

School Tax Increase Hearing Draws Crowd

Persons showed up at the Tahoka High School public hearing on a school tax increase averaging 46 per cent after a lot of discussion and questioning most of the apparently went away happy, but at the understanding of those present came to the meeting upset over the "1980 estimated tax" figure listed on forms mailed out by the school district. Board president Bob Haney explained that "these figures are not correct" and that their tax bills actually will be lower because a lower tax rate will be established. Jim McMorries of Hereford, head of the appraisal firm which did all the new property evaluations in the county, was present and did most of the talking.

To Hear Protests

He also stressed that he and other members of his firm would meet with individuals to discuss any problems or errors made in determining how much property is worth. These hearings are scheduled a week ahead of the meetings of the equalization board (review board), and McMorries said his firm would gladly correct any errors.

"I'm not your enemy," McMorries told the group. "If you'll work with me, you'll find I'm your friend." But he warned that "I'm not going to give you anything I can't give your neighbor, but I'll give you what you're entitled to."

Persons with questions about their taxes or evaluations have several opportunities to meet with various officials on the matter. The county will have a public meeting at 5 p.m. Monday in the district courtroom on a proposed county tax boost pegged at 24.6 per cent. The McMorries people will meet any interested property owners in three scheduled sessions: next Tuesday and Wednesday (Sept. 16-17) in the district courtroom in Tahoka, on Sept. 18 at Wilson School and on Sept. 19 at O'Donnell School.

Other Hearings

No dates have been announced as yet for public hearings on proposed tax increases by the City of Tahoka, Wilson city or school district, or O'Donnell city and school. New Home school district had its public hearing in June, and the City of New Home will have a public hearing on a proposed 38 per cent tax increase at 5 p.m. Sept. 23.

The Lynn County Hospital District was to set a date Tuesday night for a hearing on taxes.

Those who have met with the McMorries appraisers, attended the public hearings by the various taxing jurisdictions and still think they aren't being treated fairly may appear before the review board (board of equalization) the week of Sept. 22-26. The board will be in session at the district courtroom 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sept. 22-23; at Wilson school 9-4 Sept. 24 and 9-11:30 a.m. Sept. 25; and at O'Donnell school 1:30 - 4 p.m. Sept. 25 and 9-4 Sept. 26.

Prescribed Formulas

At last Thursday's meeting, McMorries discussed some of the factors used in determining how much farm property is worth. He said the state has rules about what can be used in making the appraisals, particularly in regard to setting ag values.

He said that is this area the values his firm put on farm land "are about 50 per cent of what they're really worth," and that homes were closer to their actual value, but still not valued at what they would sell for.

He explained that in determining ag values, the law says the appraisers must use county averages on yield, not individual farms, and must use published figures from government agencies. Admitting that those figures might be inaccurate, he said the law still requires that such a formula be used.

Favors Change

"We need a different method and more equitable way (than property taxes) to finance our educational system," McMorries commented.

He said he had argued at Austin for a 1-cent additional sales tax to pay school costs in Texas, and claimed that such a move would make it possible to cut school property taxes by 75 per cent. But he said he immediately encountered the argument that such a sales tax would hurt the poor and needy.

"I'm all for the poor and needy," he said. "But I'm sick and tired of paying all the costs of education for people who don't pay one dime in school taxes when they are able to pay."

Several persons in the audience had questions about the size of the school tax increase, about the valuations and about the school budget.

The school district still has not set a tax rate, waiting for the final certification of the tax roll after the review board meets, but has indicated that a rate between 86 and 90 cents per $100 evaluation will be set.

It Rained!

Tuesday night and Wednesday morning light rains covered Lynn County and the South Plains, and more was predicted for the rest of the week.

West Tahoka received .36 inch up to 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, the largest downpour in 91 days. In fact, until Tuesday Tahoka had received a total of only .30 inches since June 11, and only 9.61 for the year.

Early last week, heavy rain and hail covered a strip east of town from Six Mile Station to Grassland. Up to four inches of rain was reported and several crops completely hailed out.

Tomlinson

The top five girls, who must qualify by selling at least 150 tickets, will be judged on poise and personality by judges from the Robert Spence School in Lubbock. Trudi Lewis of KLBK-TV in Lubbock will be emcee for the contest starting at 2 p.m. on the courthouse lawn.

Each of the top five will receive a $30 gift certificate from local merchants, and the winner will be selected after answering questions during the ceremony.

Money from ticket sales will help cover expenses of the festival, according to contest chairman Virginia House. Others on the committee are Karen Kelln, Karen Lawson, Nadine Dunlap, Ann Roberts and Chloe Jan Wells. Brian Simpson and Randall Stotts will be escorts for the queen contestants.

Dogs Travel To Seminole After Loss

DALTON WOOD
Tahoka Bulldogs won the 1980 football season the same way they won the previous one—losing. But the Dogs won it except for a few bad places.

with all of the scoring coming in the last quarter. If the Bulldogs try to match any more of last season's happenings they could lose down at Seminole this week, because in last year's very successful season only Stanton and Seminole beat the Bulldogs. Hopefully Coach A.D. Shaver's crew won't try to repeat the Seminole part and will go on to equal or better the rest of the achievements.

Offense Sputters

Tahoka was unable to muster a lot of offense Friday night, getting just 9 first downs and gaining 156 yards total offense to 147 for the visitors. Running back Tracy White, for whom 100-yard games were routine last year, gained the most, 63 yards in 16 carries.

There were three turnovers by each team in the contest, and in the first three quarters there was only one serious threat, by Stanton in the second period.

Marcus Del Toro recovered a Stanton fumble in the first period.

In the second, Stanton drove to the Tahoka 13 with a first on a 19-yard pass from Quarterback Craig Eiland to one of his ends, but defensive end Marty Lindsey sacked Eiland for a loss of 13, and the other end, Danny Thompson, repeated the accomplishment a couple of plays later to halt the threat. Thompson ran back the ensuing punt 34 yards to the Dog 46 and on the next play ripped 18 yards to the Buffalo 34. But Tahoka stalled there.

Defense Tough

Tahoka reached the Stanton 28 in the third, but strong defensive play led by linebacker Johnny Christon stopped that effort.

White recovered a fumble and later intercepted one of Eiland's tosses and returned it 40 yards all the way to Stanton's 25. This drive appeared to be stalled with fourth and 9, but quarterback Mark Hudlin ran 13 for a first at the 11. White gained 3 as the third quarter ended, and on the first play of the fourth period, ran 8 yards for a Tahoka touchdown. Guard Kevin Elmore converted to make it 7-0. Tahoka fans' joy was brief, however, as Stanton's Tony Hernandez, a 145-pound sophomore, ran the kickoff back 90 yards for a TD. But Eiland's kick was wide and Tahoka still had a 7-6 lead.

Disaster struck Tahoka with less than 6 minutes left in the game as Charles Bryson attempted to field a punt around the 20 of Tahoka and couldn't quite hang onto it, with Stanton recovering at the Bulldog 10.

Stanton Scores

On the next play Eiland looped a pass into the end zone to end David McReynolds to make it 12-7.

Tahoka had some time left but couldn't get rolling, although Hudlin did hit end Johnny Alvarado for passes of 16 and 17 yards. With 4:25 left, Tahoka faked a punt on fourth down and Bryson caught the pass for an apparent first down, but the Dogs were offside and wound up having to punt.

Hudlin gained 29 yards on 6 carries and Danny Thompson had 24 in 8 efforts.

Harvest Festival Plans In High Gear

The annual Lynn County Harvest Festival is just over a week away, and several committees were busy this week making final preparations for a wide range of activities.

Despite any posters or newspaper stories to the contrary, the festival will be Saturday, Sept. 20, with many highlights such as bicycle race, crowning of the queen, music all day, lots of booths for food and other items, free prizes donated by merchants and games for youngsters.

Most of the activities get underway at 10 a.m.

First Bale Is Ginned

Lynn County's first bale of cotton for 1980 was brought in last Friday by Dean Daniell of Wilson, who gathered the bale from 7 to 8 acres on his farm about 2 1/2 miles east and a mile south of Wilson.

The bale weighed 490 pounds from 4920 pounds of seed cotton, with 780 pounds of lint. It was brought to New Lynn Gin about 5:30 p.m. and ginning was completed at 8:05 p.m. Ginner Roy Lynn Kahlich said Daniell had about 200 pounds of cotton left over from the finished bale. He added that it graded 52-30-4-3-11, reduced because of bark.

The Cascot BR-1 variety was planted in late May, Daniell said. It was not defoliated and was pulled by machine.

For bringing in the first bale of the season, Daniell received a $100 check from the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, and it was ginned free by New Lynn Gin.

Saturday, Sept. 20, according to sponsors.

Teams interested in participating in the men's bicycle race should contact Wesley Boone, with June Brooks in charge of the women's race. Team members need to be 18 or older, and each team will include three riders riding in relay.

Prizes Offered

Genny Halford is chairman of the prize drawings, and has as committee members Harold Roberts, Gertrude Polk, Jay Dee House, Myrna Weaver, Bernice Phipps and Sherry Morris. Mrs. Halford, phone 998-4001, can answer questions about the drawings.

Since the Harvest Festival and Tahoka Homecoming are not being held together this year, there will be no festival parade.

Chloe Jan Wells and Beth Huffaker, in charge of booths, said this week there would be booths for beans and cornbread, nachos, pies and cakes, soft drinks, sausage and ice cream. Organizations and classes should contact these chairwomen as soon as possible.

Each child in Tahoka schools is encouraged to make a poster, according to Rhonda Reid and Geraldine Wood, in charge of school poster art.

Ann Roberts and Pam Womack are co-chairman of the fair, to be held in the old Anthony building, and may be contacted for details about entries.

Queen Contest

Three candidates for Harvest Festival Queen were chosen by each class at Tahoka High School. They are freshmen Sylvia Saldana, Tammy Pebsworth and Les'lie Valentine; sophomores Jana Hammonds, Dawn Pierce and Eloise Calvillo; juniors Andra Draper, Jhoni Caswell and Denise White; and seniors Stenna Bryson, Connie Chambers and Sherri

Traffic Violations Near Schools Eyed

Double-parking--mostly by parents--and speeding by students and adults in school zones were subjects of concern expressed by Tahoka

Police Dept. spokesmen this week.

"A lot of parents are double-parking because they want to be first to pick up their kids after school," an officer said. "This poses a real danger to youngsters darting in and around the parked cars." He also said that a 15-mph speed limit is posted around all the schools, and warned that patrolmen will begin issuing citations to violators of any of the traffic laws in school zones.

During the week, one ticket was issued for exhibition of speed in the city and another for impeding traffic.

On Saturday in the 1000-block of Ave. J, there was a collision involving a 1971 Pontiac driven by Jhoni Rene Caswell, 1925 N. 8th, and a 1980 Chevrolet driven by Darryl Stotts of Tahoka.

Lynn County Sheriff's Office investigated two theft reports Monday. Carl Gickhorn, four miles northwest of Wilson, reported an undetermined amount of gasoline missing after the lock on a storage tank was broken. Dallas Vaughn reported a calf feeder stolen near O'Donnell.

An altercation resulting in an injury to a man in the county also was under investigation.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

Applying nitrogen for small grains this fall will be important, says Young, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He lists four important reasons why wheat and other small grains need nitrogen at planting or a short time afterward:

- aid in development of good root system,
- for early grazing,
- to hasten decomposition of excess residual straw, and
- for high production of forage and grain

Sufficient fall growth for early grazing cannot be expected without adequate nitrogen at planting. The advantages of early planting and favorable fall growing conditions can be lost if nitrogen fertilization is delayed until the condition of the stand can be determined. Establishing a good uniform stand requires nitrogen, and most soils are deficient in this nutrient.

To meet nitrogen requirement before planting on heavy textured soils or can apply a small amount at planting followed by topdressing soon after planting.

Of course, fall nitrogen fertilization is also affected by the amount of straw from the previous crop. The bacteria and other microorganisms needed to decompose the straw require nitrogen and can use that already in the soil as well as that applied, thus reducing the amount available during the fall.

The general rule in applying nitrogen has been to increase the rate about 20 pounds per acre for each ton of undecomposed straw. However, a portion of this nitrogen is recovered during the final stages of decomposition so that as much as half of this may be available during the spring months. This means that about half of the "extra" nitrogen could be deducted from the late winter topdressing.

Soil Testing More Important Than Ever

Getting your soil tested has always been important, but now this proven practice is more important than ever, emphasizes Stanley Young, county agent.

Fertilizer is getting more and more expensive, so it's crucial for producers to get the most from their fertilizer dollar. And getting a profitable return from fertilizer depends on the level of available nutrients in the soil before fertilization. That calls for a soil test.

A soil test will determine which nutrients are deficient in the soil for a particular crop so that a producer can fertilize to supplement those

Cotton Use Is Strong:

The seasonally adjusted annual rate of cotton consumption by U.S. mills was 6.4 million bales in July, based on revised numbers from the Census Bureau. The July consumption level is the same as for January and compares with a 6.6 million bale rate last July. Cotton's share of the market at season end was 27 percent compared with 24 percent both in January, 1980, and July, 1979.

Export Credit Announced For Korea: The United States Department of Agriculture has announced a total of $410 million dollars will be available in Commodity Credit Corporation export credit guarantees for Korea in 1981. The total includes $150 million for cotton.

USDA Suspends Loans: Voluntary loan extensions no longer will be available on outstanding Commodity Credit Corporation non-recourse cotton loans scheduled to mature on or after Sept. 30. Under the loan program, cotton farmers can request an eight-month extension on their expiring loans except when the spot price of basic-grade upland nutrients. It's not profitable to supply nutrients already available in the soil in sufficient quantities for a particular crop or to supply added nutrients that the crop does not need or cannot use.

Now is an excellent time to take soil samples and have soil tested for fall crops as well as those for the 1981 season. Soil test results can be obtained more quickly this time of the year due to a smaller volume than in the spring. And, once producers have their test results, they can order the fertilizer they need for the coming season.

So, get the most from your fertilizer dollar, get your soil tested now and then stock up on needed fertilizer to beat the late winter and early spring rush.

cotton during a month exceeds 130 percent of the average spot price for the preceding 36 months, according to the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. The average market price for August was 85.60 cents per pound, 138 percent of the average price during the preceding 36 months.

Propst To Preside: Herman A. Propst, cotton producer from Anson, Texas, and president of the National Cotton Council, will address the opening session of the National Fibers Textile Conference in Atlanta, Sept. 17. Propst is the conference co-chairman. Speakers during the conference include four from the United Kingdom and West Germany. Topics include a wide range of presentations on the latest research and technology mills may use in processing natural fibers.

Quality Not Affected By Sampling Method:

A recent White recovered a fumble Agriculture study substantiated earlier ones which indicated conventional cut and mechanically drawn cotton samples provide equally good specimens for determining fiber quality. In the study, both conventional and mechanically drawn samples were taken from 1,800 bales. The fiber quality of samples was measured for micronaire, length, length uniformity, strength, color, and leaf. The comparison of quality measures from the two sets of samples revealed no significant differences, USDA said.

Cotton Comment Sought: The United States Department of Agriculture is seeking public comment on provisions of the 1981 upland cotton and extra long staple programs. The agency is asking for comments on the appropriate loan level and payment rate for ELS cotton, upland loan level, and on whether a seed cotton loan program is needed. USDA is

SCS NEWS

In the accompanying photograph, Roy Longoria of the Tahoka SCS office looks at what is left of this year's dry land cotton crop. This cotton is growing on Amarilla Fine Sandy Loam, which is one of the better soils in Lynn County.

Soil alone won't raise a crop, however; there must also be adequate rainfall. So what is going to happen to required to announce the upland loan rate by Nov. 1. There is no deadline for announcing the ELS program.

Action Delayed On Spray Rules: The Environmental Protection Agency now says it will publish a new advisory opinion on cotton pesticide application as proposed rules in the Federal Register. House Agriculture Committee Chairman Foley (D-Wash.), in a hand-delivered letter to EPA, expressed concern the advisory opinion could have "serious implications." He wrote, "Matters of such sensitivity and controversy might best be handled through the formal regulatory process involving the committees of Congress, the Department of Agriculture, and the Independent Scientific Advisory Panel."

And Cotton Yesterday: Cottonseed sold for $5 a ton in 1980.

Cotton supplied about 83 percent of the nation's military need for textiles during World War II.

this land in the fall and winter months without water?

Some fields of cotton like the one shown may be "zeroed out" at the ASCS office in Tahoka. Before a farmer can draw a disaster check, the existing crop must be destroyed, using some mechanical practice such as disk, chisel, etc. This is something the land does not need, so the operator must make a decision. Some of the choices:

1. Zero out, plow it out, draw the disaster check and let it blow.
2. Save what little cotton is there for soil protection, wait as long as you can into the blowing season, then zero out and plow out.
3. If you decide to destroy the crop early, use a chisel. The clodding effect from a chisel will cause a lot less blowing than a disk.

If the situation doesn't change, this could be an extremely bad blow season. It is up to each farmer to practice what soil conservation he can, so as to protect his valuable soil from wind damage.
