The Spectator...

By Mary Brecheen

And it was decreed that any citizen found guilty of unjust, personal criticism would be required to make a public apology--and a great one came over the land. --copied from a book of parables by Dallas Telford.

Whatever the size of the town, there are the haves and the have-not's, the do's and the don't's, the will's and the will-not's, and then there are the complainers, for lack of a more descriptive word.

Tahoka is well on the way in the construction of a housing project--twelve units, some two-bedroom and some one-bedroom. We are in need of such, to say the least.

The project is under the auspices of a non-profit organization chartered by the State of Texas and operated by a local board of directors.

This is a great thing, but the excitement and feeling of satisfaction on the part of that board of directors is dampened by criticism--from whom I don't know. They have applications from prospective renters and all systems are go.

A plague on your house if you've bad-mouthed your efforts.

Slightly less than a year ago, Winston Wharton set a goal for himself--that being to secure fifty members for the Chamber of Commerce, before the year had gone by.

On Tuesday of this week, he announced Number 49 and within the hour, Number 50, and one more to him over the top.

He believes in the future of his town and wants to be caught trying to make progress.

Tahoka's varsity basketball team has "put it all together" the second consecutive year and are district champions.

A good coach motivated team members to work together to get a job done.

Whatever the outcome of the game with Merkel Tuesday night, the show is not over. There are track and field events, golf, tennis, and literary events, all of which are important in building the individual.

Support is just as vital for the number sense participant, persuasive speakers, debaters, tennis players, golfers, etc. as it is for the football or basketball guy and/or gal.

Ladies Cotton Group To Meet Next Monday

The Ladies Lynn County Cotton Association will meet at the Lyntegar meeting room on Monday, February 21st at 2 p.m.

Refreshments will be served and door prizes will be given. Bonita McDowell of Crosbyton will present a program on cotton.

Also, the Sew It With Cotton Contest will be discussed and a style show will be presented by Lynn County dress shops.

All-cotton fabric will be displayed by county fabric shops.

North Elementary Boosts Heart Fund Les'lie Valentine, Keith Anderson Are Named Heart King And Queen On February 14th

BY MARY BRECHEEN

What could possibly be more appropriate than a Valentine for Queen on February 14th? And is there anything more fitting than a handsome lad to be the Valentine Queen's escort?

It is a coincidence, of course, that the Heart Fund Queen announced at North Elementary on February 14th is named Les'lie, from the house of Valentine, escorted by Keith Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Anderson. Both are fifth-graders and Queen Valentine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Valentine.

It all began when Lynn County Heart Association fund-raising chairman, Mrs. Eldon Carroll, and North Elementary principal, Clifton Gardner, adopted plans for a learning situation regarding heart disease in conjunction with the annual Heart Fund drive.

Fourth, fifth, and sixth-grade teachers in Gardner's building agreed to do their part and ground rules were that each of the three grades would select a King and Queen candidate who would vie for the February 14th honor. Winners would be determined by the amount of money each grade was able to collect for the Heart Fund, one penny buying one vote. Fourth-grade nominees were Marla Huffaker and Shawn Stotts, children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Huffaker and Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Stotts.

Representing the sixth grade were Robert Vasquez and Melanie Terry, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vasquez and Mr. and Mrs. Walton Terry.

At a building assembly on Monday morning of this week, Monte Dodson, president of the Lynn County Heart Association, and Mrs.

Carroll announced that the three grades had raised $119.85 for the fund and that the fifth-graders were ahead in their collections, thus winning the place of honor for their contest representatives.

LEFT TO RIGHT, Robert Vasquez and Melanie Terry represent the sixth grade and Marla Huffaker and Shawn Stotts the fourth grade in the Heart Fund competition this week.

LES'IE VALENTINE and Keith Anderson, fifth-grade Heart Fund celebrities in North Elementary, were awarded boxes of Valentine candy by Mrs. Eldon Carroll and Monte Dodson, county leaders in the Heart Association.

Stotts Are Entered In Tech Forensic Meet

Tahoka High School sophomores Darryl Stotts and Darryl Stotts were entered in the annual Texas Forensic Tournament at Rock last Friday and Saturday.

The tournament, sponsored by the Speech and Communications Department at Tech under the direction of Dr. Vernon Moore, was attended by four hundred students from throughout West Texas and the Panhandle.

Stotts and Ash debated five rounds and won the two rounds where they were the affirmative team. Sponsor Mrs. Leah Taylor says that it is unusual for a beginning team to win as many as two rounds in their first tournament.

Former Tahoka students, Lindy Thomas and Cole Brecheen, who were district champions in debate their sophomore and junior years and who won first place at the Tech Forensic Tournament in 1975, were judges at the tournament last weekend. Thomas is a freshman at Tech, majoring in pre-med and Brecheen is a freshman at Abilene Christian University where he is a partner on the senior debate team.

Mrs. Taylor will take Stotts and Ash and another team consisting of Randall Stotts and John Brecheen, together with other speech students, to a tournament at West Texas State at Canyon this weekend.

The many facets involved in predicting the weather on the plains was the subject of a talk at the Rotary Club last Thursday by Bob Stephens, weather reporter for TV Station KMCC, channel 28.

The speaker explained the highs and lows, troughs, fronts, ripples, changing conditions, etc. on which forecasters base their predictions on what the weather should be for the next day or two.

He could offer little hope for substantial moisture until April or May, but historically the period from December through March is a dry season in this area. However, he pointed out there is good sub-soil moisture over much of the plains and prospects are good for sufficient moisture for planting 1977 crops by May.

Ross Smith was in charge of the program and introduced the speaker.

Calloway Huffaker announced that this week's program will be on painting art and Rotarians are urged to bring their wives if they are interested.

The following week the program will feature "fiddlin' music."

Sherry Etheredge Says

Broiler-fryers are not only an economically smart buy this month, they're a good nutritional purchase any time. They contain high quality protein necessary to maintaining health. An additional virtue is their ability to combine well with other foods, so you can vary the ways in which you serve them.

They're a natural to prepare in many Hawaiian recipes. Serve them Mexican style with the appropriate spices and complementary foods. Prepare them Italian with a zesty Cacciatore recipe. Try them Oriental style with water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, or Chinese noodles. Or just barbecue them Western style. You can casserole them, broil them, fry or bake them in so many ways that you are limited only by your spice shelf and your imagination.

A couple of good ways to add color to a meal, perk up winter appetites, and introduce something new follow:

Chicken Wrap-Ups
8 broiler-fryer chicken drumsticks

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1/2 cup prepared barbecue sauce

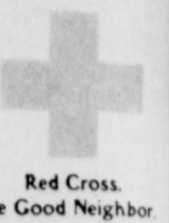

1 package (8 ounces) refrigerator crescent dinner rolls
1 egg, beaten
2 teaspoons grated parmesan cheese

Sprinkle salt and pepper on drumsticks. Heat vegetable oil in fry pan over medium heat. Add chicken and cook until lightly brown on all sides. Add barbecue sauce; cover and cook, turning occasionally, 25 minutes or until fork can be inserted with ease. Remove pan from heat. Unroll crescent rolls and separate. Brush each triangle with egg and sprinkle with cheese. Place meaty end of drumstick on triangle. Pull dough around chicken and press edges to seal. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in 375 degrees F. oven about 15 minutes, or until roll is brown. Makes 8 appetizer servings.

PARALLEL TERRACES need maintenance on a regular basis if they are to function effectively for a long period of time. If terraces are five years old or older and have not had regular maintenance, chances are good they are not doing the job for which they were designed. Some landowners keep their terraces in wheat every year, thus eliminating most of their maintenance problems. Others work them with a one-way or chisel-type plow while many use a mold-board. Using this method, one starts in the top of the terrace, works both sides, and throws the dirt uphill. While doing maintenance work on a system of terraces, one should not forget end blocks and all internal blocks, keys to an effective terrace system.

Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The Extension Service is totally dedicated to this effort and will continue to support the screwworm eradication program to its utmost," he points out. "Our county agents will continue to work closely with producers to emphasize regular livestock inspections, treatment of wounds, and the sending of worm samples to the Mission Lab for identification."

Pfannstiel believes the campaign against screwworms can be successful this year due to several factors: --the cold winter will reduce the number of screwworm flies this spring. --the new screwworm plant in Tuxtla Gutierrez, Mexico which opened last July will double the sterile fly production capacity. --a new strain of sterile flies has been developed which should be a significant improvement over earlier flies.

"With these factors working to our advantage, we appear to be on the threshold of stamping out screwworms in Texas," contends Pfannstiel. "If we can all join together and get the jump on the battle against screwworms this spring, then our fight should be successful. This will be a tremendous victory for Texas agriculture."

The battle against the screwworm has been long and hard and now a special campaign is being planned to deal a final death blow to the tenacious livestock pest.

Called "Mission '77: Stamp Out Screwworms," the campaign is designed to create a new vigilance on the part of livestock producers in handling and treating livestock to eliminate the screwworm completely from Texas in 1977. The special effort will be launched at a conference called by Gov. Dolph Briscoe in Austin on February 24. The conference will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Municipal Auditorium.

"Through a concerted effort by producers and an effective educational program to promote this campaign throughout the year, this goal can be reached," emphasizes Dr.

Lynn County News
Tahoka, Tex. 79373

Dear Editor:

This letter is in reference to my affidavit of Complaint I forwarded to the Attorney General of Texas yesterday, February 3, 1977, pertaining to the District Attorney, Taylor County, Texas, Mr. Lynn Ingalsbe. He failed to properly advise and counsel the Grand Jury of Taylor County (Abilene, Texas) in its investigation into abuse of power by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission of Texas.

First let me say that I would not have had to be in the position I am in if the District Attorney had been willing to, and had done his job properly as the counsel for the grand jury. The only statement he made in regard to the Law was "when he interrupted my questioning of a witness and angrily shouted at me" that the portion of the Law I was questioning the witness about (Section 5, Article 1, of the Liquor Control Act) was subject to interpretation."

Information came back to me that at least seven (7) lawyers have agreed, in private of course, that I was right, in their opinion, that it was a violation of the law for TABC personnel to have any connection with a private club. Mr. Gordon's connection with a private club as legal counsel, is a serious conflict of interest for the people of this state. The preamble to the Law states that "This entire Act shall be deemed an exercise of the police power of the State for the protection of the welfare, health, peace, temperance, and safety of the people of the State, and all its provisions shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of that purpose." Note that it will be construed, when conflict arises, for the "people" - not for the advantage of any or all members of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission or any corporation engaged in the sale of alcoholic beverages.

Would an inspector of the TABC report and prosecute a violation found to exist at the club in which Mr. Gordon is serving as legal counsel? I think not! I doubt that a thorough inspection for compliance with the Law is ever made at the private club he represents as legal counsel. If an inspection were made and a violation found by an honest inspector, and brought action against the club, would he win the case? I seriously doubt it! In fact I know he would not. I know that you know that the inspector would not win, regardless of the severity of the violation.

For your information, Mr. Gordon admitted to me and the other grand juror's present, that it was definitely a violation of Section 5, Article 1, of the Liquor Control Act, for Mr. Tom Head to accept the honorary membership and that "he (Head) would not be an honorary member by tomorrow." I thought at the time, since he had agreed with me that a lie detector test should be given an inspector who was the subject of serious allegations, to find the truth, that he intended to do what was needed to clean up the TABC operation throughout the State. I told Mr. Gordon at that time, that since in my opinion he had a good attitude and seemed to be close enough to my interpretation of the Law, that I would be willing to let him interpret the Law for his Commission.

When he stated later in the investigation that he was serving as legal counsel for the Abilene Petroleum Club and did not feel it was a conflict of interest, I knew then that he did not intend to do what he told the grand jury he would do. I still waited two weeks before I gave my report to the Reporter News. To my knowledge, Mr. Gordon is still serving as legal counsel for the Petroleum Club and Mr. Head retains his honorary membership in the Abilene Country Club. I am very sorry it all had to come out and be made public the way it has; however, I took an oath that I would uphold the laws of this State and have a deep conviction that the oath is legitimate and should be honored by all who are willing to take it. I pray that the people can see the need and that action can be taken to remove Mr. Ingalsbe from office for cause on ground which lies in my affidavit to the Attorney General, John Hill.

Respectfully yours,
/s/ James R. Snowden
