E. L. Short Announces Candidacy For Senator From 28th District

Veteran legislator E. L. Short, Tahoka farmer-rancher-businessman, has entered the race for the Democratic nomination for the 28th Senatorial district.

Short, who served eight years in the Texas House of Representatives, said he was entering the race "because I believe the experience I have in Austin in the House will provide this area with an effective voice in the Senate."

He is seeking the seat being vacated by Senator Kent Hance who is running for U.S. Congress.

He and Mrs. Short, the former Ernestine (Dink) Fortenberry, a native of Dawson County, have four daughters. Mrs. Larry (Vivian) Bruns resides in Brussels, Belgium with her husband who is in the military service; Mrs. Doug (Leah) Taylor is a teacher in Tahoka High School; Mrs. Merle (Patti) Kilpatrick lives in O'Donnell where her husband is a coach in the school; and Miss Robin Short is a freshman at West Texas State University at Canyon.

There are thirteen counties in the 28th Senatorial District which stretches from Lubbock to Odessa, and Short has represented seven of those thirteen counties.

Short said, "It was an honor to serve this area in the House and I look forward to continuing my assistance to this district with the many problems which will come before the next Legislature."

Short served as Vice-Chairman of the Agriculture Committee in the 63rd Legislature, and was Chairman of the Committee on Intergovernmental Affairs during the 64th Legislature.

"I have always been very sensitive to the needs of the people and have been very cautious about the fiscal matters of the state." He continued, "Problems in the field of agriculture, energy, public education, and many others need a responsible and experienced individual to help solve these problems."

"Some of these are federal problems," Short comments, "but the states can encourage the National Congress to return government to the local level."

"I believe the best government is the one kept close to the people," Short said, adding "I have always voted for local control."

Short further stated, "The best part of seeking public office is getting the opportunity to meet and talk to the voters and people of West Texas--and I look forward to it."

Mrs. Jake King has almost completely recovered from a rather serious accident of which she was a victim one night more than a week ago, when the buggy in which she was going to her home two miles east of town was struck by a car without lights driven by Chris L. Adair. Mr. Adair had no lights on his car at the time and the night was rather dark and neither Mrs. King nor Mr. Adair knew of the others approach until about the time the collision occurred.

Frank Hill, who for several months edited the Nolan County News, will make his home in Tahoka where he will be associated with his father, E. I. Hill, in publishing the Lynn County News.

Lyntegar Hosts Visitors From Foreign Countries To Study Rural Electrification In United States

Three Egyptians and a student of Bangladesh are spending this week in Tahoka studying the many methods of rural electrification, invited by Lyntegar Electric Cooperative.

Lotfy Taha Hassan Ragab, Hussainy Ibrahim Sobel, Emil Yousef Samaan, all from Egypt, and Najibur

Rahman of Bangladesh, whose responsibility has been to learn about rural electrification in the United States and take such information to their homelands, came to Tahoka last Sunday and will depart on Saturday, the 15th.

The National Rural Electric Cooperative Association

in Washington, D.C. has been working for some time with the electric utility officials to help them plan rural electrification for Egypt. Consequently, that country sent fourteen engineers, financial, and administrative personnel to the United States for training.

According to NRECA, Egypt has been trying to accomplish rural electrification for more than 27 years, but with almost no success. For the past 20 years, such effort has been more or less under the direction and guidance of Russia. The United States design and technology for rural systems has never been presented to them.

HEW Proposal Would Limit Hospital Services

Hospital beds and services will be rationed if the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's proposed "standards" are adopted.

So said O. Ray Hurst of Austin, president of the Texas Hospital Association, as he described the HEW proposals published in the Federal Register on September 23rd.

Hurst went on to point out that these proposed regulations mean that within five years, Texas will be required to reduce the number of hospital beds by approximately 17,500.

Hurst stated that "such loss of beds coupled with previously announced ceilings on allowable patient (see HEW, page 5)

The Spectator . . .

By Mary Brecheen

One of the most written-about subjects these days is "Johnny's" inability to read and his inability to put on paper the knowledge that he has gained somehow--mostly from listening and observing.

If I had a solution to the problem, I would not be wondering from whence my next tank of gas may come, because the educators would beat a path to my door for my answers. However, I can surmise, I think I'm not too far wrong, "Johnny" can't read because he doesn't read. If I had no knowledge of a word other than the times I've heard it on TV, I too would have to guess about what it's made of--its letters, its syllables, its meaning, etc.

In the October 7 issue of the Lubbock Blanco-Journal, we read of the ninth-graders who were asked to write the Pledge of Allegiance, and we were probably lethargic about the fact that one of 111 students could correctly do so. Very likely those students had never seen the Pledge of Allegiance in print.

Students need not be Pulitzer Prize winners when they graduate from high school, but they will be required to be able to communicate in ways other than mutilated oral utterings.

And that brings up the issue of what is the real purpose of a school. I'm positive that the purpose is to teach the "whole person." All of the activities are important, but I contend (as unpopular as it may be) that schools have long under-emphasized the teaching of communication via the written word.

Don't buy the argument that with our electronic methods of communication we don't need to be able to make ourselves known by writing and speaking correctly. Until I'm convinced of the merits of letting students mutilate the language both orally and written, I think they need to be taught how to speak and write correctly.

While I'm on my soap box, the only really valid complaint that you, as a taxpayer, have about taxes is that your child, or children in general, can get a high school diploma which is not on the paper on which it is printed, primarily because he/she will have difficulty in the very most needed tool to make a living--that of being able to read, write, and to speak correctly.

The blame is certainly not all with teachers and school administrators. We as parents should demand that we get what we pay for. And the time to learn (which must be within the student) is to come from the home.

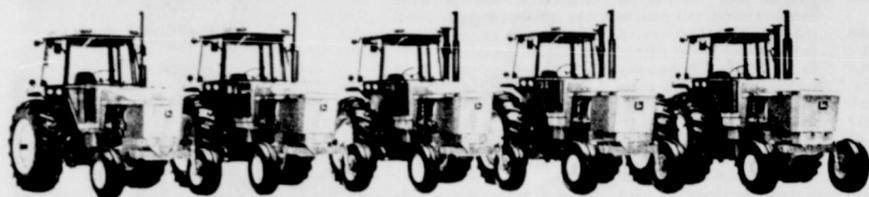

How important it is that these skills be taught--and how sad that we place such little emphasis on them.

Bulldogs Beat Denver City 20-0! In The Mustangs' Home Stadium

Bridge Winners

BY DARRYL STOTTS
On Friday, October 7, Tahoka Bulldogs traveled to Denver City and defeated the Mustangs 20-0. The first time the Bulldogs have ever defeated the Mustangs on their home field.
Tahoka last defeated Denver City in 1971, with a 13-0 score.
Last Friday night, the Mustangs won the toss and elected to receive. They lost the ball on the second play of the scrimmage. Tahoka's drive started, but lost the ball. They had gained 40 yards on nine plays.

Denver City was not able to move the ball and had to punt. Tahoka lost the ball again as a Denver City defender snagged a Bulldog pass. The Mustangs again had to punt on fourth down.
The Bulldogs then scored as Clifford Bailey drove over from the one-yard line. Ed Roberson kicked the extra point.
Denver City moved backward their next series and once again had to punt. Tahoka moved for one first down, but that was all. Denver City had a drive started until Britt Dockery snared a Mustang pass.

Tahoka again lost the ball because of a fumble, but Dockery intercepted his second pass a play later. Bailey ran the ball in from the 16-yard line and Roberson kicked the extra point.
Richard Cranford received his turn and intercepted a DC pass on their first play from scrimmage. The Bulldogs lost the ball again when a Mustang intercepted a Bulldog pass in the end zone as time ran out of the first half.
Tahoka received the second half, but managed a first down and had to punt.

Denver City moved the ball 21 yards before they had to punt. A Bulldog bobbled the ball and the Mustangs recovered. The Bulldog defense retaliated and threw the DC quarterback for a 10-yard loss. The Mustangs again had to punt.
The Bulldogs had the ball on their own 32-yard line. Bailey stepped for nine yards on the first play. Three plays later, he burst for 40 yards to the ten-yard line. On the next play, Bailey scored a TD; Roberson missed the PAT, but Tahoka led 20-0.
Neither team moved the ball much after this. Bailey and Roberson each robbed the Mustangs of an interception which stopped possible Mustang drives.
Bailey set a personal record with a game high 304 rushing yards. He has a 6-game total of 1,080 yards.
The Bulldog defense held DC to 40 yards on the ground. Randy Meeks, Britt Dockery, and Rayford Harris had 12 tackles each; David Jolly had 10. Dockery also had two interceptions; Cranford, Roberson, Oages, and Bailey had one each.
The Bulldogs are taking this week off, but will resume play here against the Roosevelt Eagles on the 21st.

Tahoka's Freshmen Topple The Brownfield Cubs, 38-18

BY DARRYL STOTTS
The freshman team at Tahoka pounded the Brownfield Cubs 38-18 at Brownfield last Thursday night.
The Bulldogs scored first as Tracy White plunged over the goal line from the three-yard line. John Brecheen scored the extra point, to give Tahoka an 8-0 lead.
Brownfield then drove the ball downfield and scored, the PAT not good. The score was 8-6.

Tahoka scored again when White dashed into the end zone from the 19-yard line. The Bulldog defense held the Cub offense scoreless during this series. Jacky Jolly then took the ball and galloped 31 yards for a TD.
Brownfield then scored one more TD before halftime, on a 64-yard run. Tahoka led 20-12 at halftime.
The Bulldogs received the kickoff and on the second play of the third quarter, Jolly broke outside and ran 75 yards for a Bulldog TD. White scored the fifth Tahoka TD from the nine-yard line. Brownfield scored their last TD from the 16-yard line.
The last TD of the game was scored by Tino Chapa from the 7-yard line. The final score was Tahoka 38, Brownfield 18. The Bulldogs are now 1-2 for the season.
Tracy White led the Bulldogs, with 179 yards. Tino Chapa had 165 and Jacky Jolly had 121. White also led the team with 20 tackles. Chapa had 18, Jolly 15, Victor Charo 14, and Kevin Elmore 11.

New Home Is Winner Over Klondike Team

The New Home Leopards went to Klondike last Friday night and came home with a 42-6 score, making their season record 1-5.
The first quarter was scoreless, but in the second period, QB Marty McClintock passed 65 yards to end Monte Maloney for the first score. Defensive safety Raul Villarreal intercepted a Klondike pass and returned it for the second TD.
McClintock passed to Richardson and Villarreal for final scores before the half and extra points were added by Tony Rodriguez and Isiah Roberson.
In the third quarter, McClintock passed again for the score, with Rodriguez adding the extra point.
Cougar Mike Holcomb made a 2-yard run in the fourth quarter, for the only Klondike score.

Starnes Speaks To Rotarians

Newton Starnes, local Methodist pastor, told of his experiences in the U.S. Navy and described the fabulous aircraft carrier, USS Kittyhawk, in a talk before the Rotary Club last Thursday noon.

He was a captain in the Navy during World War II, 1942 to 1946, and for twenty-two years following, a Naval Reserve chaplain.

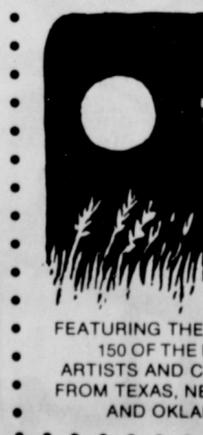

Most of his talk concerned the Kittyhawk, which he described as being one of our most famous vessels, 1040 feet long, 400 feet wide, with four decks, the flight deck being large enough to accommodate four football fields, and carrying a force of 5,000 men. Its principal action was during the Viet Nam war when thousands of planes were launched from its deck.

Starnes said that on its cruises, the Kittyhawk has been viewed by millions and has been boarded by many notables, including President Kennedy. It was also used in the filming of Walt Disney's "Robinson Crusoe."

The minister was born and reared in Smith County, near Tyler, attended Southern Methodist University, and graduated from that institution's School of Theology. Before coming to Tahoka, he served as pastor of Methodist Churches in Canyon, Lamesa, and Sweetwater.

Think of us before you think of anything else.

With everything the farmer has to face these days, he doesn't want a lot of hassle everytime his farm equipment needs updating. He wants help. He wants someone who'll see his problems from a farmer's point of view. Someone who understands first hand what farming's all about. Maybe that's why a lot of people here think Dwain Lusk is one of the best Agricultural Loan Officers in West Texas. He's available when you need him. Whether it's in the middle of a cotton field or at his desk in the bank. And when you talk to him you know right away you're talking to someone who understands your language. Dwain Lusk... he'll help you get what you need to make it. Think of us before anything else when you're thinking of farm loans. People are our best assets. PARKER PHARMACY

Americans get an average of three colds per year and spend more than $735 million trying to find relief. Although each of the 35,000 to 50,000 cough and cold preparations on the market offer temporary relief, none can actually cure a cold. Even Medical Associations report that doctors are unable to cure the common cold. However, you should contact your physician if there is a persistently high fever; persistent chest pains; earache; severe or long-lasting sore throat or persistent cough. A doctor should also be contacted if a normally healthy person has a cold for more than a week or two. Or course, individuals with other health problems may need medical attention if they develop the sniffles, since colds can complicate other illnesses.

days means that one in every four patients that need to be admitted to a hospital will be turned away.

He pointed out that this will be accomplished by forcing the closure of entire hospitals or portions of hospitals.

The proposed guidelines as published will require hospitals to have an occupancy rate of at least 80 percent over all. Also, a hospital must have, in order to maintain obstetrics services, a minimum of 500 deliveries per year (2,000 in or near cities over 100,000). Hospitals will be required to comply with special restrictions on open heart surgery, cancer therapy, renal dialysis and cardiac diagnostic procedures. In addition, there are geographic restrictions on services that are available to a community within 45 minutes travel time.

Hurst pointed out that "a part of the stated purpose of these proposed guidelines is to reduce health care cost while improving the care of patients, yet no consideration is given to the medical needs of the community. The Texas Hospital Association Statewide Hospital Productivity Center that has been in operation for two years has saved Texas patients over $100 million dollars. This type of voluntary system could be used as an example of efficiency by the private sector without Federal mandates for limiting and rationing of quality health care."

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

BUYING, BUILDING, REMODELING?

It's time to consider the heat pump. Southwestern Public Service Company can suggest the system that will give you the most for your energy dollar, and come up with some accurate information on installation and operating costs.

The heat pump is the electric savings machine. And usually a machine of such sensitive operation calls for a lot of space and some pretty technical installation procedures. NOT SO WITH THE HEAT PUMP! "Split systems" - most adaptable to homes - consist of an outdoor and indoor section, easily tucked away in a closet, garage, basement or attic. The single package unit looks very similar to a central air-conditioning unit that's placed outdoors. Both systems can be installed in most every home or office that has central air ducts. If you're buying, building or remodeling, it's time you said...

"Yes, the heat pump!"

CROP RESIDUE MANAGEMENT is very important to Lynn County farmers. When residue from crops such as wheat or grain sorghum is maintained on the soil surface, several benefits can be seen. This grain sorghum residue, having been shredded and chiseled, provides excellent protection from wind erosion. Protection from water erosion also comes from residue because, instead of direct impact on the soil, the raindrops are broken up on the residue. Residue also acts as a blanket on the soil. It insulates the ground so that it is warmer through the winter and cooler in the summer. Water evaporation loss is a great deal less with this insulation than on bare soil. For additional information, contact the Soil Conservation Service office.

three-quarters of a cent per pound, the producer can make certain assumptions and calculate the incidence of deterioration necessary to justify the expense of covers.

If deterioration might average five cents per pound in modules that get wet (change from SLMS to LMS on 1977 loan rate), then a 15 percent incidence of deterioration in quality would make the investment profitable.

To put it another way, saving 15 percent of the cotton from quality loss each year, or saving all of the cotton in modules from quality loss two years in 13 would pay the costs of owning covers.

Using covers are more trouble and requires some labor, but producers are urged to evaluate the risks incurred if covers are not used.

The quality deterioration factor of five cents per pound would be very low if the modules were thoroughly soaked and the cotton could not be rapidly moved through the gin.

Producers are accustomed to leaving cotton exposed on the stalk, but when it sets at the gin in trailers, they become nervous. If a year's crop is in modules on the turnrow and not covered, a wet period could create severe psychological stress.

Cotton Module Cover A Good Investment

Investment in covers to protect cotton modules from moisture damage during field storage is good insurance.

A greater volume of cotton than ever before is being stored in modules on the Plains this fall, and moisture damage is a primary concern to those who module cotton.

Almost all of the problems with moisture damage can be circumvented if the module is covered. The investment in a module cover and tie-down equipment is not excessive.

A module that gets wet must be ginned immediately or deterioration begins.

Because modules are densely packed, they will not dry once they have been soaked. The exteriors will dry, but the interior of the stack will rot.

A newly constructed module is susceptible to moisture damage if rain or wet snow falls. After the module has been exposed to weather for awhile, the exterior will form a crust which tends to shed some rainfall.

However, a slow soaking rain can easily wet through the crust, and snow that collects on top of a module and melts is particularly damaging.

Covers to protect the modules are constructed from tarpaulin and are tied to metal pins secured into the module with rubber straps or rope. A liberal number of pins and tie-downs are needed to retain the cover during some of our West Texas winds. Producers report using as many as 36 pins per module.

The producer's initial investment is $65 for the cover, 65 cents each for pins, and 42 cents each for rubber straps. Thus, using 36 pins and straps per module, the cost would be approximately $103 per cover.

But each cover should last for several uses, reducing the cost of protecting the module.

The actual costs per module, per bale, or per pound of lint depend upon how many uses you can get from a cover. Costs per pound of lint drop below one cent at three or more uses per cover.

Where reasonable care is taken of them and they are stored in a dry place, covers should easily last through three to five uses. Thus a cost of three-quarters of a cent per pound would be very reasonable.

This investment and the associated costs are very much like an insurance policy.

James Fuller Says...

Volunteer 4-H leaders are the key to successful 4-H and youth programs.

4-H leaders have the opportunity to help young people develop into responsible and productive individuals. But, young people don't develop their understanding, attitudes and skills overnight. They need and want guidance and encouragement as they discover their own abilities, and this is where volunteer leaders can play a major role.

However, more and more leaders are needed to work with 4-H members as the youth program of the Extension service continues to reach youth between 9 and 19 years of age.

Right now there are more than 20,000 volunteers serving as 4-H leaders for the 125,000 Texas youth enrolled in the 4-H program.

Working with youth is exciting and challenging. If an individual has interest in young people, wants to share his skills, talents and hobbies, and is willing to learn and grow through experience, he can volunteer to be a leader in the 4-H program.

Why not contact the county Extension office today and find out more about the opportunities as a volunteer 4-H leader in Texas?

Harvesting Continues After Rain

Rains halted High Plains cotton harvesting Thursday of last week, but some cotton was gathered in Lynn County Friday and Saturday, with the mist and rain starting again late Sunday.

Weather forecasters predicted that drying conditions would prevail late this week which would expedite the harvest operations.

New crop trading increased the week ending October 7 and growers accepted offers of 350 to 500 points over 1977 loan rates. Small to medium mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 30 to 33, mikes 3.0 through 4.9 brought 41.00 to 45.00 cents per pound.

High Plains harvest is well ahead of last year, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. About 43,300 samples were graded by Lubbock's Classing Office the week ending October 7. Season's total stands at 69,500, compared with only nine graded by this date a year ago, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Predominant grades for this week's classings were grade 31, at 54 percent, grade 40 was 15 percent, and grade 41 accounted for 15 percent. Staple lengths were mostly staple 30 at 17 percent, staple 31 was 36 percent, and staple 32 accounted for 27 percent.

Micronaire was mostly in the desirable 3.5 - 4.9 range and accounted for 83 percent of the total.

Pressley tests indicated breaking strengths averaged

Sherry Etherezo Says

Handling Game For Safety And Quality

The nippy bit of fall air stirs hunting blood in many people. Thousands of dollars are spent yearly on hunting and the rewards are great. Exercise, fresh air, a chance to get back to nature, sometimes a trophy for the den wall, and meat for your table are the rewards of a successful hunt.

You will often hear complaints about a "strong" or "wild" taste in game. The four basic causes are (1) inadequate bleeding (2) carelessness or delay in dressing (3) failure to cool the carcass promptly and thoroughly, and (4) wounds causing the blood to spread along membranes.

In order to get good meat, start by taking only healthy animals that are alert, not sluggish or hot from running. Be sure the animal is free from old wounds.

A good short, well placed, is one of the best ways to start getting tasty meat. Gut-shot animals tend to have a stronger flavor than one shot cleanly through the heart.

The first few hours after slaughter are critical for producing quality meat. Game should be dressed and cooled rapidly in order to prevent growth of salmonellae, a harmful bacteria, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Food poisoning from salmonellae resembles flu. Headache, vomiting, nausea, cramps, fever, and diarrhea usually strike within 12 to 36 hours after eating contaminated food, says Food Safety and Quality Service, the USDA agency which inspects meat and poultry.

Large animals, such as deer and antelope, should be bled as soon as possible. The internal organs and any badly bruised or blood-shot areas should be removed to prevent spoilage.

Wipe the body cavity with a clean cloth and start the cooling process immediately. Cooling is best achieved by hanging the carcass in a tree and propping the body cavity open with sticks to allow full circulation of the air. A cooling time of at least 6 hours is suggested before transporting large game.

Keep the carcass as cool as possible when transporting. Remember the hood of the car tends to heat up, so use the trunk or roof when transporting large game.

Handling Game For Safety And Quality

Game birds are handled much like game animals. Field dress and cool rapidly. Don't stack the birds, as this holds heat. When possible, carry a small cooler with you, or at least in the car to cool the meat.

If you would like to have recipes concerned with Wild Game, please contact the County Extension Office, 998-4650, or Box 669, Tahoka, Texas 79373.

Pythian News

Pythian Sisters, Lynn Temple, met in regular session on October 4th, with Most Excellent Chief Clifford Tankersley presiding.

The four charter members of the local temple were honored, those being Florine McCracken, Myrl Mathis, Nina Short, and Helen Biggerstaff. A reading, "Heart Friends," by Marjorie Holmes, was read by Winnie Spruiell as part of the program and in their honor.

The Temple is thirty-three years old, being instituted October 9, 1944 by Lubbock Temple, with twenty-four members being initiated. Thelma Sherrod baked a beautiful birthday cake for the occasion, and Judy Holden gave the History of Pythianism, which was founded by Joseph Addison Hill in 1887.

The ladies brought gifts and supplies for the kitchen. Thirty sisters were present and hostesses were Thelma Sherrod, Teddie B. Kelley, and Dixie Payne, assisted by Emma Halamicck.

††† The Temple sponsored a booth at the Harvest Festival on September 24th.

SCHOOL AGE HEALTH PROBLEMS

Why does a seemingly normal child have difficulty in learning? The first thing to test is the child's hearing and vision. Poor hearing can go undetected at home because many hard of hearing children can hear deep sounds, but not those of higher pitch. They can hear "most" of what is said. Vision, if deficient can usually be corrected easily by the use of glasses.

Mental retardation and certain nervous system problems also can be determined and special education and medication arranged. Poor nutrition, anemia, lack of sleep and chronic infections can also interfere with a child's ability to learn.

Card Of Thanks

I am so grateful to so many people for all the loving care and attention I received during my recent surgery and hospital confinement. I have been made aware of the value of friends. I am at home now and am recovering. I can have company and it goes without saying that I am always happy to see my friends. Thank you for your concern.

Sincerely,
Anita Billman 41-1tc
