at Salt Lake City, Utah, an operational safety contract for management and operation of agriculture, safety and health program is the amount of $547,250.

MEAT INSPECTION - FEDERAL

The Honorable Neal Smith, a Representative from Iowa entered some interesting information in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD of September 5, 1975 on page E4546-7. This information expressed the Congressman's objection to a Department of Agriculture proposal that the U. S. government pay 80 percent of the cost of a state program initiated under a Federal - State meat inspection program agreement. (Talmadge - Aiken Act Agreements) The U.S. government is now paying 50 percent under these agreements.

The Congressman reported that there are now 287 meat plants operating under a federal-state Talmadge - Aiken agreement in 26 states. There are 6,292 plants operating entirely under Federal inspection and 5,835 under state inspection. The Congressman's concern was that if the Federal government raised their payment to 80 percent, states would shift the total cost of the meat program to the Federal government.

Most states have already gotten the message that they can shift all the cost of meat inspection to the Federal government by simply not signing an agreement. Regardless of what Congress

FERTILIZER CONSUMPTION

June 1975 fertilizer consumption was 14 percent less than a year earlier, and 41 percent less than June 1973, based on reports submitted by State Fertilizer Control Officials in the 14 States for which three years of comparable monthly data are available. Total mixed fertilizers were down 17 percent from June 1974, and materials for direct application decreased 10 percent. The tonnages were down 24 percent for dry bagged fertilizer and 18 percent for dry bulk but up 4 percent for liquid fertilizers.

The July - June fertilizer year total for these 14 States showed a 14 percent decrease in total primary nutrient materials and mixed fertilizers consumed compared with the same period a year earlier. Consumption of direct application materials during the 1974 - 75 fertilizer year dropped 6 percent while mixtures decreased 17 percent. The tonnages for the year were 8 percent less than fertilizer year 1972 - 73. (COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER, Aug. 29, 1975)

GRAIN SALES TO RUSSIA

USDA's report through August 24, 1975, reveals that the USSR has purchased 979,000 metric tons or 36 million bushels of hard red winter wheat to be shipped during the marketing year beginning on July 1, 1975. U.S. gain dealers have already shipped to the USSR during the marketing year, beginning on July 1, 1975, 464,500 metric tons or 17.1 million bushels. For the marketing year, beginning on July 1, 1976, USSR has obligated itself for 195,000 metric tons of hard red winter wheat.

U.S. grain dealers have shipped to Russia 849,000 metric tons or 33.4 million bushels of corn this marketing year, beginning on October 1, 1974, as of August 24, 1975. For the marketing year, beginning on October 1, 1975, USSR has purchased 200,000 metric tons or 7.9 million bushels of corn that has not been shipped.

Corn and wheat are the only two grains appearing in USDA's report as of August

COMPROMISE?

It is not uncommon to find a state or national legislator explaining his votes by the fact that he "compromised in order to get 'some results.'"

These statements are always based on an assumption by the individual making the statement that unless he compromised he would not have gotten anything. This assumption is always wrong; when a person makes up his mind to compromise, he has, in effect, surrendered. Stated another way, the question is, what would have been the results had he not compromised? In that he did compromise, the answer will never be known and that is a "vote getting" position for any politician.

Political leaders in the State Legislature and Congress surely know that there are some points that cannot be compromised. The question is: What did you get for what you gave? Example: A thief points a gun at a citizen and tells him he is going to kill him. The thief, after some pleading, agrees to a compromise: Give me a $1,000 and I won't shoot you. The citizen agrees to the gift and thanks the thief for not killing him. Would the thief have killed the citizen had he refused to pay the $1,000?

The 1975 Annual Meeting of the Plains Ginners Association will be held on Saturday, September 27, at the Lubbock Country Club from 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., according to the organization's secretary, Dixon White of Lubbock. Over 300 High Plains ginners and allied-industry people are expected to attend.

The meeting will feature addresses by Texas Speaker of the House Bill Clayton of Springlake; Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock; and Tony Price, Executive Vice President of the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, Dallas. Bill Weaver of Lamesa, outgoing President, will give the President's annual report to the membership.

Clayton, elected Speaker of the House in January of this year, has served in the Texas legislature since 1962 and is said to be responsible for passage of one bill in the Texas House than any other member during that period. He is expected to speak to the ginners on State legislative affairs, keying on the water legislation in which he has played a major role.

Johnson will review what PCG is doing and plans to do toward ensuring the future of the cotton industry on the High Plains, stressing the need for a united effort in the industry to control its own destiny "by grasping opportunity as it presents itself in the areas of marketing, new production and processing technology."

Price, whose statewide organization has kept ginner interests in the forefront as government regulations on air pollution and safety have been promulgated, will outline the latest developments and suggest practical answers to some of the problems with air pollution control, Occupational Safety & Health Administration rulings, and other government regulatory activities.

The noon luncheon will be sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers, Lamesa Cotton Oil, Levelland Vegetable Oil, Lubbock Cotton Oil, Paymaster Oil Mill, and Plains Cooperative Oil Mill. Hemphill Wells will present a style show as a part of the noon activities.

PGA members present will elect nine directors at the meeting and the new directors will elect officers for the coming year. Weaver has served his maximum two-year term as President, and if tradition is followed will be succeeded by current Vice President Bill McCasland of Lubbock.

Preceding the business meeting on Saturday will be the Association's annual golf tournament, with players teeing off at the Lubbock Country Club from 9:30 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. on Friday, September 26.

New Home School News

RECEIVES FIRST CHECKS - Mr. Russell Howle, New Home School Superintendent; Mrs. Susie Reynolds, teacher aide; Miss Karen Davis, Title 1 teacher, and Mr. Harley McCasland, New Home Elementary Principal; as they receive their first check in the Public Educational System.

New Home Teachers Get First Check

Miss Karen Davis and Mrs. Susie Reynolds received their first check as teacher and teacher aide in the public educational system. Miss Davis is a 1974 graduate of Texas Tech and Mrs. Reynolds is the wife of New Home basketball coach and is working in public education for the first time. We welcome these teachers to our system and wish them a wonderful and productive year.

Special Programs -- Special Skills?

The sound of the drill was the tune the Plan A resource teachers were working to the first week of school. Mrs. Hodde and Miss Soper will be in the same room this year. The move created the need for room division and more storage space. In solving their problem they gained sore thumbs, blistered fingers and their much needed book shelves. Despite the hurt hands and battered tool! the book shelves are standing. The program is off to a good start with testing, new scheduled and many new faces.

Reading Program Title 1

Americans have always seen the need for quality education. This is reflected in the Title 1 Reading program at New Home Elementary. Any child in the grades 1-8 with a special reading problem is eligible for the program, which is taught by Karen Davis B.A. from Baylor, and Melodie Eades M.A. from the University of Texas.

The program is designed to diagnose the child's individual reading problems and work with him on a one to one basis to solve those problems. In a bright and colorful room the children are encouraged to discover that reading can be fun as well as rewarding. Special tapes, filmstrips, and games are only a part of the various media employed to achieve the goals of the Title 1 program. These goals include an individual awareness of the specific reading problems and secondly an individual solution to the problems. Every child has a "right to learn" and we feel that this program aids the child by providing him with the necessary tools to accept the challenge.

Advisory Meeting

There will be a general meeting of the Title 1 and Migrant advisory board, Monday September 29, 1975 at 7:30 p.m. in the New Home Elementary Cafeteria. Parents who have students in the Title 1 program (reading and migrant) are urged to attend this meeting. A tour of the school will be conducted after the general session and refreshments will be served.

Elementary Students can "Lasso" a book.

The title of the article is a little mis-leading, but we have completed the "reading Corral" in the Elementary School Library. Students may now use the "corral" for reading, listing, or other audio-tutorial functions. The Corral is a four foot hexagon, with carpet in the center and is built with post and two by fours. The post were donated by Mr. Donald Hancock and the labor for construction by several high school boys, supervised by Mrs. Howle the librarian, Mrs. Grimes and Mr. Dan Williams.

The Corral is one method we are planning to use to place more emphasis on reading and at the same time make reading a fun thing.

Mrs Waldrip Attends Two-Day Workshop

As Senior Advocate, representing Tahoka, Mrs. Leona Waldrip attended a "Senior Services Workshop" on Thursday & Friday. The two-day meet was held at Holiday Inn Parkway in Lubbock and convener was Susan Crawford, Services Coordinator of South Plains Association of Governments. Featured speakers were Wynona Woods, and Jimmy Sessions both of the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation. Friday's session included several research personnel explaining services available to Senior Citizens in our area. Miss Crawford plans to meet with the next Community Action Session here concerning the recent survey taken for Senior Citizens.

WILL THE DISOBEDIENT BE SAVED?

The following quotation from a denominational church manual states, "Baptism may not be essential to salvation, but it is essential to obedience". Those teaching this doctrine apparently recognize that baptism cannot be separated from obedience. Read the quotation again and notice it says that baptism is essential to obedience and infers obedience is not essential to salvation. How if I can prove from the Bible that OBEDIENCE IS ESSENTIAL TO SALVATION, can't we logically assume that baptism is also an essential leading to eternal life. For proof of the necessity of obedience unto salvation read: Ex. 12:7-13:1 Sam. 15:22: 7:21; Acts 5:28,29; John 8:31,32; 8:51; Rom. 6:16; Jno. 5:3; Heb. 5:8,9; and James 2:14.

The sixth chapter of Romans explains the relationship of obedience, baptism and salvation quite clearly. The 16th and 17th verses teach that obedience resulting in righteousness must be from the heart to that form of teaching to which the Romans were committed. The first seven verses of the same chapter states that the form of teaching to be OBEYED was to be born-again by obediently submitting to baptism which is of God's righteousness (2 Cor. 5:17, 18).

Now, denominational friend, either you or I are wrong in our Bible understanding. Don't you think its time, even past time, that we meet before an open Bible and reason together. I am interested in your soul's salvation and I am sure you are interested in mine.
