CAROLYN'S CLATTER

by Carolyn Klaus

The recent cool fall weather is very inspiring to several activities. First of all, everybody exerts more energy by reaching for sweaters and jackets. Then of course, heaters come on and that causes people to snuggle in favorite chairs and participate in T.V. sporting events with flinches, groans, and clinched fists. Those lucky enough for fire places use energy carrying logs and building fires. So, you can see a varied assortment of activities automatically go along with cool weather.

An extra appetite is about the only thing that increases for me during cool days. Last week I was busy studying and the ritual was a line of study and a bite of food. This time continued until I was miserable. However, I have no fear of becoming overweight, that is in my hands. With all the exercise they get by typing since I went to work they should be the most slender of them.

This year I have been fortunate enough to attend several pep rallies and I'll admit most of them were for homecomings. But, when the talk about kids being so different nowadays they don't always know what we're talking about, especially when it comes to good country kids.

The pep rallies show that kids still like to hear enough noise in one pep rally that could sustain most adults for a lifetime. If it is held in a gym or similar building the sound only bounces off every wall and becomes louder. The whole thing is good though because kids seem to display loyalty.

amid all the hullabaloo at each pep rally I never once forgot to pay tribute to the American flag and everything for which it stands. As the band plays the national anthem with full force the faint sound of a patriotic crowd singing along cannot be tuned out.

The only real difference between pep rallies these days gone by and the ones now used are that today's pep rallies may have more pep put into them. It does not consist solely of loud noise but usually the cheerleaders and twirlers join forces and perform a skit for the group. Each week is a skit that requires new props and costumes which the girls make themselves. Some of them are really good.

Suggest if it has been several years since you have attended one of these events that you go to one this week and watch how many similarities there are of kids today and the kids during your day. They're a great bunch of kids growing up in a tough society and I think they need to be commended for their efforts.

Bill Fisher Attends A Brief Reception In Tahoka

By Carolyn Klaus

DR. RICHARD WHITE (right) greets Republican candidate Bill Fisher as he arrives at the reception held in his honor at Tahoka's First National Bank meeting room. Dr. White was responsible for setting up the opportunity for voters to meet the candidate.

Tahoka's First National Bank meeting room was the scene of a reception given in honor of Bill Fisher. Dr. Richard White arranged the event so voters could meet the candidate and form their opinions concerning the man.

Bill Fisher is the Republican candidate for Congress from the 17th Congressional District. The News was there in an effort to keep the readers informed.

One of the first statements made by Fisher was, "I don't think of myself as a politician because I have never been one."

Inflation is the country's number one problem and until it is solved no other problem can be solved. He said there is only one CPA in Washington now and he believes if more would be up there it would help find some solutions to the problem. Fisher is a CPA. Fisher said if America wants to keep all the present programs and advantages we now have there is no way we can cut taxes to balance the budget so we have to raise the level of income for the country.

When asked about OSHA and EPA he said, "Neither group is productive anymore but I don't know if we can get rid of them." He said the only way it could be possible would be for people to apply pressure to their elected officials to abandon the groups. Senators can control OSHA because Congress has power over them but they have to see a need to eliminate such an organization, Fisher said.

There was only a small group present at the reception and it gave each individual a chance to talk to the candidate and get better acquainted.

Since mail service in the United States has apparently declined in efficiency he was asked how he felt about private agencies, such as UPS, delivering mail. He said he believed the U.S. postal service is no longer controlled by Congress and if it were the service would be improved because political pressure could be applied to keep people on the ball. Right now UPS is getting the profitable part of mail delivery and the government is being stuck with the unprofitable portion, Fisher explained.

In his opinion the ERA extension is unconstitutional and believes Congress will suffer for it. As the thing stands right now, those states voting for the ERA Amendment cannot change their vote during the time extension but those states voting against it can change their mind during the extended time.

After most of the crowd dispersed he discussed a few concerns related directly to agriculture. Fisher said more money needed to be allocated for agricultural purposes because right now the majority of the agriculture budget was being spent more on things like food stamps than actual farming. Fisher suggested that all that sort of thing be "kicked" out from under the agriculture heading so there would be some money left for farming and conservation.

He believes Congress should consider appropriating money by the job instead of yearly because he believes more jobs would be done more efficiently and economically if they knew exactly how much money they would receive.

"The American Agriculture Movement is a good thing and will eventually help to raise the prices for the farm product," Fisher said. He says Congress is just now beginning to realize that our agriculture products are their "ace-in-the-hole" when it comes to exports and world relations. This year's

Education is an important part of the Extension organization, but there are many other opportunities offered besides education and the immeasurable social aspect. It is hard to measure self-growth. Leadership growth and self-confidence are products of being a member of a home demonstration club.

District Sew It With Cotton Contest Held In Tahoka

By Carolyn Klaus

The large crowd around the Tahoka Pioneer Museum was busy and attractive last Saturday. The District Sew It With Cotton Contest, covering a ten county area, was held in Tahoka and was a real boon to the community's morale as well as their pockets. Jo Carol Long, the lady in charge of the contest, did her share to promote the town but she says, "I wanted it to be a success for cotton and the district."

The majority of the crowd was women and they were dressed in some of their finest cotton clothes. Tahoka's Mayor Mel Leslie welcomed the unique cotton organization.

The contest is sponsored by the District Womens Cotton Promotion Association.

tion which was founded in 1967. The first cotton promotion group was organized in 1965 in Crosby County by Mrs. Lawrence (Bonita) McDowell. Plains Cotton Growers later paid her expenses to travel to surrounding counties and set up cotton promotion organizations.

Women decided the only way to guarantee a market for their product was to create a demand for it so they set to work. Nearly everyone on the South Plains derive their living, either directly or indirectly, from the cotton industry so more than farm wives are interested in the organization. A better price to the cotton producer is the whole purpose of Cotton Promotion groups and by causing more cotton products to be purchased that should help.

This year KCB (Channel 11 in Lubbock) filmed the contest for viewing on a national farm show originating in Chicago, Illinois as well as to use parts of it for their own presentation. That station presented certificates of appreciation to Jo Carol Long of Tahoka and Wanda Thompson of Cochran County for their efforts in the contest.

Martha Robertson from Cooper, president of the group, made a special point to encourage The News to notice all the cotton art work. There were so many beautiful cotton crafts and paintings present, they were almost unbelievable, they looked so real.

Mrs. Robertson noted the $20,000 had been collected in 4 years from various businesses by the Cotton Promotion group to help with their projects.

The District Womens' Cotton Promotion Association presented a check to Mrs. Macky Turner for the Museum.

Ray Mason, Tahoka's city manager, was on hand to give the closing remarks at which time he said, "Cotton looks good on people but it's people who make cotton look good."

Some of the times and places to watch for coverage of the event are: next Saturday noon, the U.S. Farm Report on Channel 11; Southern Farm Press will feature the event in their publication in approximately 3 weeks; and The Commentator, sent to all Co-op Gins, will cover it shortly. Other times were Tuesday, on the Bob Etheridge show, Monday's noon news and Tuesday on the Alice French show on Channel 11.

Winners in the contest were: Lollipop, girls 1-5; 1st, Carrie Kindel; 2nd, Jennifer Fillingim; and 3rd Stephanie Cooper; Little Esquire, boys 1-5; 1st, Blaine Fillingim; 2nd Shawn Lauderdale; and 3rd, Chad Morrow; Playtime, girls & boys 1-5; 1st, Leslie Blair; 2nd, Jamie

Lammons; and 3rd, Scotty Rains; Guss & Dolls, boys & girls 6-12; 1st, Heather Hutton; 2nd, Kathy Valdez; and 3rd Rachelle Cohorn; School Time, girls & boys 6-12; 1st Mandy Woodward; 2nd Heather West; and 3rd,

O'Donnell Lost To Seagraves, A Tough Battle

For 2½ quarters O'Donnell and Seagraves battled on even terms. With 7:50 left in the third quarter O'Donnell quarterback Mike Read injured a knee and from that point Seagraves dominated play and went on to a 20-0 victory.

O'Donnell fumbled twice and Seagraves cashed in both times with TDs.

In spite of the loss, O'Donnell's Tony Acosta gained 143 yards on 26 carries and was in on 19 tackles from his linebacker spot.

O'Donnell took the opening kickoff and moved to the Seagraves 34. Benny Gass punted and Seagraves' Keith Eller returned it to his own 8. Three plays later Eller broke into the clear and ran for 54 yards to the O'Donnell 33 where Paul Rodriguez caught him. Seagraves managed five yards in three plays and on the fourth down Todd Gass stopped Johnny Castro for a one yard loss.

The teams exchanged punts and O'Donnell got a golden opportunity to score but were stopped short of the goal line. At half the score was 0-0.

Seagraves returned the second half kickoff to their 45 but were unable to move and punted the ball into the endzone for a touchback. Acosta gained 15 yards in three plays and on second ans six from the 35 Read went left on an option play for one yard and was felled with the knee injury.

On fourth down Gass' punt was blocked and recovered by Seagraves at the O'Donnell 36. They moved the ball to the six in three plays but then O'Donnell's Jerald Moore fell on a Seagraves fumble, which gave O'Donnell new life.

Olivan and Acosta fumbled a handoff and Seagraves recovered at the nine. Three plays later fullback Davis Morgan scored from the five and Seagraves led 6-0. The extra point try failed.

O'Donnell took the next kickoff but fumbled and lost the ball. Seagraves took the ball 45 yards for a TD but the extra point try failed.

Seagraves got its final TD early in the fourth quarter when they drove 57 yards in six plays and Morgan kicked the extra point.

O'Donnell finished the game with 222 yards in total offense to Seagraves 373 yards. Eller had a big night and gained 159 yards on 15 carries and returned a punt 44 yards.

Each team had 12 first downs. O'Donnell was penalized 2 times for 30 yards and Seagraves twice for 10 yards.

O'Donnell is now 4-1 on the year and 1-1 in district and Seagraves is 5-0 and 2-0. O'Donnell will go on the road next week to play Ropesville, which is also 1-1 in district play after having defeated Forsan last week.

Hill backs tax relief on ballot November 7

"We've got a great opportunity Nov. 7 to take a significant first step toward tax relief in Texas. I'm urging everyone to vote for the proposed constitutional amendment to give tax relief to our farmers and ranchers, homeowners, and elderly. After this amendment is adopted, I'll be ready to take the lead in the 1979 legislature to follow through on this first step."

Severe allergic reaction to an insect sting can be extremely dangerous. A sting victim developing hives, anxiety, hacking cough, wheezing, itching eyes, sneezing or constriction of the throat should receive immediate medical attention. Treatment for the less drastic but still unpleasant reactions to insect stings should include: 1) Swift removal of the insect stinger. Scrape it away with the fingernail rather than pulling it out, as the stinger of some insects emit more venom when squeezed during removal. Also, unless removed, stingers left in the eyelid can later cause problems with the eye itself. 2) If struck by a "scavenger" insect (wasp, yellow jacket or hornet,) wash the affected area immediately as infections can begin around the swollen area of the sting. 3) To reduce swelling, apply cold compresses. Anytime a reaction to an insect sting is causing problems, see your doctor.

Hill backs tax relief on ballot November 7

We've got a great opportunity Nov. 7 to take a significant first step toward tax relief in Texas. I'm urging everyone to vote for the proposed constitutional amendment to give tax relief to our farmers and ranchers, homeowners, and elderly. After this amendment is adopted, I'll be ready to take the lead in the 1979 legislature to follow through on this first step.

movement in the organization is being conducted on a higher level that should help the farmer even more. The previous year was necessary though, for organization, Fisher said.

Some of his final statements were that the government should slack off on some things because it is taking away the spirit of the people. He also added that people can change anything if they want to bad enough.

From October 23 through 28, volunteers throughout the Tahoka area will be marching to collect money for St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital. These volunteers will be wearing a Danny Thomas badge when they call on citizens of Tahoka.

Betsy Adams, campaign chairman, said that volunteers asking for support of the leading childhood cancer research center in the world will clearly be identified by a paper badge they will be wearing.

Hill Caravan Tours Through Lynn County

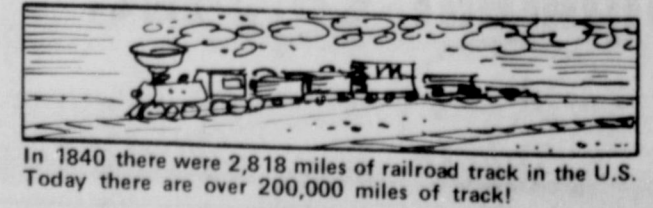

A caravan, one of 10 traveling around the state supporting John Hill, came through the county last week. The caravan was headed by Jim Hunter.

Hill is the Democratic candidate for governor of Texas.

"Hill was the Texas director of the 1972 campaign group--the Nixon Committee to Re-elect the President--that fostered the Watergate scandal," the caravan leader said.

"Our Republican opponent said he plans to spend $7 million to win the Governor's race--more than twice what John Hill will spend, and it's more than any governor's race in our nation's history except the Nelson Rockefeller race in New York in 1970," the leader added.

John Hill is running his race on the issues," the caravan leader relayed.

In 1840 there were 2,818 miles of railroad track in the U.S. Today there are over 200,000 miles of track!

TEXAS' AGRICULTURE HAS COME A LONG WAY
Agricultural production in Texas has come a long way since 1906, when the first county agent was hired in Lynn County, and headquarters were established at Tyler.

new urban and rural residents to the County Extension offices seeking information.

W. C. Stallings, who was employed by the county agent, was the first to be hired in Lynn County, and headquarters were established at Tyler.

Many new agricultural frontiers have emerged in recent years. Extension county marine agents now serve in a number of the Texas Coastal counties and assist commercial fishermen and shrimpers. Integrated pest management programs are moving ahead. Livestock programs are designed to improve overall reproductive efficiency and increase the calf crop percentage.

Health of the people is a major concern. The county agent is working with the health department to improve the health of the people.

Improved crop varieties are among other new thrusts. Agriculture today represents a whole new—but sophisticated—ballgame!

TEXAS 4-H PROGRAM NOW 70 YEARS OLD

The Texas 4-H program has a rich and proud heritage, and the Diamond Anniversary of Farm Demonstration Work this October provides a special opportunity for the state's 140,000 4-H members to reflect on the youth programs colorful past.

In planning for tomorrow's youth educational programs, 4-Hers and their leaders should be aware that Texas also had a key role in the nation's 4-H heritage.

It was in 1908 that a Cron Club was formed in Jack County by part-time County Extension Agent Tom M. Marks. He sought to teach farm boys about corn production because he was having very little success reaching the farmers themselves. The club started with 111 boys, and the results that Marks achieved soon drew nationwide attention.

This Corn Club was the forerunner of 4-H as it is known today. Thus, 4-H grew out of the need to make education more practical and interesting to farm youth. It provided an enriching, real-life learning experience through the "learning by doing" concept, and current youth programs of the Extension Service offer similar experiences although projects and activities have changed.

Today, 4-H prepares young people to assume the responsibilities of adulthood in a changing society.

With more the 75 different projects and activity areas now available to 4-H members, the program has come a long way since 1908!

An exciting event set for November 8 of this year is the dedication of the Texas 4-H Center at Brownwood. This sparkling new facility is being used for educational and training meetings, and for various 4-H youth camps and conferences. More dedication details are available from your County Extension Office.

Volunteer 4-H leaders are vital and largely responsible for the effectiveness of today's 4-H programs. With training and support provided by Extension agents and specialists, approximately 21,709 adult and junior leaders work with boys and girls across the state in the youth phase of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, a vital part of the Texas A&M University System.

Wharton New Chairman For Clements

Gubernatorial candidate Bill Clements announced that Winston Wharton is serving as the Lynn County chairman for the Bill Clements for Governor Campaign.

"Clements campaign organizations have now been established in all of the state's 254 counties. This is an unprecedented accomplishment in a Republican gubernatorial campaign in this state," Clements said.

"And, it points up the fact that my campaign is not a one-party effort. My candidacy is attracting Democrats, Independents and Republicans alike this year because Texans are realizing that the governor's race is not a case of Democrats versus Republicans, but a case of conservatives versus liberals," he added.

"This statewide organization clearly shows the strong momentum of my campaign and the widespread support for my candidacy," he stated.

"Many Texans realize that my opponent is a liberal, as shown by the 300 percent increase in the size of his staff and the 600 percent increase in his budget during his term as attorney general. His record speaks for itself and it clearly says that he is not a good manager of the taxpayers' dollars," Clements said.

"Texans want another conservative governor in Austin-like they have always had—and they want someone who will safeguard their future from excessive taxation and government spending. I am committed to that and I have proposed a Taxpayer's Bill of Rights to ensure it," Clements said.
