New Year's Eve Altercation Sends One Man To Hospital

A New Year's Eve knife fight was the major item of yearend activity for Tahoka Police Dept., although the city officers did investigate five traffic accidents in the last 10 days of the year. An incident in the 1500-block of Ave. J early Tuesday morning sent a young Mexican man, about 20, to Lynn County Hospital for treatment of cuts on the face, and resulted in the arrest of two other young men, also about 20. The two were to be charged this week.

On Dec. 28, two other men in town were shooting at each other in the vicinity of S. 6th and Ave. E, with one shot hitting a camper window and another hitting a house. Officers broke up the shootout.

Tickets Given

Police issued one ticket for defective vehicle, six young persons were ticketed for parking in the roadway, one ticket was given for negligent collision and one for impeding traffic.

At Main and Lockwood on Dec. 21 a 1977 Pontiac driven by Naomi Cox Norman of Tahoka and a 1955 Ford driven by Guadalupe Liendo Jr. of Tahoka collided.

On Dec. 22 at 1313 Lockwood, a 1971 Oldsmobile driven by Dario Amador of Tahoka struck a store front at Flanigan Auto Parts.

On Dec. 26 on Main Street a 1979 Chevrolet pickup driven by Bill Barham of Tahoka and a 1976 Chevrolet pickup driven by Roy Stice of Tahoka collided.

Three days later a 1978 Chevrolet pickup driven by Doug Barham of Tahoka and a 1976 Dodge driven by Danny Stanley, Rt. 5, were involved in a collision.

At 2nd and Ave. J Sunday, a parked 1973 Pontiac owned by Rosa Maria Solis of Dallas was struck by a 1976 GMC pickup driven by Frank Simon Rodriguez of Tahoka.

Loot Recovered

In Lynn County jail this week was Jesse Rios of Lubbock, arrested and charged after burglary of more than $3,000 worth of items at the Wallace Schafer home 14 miles north of Tahoka was investigated by the county sheriff's office. All of the stolen items were recovered, Sheriff Norvell Redwine reported. Bond for Rios was set by Justice of the Peace Ed Hamilton at $5,000.

Another Lubbock man, Alfred Mendoza, pleaded guilty before District Judge George Hansard of a charge of burglary of a habitation in Lynn County. Mendoza was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Two goats were reported stolen from Arnold Lehman north of Tahoka during the last week.

On Dec. 29 a woman called Tahoka Police Dept. to inquire as to whether they had noticed the large circle around the moon.

HE'S THROUGH THROWING--Dave Hubbard holds a rolled-up copy of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, just like some two and a half million copies he has thrown in Tahoka over the last 18 years. Hubbard retired from the newspaper route at the end of the year. (Lynn County News Photo)

County Had Some Unusual Weather During Last Year

By FRANK HILL

The year 1979 was marked by a lot of unusual weather, which reminds one of the old "saw" that "all West Texas weather is unusual."

Although the total rainfall in Tahoka was above normal, some areas received much more and some less, last winter was a dry one and late planting rains caused the crop to be much later than usual.

In fact, in most areas of the county sufficient rainfall for planting did not come until May or June. As a result, cotton production was good but much less than many expected. Cotton failed to mature sufficiently and the micronaire was low and the price received by farmers disappointing. Although most of the cotton has been harvested, a substantial amount is still in modules and ginning will continue for some time.

Rainfall in Tahoka for the year totaled 20.94 inches, about three inches above normal. But a lot of the rain came too late, and some of it did more harm than good by reason of the fact that maturity was delayed. Hail and freak sandstorms in June and July wiped out or damaged a lot of acreage. Very heavy rainfall in some areas also washed out cotton that had to be replanted up to the last of June.

Rainfall in Tahoka measured by the Tahoka observer for the National Weather Service follows:

January	.29
February	.29
March	1.19
April	.41
May	2.20
June	7.21
July	4.74

November	.39
December	1.66

'Handicapped' Man Gives Up Paper Route After 18 Years

After throwing an estimated two and a half million copies of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal to Tahoka readers in March of 1962, and in recent years has been throwing about 500 papers a day, with a few more than that on Sundays. Longtime readers of the A-J in Tahoka will testify that he did a good job, and Hubbard says he has received few complaints in recent years.

Monday was the last day for Hubbard to throw the papers, and the route has been taken over by Jack Miller, city police chief.

A retirement party for Hubbard is being hosted by his family at First National Bank Party Room from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday. All of Hubbard's friends are invited.

During the 17 years and 9 months of throwing the paper, Hubbard says the paper was not thrown just three days. Twice it was because of heavy snow, including one day during the latest snow here, and one time (after the Lubbock tornado) the papers did not come at all.

This record is remarkable enough in itself, but is even more impressive when one considers that Hubbard is confined to a wheel chair as a result of having his back broken in an accident in 1949.

Does Job Himself

Hubbard does his own driving and throwing the papers, although his wife, Beulah, sometimes goes along and helps. His car is not specially equipped.

A truck driver for S.B. Campbell, who now has a trucking company in Lubbock, Hubbard was taking cotton bales to a compress in Houston in December 1949 when one of the bales fell off the trailer onto him, breaking his back in two places. For a time, it was touch and go as to whether he would live at all, much less be able to get out of bed.

"That was the saddest Christmas we ever had," he recalled, observing that he had a wife and four young children. "Nobody thought I had a chance, but they decided I was going to live so they went ahead and operated on me...I just asked the good Lord to let me see all my kids grow up, and He did. I really have been blessed."

Slow Progress

The former newspaper agent who also operates a shoe repair business in Tahoka said he was virtually immobile on an iron frame for a few months after his accident, and it was several months before he was able to get into a wheel chair. Since then, however, he has pretty well been able to take care of himself and has worked long and hard despite being confined to the wheel chair. And he plans to continue his shoe repair business.

Rotary Elects New Officers

New Rotary Club officials to take office next July were elected during a holiday club meeting. Carl Reynolds will advance from vice-president to succeed Jim Solomon as president, and Dr. Richard White was elected the new vice president.

Johnny Wells was re-elected club secretary and George McCracken treasurer. New directors will be Joe Hays and Jim Marcus, while holdover directors are Solomon, Jim Coulston, and Frank Barrow.

The club's pre-Christmas program was a musical one presented by an orchestra directed by Dalton Wood, playing the saxophone; Bob Crawley, Lamesa, clarinet and sax; Jess and Billie Miles, Stanton, stringed instruments; and Zane Curry of Tahoka on the drums. President Solomon, on behalf of the club, presented a Christmas gift to the club sweetheart, Miss Connie Chambers.

Last Thursday, with Frank Barrow as program chairman, a talk on the benefits of running for exercise, included aid in preventing cardio-vascular trouble by Bob Hamrin, Texas Tech professor and former cross-country coach.

Johnny Reasonover, Lubbock, former manager of Southwestern Public Service Co. here, presented a book on his family's history to Dr. K.R. Durham, in which he had used a poem written several years ago as a tribute to the Reasonovers' daughter.

His training for the shoe repair business was paid for by the State Board of Vocational Rehabilitation, which also paid for equipment he used to get started in that business, Hubbard said. He gives his wife and children credit for helping him over the hard times, especially in the early years just after his accident. The Hubbard children are Mrs. Betty Jolly and Mrs. Genay Jolly, both of Tahoka, Billy Dale Hubbard of Lorenzo, and Mrs. Shirley Jane Burkhalter of Carrollton.

Arises Early

Over the years of throwing the Avalanche-Journal, Hubbard has developed what would be to most people a rough sleeping schedule, catching his sleep in three different shifts. He generally went to bed about 10 p.m., got up at 1 a.m. and after rolling the papers, made his rounds. This got the paper to people early, and he usually got back to bed between 4 and 5 a.m., he said. Then he would get up again about 8:30 a.m., going down to his shoe shop. He then would take a nap after noon.

"I'm so used to getting up early, it probably will take me awhile to get back to a more normal schedule," he laughed.

At any rate, he has ended a long period of service to daily newspaper readers here, and the route has been taken over by Miller.

"So if anyone misses his paper, please call Jack, and not me," Hubbard requested.

L, NOW isn't it great to be alive and a new year and a new decade? And aren't we eager for the challenges we face in making the best year and best decade ever, with lots of good things to do ahead of us? Well, so maybe some of us aren't all that optimistic, because first we have to get over the nas-New Year holiday and all that lying and laying around. But it is true that we could be optimistic about what this year will hold for many of us the biggest job is to get off creeping lethargy.

DAVE HUBBARD of Tahoka handed us a new recipe for "Christmas Rum Cake", saying that it is not original with her, but it is amusing, so we're passing it along here.

Originally, Mrs. Hubbard's CB handle is "Mrs. Hubbard", which has nothing to do with her at hand.

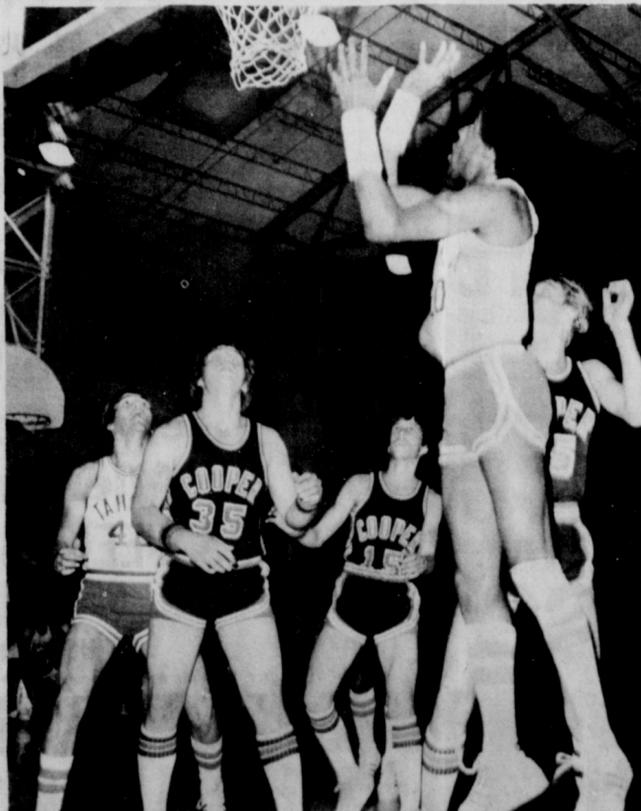

Anyway, here's the recipe for Christmas Rum and if you didn't make it this past holiday, you can try it the next time. (We don't usually recommend it, however).

Christmas Rum Cake

Before you start, sample the rum and check for quality. Good, isn't it! Now go ahead. Select a mixing bowl, measuring cup, etc. and check rum again for quality. It must be just right. With an electric beater, beat one cup butter in a large fluffy bowl. Add one teaspoon and beat again. Meanwhile, make certain rum is of best quality. Add two large eggs and cups dried fruit and beat until very high. If gets stuck in beater, pry it out with a driver.

Sample rum again, checking for consistency. Sift in three cups of beaking powder and add half cup of rum, one teaspoon of soda and one cup of sugar or maybe salt. Anyway, don't fret, taste the rum again. Zoweee! Next sift in half a cup of lemon juice, fold in chopped buttermilk, and trained nuts. Sample rum again. Now, one teaspoon brown sugar or whatever color is desired. Mix well, grease oven and turn on cake to 350 degrees. Now pour the whole mixture into the oven and---oops! Where didja put the oven? On second thought and also third and fourth, forget the oven, forget the cake, check the quality of the rum, and go to bed.

HOLEHOLES: A copy of this issue of the News costs 20 cents, and the price of subscriptions is raised to $7.50 per year locally. These raises are due to rising costs, mainly postage, which has doubled since last May...The Dallas Cowboys finally waited too late in a big game last night. If Pittsburgh beats Houston next Sunday, we won't even watch the Super Bowl...One more note: I visited the other day with my friend Ed, superintendent of schools at Lubbock. Ed's father of Dan Irons, former all-American line player at Tech. Ed says Dan re-injured his knee playing for the San Francisco 49ers early in his career, but now is dickering with the New York Giants.

TWO FOR TAHOKA--Charles Bryson goes up to shoot a basket against Cooper in a game won by Tahoka just before Christmas. That's Jacky Jolly in left background. The Bulldogs are tied for the lead in district play after beating Roosevelt last week, but face a strong challenge here Friday night against one of the other 5-AA leaders, Denver City. Use masking tape to hold gathers in place and away from the presser foot when sewing, suggests a clothing specialist.

Place tape so that it is out of the way of the presser foot to keep from sewing through it, says Becky Culp with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

National Magazine Publishes Dog Article By Tahoka Man

The following article written by Gerald Moore of Tahoka, administrator of the Lynn County Hospital, appeared in the December issue of the American Field, national publication of the Field Dog Stud Book, distributed internationally to bird dog fanciers.

A Day Afield

By GERALD MOORE

THIS is not a "Me and Joe" hunting story. We didn't find twenty coveys of birds in three hours; and old Jiggs, the liver-headed pointer, didn't point a single while retrieving a dead bird.

Actually it was just an average afternoon hunt with just one exception. It was the first time that I took my youngest son along. I protested at first. He was not quite five years old. Before I could give several reasons why he could not tag along, he was already bundled up in his red heavy coat complete with hood, had pulled on his Wellington boots and was asking what he could help me carry out to the station wagon.

We drove northwest from Jacksboro, Tex., to the small community of Antelope, Tex., where I had permission to hunt on a friend's ranch. We worked down the winding creek bottoms. And when I gave a command to the dog, the boy would echo the order in a manner that would have been pleasing to a first sergeant.

He seemed amazed when I stripped some dark seed from a ragweed plant and explained that in this area, this is the main food supply of the bob-white quail. I also stopped under some scrub oak trees and showed him the acorns that were in rather short supply.

On down the creek we stopped for a rest under some large red haw bushes that were heavy with fruit. We ate a few of the berries, and he decided that they were little tiny apples for very small boys and girls. Funny, but I don't remember red haws ever tasting quite so good before.

We worked around the edge of a green wheat field, and I don't think he really believed me when I told him that the wheat would eventually wind up as our bread or the morning cereal. A large old pecan tree at the edge of the wheat field offered another stopping place. He was able to find several pecans that had been missed by the racoons and squirrels. A prospector finding nuggets of gold could not have been happier.

Several hundred yards south of the field, we walked by an old rusty barrel that I had seen many times over the years. But it took the inquiring mind of a small boy to discover that the barrel had no top and had been placed there to cover an old hand-dug water well.

I held him up so that he could see his reflection in the water below and explained how an old pioneer had dug the well by hand and lined the walls with sandstone. He decided that the well might be a wishing well, and we should not pass up the opportunity to find out for ourselves. I did not have a penny in my pocket. However, I decided that a dime was not too high a price to pay for a small boy's hopes and dreams.

The sun was beginning to set, the cloudless sky was turning gold as we turned east out of the bottoms and across the needle grass flats, hoping to find a covey moving out to roost. This was also a shortcut back to the station wagon. The little legs that had been hopping and skipping earlier in the afternoon were beginning to move more slowly.

A feeling of mixed emotions came over me as we walked along, pride, humility and prayerful thanks that I was born a free man in a land where a man and a very small boy can be alone with nature. As we walked along, the only sign of civilization was a large jet bomber flying north. This too is a part of our heritage, an instrument of war being used to keep this land free so that when a man grows up he may take a small boy hunting or on a hike in the woods.

It was dark when we reached the station wagon. I loaded the dog in the back. We began the drive down the dirt road back to the highway. The boy stretched out in the seat, put his head on my right leg and quickly fell asleep. The stars were out by now and as I drove along, I suddenly thought of the lyrics of the last stanza of taps that I first heard as a boy scout and later while in the service during the Korean War. "All is well, God is nigh."

Definition of a "Little Town"

A little town is where few people can get away with lying about the year they were born. Too many people can remember.

A little town is where you don't have to guess who your enemies are. Your friends will tell you.

A little town is where people with various ailments can air them properly to sympathetic ears.

A little town is where, when you get the wrong number, you can talk for 15 minutes anyway.

A little town is where the ratio of good people to bad people is something like 100 to 1. That's nice to remember.

A little town is where it is hard for anybody to walk to work for exercise because it takes too long to stop and explain to people in cars who stop, honk, and offer a ride.

A little town is where city folks say there is nothing to do, but those who live there don't have enough nights in the week to make all the meetings and social functions.

A little town is where everyone becomes a "neighbor" in time of need.

A little town is where businessmen dig deep many times to help with countless fund-raising projects.

Snow Slows Cotton Movement

Last week's snow slowed cotton movement to gins, warehouses and samples to High Plains cotton division Offices, according to Paul R. Dickson, Area Director for USDA's High Plains Cotton Division. By December 17, receipts at the four offices had declined to 8,900 compared to 46,000 a week earlier. By December 20, backlogs of unclassified samples had plunged to 56,000 compared with 279,000 a week earlier.

This unusual mid-season slow down will allow employees to enjoy the long Christmas holiday with their families, Dickson said. Area offices graded 313,000 samples during the week ended December 20. This brought the season's total to 1,544,000. This date one year ago, about 855,000 samples had been classified.

Predominant grades for the week were grade 32 at 32 percent and grade 42 at 35 percent. About eight percent were white grades while 21 percent were spotted.

Predominant staples were staple 30 at 29 percent, staple 31 - 36 percent and staple 32 - 17 percent.

Micronaire 35 - 49 accounted for five percent, 33 - 34 was eight percent, 30 - 32 amounted to 33 percent, 27 - 29 was 42 percent while 26 and below accounted for 12 percent.

Fiber breaking strength averaged 85,000 pounds per square inch, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Prices paid growers for mixed lots were $7.50 per bale higher to $1.25 per bale lower. Mixed lots miking 35 - 49 brought about 1525 points over 1979 loan rates. Mikes 33 - 34 brought around 1350 over, 30 - 32 about 1200 over, 27 - 29 around 825 over while 26 and below sold around 725 points over 1979 loan rates. Gins paid growers 100 to 125 dollars per ton for cottonseed.

New Health Service Available

A new health service for people in their place of residence was recently brought to Lynn County. Visiting Nurse Service of Lubbock, Inc. which has been in operation since February is now able to serve residents in this community with a comprehensive home health service. Through a grant awarded by H.E.W. Public Health Service Department, home care can now be made available to all persons in need of such care regardless of age or income.

Visiting Nurse Service applied for the grant to demonstrate that home care is a viable, economical alternative to lengthy institutional care. One of the goals of the service is to be responsive to the health needs of all residents of the catchment area. To accomplish this, home health must be delivered to those persons whose Medicare/Medicaid home benefits have been exhausted or who do not fit exactly into the eligibility guidelines, and to those who are medically indigent, have no insurance coverage but need home care and to persons of all ages who can benefit from home care.

Nursing care and procedures, health teaching, and monitoring of patient conditions can be done when ordered by the patient's physician. It is hoped that the service can prevent some institutionalization and that it can shorten the number of days spent in in-patient facilities.

Examples of procedures that can be done are: dressings, injections, I.V. therapy, catheter care, gastric tube feedings and care, colostomy care, and any other skilled procedure ordered by the physician. Nursing care must be on an intermittent basis rather than 8 hour shifts. Collection of specimens for laboratory analysis on patients confined to their place of residence may be requested by the physician. Speech therapy and physical therapy are provided through contract services. Home health aides are planned for the immediate future to provide personal care when that is a primary need.

Payment for services is by arrangement - through public insurance sources such as Medicare and Medicaid, or private insurance, Champus, V.A. - or through cash payments on a sliding income scale or no charge through the grant. Visiting Nurse Service is a private non-profit corporation owned and operated by registered nurses.

Physicians in the Lynn County area are being apprised of this new service and personnel are available to speak to interested groups about the service and how patients can qualify for this care in their places of residence.

For more information call Lubbock (806) 793-9067 or write Visiting Nurse Service, 2806 34th Street Lubbock, Texas 79410.

LIGHTING HELPS HORSE'S HAIR--A light bulb can do wonders for a horse's hair coat, points out a horse specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. As daylight decreases during fall and winter, a horse's hair will grow longer. To get a horse's hair coat short and in shape for the show circuit, use a light bulb and an automatic timer so that the animal is exposed to 16 hours of light a day. A 200-watt bulb about 10 feet over the horse's stall will do the job.

Wilson Players Honored

The Class B All-South Plains football team was announced recently and Wilson had 3 players named to four first team positions and two honorable mention positions.

Quintin Talkmitt was named on both the offensive team as tackle and the defensive team as linebacker. Randy Moczygamba was named center on the offensive team and honorable mention down lineman on the defensive team and honorable mention guard on the offensive.

All three are Wilson seniors and were captains for the 1979 Mustang team.

The pre-Columbian Indians of the America's had neither the wheel nor draft animals.
