County To Raise Fees, Salaries

Lynn County Commissioners took note of rising costs and inflation on two levels Monday as they voted to increase charges for use of county equipment by private individuals and also agreed to raise salaries of county employees to permit them to gain a bit on the inflationary spiral in living costs.

Commissioners voted to increase charges for a load of dirt or caliche from the present $12.50 to $15, plus the cost of materials, and to increase the hourly charge for use of a county maintainer to $25 an hour (from the present $20 rate). Increased costs in fuel and labor were cited by the commissioners in voting the fee increases.

Raises for most of the 39 county employes on the proposed salary schedule were 10 per cent, although some varied from this in order to equalize salaries for persons doing equal jobs.

Among the proposed salaries, the county judge and sheriff will draw the highest amount, $11,319 each. The tax assessor-collector will be paid $11,168. County clerk and county attorney get $10,940 each.

Salaries of the commissioners would be raised from the present $8,277 per year to $9,105. The commission will vote on the proposed increases at the next meeting Jan. 28. Judge Melvin Burks told the group that the increases would still leave the county with a projected surplus of $5,800 at the end of the current fiscal year.

Travel allowances for commissioners in precincts 2 and 3 were increased from $200 to $250 per month, and for the county judge from $50 to $100 per month. Commissioners of precincts 2 and 3 use their own vehicles for county business.

The group gave permission to the City of Lubbock to put a pipeline on the county right-of-way. The pipeline will come into Lynn County north of Wilson for a little way as part of a pilot project to test the use of Lubbock waste water in irrigating farm land.

The county sheriff was designated as the county health authority for rabies control.

New rates of payment for jurors were adopted, retroactive to Jan. 1. Jurors who show up on the panel will be paid $8 per day, and those who serve on juries will be paid $15 per day.

School Hall Cycle Ride Proves Costly

A 21-year-old man who rode a large motorcycle through the high school hallway during the lunch hour Monday was considerably poorer and perhaps wiser Tuesday after paying a fine of $53.50 for disorderly conduct.

City judge Mel Leslie assessed the fine.

Police also investigated a report from Leighton Knox Jr. that 52 stereo tapes had been stolen from a vehicle, and a report of an accident on the Rim Rock Grocery parking lot last Wednesday.

In that collision, a 1972 Ford was driven by Darrell Wayne Cogburn, Rt. 5, and a 1978 GMC pickup was driven by Edith Mae Kuwaski of Tahoka, according to the police report.

Lynn County Sheriff's office investigated three theft reports during the week. A motorcycle trailer was reported stolen Monday as stolen from Gene Ingle in the New Lynn community.

Jerry Meeks Tuesday reported an undetermined amount of aluminum pipe had been stolen northwest of Tahoka, and also on Tuesday, Doug Taylor reported a barn burglarized 8 miles west of the city on U.S. 380. Missing were an air compressor, welder, cutting torch and gauges.

Geo. Wright In Race For Commissioner

George Wright has announced his candidacy for Commissioner for Precinct 1. Wright has been a resident of Tahoka most of his life. He is a graduate of Tahoka High School and is a farmer.

He married the former Lucile Horn. They have three children, Danny and Bill of Tahoka and Ann Ayres of Amarillo.

"Your support and vote for me will be greatly appreciated and I will do my best to make you a good Commissioner," Wright said.

Jimmy Wright Announces Candidacy

Jimmy B. Wright, local attorney, this week announced his candidacy for the office of County Attorney of Lynn County.

Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Wright of Tahoka, has been engaged in the practice of law for the past three years in Tahoka. He is a graduate of Tahoka High School, Texas Tech University and Texas Tech University School of Law. Jimmy is married to the former Beth Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Franklin of Tahoka.

"I will appreciate the support and vote of all Lynn County citizens in the coming election," Wright said.

Some Voters Are Confused

Some Lynn County residents who have been mailed voter registration certificates have been signing them and mailing them back, but they are supposed to keep them. Tax Assessor - Collector George McCracken said this week. He pointed out that the registered voters will have to show the white certificates when they vote after March 1.

The white certificates mailed by the tax office to registered voters replaces the yellow certificates in effect now.

PLANNING TO PAINT THE TOWN--Warren Sanders of Pittsburgh Paint Co. spoke to about 35 members at a Tuesday noon meeting of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, explaining the company's offer to make a detailed plan for renovation and beautification of downtown store fronts. The project would include repairs as well as painting.

Downtown Facelift Project Is Proposed

Representatives of Pittsburgh Paint Co. told 35 members and Commerce at noon Tuesday that their company would provide without charge a detailed analysis of the exterior needs of every downtown Tahoka building in regard to repairing, painting and generally giving the city a face lifting.

Warren Sanders and Bruce Callender of Lubbock told the Tahoka group that all their company would require is a set of black and white photographs of every business, front and rear. Their experts then would make recommendations regarding repairs, replacing broken glass and boards and mortar, and then suggest what color the business should be painted.

The color scheme would coordinate the entire downtown section to make it more attractive, Sanders explained. He said the company would, of course recommend use of its own paints, and would suggest paint contractors if the Tahoka businesses wanted them to.

It would be up to each individual building owner or renter to carry out the recommendations, but if everyone would do it, the downtown section would show a greatly improved appearance, he said.

Sanders said the company now has such a project about one-third complete in Dalhart, and has completed similar projects in other cities.

"Our proposals will not involve expensive architectural changes," he stated, adding that if the recommendations are carried out, no refurbishing should be needed for six to eight years.

Accountant Joe Hays explained some of the tax advantages of renovating buildings.

Completion of the project would be targeted for this fall if adopted soon, Sanders said.

Library Now Open 20 Hours A Week

The City-County Library now is open all day on Mondays and Wednesdays, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (closed noon to 1), and on Friday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The increased number of hours open per week to serve the residents of the county is one of the requirements for the library in Tahoka to be a member of the West Texas Library Group which will make available to patrons here all the books from any of the participating libraries in the area.

Members of the Library Board met Monday afternoon and heard a report from Librarian Mildred Sherrill that 224 adult and 18 children's books were checked out during December. Possibility of a library grant and formation of a Friends of the Library group here also were discussed.

Gio Hays reported that a $100 donation had been received from a Tahoka business, and the group voted to use the money to buy a book listing volumes currently in print.

County Judge Melvin Burks reported that the county has agreed to supply a telephone for the library, another requirement for joining the cooperative library group.

Binie White, chairman, presided at the session in the library.

School Board Extends Superintendent's Contract

Contracts of the superintendent, athletic director and business manager were extended one year by members of the Tahoka Independent School District board of trustees meeting in regular session last Thursday night.

For Supt. Jim Coulston and Head Coach A.D. Shaver, the extension left their contracts at two years, to 1982. Business manager David Roberson has a one-year contract.

Annual salaries of the three, counting scheduled amounts paid for years of service in the profession, were listed at $29,208 for Coulston, $19,633 for Roberson and $23,785 for Shaver.

Contracts for other administrators in the system will be considered at a later meeting.

The board renewed the school's contract with the firm of Pritchard and Abbott for appraisal of minerals and commercial property in the district. Other property is now being appraised by the McMorries Company of Hereford, hired by the school board and other taxing entities in the county to reappraise property uniformly in accordance with a new state law.

Mrs. Margaret Carter was hired as compensatory education teacher for the remainder of the school year, replacing Brenda Conner, who has resigned to teach home economics at Gail. Also hired was Mrs. Nelda Coulston, to be a Title I aide for the rest of the year.

Board President Bob Haney presided. Present were members Jay Dee House, Joe Brooks and Marlin Hawthorne. Absent were Mrs. Bettye Green and Tommy Lawson.

Look for the words "color fast" on labels when selecting fabric or apparel, suggests Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

This is your guarantee that colors will not fade, she explains. Fabrics fade due to the kind of dye used or lack of process used to set colors. Once colors fade, little or nothing can be done to set or restore colors, or to remove one color faded on another. Miss Rhoades adds.

Look for the words "color fast" on labels when selecting fabric or apparel, suggests Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. This is your guarantee that colors will not fade, she explains. Fabrics fade due to the kind of dye used or lack of process used to set colors. Once colors fade, little or nothing can be done to set or restore colors, or to remove one color faded on another, Miss Rhoades adds.

In Short Praised By Farmers Union, Others

Sen. E.L. Short of was one of 20 state members honored for their legislative service during the 70th Annual Convention of the Farmers Union. Short was selected by the 10,000 member Texas Farmers Union as the most vocal proponent of the Family Farm and Ranch Security Act which was passed in the recent session with funding approved by voters in a constitutional referendum, Nov. 6.

Other issues of Texas Farmers Union concern upon which voting records were measured included prohibition of foreign ownership of farm land, productivity valuation for agricultural property taxes, and legalization of alcohol fuels (gasohol) from farm products. Short, who chairs the Senate Subcommittee on Water and the Special Subcommittee on Diesel Fuel Shortage for Agriculture, is also a member of the Special Interim Committee on Gasohol.

In addition to the Texas Farmers Union honor, Short was again singled out for praise by "The Barbed Wire, Rural Texans Watchdog in Austin," which stated "we do want to recognize a select few, who have, since the close of the Legislative session, continued to work above-and-beyond the call on behalf of rural Texans: E.L. Short has certainly worked overtime since the session closed on getting fuel for Texas' farmers and ranchers. Short was the first to blow the whistle on the State Fuel Allocation mess-up."

Not only has Short received the praise of his rural constituency, but he recently received high marks in a letter sent to each city in his 13-county district from Dick Brown, Executive Director of the Texas Municipal League. Brown stated, "Legislators such as yourself have made the difference between Texas' system of strong home rule and the meaningless forms of city government that have spread across the

The program will be on food safety.

Northeast because of meddling by state legislatures." Brown continued his praise by adding, "Senator Short, we are grateful for the many times you defended the cities' interests in the Senate."

Jim D. Rudd Is Honored

State Representative Jim D. Rudd was one of twenty state lawmakers honored for outstanding legislative service during the 70th annual state convention of the Texas Farmers Union. Jim D. Rudd was selected by the statewide farm organization for "consistent support and outspoken leadership on behalf of the family farmers and ranchers of Texas" according to Jay Naman, President of TFU.

"The 60th Legislature will be regarded as one in which a progressive step was taken for rural interests, especially in light of passage of the Family Farm and Ranch Security Act," Naman noted. "The support given that and several other key agricultural issues by Representative Jim D. Rudd is deeply appreciated by our organization and we are proud to bestow this honor upon him."

The 10,000 member Texas Farmers Union was the most vocal proponent of the Family Farm and Ranch Security Act which was passed in the recent session with funding approved by voters in a constitutional referendum Nov. 6. Other issues of TFU concern upon which voting records were measured included prohibition of foreign ownership of farm land, productivity valuation for agricultural property taxes, and legalization of alcohol fuels produced from farm products.

Says...

4-H brings parents and their children together in a partnership that can lead to many worthwhile experiences.

4-H is a program for youth aged 9 to 19 and is administered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System.

Through 4-H, parents get involved with their youngsters by helping them with one or more of over 100 projects.

By getting involved with projects, parents help their youngsters learn basic skills and information and help them to fulfill an obligation. The "partners" then build on these successes in areas of project work, leadership, community service and many other character-building experiences.

By spending time with their sons and daughters in 4-H, parents can overcome problems commonly referred to today as the "communication gap" or "generation gap." 4-H projects serve as a beginning to start the parent-youth partnership. This relationship can grow through mutual understanding and trust between parent and child.

With an understanding relationship, parents and 4-H'ers learn to share the joys of winning and the disappointment of losing and to jointly work out solutions to problems as they arise.

Follow the Leader In 4-H

Good leaders know where they're going. They are able to identify and understand the roles, attitudes, tasks and functions necessary for effective leadership.

And this is where the 4-H program plays a leading part.

Preparing young people for leadership roles has been an objective of 4-H since it began around the turn of the century. The national 4-H leadership program, supported by Reader's Digest, encourages 4-H members 9-19 to develop their skills through active involvement in local 4-H clubs.

Of the nearly 580,000 volunteers in the U.S. who serve as local 4-H leaders, about 145,000 are juniors and teens. Texas boasts some 6,400 junior and teen leaders. These 4-H members share their knowledge and skills with other 4-H'ers, help recruit new members and leaders, and assist in developing and expanding the 4-H program beyond the local level.

Young 4-H leaders can earn awards donated by Reader's Digest and arranged by the National 4-H Council. Incentives include four medals of honor in each county and an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress held each November in Chicago, for one winner per state.

$1,000 scholarships go to nine national winners, and two high-ranking 4-H'ers receive silver trays presented in the name of the President of the United States.

Winners are chosen by the Extension Service, which conducts the program.

More information on the 4-H leadership program is available from the county Extension.

Greater Demand for Texas Boosts State's Hog Inventory

AUSTIN--Latest monthly hog and pig count, showing some 910,000 animals on hand in Texas, represent a seven percent increase over the same period a year ago, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Brown attributed the increase in the Dec. 1, 1979, inventory, completed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, to greater demand for pork by consumers.

Breeding hogs were 4 percent below the number of December 1978, but market hogs were up 9 percent total of 780,000.

Commercial slaughter plants in Texas reported by the end of November 1,214,900 hogs had slaughtered, 25 percent the same period in 1978.

Brown said that producers expected demand for pork to be strong in the first quarter of 1980 with farrowing the September-November 1979 quarter up 9 percent from 98,000 head. Producers indicated, however, that will be cutbacks in farrowing of 13 percent through

Strike It Rich With Nonfat Dry Milk Deserts

Nonfat dry milk is a gold mine when it comes to economical menu planning. For those meals you want to crown with a special desert, don't overlook the possibilities provided by nonfat dry milk says USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

pour all back into the pan and cook 2 minutes longer. Add 2 tablespoons shortening and 1/2 teaspoon of vanilla. Cool.

Pour part of the mixture into a baked 9 inch pie shell. Add 2 sliced bananas and the rest of the mixture.

Top with meringue. Bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) until lightly browned--about 15 minutes. Serve warm or chilled.

If you want a hurry-up desert to satisfy that sweet-tooth of your family's, try Jiffy Pudding.

Use your favorite instant pudding mix. For each cup of liquid required in the mix, add 1/4 cup of nonfat dry milk. Proceed as directed on the pudding package, using water as the liquid.

Serve in attractive dishes garnished with a whipped topping made from nonfat dry milk. Top with a marchino cherry half.

To make the topping, beat until stiff: 1/2 cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk powder.

Beat in 2 tablespoons of sugar and 1/4 teaspoon vanilla. Chill and use as you would whipped cream. This recipe makes about 2 1/2 cups of topping.

You can serve these deserts with confidence, knowing that they are economical and nutritious.

Cemetery Group Seeks Addresses

Names and addresses of all persons who have friends or relatives buried in Tahoka Cemetery are being sought by the Tahoka Cemetery Commission so a mailing list can be compiled. Members of the commission met this week and decided to make the request for all such names and addresses, asking that anyone having this kind of information please give it to any commission member or mail it to the Tahoka Cemetery Board, Box 300, Tahoka, Tx. 79373 by Jan. 28.

The group believes a good response will come from an appeal for donations, with a letter explaining the needs soon to be mailed out. Any amount contribution will be welcome.

Commission members expressed concern this week over littering at the cemetery and on the road leading to it, pointing out that "it is a shame to see such a mess being made after all the volunteer work done to make the cemetery attractive."

Beer bottles, soft drink cans and trash are being thrown out in the cemetery, and these not only are unsightly, a board member declared, but also ruin mowers working in the cemetery.

A special meeting is planned at 8 a.m. Jan. 29 at the city hall, and everyone is invited to attend, the chairman said.

Impala SE Coupe Breaks 20-MPG EPA Barrier

Chevrolet announced recently it will break the 20-mile-per-gallon barrier in EPA estimated mileage for full-size, gasoline-powered cars with the introduction of a specially-equipped 1980 Impala coupe.

Robert D. Lund, Chevrolet general manager and a General Motors vice president, said the car is called the Impala SE. It is equipped with a 3.8-liter V6 engine, automatic transmission, larger-aspect radial tires and a 2.41 rear axle.

It cannot be purchased with air conditioning.

"We're not kidding ourselves," said Lund. "This is not a car for everybody. More than nine out of ten full-size Chevrolets are normally purchased with air conditioning, for example."

"But whatever the effect of the SE on Chevrolet customers, it has already had a positive effect on the Chevrolet engineering organizations--the people responsible for our ongoing fuel economy programs. It has been a catalyst--it has fired everybody up."

"Breaking the 20-mile-per-gallon barrier in this inertia weight class with a gasoline-powered vehicle is a little like running a four-minute mile. It's been an unreachable target for an awfully long time."

"That's why there's such a sense of accomplishment. And that's why we expect it to have a springboard effect on the fuel economy of our other car lines."

"The SE is more than just an efficient automobile that will serve the needs of many motorists in the best Chevrolet tradition. It's a shot in the arm for fuel economy engineers everywhere. We're really proud of it."

Manufacturer's suggested retail price for a standard Impala coupe is $6,179.84. Suggested price of the SE fuel economy option, (Z5A in the catalog), is $11,172.

Although the EPA has rated the Impala SE at 20 mpg, the window sticker will display 18 mpg. That's the federal label estimate for the entire fleet of full-size Chevrolets with V6 engines and automatic transmissions. The SE will not be available in California.

Highway fuel economy for the SE is estimated at 28 miles per gallon by the EPA. Combined city/highway mileage--the figure used to determine corporate fleet average fuel economy (CAFE)--is 23.

The Impala SE joins a 1980 Chevrolet passenger car fleet that will average a projected 22.1 miles-per-gallon on the EPA's combined city/highway schedule.

Except for the Citation, which is almost seven miles per gallon better than the 1979 Nova series it replaced, Chevrolet's largest year-to-year fuel economy improvement has occurred in Caprice Classic and Impala models.

Projected fleet fuel economy for Caprice Classic and Impala is almost 19 1/2 miles per gallon--up from 17 in 1979.

This year's improvement is the result of a technological over-haul.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, is openly opposing a cotton acreage reduction scheme proffered by the Delta Council, Stoneville, Mississippi.

The proposal would achieve a desirable reduction in cotton acreage, according to PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "but almost the entire cutback would be forced on Texas and Oklahoma with the mid-South and most of the rest of the Cotton Belt giving up little or nothing."

The Delta Council presented its plan at House Cotton Subcommittee hearings December 27, asking that the Secretary of Agriculture be directed to enforce an acreage cutback following any year when the cotton carryover is expected to exceed four million bales.

The acreage reduction should be achieved, Delta Council recommended, by requiring producers (a) to plant five percent below their previous three-year average plantings in order to be eligible for the loan and (b) to reduce acreage up to another 10 percent as a prerequisite to disaster payment and target price eligibility.

"We can easily support the objective of reduced acreage following a year when the cotton carryover is too high," Johnson states, "but we can't leave unchallenged the proposed method of reaching that objective."

He points out that because of declining mid-South cotton acreage in recent years, producers in that area could cut back plantings to five percent below the 1977, 1978 and 1979 average and still plant 2,923,500 acres, over 10 percent more than the 2,650,000 acres planted in 1979. They could reduce the three-year average by 15 percent and still plant 2,615,700 acres, only 1.3 percent less than 1979.

These figures contrast sharply with the Texas-Oklahoma situation where acreage has been on the increase in recent years. The three-year Texas-Oklahoma average is 7,621,000 acres. Cutting back five percent would leave only 7,240,000 acres, 10.6 percent less than the 8.1 million acres planted in 1979. A 15 percent cutback, to 6,477,800, would be over 20 percent less than last year.

Johnson also points out that plantings in the western states, with their highly predictable weather and consistent yields, wouldn't be affected because for the most part they couldn't care less about loan, disaster and target price payment eligibility.

"It becomes readily apparent that adoption of the mid-South proposal," Johnson concludes, "would cause a large acreage reduction over much of Texas and Oklahoma while the mid-South and others would be free to plant as many or more acres and reap a disproportionate share of the price benefits, if any, from reduced Texas-Oklahoma production."

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

1980 CROP FERTILIZER PRACTICES NEED RE-EVALUATION

Fertilizer prices have increased, and this situation requires the producer to re-evaluate 1980 fertilizer practices, says Stanley M. Young, county Extension agent. Reports are that fertilizer costs will be from $20 to $30 per ton higher for 1980. Increases in energy costs and transportation costs are responsible for this new price schedule. With this information on hand, the producer must become more keenly aware of crop fertility needs and the residual soil fertility levels.

Soil testing, reports Young, offers two methods to manage fertility inputs for 1980. Having a good understanding of what fertilizers are required allows the producer to apply only what is needed. This knowledge prevents unneeded production inputs. Secondly, a good soil testing program provides the farmer information on residual nitrogen or accumulated phosphorus often allows the producer to reduce fertility inputs during a given year, reports Young. Anyone interested in soil testing can obtain information sheets, information for sampling, and mailing cartons at the Lynn County Extension Office.

Cold Damage Causes Disease In Ornamentals

Cold temperatures often damage many types of perennial shrubs, and disease symptoms may develop on damaged tissue. Most ornamentals that keep their leaves during the winter, such as wax leaf ligustrum, show some signs of leaf spotting where disease-causing organisms are involved. In almost all cases, weak disease organisms invade unhealthy tissue. Little damage is caused, and no chemical control is necessary.

Azaleas often show a delayed effect from cold damage that is thought by some to be a blight. Individual branches begin to wither and die. Stems split lengthways and may be as long as six to eight inches. This causes injured stems to dry and death follows.

What should be done about plant tissue damaged by cold weather?

Prune weak or damaged tissue from plants once new spring growth gives you a clue as to which may be damaged and which is healthy. Without pruning, weakened tissue may require more food material than is available. Furthermore, disease organisms in the tissue may become more aggressive and move into nearby tissue. Seldom is it necessary to apply a chemical fungicide to deal with this condition.

Homeowners can take certain steps to reduce or prevent freeze damage to landscape plants.

To reduce the likelihood of freeze damage, especially to evergreen plants, be sure to mulch root area to prevent low soil temperature. This allows continued up-take of moisture and less chance of dehydration. Do not allow soil to become excessively dry. Water thoroughly before a freeze but do not water while ground is frozen.

Choice plants should be covered with large cardboard containers or by wrapping them with polyethylene film. If film is used, be sure to remove whenever direct sunlight hits it, as extremely high temperatures can develop and cause more damage to the plant than that caused by the cold.

Do not be over-anxious to remove plants that appear to have been killed by a freeze. Often damaged plants will send out new shoots from the roots. Unless they are budded or grafted plants, new growth will be the same as the original plants.

Careful pruning to encourage compact growth will produce an attractive plant. Be sure to remove dead or damaged wood by pruning to good, sound tissue. However, wait until new growth starts before pruning so you can determine the extent of injury. Pruning too soon can result in removing too much uninjured wood or having to repeat the pruning operation because not all dead tissue was removed.

NCC Supports Pesticide Use:

The National Cotton Council has urged the Environmental Protection Agency to continue registration of pesticide products containing EPN. The cancellation of EPN's registered use would do irreparable harm, the statement added, to cotton farmers, the entire industry, and consumers.

Maid Is Farmer's Daughter: Melissa Mock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mock of Altus, Okla., is the 1980 Maid of Cotton. The family operates a 2,000-acre ranch, including 700 acres of irrigated cotton. Lloyd Cline, Lamesa, Tex., cotton farmer, served as one of the judges.

No Set-Aside Required: USDA has announced it will not require a set-aside or offer voluntary diversion of cropland for the 1980 upland cotton crop. A preliminary 1980 crop upland cotton national program acreage of 11,602,285 also was announced. In order to be assured of target price protection on their entire planted acreage, producers must also reduce 1980 acreage by 10% from 1979 plantings. USDA will announce the final target price for the 1980 upland cotton crop when final yield and cost estimates for the 1979 crop become available.

ELS Bill Signed: The President has signed the extra long staple cotton bill. It decreases the total support level from a minimum of 65% to 55% of parity and increases the range of allowable loan level between 150% and 200% of the upland cotton loan rate to between 185% and 235%. The bill contains no provision to allow sale, lease, or transfer of allotment across state lines.

And Cotton Yesterday: Cotton was used by Zuni and Hopi Indians in ceremonies in 500 B.C. in the Southwestern United States.

NCC President Briefed:

National Cotton Council President C. Hoke Leggett recently joined approximately 100 other leaders from agriculture and business for a White House briefing on the steps taken to retaliate against Soviet aggression in the Middle East. President Carter outlined the reasons behind his decision to curtail grain exports to the Soviet Union and reiterated his intention to minimize the impact upon U.S. farmers. In response to questions, Deputy Agriculture Secretary Williams indicated decisions for paid diversion and set-aside for 1981 crops of grain were under discussion within government circles. He said no decisions would be made until after further monitoring of market reaction to the steps taken.

Crop Estimate Up: USDA estimates the U.S. cotton production as of January 1 at 14,872,900 bales. This is an increase of 345,900 bales over the December 1 estimate. The yield estimate was 551 pounds per acre, up 17 from December 1. The estimate for Texas was up 100,000 bales, while that for Oklahoma was unchanged.

Exports Hit Record: Exports of 250,000 bales for the week ended December 30 set a new weekly record for the season to push the total to 2,752,700, compared with 2,034,600 a year ago. A total of 137,200 bales were shipped to China. Sales of 11,200 running bales of upland cotton during the week ended December brought the season's total to 7,850,700.

And Cotton Yesterday: 327 B.C., Alexander the Great invaded India and returned with the first printed cotton.
