Jacky Henry Named Head Of THS Exes

At the annual business meeting of the Ex-students Association on October 8 in the Lyntegar Board Room, Jacky Henry, 1957 graduate, was named president, to succeed Walton Terry, a '56 graduate.

Henry will be assisted with plans for 1977 homecoming by Donald Williams, class of 1958, vice-president; and Mrs. Robert Draper, 1957 graduate, secretary.

More than one hundred ex-students registered at the homecoming program at the high school auditorium on Friday afternoon last week when the class of 1956 was honored and a member of that class, Gordon Smith, a Baptist minister of Windermere, Florida, spoke to the gathering.

Three persons were recognized as representing the earliest graduating classes—Mrs. Frankie Fenton, Mrs. Mary (Link) Willhoit, and Ruth Link, all in the class of 1924.

Jack Link and Mrs. Iola (Nowlin) Wood from the 1925 class were present, as was Opal (Link) Wheeler from the class of 1929. Mrs. Rufus Slover, a member of the 1926 class, was there also.

The city streets were crowded with spectators as a twenty-one-unit parade made its way from the school to the courthouse for a giant pep rally.

Ex-students met following the Denver City-Tahoka game.

On Saturday morning at 9:00, the doors to the Country Fair were opened.

To kick off the first Lynn County Harvest Festival. At ten o'clock, Travis Shelton, a Lubbock attorney and Tahoka native, spoke to a crowd on the courthouse square. Local attorney, Callaway Huffaker, introduced the speaker.

The Spectator...

By Mary Brecheen

I am convinced that the normal, healthy attitude of a graduating senior should be one of severing the ties that bind him to his familiar surroundings at his dear alma mater. That frame of mind not only helps him or her adjust to a new life, but it helps the family members left at home adapt themselves to the idea that the graduate is about to embark on a new and different adventure—all of it is a perfectly natural link in a chain.

I know it isn't graduation time; however, the renewal of friendships and observation of the class of '56 caused me to re-assert my viewpoints here.

It was fun and nostalgic—seeing who had lost the most hair and gained the most weight—but the best part was knowing that each person there had made a niche for himself in a world outside his high school days—the way it should be. There's nothing as great as high school—and nothing as tragic as one who can't leave it behind when the time comes.

If there is such thing as healthy pride, I felt it at the Homecoming program last Friday, especially in view of the fact that our school has been "under fire" of late.

Few classes can boast of the sterling character and obvious success manifest by the 1956 graduates. Gordon Smith enumerated the accomplishments of many, but modestly overlooked his own. His message to the class, as well as to other exes gathered for the occasion, was very timely.

And it says something for a class, and a school, when a man of the stature of Jake Jacobs will put forth the effort and sincere interest it takes to attend a gathering of that nature.

The Harvest Festival is a matter of record now and as is always the case in a maiden voyage, the workers will profit by their mistakes.

The good far outweighed the bad and it was a superb performance by Nadine Dunlap and Company. I'm impressed by her stamina in the face of discouragement and harassment by the skeptics and by her ability to seek out the good in her co-workers. Her secret to success lies not in her doing the entire show alone, but in her uncanny knack in delegating authority—and then putting it all together.

Rotarians Told Of Roads Crisis

Texas, long known for the best highway system in the nation, is faced with a crisis—insufficient funds to maintain present paving or to build many new roads, said James King of the Lubbock office of the Texas Highway Department at last Thursday's Rotary Club meeting.

likely. As a result, roads cannot be properly maintained and shredding of rights-of-way has been curtailed to only one a summer in many areas; this permits weeds and Johnson grass to grow and spread, to the dismay of farmers.

H. B. McCord, Jr. was in charge of the program.

President Gerald Huffaker appointed several work committees for Friday and Saturday's Harvest Festival.

Farm Bureau Annual Meet Is October 19

The Lynn County Farm Bureau will have its annual meeting for Farm Bureau member families only on October 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Tahoka School Cafeteria.

A meal will be served and there will be a drawing for door prizes.

A short informative program will be given by District Director S. M. True.

All Farm Bureau members and their families are urged to make a special effort to come and take advantage of the opportunity to voice an opinion on programs and policies.

Following a brief talk by King, he showed a film furnished by the independent Texas Good Roads and Texas Transportation Associations on the subject of Texas Highways which, because of inflation and lack of sufficient funds, are rapidly becoming second rate.

King pointed out that costs have doubled the past few years in building new roads and maintaining present highways in Texas while the funding remains constant.

In this highway district, personnel has had to be reduced from 628 people to 471 and further reduction is

Homecoming Rekindles The Past For 1956 Graduates

Walton Terry, left, president of the ex-students association this year; Dr. Ted Pridmore; and Mrs. Jimmy Williams, secretary of the association, pose for the photographer immediately preceding the Homecoming

Forty-three seniors graduated from Tahoka High School on May 18, 1956 and twenty years and five months later, more than half of the group came back to Tahoka for homecoming.

Their class was being honored, as tradition would have it at their alma mater, and they chose one of their number to speak at a program for all ex-students on October 8 in the high school auditorium.

The person whom they selected was a leader throughout their public school career and is now minister of a Baptist Church in Windermere, Florida—Gordon Smith. His cousin, Ted Pridmore, now a physician in Lubbock and who was also a member of the '56 class, introduced him.

Junior Fitts, president of the class in 1955-56, and currently a resident of Seminole, was at the celebration. Three other class officers were here, a fair average after twenty years. Reporter Ken Durham, how a college professor in Longview, came, as did Treasurer Margie (Curry) Freeman, a housewife and mother of two, from Graham. Class secretary Othelda (Freeman) White, of Lubbock, came.

Jerry Cain, now an attorney in San Angelo, was valedictorian of the class and Margie Curry was salutatorian.

Members of the class who made "Who's Who" that year were Junior Fitts, Francis Autry, Jerry Cain, Virginia Gable, Othelda Freeman, Joyce Early, Sue Williams, Ware High, Ted Pridmore, Ann Reasonover, Margie Curry, and Gordon Smith. Gordon and Margie were Mr. and Miss THS too.

The opening section of the yearbook that year read, "The familiar place so important in our lives...may we never lose faith in its creed, purpose, and ability to mold our personalities."

And Gordon Smith reminded them of their heritage gained in Tahoka.

However, he reminded them of something else, as he quoted the poet, "The moving hand that writes, having writ, moves on..." He admonished his listeners to live one day at a time and not to let past glories cloud the road to better things nor past mistakes ruin today's happiness.

Class members who were present for all or part of the two-day celebration were Lena (Benge) Williams, Glen Anderson, Robert Draper, Leighton Knox, Jr., Joyce

(Lauderdale) Teaff, J. E. Nance, Jerry Slover, Walton Terry, Jake Dunlap, all of Tahoka; Margie (Curry) Freeman, Graham; Leon Anderson, Gail; Ruth (Curry) Barnett, Abilene; Tommy Paris, Norman, Oklahoma; Ken Durham, Longview;

Gordon Smith, Windermere, Florida; L. W. Castleberry, Lubbock; Mariana (McGinty) Long, Houston; Sue (Williams) Willhoit, Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Also, Junior Fitts, Seminole; Leon Davis, San Antonio; Francis (Autry) Stone, Lubbock; Othelda (Freeman) White, Lubbock; Bonnie (White) Davis; Martha (Riddle) Coffey; Bobby Hays; Ronnie Brooks, from Welch; and Ted Pridmore, Lubbock.

LEON DAVIS, a 1956 graduate, and Jake Jacobs, superintendent of schools at Bovina and formerly of Tahoka, listen to reminiscing at a reception before the Friday-night game.

Home Eco, Business Interface

How can home economics improve business relations and profits? How can the increasing versatility of the home economics profession create new job opportunities for men and women?

These questions and others will be addressed by professional home economists at a career seminar on October 21 at 7:30 p.m. in El Centro of the Home Economics Building, Texas Tech University.

Persons in the business world are urged to attend this seminar sponsored jointly by Texas Home Economics Association, District K, and Texas Tech Exes in Home Economics.

The seminar will focus on how professional home economics operate in areas of public relations, federal and state legislation, merchandising, and research to meet the demands of consumers.

Mrs. Billie Chapman, Executive Director of Vocational Homemaking Teachers' Association of Texas, will be the keynote speaker on career versatility.

Alice French, a local television personality, will moderate a panel of speakers on how their profession can facilitate meeting consumer needs and increase business profits. Panel members will include a home service advisor of a local utility company, a district extension agent, a program director of Big Brother/Big Sisters, an interior designer and a buyer-coordinator of a local clothing store.

A relatively new area of endeavor for home economists will be represented by a special services consultant from a major banking institution. There are other business fields currently using the services of home economists in innovative ways. Building contractors, realtors and insurance agencies are employing them to advise prospective customers. For example, home economists trained in housing management and finance can help families invest their resources to secure goods and services tailored to their individual needs.

Likewise, home economists are employed in advertising, media and public information services to advise consumer groups.

Lubbock and the surrounding counties are the target population for this seminar. Professionals in business, agriculture and home economics are invited to participate.

Persons from Lynn and all area counties are invited to attend.

Phebe K. Warner Club will also sponsor a blood drive from 4 to 8 p.m. on November 15.

CANCER ANSWER LINE

American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

A reader asks: "Can you tell me of any recent advances in treating children who have cancer?"

ANSWERline: There has been progress in treating several forms of childhood cancer. Here is a recent example of a dramatic improvement: as recently as 1966, a child with cancer of the lymph system rarely survived. Now the latest follow-up done on children given intensive drug treatment and radiation at the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York City shows 64% of the young patients free of disease and off therapy for more than four years. Best of all, all these are active, thriving children attending school regularly.

will be glad to discuss the matter with you.

A teenager writes: I read in one of your columns that teenage girls think that most girls in their age group smoke cigarettes. Is it true that most teen-age girls smoke?"

ANSWERline: No. According to the latest study, done for the American Cancer Society, only 27 percent of teenage girls smoke cigarettes. However, most teenagers believe incorrectly that it is far more than that percentage—they wrongly believe that the majority of teen-age girls smoke.

The head of a family wants to know: "Is there such a thing as cancer insurance. Wouldn't it be good to have?"

ANSWERline: There are a number of cancer policies on the market, but the companies promoting them are not permitted to use American Cancer Society informational materials, and the ACS does not endorse them. The ACS believes that medical insurance is essential but ordinary coverage usually includes cancer treatment without the need for special protection for one disease. Your local ACS Unit

GORDON SMITH, left, speaker at the Friday afternoon exes program at the high school auditorium, visits at a later reception. Posing with him are Dr. Ted Pridmore, Dr. Ken Durham, Jimmy Williams, and Sue (Williams) Willhoit.

Tahoka's annual homecoming festivities traditionally honor the class which is celebrating its 20th anniversary. And also, tradition says that the president and secretary of the ex-students association each year are members of the honored class. They and the vice-president, a member of the next-in-line honored class, are responsible for planning a homecoming program and special get-togethers for the honorees.

Walton Terry and Lena (Benge) Williams planned the '76 coming-home program and parties and were able to have an additional get-together on Saturday during the Harvest Festival, a first for Lynn County.

The class of 1966 had its own party, following a general ex-students' gathering at the Lyntegar Board Room after the Tahoku-Denver City game.

Homecoming For Tahoka

THE BULLDOG BOOSTER CLUB float, a first-place winner in the miscellaneous category, portrayed district-champion football teams of Tahoka High. Dub Harvick represents the war-years team of '42; Gordon Smith, from the '54 team, filling in for Bill Chancy of the '51 team; Wayne Tekell, '51; Joe Brooks, '52; and Jimmy Williams, also on the '54 team.

First Harvest Festival For Lynn County

TRAVIS SHELTON, a graduate of Tahoka High and president-elect of the State Bar Association of Texas, speaks to a crowd at the Harvest Festival.

The success of any effort such as the Harvest Festival is dependent upon the involvement of many people in the community--and this first effort in Lynn County was a success because people were willing to assist.

It was an effort that involved every age--the Pioneer Club had open house in their new quarters and the "young folks" contributed of their energy and know-how.

The guys in the community who gave of their technical knowledge were indispensable--Billy Miller and Jerry Ford, with the sound equipment and stage, from Lyntegar Electric; Rudy Johnston and Pat Patterson from Southwestern Public Service--the list is endless and every community has them; however, Tahoka is richly endowed with such.

THIS BAND MEMBERS, in their new uniforms, march in the Friday afternoon parade.

The Harvest Festival was a dream of members of the Board of Directors of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of H. B. McCord, Jr., president.

Because of her successful steering of the Lynn County Bicentennial activities, Mrs. Nadine Dunlap was asked to be chairman of a committee to plan the Festival. Her ability to organize and execute her plans, together with her unlimited talent and many hours of hard work, produced a day that will not soon be forgotten.

She had many willing assistants. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Dee House efficiently organized and solicited donations of gifts, some merchandise and some cash, from county merchants for an all-day drawing.

Mrs. Mike Reid was in charge of a well-attended Country Fair where entries came in from throughout the county. Miss Sherry Tilley arranged for food and display booths set up on the courthouse square. She also did much of the paper work connected with the affair, using facilities at Lyntegar Electric. Men's and women's bicycle relay races, arranged and supervised by Mrs. Dan Lockaby and Mrs. Roy Stice, entertained the crowds late Saturday.

Gary White, junior class president, coordinated youth activities at the Festival; Mrs. Melvin Edwards and Jim Solomon were in charge of the parade on Friday and Solomon was the all-day emcee for the drawings.

The queen-hopefuls were coached and assisted by Mrs. Jack Roseberry in anticipation of the contest on Saturday afternoon, when Clint Walker was master of ceremonies.

Because she had successfully conducted a fun dog contest at the Bicentennial celebration, Mrs. Cal Womack was asked to do a repeat performance, which she did.

TOP FIVE CONTESTANTS in the Harvest Festival Queen Contest are, left to right, Tamera Dulin, New Home; Cherie Slone, Wilson; DeAnn Johnston, Pat Calderon, and Bridget Fowlkes, all of Tahoka. Miss Slone was named queen; Miss Dulin was first runner-up; and Miss Johnston, second runner-up.

PART OF A LARGE CROWD watches the parade which carried out the Harvest theme as well as the Homecoming theme.

CURTIS STEWART, MRS. LEAH TAYLOR, WYNNE BROOKSHIRE, and GARY WHITE sang some patriotic selections during the Saturday afternoon festivities.

MISS TAWN DULIN of New Home entertained under the large shade tree on the courthouse square during the queen contest at the Harvest Festival.

It was a genuine community project!! Eight young ladies did hostess duties on Saturday--Beverly Bryson, Carmen Garcia, Denise Curry, JoEllen Brecheen, Sheree Jerden, Jerry Beth McKibben, Teal Corley, and Deanya Wood.

--The buildings for the Fair, Art Show, and Flower Show were furnished by the grandchildren of the late Mrs. C. A. Thomas.

--Mrs. Leslie Paris was chairman of the Garden Club's Flower Show held in conjunction with the Festival celebration.

--Tables were furnished by the Methodist and Baptist churches, Lyntegar, and the Community Center. Third-period freshmen and 5th-period sophomore Ag classes of Mike Reid brought the tables to the buildings and set them up. Tahoka public schools loaned a piano for entertainment.

--Tahoka Rotary Club paid the fee of the band for the street dance.

--The aftermath of debris was picked up by Virginia and Raejeania House, Nadine Dunlap and children; Margaret Hardt and son, Warren.

--A further cleanup on Sunday afternoon was expedited by Steve Miller, Wesley Boone, Jim Solomon, Rance House, Doug Barham, Math Bartley, Cal Huffaker, Sherry Tilley, Rhonda Reid, and Debbie Shepherd.

--One of the truly outstanding events of the day was the entertainment by the yearbook staff in Tahoka High, with a special rendition of some patriotic numbers by their sponsor, Mrs. Leah Taylor.

--Pam Womack and Jo Carol Long made "cotton corsages" for the queen contestants and assisted with the Fair.

--Mrs. Fred Martin donated her time and talents in many ways. In that category also, were Curtis Stewart, Wynne Brookshire, Andra Draper, Perry Dunlap, Alice Ballard, Dr. and Mrs. David Midkiff, Mrs. Jim Wells, Mary Brecheen, Joan Miller, Judy Holden, Carl Reynolds, Gerald Moore, Sherry Etheredge, Wilson Lions Club, Mrs. J. W. Gardenhauser, Joan Steinhauer, Carolyn Klaus, Vita Ford, and Lynn Temple No. 45.

--Gratitude is due Chief of Police Jack Miller and Sheriff Norvell Redwine and their people.

--The setting of the whole thing, the courthouse square, was made available by County Judge V. F. Jones and the Commissioners.

--Taylor Tractor and Implement provided the lot for the dog show.

--Sherry Tilley and Debbie Shepherd were anywhere a willing hand was needed--the Fair, the queen's contest, the exhibits, you name it.

--Joe D. Unfred of New Home was the emcee during the bicycle races on Saturday.

MRS. OSCAR (BERNICE) ROBERTS, member of the 1941 class in Tahoka High, relaxes on the courthouse lawn and listens attentively to the address by Attorney Travis Shelton.

- A further cleanup on Sunday afternoon was expedited by Steve Miller, Wesley Boone, Jim Solomon, Rance House, Doug Barham, Math Bartley, Cal Huffaker, Sherry Tilley, Rhonda Reid, and Debbie Shepherd.
- One of the truly outstanding events of the day was the entertainment by the yearbook staff in Tahoka High, with a special rendition of some patriotic numbers by their sponsor, Mrs. Leah Taylor.
- Pam Womack and Jo Carol Long made "cotton corsages" for the queen contestants and assisted with the Fair.
- Mrs. Fred Martin donated her time and talents in many ways. - The setting of the whole thing, the courthouse square, was made available by County Judge V. F. Jones and the Commissioners.
- Taylor Tractor and Implement provided the lot for the dog show.
- Sherry Tilley and Debbie Shepherd were anywhere a willing hand was needed--the Fair, the queen's contest, the exhibits, you name it.
- Joe D. Unfred of New Home was the emcee during the bicycle races on Saturday.

MRS. OSCAR (BERNICE) ROBERTS, member of the 1911 class in Tahoka High, relaxes on the courthouse lawn and listens attentively to the address by Attorney Travis Shelton.

TERRY ATKINSON

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS.....

Composting has become a popular way of handling plant residue and improving soil fertility. However, many homeowners worry about the carryover of plant disease-causing organisms.

This need not be a concern when plant residue is truly composted.

Most disease-causing organisms are killed when true composting occurs. The heat produced and the activity of organisms that degrade organic matter rapidly kill plant pathogens. However, if true composting does not occur, the so-called "compost" is nothing more than a trash heap, and plant pathogens will survive.

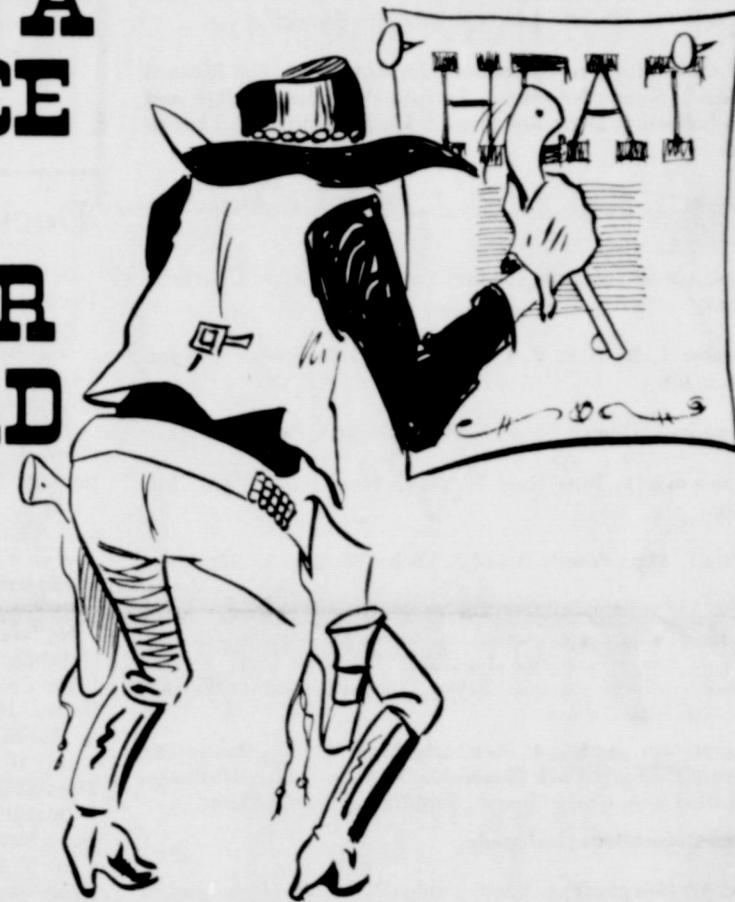

For composting to occur, there must be enough moisture and nitrogen present to support the organisms that degrade organic matter. Their activity produces heat and the action of a host of organisms rapidly breaks down plant material.

In the case of serious plant diseases, homeowners should destroy or dispose of infected plant tissue. Even a low survival rate of these organisms might increase the chance of having the problem crop up again next year.

Homeowners using plant material in a compost should determine whether or not they have a true compost or just a trash heap. With a little effort, a true compost can be achieved, providing a clean source of organic matter for use during the next gardening year.

He came to Silver Cliff in 1956 and, before being elected sheriff, served as the town marshal.

He was born May 15, 1902 in Brock, Indian Territory, Oklahoma after which he lived two miles north of New Home and attended New Home schools.

For many years he was a cattleman and rancher in New Mexico. He was an honorary member of the Custer County Cattlemen's Association and had been a member of the Custer County School Board for seven years.

An avid sportsman, Sheriff DePriest enjoyed hunting and fishing in the Wet Mountain Valley.

As sheriff, he had a reputation for fairness and for efficient leadership in hundreds of search and rescue missions.

Sherry Etheredge Says

The pie pumpkins are coming in out of the patch and the field pumpkins young goblins will make into jack-o-lanterns should be reaching major terminal markets by next weekend, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Bill McCauley, USDA fruit and vegetable market news reporter covering the Dallas-Fort Worth wholesale trade, said about 400 to 500 fifty-pound sacks of pie pumpkins were received at the Farmers' Market at Dallas last weekend.

Most of the initial supply was from West Texas which is also expected to produce the greatest supply of field pumpkins. However, McCauley reported a few of the pie pumpkins were shipped from East Texas and Colorado.

Wholesale prices this week were about the same as last year, ranging from $4 to $4.50 a fifty-pound sack.

McCauley said the field pumpkins are expected to wholesale for about 4 to 5 cents a pound, about the same as last year and will probably begin to come into the market next weekend. The supply of both pie and field pumpkins should be adequate, he said.

In Colorado, USDA market news reporter Clark Price said he expects a good supply of pumpkins "if they don't rot in the field." He said recent rains in that area have created excess moisture in the fields and no pumpkins had reached the Denver produce market as of Monday.

Pie pumpkins, which are smaller but sweeter than field pumpkins, are round, flattened at both ends and very bright orange in color with a rich orange flesh. Normally they are about 6 to 7 inches in diameter and weigh about 6 to 8 pounds.

Field pumpkins are light orange in color and weigh between 18 and 25 pounds.

Although there are no USDA grade standards specifically for pumpkins, marketing specialists with the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, say the same general buying criteria for winter squash apply. Pumpkins should be mature and have a rich, orange color. They should be clean, free from spots and excessive scarring.

Makes about 40

Crust:
1 cup flour
2 rounded T. powdered sugar
1/4 pound (1 stick) butter or margarine. Do NOT soften; use right from refrigerator.

Put butter into dry mixture until about like coarse meal. Pat into pan and bake about 10 minutes or until lightly browned.

Topping:
1 4-oz. package of coconut (or approximately 4 oz.)
1 pound of brown sugar (light or dark)
1/2 cup broken nut meats (walnuts or pecans). Use nut chopper if available.

3 eggs (4 if small or if sugar is not moist).

D & J Has Service For Farmers

International Harvester dealer, D & J Implement, is continuing efforts to provide special parts and service around the clock for area farmers during harvest time. Called "Stand-by 7", this special company-dealer program began during spring planting. It is designed to provide parts service seven days a week. In other words, the dealer is available weekends, ready to make any part available just as fast on Saturday or Sunday as it would be on a weekday.

If D & J Implement doesn't have the needed part in stock, he simply phones a special "Stand-by 7" telephone number which features three alternative stock sources. The part will be located regionally, nationally or from the manufacturing plant producing such parts--no matter what the time or day. Whatever the source, the dealer need only call one number.

"Like the planting season program," said Wilbur R. Stringer, manager of IH's Dallas Agricultural Equipment Region which covers this area, "this continuation reflects our opinion that the company and dealers have a mutual obligation to our customers. We must provide them service to keep down time to a minimum."
