CAROLYN'S CLATTER

by Carolyn Klaus

When I was in high school we had a football coach who happened to be my history teacher. He was always writing letters to congressmen and kept himself informed to the point of receiving the congressional record at every week Congress was in session. At that time America took seriously the threat of Communism to our country and used the only method of prevention was education of the general public. Therefore we engaged in some rather lengthy discussions on the subject. One of the most profound comments made by the man, Mr. Charles was that someday the United States and Russia (who at the time was one of our greatest enemies) would someday band together to fight against Red China.

For some reason that statement has stuck in my mind all these years because I thought it to be one of the most out-of-character things for a country. This week I read the almost exact same statement in a publication that had been written by a former pilot of the Communist Air Force. The following I quote from "For You", printed by the Texas Farm Bureau:

"Fan Yuan-Yen flew his MIG-19 jet to escape on July 7, 1977. In 'Human Events', of October 21, 1978, he gave a very interesting interview with Col. ... The following are a few excerpts from the interview:

Is there anything you would like to say to the American people?
I would like to advise the United States to normalize relations with Communist China. Communists are always playing tricks on their gains. They deceive and use other tactics one by one and destroy them gradually. The Chinese Communists have used their internal tactics to their foreign enemies. They divide the world into three parts. The First World comprises the United States and the Soviet Union; the Second World comprises the industrialized countries, France, Japan, West Germany, Britain, Canada, and China is leader of the Third World comprising all other countries. The strategy of Communist China is to unite the Third World, to isolate the Second World from the First World, and to play the United States against the Soviet Union. The Communist Chinese hope the two super-powers will destroy each other someday and after that they can conquer the whole world. They treat the Soviet Union as Enemy No. 1 and the United States as Enemy No. 2. I believe the American people should be aware of the vicious nature of the Chinese Communists.

According to this interview neither country is a great threat to China by itself but if the two could ever unite forces they would be invincible. Of course, there are a lot of people in the way right now but the situation made those many years ago may seem so unreal after all.

Fan also stated that living conditions in average citizen in China had gone from worse in the last 30 years and that the people in Taiwan had better living conditions than most citizens in China. They have model villages for visiting groups and to see that are not the true picture of the country.

Always, Communism looks so good at first but can turn around and bite your hand.

General Telephone Gives Guidelines For Customers

W. C. WELLS (left), Vice-President area general manager, and E. O. Camborn, area operations manager, were on hand Tuesday afternoon for the meeting at the Tahoka Cafeteria to discuss the General Telephone service to our area.

By Carolyn Klaus
General Telephone has been the recipient of many complaints concerning their service. Instead of dodging the issue O. D. Hearn has arranged several meetings in various places to meet with the dissatisfied customers to hear their complaints in person.

O. D. Hearn is the Division Manager and his division covers 29 exchanges and an area from Lamesa on the south and Bovina on the north and from Denver City on the west to Post on the east with 69,000 phones connected in this area. There are 300 people employed in his division with people with all sorts of specialties that he is presently utilizing to repair the poor service in our area.

Methodist Set Special Observance

First Methodist Church of Tahoka will observe Retired Minister's Sunday at the 11 a.m. service on November 5. Dr. Lloyd Hamilton will preach on the subject, "Let's We Forget", based on Luke 24:30-50. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the service.

The Lubbock District Conference of the Methodist Church will be held Sunday afternoon from 3-6 p.m. at St. John Methodist Church in Lubbock. A District Youth Rally will be held from 2-4 p.m., and the youth will participate in part of the conference. The business meeting of the conference will begin at 3 p.m., and conclude with a worship service from 5-6 p.m. Dr. Clifford Trotter of Polk Street Methodist Church in Amarillo will be the preacher. There will be no evening service here.

Pattie Jackson Receives Honor Award

Pattie Jackson, State Future Homemakers of America officer, received the State Fair of Texas Honor Award Medal, October 13, in Dallas.

As State Vice-President of the FHA, Pattie received the award at a special Honor Award Dinner on Friday, October 13 in the Grand Ballroom of the Dallas Hilton Hotel. The state FHA/HERO officers, state FFA officers, state 4-H Council, parents and advisors were in attendance at the dinner.

Pattie, who is from O'Donnell, was also a guest for Rural Youth Day at the Fair. Attending the Award Dinner and State Fair with Pattie were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Jackson, and her FHA/HERO advisor, Connie A. Smith and husband, David.

they can. It takes time for things to wear out and it takes time for it to be replaced.

When asked about the static on the lines from time to time. He said it was mainly because some small connection in the 100 physical connections made for each call and that they were trying to eliminate that problem as well. A crew has been working for three weeks now from midnight to 8 a.m. to make the necessary repairs without interrupting the daily service. The crew is working their way from one exchange to another and will continue until each has been visited.

There are no plans at present to replace the overhead lines with underground line but they do plan to rebuild and replace a lot of old cable in 1979. Most of that repair will take place north and west of Tahoka but other areas will be in line for that sort of repair as soon as possible. Gophers like to eat the underground lines and weather affects the above ground lines so there is no fool-proof method of maintaining cable.

When asked why so many people complain about getting a run-around when they report a phone out of order he said it was a human error. The repair service makes out tickets or work orders when they receive a trouble call and then send the order on it's way after telling the customer when the repairman will call at their residence or business. If the repairman does not make it around in time the customer will report his phone again and the work order is gone and the repair service cannot remember the order so the whole process starts again.

How often do you report a non-working phone? It does not hurt to report it each day you are without service but it is not necessary. It can be reported and after waiting a reasonable length of time without results then report it again.

The only conflict with this advice is that Mr. Hearn said the company determines the necessary work areas by the number of trouble calls received per 100 phones. False calls will not help the system at all but only confuse it.

Surveys conducted by the telephone company occasionally are important because that is their only method of detecting flaws in service other than trouble calls. Every survey question should be answered as truthfully as possible in order to give the company a good idea of the quality of service they are rendering.

Presently they are training some new repairmen and other people for our area and in time they will be able to handle more of the work load on their own instead of having to depend more on outside help.

Touch tone or push button dialing will hopefully be available to Tahoka the first quarter of next year. It will not be an automatic service but will be installed on individual requests when it

Charles Stenholm Visits Tahoka Again

By Carolyn Klaus

It was quiet a sight to see when the Stenholm bus arrived in Tahoka Monday, October 30, at 2 p.m. It stopped at the courthouse square and unloaded but the majority of the crowd had gathered in front and beside Dayton Parker Pharmacy. In a matter of seconds people were unloading from the bus and scattered everywhere. Shortly the Stenholms could be seen walking briskly to meet the crowd. When the Stenholms and the gathered crowd merged close enough to be heard, Cindy and Charles started greeting people by their first names. They seemed to be so happy to see everyone, just like visiting old friends.

We all congregated around the bus and talked to some of the people riding the bus as well as talking to Mr. Stenholm about campaigning. Stenholm supporters of nearly every age were on the bus. There were Senior citizens, middle age Americans, teenagers (out of school for the day because of a TSTA meeting) and even young children around the age of 10.

We all talked for a short while and then the bus sounded an extremely loud horn and suddenly people started appearing from every direction. The News was able to corner two young volunteers and found out the horn was to summons all the volunteers that had shot from the bus and dashed madly around the town placing Stenholm bumper stickers and other literature about their candidate in various places in the town.

The whole downtown area was covered pretty thoroughly because of the excellent organization of the group and the whole stop lasted approximately 10 minutes. The whole operation was a lesson in precise timing which should be helpful to Stenholm when he is elected.

Some things I agree with and other I disagree with about the President but I do concur that we all need to support the President in performing the most difficult job in the world.

In conclusion he stated, "I submit to the people of the 17th that I can with my own God Given ability and demonstrated leadership capabilities work more effectively for all the people of the 17th Congressional District as a strong conservative voice in the Majority Party. Bill Fisher Plane Hops Over District

Bill Fisher, Republican nominee for Congress from the 17th Congressional District, visited several towns by plane this week in an effort to see more of his constituents before election day.

In his addresses he repeated claims made by his opponent, Charles Stenholm. He stated that the main concern of the race is, "Who can best represent the people of this district?" and his opponent agrees.

Fisher naturally believes he has already made a good showing for the people of the district by getting his resolutions and planks passed through Congress and by getting one of the men from his county on the committee to present the platforms at the Republican State Convention last year.

Fall Weather No Blessing For Farmers

AUSTIN—After a summer of scorching heat and drought, September's moisture and lower temperatures were not the blessing they should have been to most Texas farmers, reports the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Widespread rains throughout a large portion of the state during the month did give a needed boost to livestock ranges and added subsurface moisture to the soil which will be welcomed later in the season.

"Farmers ready or almost ready to begin harvest operations, however, have found the rains and accompanying cool weather unwanted and in some cases, damaging," Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said.

"Most cotton farmers in the Plains areas were hoping rains would hold off until the bolls had matured," he continued. "The rains may also cause some decline in cotton quality and some losses during harvest because the fiber is loose in the boll."

The 1978 cotton production estimate has continued to drop, according to Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service surveys, and is 37 per cent below the 1977 crop. The estimate is 80,000 bales below the September I forecast.

Other rain-related problems have shown up in corn, with delayed harvest and extensive lodging reported in some of the major corn-producing counties. The crop is down 17 per cent from a year ago, with production expected to total 135 million bushels.

People once believed that ostriches hatched their eggs merely by looking at them.

Rains Lessen Peanut Worries

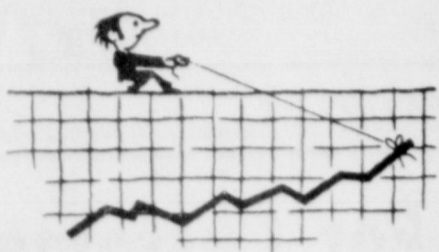

AUSTIN—The severe aflatoxin contamination problems encountered by Texas peanut farmers this season seem to have cooled a bit this year, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said.

Market point surveys conducted so far this year by the Texas Food Inspection Service show the incidence of aflatoxin contamination is down around 45 per cent from last year.

"Last season was one of the worst our farmers experienced in recent years," Brown said. "Fortune, drought-breaking rains, many of the state's peanut producing areas prior to harvest prior to harvest account for the decline in aflatoxin contamination year, since very dry weather contributes to the problem."

Although there have been widely publicized incidents of aflatoxin contamination in feed, the chance of aflatoxin entering the food chain is remote, he said.

AUSTIN—The State Coordinating Board for Colleges and Universities says Texas institutions of higher education must slow their expansion and emphasize quality.

In a 142-page report, the board said no more new public colleges or universities should be established, and that some existing programs are due a critical look.

"Substantial support will have to be maintained and perhaps even increased for colleges and universities already in operation . . . if high quality is to be sustained . . ." the report stated.

The study concluded: Enrollment increased less than one per cent in both public and private institutions last year and will increase only 16.9 per cent in the next 10 years.

Student expenses at public colleges increased from $1,972 five years ago to $2,829 today.

State funds going to higher education increased 354 per cent—from $676 million to $2.8 billion in a decade.

The board further recommended that the Permanent University Fund and the state property tax should be used for renovating and reconstructing buildings. The funds are now available for new construction only. The University of Texas at Austin and Texas A&M University at College Station are now sole beneficiaries from the PUF. Seventeen state colleges benefit from the ad valorem tax.

Save $48

The tax relief constitutional amendment on the November 7 ballot would save the average homeowner about $48 a year in property taxes, according to Texas Research League.

The League estimated savings would vary from $10 to $75 annually, because of the exemption on the first $5,000 of homestead values from school taxes.

According to the League, 15 per cent of homes would be exempted from paying any school tax, and in 50 districts 90 per cent of homes would be exempt.

Net result: a $104 million reduction in school taxes. The legislature also allowed the legislature to provide an additional $10,000 exemption to disabled homeowners and those over 65, which amounts to another $16 million a year reduction. And new tax breaks for agricultural land would cost 589 districts about $48 million while 353 would gain $15 million a year.

Grant Offered

Texas Air Control Board was offered a $2 million federal grant to work up a new state plan to control pollution.

The grant would come from the Environmental Protection Agency and amounts to nearly a quarter of the total board budget.

It is linked this year to the required "state implementation plan," which must be developed by January 1, and a transportation control program.

An auto inspection-maintenance program is required for areas which cannot meet federal ozone standards by 1982.

Air Control Board members have grumbled about refusing to accept strings-attached federal aid, but EPA officials predicted the grant again will be accepted.

Courts Speak

A divided Texas Supreme Court upheld its earlier decision supporting the Public Utility Commission's method of determining the telephone and electric rate base.

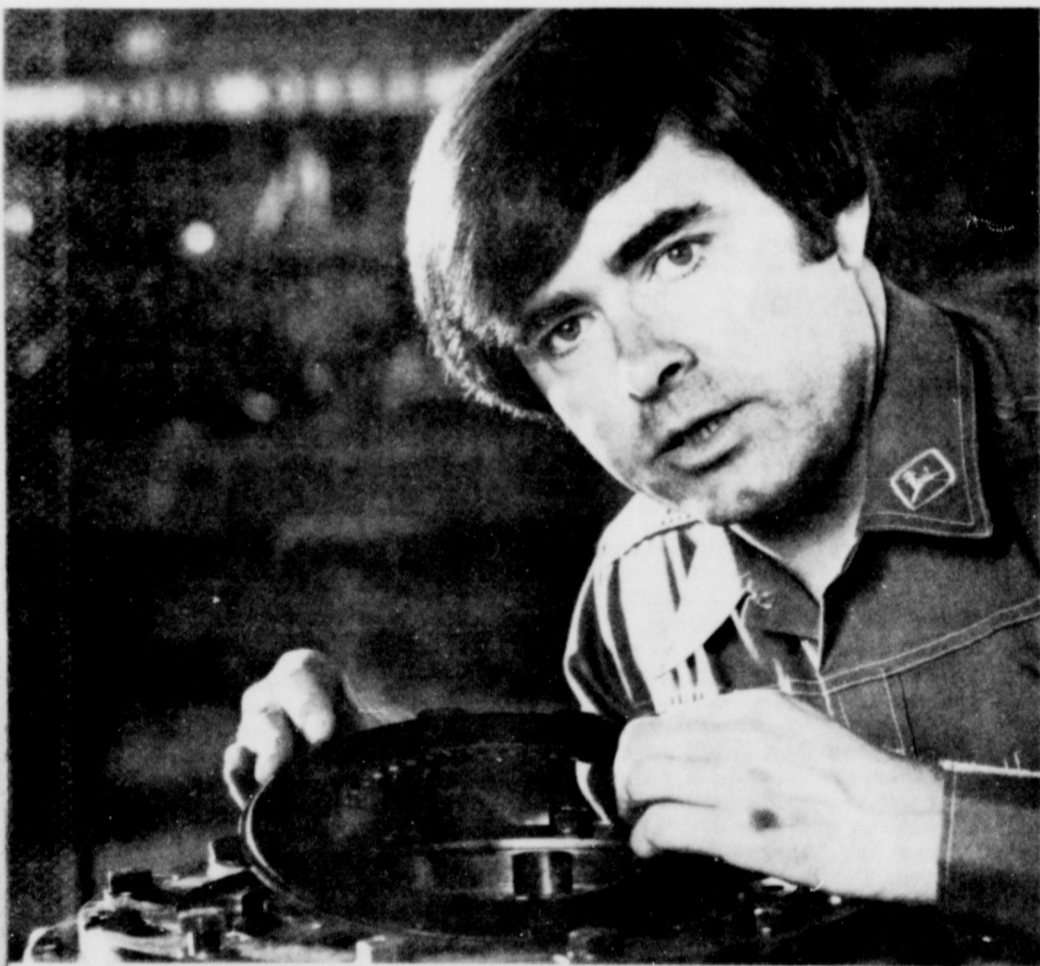

In another case, the court refused to remove a Houston law firm from a suit by Howard Hughes relatives against the Hughes Medical Institute's claim to be the only heir of the late industrialist.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals directed the state to pay cities of San Antonio and Floresville $611,000 in back taxes paid under protest to the Public Utility Commission.

Court of Criminal Appeals held possession of the antibiotic tetracycline is not an offense.

The same court also affirmed two convictions in an alleged murder-for-hire case in Houston.

The Supreme Court stuck with its earlier finding which Tahoka Bulldogs thumped Denver City Mustangs 19-6 last night and thumped Mustangs 19-6. The win gave Tahoka a 5-2 record in district play. The Bulldogs took the kickoff and marched 52 yards before the Mustangs stopped Tahoka at the 10 yard line. One third of the Mustangs punted to the Bulldogs. Dockery blocked a Mustang punt and recovered it in the end zone for the TD. The point after failed. Dockery intercepted a DC pass and returned it 28 yards. Tahoka was then aided by a pass interference call moving the ball another 21 yards before the half ended.

The Mustangs scored on the opening possession of the second half. They scored on a four yard pass with 7:25 left to play in the period. Tahoka scored early in the fourth quarter as Jerry Hatchett ran eleven yards for the score. The extra point was not good and Tahoka led 19-6.

Jerry Hatchett led the Bulldogs with 123 yards rushing. Clifford Oages had 95. Clifford Bailey had 36 in the first quarter before he was injured.

Rayford Harris led the Bulldogs defensively with 18 tackles. Dockery had 10, Carlton Ash had 10, Doug Barham had 10, and Brad White had 8.

BILL CLEMENTS

Texans have a clear-cut choice between the two major gubernatorial candidates this year -- one a conservative and the other, a liberal -- who offer totally different approaches to solving the challenges facing this state, gubernatorial candidate Bill Clements says.

"The pressures of a fast-changing world affect every state, even the more prosperous ones like Texas, and our state needs a governor who will provide strong, conservative, and business-like leadership in Austin," Clements says.

The gubernatorial candidates' stands on the issues clearly illustrate the broad philosophical differences between Clements, the conservative, and John Hill, the liberal, and their vastly different approaches to state government.

The following look at the candidates' stands on the issues indicates the clear choice offered Texas voters:

TAXES: To protect Texans from excessive taxation and runaway government spending, Clements has proposed a Taxpayer's Bill of Rights, a set of Constitutional amendments that would [1] ban state income taxes of any kind, [2] give Texans the right of initiative and referendum, [3] require a two-thirds record vote of both Houses of the Legislature to pass a tax bill, and [4] allow local taxpayers to call an election to ratify or reject tax increases granted by local governments.

His opponent merely wants to "freeze" taxes, not cut them as Clements proposes. During the recent special legislative session on tax relief, Mr. Hill strongly fought the measures in the Taxpayer's Bill of Rights in order to keep intact as much of the state surplus as possible so he could pay off his campaign promises to vested interest groups.

GOVERNMENTAL BUREAUCRACY: As a conservative, Clements stands for strong fiscal management and responsible government. He proposes to reduce the state bureaucracy by 25,000 employees over a four-year period through attrition. Clements also proposes a degree of reorganization within state government to eliminate overlapping, duplication, and redundancy. As Deputy Secretary of Defense in Washington he reduced the defense bureaucracy by 86,000 people in four years.

His opponent, during his six years as attorney general, has increased that office's budget by 600 percent and the staff by 300 percent. During his campaign, Mr. Hill has proposed the creation of seven new state agencies or offices. He has not committed himself to any specific reduction in the size of the state bureaucracy.

EDUCATION: Clements, a longtime member and former chairman of the board of governors of Southern Methodist University, believes that Texas schools should return to an emphasis on the basics -- reading, writing, and arithmetic, as well as stronger discipline in the classrooms. He supports mandatory competency tests for both teachers and students. He believes in adjusting teachers' salaries for inflation, with merit increases going only to teachers who earn them. He favors increasing the starting salary for teachers to make them comparable with other state agencies.

His opponent has no background in education and takes the typical bureaucrat's approach to solving problems. -- spending more taxpayers' dollars. He talks only in terms of spending more money, not demanding better results. He got a teachers' union endorsement in return for promising an across-the-board raise for teachers, regardless of their performance.

ENERGY: Clements, who has spent his adult life in the energy business, wants a national energy program that emphasizes the production of more energy and does not punish the energy-producing states such as Texas. Clements says Texas needs a governor who will not stand for Northeastern plundering of Texas' energy assets when an emergency hits.

His opponent has no experience in the energy business, and as an ally of the Carter Administration, he is not free to actively oppose the administration's energy program that is disastrous not only for Texas but for the entire nation.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT: Clements strongly believes that government closest to the people is the best government. He believes that local governments should control their own local matters so that authority does not gravitate toward Austin as state authority has gravitated toward Washington.

His opponent strongly supported a proposed new state Constitution in 1975 that would have further centralized governmental authority in Austin and would have created annual sessions of the state legislature. That proposed Constitution was overwhelmingly defeated by Texas voters.

AGRICULTURE: Clements believes that Texas farmers deserve fair market prices, that consider parity, for their products. He supports an aggressive national export policy and a corresponding Texas overseas marketing program to expand world markets for Texas farmers. He also strongly believes that new water resources need to be developed in Texas and that beef imports need to be controlled.

His opponent is in league with a national administration that has done nothing but hurt Texas farmers. Shortly after Mr. Hill talked to President Carter in Washington, after the primary, Carter lowered the beef importation tariffs, a decision that severely hurt Texas farmers and ranchers.

UNIONS: Clements wants a job-creating climate in Texas and he wants the working men and women of Texas protected from the excessive demands of the labor bosses. Clements strongly supports Texas' Right-to-Work law and he is absolutely opposed to public employee unions in any form.

His opponent was silent when he had the opportunity to specifically oppose the attempted Labor Reform Act which would have weakened Texas' Right-to-Work law. And, he stood by as his party endorsed collective bargaining for public employees. Mr. Hill has received the unanimous endorsement of the labor bosses.

CRIME: Clements believes that the most important goal is to get the repeat offenders off the streets. He also supports mandatory minimum sentences for specific crimes, so that a potential criminal clearly knows the consequences of his acts. Clements opposes gun control because it is an infringement on Constitutional rights.

His opponent's answer to fighting crime has been to increase the bureaucracy. He wants to establish a statewide grand jury, that would remove power from local grand juries.

Wilson Mustangs Win A Big Battle Against Klondike In Their Quest For The District Title

By Marsha Chisum

The Wilson Mustangs came out on top after playing one of their toughest ballgames of the season. They defeated Klondike 6-0 in a decisive district game. Both teams were 2-0 in district play going into the game--now Wilson alone is undefeated.

The ball exchanged hands twice before Klondike took its second possession on about the 20 and proceeded to slowly drive the ball down field picking up 4 first downs along the way. It was 3rd down and 11 to go with the ball on the 29 when Klondike took to the air only to be intercepted by Wilson. The Mustangs were able to get off one play--a five yard run by Calvin Wilke before the first quarter ended.

While the first quarter belonged to the Cougars the second was all the Mustangs. With 2nd down, Quarterback Mike Nettles ran for 22 yards to start a 91 yard drive in 13 plays ending in a touchdown by Wilke from 3 yards out. Nettles was credited with an important 11 yard run and Wilke two 17 yard runs to keep the drive going. Lucio Trevino's kick failed leaving a half-time score 6-0 in the Mustangs favor.

The Mustangs received the ball in the third quarter and proceeded to make three first downs before fumbling on the 37. Then Klondike took advantage and drove the ball to the 17 for their only penetration of the evening. With 1st and 17 to go for the Cougars the Mighty Mustangs dug in to prove they are worthy of their tough defensive reputation. The entire Wilson stands and teammates on the sidelines took up the chant "defense, defense" as they watched the almost impossible happening. Klondike finally had to turn over the ball on the 10 where Nettles broke for 20 yards to ease the minds of all the Wilson fans.

The fourth quarter proved to be a defensive battle with Klondike's last threatening drive with a little over 2 minutes left on the clock. They took the ball on the 22 and drove to the 28. With 1st and 10 on the 27 the tough Wilson defense broke through twice to cause the Cougars to loose yardage. With 4th and 23 the Cougars threw for a final time only to be knocked down by Wilson's Dan Cox. Wilson then played out the clock.

Klondike had 13 first downs to Wilson's 12. The Mustangs led in yards rushing with 209 to the Cougars 144. Wilke rushed for 137 yards followed by Nettles with 66.

Tony Garcia had 21 tackles for the Mustangs while Gilbert Acuna and Quintin Talkmitt both had 20.

The Mustangs are now 7-1 for the season and have only given up 14 points in those 8 games. They are the only undefeated team in their zone. They will meet the New Home Leopards there Friday evening at 7:30. A victory would clinch a zone title for the Wilson Mustangs.

APPLE PEELING BEE YIELDS SWEET REWARD

Ever hear of an "apple peeling bee"? It's an old fashioned way to turn work into pleasure. In "the good old days" horseback riders would race through the countryside to round up neighbors for the apple peeling bee. All the women folk would gather, bringing mince and pumpkin pie and other foods. How much they and their men folk enjoyed each others company as they peeled apples, later to be dried or made into apple butter—a sweet reward indeed!

This fall, the apple crop will be the second largest in 45 years, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). You may not have an "apple peeling bee", but what better way to enjoy your guest than with tasty apple treats, warm from the oven.

You'll get more flavor in baked apples if you choose varieties that are tart too the taste. McIntosh and Rome Beauty are two of the four major varieties USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) reports in heavy supply. Northern Spy, and Cortland are fall varieties that are also especially good for baking and general cooking.

Remember to spare the water and the sugar when cooking with apples. Apples have their own sweet, natural water content and can become too soft if special care is not taken.

Use just enough water to prevent the apples from sticking or scorching. Add little sugar to highlight the flavor; too much makes apples mushy.

Seasonings should be added with a gentle touch to enhance natural flavor, not smother it. Allspice, cinnamon, nutmeg, ginger, apple pie spice, coriander seed, anise seed, pumpkin pie spice, mince and fresh mint are a few spices especially suited for enhancing apple flavor.

Baked apples used to be the hallmark of the Northern Pacific Railroad in the days of great dining cars. Use the simple recipes below to bring great dining to your kitchen.

Put cored apples in a baking pan and fill the cavities with one or a combination of the following: butter, sugar, and raisins; brown sugar, maple syrup, or jam. Bake for one hour in a 350 degree oven and serve with sweet cream. If you are counting calories, fill the cavities with cinnamon and your favorite low-calorie soda.

For "Farmhouse Baked Apples", vary the above recipe slightly. For 12 apples you'll use a mixture of 1-1/2 cups cooked rice and 3/4 cups seedless raisins. Drizzle 3 cups warm maple syrup over the stuffed apples. Bake in 400 degree oven until apples are tender, about 45 minutes to one hour. Cover the pan for the first half hour of baking, then remove cover and baste apples with syrup, continue baking uncovered. Serve warm or cold with a pitcher of cream.

Apple Brown Betty
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups fine, dry crumbs
4 tart apples, pared & diced
3 tablespoons melted table fat
Mix sugar, cinnamon, salt. Put layer of crumbs in greased baking dish. Cover with layer of apples. Sprinkle with sugar mixture.

Continue until all ingredients are used. Have layer of crumbs on top. Pour melted fat over crumbs. Cover dish. Bake at 375 degree F. (moderate oven) 40 minutes. Remove cover the last 10 minutes to brown the top. Serves four.

Apple Coffee Cake
1 cup pancake mix
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup finely diced, peeled fresh apple
1/2 cup oil or melted butter
1/2 cup milk
1 egg
Combine pancake mix, sugar and apples in a bowl. Beat oil, milk and egg together; add to dry ingredients. Blend well. Pour into a buttered 8 inch square cake pan. Sprinkle spicy topping (see recipe) on batter. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 25-30 minutes. Serve warm.

PARKER PHARMACY

Pediatricians often recommend iron-enriched formula and cereal for infants and Gynecologists may advise pregnant women to take iron supplements. While iron requirements are usually ample in well-balanced diets, people who do require iron supplements need the advice of their physician or pharmacist in selecting the proper kind.

One group of experts reports that individuals needing iron, ONLY, respond well to ferrous sulfate or hydrated ferrous sulfate preparations. While individual dosage should be adjusted by your physician, treatment for iron deficiency generally involves taking a tablet at prescribed daily intervals. Iron is best absorbed on an empty stomach but it may be taken with meals to prevent gastrointestinal upset. Large consumption of iron can be poisonous and it should be kept out of reach of young children. You can depend upon your pharmacist for advice regarding the type of iron supplements available.

A Visit With Your County Agent

PRUSSIC ACID POISONING IN LIVESTOCK

Prussic acid poisoning will be hitting Lynn County before long, and this year's crop is expected to be the highest in livestock grazing history. Prussic acid is found in certain pasture grasses, such as sorghum, and is most dangerous to livestock when grazed in the morning. The toxin is released when the plant is cut or grazed and is most dangerous to livestock when grazed in the morning. The toxin is released when the plant is cut or grazed and is most dangerous to livestock when grazed in the morning.

supplement before turning them in on plants that may contain prussic acid. Animals that are not hungry will not be affected as seriously by toxic material since their intake will be limited. 3. Remove all animals from the pasture if one in the herd shows any signs of poisoning. 4. Call a veterinarian immediately if an animal appears to be poisoned. An antidote to treat affected animals is highly efficient if given early. This product is available from veterinarians. 5. Have suspect plant material checked by the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratories at College Station or Amarillo. Local veterinarians will be happy to submit samples for you.

The overall key to preventing prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then to keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period has passed. CULL OPEN, LATE CALVING COWS

Although the cattle market is strong at the present time, it's wise to "clean up" herds by culling open cows and giving more attention to a controlled breeding program by culling late calving cows. There's no need to put expensive winter feed into unproductive cows. Culling the cow herd now will also help you plan on hay and feed supplies for the winter months.

Also, pregnancy testing cows this fall may be a more profitable management tool than ever before. Since it's tough for a cow to produce a calf large enough to pay her feed bill, we know an open cow is surely losing money. In addition, cows calving during the summer months wean calves 30 to 99 pounds lighter than their herd mates which calve at other times. For this reason it's advisable to cull cows which will calve late next year and buy a replacement which will calve early.

Whoever does the pregnancy diagnosis (usually your veterinarian) will be able to estimate the calving date on each animal and make it easy to identify next year's late calving cows. Your definition of a late calving cow should change every year until your calving season has been reduced to 60 days preferably, and certainly no longer than 90 days.

Removing barren and late calving cows from the herd will increase both the herd's reproductive potential and pounds of calf weaned.

The Thomas family, formerly of Grassland, held a reunion Saturday, October 28 at the South Park Inn in Lubbock. There were about 50 persons that attended the noon lunch and an afternoon of visiting.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stillwell of Austin; Mr. Tommy Arnold and son "Bo"; Mrs. Vada Holt of Texarkana; Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Yeary; Mr. Cleo Yeary and Mrs. Jess Moyer from Weatherford; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Graves from Hobbs, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Ferman Chapman of Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Thomas and Kirk; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mock; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Aten, Bill Aten and Debbie Josey; Mrs. Eva Childs; Mr. W. H. Childs; Mr. and Mrs. James Aten and Mike of Post.

Mrs. Willie Thomas, Mrs. Etta Burk, Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Lawson, Cindy and Susie of Tahoka. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Young, Mrs. Grace Thomas, Mrs. Ann Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, Miranda and Marissa, Mr. Mark Martin, Alan and Leslie, Miss Dana Martin of Lubbock were all guests.

The co-hostesses of the gathering were JoAnn Mock and Hazel Young.

THE BLOW SEASON is here once again. There is good moisture in the soil now but what will it be two or three months from now. There is plenty of time to do something which will help. Some land owners are already spreading burs on turnrows and borders. Many others have seeded wheat. Both are good practices and the Soil Conservation Service suggests that others also consider this practice. It doesn't cost much and it really works. So, seed those terraces, turnrows and borders and keep your soil from blowing.

Officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, are encouraging every PCG member to go to the polls and vote his convictions on November 7.

Prohibited by law from endorsing political candidates, PCG is stressing the need for individual members to become involved in the political process, plus the added importance this year of a heavy farm vote influence on the fate of the "tax relief amendment."

The tax relief proposal will appear on the November 7 ballot as one of nine proposed constitutional amendments. Designated as House Joint Resolution No. 1, it reads "... a constitutional amendment relating to ad valorem taxation of agricultural property, exemptions of certain property from taxation, and conditions for increases in total property tax revenues."

In addition to farmers and ranchers the amendment offers hope for property tax relief for homeowners, the elderly and disabled. "There is definitely a need to relieve the heavy and unfair tax burden borne by Texas farmers and ranchers," stated PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson in a recent interview. "As pointed out in an analysis of the problem by the Texas Farm Bureau," he continues, "the property tax in Texas was intended as a general tax on all property and all wealth but has become primarily a tax on real estate. And since farmers and ranchers own and use more real estate than most others they have been paying an unfair share of the State's property taxes." Passage of the amendment November 7, Johnson says, will not necessarily mean an elimination of the inequities of property taxation. "What it will do," he adds, "is give the State legislature a mandate to provide for taxation of land used for the production of crops, livestock and timber on its value for the production of those commodities, not on its value for development speculation or other purposes."

The exact method of figuring land value for tax purposes on its productive capacity will be determined by the legislature, and Johnson makes the point that the fairness of that method will depend to some extent on who is sent to the legislature in the November 7 elections.

"Which simply means that people in agriculture should cast every eligible vote on election day to assure the success of those candidates best able and qualified to represent their interests."

Drought Causes Honey Reduction

AUSTIN--The Texas honey industry is feeling the effects of this year's widespread drought, and production from commercial apiaries is expected to drop by 22 per cent, according to the Texas Department of Agriculture.

With 16,000 fewer bee colonies this year than in 1977, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service predicts honey production will be down to less than five million pounds, compared to 6.36 million pounds last year.

"Texas ranked third in the nation in number of bee colonies in 1977," commented Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, "but dry weather, plus heavy flooding when the rains did come, caused many apiaries to move to more favorable out-of-state locations.

"We hope this is a temporary move," Brown said, "and that the weather improves next year to help the industry gain strength in the state."

Throughout the rest of the U. S., production is expected to increase 44 per cent above last year, up to almost 150 million pounds. Yield per colony is predicted at 74.6 pounds in 20 selected honey producing states, compared to only 55 pounds per colony in Texas.

Cotton Prices Still Holding

Prices High Plains cotton growers received were around $5 to $7 per bale higher the week ending October 27, according to Paul R. Dickson, area Director at USDA's Marketing Services Office in Lubbock.

Growers with mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 30-33, mikes 3.5-4.9 around 58.35 cents per pound. New crop lots of mostly grades 42 and 52, staples 30 and 31, mikes 3.5-4.9 brought about 55.10 cents per pound, Dickson said.

High Plains Marketing Services Offices graded 39,800 samples this week, bringing the season's total to 71,600. This compares with 561,000 graded by October 27 last year, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Predominant High Plains grades this week were grade 41 at 19 percent, grade 32 was 15 percent, grade 42 accounted for 41 percent, and grade 52 was seven percent. Four percent were reduced one grade because of bark.

Staple lengths were mostly staple 30 at 24 percent, staple 31 was 32 percent and staple 32 accounted for 25 percent.

Micronaire was mostly in the desirable 3.5-4.9 range at 92 percent of the total. Three percent was higher and five percent was lower.

Gins paid growers $95 to $120 dollars per ton for cottonseed mostly $95 to $110.

KENNETH SCOTT GETS FIRST HOLE-IN-ONE

Kenneth Scott mastered his very first hole-in-one on October 25, which was his birthday. It was on Hole Number 3 at the T-Bar Country Club golf course and Jerry Griffin was the witness that it really did happen that way.

This Land Of Ours

This land of ours was built upon Christian Principles from the beginning I wonder just now how far we are into the falling away that Paul spoke of in 2 Thessalonians? God from the first founding of this Nation gave us the Constitution of the United States of America. In this Constitution there are Amendments to Protect the church. (The first Amendment states that Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion. Or prohibiting free exercise thereof.)

(The 14th in part, section 1: No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of the Citizens of the United States.) To save time and space we used only part of these amendments and if you will look them up and read them all and you will find that the remainder of these two amendments does not in no way refute what I am about to say. There is and has been since the days of the Apostles a move on to destroy the church! Please do not misunderstand me here at this point for I am not talking about my church, her church, or his church. I am as does the scriptures speak of The Church of the living God. There is no such thing in God's sight such as all of these bits and pieces such as we have today. But we are all one if we are in Christ. Now we because of apathy in God's people have elected men and are electing these men that have demonstrated this very principal of destruction.

Here at this point I must make mention of these two men in 1974 and 1975 there was a law suit brought against the Roloff Enterprises which is a church operated enterprise. This law suit was by the office of the Attorney General of the state of Texas whose head was Mr. John Hill and Mr. Short who was one of our representatives at that time expressed support to that same end.

They are trying close a church enterprise or operation on the pretense that he must get a license. Now what did we read in the 1st & 14th amendments?? We know that we have had laws that would give due punishment to any criminal if there was a crime element there. Now we sit by and let this happen and now I.R.S. is perposing to take away the tax exempt status of the Church if we discriminate against any person. Now on the surface this would seem good but according State who would the Church be discriminating against next?

The homosexuals? The abortionist? The Lesbians? and on and on. Now friend the next thing you and I will see will be that these kind of people will be running the Church. Just as the Communist are creeping into high positions in all levels of government now and forcing their kind of doctrine upon this Nation and people. Friends these two Amendments that we mentioned were not accidental, but put there by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit of God for the protection of his Church. But if we sit idle while Satan works and don't demand that these Amendments be up held and try to elect men that will uphold them. Then we are closer to the Anti Christ days than we think. And again I have not said these things to try to destroy any man. But to try and point out to you some doctrines that this Nation and people do not need. So if I have offended you in what I have said then please forgive me and remember you are the one to decide when you go to the place where you vote and please do vote.

Clothing Care ALERT

LEATHER AND SUEDE NEED SPECIAL CARE

Leather and suede garments are beautiful to own and comfortable to wear... and they are durable enough to give you years of service... if you take proper care of them.

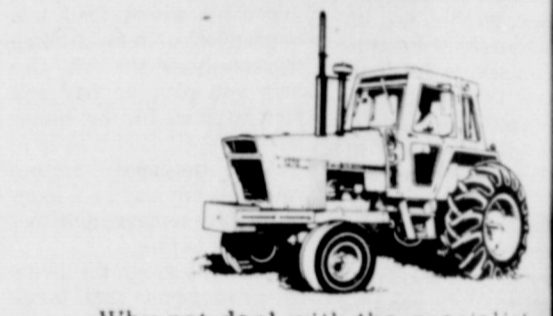

Members of the International Fabricare Institute (IFI), the association of drycleaners and laundries, offer these suggestions for selecting and caring for your leather and suede garments:

- Before buying, read care labels and hang tags carefully. (Save them, in case you can't remember the care recommendations.)
- Inspect the garment carefully for defects. Marks such as insect bites and tick marks, though covered very well in the original dyeing of the hides, often become more obvious after wearing and cleaning.
- Be sure that all the parts of the garment are closely matched in color. Differences in color become more apparent after cleaning.
- Check trim and hardware. They should be firmly attached, since they may loosen during the mechanical action of the usual cleaning procedures.
- The IFI experts also offer these tips for caring for your garment after you bring it home:
 - Allow your leathers breathing space. Store in a cool, airy closet. Don't cover your leather garments with plastic bags.

County Cancer Society Joins No Smoke Day

The Great American Smoke Out will be one day, November 16, and the American Cancer Society is asking all smokers to give up smoking for at least that one day. The Lynn County Chapter of the American Cancer Society has joined forces with the group and hopes Lynn County will actively participate.

The United States Surgeon General has reported that despite intensive warning campaigns, more than half of all teenagers ignore the scientifically proved dangers to their health and become regular cigarette smokers by the time they are eighteen.

Yet cigarette smoking, according to Dr. David Midkiff, is estimated to cause upwards of 75 percent of all cases of lung cancer which last year killed about 69,000 in the United States--56,000 men and almost 13,000 women.

Because of the teenage smoking trend and the tremendous toll of lung cancer "which has been called a national health catastrophe," Dr. Midkiff said, the American Cancer Society is engaged in a five-year educational program to reduce cigarette smoking among teenagers by 50% and in the general public by 25%.

"The goal is realistic," he said. The aim should be a 100% halt to all cigarette smoking in all population groups. But experience is a hard teacher, and more than 10 years of effort have proved to the Society the difficulty of changing people's habits--of persuading them to give up smoking or, better still, never to start.

"People often do not react as they should. They would react with shock if a plane or ship or train crashed daily, taking more than 100 lives each day. The shock would be even greater if the crashes were avoidable, the result of carelessness. We have a real breakthrough in our knowledge of how lung cancer develops and can be prevented. But the fact that lung cancer took 180 lives each day last year does not seem shocking enough to create positive action," Midkiff stated.

Nevertheless, Dr. Midkiff said, the American Cancer Society has reason to believe that people can be motivated to take proper action if they are continuously reminded of the facts. It believes that most people will eventually make the right decision if they are constantly confronted with facts, not moralizing.

"The Society emphasizes," he said, "that the time to stop smoking is now. It is not true that after many years of smoking it is useless to quit. The body has a great capacity to repair itself, given a chance.

"Also, if one is a parent, there is an added reason for giving up cigarettes. If a parent continues to smoke, the chances are his children will smoke, too. The problem is one of continuous persuasive education, elimination of examples (youngsters like to prove they are adult by doing what adults do) and an end to the promotion of cigarette smoking as an enjoyable, attractive expression of adulthood, being a 'real' woman, a 'real' man."

Russian Government Buys 460 Santa Gertrudis on TDA Tour

AUSTIN—A purchase of 460 head of Santa Gertrudis breeding stock from six Texas ranches has been made by the Russian government, reports Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

The 450 purebred heifers and 10 bulls were selected from ranches in Bay City, Palo Pinto, Fort Worth, Alice, Riviera and Waco.

"The Russians are just now going into the beef business on a large scale," said Brown. "Because Texas has the finest breeding cattle, they came to us."

Representing the Soviet government were Dr. Ivan I. Yashenko, deputy director of the All-Union Williams

Fodder Research Institute, Moscow region, and Dr. Yuriy Shatokhin. They also purchased some Holstein dairy cattle.

Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) export personnel provided transportation for the Russians during the three-week visit. TDA personnel also took blood samples to laboratories for testing, a step necessary for health certification of export animals.

Texas poultrymen produced 194 million eggs in August, a 7-per-cent rise over last year, reports Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Most newspapers pick Hill over Clements

"John Hill may be the best candidate for governor in decades. Judging from his record, he should win easily over his Republican opponent, whose chief qualification is money. Unlike his opponent, Hill is not given to outrageous promises, intemperate personal attack or underhanded tactics. He will work hard for the best interests of the state and its people."

— Austin American Statesman

"The more Mr. Clements has explained his blunt viewpoints — even those views we could agree with — the more he has raised doubt as to how effective a bulldozer could be in Texas government. Conversely, John Hill has grown in our evaluation as a man who not only is the best state attorney general in recent history, but also is a man with the intelligence, savvy and ability to serve Texas well as governor."

— Abilene Reporter-News

"We believe Hill will bring vitality and leadership to state government. Hill is not an advocate of big government. Nor is he a free spender. He has pledged that no new taxes will be levied if he is elected. His anti-inflation program is the kind of fiscal conservatism Texans can accept gleefully."

— Corpus Christi Caller

We want to thank everyone who remembered Melissa while she was in the hospital. The cards, gifts and phone calls kept her occupied and made her stay much easier. Thank you. We also thank everyone who offered all kinds of help from sitting with Melissa to transporting our other children to their various functions. It is nice to have so many thoughtful friends.
