Crowd Attends Homecoming

The largest crowd of ex-students in many years attended Tahoka High School's annual Homecoming reunion here last Friday.

The school auditorium was amost filled for the 2:30 p.m. program at which Supt. L.F. Jacobs of Bovina, who was for 181/2 years with the Tahoka Schools as basketball coach, athletic director, and principal, was the speaker.

In a humorous vein, Jacobs reminisced on many events while he was here. and ended his talk on a serious note in which he advised a return to the principles which made America great, and made a plea for students and parents to put God, country, and home foremost in their daily lives.

After his closing remarks, the crowd gave Jacobs a standing ovation.

Coach Ronnie Fowlkes and several students also spoke briefly. Lindy Thomas, student council president, opened the meeting, and Jimmy Williams served as master of ceremonies. Mrs. N.E. Wood, Class of 1925, was the earliest day ex-student present, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Kelley of Alvin, near Houston, came to greatest distance for the reunion. They were given tickets to the ball game. Other exes by classes were

Also, the Junior Class sponsored and Ex-Student dance at the Community Center. Eastern Star and Rainbow Girls held a supper in the school cafeteria preceding the game.

Senator Speaks At Rotary Club

State Senator Kent Hance of Lubbock was speaker at Tahoka Rotary Club last Thursday noon, and in his talk explained some of the action of the last Texas Legislature and reviewed briefly the proposed new Constitution up to voters in the Nov. 4 election.

He said 3,400 bills were introduced in the last legislative session, and declared a majority of them were not passed. He thinks legislators should be judged more on the bills they killed than on those passed.

Kent pointed out that 15 of the 31 Senators are from the cities)there will be 18 or 31 next session), which makes it very difficult to put over legislation favorable to the rural areas. As a member of the Senate finance committee, he said he and other tried to make sure the taxpaver's dollar will be well spent. Federal programs, he said, must be funded by matching amounts in most cases, by the state, and this makes financing difficult. Hance said he is opposed to the way the food stamp program is being administered. Texas is having trouble continuing its highway building program due to declining income from the gas tax and inflation, and the Highway Department is having to lay off many of its personnel.

He said he was opposed to most of the provisions in the proposed new Constituion, but thought Proposition 5 may be good for the farm and rural areas.

Why does it have to be such a bother every month to do something as simple as getting your social security check to the bank? Well, a lot of times, people on pensions can't get transportation. And sometimes, those who own cars, can't drive because of their health. And then there's the weather. Winter. Rain, and ice. And a thousand other reasons just as valid.

These problems are exactly what we had in mind when we adopted Deposi Check. It's for you if you find getting to the bank a problem to deposit your government check. Now, with your permission the United States Treasury will send your check directly to the First National Bank. That's right. No fuss, no bother. And all it takes is ten minutes to fill out the forms. With Deposir Check, banking is far more convenient. And it's also safer. You don't have to worry about cash lying around the house. Here's what else you get: all the personalized checks you need; free notary service; and you can write. up to ten checks per month for only one dollar Banking this simple sounds almost too good to be true. But actually, it's as easy as starting out now with Deposi Check. It's another first from us because we knew you wanted it. Why not start now?

THINKING ABOUT TAXES (AD VALOREM)

Taxes follow government expenditures as daylight follows dark. If there is ever to be any relief from excessive ad valorem taxes. it will be necessary to reduce expenditures. The tax assessor has no alternative but to collect the necessary taxes to pay the bills.

In reality, there are only two basic issues facing the taxpayer: (1) government expenditures and (2) division of these expenditures be tween tax payers. With regard to expenditures, it is never a practice of good government to do for the citizens what they can logically do for themselves.

A voter should never vote for a tax that is not equal and uniform. In other words, there is no reason to believe that a taxpayer can force another taxpayer to pay a larger portion of public expenses without political favoritism. The primary loopholes to uniform and equal taxes are: 'a) exemptions and (b) political favoritism. These loopholes develop when government expenditures exceed what the taxpayer is willing to pay. In summary, the first remedy to ad valorem tax problems is to tax all property equally and uniformly without exemption or favoritism. There are, in reality, only two justifiable exemptions: (1) property owned by taxpayers taking

PEOPLE CONTROL

THE U.S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT, of October 6, 1975, reported that the U.S. Office of Management and Budget estimates that there are 100,980 Federal regulators. Based on January 1, 1974 population, this would be one Federal regulator for each 1,046 families or 2,020 regulators for each state in the union.

These Federal programs are born with the thought of helping citizens. For example, public Law 92-318, approved on June 23, 1972, entitled "Education Amendments of 1972" contained Title IX, a Section dealing with sex discrimination. Title IX of this law has resulted in a considerable amount of anxiety and confusion in the school districts of the State of Texas; and, in reality, male and female individuals are probably further apart than they ever were. The one thing that can be accredited to the law is that the large number of regulators, both Federal and State, are now telling school districts that they can do with regard to their school program

Cotton Classing

Grower prices were steady to weak during the week ending Ocotober 24, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office.

Trading was slow. Growers offered small lots of new crop cotton in very light volume.

Demand was best for mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better; staples 30 through 34; mikes 2.7 and higher. Dickson said. These lots brought 41.00 to 42.00 cents per pound.

Grades 31, 41, and 51 were predominate qualities in this week's classings and accounted for 16 percent, 57 percent and 15 percent respectively

Staples 30 through 33 were predominate lentghs accounting for 13 percent, 35 percent, 17 percent and 20 percent respectively.

Mike readings 3.5 through 4.9 amounted to 34 percent of the total. Mike group 3.3 through 3.4 accounted for 21 percent and 3.0 through 3.2 range 34 percent. Mike 2.7 through 2.9 was 11 percent.

Pressly test indicated breaking strengths at Lubbock averaged 86,000 pounds per square inch.

About 1,200 samples were classed by the Lubbock Classing Office during the week ending October 24. This season's total stands at 1,375 samples compared to 238 on the same date a year ago; according to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

BILL GRIFFIN

Since an intensified cooperative federal-state effort to protect both human and animal health from brucellosis or Bang's disease has not been fully accepted by Texas, the nation's leading cattle-producing state may suffer several consequences.

The Texas Animal Health Commission recently rejected certain proposed changes in rules which would require branding of cattle exposed to infected animals and a negative brucellosis test of cattle moving into Certified Brucellosis Free areas in the state. The rules changes were recommended by industry representatives and veterinary officials of all 50 states and approved by the U.S. Department of Agricul-

Because of the state's refusal to tighten brucellosis regulations, the USDA has informed the Texas Animal

Commission that federal funds to fight brucellosis in cattle may be withdrawn. In addition. Texas cattle may be placed under federal quarantine to prevent the spread of the disease to other states. Texas counties also would lose Modified-Certified and Certified Brucellosis Free status. Additional testing would be required in order to ship cattle interstate.

The action to remove federal brucellosis funds would become effective Jan. 1, 1976, when a cooperative agreement with Texas for brucellosis eradication would be terminated unless remedial steps were taken by the state.

As a result of the brucellosis eradication program begun in 1934, more than 99 per cent of the nation's cattle are now free of brucellosis. However, the one per cent still infected causes millions of dollars in losses to the livestock industry through abortions, breeding problems, weakened offspring and reduced milk production. The disease may be passed from animals to humans as undulant

Currently the annual federal expenditures to eradicate brucellosis in Texas amount to $3.7 million, $2 million of which is for indemnities paid to owners of infected cattle and $650,000 for cooperative agreements for herd testing.

According to USDA figures, Texas had 3,083 cattle herds under quarantine on Aug. 31. This is about one-third of the 9,452 infected herds identified nationally.

The new drive for final eradication was prompted by recent increases in the number of brucellosis affected herds, primarily in the South. As a result, the USDA has given top priority to the program and has committed the necessary

Commissioner of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Capitol Station, Austin

During the last half of November and December, some 75,000 farmers and ranchers will receive either a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Accurate estimates have always been of great importance to producers and are even more important in light of the supply-demand situation facing agriculture today. Data collected in this survey will provide an accurate picture of agriculture for each county and for the state of Texas. Each farmer receiving a questionnaire is urged to fill it out carefully and return it promptly to the Agricultural Statistician In Austin. Individual reports are confidential and used only for state and county estimates.

One of the ideas drifting out of the Industrial East is that farmers need to give up tractors and irrigation and return to the horse and mule as power sources. Along with this minor change the farmer could also give up modern pesticides and fertilizers. The hought (if there was any behind this nostalgic notion was that the energy saved would alleviate the fuel crisis and that the jobs created would solve the unemploy ment situation. . . . couple o problems with this idea. First we would have to wait unti 1993 in order to have enough horses and mules to go to work. Then there's the matter of 180 million extra acres to feed the 61 million animals required. Then there's 27 million people needed to take care of the 180 million acres and 61 million animals. Top i all off with an overall 150 percent increase in food prices and such a proposal takes on its appropriate designation . . . ridiculous!

THURSDAY, OCTO GSPA Advanta Of Grain Emba

The Soviet Union is reaping great financial and psychological benefits from the current U.S. embargo on grain sales against them, an official of Grain Sorghum Producers Association has told President Ford.

"The embargo has cost the American farmer and the U.S. economy dearly, according to GSPA executive director, Elbert Harp. "The net result is that we have been out-traded by the Soviets.

The embargo was enacted by President Ford in August in spite of angry protest by American farmers. The Administration assured farmers it would be lifted following subsequent crop reports. When the October 10 crop report was released, an embargo extension to Eastern Europe was immediatedly removed, but the Soviet embargo remained.

According to Harp, world grain markets are established by speculators and traders on the Chicago Board of Trade. "It is here that an embargo depresses the grain markets, which tend to react and over-react to the announcement."

The embargo on grain sales to the Soviet Union has driven down grain prices in the United States and throughout the world, and the Russians have continued to make large grain purchases from traders in other countries at prices which are greatly reduced because of the U.S. embargo against them, Harp explained.

"It has been reported that many of the sales made from other countries carry a 'seller origin optional' clause
