Three THS Athletes To Region

Three Tahoka High School athletes earned trips to regional competition after winning either first or second in district.

Cathy Meeks won first in district in the 800-meter run, winning it with a time of 2:32. She will compete in girls regional at Lubbock this weekend.

Brad White tossed the discus 136 feet, 11 3/4 inches to place second in district and qualify for the regional next weekend.

Randall Stotts again qualified for regional tennis action as he went to the finals before losing to Shelby Brake of Slaton 6-3, 7-5. It was the second year for the THS junior to place second in district.

Stotts beat Jimmy Pruitt of Post in a tough first round match, 7-5, 5-7, 7-5. He then defeated David Milligan of Denver City 6-2, 7-5 before losing to Brake.

Other Tahoka varsity netters all lost in the first round, except for Lisa Perkins, who opened with a 6-4, 6-2 victory over Babe Odom of Cooper, then lost to Julie Davis of Post 6-0, 6-1. Melanie Tekell lost a close singles match to Tania Roberson of Slaton 7-5, 4-6, 6-3.

In girls doubles, Lani Brown and Cindi Lawson lost 6-0, 6-4 to Banks and Copeland of Roosevelt, and in boys doubles Ronald Lusk and Curt Terry were beaten by Freyburger and Mares of Seminole 6-1, 6-0. The Seminole duo won the district doubles.

Absentee Vote Begins

Absentee voting in the Democratic Primary election May 3 is now underway and persons wishing to vote absentee may get ballots at the county clerk's office.

THS Students Are Penalized In Drinking, Fire Incidents

Six members of the Tahoka High School boys track team were suspended from school for three days for alleged drinking on a school track trip, and disciplinary action was being considered against several other THS students as a result of a fire started in a trash container inside the school building about two weeks ago.

Still another student, reportedly involved in both incidents, was expelled from school for the remainder of the school year as school board members agreed last Thursday night that strong disciplinary action was required in each of the recent incidents.

Parents of some of the boys involved in the drinking which reportedly took place on a trip to Dumas met with the board Thursday night, and all were in apparent agreement that the entire situation was regrettable.

Squad Crippled

The track team members who drew the three-day suspension were not permitted to take part in the district meet at Denver City last weekend.

School officials said the disciplinary measures were an unpleasant task for them, but they felt they had no other recourse in the face of "a clear flagrant violation of stated school policy" in regard to the drinking while on a trip representing the school. In the fire incident, it was pointed out that the lives of all in the school were endangered, plus there was some damage inside the building.

"We must have discipline and we must teach these youngsters responsibility," said Supt. Jim Coulston. "Actually most of the ones involved here aren't kids, they're adults, and they have to understand that when they defy the rules they must face the consequences."

Later, when the discussion brought out that some of the accused youngsters' reactions to the penalties had been strong, school board president Bob Haney, with the accord of all board members present, said flatly that "these students need to know that the school board will not tolerate any verbal threats to school personnel and certainly not anything approaching physical action by the students."

Band Trip Set

A new school board member was sworn in, the board elected officers for the coming year, accepted two resignations and agreed to plans for the Bulldog band to attend the Six Flags Band Festival in Arlington next weekend.

New board member Joe Hays was sworn in, as were two other winners of seats in the recent election, incumbent members Joe Brooks and Mrs. Bettye Green. All current board officers then were re-elected, including Haney as president, Marlin Hawthorne as vice-president and Mrs. Green as secretary.

Resignations were accepted from vocational education instructor Craig Garner and from Shirley Holloway, fifth grade teacher. The board immediately voted to employ Mrs. Margaret Carter to teach fifth grade next year.

Budget Switch

Band Director Don Wise presented detailed plans for the band trip to Six Flags April 24-26, and asked that some of the unused band budget be allocated for the trip. He presented figures showing that more than $3,000 of budgeted expenses for the year had been saved in various areas during the year, and the board agreed to allocate $3,000 for the trip by 50 students and nine chaperones. Wise said that the Band Boosters organization would pay $3,400 on the trip and the students would pay $1,500 themselves. The group will fly to Dallas.

With daylight savings time going into effect this month, the board voted to change the meeting time to 8 p.m. starting with the May meeting.

All board members were present except Hawthorne, who has been ill.

Fund Drive Launched By Firemen

The Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department has elected to purchase the remarkable rescue tool "Jaws" designed to remove the vehicle from the victim instead of the wrecked auto. This is accomplished by the tremendous power that the "Jaws" employs to cut and separate the vehicle from the trapped person.

"Jaws" are faster and safer than any other rescue tool offered today, nor is there any danger of starting fires such as there is with saws and cutting torches which are available today, said Tahoka Fire Chief J.T. Miller.

"If you have ever been trapped in a wrecked vehicle or have been in a position to attempt to rescue someone from a wrecked vehicle, you can understand that seconds become minutes, minutes become hours and at that time if you were trapped or if you were trying to free someone the price of the "Jaws" would not be important at all," Miller said.

The powerful piece of rescue equipment not only can be used in rescuing people from auto accidents, but could also be valuable in gin accidents, fires, or to aid people trapped by farm machinery, fireman said.

At the present "Jaws of Life" are not available to the residents of Lynn County. Therefore the department desires the help of all Lynn County residents in securing funds for this piece of life saving equipment.

"We would hope there never would be the need for the use of the "Jaws" but we all realize that the need and time will come," Miller said. "We are willing and able as members of The Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department to offer our services to the people of Lynn County in the operation of the tool if the people are willing to help provide funds for its purchase."

Donations can be made to any member of the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept. They will also provide more information if requested.

To start the fund campaign, the department and Lynn County have donated $500 each. Others who already have donated:

Melvin Edwards, George Wright, Norvell Redwine, Wayne Huffaker, Clifton Clem, B.B. McAllister, Joe D. Unfred, Ed Hamilton and Melvin Burks.

PLAY THIS WEEKEND--These 11-12-year-old Little Dribbler All-Stars will be playing at Denver City this weekend, along with the 9-10-year-old stars from Tahoka, in a tournament to see who advances in the state playoffs. From left, back row, are Coach Cliff Thomas, Andrew Chapa, Troy Teaff, Doug Lawson, John Morin and Todd Nance, with Kent Pebsworth barely visible. Kneeling are Tadd Knight, Jeff Martin, Kurt Pierce, Scotty Isbell, and a flaw in the film just about obliterates Anthony Justice. Not present was Lance Pollard.

No Heavy Lifting On European Trip

Even if the suitcase you plan to take to Europe with you weighs close to the maximum 44 pounds and you can't lift more than 20, there'll be no problem on the Lynn County News-sponsored trip to Europe June 12-26.

All tour arrangements are being handled by professional agencies, and luggage is transferred from plane to bus to hotel and placed outside the door of your room. Each morning you leave one destination for another, you simply set your bag outside the door and it will be handled for you.

The way luggage is handled, the first class rooms and hotel service and transportation with a minimum of walking make the trip easier for everyone, and make it especially appealing to retired persons and widows. Everything is taken care of, so the tourist can just enjoy the sights of Paris, Switzerland, Venice, Vienna and other places.

Time is growing short to sign up for the trip, and anyone considering it is urged to make a reservation now. Price of the trip is $2113 right out of Lubbock airport via Braniff, and the price includes all hotels, all air and bus transportation, transfers of luggage, tips to hotel staff and porters, sightseeing tours in the major cities, services of a professional tour guide who speaks all the languages, and several extra attractions not included in most European tours except at added price.

These include a gondola ride in Venice, tour of the famous Chillon Castle on Lake Geneva, excursion to Mt. Pilatus in Lucerne, entertainment by Swiss yodelers at a nightspot, and wine tasting in Vienna.

Dalton and Lenda Wood, who have led two other tour groups to Europe, will escort the West Texas group on the 15-day trip.

Museum Association Plans Annual Meeting In June

Tahoka Pioneer Museum Association directors discussed plans Monday night for an annual meeting set for Friday night, June 20, preceding the Lynn County Pioneer Reunion on Saturday.

Mrs. Madeline Hegi is in charge of program arrangements. A gold medallion door prize, valued at $200 and donated by Dr. K.R. Durham, Museum president, will be given some lucky member at the meeting.

Tahoka Garden Club is awaiting the installation by Everton and Don Nevill of an Eclipse windmill on the lot west of the Museum building before doing further landscaping, the board was told. Cass Edwards and T-Bar Ranch are helping finance this project.

Annual membership drive of the association has been started by Mrs. Bernice Roberts, chairman. Funds raised on memberships are necessary for maintenance and improvement of the Museum project.

Annual membership is $10 for a couple. Because of a number of inquiries, the board recently established a life membership at $100 and several people have taken this type of membership.

In addition, memorial plaques honoring pioneer settlers are available.

Membership checks and donations may be mailed to Tahoka Pioneer Museum.

Box 87, Tahoka, or to Mrs. Kenneth Turner, secretary-treasurer, or Mrs. Oscar Roberts, membership chairman.

Scout Leaders Give Rotary Program

Doug Palmer, Quannah Parker District Boy Scout Executive, and local Scout leaders presented the program and the 1980 Tahoka Scout Charter at the Rotary Club meeting last Thursday noon.

E.B. Gaither, Boy Scout Troop 721 committeeman, presented a plaque to Mrs. L.A. Forsythe honoring her late husband for the 40 years of service he gave local scouting.

Scoutmaster Guy Witt told of recent Troop 721 achievements, among them being selected as Troop of the Week at last summer's camp at Tres Ritos, N.M., placing second in the South Plains Scout-arama event at Lubbock, the National Camping award, and said at this summer's camp the troop expects to make a pack hike into the Pecos Mountain Wilderness Area. Pierce Hallmark, assistant scoutmaster, received the Scout Training award.

Palmer said this council was the only one in 45 to show a growth in membership.

Ambulance Drivers Are Needed

Ambulance drivers are badly needed to assure that the Lynn County Hospital ambulance service can continue operating. Hospital administrator John Brooks this week issued an appeal to the public for help in the situation.

"We need drivers who are qualified as EMT or ECA or who would be willing to take either course at hospital expense," Brooks said.

"We are down to one part time driver and will welcome any help we can get," Brooks explained that it takes at least two persons to operate the ambulance, and said the hospital will furnish a nurse if enough drivers can be lined up.

Anyone interested is asked to contact Brooks or Austin Simpson at the hospital.

Dust Petition Filed: The National Cotton Council has filed a petition asking the Supreme Court to review the District of Columbia Appeal Court's decision upholding the cotton dust standard. The petition presented two questions covering the lower court decision: (a) Does substantial evidence in the record as a whole support the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's determination that the standard is feasible; and (b) does the Occupational Safety and health Act require OSHA to demonstrate that the standard is reasonably necessary and that its benefits bear a reasonable relationship to its costs?

Propst Meets With Official: National Cotton Council President Herman Propst, Anson, Tex., and other agricultural leaders last week discussed the farm credit situation with Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker and Agriculture Secretary Bergland. Propst reported that a survey taken within the Cotton Belt showed credit is generally available although interest rates are high.

And Cotton yesterday: The cash value of the 1964-65 Texas cotton crop was equal to the cost of over 31 air-conditioned Astrodomes.

ACCORDING TO THE BIBLE

BIBLE Answers for BIBLE Questions: By DOUG CARTER

Question: What is the purpose of baptism?

Answer: (Part 2) Last week we pointed out that we to be baptized because it is commanded by the Lord. We also must be baptized to be united with the Lord. If we believe that Jesus is the Christ, our Saviour, we will want to be united with Him. But how? An ignorant that all we who were baptized into his death (Rom. 6:3). The same thought is found in Gal. 3:27: "For as many of you as were baptized into Christ, put on Christ." There is no other action found in Bible that puts one into the Lord Jesus Christ; he are baptized into Christ, according to the Bible.

When questioned about their preaching of Jesus, Peter and John replied, "In none other is the salvation; for neither is there any other name in heaven that is given among men, wherein we must be saved." If a person seeks to be in Christ, he will be baptized. And what blessings result? "God has blessed us with every spiritual blessing in the heavens in Christ" (Eph. 1:3). And again Paul writes (1 Tim. 2:10) "The salvation which is in Christ Jesus."

Why be baptized? Because salvation and all spiritual blessings are for those who are in Christ, and we baptized into Jesus Christ, according to the word of God. We are also to be baptized to become a child of God. We will discuss that point next week.

Too many people have "walked away" from the word of God, and are using their own "reasoning" to justify their life. Be on guard, and do not be among the number. If you have been away from Christ, we want you to come and study God's word with us. If you are transportation, call us.

"The telephone company does more than send bills. We get them, too. And it's my job to make sure those bills are right. Keeping costs under control is a full-time job. Every penny I save here is a penny our customers won't find on their phone bills. And I'm also helping my company run a tight and efficient business. That's why I'm proud to be one of the people General Telephone is talking about when they say 'We keep you talking'."

Sentry Savings is actively seeking FHA-VA and conventional mortgage loans.

In times of high interest rates, spiraling inflation and limited loan funds, it's typical to look backwards to 5 or 10 years ago and wish you had bought a house then.

One of the problems with "backward looking" is that it doesn't solve the problem of today. If you need a house (or would like to move up into a larger, finer home) the problem isn't solved just because there was another time when property sold for less.

One of the facts that escape those who are given to "backward looking" is that buyers in 1975 also wished they had bought a home 5 or 10 years ago when prices were even cheaper. And in 1965 buyers wished they had bought in 1955, etc.

At Sentry Savings, we don't look back. We are moving forward by planning for the future. We made strategic plans some time ago to enable us to have building funds on hand now when they are needed. Our loan department is actively seeking new loans for FHA, VA and conventional mortgages and supporting our builders with interim construction financing.

If you are looking for loan funds for a new home we believe there will never be a better time to buy. Talk to your Realtor or your builder, then talk to Sentry. At Sentry, we're building for the future.

Spring calving time's at hand and for the beef producer, calving time brings the real payoff in his operation. It's also a challenging time in that he's got to have a tight rein on what's going to prevent calf losses.

increased growth rate, weaning weight, feed efficiency and carcass value are lost.

Not only do calf losses reduce returns from cow-calf operations, but in small herds, the loss of one or more calves can have adverse economic effects.

While a 100 percent calf crop is a tough challenge, many losses occurring at birth could be prevented with proper management. Several management tips that can make calving time less stressful for the producer as well as the cow herd and can insure an extra calf or two at weaning.

Opposition to forced soil and water conservation practices, proposed by USDA as one possibility under the 1977 Resource Conservation Act (RCA), has become widespread, highly vocal and appears to be growing, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

PCG, acting on a board position taken in October last year, on numerous occasions has presented arguments against suggestions that government decreed conservation practices be made a requirement for farm program eligibility or be mandated by other penalty-bearing regulations.

PCG makes clear that the organization and its members are strong believers in conservation of soil and water resources, but maintains that the solution to conservation problems should come through the provision of "incentives to conserve, not penalties for failure to conserve."

The latest voices to speak out firmly in support of that same position are those of Representatives Thomas Foley, Democrat from Washington, and Kika de la Garza, Democrat from Texas.

Foley is Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and de la Garza is Vice Chairman of the Committee and Chairman of its Subcommittee on Department Investigations, Oversight and Research. According to a House Agriculture Committee news release, both recently have "... told Agriculture Department officials they will not support coercive conservation practices.

"We made it clear that we do not think the government should propose such policies and we are convinced Congress would not adopt them. Certainly we need strong conservation programs but they should be based on cooperating with and assisting landowners in their own voluntary efforts — not on trying to black-jack people into compliance," the Committee leaders said.

Foley and de la Garza added "We are confident that the recommendations and views submitted to the Agriculture Department by thousands of interested and concerned people will be heard, and the Department has assured us this will lead to practical proposals for future conservation policies. We are confident these policies will not include coercion."

De la Garza also noted that "When the 1977 Conservation Act was written, I personally insisted on and secured the inclusion of a provision specifying that no conservation practices would be used under the bill except at the request of the landowner."

In response to the Committee news release, Johnson commented, "We are gratified that these and other people in high places have joined us in the effort to prevent bureaucratic interference with what farmers across the nation have found to be the most productive and efficient farming practices."

cause unnecessary nervousness, especially in first-calf heifers. Moving the herd into the calving pasture prior to calving may eliminate some stress.

5. Prepare needed equipment before the calving season starts. Thoroughly clean and sterilize obstetrical chains, calf pullers and other equipment used at calving time. Boil calving chains in mineral oil and wrap them in clean cloths for future use. Ropes can be used in place of obstetrical chains but should be clean.

6. Watch cows for problem deliveries resulting from abnormal presentations. An abnormal delivery will need quick assistance or the calf may suffocate.

7. When examining a cow or heifer, use a good lubricant and use it freely. Various lubricants are on the market; however, mild soap dissolved in warm water and allowed to cool to a gel will work satisfactorily. Also, have on hand some form of antiseptic and iodine.

8. After the calf is born, be sure that it nurses. A healthy calf will nurse within one or two hours. If the calf is too weak, provide assistance in nursing. The calf must have colostrum with its protective antibodies.

9. Watch the cow for several days after calving for udder problem, and make sure the cow claims her calf.

10. Be sure cows shed their placental membranes, or afterbirth, soon after calving. If the cow has not cleaned within 36 hours, call a veterinarian.

11. Watch calves for scours or diarrhea. Scours is an acute infectious disease causing losses in calves 7-10 days old.

12. Cows need adequate levels of energy, protein, calcium and magnesium in their diet after calving. This means twice as much feed after calving as before calving. The productive cow requires 16 pounds of TDN per day as soon as the calf appears to be consuming all of the milk, or about 15 days after calving. Larger amounts of nutrients are required for adequate milk production and reproduction.

13. Put first-calf heifers into a separate area and feed extra grain if they are to calve at the same time next year.

14. Plan a breeding program that will insure a definite calving season to make maximum use of forage, labor and good weather.

Economics and Production Methods as related to swine production will be the topics of discussion at a meeting April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room of Lyntegar Electric Co-op, Tahoka.

Says...

Texas 4-H members are involved in more than 60 different projects ranging from aerospace to wildlife science that vary in complexity as much as their names imply.

The 4-H project forms the basis for educational programs conducted through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service 4-H youth development programs.

Members meet in small groups under the direction of a trained volunteer to study and experience various aspects related to the project of their choosing.

Some of the more popular 4-H projects among Texas 4-H'ers are foods and nutrition, clothing, horses, safety, gardening and livestock. These projects help 4-H members understand and appreciate the skills involved and to actually learn and practice many of them.

For example, in the foods and nutrition project members learn not only how to prepare certain foods but how to plan complete and nutritious meals. They also learn how foods affect their health and to develop good eating habits.

Clothing projects teach members skills in fabric selection, pattern adaptation and sewing skills. They also learn how to coordinate clothing and how to look their best for the least amount of money.

4-H'ers in the horse project learn about the makeup of the horse, skills, showmanship and variety of related skills. The safety project is popular in that it is related to any other project and teaches members to practice safety in everyday lives.

Gardening and projects are among the traditional 4-H projects. Their popularity is high. Both rural and youth raise vegetables, flowers, rabbits and many of the larger animals requiring more space most often found in suburban areas.

Youth between the ages of 19 who would like information on how to and grow in the program, should contact county Extension office.

made $42 more per acre

On-farm tests proved it...

In 56 comparisons over the three years, certified Lockett 77 from Pioneer produced an average gross income of $309* per acre giving it a $42 per acre advantage over competitive varieties.

Why such an advantage? Outstanding seedling vigor with excellent cold tolerance and seedling ease escape help Lockett 77 make good stand. Added to that are multiple disease tolerance, hardy characteristics, and early maturity... a combination that helps Lockett 77 deliver outstanding performance.

Farmers who've grown certified Lockett 77 are well pleased with results. Jack and Paul Hopper Knott recorded a lint yield of 15 lbs./planted acre in 1979. R. Roming at Lariat got 830 lbs./A. over the last four years at Texas, Clinton Halford averaged 15 lbs. of lint per acre with certified Lockett 77.

City Sales Rebates Less

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday said city sales tax rebates for April totaled $24.1 million, about $10 million less than Texas cities received in April last year.

He said 1980 rebate payments of the optional one-percent sales tax from the first of the year now total $162.8 million, compared to rebates of $135.2 million over the same period in 1979.

Because year-to-date payments are up over last year, it's too early to say whether the decreased monthly payments reflect a downward trend in taxable sales or simply seasonal adjustments, Bullock said.

"The next couple bear special attention and may give us a clear x-ray about what's happening and what to expect from the Texas economy," he said.

Mrs. Harold Reynolds entered Methodist Hospital April 5 and on Tuesday had surgery on her right shoulder. Helen broke her arm when she fell at their home in Morton in January and the cast caused the joints in her shoulder and fingers to "freeze" making the surgery mandatory. She remains under treatment in Methodist Hospital. Helen and Harold had just moved into their new brick home 4 miles southeast of New Home.

Sherry Etheredge Says...

Why do women need to pay careful attention to the foods they eat?

When women reach the teen years, caloric requirements become lower and iron requirements much higher than those of men, say nutritionists with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Women who maintain a good diet as a way of life, will be better prepared to cope with the extra demands of child-bearing, the work world and normal life cycles. However, the diet of most women falls short in providing adequate amounts of iron, calcium, vitamin D and protein.

Most of these nutrient needs can be met by eating a variety of foods from the basic food groups: meats, poultry, fish, eggs and beans; fruits and vegetables; breads and cereals; and milk and dairy products.

Although iron allowances, especially for young and pregnant women, may not be met in foods alone, these foods are good sources of iron: meats, egg yolk, legumes and nuts, dry beans, dark-green leafy vegetables, and enriched breads and cereals.

Dry beans are nutrition nuggets, rich in energy and nutrition at a nominal cost per pound. Served with meat they are an unbeatable protein team; with molasses they are a good source of iron; and they also contain good amounts of B vitamins and calcium.

You can let them soak overnight, then leave them cooking in a crock pot while you are at work. If you have a pressure cooker, you can prepare them when you get home in about 30 minutes.

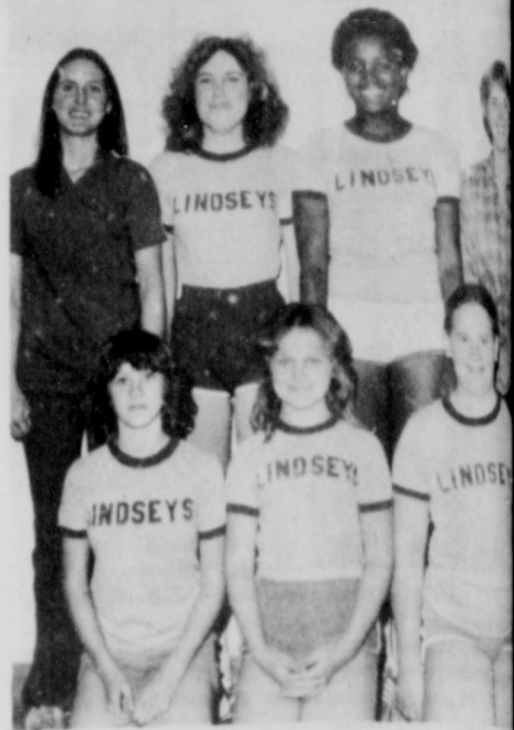

Usually only high quality dry beans and peas are sold at retail stores, says USDA's Food Safety and Quality Service (FSQS).

Rarely do packages carry the federal quality grade labels--U.S. No. 1 for dry whole or split peas, lentils and black-eye peas; U.S. No. 1 Choice Handpicked or Handpicked for Great Northern, pinto and pea beans; U.S. Extra No. 1 for lima beans.

You can look for the same factors federal inspectors use in judging quality. A bright uniform color indicates freshness; loss of color indicates long storage and a product that will take longer to cook.

Uniformity in size allows more even cooking. Visible defects, such as cracked seed coats, pinholes caused by insect damage, are signs of a low quality product.

To meet your nutritional needs, write for the 14 leaflets on how to buy meat and poultry, fresh and processed fruits and vegetables, milk and dairy products, cheese, eggs, dry beans and peas, and potatoes available without charge from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Information Division, Room 5C40, 1100 Commerce, Dallas, Texas, 75242.

In 1809 Capt. Allardyce Barclay of Ury, Scotland came a wealthy man by betting at 100 to 1 that he could walk 1,000 miles in 1,000 days.

That man in the "jump seat" of an airplane cockpit is no pilot. He's a University of Texas psychologist. Prof. Robert Helmreich is making a study of psychological factors that affect crew performance in two areas - commercial airline cockpits and ocean-going supertankers. Pilots' reactions to simulated emergency situations may yield data that could be important to astronauts in space flights, Dr. Helmreich says. Also, how workers on supertankers respond to such factors as boredom, social isolation and separation from family could influence astronauts on long missions in space, he adds.

Sherry Etheredge Says...

Why do women need to pay careful attention to the foods they eat?

When women reach the teen years, caloric requirements become lower and iron requirements much higher than those of men, say nutritionists with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Women who maintain a good diet as a way of life, will be better prepared to cope with the extra demands of child-bearing, the work world and normal life cycles. However, the diet of most women falls short in providing adequate amounts of iron, calcium, vitamin D and protein.

Most of these nutrient needs can be met by eating a variety of foods from the basic food groups: meats, poultry, fish, eggs and beans; fruits and vegetables; breads and cereals; and milk and dairy products.

Although iron allowances, especially for young and pregnant women, may not be met in foods alone, these foods are good sources of iron: meats, egg yolk, legumes and nuts, dry beans, dark-green leafy vegetables, and enriched breads and cereals.

Dry beans are nutrition nuggets, rich in energy and nutrition at a nominal cost per pound. Served with meat they are an unbeatable protein team; with molasses they are a good source of iron; and they also contain good amounts of B vitamins and calcium.

You can let them soak overnight, then leave them cooking in a crock pot while you are at work. If you have a pressure cooker, you can prepare them when you get home in about 30 minutes.

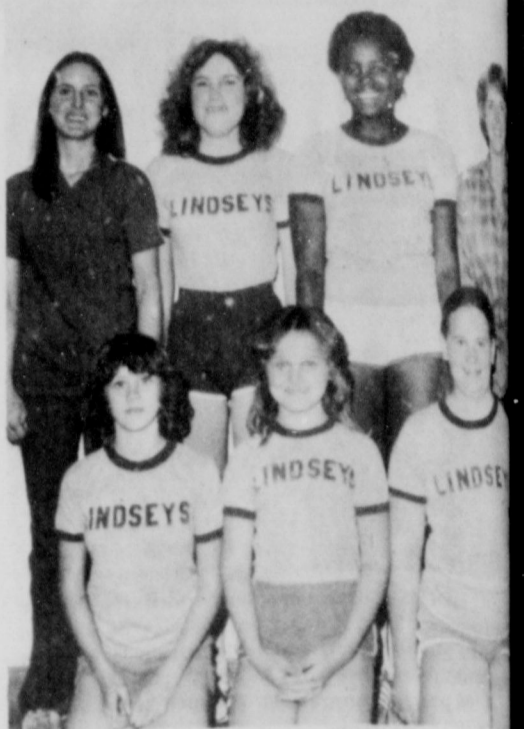

Usually only high quality dry beans and peas are sold at retail stores, says USDA's Food Safety and Quality Service (FSQS).

Rarely do packages carry the federal quality grade labels—U.S. No. 1 for dry whole or split peas, lentils and black-eye peas; U.S. No. 1 Choice Handpicked or Handpicked for Great Northern, pinto and pea beans; U.S. Extra No. 1 for lima beans.

You can look for the same factors federal inspectors use in judging quality. A bright uniform color indicates freshness; loss of color indicates long storage and a product that will take longer to cook.

Uniformity in size allows more even cooking. Visible defects, such as cracked seed coats, pinholes caused by insect damage, are signs of a low quality product.

To meet your nutritional needs, write for the 14 leaflets on how to buy meat and poultry, fresh and processed fruits and vegetables, milk and dairy products, cheese, eggs, dry beans and peas, and potatoes available without charge from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Information Division, Room 5C40, 1100 Commerce, Dallas, Texas, 75242.

In 1809 Capt. Allardycs Barclay of Ury, Scotland came a wealthy man by betting at 100 to 1 that he could walk 1,000 miles in 1,000 days.

That man in the "jump seat" of an airplane cockpit is no pilot. He's a University of Texas psychologist. Prof. Robert Helmreich is making a study of psychological factors that affect crew performance in two areas - commercial airline cockpits and ocean-going supertankers. Pilots' reactions to simulated emergency situations may yield data that could be important to astronauts in space flights, Dr. Helmreich says. Also, how workers on supertankers respond to such factors as boredom, social isolation and separation from family could influence astronauts on long missions in space, he adds.
