The film emphasized the importance to business and individuals that is not realized until a catastrophe of this kind, the largest in the history of the telephone industry.

Daylight savings time ends this Sunday. Before you go to bed Saturday night turn your clocks back one hour, so you won't be an hour early to church.

Johnny Cash Film To Show

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film THE GOSPEL ROAD to be shown on Sunday, October 26 at the First Baptist Church. The showing will begin at 7:30 p.m.

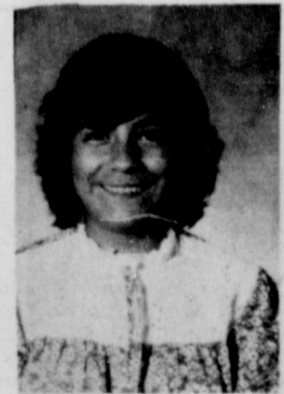

THE GOSPEL ROAD, distributed by World Wide Pictures, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way.

The film is a unique blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals, with Israel itself as the mixing bowl. You are there, walking beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee; you are there, seeing Him in many human situations that establish a practical and personal rapport with every viewer.

You are there, being introduced to the disciples, and gaining insights into their varied personalities. You are there, experiencing the highly charged emotional impact of the trail before Pilate, and becoming so personally involved that you feel sympathetic pain when Robert Eifstrom, in an outstanding portrayal of Christ, suffers the physical attack that precedes the Crucifixion.

Adding to the effectiveness of THE GOSPEL ROAD in its endeavor to convey reality for this day are: the fascinating treatment of the Crucifixion, making this tragedy an event of significance that reaches from its own time across the years to take on meaning for all men of all ages; and the songs and background music of Johnny Cash and other outstanding musicians, whose contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story.... a story that reveals that His darkest day has become our brightest.

Bailey's Runs Sink Cooper

Tahoka Bulldogs entertain the tough Slaton Tigers here Friday night at 7:30 as a feature of the local school's annual Homecoming day.

In the 15 - 10 victory at Woodrow over the Cooper Pirates last Friday night, the Bulldogs now have a 2 - 0 District 5-AA Conference record, but have a tougher challenge this week from Slaton.

Last Friday, Cooper received the opening kickoff, couldn't move, and punted to the Tahoka 15. Good runs by Britt Brooks and Ernest Bailey, a 36-yard pass David Glenn to Mitch Raindl, moved the ball to the Cooper 21. Here, Glenn's third down pass was intercepted in the end zone.

Starting on their own 20, the Pirates drove 80 yards to score with QB David Martinez going in from the one. Tony Houchin's kick was good, and Cooper led 7-0. In the drive, 54 yards came on three of four pass completions.

Tahoka took the kickoff and drove to the Pirate's 24 before losing the ball on downs. But, five plays later, Raindl intercepted a Cooper pass and returned the ball to the Cooper 49. Tahoka drove to the Pirate 14-yard line, but again had to give up the ball on downs. Cooper then drove to the Tahoka 27, where, on the last play of the half, Houchin booted a 45-yard field goal to send the Pirates into the dressing room with a 10-0 lead.

Opening the second half, Tahoka received, couldn't move, and punted out to their own 49. On the first play, Cooper fumbled, and Tahoka recovered at the Tahoka 46. Again, the Bulldogs couldn't move, and Leslie White, back to punt got a bad snap and was forced to run and was downed at the Tahoka 46.

Bulldog defense was now playing exceptionally well, held, and Cooper punted into the end zone. From the 20, Tahoka moved 7 yards on the first play, but fumbled and Cooper recovered at the Bulldog 29. A 15-yard penalty moved the ball back to the Tahoka 43. Two plays later, Raindl intercepted another Pirate pass at the Tahoka 3-yard line.

Good runs by Brooks and Bailey moved the ball to the Tahoka 34. From here, Ernest Bailey took a hand-off, started around his own left end, found himself facing most of the Cooper team, reversed his field, picked up a clearing block by Lee Curry, at the Cooper 45, left the Pirate safety grabbing at thin air, and raced 66 yards for the Bulldog's first TD. Botkin's kick was good, and Tahoka had pulled to within three points, 10-7.

Cooper brought the kick-off out to the 24, drove to the Tahoka 40, where on fourth down and one, the Pirates were stopped cold by the Bulldog defense. Taking over on downs at the Tahoka 40, the locals couldn't move, and a bad punt went only to the Cooper 44 as the third quarter ended.

Aided by a 15-yard penalty, the Pirates drove to the Bulldog 25, where Tahoka recovered a Pirate fumble. The Bulldogs moved out to their own 42. Ernest Bailey took a quick pitch-out, skirted his own right end, and tight-roped 58 yards down the north side-line, shaking off would-be tacklers most of the way, to give the Bulldogs another TD. Tahoka went for two points. Glenn pitched back to Brooks, who pulled up short and passes to Danny Moore who was all alone in the end zone to give Tahoka a 15-10 lead.

Tahoka's defense limited the Pirates to only 46 yards total offense in the second half. Each team had 14 first downs, Tahoka had 267 yards rushing and 51 passing, while Cooper had 123 yards rushing and 72 passing.

Tahoka High School V.A.C. Program At School

Tahoka High School is introducing a new vocational program this year. The program is a part of Plan 'A' education and is designed to serve those students that qualify through the regular channels of the Brownfield, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Seagraves cooperatives.

V.A.C. has two meanings, the Vocational Adjustment Class, made up of the student members, taught by Joe Downey, the Vocational Adjustment Coordinator. The V.A.C. students attend regular classes, plus one V.A.C. period. The younger students (10th and 11th grades) will go to school at least half the day and can take a part-time job for the remainder of the day and get credit for it. In order to graduate V.A.C., a Senior must work full time for the last 24 weeks for school and demonstrate the ability or capability to adapt to the world of work.

V.A.C. Programs are funded through the Texas Education Agency and in cooperation with Plan 'A' education and the Texas Rehabilitation Commission. Students that qualify and graduate receive their diplomas during regular commencement exercises in the Spring, and receive V.A.C. credit for all time spent on the job plus credit accumulated during regular class attendance. The program is aimed at developing good work habits, stimulating initiative and aiding students in career choice.

Joe Downey, V.A.C., will welcome any inquiries concerning the program, its function in and out of the school system and possible job opportunities for placement of students seeking jobs.

FINNEY SAYS

It is considered death for a business to have a poor opinion. People have a habit of voting with their emotions rather than with their intellect. We are sure you will condemn us for having an opinion.

As you know, there is a move on to discuss the present state constitution.

Don't allow propaganda and wild stories to influence you. Just Think for yourself.

Texas has the constitution in all of its states which guarantees protection to every citizen like you and I.

In fact, Texas is the last frontier of individual freedom in our country. Our present constitution also, is a bulwark against creeping socialism, and big government, new cities have a city council that meets everyday and they have spent the money of New York City bankruptcy. Maybe the legislature in Texas meet only every 2 years has kept our solvent.

Texas is a fine place to live & raise a family. Keep it that way.

Quail

One of the most popular birds hunted in Texas is the quail...and because of his popularity, several misunderstandings about this bird are circulated around. Perhaps the greatest is the story of one or more "hatches" of quail a year. Biologists in the state indicate that quail raise only one hatch per year. However, they will renest if their brood is wiped out by dry weather, or other misfortune such as a predator. We have all heard about the "big Blues" ... wrong again ... Blue (or scaled quail) weigh only about a half-ounce more than the bobwhites. Quail dine on weed seeds and insects, and during the winter on the "green" winter weeds and grasses. Some 80% of the quail DO NOT survive past one season, so closing the hunting off would not benefit the quail crop. Weather, not hunting pressure, is the greatest determining factor on how the crop of birds will be from year to year.

Plenty of Pumpkins For Jack-O-Lanterns

Pumpkins—symbolic of the gaiety of Halloween and the feasting of Thanksgiving—are coming to market in adequate supply to meet holiday needs, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Since growing conditions were favorable, most pumpkins are of good quality this season, report USDA fruit and vegetable market news reporters.

Wholesale prices at major terminal markets are only slightly higher than last year, ranging from 6 to 10 cents per pound.

In addition to locally grown pumpkins, shipments are coming from commercial producing areas in West Texas, Colorado, California and several Midwest states.

Pumpkins are truly a Bicentennial vegetable, for they were grown by the first colonists who learned about this native member of the cucurbit family from the Indians.

Captain John Smith of the Jamestown colony wrote of the "pumpkins planted among the corn."

Beginning with the first seed catalogues published in America, the original New England pumpkin, generally known as "Connecticut Field", has been listed annually in all major seed catalogues.

The "Connecticut Field" is still the most popular pumpkin variety grown today for Jack O Lanterns, because it has the globular shape and size traditionally associated with Halloween.

Such field pumpkins are light orange in color and weigh anywhere from 18 to 25 pounds—big enough to scare the daylight out of any unsuspecting youngster.

"There are still many people who like to make fresh pumpkin pie," says Bill McCauley, USDA fruit and vegetable market news reporter covering the Dallas-Ft. Worth wholesale trade.

"They want a smaller and sweeter pumpkins", he points out, "so the 'Small Sugar' variety is favored for making pies."

Pie pumpkins are round, flattened at both ends, very bright orange in color with a rich orange flesh. They are about 6 to 7 inches in diameter and weigh about 6 to 8 pounds.

Since pie pumpkins are sorted by size and quality, they may cost slightly more than field pumpkins, according to USDA market news reporter.

How to make Pumpkin Pie from fresh pumpkins:

Cut pumpkin into large pieces, remove seeds and stringy portions. In large saucepan, in 1 inch boiling water, cook pumpkin, covered, about 25 minutes or until tender. Scoop pulp from rind and mash with potato masher or back of spoon.

Ingredients For Pie:

1. 9 inch unbaked pie crust, 2. cups mashed pumpkin (1.16 oz. can), 1. 13 oz. can evaporated milk, 2. eggs, 1/2 cup packed brown sugar, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger (opt.), 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, 1/2 teaspoon salt, Whipped cream for garnish.

Preheat oven to 425 degrees F.

In large bowl, with mixer at medium speed, beat pumpkin with all ingredients until well mixed. Place pie plate with unbaked pie crust on oven rack and pour pie mixture into crust. Bake 15 minutes at 425 degrees, turn oven control to 350 degrees and bake 35 minutes or until filling is set. Cool. Serve with whipped cream.

TOASTED Pumpkin seeds:

Prepare hulled seed as follows: Oven Method - Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. In jelly roll pan, spread seed. Bake 15 minutes or until lightly browned, stirring, occasionally.

Skillet method: In small skillet over low heat, brown seed in a little butter or margarine, stirring constantly.

INSUR-MATION

Robert Harvick
Lynn County Farm Bureau, 998-4320

Is there any way to avoid penalties and interest charges when settling an estate?

Yes. There are no penalties; therefore, no interest if the estate is settled on time. Furthermore, no shrinkage, no "for sales", no anxiety having to sell the South 40 for $100 an acre when it's worth $225. The key... liquidity. The foolproof product that will provide the money to pay the cost of settling an estate at the time of death is life insurance. Many substitutes have guaranteed not to shrink, ravel at the seams or fade out to provide cash to settle an estate but nothing compares with life insurance. There is no estate; therefore, no cost of estate settlement until death occurs. When it does, life insurance becomes money bought on installment to solve this problem.

ONCE SAVED, ALWAYS SAVED - SCRIPTURAL OR COMFORTABLE

"Ye are severed from Christ, ye who would be justified by the law; ye are fallen from grace." (Gal. 5:4 ASV)

Paul addressed the above statement to Christians (Gal. 1:2; 3:26; 5:1; 6:18). Some of the Galatians became "severed from Christ" (katargeo, to be severed from), because of their attempt to ensure justification through "sowing to the flesh" after "beginning in the Spirit" (Gal. 3:3; 6:7-9). They being severed from Christ were "fallen from grace." Will anyone who believes the Bible affirm that such men as these can be eternally saved, having no vital connection with the Savior, therefore without the grace of God? In the sixth chapter verse nine, Paul again warned His brethren "and let us not be weary in well-doing; for in due season we shall reap. IF WE FAINT NOT". A similar scrip-ture is the popular verse, Romans 6:23. In it Paul said, "For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord". Now let us observe that the warning as well as the promise, was addressed not to outsiders, but to Christians themselves. Although the entire Roman letter was addressed to believers (Rom. 1:6; 6:1-7), read 6:15 through 6:22 to establish the immediate context.

COTTON HERITAGE

Cotton exports were made from the American colonies as early as 1747, according to some historians. One of the oldest records is a bill of lading dated July 20, 1751...

But in 1784, eight bags of cotton shipped to England from the United States were seized on the grounds of fraudulent import since it was not believed so much cotton could be produced in America.

In the decade following Eli Whitney's invention of the cotton gin in 1793, U.S. farmers increased cotton production from 2 million pounds to almost 50 million.

By 1860, America's cotton crop reached almost a billion pounds and exports of the fluffy white fiber financed 60% of total U.S. expenditures for imports of manufactured goods, sugar, coffee, railroad iron, and other products.

Within 12 months after the Civil War, cotton exports reached the unprecedented value of over $200 million. And by 1880, cotton production had exceeded its pre-war high by a billion pounds!

Special thanks goes to project chairman Pat Patterson for the Lions, Nadine Dunlap, Alta Thomas for the American Heart Association and Tommy Kidwell who helped with advertising down town.

Also to Margaret Kuntz, Janet Corley and Gerald Moore from the Lynn County Hospital who manned the checking tables.

New Home School News

New Home First Grade

October 29, 1975
 are always an important part of study in New Home school but during the Homecoming they seem more important. There are the Homecoming football game, the Homecoming parade on the ocean as well as the New Home parade and the Happy Singing on October 28 and Columbus, King Ferdinand, and Queen Isabella as we act out the story of how Columbus gets his ships. Black cats, ghost, witches and jack o'lanterns are fun to make, especially while we listen to a spooky Halloween record.

It's always fun to have birthday time come around. It reminds us that we are growing more and more into what we want to be.

Leopards Drop Anton 36-16
 New Home rode the running of Allen Nettles to an easy 36-16 victory over Anton Friday.

Nettles scored on runs of 49, 69 and 2 yards to lead the New Home attack with Roy Villareal chipping a 7-yard run and a run for two points.
 Tillman hit Zuala with a 68-yard TD pass for the other New Home score. Zane Butler connected with Greg Couch for 5 yards and Sammy Peacock for 18 yards to account for the Anton scoring.

New Home now stands 4-2-1 on the season and 2-1 in district 2-B south zone play while Anton dropped to 1-3 in district play and fell to 2-5 for the season.

New Home Homecoming

The 1975 Homecoming was a great success. Starting the festivities on Friday, October 10, was the homecoming parade. The winners in each division were announced at the ballgame Friday night. They were the Senior Class (High School division), 8th grade (Jr. High division), and 4th grade (Elementary division). These classes received a premium of $5.00.

During half-time, 1975 Homecoming King and Queen were crowned. Football King for 1975 is Rand Nieman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nieman, and Homecoming Queen for 1975 is Judi Clem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Clem. Winding up the festivities was the Leopard's victory over the Ropes Eagles 33-26.

Texas Tech Law Student Visits New Home School

Bob Rogers a Texas Tech law student addressed the New Home Business Law Class. Mr. Rogers talked about drug laws, criminal laws and due process of the individual. He related many hypothetical situations to the New Home seniors, which allowed the students insights into the operations of the laws of our state.

Production Of Honey Slightly Off

AUSTIN--Early indications are that Texas commercial beekeepers will produce 5,978,000 pounds of honey in 1975, according to recently released statistics.

This compares with 6,100,000 pounds produced last year.

Commercial apiaries had 98,000 colonies this year, 2,000 less than in 1974. Average yield remained at 61 pounds per colony, the same as for the past two years, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

"Conditions varied considerably during the peak honey producing period. Plentiful moisture benefited nectar plants but at the same time, reduced bee activity," Commissioner White explained.

In the Panhandle area, beekeepers sustained above normal losses from spraying of sunflowers, a crop recently introduced in that area.

Production Of Peanuts Set High

AUSTIN--Peanut harvest in Texas is about half complete and peanut farmers are reporting good to excellent yields, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Production is expected to total 474,300,000 pounds compared with 413,280,000 pounds in 1974.

Harvested acres are estimated at 306,000, representing an increase of 6 percent over the 288,000 acres harvested last year.

Yield per acre is estimated at 1,500 pounds. This is approximately 100 pounds per acre more than last year.

Peanut harvest is underway in all parts of Texas except the High Plains.

Coyotes Damage Melons

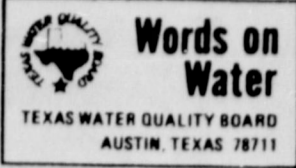

AUSTIN--Most people probably don't realize that coyotes like to eat watermelons, but watermelon farmers in Henderson County in East Texas know all about it.

In that county, coyotes have damaged approximately 20 percent of the 2,000 acre watermelon crop.

Coyotes damage watermelons by breaking open the watermelons and eating them, or by biting the exterior, thus making them unsaleable, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White explained.

In Henderson County, coyotes became a problem when the county trapper was replaced with the bounty system. During that time, coyotes began to damage the watermelon crop, and as a result, the position of county trapper has been re-established.

Similar damage occurred in the Flomot area in North Texas.

ANYONE FOR GRIBBLES?

For those who are not familiar with the City of Corpus Christi, that "Sparkling City by the Sea" owns what is known as the Corpus Christi Inner Harbor where ships from around the world call to pick up and deliver their cargoes.

Back in 1970 the Inner Harbor was a polluted body of water. Not much lived in it. It didn't look very pretty and it didn't smell very nice.

In the intervening years, however, industries along the harbor, at the direction of the Water Quality Board, have cleaned up their discharges so that pollution loading has decreased enormously. The people in Corpus Christi like it and so do the gribbles.

Gribble? A gribble is a tiny bug (isopod Crustacean) which lives in the water and has a ravenous appetite for anything made of wood. That includes such things as submerged dock pilings which are in danger of being eaten away by the hungry little bugs. A marine biologist in Corpus Christi says the situation is worsening because the water is less polluted than in the past.

Dock owners in the Gulf Coast city are wrapping their pilings in plastic to stop the borers. Wraps are sealed, creating a thin layer of stagnant water inside. The gribbles soon use up all of the oxygen in that water and they die. Result: no more gribble nibbling.

Obviously it's better to have cleaner water with gribbles than dirtier water without gribbles. But the moral of this little tale is that everything has its price. And the price to the Corpus Christi city marina, for wrapping some of its timber next year, is a hefty $7,500.

All because the water in the harbor is cleaner and gribbles know a good thing when they're in it

USDA Offers Instant Cotton Market News At Lubbock

Cotton farmers will be able to get instant cotton market news from the U.S. Department of Agriculture beginning October 28 throughout the West Texas cotton marketing season.

This service, available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, was announced by Paul R. Dickson, who is in charge of the Lubbock cotton classing office, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

"Since we logged more than 100 calls daily last season—the first time we've offered instant market news, we feel that such interest warrants our continuing the service," Dickson said. Farmers and other interested persons can dial Texas Code 806-763-7870 and get a two-minute report on West Texas cotton market news.

The report will cover Lubbock spot cotton price, producer mixed lot cotton prices, spot market quotations, demand, and supply.

Also, the report will include the number of bales classed daily, the quality range with comments about bark and other trash that cause quality reduction, how well the Lubbock classing office is able to keep up with the ginnings, and cottonseed prices.

"This cotton market news is collected by unbiased reporters who have no financial interest in the market," Mr. Dickson said.

"They get their facts by daily contacts with farmers, ginners, buyers, merchants and others in the cotton industry. Then, we summarize these facts to provide up-to-the-minute cotton market news," he explained.

Bill Crockett, a veteran cotton market news man, will handle the instant-market news service again this year.

Persons who wish to get weekly cotton market news, cotton quality and cottonseed reports by mail should request them from the Cotton Classing Office, AMS-USDA, P.O. Box 879, Lubbock, TX. 79408.

New Texas Constitution Amendments—

PROPOSITION NO. 5 creates a new Article VIII, Finance, which governs the Financial management of the state.

In this amendment the requirement that all new taxes be equal and uniform would be limited only to the levy of property taxes. It would require the establishment and enforcement of uniform standards and procedures for the appraisal of property, the only exceptions being special formulas designed to promote the preservation of open space land for farm and ranch purposes and the preservation of forest lands devoted to timber production.

Proponents contend that: this is a necessary improvement to require all citizens to carry their fair share of the tax burden; there are as many different values assessed on property as there are taxing authorities; and equalization is necessary because the allocation of state funds for school purposes is made on the basis of a local area's ability to raise funds.

Opponents maintain that: it will do nothing but raise taxes; no government ever equalizes downward but always "equalizes" upwards and this will force an additional tax burden, particularly in outlying urban areas where there is less ability to meet the demand; the equal and uniform provision should apply to all forms of taxation instead of just property taxation; and local appraisers are better prepared to judge the value of local property than someone in Austin.

The proposal permits the authorization of state indebtedness and the pledging of the credit of the state without a Constitutional amendment. Proponents of this portion of the proposal say that this is a more practical way to authorize state indebtedness, with the same safeguards as contained in the present Constitution. It requires a two-thirds affirmative vote of the members of the Legislature as well as an approval by a majority of the voters.

Opponents of this portion of the proposal claim that it amounts to the establishment of debt legislation by referendum, and it would make less of an impression on the voters than if they realized they were amending their Constitution in order to authorize debt.

The proposal maintains the same pay-as-you-go provisions requiring appropriations to be within estimated revenues. It puts into the Constitution the prohibition against levying a retail sales tax on agricultural machinery or parts, fertilizer, feed or seed, prescription drugs or medicine, and food for human consumption.

Proponents of this part of the proposal contend that the pay-as-you-go provision should be retained. The exemptions that have been placed in the sales tax on these various items are already established practice and would protect the public from further encroachment from the sales tax.

Opponents of the proposal contend that locking the sales tax exemptions into the Constitution would effectively remove some available revenue sources from consideration. It would also create an unfair disadvantage for industrial development because industrial production machinery is already taxed and this would prohibit agricultural production machinery from ever being taxed. It would also remove a major untapped source of revenue which most states having a sales tax already enjoy. The proposal fails in that it does not prohibit the levying of a state progressive income tax.

PROPOSITION NO. 6 provides a new Article IX, Local Government, which authorizes the powers of local government. Under this amendment local government would remain basically the same with the exception that County Commissioners' Courts would be granted ordinance-making powers.

Proponents argue that: counties should have the authority to regulate unincorporated areas within their boundaries to insure orderly planning and development, protect the environment and adapt to the immediate needs of the people without the necessity of going to the Legislature each time for special authorization to do those things which a governing body should have the power to do on its own.

Opponents of the proposal argue that: the granting of such legislative authority to County Commissioners' Courts would give rise to a multiplicity of regulations and undertakings of projects and programs in undeveloped, unincorporated areas which are appropriate only to an urban-developed area; and the Commissioners' Courts have easy access to the Legislature so that it can be granted authority to do specific things.

Lynn County News

The proposal would also permit cities of more than 1500 population to create their own home-rule government with an autonomous city charter giving towns of 1500 or more the same rights and powers that are needed by the major metropolitan communities. The present population limitation on home-rule cities is 5000 or more.

Proponents argue that this is necessary to meet the needs of the smaller communities of the state in establishing programs necessary to serve their population needs. Opponents of the proposal claim that it would be granting an unnecessarily broad, autonomous power to small communities which can generally provide for the limited needs of its citizens under the general law provisions of the state statutes.

There is also a provision for intergovernmental cooperation and consolidation of offices and transfer of functions between local political subdivisions. Proponents claim that this would result in a substantial reduction in costs and duplication of services of local governments. Opponents claim that this same consolidation and cooperation is presently authorized by the Constitution and has not accomplished the desired results.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 provides a new Article X, General Provisions, which is basically a housekeeping article. It includes: the homestead provisions; separate or community property; protection of personal property from forced sale; protection of wages from garnishment; limitations upon banking corporations; provisions for the regulation of alcoholic beverages; and provisions for the regulation of medical practitioners.

It prohibits lotteries and gift enterprises; regulates interest and lending; provides for the various retirement systems of public employees, and protecting the environment, conserving natural resources and public property as well as wildlife resources.

Proponents of the new Constitution say that this amendment is necessary to take care of those constitutional protections and prohibitions that exist in the present Constitution, are desirable, and do not particularly fit under any of the other articles.

Opponents contend that: while this does continue some desirable protections of the existing Constitution, it adds one very undesirable aspect in the language which seeks to protect the environment. This language would create a super land title in the state which would give legislators the authority to exercise all sorts of controls over the use of the property; that it would conceivably give rise to land use enforcement, statewide zoning and building codes and remove a portion of the landowners title from him and vest it in the state; that this is the fixing of title to all property in the state which could be held temporarily and at the will of the state by an individual citizen.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 provides a new Article XI, Method of Amending the Constitution of the State. It maintains the same basis for submission of amendments as was utilized in submitting these eight amendments; that is, submission by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the membership of both houses of the Legislature and adoption by a simple majority of the people voting in an election called for that purpose.

It does add a provision that a question of a constitutional convention be submitted by the Legislature at least once each thirty years. Proponents argue that this added provision is necessary so that the people will not have to be governed by a document that is 100 years old without ever having had an opportunity to totally revise it. Opponents of the provision contend that the current Constitution can adapt itself to all situations including that of calling a constitutional convention as it did in 1973; that there is no need to be told by the Constitution how often the people have to revise it.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS

4-Hers should use photography to take pictures of all their 4-H projects and activities.

A 4-H member can use his or her photography project to illustrate other 4-H projects with clear, sharp before and after pictures.

Pictures give projects more impact and tell a better story than just words.

"Not only is photography a good way to illustrate projects, it's also a form of artistic expression. A photographer uses a camera in the same way an artist uses paints and a canvas to tell a story or communicate an idea."

By also taking pictures of community projects, 4-Hers can help others in the community see what is being done for their well-being and benefit.

In addition to being a useful lifelong hobby, photography can also lead to a career as a commercial photographer, photojournalist, graphics designer or visual communications instructor.

A good photography project not only makes for better record books but can pay off in other ways. Eastman Kodak Co. annually provides 50 expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago for state photography project winners and six $1,000 scholarships for national winners.

A picture that is worth a thousand words could also be worth $1,000.

4-Hers can obtain more information on a photography project by contacting the county Extension office.
