Citizens Given Chance To Air Ideas At Public Meet

Approximately 80 people attended a public hearing on Monday night of this week in the Community Center, the purpose of which was to gain input from citizens prior to the city's making application for a $500,000 community development grant.

Mayor Mel Leslie, City Administrator Ray Mason, Councilman Jim Solomon and Dr. Richard White were present at the session, and those who attended returned copies of opinion cards to the City in order to obtain their ideas of major needs of Tahoka, and if the City qualify for a grant.

As stressed by both Mayor Leslie and Mason, without the residents' input there would be no way for the City to apply for a grant.

Each year, an application for a $250,000 community development grant was submitted to the Department of Housing and Urban Development, by the City of Tahoka, and the application was denied. However, Leslie said Tahoka has a better chance to obtain the grant this year, two reasons being that more interest is being shown by citizens, and the fact that he had received correspondence from Congressman Omar Burleson stating that Tahoka would likely be considered this year.

Application deadline for the grant is May 15th, Mason said. He also emphasized that the City must sell the government on the idea that the money is needed and that Tahoka is a growth center. "We're competing against other towns, and the demand for money far exceeds the supply," he said.

Money for the HUD grant must benefit low and moderate-income people, he said, and other areas where the funds can be used are blighted property (fire hazards), public water works, senior-citizen centers, parks, playgrounds, solid waste disposal, street improvements, and water and sewer improvements.

In the application submitted last year, street improvements for South 3rd and South 7th Streets were requested, as was aid in demolishing or improving 26 (see Public Meet, p. 3)

Deadline for persons to submit suggestions for a clean-up slogan for the City will be Wednesday, April 19th, says Ray Mason, City Administrator.

Stick-on labels will be printed for water-bill postcards, and the individual who submits the best slogan of six words or less will be recognized in a public way.

Entries are to be mailed or taken to the City Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Griffin have recently contributed $25 to the Museum Fund in Tahoka, says Mrs. Kenneth Turner, chairman of the Museum Finance Committee.

MRS. ALBERT CURRY, right, welcomed Cindy Stenholm to Tahoka last Monday. Wife of the Congressional candidate, Charles Stenholm, Mrs. Stenholm and a group of campaigners visited businesses in the city, and had lunch on Monday. Mrs. Curry is County Coordinator of the Stenholm Campaign.

City Adopts Strict Rules On Community Center Use, Says Officer To Patrol At Dances

In response to numerous complaints from citizens of Tahoka, the City Council says that henceforth a reserve officer will be on duty at the Community Center dances, to be paid by the organization sponsoring the dance at the rate of ten cents per each dollar taken in by the organization.

Also, the $50 deposit made for use of the Community Center will not be refunded unless all cans, bottles, and litter in general, are removed from the Community Center, inside, and from the outer surroundings by noon of the day following the dance.

According to Ray Mason, City Administrator, the reserve officer will strictly enforce the regulations on drinking and littering, and he will have the same authority as a full-time law officer. Arrangements for securing the services of the officer can be made by calling Chief of Police Jack Miller at 998-5295.

Farm Bureau Says Farm Bill Is 'No Good'

Texas Farm Bureau President Carrol Chaloupka said last week that the farm bill pending in Congress does not meet the needs of farmers who are victims of low prices and rising production costs.

American Farm Bureau President Allan Grant called the Mondale-Bergland action "too little to help farmers."

Grant also said, "The administration could have acted within the provisions of current farm law to implement most of the Talmadge (Democratic Senator from Georgia) program."

"We are disappointed that the House-Senate conference committee did not approve our recommendation on land diversion which would have put money into the hands of farmers almost immediately," the Texas FB president said.

The Farm Bureau continues to advocate an expanded set-aside program as proposed by Talmadge, chair- (see Farm Bureau, p. 3)

The Spectator...

By Mary Breechen

Although the intention of the Spectator is not to print anonymous letters, said Spectator cannot offer the opportunity to answer Letter No. 2 from Anonymous Friend.

The letter reads as follows: "While I'm sure one, with any character, agrees with you concerning our forefathers, I'm striving to get a personal opinion from you. How would you feel not having a voice of vote in city elections if you were a rural resident? City residents vote to hopefully reflect rural residents in a government that affects the city economy—not all that money in city economy is from city folk!

Is this the policy of all towns in our area...no voting voice in city government? Is it 'un' democratic to ask if it is 'city policy' or 'our fathers' who said 'Rural residents cannot vote in city official elections but let it be understood the city expects and must have the money in the economy to survive. The city have your money but not your voice of vote.' Personally do not think this is what our fathers had in mind but this is exactly what it wants to—correct me if I'm wrong in my information." I've been wrong before—always to be corrected when wrong!

How about a personal opinion and facts concerning what other towns do about rural vote, in elections?

Do city residents vote in the Commissioners' elections? --Anonymous Friend.

Spectator answers as follows: Sections 1, 2, and 3a of Article VI, Texas Constitution, and Articles 5.01, 5.02, 5.03, and 5.07 of the Texas Election Code prescribe qualifications and requirements for voting in city elections...Residence is determined by the place where a person maintains a household and not by where he maintains (or supports) a business. The words in these are mine, you understand.

The Election Code is quite lengthy and quite complicated, and I read at length from it before answering your questions. Space does not permit deliberating on the details.

In answer to another question, city residents do vote for county commissioners, specific parts of city being in specific county precincts—specific governmental or political entities, as I mentioned week.

How do you see how city government, as such, has a deal of effect on the economy of a city.

I regret that it is not my personal opinion which defines the requirements and the laws. Many of our personal opinions encroach upon laws that do not allow for personalizing, and go beyond the law of the land.

Amigao, for such intense interest in the laws which govern us.

Tahoka's Methodist Church Marks 75th Anniversary

Sunday, April 16, Tahoka United Methodist Church will celebrate its 75th anniversary during an all-day affair, beginning with registration of visitors at 9:30 a.m.

Former members now living elsewhere, and former pastors and their wives have been sent special invitations, and a large crowd is expected for the event.

Plans for the celebration have been underway for several months, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Green, anniversary chairman; the pastor, Rev. Newton Starnes; and others.

Following a Church School and Youth Reunion at 10 a.m., Rev. Hugh Daniel, pastor in Tahoka for seven years, and now pastor at Lockney, will deliver the morning worship message at the 11 o'clock service.

Lunch will be served by local members in the church parlors at 12:30, for all visitors and members, under the direction of Miss Marietta Montgomery.

Lunch will be followed by a period of visiting until 3 p.m., when the day's activities will be concluded with a worship service, followed by Holy Communion. Rev. Frank Oglesby, also a former pastor, will be the speaker at that service.

The local church was organized in the spring of 1903 by Rev. A. B. Roberts, a pioneer circuit-riding minister appointed to Lynn-Terry Mission in 1902. He rode a mule much of the time to minister to the few settlers of the two-county area.

Rev. J. O. Gore, who made his pastoral visits on a bicycle, became the pastor in 1904. He was in Tahoka when the first parsonage, a two-room box house, was erected in 1905.

The first church building was erected in 1906, on South First, later rebuilt in 1924 as the Sunshine Inn. A brick building was erected in 1924 on the present church site, at the corner of North First and Avenue J at a cost (see Methodist, page 3)

THE FIRST BUILDING for the Methodist Church was erected in 1906, where the Sunshine Inn now stands, on South First Street.

THE PRESENT CHURCH BUILDING was built in 1964.

Dear Editor,

I think the Volunteer Fire Department in our community is a group of very hard-working men. These men deserve a lot of credit for their job, and we as the community should respect them. Not only do they rush out any time of the day or night because of a fire, but they stay around the fire to make sure it is all out.

Sunday afternoon a very disturbing situation took place that made me stop and think how much people were taking our Volunteer Fire Department for granted. I think we are all smart enough to know that when a fire truck is coming, we should pull over and let them by. We should not follow to see the action. Most of the time, we, the bystanders, are in the way and we keep these men from doing their job. If there is a law against this behavior, we would like to see it enforced.

Several citizens and I would like to thank our Volunteer Fire Department for the great job they are doing and we are behind you in whatever you do.

Thank you,
Two very concerned Citizens

TRC Candidate 'His Own Man'

John Thomas Henderson of Austin, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner in Texas, called on The Lynn County News Monday of this week, to say that he is opposing Mack Wallace, the present chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, with an unusual, to say the least, platform—he wants and will accept no campaign contributions.

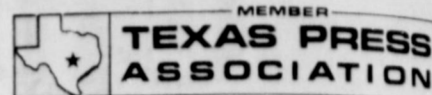

"I propose to remain a free man. I have no backing besides myself. Anyone who accepts huge funds has to make promises, either stated or implied. That is a fact of life. I won't have a prayer of matching the funding of my opponent, but I won't be beholden to a soul," he said.

He is strictly a consumer-oriented candidate and contends consumers are being "ripped off" because utility rates are "unfair."

Henderson is a real estate broker who has been working the past years as an unpaid volunteer in the Travis County probation department.

When a farmer's ship comes in...why can't he ride?

During the '60's when our storerooms were full and we had plenty of food and fiber for many seasons, barber shop talk was..."why does the government pay farmers not to grow cotton? They don't pay me not to cut hair...let 'em sell that corn, cotton and wheat on world markets."

In the 1970's, shortages developed and world prices soared. Big grain and cotton trades were made with foreign countries and the barber shop crowd was saying "the government is gonna let 'em sell it all. There won't be any left for us."

During this time, labor unions refused to load ships and President Ford signed an embargo cancelling legitimate foreign contracts.

Is it fair to make the farmers sell on world markets when prices are low, then sell at home at a lower price when world markets are high?

The farmer is like a soldier. We only need him when at war...or hungry.

Agriculture is basic in Texas. America needs a strong Agriculture.

RUN, do not walk to the nearest water source if you get a strong CHEMICAL in your eye. Every second a chemical remains in your eye increases the potential for damage... some of which may be permanent. Immediately flush the eye with a liberal amount of cool water, ideally at the kitchen sink, as the height of the faucet allows the patient to place his head under the water flow, face up, so that a gentle stream of water can run directly into the eye. The eye-lid must be held open. If such a faucet is unavailable, immediately take cool water from any source and splash it, repeatedly into the eye. In the case of CONCENTRATED DETERGENTS, first flush the eye with water, then follow up with milk. Call the doctor after these emergency procedures. OTHER EYE INJURIES SHOULD NOT BE WASHED.

CERTIFIED COTTON SEED

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Regional Irrigated Cotton Variety Tests show Paymaster 303* is #1.

- 1. The recently completed 5-year (1972-1976) summary of cotton variety performance at Lubbock shows that Paymaster 303 yielded more pounds of lint per acre than any of the 25 competitive cotton varieties tested.
- 2. In a single year test (1976) at Lubbock, Lamesa and Halfway, Paymaster 303 yielded more lint lbs per acre than any of the 30 competitive cotton varieties tested.
- 3. A 2-year study at Lubbock of the effect of commonly used herbicides on various cotton varieties proved Paymaster 303 to be the most tolerant to herbicides of any cotton variety on the market.

The rapid acceptance of this variety placed it on approximately 1/2 million High Plains cotton acres just two years after its release. Paymaster 303* is not just a variety for wilt ground but for a wide range of conditions including old corn or sorghum ground and late planting.

If you are not planting this variety in 1978 — it just might be costing you money.

A Visit With Your County Agent

by Stanley Young
Lynn County Agent

Five Acres Between You and Starvation
Today there are just over a million acres of land in the United States—an average of about five acres per person. So each of us must depend on those five acres for food and fiber. Five acres isn't much—just less than five football fields. Furthermore, all of five acres are not suited for crop production; only 2.2 acres are cropland. And, since land resources are limited and the population continues to grow, each of us will have fewer acres to depend on for food and fiber in the years ahead. Fifty years ago, there was an average of more than 10 acres of cropland per person in the U.S. That has declined to eight acres 30 years ago and to six-and-a-half acres 15 years ago. What does all this mean? It means that our farmers will have to produce more food and fiber from the same amount of land to keep up with the growth in population and demand. We also need to realize that a vast number of resources go into producing food and fiber on "our" five acres, such as 37 gallons of fuel and 185 kilowatts of electricity each year. Any interruption of this flow of fuel and power can affect our food supply. So farmers have got to stay in business—they have got to make a living. For if they can no longer produce food and fiber from each of our five-acre plots, we'll go hungry. Community Leaders Satisfied With Services Most community leaders are satisfied with existing community service systems, according to a survey conducted in Texas and three other Great Plains states. Services included in the survey were water, education, health, sewage disposal, solid waste disposal, fire protection, and law enforcement.

Even though a substantial percentage of respondents reported service problems, they also expressed an unwillingness to pay for service quality improvement and satisfaction with present money spent on services. This implies that such problems may not be considered severe.

Lease contentment was noted with labor-intensive personal services—particularly education.

Overall, almost 60 percent of the respondents reported no problems with the seven services, with water having the lowest frequency of "no problem."

After reviewing problems that were deemed to be most in need of elimination, only one-third of the respondents were willing to pay more to eliminate the problem. Respondents were most willing to pay to eliminate water problems, followed by fire protection, education, solid waste disposal, sewage disposal, health and law enforcement.

Positive responses to the question, "Are you getting your money's worth?" were uniformly high for water, sewer, solid waste and fire protection services. But, positive responses were substantially lower for police, education, and health services.

Filligim, Hancock, & Unfred Named Directors At Co-op Gin

J. R. Filligim, Donald Hancock, and L. C. Unfred were elected to serve three-year terms as directors of New Home Cooperative Gin at the annual meeting on April 6th.

Approximately 140 members and guests attended the meeting, during which an audit report showed net margins of $20.61 per bale on 29,803 bales processed in the 1977 season. Cash dividends in the amount of $292,978.55 were distributed at the close of the meeting.

Door prizes and refreshments were enjoyed by those present.

James Fuller Says...

4-H Program Builds Leaders

There are five keys to successful leadership. A good leader believes in people, encourages them, and gives them responsibility. The leader also acts as a talent scout and develops a positive attitude toward getting things done.

Anyone who is willing to tackle a job that requires cooperating with others can learn to be an effective leader.

This is where the 4-H program comes in—it can help youth become effective leaders.

The national 4-H leadership program, supported by Reader's Digest, stimulates young people to become leaders through a variety of learn-by-doing activities. These activities help turn girls and boys 9-19 into the creative, inspiring individuals that others just naturally want to follow.

As a first step, 4-H members gain self-confidence by becoming experts at something, whether it's baking a cake, fixing a bike, or playing a game. Then, they share their expertise with others through demonstrations, speeches, and exhibits. Soon they are serving on committees and holding offices in their 4-H clubs. Or, as junior and teen leaders, they are assisting younger 4-H'ers with their projects.

Finally, leadership skills learned in 4-H are carried over into the larger community. Nine national 4-H leadership winners reported activities that ranged from spearheading local charity drives to organizing leadership conferences for inner city teens to chairing a county youth committee for a congressional candidate.

Each national winner received a $1,000 scholarship donated by Reader's Digest. The high-ranking girl and boy won silver trays presented in the name of President Jimmy Carter.

Other recognition for program members includes an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago for one 4-H member per state, and up to four medals of honor in each county.

Winners are chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service, which conducts the 4-H program, and awards are arranged by National 4-H Council.

Rotarians Hear Program On Cancer

Mrs. Jo Carol Long, Cancer Crusade Chairman, presented the Rotary Club program last Thursday, a film entitled "Searching for A Cure," with Kirk Douglas as narrator.

Preceding the film, she made a brief talk in which she pointed out that in the past few years, Lynn County has reached or exceeded its goal, and this year, the goal assigned this county is nearly $10,000.

Mrs. Long also stated that cancer is the No. 1 killer of small children.

Clint Walker was in charge of the program.

THE NEXT GREAT SOUTHWESTERN COTTON

LOCKETT

It has a lot going for you!

- Multiple disease resistance, good fiber quality
- Early fruiting and maturing
- Outstanding performance, even under stress
- Wide adaptability for consistent performance under many conditions
- Genetically pure, certified seed

the cotton to count on for good times and bad.

Never before has there been a cotton variety like this! With its wide adaptability, multiple disease resistance, and proven yield record through seven years of testing, Lockett 77 has all the best characteristics of the best cotton varieties previously available.

Lockett 77 is ideal for the short season cotton production concept. It has excellent seedling disease escape and cold tolerance. Its multiple disease tolerance includes protection against bacterial blight, verticillium wilt and the fusarium wilt-nematode complex. Lockett 77 has also shown outstanding performance under stress. Foliage is sparse. Leaves are medium-sized. Bolls are of the storm-resistant-type. Short-fruiting branches on an erect, short to intermediate main stem make Lockett 77 an excellent stripper cotton, well-adapted to both conventional and narrow-row systems. And, it has desirable fiber qualities.

There's never been a cotton planting seed that promises... and delivers... like this one. Plant some Lockett 77 on your place, this year.

AROUND TOWN

by Leona Waldrip

After having surgery in Methodist Hospital on Tuesday, April 14, Jimmy Dulin was able to come home on Saturday.

At this writing, Scott Cash, 8-year-old grandson of Mrs. Coye Collier, remains in serious condition in Methodist Hospital, with head injuries suffered in a car-bicycle accident on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maude of Muleshoe spent Thursday night with Myrtle Lovelady. On Friday, the three of them went to Fort Worth and spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gaede, returning to Tahoka on Monday.

Mrs. W. A. Reddell was able to come home on Wednesday, after spending several days in Lynn County Hospital.

Mrs. Geneva Carter, who is a live-in companion to Mrs. Ora Curry, has taken off a few weeks to be with a daughter who is to have surgery soon.

Mrs. Lillian Lambright is staying with Mrs. Curry in Mrs. Carter's absence.

Three local ladies were among those making a 12-day bus tour, "Along the Azalea Trail," when it left Lubbock recently.

Returning to their homes on Friday evening were Mrs. Coye Collier, Mrs. Bob Rutledge, and Mrs. Willie Thomas.

Thelma Dewbre visited with the Don McKibben family in Lubbock Sunday afternoon.

In the absence of Kim Gober, junior high teacher at Wilson, I taught there on Tuesday, and for Jane Graham, fifth grade, on Wednesday.

About forty people attended the noon luncheon at Lynn County Pioneer Club on Friday.

After a short business session, Bill Griffin, former County Agent, spoke to the group and answered questions pertaining to gardens, lawns, and shrubs.

Most of the afternoon was spent singing and playing '42'.

Next regular meeting will be April 21, when the club hopes to be into the new kitchen now under construction.

Revival services at First Baptist Church are drawing large crowds at both morning and evening services.

Garden Club To Host Hobby Club

Tahoka Garden Club will meet Tuesday, April 18, at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. C. M. Greer, 2104 Avenue M in Tahoka, and members of Grassland Hobby Club have been invited to attend as guests.

Assisting Mrs. Greer with hospitality will be Mrs. G. B. Sherrod, Mrs. Lenora Street, and Mrs. Jimmy Turner.

The program will be on the care of exotic house plants, presented by Mrs. James Murray of Murray's Florist and Plant Place.

The floral display, "Wild Flowers," is to be exhibited by Mrs. N. M. Wyatt, Mrs. Newton Starnes, Mrs. Pat Swann, and Mrs. W. T. Kidwell.

Club activity for the month is a plant and seed exchange.

Cancer Society To Sponsor VB Tourney

The American Cancer Society in Lynn County will sponsor a volleyball tournament at Wilson on Saturday, April 15, with fourteen area and local teams in competition.

The first game of the all-day tournament will begin at 8:30 a.m.

Wilson girls are furnishing trophies for the event, and local volunteers will furnish home-made ice cream, home-made pies, and other refreshments for the concession stands.

Helen Autry, local organizer and Cancer Society volunteer, reports that the door-to-door campaign is doing well, and urges the community to welcome their American Cancer Society volunteers as they solicit contributions for cancer research.

Volunteers are still needed in several capacities for the Saturday tournament, including concession workers, food donations, gate keepers, and clock and timekeepers.

To volunteer time, money, or food, persons may call Mrs. Autry, Nelta Moore, Jerri Steen, all in Wilson, or Lorain Crowson, 998-4533 (Department of Human Resources) in Tahoka.

Grassland Hobby Club Meets On 4th

Grassland Hobby Club met at the Community Center in Grassland on Tuesday, April 4, at noon, with twelve members and three visitors present.

Some of the outstanding food included Italian spaghetti, Fiesta Salad, Mexican Chicken Casserole, Lebanese Casserole, Korean Casserole, Beef Stroganoff, Mexican Cornbread, German Sours, Grecian Cookies, and Germany Chocolate Pie.

Those present were Mesdames Johnnie Frances, Fay Melton, Naomi Norman, Lorene Gerner, Wilma Gerner, Lula Greer, Elfrieda Gerner, Bernice Gribble, Pearl Moore, R. M. Stewart, Lela Wood, Mittie Walker, Ruby Yates, Sara Whitley, and Sue Copeland.

A business meeting was conducted after lunch, and the door prize went to Sara Whitley. Mrs. Lula Greer from Tahoka invited the Hobby Club members to her Garden Club meeting on April 18.

The next meeting of the Hobby Club will be May 9th, at the Community Center.

Sherry Etheredge Says...

To help prevent food poisoning, keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold--and live longer in good health.

Specifically:

*Cook foods thoroughly and serve them hot.

*Prevent recontamination through cleanliness and use of sanitary utensils.

*Promptly cool or freeze foods after preparation to retard bacteria multiplication.

*Fully reheat stored foods to destroy bacteria.

In a survey of 2,503 households, 63 percent of those sampled used at least one high-risk practice in handling, preparing and storing selected meat and poultry products.

Most of these high-risk households left fresh meat, poultry, or fish out at room temperature for more than two hours thinking it was safe to eat. They were wrong--meat is a haven for bacterial growth.

Over two and one-half million people were affected in 1976 by Salmonellosis, one of the major food-borne illnesses affecting man. Many more cases go unreported because people assume they have a "bug" or the flu.

Salmonella--a group of bacteria almost worldwide in distribution--may be found in water, poultry, meat and meat products, eggs and egg products, fish, shellfish, and oysters. Freezing does not kill salmonella--it only prevents multiplication.

Many homemakers are aware of the problems involved with handling food safely at home. Food handling in the home is extremely important and that most consumers are correct.

Follow strict sanitation measures because cleanliness in food handling is the most important way to prevent the bacteria from being carried.
