Nobody Questions County Tax Raise

The rain that put everybody in a good mood may have been a factor, but never the reason, nobody showed up at a public hearing Monday afternoon to protest a proposed 66 percent increase in county taxes.

Commissioners at their last regular meeting agreed that the tax increase is necessary if the county is to continue offering even the basic services, since costs of all operations have continued to increase more than projected revenues.

At next Tuesday's meeting the group also will consider charges to cities for prisoners housed in the county jail, and consider buying a new car for the sheriff's office.

134 In County To Graduate

Commencement exercises in four county schools will end formal public school education for 134 county students. New Home, O'Donnell, Tahoka and Wilson each will honor their top ranking students in separate commencement exercises at the end of this week.

Various awards and special recognition were bestowed on the students in ceremonies and assemblies last week. These commencement exercises will serve a dual purpose by ending one era and opening the door to a new experience for each student.

NEW HOME

Twenty-four graduates will participate in graduation exercises Friday night at 8 p.m. on the football field or in the gym in case of bad weather. Highlight of the evening will be addresses from the valedictorian, Reena Burrow, and salutatorian, Donette Hancock, of the class.

Presentation of honors and graduates will be made by high school principal James Blake.

Presentation of diplomas will be made by Supt. Russell Howle and Board President Donald Hancock.

TAHOKA

Sixty graduates from Tahoka High School will participate in commencement exercises at 8 p.m. on Kelley Field. Special speakers for the evening will be Bryan Moore, salutatorian, and Carlton Ash, valedictorian.

Commendatory remarks will be made by Supt. of Schools Jim Coulston and presentation of diplomas will be made by Board President Bob Haney.

The class will sing their class song and the audience will join them in the Alma Mater.

WILSON

Eighteen seniors will receive diplomas at graduation exercises Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The valedictory address will be made by June Schwertner and the salutatory address will be made by Cindy Freitag.

The class will be presented by Principal Gary Cox and diplomas will be presented by Supt. L. F. Jacobs and Board President Tom Autry.

Junior High graduation will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium and special awards to faculty, employees and board members will be made at this time.

O'DONNELL

Thirty-two students from O'Donnell will be the first class to graduate from the new school. Commencement exercises will be Thursday, May 24, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Valedictorian Charmi Denise Wood and Salutatorian Shonda Wayne Robison each will address the group.

Social Security Office Moves

The Social Security office in Lynn County has moved out of the courthouse into the Senior Citizens building at S. 2nd and Ave. K, field representative Jim Latimer reported.

A social security representative will be on hand on the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month to answer any questions regarding the program.

Dry Land Gets Rain In County

By FRANK HILL

Rains finally came the first of the week that will ensure most Lynn County farmers getting cotton crops off to a start.

Up until Tuesday noon, Tahoka had received .95 of an inch total for Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, and reports indicated this much and up to about 2.25 inches had been received over the county with the exception of an area around O'Donnell, where only about a half inch had been received.

Virtually all irrigated cotton had been planted, and some dryland was up or coming up, particularly in the north part of the county. Last week, some farmers had started dry planting, hoping that a shower would bring the seed up. County Agent Stanley Young estimates that probably 50 percent of the county had been planted.

As soon as land is dry enough, the rest now will be planted.

Deep soil moisture from rains last fall has been excellent over the county, but rainfall through April has been lighter than average, and only .41, less than half of normal, came in April in Tahoka.

Total rainfall since Jan. 1 in Tahoka now totals only 4.34 inches up to Tuesday noon in Tahoka, although more than this had been received in some of the county, much less in other parts. Even where sufficient moisture had fallen, high winds had dried off the topsoil.

The New Home, Lakeview and Petty areas, already in fair shape, received an inch to two inches this week. Part of the Wilson area was also in good shape already and some areas to the east toward Slaton and Southland, but moisture was badly needed to the southeast of Wilson.

From New Lynn south and west to Edith, Grassland and Draw the land was already in fair shape from previous rains. South of Draw was dry, and most of the territory back to Joe Bailey, Midway, and on to the west. Also, the Wells, T-Bar, Newmoore, Threelakes, and West Point areas needed this week's rains very badly.

Although about two weeks late, most farmers, with good luck, will be able to get a crop planted and underway.

The rains began Sunday evening when a light rain preceded by a cloud of dust reminiscent of the Dust Bowl days rolled in from the southwest.

The Tahoka weather observer received only .07 inch from that shower, but a hard shower that night amounted to .26 inch, followed Monday by another .25, and up until Tuesday noon by .37 inch for a total of ground soaking .95 inch total.

National Weather Service has predicted more rain is possible before the weekend.

Tahoka Sets Amateur Rodeo Dates

The Tahoka Amateur Rodeo will be held June 14, 15, and 16 with nightly performances at 8 p.m. A portion of the proceeds will benefit the American Cancer Society.

Rodeo parade will be held June 14 at 6 p.m. and will include floats, riding clubs and etc.

Events being offered include: saddle bronc, bull riding, calf roping tie-down, ribbon roping, bareback riding, barrel racing (one run) and team roping (can center twice).

Entries will be accepted by phone only and the number to call is 806-792-9924.

Rotary Club Views Movies

Jim Pyburn, minister of Tahoka Church of Christ, spoke and showed films of his home state of Wisconsin to members and guests of Tahoka Rotary Club at Thursday noon's meeting.

Pyburn's films emphasized draft horses and how they are used in the northern part of the nation. Pyburn himself has four Belgian draft horses.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION--Use of three-wheel all-terrain vehicles brought national coverage for the Tahoka SCS field office because they were the first to use such a vehicle to lower expenses of field services. Surveying terrace lines consumes a large portion of SCS time. The use of walkie talkies has helped to eliminate errors due to hand signals and the three-wheeler reduces time normally spent walking during the surveys. A national SCS publication cited the unit for their originality and as a result state officials from Temple have been in contact with the Lynn County unit to pattern other operations from their idea. See story page 10.

Officers Investigate Wrecks, Birdnapping

Two auto accidents in the city were investigated during the last week by Tahoka Police Dept. Officers also issued citations on three offenses, tracked down a barefoot bird snatcher, and learned that what was first thought to be vandalism at a church was the work of the minister.

About 3:20 p.m. Sunday at Lockwood and Main a 1979 Buick driven by Shirley Dollett Breshear of Abilene struck a parked 1979 Ford pickup owned by H. H. Bain, Rt. 5, Tahoka.

At N. 7th and Ave. M about 6:30 p.m. Tuesday a collision involved a 1971 Ford driven by Rebecca Heaton Lewis of Lubbock and a 1974 Buick driven by Karen Rene Stewart of Tahoka.

Mrs. J. W. Jolly, 1201 S. 2nd, notified police Sunday that two pheasants had been stolen from a pen, at her home. An officer noticed a barefoot print on the ground near the pen and followed the prints to a residence in the area where the pheasants were recovered. The prints were of a small boy who had accompanied his older brother during the birdnapping. No charges were filed after payment was made for damage to the pen. The pheasants were unharmed, but the officer who brought them back got a scratch on his arm.

A woman who complained to police Saturday evening that the Church of Christ sign had been painted over by vandals came back Sunday to report that the minister had done the painting preparatory to painting a new sign.

Police issued tickets during the week for speeding, no drivers license and for disorderly conduct. In the latter case, a 19-year-old man paid a fine of $13.50 in city court on charges relating to a dispute involving a female companion.

Officers also located an 11-year-old girl who was missing for a brief time Monday.

Sheriff's deputies investigated a report of a car burglary near New Home late Saturday night or early Sunday, with items valued at a total of about $760 stolen from a 1969 Mustang which had been left parked on FM 1730 about a half mile from New Home.

The car belonged to Leon

Moreno and a window glass was broken to get into the vehicle. Stolen were a CB radio, stereo speaker, tape case, five rings, a watch, jacket, air filter and other articles.

There also was a report from Derek Dodson of Tahoka that a pickup left parked outside the city limits because of mechanical trouble had been burglarized. Reportedly stolen were a CB radio, Remington 12 gauge shotgun, tool box and tools, with total value of all missing items estimated at about $1,000. A window glass also was broken out to gain entry to the pickup.

GRADUATION and ginger roots should be good for discussion this week, the first because it's the big week for seniors in Tahoka, Wilson, O'Donnell and New Home high schools, and the second because a guy brought me some.

It's traditional, merchants and individuals in county are sponsoring special advertisements congratulating the seniors in all four schools. The pictures of all the seniors are being included also in this issue of the News.

Working on this graduation edition I noticed last year Mary Brecheen wrote about some named Polonius and Laertes. Mary wrote a good column and she obviously has a more red background than I do, since I would have had Laertes to be one of Danny Martinez' lives, and Polonius to be some kind of Dodge.

Anyway, the story she related (from Hamlet) about Polonius, the daddy, giving some advice to Laertes, the son, when the latter was to go off for college, and how the advice still is good today.

I don't know about the youngsters around here, but my kids quit listening to my advice when they were about 14 years old and didn't start listening until a year or two after graduation from school. (Just because I advised my son to go to college and outside to that big guy in Babe Ruth and the guy hit it across Hwy. 87 in view.)

Graduation is the day a youngster finally reaches an important goal, and the achievement is worthy of recognition, if only to flaunt your name in front of your aunts and uncles and brothers and sisters who thought you'd never do it.

Obviously it is a major milestone in the life of a person, and parents and the graduates all have every right to be proud.

GINGER ROOT is a really strange-looking kind of like a potato drawn by Dr. Seuss. My Withers, a truck driver for the Ben. E. Co., brought me one of these along with a bunch of some jicama which he delivers to some of the grocery markets.

It seems that he read about my experience with ginger in last week's paper, and came by to let me know that although I did misspell it, I came close (I misspelled it to be "jicima").

He also said he tried to find out more about it, but he couldn't learn much. The label he showed me says it is grown in Mexico, and in fact, came from Tijuana.

He brought along the ginger roots and some sun-dried ginger. I just to illustrate that there are some other plants being delivered. Presumably the ginger also are eaten in some form or other, since some come on produce trucks, but he didn't know how they are prepared.

If anybody wants one, just come by the News.

A WORCESTERED SAUCE FOR FRESH VEGETABLES

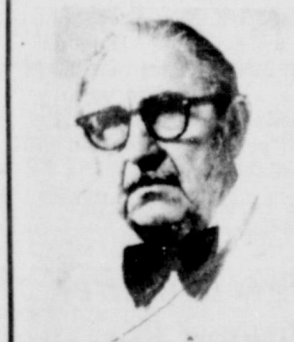

With the season of garden abundance almost upon us, fresh vegetables will be here to be consumed in whatever style we wish. One of the simplest and tastiest ways is to steam them and serve with a well-seasoned butter sauce. And one of the simplest and tastiest sauces is made the English way, with a seasoning of Worcestershire sauce. The Worcestershire is combined with butter or margarine, lemon juice and Parmesan cheese. This has a particularly wonderful effect on green beans, carrots, cauliflower, broccoli, zucchini, asparagus and mushrooms. It can be made ahead, refrigerated, tightly covered, and heated before serving.

BUTTERY SAUCE FOR VEGETABLES

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese (optional)
- 1 tablespoon original Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

In a saucepan melt butter. Remove from heat. Add Parmesan cheese (if desired), Worcestershire sauce, lemon juice and salt. Pour over cooked vegetables such as lightly cooked green beans, carrot slices, broccoli, asparagus etc. Yield: 1/2 cup.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

The rains finally came. I hope this is one of the general rains Lynn County has received in some even though the amounts varied widely, most of the county did get some rain.

With the rains, cotton planting will resume at a rapid pace. As we look at the calendar it is starting to get late in the planting season. Questions, lately, have been received as to "what are the varieties adapted for late planting?" The following list may provide some of the answers:

Very Early Maturing
Casco B-2; Early Cot 31; Lamesa E-10; Mor-Cot M-74; and Paymaster 792.

Early Maturing
Dawson B-25; Delta Pine SR-4; Dunn 120; G & P 3774; GSA 71; Lockett 77; Lockett 4789A; Tamcot SP-21; Tamcot SP-37; Northern Star R4-A; Paymaster 303; Paymaster 785; Quapaw; Ricot 90A; Stripper 31A; Stripper 31; Stripper 32; and Tamcot SP-23.

Also is verticillium wilt has been a problem on your land you might should consider planting a variety with some known tolerance to wilt. The following varieties have some of the known tolerance: Dawson V-14; Paymaster 266; Paymaster 303; Tamcot 788; Dunn 118; Dunn 120; Gregg 35W; Tamcot Sp-23; Casco L-7; Dawson B-25; and Tamcot Sp-21.

Hopefully, these rains will have initiated the beginning of a good crop year. With good management and a little help from "Mother Nature", this hope can be fulfilled.

Are you speaking English or American? If you've watched enough old Alec Guinness movies on TV, you no doubt are aware that the British have an odd command of the language, especially concerning cars. We put our suitcases in the trunk, our transatlantic cousins put theirs in the boot. Other comparisons? Hood versus bonnet; truck versus lorry. It gets stranger. A shock absorber is a damper. A station wagon is called an estate car, or if you prefer, a shooting brake. The British call a fender a wing. And if a Londoner offers you a ride in a saloon, he probably means a sedan. If you're offered a ride in a Pub, that's something else.

See the Motorcycle? A Los Angeles study showed that over half of all motorcycle accidents are caused by motorists who said they either didn't see the cyclist at all or didn't see him until it was too late. Street intersections are the worst danger zones. Both bikers and drivers should be looking out for each other here. The most frequent cause of a motorcycle accident was a motorist turning directly into an oncoming cycle's path. This helps explain why a Texas study found "the most likely area of the body to be injured (in a typical frontal impact motorcycle accident) is the head. When the head is left unprotected, the possibility of serious injury or death is significantly increased."

Who invented the motorcycle? A German engineer named Gottlieb Daimler. In 1885 he was looking for a way to test a lightweight engine. So he built a bicycle, installed the 1/4 horsepower engine, and rattled off on an 18 mile road test.

Fastest motorcycle ever made? The Silver Bird Streamliner, 21 feet long and powered by two 750 cc engines. Donald Vesco pushed The Silver Bird to 307.692 MPH at the Bonneville Salt Flats in 1975.

The Marathon Award, however, goes to a trio of Australians who rode one cycle 8,432 miles for 21 days in 1977 to establish 500 hours as the longest time one motorcycle was kept in continuous motion.

But no matter how long you're on your motorcycle, statistics prove that your chances of being killed in an accident are 150% greater if you're not wearing a helmet.

Tax Rebate

Up For Month

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday said rebates to Texas cities of the one-percent optional sales tax are running about 10 percent higher this year over the same period last year.

Bullock announced that Texas cities during the first five months of 1979 have received a total of $150.3 million, compared to receipts of $135.5 million during the same period last year.

Bullock said the May allocation of the one-percent city sales tax for more than 900 Texas cities will be $15 million, compared to a 1978 statewide allocation of $13.8 million for the month. Tahoka will receive $1,789.06 for the month, compared to $1,484 last May, but for the year is running 4 per cent under the 1978 total for five months.

Dallas will get a check for $1.6 million, up from $1.5 million in May of 1978.

Fort Worth's check this month will total $635,062, compared to a payment of $451,380 for the same period last year.

Houston will receive $3.4 million in rebates this month, compared to a $3 million monthly payment last year.

Wilson is exactly the same as last year for the five-month total, while O'Donnell is running 28 per cent behind last year's total, according to Bullock's figures.

Suppose you're suddenly injured in a strange town, in need of a transfusion and unconscious. Would the emergency medical team find your blood type quickly enough to save your life? Though it seems unlikely, situations such as this arise daily. For several years, individuals with chronic health problems such as heart disease and diabetes, those with drug allergies, and wearers of contact lenses have carried medical information cards with them and worn medical-alert jewelry. The practice saves lives. But are these precautions just for those with problems? The newest trend is for EVERYONE to make health information about themselves available. Even if you're healthy, it's wise to wear and carry the following information at all times: blood type, tolerance to penicillin and tetanus vaccine, your physician's name, address and telephone number.

Tiny Wasps May Solve Big Bollworm Problem

Cotton bollworms and tobacco budworms, which destroy about a billion dollars worth of the nation's crop annually, are getting tougher to control each crop season.

A possible solution is a tiny parasitic wasp. A wasp no bigger than the period at the end of this sentence.

The generic name for these tiny wasps is Trichogramma, and they are a natural parasite of bollworm and budworm eggs. A mass-production facility, operated at the USDA-SEA Cotton Insects Research Lab in College Station, by Richard Morrison, hatches and rears these wasps by the millions under controlled conditions as a part of a major pest management project.

Trichogramma work to combat bollworms and budworms effectively and does not present some of the problems that are sometimes associated with broad spectrum insecticides. The wasps are usually flown on a field by airplane. The Trichogramma then find the budworm or bollworm eggs on a cotton plant and sting the eggs to kill them. They bore a hole in each egg and lay their own egg inside. When the Trichogramma egg hatches, it goes through the larval and pupal stages within the budworm or bollworm egg and then emerges as an adult, ready to find more eggs. By releasing large numbers of Trichogramma, scientists at College Station have been able to achieve high levels of kill of pest eggs in heavily infested fields of cotton.

"Farmers are beginning to realize that beneficial insects such as the Trichogramma wasps are a valuable resource," said Dr. Roger Ables, another of the scientists working on biological control at College Station. "Under the proper conditions beneficial insects can be quite useful, if you can conserve them through careful and selective use of insecticides, then it may be possible to reduce the costs of pest control."

"We've got to get away from our dependence on broad spectrum insecticides. Those that wipe out everything in the field. We've got to go to more selective chemicals which affect the target pest while having relatively little or no effect on our beneficial insects," Ables concluded.

Some of the research funding for Trichogramma was made possible by cotton producers through Cotton Incorporated.

Trichogramma are currently available from a number of insectaries across the country. The price for Trichogramma varies from place to place, but usually ranges from about eight cents to about twenty cents per thousand.

County SCS Office Gains Recognition

By CAROLYN KLAUS

Soil Stewardship week is being observed this week, May 20-27. Various churches in the county observed the beginning of the week with special additions to their regular services. One of the most important aspects of soil stewardship is the Soil Conservation Service which works regularly with area farmers and homeowners to improve soil conservation practices.

The Lynn County branch of the United States Soil Conservation Service, headed by Eual Davis, District Conservationist, has been making rapid progress in gaining recognition for the county.

Recently Davis was presented an award for outstanding leadership in directing field office operations to achieve commendable planning and application goals in Lynn County. Approximately 10 of these awards are presented each year over the whole state which includes at least 200 field offices like the one in Tahoka.

National recognition came to this office in the form of a feature story in a national publication of the Soil Conservation Service (SCS). The Tahoka unit was the first in Texas to use a 3-wheel all-terrain vehicle in their work. According to Davis it speeds up the operations of staking terrace lines and various other measuring services which require large amounts of footwork. Officials from the state headquarters in Temple have visited the Tahoka office to observe their use of the vehicle in an effort to incorporate the usage in other offices.

Accomplishments for this office include other outstanding records for the unit. One is the 2,035 services provided the residents of the county, with this being the highest number provided by a single unit in the 14-county Big Spring area.

Contracts and use of the 3-wheeler resulted in 9 miles per technical service which is the lowest miles traveled in the 14-county Big Spring area even though Lynn County is average in size compared with the other counties.

These various accomplishments have made the Tahoka field office an official training unit for college students interested in SCS for permanent employment and for new hirings for the SCS. The office will also achieve another "first" this summer by training their first female college student.

"She may be the first female trainee for the 14-county Big Spring area," Davis commented.

Services of the SCS include terrace placement, a working knowledge of native grasses, weeds and solutions on cotton has neared 500 million dollars, and to all crops nearly 1 billion dollars per year. Thus, biological control may represent a logical answer to the problem; with more research, Trichogramma may prove to be an important weapon in our pest control arsenal.

if they present a problem, all aspects of irrigation of crops or grassland, and farmstead wind breaks.

"The main duty of the SCS," Davis explained, "is working with landowners in planning and applying conservation practices."

The Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation Board works closely with the local SCS and helps enable them to make greater strides in recognition for Lynn County and Tahoka.

Davis came to Tahoka as head of the office in June.

1973; David Brinegar joined the staff in October, 1975; Bill Bueermann came October, 1978; and L. D. Harris and Donald Klaus are employed part-time.

CONSERVATIONIST RECEIVES AWARD—Eual Davis, District Conservationist with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, receives a plaque for outstanding leadership in directing field office operations to achieve commendable planning and application goals in Lynn County. Earl Archer, Area Conservationist from Big Spring, presented the award which was one of ten in Texas

SCS Office Training First Female Student

NINA HARRIS

Nina Harris, junior Agriculture Economics major at Texas Tech will be working as the first female SCS student trainee in Lynn County. She is from Dilley and is the daughter of Fred and Arline Harris.

She chose the agriculture field because, "I've lived on a farm all my life and I love animals," Miss Harris explained. Her parents operate a poultry farm.

Someday she hopes to be employed "back home" in South Texas after she finishes college and her training.

As a trainee Miss Harris will be exposed to all phases of the SCS work available in the county to enable her to make a knowledgeable decision whether to make SCS her life's work.

"Being an agronomy major," Eual Davis, District Conservationist, said, "she could be very helpful to us with some of our planned projects."

PROMOTED — Kent Shepherd, an employe of Wade Implement for the last seven months and a graduate of Brownfield High School, has been promoted to operations manager with the firm. Shepherd is married to the former Debbie Thomas of Tahoka and they have three children. He also attended South Plains College and Odessa College.

Since the first GI Bill was signed into law in 1944, over 17.6 million armed forces personnel have taken some form of training under this program. The nation has invested $49 billion in this popular veterans readjustment benefit.

Billy Whitaker

Assistant County Extension Agent

Says...

Volunteer Leaders - The Strong 4-H "Link" in Texas, 4-H volunteer leaders "link" young people with program -- and efforts with success.

Leaders are asked to do strong things--to volunteer and to lead youth in learning. They are uniquely strong at both.

Before joining 4-H programs, volunteer leaders must pass two tests: they should like young people and they must be genuinely interested in them.

In Texas today, nearly 23,000 4-H volunteer leaders have passed those tests--and more than 6,000 are youth themselves. Choices of programs to lead are limitless--as are leader styles, schedules and situations.

Leaders tailor their own programs to a great extent. Today's 4-H clubs come in every size and arrangement--with needs to fit any leader's talents, time and skills. Some larger clubs require several leaders, and tasks are divided according to leader preferences. Other 4-H clubs have special-interest leaders, while some clubs need resource people who share expertise in certain subjects.

Generally, leaders start off choosing one of three types of jobs: organization, project work or activity work.

Organizational Leader -- This leader works with other leaders to coordinate a club's program, enroll members, assist in the overall club program, and counsel officers in their jobs.

Project Leader--This leader works in a project area, guiding members in a project, such as foods, pet care, woodworking or some 70 other 4-H projects. Project leaders help members improve their skills and increase their knowledge and interests.

Activity Leader--This leader joins club members in tours, safety talks, games, demonstrations and other activities dictated by members' interests. Also, an activity leader can serve as a liaison person between the club and the community--on safety campaigns, health programs, special events window displays, fair exhibits and other community projects.

Resource persons are wanted--and needed, too, says Whitaker. For people who feel their special talents are centered in one area, serving as a resource person can make a great impact in a special way.

Resource person can share a special interest or a hobby with one club or many clubs in their county, or they can work on special events, such as parades or community-service projects.

For more information on becoming a volunteer leader, contact the county Extension office.

Mailbox Improvement Week

May 21-26 is "Mailbox Improvement Week," and Postmaster Alice Langley urged all local customers on rural routes to examine their mailboxes to determine whether they have been damaged by weather or vandalism, and to paint or repair unempt or damaged mail receptacles. Some may need to purchase a new box.

A variety of approved commercial mailbox designs are available for use with decorative posts. Those who prefer a custom made mailbox may check with the Tahoka Post Office to make sure it meets specifications and requirements.

IT'S A FACT!

The skin, your body's largest organ, weighs about nine pounds if you are average and covers over 3,000 square inches. It varies in thickness from about 1/50 of an inch on your eyelids to one-third to half an inch on your upper back.

To help protect your skin from the sun's powerful ultraviolet rays even when you're in and out of the water you need a water-resistant sunscreen such as SUNDOWN Sunscreen from Johnson & Johnson.

CAROLYN'S CLATTER

by Carolyn Klaus

With all the talk of graduation it makes me think of how people look at others and choose what they want to become or accomplish in life.

A young child will watch older family members and picks up the parts of each personality that he admires most and incorporates them into his own personality. Some of the times he accepts and others he rejects but rarely does he ever accept everything about a person and copy him perfectly.

The nearly graduated student sometimes has an idea of the type of work he would like to pursue but if he has not made that decision he then must look at and study various occupations and decide which one would fulfill most of his ambitions. Sometimes they find a particular occupation that is already outlined and will fit perfectly but many times they must take the time to sort through an occupation and find the areas that best fit their personality and from those pieces build a life.

Once such a decision is made it is often assumed that is the last time the process will be used but many times it is also necessary later in life if you decide to change occupations and sometimes in affiliation with a church, club, or organization.

College students find the process necessary each semester as they review all the class possibilities and must decide which ones are most necessary to his schedule. The process doesn't appear to have an end.

With personalities and personal preferences being so varied in the United States, clubs with nearly every conceivable purpose and priority have been organized. People look at the clubs, study their aims and decide whether to join.

After that decision is made the clubs themselves do not close their eyes to other groups but are constantly seeking ways to improve their organization to encourage more members. Whenever a club begins growing other watch it closely to find the secret and the temptation to join rises because of the fear of being left out of something. Whenever this temptation arises it is sometimes wise to take a second look before leaping. Some questions to consider are whether the new club will offer the same benefits that enticed you to join the first club, can they hold your interest and satisfy your needs, and will you want to drop out of the club if another grows faster than yours?

If you resist the urge to join then the problem still may not be resolved. Clubs and organizations constantly find themselves borrowing ideas that work well for other groups. Here again the process of selection is needed to decide whether to change the format of the club. The needs of everyone cannot be met by each club, group, or church so each one must find their own format or method of providing necessary activities or qualifications for its members and work within those guidelines. Remember that members join clubs for their assets and might lose interest if the club changed drastically to make their curriculum match that of another. When groups start trying to duplicate each other the whole process can fall apart because needs of some most certainly will be neglected and people will fall away.

The same holds true for those deciding on a life occupation. Beware of always changing your mind—be true to your decision. See ways you can fulfill the needs of others because many times your own needs are met in the process of helping someone else.

TAKE A BREAK FROM COMMON COLOR COMBOS

Break away from humdrum color combinations and overworked decorating cliches. The National Paint and Coatings Association reminds you that faded paint and worn furniture aren't the only reasons to redecorate—introducing new colors into your home can be uplifting! Now is a good time to plan re-decorating, too, because April is National Home Decorating Month.

Break away from humdrum color combinations and introduce new colors into your home.

Why not draw your inspiration from nature? Consider the lively colors of a vegetable garden. For example, paint the walls a bright corn yellow, add leafy green curtains and use tomato red as an accent color for a lampshade, throw pillow or picture mat. Or, paint the walls a soft peach and use pale, apple green and white fabrics for accent. This color scheme also works in reverse—apple green walls with peach and white accents.

Be dramatic! Paint walls a deep garnet red and furniture a shiny black enamel. For an oriental effect, use bright brass accessories and fabrics with a high sheen. Create an opulent, old world look with dark, richly textured fabrics and fringed trim. Glass top tables, contemporary chrome lamps and abstract paintings will result in a sophisticated urban atmosphere. Bright green is a striking accent for this contemporary look.

For a cozy, light-hearted room, paint the walls navy blue and furnish it with natural colored wicker furniture. Then, use soft peach colored fabrics to add a warm accent to the room.

Sunflower seeds are a good source of protein.

NEWS OF FASHION

A Touch Of Mystery

Perfume isn't simply dabbed at pulse-spots anymore. Parfums Rochas—creators of Mystere de Rochas—suggest wearing the sophisticated, slightly naughty new fragrance as an invisible fashion accessory, letting it emphasize each aspect of your total look.

For instance, the perfume will add romantic contrast to a streamlined linen jacket when misted on a square of silk tucked rakishly in the pocket. To scent a little straw hat delightfully, flirt a bit of fragrance over the brim. At night, whooshed on the hem of your dancing dress and bare, sandalled ankles, you'll leave clouds of romance in your wake.

After the first beguiling whiff, Mystere de Rochas will invent daring new ways to add a touch of mystery to your life.

Luscious Dinner For Two

As every bride quickly learns, chops make a just-right meal for two, with no left-over problems. Try this recipe from The Lipton Kitchens for pork chops topped with a stuffing made with bread crumbs, celery, apple and cranberry sauce, all deliciously seasoned with instant onion soup mix. The gravy, also perfectly seasoned with instant onion soup mix, is quick and easy. This dish is sure to be a favorite with both of you.

APPLE'N ONION PORK CHOPS

- 1 apple, cored
- 1 tablespoon cooking oil
- 2 pork chops, 3/4-inch thick
- 1/3 cup chopped celery
- 3/4 cup soft bread crumbs
- 2 envelopes Lipton Onion Cup-a-Soup
- 1/2 cup jellied cranberry sauce
- 1 teaspoon flour
- 3/4 cup boiling water

Preheat oven to 350°. Cut 2 rings (1/2-inch thick) from apple; finely chop remainder.

In medium skillet, heat oil and brown chops; remove. Add celery and chopped apple and cook until celery is tender; stir in bread crumbs, 1 envelope Lipton Onion Cup-a-Soup, and 1/4 cup cranberry sauce. Place chops in 8-inch baking dish; top each chop with half stuffing mixture and apple ring.

In small bowl, combine remaining envelope Lipton Onion Cup-a-Soup and cranberry sauce, flour, and water; pour over chops. Bake 1 hour or until chops are done, basting occasionally. Makes 2 servings.

††† Thirty people registered Friday for the noon luncheon at Lynn County Pioneer Club. Mable Morgan was hostess and Cordie Swann won the "lucky member" gift at the drawing. After the meal Sherry Etheredge, Extension Agent, presented a slide program on nutrition.

Betty Ann Nicholson from the Office on Aging made her official inspection of the recent additions and remodeling jobs done at the center and reported them very satisfactory.

The center will be closed Monday, May 28, for Memorial Day and the "42" party will not be held on Monday night but will resume as usual the following Monday.

††† A tea honoring Bettye Medford, vice-president of Rebekah Assembly, was held in Levelland State Bank party room Sunday afternoon. Leona Waldrip attended the affair representing the Tahoka Lodge of which she is secretary.

RAISING CANE

Most of us think of America as the most industrialized nation in the world, yet we are also one of the greatest and most efficient agricultural nations in the world.

Interestingly, our own farms meet most of our needs even for two of our three largest food imports, sugar and meat. The third is coffee which we don't grow.

possessed are the world's most valuable and vulnerable resource. Every half minute 100 children are born in developing countries. Sixty of these children will have no access to modern medical care during their childhood.

Catholic Relief Services works daily with children, their mothers and their villages to combat malnutrition, to provide the opportunity to develop physically, mentally and morally in freedom and dignity.

American voluntary agencies like Catholic Relief Services are a good way for Americans to translate the abstract rights of children expressed by the IYC declaration into vital, healthy and enduring reality.

However, our own sugar industry, which contributes $10.5 billion to the nation's economy and employs over 100,000 people, is being threatened by the dumping of foreign surplus sugar on our markets.

Many concerned legislators are urging Congress to adopt a Sugar Regulation Act which would protect our sugar industry and keep us from becoming dependent on foreign suppliers. They are very aware of our continuing and bitter experience with OPEC oil countries.

meeting of the National Cotton Council Board of Directors will be held June 1, in Memphis, Tenn. Agenda topics will include the European trade team report, trade negotiations, Producer Steering Committee activities, economic outlook, cotton dust, energy, appropriations and pesticides, packaging and transportation, public relations, field service activities, foreign operations, and Washington activities. South Plains representatives will include W. B. Criswell, Idalou, and Rex McKinney, Lubbock, members; Ed Breihan, Lubbock, vice president; and Lloyd Cline, Lamesa, chairman of NCC's Technical Committee.

Byssinosis Hearings: A Congressional subcommittee has completed hearings on proposals dealing with compensation for occupational diseases, including two bills on byssinosis. Occupational Safety & Health Administration, medical experts, and committee members recognized the difficulties in diagnosing byssinosis, a respiratory ailment contracted by some cotton textile mill workers.

Review Of Cotton Dust Rule: Occupational Safety & Health Administration has released its economic and technological review of its cotton dust standard. As anticipated, the internal review by the Labor Department found the rule to be the "most cost-effective and flexible way to protect workers from brown lung disease." National Cotton Council economists said the document is a mockery of a Congressional directive to study more cost-effective alternatives. The report gives no consideration to the industry's proposal nor does it acknowledge the industry's charge that OSHA's cost estimates for the current standard are grossly understated.

And Cotton Yesterday: In 1904, the State of Texas offered a $50,000 award for anyone who came up with a surefire way to get rid of the boll weevil.

application required prior to the rule."

"Any supplier will be required to supply any farmer, upon either oral or written certification by the farmer, the gallons of fuel needed for 100% agricultural use," Short said.

Refineries who supply the wholesale distributors will, under Rule No. 9, be required to replenish the distributors' supplies on a gallon per gallon basis, thus freeing-up the set-aside allocation for non-agricultural use. However, Short stressed, agricultural uses will continue to have number one priority.

Short added, "We are assuming that refineries will be notified of Rule No. 9 by Federal and State authorities. Official notice of the Special Rule was published in the Federal Register, Tuesday, May 15, in Volume 44, page 28606."

O'Donnell Graduation Luncheon

A group of O'Donnell Senior girls and their mothers were honored with a mother-daughter luncheon May 5 in the home of Mrs. Harold Brumit with Mrs. Charlie Beckham as co-hostess.

Those attending the event were: Mrs. Stanley Robison and Shonda, Mrs. Hal Singleton and Shelley, Mrs. David Franklin and Terri, Mrs. Harold Sanders and Katrina, Mrs. Junior Follis and Claudia, Mrs. Raymond Harris and Carolyn, Mrs. B. J. McLaurin and Amy, and Mrs. Maurice Jackson and Pattie.

Short Says Farm Fuel Available

Senator E. L. Short, 28th Senatorial District, has announced that adoption of a new special Federal rule will make it easier for agricultural users of diesel fuel to obtain the fuel when it is available.

Short, Chairman of the Special Subcommittee on Diesel Fuel Shortages in Agriculture, said, "I was notified by Nick Murphy of the Governor's Fuel Allocation Office, that he had been advised by the Economic Regulatory Administration of the United States Department of Energy of the Special Rule No. 9 implementation."

"Special Rule No. 9," Short continued, "was adopted May 10 on an emergency basis and will permit consumers engaged in agricultural production to receive their present requirements for diesel fuel, when available, without the formal

Jess Ganus Publishes First Book, "A Poet's Debut"

Jess Ganus was a resident of Lynn County back in the 1930's. He lived in the "Joe Stokes" community and farmed around New Home.

He came to the South Plains in 1931 to pull cotton and then stayed. In 1934 he wrote as a correspondent for The News under the name

"The Squanderer". In 1936 he married Ruth Coleman.

After leaving New Home he entered the insurance business and sold insurance in various cities on the Plains. Ganus left Lubbock in 1951 and after being transferred to several different towns he settled in San Angelo.

For many years he had written poetry and then as retirement neared he began wondering what to do with all the poems and finally decided to have them printed as a collection in a book.

He did this, the actual printing being done in Lubbock, and in December 1978 the limited edition of "A Poet's Debut" was ready for sale. There are only 1,000 copies of the book and Ganus says.

"I can definitely say these are the only books that will ever be published of this edition."

To receive one of Jess's books you must deal directly with him at: Jess Ganus, P. O. Box 3100, San Angelo, Tx. 76901, and the price is $6.45, tax included.

Mr. Ganus visited in The News office Monday and he seemed younger than his years and truly interested in people and especially the youth today. After attending several college courses in San Angelo State College in 1975 and 1976, he is determined there is no real 'generation gap', only a lack of visiting.

Tahoka Man Gets Degree At Seminary

Glen Riddle, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Riddle of Tahoka, received his Master of Theology (Th.M.) degree from Dallas Theological Seminary on May 8 in Dallas.

Riddle completed a graduate program which included studies in theology, Hebrew and Greek, Christian education, missions, and Bible exposition. With 180 graduates, his class was the largest in the history of Dallas Seminary.

Sixty percent of Dallas Seminary's recent graduates now serve in local churches across America. Others minister in Christian organizations, Christian colleges and seminaries, and in various capacities on the foreign mission field.

Dallas Theological Seminary began in 1924 with 12 students and is now the second largest independent seminary in the world. Its 1300 students come from 46 states, 20 foreign countries, more than 300 colleges and universities, and 67 denominational groups.

Kirkpatrick To Speak At Women's Club

The Lubbock Christian Women's Club will hold their monthly brunch June 5 from 10:30 a.m. - 1 p.m. in room 107 of the Civic Center. Price of the meeting will be $2.50. Zoe Kirkpatrick of Post will present the program concerning wild flowers of the field. Special music will be by Texas Tech's Fred Wilmer.

Speaker for the event will be Susan Nethery, author of "One Year and Counting".

For reservations or cancellations call Judy Meador 799-3448 or Barbara Foster, 799-7538 by noon, June 2 (if you fail to cancel your reservation please mail check to CWC, 5308 30th, 79407).

Childcare reservations during the brunch will be $1 per family and should be made to Evelyn Freeman at 792-7554 or Gayle Cunningham at 792-5997.

There will be a Prayer Coffee May 31 at 10 a.m. in the home of Betty Carpenter, 3803 27th.

Sherry Etheredge Says . . .

Some homemakers have commented to me that they have been re-arranging closets. Here are some hints: Organize clothes closets to find things easily, dress faster, and present a more coordinated appearance.

Analyze Wardrobe

First, analyze the wardrobe.

Have a "try-on" session. Keep the items that you like, wear often--or at least occasionally, are fashionable and that fit well.

Remove seldom-worn items or those not worn in the last year or two.

Also, remove garments that do not fit, are old-fashioned, or that you simply do not like.

Give these items to a family member, a friend, charity, or sell them in a garage sale or second-hand store.

Arrange

Arrange items in the closet so that everything is easily seen. If the closet does not have an electric, use a battery operated light.

Organize

Organize clothing into categories with current season's clothes up front.

Convenient categories include jackets, blouses, vests, skirts, pants and dresses.

these separates with other items.

To further separate, divide dressy from sporty items.

Store, Label

Store items so they are clearly seen to easily coordinate color and texture.

Label items not easily recognizable or which are stored in bags or boxes.

Double Hanging Bars

A double bar, one placed over the other, in half the closet enables you to hang two rows of separates, thus doubling closet space.

Closets without this feature can usually be easily converted.

Display

Visibly display items in the closet, when possible, rather than storing in drawers.

Belts, scarves and shawls, and sweaters are easier to see and coordinate if not hidden in a drawer.

Fold sweaters and other stretchy items over padded hangers or fold on a shelf in easy view. Line bags on a shelf or store on shelves in a see-through vertical bag.

Out-Of-Season Storage

Store out-of-season or special-occasion clothes on the back rung, in drawers, or in another closet, if available.

lion barrels of crude oil, a decrease of two counties from 1977; a decrease of three from 1976, and six from 1975.

as the state's top producing county, while Gaines County exchanged places with Ector County, Ector moving into third place and Hooker fifth place for the fifth consecutive year.

There's no better way to describe the Seniors. Because of their past record of hard work and solid achievements, we're sure their future will be one of continuing success. Our very finest wishes to the entire Senior Class.
