Drinking Students Face Full-Year Restrictions

By DALTON WOOD
Tahoka School Board last week voted to raise school lunchroom prices, rental fees on gymnasiums and discussed plans for a major increase in taxes expected to be voted within the next few days as final figures on property reappraisals in the district come in.

The board also adopted strict new policies designed to discourage use of drugs and alcohol by students as well as any possible challenges by students to authority of teachers or administrators.

In effect, the rule says any student caught drinking or using drugs, or having either in his possession, while in school or taking part in any school-sponsored function, will be allowed to return to school, but for the rest of that school year can't take part in anything except classes. In part, the handbook section says:

"Those students who are suspended or excluded... will attend only their regularly scheduled classes" and specifies that things they can no longer take part in outside the classroom include "marching or concerts in the band, UIL activities, athletic contests, Student Council, National Honor Society and all other clubs and organizations."

Tougher Policies
"Also, the board will not tolerate any physical or verbal abuse to teachers by students," said Bob Haney, board president.

Breakfast and lunch prices for the year were raised 5 cents for breakfast and 10 cents for lunch, according to the following new price schedule:

	Breakfast	Lunch
Reduced	.10	.60
Reg. Price	.30	.60
Staff	.50	1.00
Guests	.75	1.50

Borden received the milk contract and Rainbo the bread contract for the cafeteria, and the board also approved ordering 10 new tables at $58 each and 80 new chairs at $11.95 for the cafeteria, to be paid out of lunchroom funds.

Citing increased costs of utilities and labor for taking care of the gyms, the board increased rental fees as follows: North Elementary Gym, $15 for 2 1/2 hours; high school gym, $15 per hour with a maximum of $100 per day. For sponsored activities for school age students, the fee is $15 for 2 1/2 hours. It is available only when North gym is unavailable.

Cafeteria Rental
Cafeteria rental fee remains at $25, but the maintenance person on duty must be paid by those renting it at the individual's overtime rate. Persons listed to contact for use of school facilities were listed as high school gym, A.D. Shaver; high school auditorium, Jim Marcus; North Elem. Gym, Clifton Gardner; and school cafeteria, David Roberson.

Hired as migrant teacher for kindergarten through third grade was Mrs. Jerre Martin, and Mrs. Tom Sullivan was hired as migrant aide in junior high. Resignation of Mrs. Gail Stephens as kindergarten teacher was accepted. With some cards still out on the property reappraisals required by law, the board was forced to wait a few days to set a new tax rate based on the new total valuations. With most of the reports in, however, it was estimated that the final total would be in the vicinity of $85 million. If so, this would be more than double the $38.3 million total evaluation in the district used in previous assessments.

Need More
Because of various increases in local portion of expenses budgeted for the coming year, however, the district must raise about $250,000 more than the $500,000 raised in the past year, from local sources (taxes).

Supt. Jim Coulston and business manager David Roberson have compiled figures from records they emphasize are "open to anybody" to show that in the last five years, the district's budgets have increased a total of 28 per cent, or an average of 5.6 per cent each year, and that expenses such as salaries, utilities, repairs and supplies have increased 13.8 per cent in the last three years.

Despite these increases in expenses and budget increases which have averaged only 3.7 per cent a year in the last three years, school taxes have not been raised in many years, certainly not in the last six years.

In accordance with a new federal order, the candy and soft drink machines at the schools this year will be locked up until after the noon hour each day.

Board members present were: Haney, Marlin Hawthorne, Bettye Green, Tommy Lawson and Jay Dee House. Absent were Joe Brooks and Joe Hays.

Bulldogs Plan For Good Year

VERY SOON now when the Tahoka Bulldogs begin their football season for real, I'll start wearing my "Hokydogs" shirt to the games, just as I did last season. That name just sort of we first moved to Tahoka, my wife and I had one day that it was hard to say, "going to Tahoka," because it sounds like a stuttering problem. So she just started saying "We're going to Hoka." I picked this up, and it more of a country sound by saying "Hoky" in Hoky.

Some of the city's longtime residents like that kind of treatment of the town's name, but there certainly never was any problem. Granted, some folks term things old-fashioned as "hokey," but that's the meaning here.

The word "Hokydogs" put on a T-shirt there are all kinds of dogs and bulldogs, and one bunch of Tahoka Bulldogs, and "Hokydogs" is a quick and easy way to identify a bulldog. I like best. Anyway, I thought Virginia might give me a discount for fewer letters in "Hoka Bulldogs," but she didn't.

Last year, we around the office had a habit of referring to all Tahoka things in short form (Hoky Drug, Hoky Methodist, Hoky National Hokybank, etc.), but only when among ourselves.

When I think I've ever used the slang word in my life, though I sure did want to the week we ran the Lynn County jail on the front page. A great temptation to label the photographs "Hoky Pokey."

That's all in fun, and for the most part I stick with the time-honored name of "Hoky," which means any one of two or three depending on who you ask. Former Mayor Frank Hill once did some extensive work trying to pin down the meaning of the word. He wrote the Bureau of Indian Affairs and several other sources. He says that the word "Hoky" probably means either "clear water" or "fresh water" or maybe "good water." But, he said, some oldtimers thought it was an Indian word for "bad water."

He mentioned that he never could discover the meaning of "Hoky Indians," but there was a tribe in Texas (and here, though) called by other Indians "Hoky," which may have meant "the water."

There also is a report of unconfirmed origin that the word means "sees far," which would make sense in a flat country.

Generally accepted is the clear water, or "Hoky" theory.

The Hoky publisher, however, is just about as confused after the last several months that it has been "no water."

The Tahoka Bulldogs, hoping to be the team to break up the perennial district deadlock for the championship this year, are working out daily in preparation for the season opener here Sept. 5 against Stanton.

Everyone in the district moved up a notch from AA to AAA, and the district number changed, but it's still the same people in the district, except for Seminole and Denver City, which moved to another district.

The UIL this year realigned districts with the announced purpose of getting league foes closer together to save gasoline on the shorter trips. So Tahoka, needing some non-conference games, was unable to find anybody close who would play the Bulldogs on the open dates, and consequently will make some of the longest trips to games ever for a high school team.

The Dogs will play Seminole anyway, but it won't count in the district standings. And they play at Ballinger, about 160 miles away, followed by a trip of about 240 miles the following week to Dalhart, a little ways south of Denver, Colo.

Coach A.D. Shaver returns six starters each on offense and defense, and is counting heavily on new quarterback Mark Hudlin, a top performer for the junior varsity last year, to run his Wing T attack.

A key man in that running attack will be Tracy White, 185-pound senior who gained more than 1,100 yards last year and scored 98 points. The speedy White was second team all-district on both offense and in the defensive secondary.

Jacky Jolly, first team all-district-middle linebacker and also all-district offensive guard, returns and will make his 200 pounds felt frequently by the opposition.

Returning offensive starters are White, Jolly, guard Freddy Garcia (165), center Ronald Lusk (200), end Johnny Alvarado (210) and halfback Charles Bryson (180).

Returning on defense from last year's 8-2 team are ends Alvarado and Danny Thompson (195), guard Lucian Thompson (175), Jolly at linebacker, and White and Bryson at safeties. The offensive backfield presently appears to be shaping up with Hudlin at quarterback, White and Bryson at halves and Danny Thompson at fullback.

Shaver stressed, however, that results of upcoming scrimmages and what players do in workouts could bring some changes at many positions. "We have a lot of youngsters who will get in plenty of action," he said.

The Dogs will scrimmage at Morton this Friday, starting with the freshman at 4 p.m., then the junior varsity, with the varsity scrimmage to be about 6 p.m.

On the following Friday, the same schedule will apply to a scrimmage against Olney at Jayton, a neutral site.

Shaver is starting his fifth year as head coach here, and has seen the district wind up in a tie every year, with Tahoka one of the tie-ees the last three seasons. So far as this year's district outlook is concerned, he says, "It's the same old thing—everybody looks tough." Tahoka and Slaton are generally being picked to battle it out again, but Shaver mentioned Post and Frenship as looking strong. "and old Roosevelt could be real good, too." Those four teams and Cooper make up the district this year.

Assistant Coaches Budd Todd and T.A. Bell are back this season, along with newcomers Tommy Boyd, Dean Minor, Gary Roan, Jerry Anderson and Bill Montgomery.

An open letter to new freshman students:

Dear Freshman,
At High School you are entering a relatively short but enormously important and decisive period in your life. Think about it. For a dozen years you were children, for two more you were adolescents. Now a teenager, you are in High School for four years and then, with God's will, you will have decades to build careers, to build businesses, to build families, to build a life. Many of you will further your education at colleges and vocational schools, but for many of you, these four years will end your formal education. These few years here in high school may well be the decisive years in the shaping and firming of your personality and character, in determining the direction

Alcohol Fuel Production Program To Get Hearing

The public is invited to a hearing on a new federal program to assist in production of alcohol and other biomass fuels according to FmHA District Director Donald R. Perry. The hearing will be at the Holiday Inn on Ave H Friday, Aug. 29.

The all-day hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the morning session will break at 11:30 a.m. The hearing will resume at 2 p.m. and runs till 5 p.m. The evening session will be held from 7-9 p.m. Assistant Agriculture Secretary Alex P. McCure will preside at the hearing.

Perry said everyone is invited to attend the entire meeting or any portion they wish. Anyone wishing to speak or present written testimony about the proposed regulations are invited to do so. Copies of the proposed regulations are available at the Farmers Home Administration office at the Federal Building, 1205 Texas, Lubbock.

Farmers Home Administration, a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, will carry out part of the energy security act of 1980. That part is Section 2 of the bill designed to produce 920 million gallons of biomass fuel annually by the end of next year. The proposed plan calls for FmHA to provide direct loans on the farm production of bio mass fuels of "alcohol, ethane, and methane" and provide guaranteed loans to medium scale commercial facilities, to help farmers and others to get into production of alcohol and other biomass fuels.

in ships and manpower, and pointed out that frequently needed ships have to lay up in ports because of the shortage of experienced manpower.

In fact, he said the defense forces are hurting because of the manpower shortage. Too many capable men leave the Navy, for instance, because they can draw higher pay in private enterprise and also to be with their families. Lower ranked personnel up to the rank of Chief Petty Officer can qualify in many cases for the Food Stamp program.

He thinks the draft program is needed to support the defense of our nation. He sees nothing wrong with the enlistment of women in the service, since there are many jobs females can do as well or better than men. However, a problem would exist in use of women aboard submarines because of the crowded conditions.

The son of a minister, he has lived in many Texas towns including Canyon, Lamesa, and Sweetwater. He is a graduate of West Texas State.

Faster Sales Tax Rebates Predicted

Austin-- State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday said continued improvements in the tax processing system in his office will result this month in a one-time multi-million sales tax rebate bonus to cities and quicker tax reimbursements in the future.

Bullock said Texas cities who levy the optional one-percent city sales tax will receive two rebate checks for August.

He said this month's "extra" check will include a large amount of money from second quarter returns filed in the Comptroller's office on the July 31 deadline and normally would have been included in the September payment.

He said one check represents taxes being returned from last month's rebate cutoff through the end of July. The other check is the result of allowing an extra week of tax allocations for cities during the first week of August.

Statewide, Texas cities will share $39.8 million for the normal end-of-July allocation formula and an additional $61.1 million as a one-time bonus payment under the revised accounting system.

That's well over $100 million that will be returned to cities as a result of improvements in our accounting system," he said.

Bullock said city sales tax rebates will now be allowed to accrue through the first week of each month and be paid about the 15th of the month. The previous allocation period ran from the end of one month to the first of the following month and cities were reimbursed sometime after the middle of the month.

Bullock said improvements in the state's deposit and tax posting system will allow his office to keep the rebate pipeline open into the first week of each month and still

Scanning Social Security

By JIM LATIMER

Frequently, I am asked the question "what's so good about Social Security?" Today's column presents my latest observations.

Social Security has been called America's most successful government program. Social Security pays monthly benefits to millions of retired and disabled workers and their dependents, and to widows and orphans of deceased workers. Social Security taxes also pay for Medicare Hospital insurance for people 65 and over and for workers who have been disabled for 2 years or more.

The average Social Security cash benefits for a person and a spouse retiring at age 65 in 1980 is $600, and the average benefits for a new widow with two children in 1980 is $790.

For most people receiving benefits, Social Security checks are the foundation of their financial security and for many, social security is the only thing standing between them and dependence on public assistance, charity or family and friends.

Rebekah Lodge #209 met in regular session on Tuesday night with nine members present. Fellowship Past Noble Grand Club will meet this Thursday night in the home of Audrey Akin. All members are urged to be present at 7 p.m.

Almost forty persons were on hand Friday for the covered dish luncheon at Lynn Co. Pioneer Club. Carrie Caldwell's name was drawn for the "Lucky Member" gift. Several members are planning to go the "Good Ole Summer-time" fellowship at Lubbock Civic Center this Friday night. There are no more tickets available. The event is sponsored by Lubbock Senior Citizens.

Dr. Ann West is vacationing in the vicinity last week and this and has been a guest of the K.R. Durhams part of the time. Also spent some time at the farm (home place) north of town, canning peas.

Visiting with Vesta Appling from Fri. through Sun. were the J.T. Ashbrook family from Longview. Mrs. Ashbrook is her granddaughter, the former Patricia Lawson, who lived here as a child.

untold misery and grief to consumers. They are in the home repair-improvement business and show no mercy to any particular consumer group. They sell roofing, paving, and siding jobs to consumers, door to door. The jobs are of poor quality and the amount charged is excessive. Be leary of anyone coming to your door and saying your "roof needs repair" or asking you if you need any work done.

Always get at least three estimates before deciding to do business. If you are a victim of this gang, please call the Attorney General's office, 806-747-5238, or the BBB office at 800/692-4466.

A new bogus invoice scheme has hit the South Plains. The invoice comes from the Fiscal Publications headquartered in England. This time the bogus invoice actually states "invoice" on the literature. Also, the required disclaimer is not included. Both the Postal Inspector's office and the Attorney General's office have expressed an interest in this new invoice scheme. Businesses are encouraged to be on the lookout for the mailing since it could be very easy to handle it like a bill, which it is not.

INSUR-MATION

By JOEY MEADOR

Lynn County Farm Bureau

My sister just renewed her life insurance policy without taking any kind of a physical, etc. What kind of policy is this?

It sounds like your sister renewed a term life insurance policy which is written for a set number of years... one, five, ten, etc. The policy must be renewed to keep it in force. With each renewal, the premium will go up slightly. Renewal term policies can be renewed without a medical examination or meeting any medical standards. Convertible term policies can be converted to policies which will accumulate cash value, also without medical restrictions. A person interested only in pure protection with no savings element will find the renewable or convertible (in case you change your mind about saving) term policy suits their needs very well.
