THE Union Stock Yards,

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

The Largest and Best Live Stock Market in the World

The entire system of the Railways of the West centers here, making the Union Stock Yards the most accessible point in the country. The capacity of the yards, the facilities for unloading, feeding, reshipping, or for the sale of stock are unlimited. There is no point in the United States where stock will find as satisfactory market and sale to the shipper as the Union Stock Yards.

The quality of feed and accommodations given cannot be surpassed at any point in the country. The great city of packing houses that are located here, the large bank capital and the large number of buyers for the Eastern market constantly on hand, make this a quick, active and independent market. Cattle from the North, West and Southwest should reach this market without fail, in order to procure the best prices. There is now established a direct Cattle, Hog, Sheep and Horse trade between these yards and the most important markets in Europe. Agents constantly here from London, Paris, Hamburg, Liverpool and Manchester. The daily shipments from these yards to Europe are from one to two steamer loads. THIS IS STRICTLY A CASH MARKET.

GALVESTON.

[Reported by Winfree, Norman & Pearson].

BEEVES AND COWS—Choice, per lb, gross, 2@2½c; common, per head, $8@10; 2-year-olds, choice, per head, $8@10; common, per head, $6@7; yearlings, choice, per head, $6@7; common, per head, $4@5; calves, choice, per lb, gross, 2@2½c; common, per head, $3.00@3.50.

SHEEP—Choice, per lb, gross, 3@3½c. HOGS—Choice corn-fed, per lb, gross, 5½@6½c; mast-fed, per lb, gross, 5@5½c.

REMARKS.—Market full of common and trashy cattle, nothing choice offering. Calves and yearlings in fair demand. Sheep in full supply. Hogs wanted.

SAN ANTONIO.

The past week has been a fair average. The cows, which are the principal class of beef stock of this market, are generally in fair to good beef condition, and when fat find fairly ready sale at prices that average above the net at Chicago. Nothing but good stock should be sent in now, as it can hardly be given away. Quotations are as follows:

CATTLE—Steers, shippers and butchers, $14@18; cows, fat, from $10@12; light, at $7@10; yearlings, $5@6.50; calves, $3@4.

SHEEP—Muttons, $1.00@2.00. Goats, average stock 50c@1.25 per head. Hogs—Natives $3.50@4.

Open Orders Solicited.

ROUND-UPS.

Buffalo (Wyo) Sentinel:—The Standard & Howard Live Stock company put up 700 tons of hay on the LX bar ranch this season.

N. M. Stock Grower:—H. W. Cresswell of the Panhandle has purchased in connection with N. T. Eaton of Colorado City, Texas, 3000 head of yearling steers which will be put on the U-U range. Price not stated.

Reno (Nev.) Gazette:—It is stated that the great cattle firm of Miller & Lux will feed about 15,000 head of beef cattle for market this fall. The firm is also reported to have purchased 4,000 tons of hay from Mason Valley ranchers recently.

New Mexico Stock Grower:—A. L. Cammell bought this week 300 head of good grade stock cattle of Captain Austin of Las Vegas, at $12 per head. About 200 head will be delivered this year and the remainder before July, 1889. The cow ponies belonging to the bunch were also bought by Mr. Cammell at $35 per head.

Springer Stockman:—It is reported that some one is working on the 101 brand of cattle, changing the brand to LOT (the L reversed.) This is an easy way to raise a bunch of cattle, but if the fellows are caught they may find that the 101 men have an easy way of raising them out of the game.

N. M. Stock Grower:—How the bulls of Bashan do bellow since a person went among them taking notes as to their methods of conducting the abattoir business. The Drovers' Journal calls it "baseless twaddle," but the people call the practice which the dressed beef men are engaged in detestible.

Cheyence (Wyo) Stock Grower:—M. Harrold, one of the wealthy cattlemen of Texas was in this city Sunday en route with a train of two-year-old steers which he contemplates ranging south of Laramie City. Mr. Harrold is well known to many in this section as having a peculiar faculty of making more money in less time than the average wide-awake stockman.

Deming Headlight:—On Tuesday last Sheriff Laird went down to near the Mexico line and seized under attachment 1100 head of cattle from the Carretas ranch. The cattle were bought by S. Lindauer from Doak & Brigman and were being driven here for shipment. S. H. Cavitt of Bryan, Texas, as the agent of the Cavitt estate, holds a claim against Doak & Brigman for $40,000, hence the seizure. Mr. Lindauer gave bond for and retains possession of the cattle.

San Marcial Reporter:—G. L. Brooks of Albuquerque, has been elected a director and secretary of the Bosque Bonito company, and came down from Albuquerque Thursday in company with Col. Tiffany and Mr. Pearce to take charge of the property. This change was made necessary by the ill health of Col. Tiffany and the fact that he was handling large outside enterprises which required all his time. Mr. Brooks is a first-class business man and the company could not have secured a better manager.

Las Vegas (N. M.) Optic:—With reference to the proposed action of the Colorado cattle raisers of rounding up and driving their stock into New Mexico ranges, on account of the short grass crop in the former state, the executive committee of the eastern New Mexico Stock Growers' association have adopted resolutions that as their own grass crop is short and it would be unneighborly and dishonorable to put more sheep and cattle on these overstocked ranges, it will be deemed an intrusion and the members of the association will use such measures as they deem necessary to protect themselves. They say that nothing will be gained by this action of the Colorado men, but on the contrary loss would be entailed upon them as well as upon those now in possession.

Stock Grower:—In September, 1886, Lee & Foster bought a bunch of cattle from some Texas parties and turned them loose on the range without counterbranding, simply recording the brand on them at the time of purchase, as their own. Last year another lot of cattle bearing the same brand were brought up and sold to other New Mexico parties, who this year sold to the Maxwell grant company. Lee & Foster learning of these transactions began counterbranding the lot they had purchased as fast as possible. While Mr. Foster was near Raton with the last round-up the Grant company got out a writ of replevin and took three steers he had in his possession, claiming that they had bought the brand and the cattle belonged to them. He was going to bring suit before a justice of the peace for the recovery of the stock, but was informed it would have to go to a higher court.

Panhandle Herald:—Things around our large stock pens looked very lively this week. Upwards of 200 cars of cattle have been loaded and unloaded at this place since Monday morning. Messrs. Goodnight & Taylor have leased from Geo. Tyng the Diamond F ranch in this county for $15,000 for one year. These gentlemen are subcontracting it to various parties from New Mexico and elsewhere. Large herds of cattle are being driven and shipped to this point to winter in the Panhandle, where there is good grass. The county is full of stock waiting for shipment, some to the Northern market, some to the Diamond F ranch, and some to other points east of here on the Santa Fe railroad. On Tuesday and Wednesday of this week Panhandle presented the appearance of a city. There were seven Santa Fe engines and long strings of freight cars switching and puffing around our fine depot, until it was easy for us to imagine that a boom had struck our town, and our citizens had a glimpse of the life and activity that will be but an every day affair in Panhandle ere another two months roll around.

Reducing the Surplus.

The disposition of the surplus in the U. S. treasury engages the attention of our statesmen, but a more vital question has our attention, and that is the reduction of the surplus consumptives. Since the discovery and introduction of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, there has been a marked decrease in the mortality from this dreaded disease, and it is possible to still further reduce the number of consumptives. How? By keeping constantly at hand a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and using it according to directions, upon the appearance of the first symptoms, such as a cough, a cold, a sore throat, a chest or side pain. Taken thus early a cure is guaranteed. Trial bottles free at H. W. Williams & Co.'s drug store.

An Open Letter.

CHICAGO, ALTON & ST. LOUIS R. R. CO.,
OFFICE GEN'L LIVE STOCK AGT.,
ST. LOUIS, July 20, 1888.

The undersigned, as the live stock representative of the old reliable and well-known Alton road, respectfully calls the attention of live stock shippers to the improved fast time now being made by this line from St. Louis, Kansas City and Higbee to Chicago. The cars of this line are uniform in size, and the roof is higher and better ventilated than any other ordinary stock cars now in use on other lines. In addition, the Alton is furnishing more of the improved palace stock cars to Texas shippers than all other lines combined. The Chicago & Alton makes a specialty of the handling of live stock, and in the past five years shipments have largely increased each year, which shows to all fair-minded people that we give attention to our patrons. No other line in the country transports as much live stock as the C. & A. in proportion to mileage. The books of the stock yards at St. Louis and Chicago will verify this. I can say, without fear of successful contradiction, that the C. & A. in the past has done some good work in behalf of live stock shippers so far as rates are concerned. The officers of this company have at all times looked upon the prosperity of stockmen as being beneficial to the road. The success of one was prosperity for both. I respectfully solicit of shippers a good share of their consignments, and promise them good treatment, fast time and rates as low as any first-class road makes.

I sincerely thank live stock shippers for the large patronage given our line in the past, and ask for their friendship and support in the future.

Shippers desiring any information or favors, by addressing me at St. Louis, will receive prompt replies.

JNO. NESBITT,
Gen. Live Stock Agent.

THE CLIP.

Fall wool selling at home at 12c will not increase the wool industry of this state.

If all of us sheepmen were raising corn, corn would be sold on farms at ten cents per bushel.

The receipts of wool at Chicago have a mounted to 22,500,000 pounds or about the same as last year.

If raw wools would look so well on the free list, woolen goods will have to get on the same list. Then we wool growers can sell our wool and buy our clothing in Manchester and Bradford.

Only one-half the number of sheep in Pennsylvania in 1883 are there now, Pennsylvania and Ohio each have lost a million sheep since 1883, but New York has only lost 200,000.

Quotations from the Boston Commercial Bulletin:—Texas fine, 12 mos., 18@20c; do do 6 to 8 months, 15@18c; Texas medium 12 months, 20@23c; do do 6 to 8 months, 16@20c.

Oregon sheep weighing 111 pounds, 123 pounds and 139 pounds average, sold at Chicago for $3.70, $4 and $4.30 per hundred. Such sheep must come from good ranges and make some money.

Boston Advertiser:—Texas and Southern wools—Texas spring medium (12 mos.) 18@22c; Texas spring fine, 15@21c; Texas spring fine (6 to 8 months) 15@20c; Texas spring medium (6 to 8 months), 17@20c; Texas fall fine, 11@15c; Texas fall medium, 13@18c.

The large bodied smooth Merino sheep, are in great favor and oil and wrinkles are taking a back seat. Mutton breeds are not exactly capturing the ranges as doubts are always entertained as to their thriving and fattening on grass alone.

As an event in the wool trade the JOURNAL is pleased to announce that the blanket sheet named the U. S. Economist and Dry Goods Reporter comes to the office properly cut so that the paper can be read in a room of ordinary dimensions. Congratulations are in order.

Colorado Clipper:—Fall wool is coming in slowly, most of the sheepmen being still engaged in shearing. Several small clips have been sold, the best price being 13 cents for the J. H. Cleghorn clip sold by Harness, Holmes & White. This firm also sold this week M. B. Williamson's spring clip, 108 sacks, at 12½c.

It is almost as well to take off the duty on wool now. The wool growing business has suffered somewhat like the nerves attached to a decayed tooth. The politicians seem to have a string tied to the tooth and they jerk it and pull six month out of every year. Better have the tooth out. Then let us put woolen goods on the free list.

The politicians who are so determined to inaugurate a policy of protection for woolen manufactories and another policy, that of free trade for wool growers will confer a favor upon the wool growers of Texas by permitting them to kick. About all the Texas wool growers ask, and all they will get any way is that privilege to kick. Therefore let us kick.

[San Angelo Standard:—About 150,000 pounds of fall wool has been received up to date. J. O. Mitchem bought Queen's clip yesterday for 14 cents. Fall wool is worth from 10 to 15 cents in the San Angelo market Halfin & Rueff have received 120,000 pounds already and S. Lapowski & Bro., 30,000. Halfin & Rueff sold R. O. Smith's fall clip of 8000 pounds yesterday to Sigman & Littlehale of Boston, at 13½ cents.

San Angelo Standard:—During the past few days Messrs. Bird & Mertz sold the following Shropshire rams: To J. W. Hagerland, Sutton county, 25 head; F. M. De Lashmit, Chas. Chamberlin and Ostrander-Loomis Live Stock Co, Concho county, respectively, 6, 17 and 31 head; Capt. Black, Menard county, 6; Bertrand of Schleicher county, 4; R. O. Smith 8; Leod, 15; Schauer, Dey & Co., 20; Swift, 20; Jobe Davis, 10.

New York wool sales reported by the U. S. Economist:—20,000 lbs spring Texas, one year's growth, at 21@22c; 10,000 lbs fall do at 13 to 14c; 22,000 lbs do do at 16½c; 15,000 lbs spring do at 18½ to 20c; 25,000 lbs do do low to medium fall at 13 to 22c; 10,000 lbs fine do at 22½c; 3000 lbs spring do at 18½c; 36,000 lbs spring do on terms reserved; 15,000 lbs medium unwashed fleece, 8000 pounds unwashed fleece, and 30,000 lbs. Territory in grease on private terms.

Boston Advertiser:—Texas wools are quiet with the range of prices about the same as on territories for the best lots, with only moderate sales. California wools are quiet but steady with some business doing, but at low prices for most lots. The scoured basis for these wools is about from 52c down. Reports from San Francisco says that the market there continues in all essential respects unchanged. There is no trouble in placing desirable wools, and for such stock market is fully as firm as it has been any time this season. Fall wool has not been coming forward very freely, and arrivals to date have been mostly low grade.

U. S. Economist:—A gentleman who returned from Europe on the Servia, of the Cunard line, on Monday morning, after making an extended tour of England, Ireland and Scotland, told a reporter of the Times that immense quantities of wool are being stored all over Great Britain in expectation of the passage of the free wool clause of the Mills bill through the American congress. This gentleman, who is a Democrat in politics and an old and respected resident of this city, says that everybody interested in agriculture in England and Ireland is talking of free wool in the United States, and the British crop is being held by be growers for the American market, so confident are the farmers that the Mills bill will become a law.

The U. S. Economist:—Texas wools continue in good request at current figures. The finest and best twelve month growth is firmly held at 22@24c. Buyers have gone to the Lone Star state to secure the new fall clip before it is yet off the sheep's back, and we hear that the Callaghan clip of 110,000 lbs has been bought on the ranch for 15c, which is about 18c on our docks. This is a fine if not a good clip of wool, and it is always sought after at about the highest current price. Of California our supply is not large and wholly of spring clip. Prices for all domestic fleece wools are very firm. Pulled wools continue in good request, without much change in values, the advantage being in favor of sellers on all desirable selections.

Boston Advertiser:—The wool market holds in about the same position as a week ago, prices being well maintained on most grades, with a fair amount of business doing. Fleece wools of all descriptions are firm, and buyers who are in need of supplies to keep their mills running for the balance of the year are operating in a fair way at ruling quotations. The market cannot be called active but the same time a fair amount of wool is moving right along and some of the larger houses have been able to place quite sizeable lots. The most strength at present is still on delaine and combing wools, but the sales reported show no advance on last week's quotations. The offerings of these wools are not large, as the percentage obtained in a line of fleeces is moderate, and most houses have but little of their wools opened as yet.

SAN ANTONIO.

THE days of five-dollar yearlings have gone by in Southwest Texas, and it is to be hoped that they will never return.

You will not be able to buy stock of all classes any cheaper than now for many years to come. Especially is this so in Southwestern Texas.

EVERY stock-shipping railroad station should have stock scales. Then you could sell all your stock by weight, and get paid for your big grass crop this year.

A RANCHMAN who is a large owner of both sheep and Angora goats, says the latter still return him a larger percentage than the sheep, notwithstanding the unprecedented low price of mohair at the present time. The goats require hardly half the herders; have no scab, and have less disease generally, and do well on a class of lands too poor for even sheep, while the product brings in fully as much per head as sheep.

EVEN fair dealing among butchers has its reward. Among the old-time San Antonio butchers it has always been the custom to buy what could not be sold North, till it became proverbial that here in the midst of the ranch country it was a rare thing to get a good steak. A short time ago several new butchers started business, buying fair steer stock and fat cows, and it is a notable fact that the prosperity these men has been phenomenal, several of them having built up a trade that lifelong old-style butchers have not been able to secure.

AT the Toronto exposition this fall was a Texas mare branded J H connected, that had at her side a five-months' Cleveland bay colt, larger than herself. That carries out the position taken by the STOCK JOURNAL that Texas mares are good stock to breed on; that the Cleveland bay is probably the best blood that can be used in grading up our horse stock for general home purposes. They have the size, shape, gentle disposition, style and adaptability for either work, driving or riding. They are the horses to be the sires of the stock we want for our own use.

IS WOOL that employed labor to herd and shear, and capital for land and fencing any more raw material than is the cloth that employed labor to spin and weave and capital for factory? Does the constitution guarantee a greater protection to the factory laborer and owner than to the herder and shearer, and ranchman? If so, in what clause can it be found? Is not wool the material out of which cloth is made? Then is not cloth the raw material of clothing as well as wool the raw material of cloth? These questions are respectfully referred to a committee of scientists for solution for the benefit of the raw materialists.

THE International Fair association of San Antonio has made the same mistake so often committed. They have failed to recognize the leading local interests. If Southwest Texas is not pre-eminently a stock-raising country it is nothing. And still, in looking over the premium list of said association one would suppose it was to hold its fair in an agricultural section of the country. Then, again, no especial effort is being made to attract the stock raising and ranch interests through leading advertising mediums circulating among that class of men. The most practical feature of this fair would be the exhibition of leading beef-producing cattle, general all-purpose horses, and ranch machinery and appliances of all kinds; but as it is these local features are nearly altogether lost sight of. From present prospects the fair as a measure of success will be on a par with the veterans' reunion.

THE general reputation of the Texas ranchman is that he is a "bad man." There probably never was a reputation more erroneously applied and less deserved than this, for the facts prove that quite the contrary is the case. He is the most forbearing and best natured man in the ranch business in the United States. While his fellow ranchman of every other state and territory is continually kicking against aggression and oppression, the Texas ranchman quietly sits down and allows himself charged higher rates for stable car accommodations than is charged his Northern and Western fellow ranchmen; his railroad freight is from 10 to 50 per cent. higher; the railroads run only about half as fast with his stock trains thereby consuming double the time in taking his stock to market and entailing upon him a much larger percentage of shrinkage and loss; the stock yards put him off in one corner under quarantine and thereby depreciate the value of his cattle; the railroads only furnish him the discarded rolling stock which his Northwestern brother refuses to use; the pens in which he is obliged to feed are such as would be torn to the ground by indignant Northern stock shippers; the hay for which he is charged an exorbitant price as feed is usually of such a quality as only would be accepted by the Northern shipper for bedding, etc., etc., all along the category, and what have we heard? Hardly a mild protest. But there is always a limit, even to the forbearance of a good natured man, who, once aroused is more difficult to appease than the chronic kicker. He becomes terribly in earnest and demands strict justice without sentimental leniency. From present indications that time has about arrived in Texas. It is noted that in the ranch portion of the state many of the candidates for the legislature are practical and intelligent ranchmen, who know the needs of their sections, and have the intelligence and moral stamina to properly advocate the same in legislative halls. With such men as Albert Urbahn of Laredo, John J. Rhodes of Pearsall, and others of like calibre we may see laws enacted in Texas that will force railroads to treat Texas stockmen with equal consideration and justice that stockmen of the Indian Territory, Kansas, Colorado, or any other section are treated. We may have laws that practically and locally apply the good but rarely observed principles of the national interstate commerce law. The gigantic railroad combination known as the International Traffic association, should be taught that a standard car of 34 feet in length cannot be shrunk into a 30-foot car the moment it crosses Red river coming south. The last grain has almost been heaped on the figurative camel's back of the live stock interests of Texas, and the traditional disastrous results may take place.

San Antonio Horse Market.

Now that the panicky feeling over the yellow fever is wearing off, the horse trade has shown a much improved condition, but no considerable business is expected with the Eastern cotton states till December, or after several good frosts. Local buyers are yet quite willing to take whatever comes in at what they consider safe speculative prices, and there is no glut in first hands. Prices are rather weak at quotations and may not be maintained much longer unless some strong shipping buyers come in. The notable feature is the passing through of 105 head of sucking colts from Nueces county, on their way north. Mules are nominal and no activity can be expected in this class of stock till trade opens with the cotton states. There has been some inquiry of saddle horses to go to ranches in this section of the state. The local trade has been better than it was the week previous, owing mainly to the more settled condition of the weather. The shipments have been 990 head, as against 231 the week before.

San Antonio Wool Market.

Although very few large clips are yet complete in the warehouses in this city, some 1000 sacks have already been sold, which in view of the approaching election in which the tariff question is a live issue, is rather unexpected. Both parties claim in this fact an argument in their favor, and as to which is right must be remain unsettled till after the event takes place. Prices have been from 14 to 15½c per pound, and it is expected that these figures will be adhered to till after November 6.

On Thursday Ed Kotula sold several small clips, among which was the Clark clip of 34 sacks for which he received 16½c per pound, which is the highest paid this fall for wool.

HORNS AND HOOF'S.

J. W. Team of Mississippi is here for horse stock.

Frank Wharton secured a shipment of mules to Louisiana this week.

Ed Lasater purchased a lot of cow ponies for his ranch in Live Oak county.

J. H. Burton left for St. Joe, Mo., with a car-load of horses and expects to be gone a month.

Read the advertisement to be found in the For Sale or Exchange columns, of graded feeders for sale.

Geo. West, the big ranchero of Bee county, was in town this week after some cow ponies for ranch use.

It is reported that a Mr. Hall bought some 600 head of yearling steers of Crecento Vela of Nueces county, at $6 per head.

L. Saltenstall is back from a couple of weeks visit to Kerr county, bringing a car-load of cattle for this market.

John T. Lytle was in town a few days ago. He is still engaged in buying cattle whenever a good opportunity presents itself.

Vint James of Uvalde county is in the city visiting relatives and says that stock never were in better condition with him than now.

French Whitecotton sent 105 head of sucking colts north, which he recently bought of Oscar Lovenskoild of Nueces county at $5 per head.

Jeff Chisholm of Colorado, is here taking long draughts of our autumn air in contrast of the light frosty breaths of the Gunnison heights. He is an old Texan.

Robt. Driscoll sent 12 car-loads of mixed beef cattle to Chicago this week from his Nueces county ranch, and is awaiting the returns of the Chicago stock appraisers.

The Coleman-Fulton Pasture company of San Patricio county sent 15 stable cars of beeves to market a few days ago. They went to Gregory, Cooley & Co., Chicago.

A sale of several thousand fat, lower country cattle are reported at $9.50 for cows, $10 for bulls, $11 for stags and $12 for steers three years old and upwards. Names are withheld by request.

Alonzo Millett of La Salle county was in the city the middle of the week and says that they are not having so much rain in his part of the country, but grass is not only tall, but in good strength.

Geo. W. Saunders of this city sold 385 head of two and three-year-old steers for the Mellisa Ranch Co. of Kerr county for $9 and $13 respectively. They were purchased by White & Stevens.

Skidmore, Malone & Hollingsworth of Bee county, a new ranch firm, is one of the strongest combinations of capital and energy that has taken place in ranch circles in Southwest Texas for a long time.

Geo. Dullnig has two oil wells on his place seven miles from San Antonio, which yield ten gallons of oil a day each, which is readily sold in this city. He is boring other wells with the hope of striking a more copious flow.

White & Stevens have bought some 2200 head of two, three and four-year-old steers in Kerr county, Chas. Schreiner being the principal seller, the prices being reported at $9, $12 and $14 per head respectively.

A gentleman who has lived in Texas since the hills grew, and who has recently traveled from the head of the Llano to Cameron county says that he has never seen this section as well off for grass at this season of the year as it is now.

Martin Allen of the firm of H. B. Clarke & Co., Memphis, Tenn., was in the city this week. He says that there is no yellow fever, nor any likelihood of there being any in that city this season, and stock shippers that way are perfectly safe.

Ed and T. Lasater of Live Oak county were in town the early part of the week. The Lasaters are in the market for cattle, and a good sized trade may be looked for in the near future in which they will figure as "high contracting" parties.

Hay making and cutting and curing of sorghum fodder is now an important branch of ranch work in this section of country. The man who saves not enough of feed this year to serve some future day of need will have cause to regret it.

Col C. M. Rogers of Austin passed through home on last Saturday from a trip to the coast, where he has been buying cattle for feeding. The Colonel seems to have an idea that this is as good a time to buy as will present itself for some time to come.

Sarco correspondent in Goliad Guard:—Mr. LeNoir, a Fort Worth man, is buying cattle in this neighborhood. Mrs. Bundrick, Mr. Cash and several others we understand, have engaged to deliver yearlings one day this week, at five dollars per head.

Mrs. H. M. King, the widow of Capt. Richard King, is carrying on the immense ranch enterprise, and has over 100,000 head of cattle, besides horses, mules and sheep. Her Cameron county pasture is 40 miles square, having a frontage on Laguna Madre of that distance.

H. B. Clarke & Co., 79 Union street, Memphis, Tenn., are prepared to feed horse stock in any numbers at reasonable prices. All stock transferred free of charge. They solicit the patronage of all who ship by way of Memphis. Call on Ben Darlington, Southern hotel San Antonio, for information.

J. M. Corrigan of Bee county and M. Corrigan of Duval county were in town the first of the week and report things in a flourishing condition. They say that there is considerable inquiry for young steer stock, but the majority of the buyers labor under the mistaken idea that it can be bought at prices that ruled three months ago.

A very fair thermometer of the confidence that is returning to the ranch business in Texas is found in the increased sale of articles of adornment, such as jewelry. Bell Bros. of San Antonio, the oldest house in Texas, say that business is opening this fall in their line with better prospects than it has had at this time of year, for some years past.

John R. Blocker has bought some 4000 one and two-year-old steers of Mrs. H. M. King of Neveces county, for which it is rumored that he paid $6 and 9$ per head. They will be shipped to Kerrville by rail and from thence driven to Northern Texas, probably the Panhandle, to be ready for transportation to the Northwestern territories next spring.

Young men who need business experience, and at the same time to increase their cash on hand, will find it greatly to their interest to confer with B. F. Johnson & Co., Richmond, Va.

THE WOOL SACK.

Wool comes in very slow and unsatisfactory so far.

The cotton picking and rainy weather has interfered very materially this fall with sheep shearing.

G. W. Todd of Bandera county is in the city. Mr. Todd is one of Bandera's most progressive rancheros.

F. E. Leason, the sheep man of Maverick, went through here to see his friend, Judge Winchester Kelso, married at San Marcos.

Wm. Negley, the wool grower of Maverick county was in the Alamo city this week to see how things were in the wool market.

Although wool is unusually light and free from dirt this fall, much of it is filled with burrs, which causes a depreciation of from 1/2 to 1c per pound.

Joe P. Devine will shear his Angora goats about the last of October. After several years experience he has adopted the plan of shearing goats twice a year.

Robt. Clark, an old-time sheep man of Zavalla county, is just back from a several month's trip throughout the North and Canada, and visited several of the leading fairs and expositions. For stock he says that the Toronto exposition laid over them all for numbers and excellence.

There are quite a number of Nueces and Duval county sheep men trying Shropshire rams this fall. This is a new departure in this section of country, and means that sheepmen are taking some account of the mutton qualities as well, and that in the future the mutton market will be very interesting reading to the average Texas sheepman.

Dr. Spohn of Encinal, was in town the last of the week, and says that notwithstanding the withering rebuke administered him by the Crain men, he with a majority of the sheepmen of his section do not propose to vote for a man for congress or president who proposes to ruin their business. With Patrick Henry he says that "if that is treason make the most of it."

Col. Brewster, of Laredo will be a candidate for congress against Crain. Mr. Brewster is an uncompromising tariff man, and if elected would not sell out the leading industry of his district to catch votes in New England, but would advocate protection as a principle, and if sectional in anything, would first and last have his own section in view, as against all others. He was once, if not now, a wool-grower, and has their support.

Piper & Schulthess are headquarters for all kinds of fence wire, 33 and 35 W. Commerce street, San Antonio, Texas.

Kansas Corn Crop.

Ohio Farmer.

The September report on corn of the secretary of the Kansas state board of Agriculture, Mr. Moher, states that of the area planted with corn 74 per cent. will probably be worth harvesting. The area planted, according to the assessors' return, was 6,970,007 acres, 74 per cent. of which is 5,157,780 acres. The estimated average yield of corn would give an aggregate output of 144,417,840 bushels of corn. In Wyandotte county, the highest reporting, the average yield is 53 1-5 bushels. There are other counties that promise to give a large average yield. The estimated state product for the crop of 1888 is about 15,417,000 bushels larger than 1884, which was the largest ever grown in the state. The opinion of the correspondents reporting is that the yield will probably give 20 per cent. increase, because of the improved method of planting, which is yet to be determined.

SUBSCRIPTIONS to the TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL are solicited upon the ground that the information given is worth the money to any man in Texas who is either raising, dealing in, or feeding any description of live stock in Texas, Louisiana, the Indian Territory, or any section of the range country. The weekly edition costs but $1.50 per year. We ask those who are subscribers to renew promptly and those who are not subscribers to give the paper a yearly trial. Subscriptions can be sent direct to the TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL.

SOME of the cattlemen who went out of the business at the top notch are now re-investing at the low notch.

WHOEVER may want cattle, and cannot find them anywhere else, should look in the Union stock yards of Chicago. That is the place where the cattle raisers unload the herds instead of the surplus.

THE Texas butchers who are having their business injured by the ice box steak invasion of Texas, are very much interested in the St. Louis meeting. They too, can see no reason why Texas cattle should go to Kansas City be killed there and shipped back again.

THE corn crop of the United States for 1888, is low estimated at 2,015,000,000 bushels, against 1,456,161,000 bushels last year, and 1,936,176,000, the large crop of 1885. There is a greater supply of corn in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio than usual and in consequence, there will be large numbers of stock fed for the early markets.

THE letter from Mr. Wm. F. Vilas, secretary of the interior to Chief Mayes of the Cherokee Nation, is interesting reading and has raised a very important legal question. The Cherokees claim an absolute title to the Cherokee Strip and will contest any claim on the part of the National government to interfere with it. The loss of so much beef fattening territory will considerably decrease the range beef product, and keep Texas from selling many a two and three-year-old steer.

THE JOURNAL is somewhat surprised that the National government should interfere with the Cherokee lands. The action is greatly injurious to Texas cattle interests as it may effectually dispose of the only country where it is now possible to mature range steers. To render useless the Cherokee lands will be to take from the markets an immense amount of beef and hasten the cattle famine. Some of us will gain a little, but the general cattle interests of the country will be badly crippled by the loss of so much range.

The Consolidated Cattle Growers' Association.

The next national convention of cattle growers, under the auspices of the Consolidated Cattle Growers' association, will be held at the Grand Pacific hotel, Chicago, convening at 2 p. m. Monday, November 19th. next. This will be about the time the annual fat stock show will be at its most attractive stage and as reduced rates are given by all the railways centering in Chicago to those wishing to attend that exhibition, delegates and others to the convention can take advantage of that fact. An attractive programme for this meeting is being arranged, and will doubtless be announced soon. One of the most interesting features of the meeting will probably be the discussion growing out of the report, which the Hon. J. H. Pickrell will make, of the Texas fever experiments that have been conducted at the Chicago stock yards this summer. Any information as to the meeting can be had upon application to the secretary, Alvin H. Sanders, 226 La Salle street, Chicago.

The Chicago Experiment.

Mr. Geo. S. Williamson of San Antonio, agent of the U. S. bureau of animal industry, was in Fort Worth on Tuesday, and had just come from the Chicago Union Stock yards, where the experiments in relation to Texas cattle fever were being made. Mr. Williamson says that the only experiment showing decided effects was the one where five natives were turned into different lots used constantly by Texas cattle, the result was the death of four natives out of five. Another experiment, which showed no result was yarding five natives with ten Texas cows from Corpus Christi. These cattle were afterwards turned together on a grass lot and five fresh natives added, but to date the natives are apparently healthy.

When the five natives used in the first experiment were taken sick they were isolated, and three fresh natives placed with them without result. The three natives were afterwards turned in the grass lot but continued apparently healthy. During the experiment one native cow died of colic. Mr. Williamson will report to the department of agriculture the full particulars of the tests, giving dates and localities, and Mr. Pickrell, secretary of the Shorthorn herd book, will also report to the Consolidated Cattle Growers' association and both reports will be published in the JOURNAL in due time.

Stock Cattle on the Market.

Whoever may follow the market reports with a view to ascertaining something about the beef products must remember that the markets are receiving cows, calves, yearlings, two-year-olds and matured beef. In ordinary times when no sacrifice is going on the market supplies are largely of butcher cattle, and shipping beeves, but a proportion of stock cattle and feeders are always present. Of late the supplies of the latter class of cattle have been present in unusual strong force and the over supply is not due to an excess of cattle any more than the sacrifice of sheep which lasted two years designated an excess in the supplies of sheep. The truth is that these common, thin, immature cattle are unfit for market, and the farmers who have the cattle have so little faith in the cattle business, and the future prices for beef that many of them are absolutely afraid to feed to their cattle the corn and fodder that is now marketable at any price.

Many cattle have not paid for the feed they consumed during the two past winters, and there is no absolute guarantee that cattle will pay any better next spring; there will be lots of cattle fed and well fed, but they will select steers, good ones, such as will make choice beef. The tag, rag and bobtail of the cattle may just as well go to market now. Frost is coming soon, the grass has about stopped growing and as the old cow has about as much flesh on her as she ever will have again, she may as well go to the butcher as raise another calf, and risk dying in a bog hole during the winter.

Let the old trash go now. It is the last chance. A year hence a man may be considered a fool if he ships a heifer, or anything female in the cattle line.

Uvalde News:—W. B. Patterson informs us that his lambs have been attacked with lombriz and some of them have died. Other flocks in that neighborhood are affected in the same way. We hope the trouble will not spread.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28, '88. }

Hon. J. B. Mayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, Tahlequah, I. T.

SIR—In view of information of this department that some steps have been taken by your council or other authorities of the Cherokee nation with the purpose either to renew the lease which was heretofore made with certain parties calling themselves the Cherokee Strip Live Stock association, or with an association or corporation of that name, and which, it is understood, is about to expire or has expired, or to execute some lease or agreement for the use or occupancy of the lands of the Cherokee Strip or some part thereof, and that the session of the Cherokee council is about to convene with a view to the enactment of measures to that end, I have the honor to advise and inform you, and through you the Cherokee council and the authorities of the Cherokee nation, that the United States government will recognize no lease or agreement for possession, occupancy or use of any of the lands of the Cherokee Strip as of any legal effort or validity upon the rights of the United States or as conferring any right or authority or privilege over said lands upon any lessee; but that any lease or agreement, if any should be made, will be without the authority or consent of this government thereto, and be subject to cancellation; and any use or occupation by any lessee or any person under such lessee will be subject to instant termination by this department at any time whenever any such action shall be for any reason deemed proper by the president or this department, and will be subject to any legislation whether general or special which congress may enact affecting that portion of the Cherokee country or affecting the occupancy of any Indian lands for any purpose whatever, whether grazing, pasturing or otherwise. I desire that this notice of the views and rights of this government shall be communicated to the council and any person who may be in contemplation of negotiation or who may enter into negotiation with the Cherokee nation for any such use or occupancy, in order that there may be no misconception or misunderstanding upon this subject. Very respectfully yours,

WM. F. VILAS, Secretary.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. Is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by H. W. Williams & Co.

Rock Salt.

Messrs. Turner, McClure & Co. of Fort Worth have en route a car-load of the celebrated rock salt, which is the best salt that can be used for cattle, horses, and all kinds of stock. Cattle like the rock salt and prefer it to all other. They cannot eat enough to hurt them, as it is as hard as a rock and must be licked. Messrs. Turner, McClure & Co. will fill orders by mail promptly, either in large or small quantity. Send a trial order.

FORT WORTH NOTES.

Mr. S. B. Burnett has gone south to receive the steers purchased of Mrs. H. M. King.

The stockmen of the Abilene vicinity can renew their subscriptions with Mr. J. R. Minter.

Ben Hackett is down at New Braunfels hunting up some yearlings and two-year-olds.

It is reported that Mr. P. J. Willis of Galveston has sold a Western ranch property to W. A. Sansom of Alvarado.

F. J. Smith of Crockett, Houston county, is in town and will pasture 1500 steers in the vicinity of Fort Worth.

C. F. Estill & Co. shipped to W. C. Bishop, manager of the Liberty Cattle company a car-load of Texas raised Hereford and Shorthorn bulls.

Fickling & Jackson, Hill county cattle feeders have bought a string of feeding steers from Berry Gatewood on private terms at $23 around.

Mr. A. Silverstein of Dallas is moving feeding steers off the Fort Worth & Denver road to Nebraska. This kind of a movement is becoming quite common.

Jerry Beauchamp had a lot of steers in a wreck at Belcher was in Fort Worth seeking to adjust matters. The cattle were from the Burnett ranch and were very good steers.

Jno. S. Andrews & Co. of Dallas has sold to Mr. T. L. Marsalis 50 head of fine selected Texas mares at $50 around. The mares will be placed on Mr. Marsalis' ranch in Hale county, Texas.

Now comes a Colorado man having Colorado-paying real estate, and who desires to exchange for Texas lands. Attention is respectfully invited to the card of J. S. Taylor to be found in the For Sale or Exchange column.

Mr. M. J. Delamer of San Diego, Duval county, has a card in the For Sale column of the JOURNAL offering 200 head of each 3 and 4-year-old steers all good improved cattle in good order, some of them half breed Devons and as stylish as anything in Texas.

The STOCK JOURNAL is glad to acknowledge the receipt from Messrs. Evans & Wessels of Lewiston, Idaho, a sample pear of their growth. It is as large and well formed as the California pear, and superior in flavor, which was delicious.

At Colorado City subscriptions for the JOURNAL are received by Messrs. Harper & Colvin. Any of our subscribers desiring to renew their subscriptions at Colorado City will oblige the JOURNAL by handing the amount to Messrs. Harper & Colvin.

This week has disclosed very little actual trading in feeding steers, although there is considerable inquiry; quotations cannot run much over two cents, even for the very best cattle.

Mr. A. Armentrout made a shipment of wool to St. Louis that cost him an average of 16½ cents. He is buying wool and paying just a little above the figures mentioned for the best clips.

Col. R. D. Hunter of the live stock commission firm of Hunter, Evans & Co., arrived in Fort Worth on Thursday. He says that the market was badly demoralized when he left. Col. Hunter is at the Mansion hotel.

The only chance in 1888 to show how short is the supply of cattle in the country was in June. Then the Chicago packers went into the country and bought heavily of beeves thus swelling the Chicago receipts. It was a splendid move on their part.

Major Campbell Brown of Spring Hill, Tenn., had to postpone the sale announced for the 3rd inst. He did not believe there would be a fair attendance owing to the yellow fever scares. The sale will be re-advertised when the date is fixed.

Mr. T. P. Lenoir of Fort Worth is delivering 2000 yearlings and two-year-old steers to Mr. C. T. Herring of the Comanche reservation. The cattle are now being shipped from the Victoria district and cost $6.50 and $9.00 per head.

Whatever trading is now done in range cattle is done quietly. Prices of yearlings, two-year-old and feeders, are higher than the beef market at present warrants but confidence in the strength of the beef trade is not shaken and those who have steers are holding very firm.

The stockmen who live in and around Fort Worth are not over-rejoiced with the letter of Secretary Vilas, and think it will have an injurious effect upon the Texas cattle interest by throwing a number of our best customers out of the business.

Mr. Geo. S. Williamson, who came from Chicago, says cows, cows, cows! They are making stock cattle and here and there a sprinkling of beef. The run keeps up, but such stuff! He does not think the beef supply is any way excessive.

Mr. H. H. Campbell, superintendent of the Matador Cattle company, was in town, and while here he strongly advocated a large attendance at the St. Louis meeting. He believes that the organization will be greatly beneficial to cattlemen and butchers and that means will be found to increase the competitive feature of the market.

Mr. S. W. Wallace of Erin Springs, I. T., was in Fort Worth and while paying his respects to the JOURNAL said the corn crop in his vicinity was excellent. Some feeding steers were wanted, but the people there were not over flush of cash and would prefer to sell corn at 25c and furnish the purchaser lots to feed in. They might take some steers if the terms of sale would permit.

Messrs. Clark & Plumb, ranchmen of Dakota, who have made many purchases of Texas cattle have recently acquired an extensive pasture in Clay, Archer and Wichita counties and to fully stock it are, purchasing some 3 and 4-year-old steers through Mr. A. S. Nicholson of Fort Worth. 1800 Western steers were purchased of Royal A. Ferris of Dallas during the past week. They were in Lubbock county.

Mr. J. T. Moore of McKinney, Collin county, wants to buy 100 yearlings past, also 200 hogs or more. He says corn crops are fine, average from 40 to 50 bushels per acre. If he fails to get hogs will want more yearlings. He has on hand 140 hogs raised on Bermuda grass and sorghum. Mr. Moore quotes the prices of farm products as follows: Corn, 25c; Oats, 25c; wheat, 95c; cotton, 8½ to 9½.

Texas saddles have gained most important recognition by reason of excellence in design, workmanship and material. The saddle the best known throughout the range territory is the Tackabery saddle now manufactured by Mr. J. B. Askew of Fort Worth, whose card will be found on the 15th page of the JOURNAL. Mr. Askew has something important to say to the public concerning a special offer to all purchasers of saddles, and attention is invited to his card.

Dr. J. L. Edwards of Ennis, returned home by way of Fort Worth, having purchased 1000 steers on the plains, including the steers of the Tahoki Cattle company. Dr. Edwards says that his market reports and telegrams did not reach him while gone, to keep whispering in his ear "The lowest of the season," and the consequence is that he, like others who have purchased long strings of shipping steers, has a nice little contract on hand to come out on top of the transaction.

Young, Andrews & Kuhen, live stock commission merchants of Fort Worth are abandoning their old yards, having purchased all buildings on the block on Houston street, formerly occupied by Cameron & Tatum as a lumber yard with a view to constructing an immense establishment capable of caring for one thousand head of stock. Messrs. Young, Andrews & Kuhen have carpenters to work and are putting up substantial improvements, such as are a credit to the city and to the large business in live stock done by the firm.

In the columns of the JOURNAL will be found a notice by Messrs. Biddle, Smart & Co. of Amesbury, Mass., and Sechler & Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio. These firms having purchased the carriage department of the W. A. Huffman Implement company of Fort Worth. The intention of these large manufacturing firms is to carry at Fort Worth, the largest and most varied collection of fine vehicles in the state. Mr. E. M. Walker, late manager of the department for the W. A. Huffman Implement Co., and whose energies and knowledge of the business has built up a large trade, is engaged as manager and will now have a fair field, and immense stock to offer his many friends and patrons.

Hopkins County Notes.

It is well-known to the trade that Eastern Texas wools, especially those from the vicinity of Sulphur Springs, are excellent medium in quality, and of very light shrinkage as compared with earthy and heavy wools of the West. This was strikingly illustrated by recent sales, at Sulphur Springs where the bulk of 30,000 pounds all accumulated from comparatively small clips sold at 20½ cents. The Western fall clips are not bringing within 5 cents per pound as much.

Changed Hands.

We take pleasure in announcing to the people of Texas that we have purchased the carriage department of the W. A. Huffman Implement company and established a branch house at Fort Worth for the purpose of supplying the trade at factory prices. It is our intention to keep the largest stock and best assortment of business and pleasure vehicles in the state. It also gives us pleasure to state that we have secured the services of E. M. Walker as manager. During thirteen years of residence in Texas Mr. Walker has become so well and favorably known to purchasers of vehicles that no assurance is needed from us as to his capabilities. It is only necessary to state that the past record for stylish and durable vehicles will be fully maintained by your obedient servants.

The Great Fair.

The opening day of the great fair is next Thursday, the 11th instant.

The directors of the fair association met Thursday evening in the merchants' exchange, President Armstrong in the chair, to discuss and arrange matters of management. At the outset Major Robert Gibson said: "I spent several days at the St. Louis fair in the interest of the cattle and horse exhibit of our fair, and I believe I can report that nearly all the fine horses at the St. Louis fair will be brought here. Dallas and Denver competed for the racing stock, and Dallas secured them. At St. Louis, and in fact everywhere I went, I found an enthusiastic interest being taken in the Texas fair, and a desire on the part of a great number to attend it."

Another director stated that he too had visited the St. Louis fair, and he had come away convinced that it did not at all come up to the Texas State Fair and Dallas Exposition that will open next week. This assurance was seemingly intended for the private information of the directors, but it is worth giving to the public.

The directors are very much elated at the prospective success of the fair, which they believe to be guaranteed by the superiority in extent and quality of the exhibits and attractions over those of former years. The display of racing stock, the directors say, will be among the finest ever had in the South, and will bring to Dallas betting men from all over the country. Among the attractions which have recently arrived is what is called "the wonder world," in which will be displayed a representation of the greatest wonders in science, art, mechanics and evolution, including an exemplification of Darwin's descent of man. This attraction occupies 32,000 square feet of space, and contains 500 moving figures.

The Pueblo Indians at the Fair.

The Pueblo Indians, fifty in number, besides a number of children, in charge of one of their chiefs and their governor, will arrive in Dallas on the night of the 9th inst. in a special car furnished by the Texas & Pacific railroad, and will at once go into camp at the fair grounds. Thirteen tents have been constructed for their accommodation near the main entrance. These Indians will live much as they do at home. They will grind their corn and cook their provisions in the same manner as they and their ancestors have done for thousands of years. They will bring with them some of their implements of husbandry. Among the things to be brought with them will be old carts with wheels hewn out of a solid piece of wood, and old plows made out of the forked limbs of trees.

These Indians will not appear in Indian costume. They do not belong to the wild tribes, their tribe having been converted to Christianity as early as the fourteenth century. The oldest church house in the United States is in their village at Ysleta, in El Paso county, Texas. It was built about 1540.

These Indians have never been away from their village before; they do not speak a word of English, but speak the Mexican in their communications with persons outside of their tribe. They speak the Indian tongue among themselves. It is their intention to join the procession on the opening day, and during the fair they will give numerous dances after their peculiar custom of dancing. One day there will be a rabbit hunt in the space inclosed by the race track. A dozen or two of wild rabbits will be turned loose and the Indians will kill them with sticks.

The following will be the order in which they will appear in the procession on the opening day: 12 dancing girls in carriages; 12 young men on horseback; men, women and children in wagons; old carts drawn by oxen and driven by the Indians. The yokes of the oxen will be tied on the horns of the oxen instead of being yoked as Americans would do, and will be driven with poles, instead of whips.

J. M. Howell.

J. M. Howell, the Dallas nurseryman has been prospecting through the western part of the state, more particularly along the line of the Texas Pacific railway. He expresses himself as amazed at the importance and value of all the Pecos country for the growth and development of the fruit industry. He is decided in his judgment, after mature thought and investigation, that it is far in advance of California, and that the day is not far distant when the fact will be publicly conceded. The altitude of the country he places at about 500 feet above that of Dallas, and that for lung and throat troubles it is all that could be desired.

He refers to the great peach orchards out about El Paso, many of them reputed to be, from the best data to hand, from 200 to 400 years old; standing 75 feet high, many of the trees are three feet in diameter, seldom ever missing a season when the yield falls below 40 or 50 bushels to the tree. Grapes grow abundant with the profusion of the native grass, large and perfect in maturity, and full of the saccharine so perceptibly absent in much of the California fruit.

Mr. Howell thinks the wheat belt now covers Western Texas, as evidenced by the immense yield of crops there in the last few years, and while North and Middle Texas twenty or twenty-five years ago, laid similar claims, the pilm has been yielded and in its stead the corn is made to grow. Much of the evidences of the greatness of Western Texas, says Mr. Howell, will be seen on exhibition at our coming fair.

A BIG POTATO YIELD.

Nearly 600 Bushels to the Acre.

From the New York Tribune.

E. S. Carman, editor of the Rural New Yorker, has faith in a system of growing potatoes in trenches, which, as he claims, renders the crop independent of the weather by keeping the ground moist in time of drouth and helping it to dry out when there is a rainfall every day. Mr. Atkinson of the Farm Journal is mildly skeptical of man's ability to circumvent the weather, and when Mr. Carman, early in the spring, advertised his anxiety to wager $50 that he would raise potatoes at the rate of 700 bushels to the acre in the season of 1888, wet or dry, Mr. Atkinson covered the money with a cheerful confidence that the weather or the potato bug would never allow so big a yield in Jersey sand. Yesterday a good many farmers of high degree assembled at the rural experiment grounds in Bergen county to see the crop unearthed. There were five rows, 3 feet apart and two rods long, so that each row represented the 1-440th part of an acre, and the terms of the wager were that the yield should be at the rate of 700 bushels to the acre.

The first row showed handsome tubers with hardly any undersized ones, and the scales testified to a yield at the rate of nearly 684 bushels to the acre. The second row of the same variety, known as "Rural seeding No. 4," turned out 605 bushels to the acre. The third row was of another Rural seedling "No. 2" and the potatoes that rolled out of the trench astonished the farmers. Hardly any of them weighed less than half a pound, and acre of them would have yielded 1056 bushels with twenty pounds to spare. The three rows so far averaged 788 bushels to the acre, but the last two rows showed at the rate of 299 bushels and 253 bushels, respectively, depressing the total average to 583 bushels per acre, and Mr. Carman loses. The money, it should be said, goes to some charity, for there was no bet in the worldly sense of the word. It was evident to the visitors that Mr Carman had beat the weather, but had failed to beat the bugs. The potatoes started with energy, but early in July the tops began to brown from some unknown cause. At last it was found that the leaves were preyed upon by the Haltica Cucumeris, known by the plain people as the cucumber flea-beetle—a minute and almost invisible insect.

A Trick of Breeding.

In our issue of Sept. 5, says the Breeders' Gazette, a correspondent inquired as to the purity of blood of red-and-white Holstein Friesian cattle. A New York reader of the Gazette, noticing the query and our reply thereto, informs us that a gentleman by the name of Fields, owning a dairy up the Hudson, has two entirely red Holstein-Friesian heifers that are from a registered well-marked black-and-white Holstein-Friesian sire and dam. They are said to have been especially bred for the purpose of seeing whether a red Holstein-Friesian animal could be produced, as our informant states that "the dam was only permitted to run in pastures where were none but red cattle, and the sire was covered with a red blanket at the time the cow was served." The owner of the stock is evidently a believer in the experiment that Jacob made at the time he placed peeled rods in the water troughs from which Laban's cattle drank. While this may be interesting enough as an experiment, it is certain that it would be of no advantage to have the color of the Holstein-Friesians changed. The peculiar black and white of this breed is unique, and constitutes a "trade mark" which is such a distinguishing characteristic that it would be folly to discard it. Our correspondent writes further: "I have a registered Holstein-Friesian bull almost entirely white, yet his ancestors for five generations, with out an exception on both sides, are well-marked black and white. The calves from my bull on common cows are some of them nearly all black, some nearly all white, some speckled, and some well-marked black-and-white." This, however, is only in keeping with the experience of others upon that point, as the inherent tendency of the blood to show the familiar "black-and-white" is everywhere apparent.

No Profit in Wintering Poor Animals.

American Agriculturist.

Now is the time to get rid of the poorer animals. It will not pay to winter them, as better animals will give larger returns for shelter, care and feed. It is not economy to keep a poor animal through any season; but it is most extravagant to keep it through the winter. It is the height of folly in stock raising to sell the best and keep the worst. True the best bring the largest prices; but if you sell the best and keep the worst, soon your best will be no better than the worst is now, and your worst will be such that the more you have the poorer you will be. You, by this plan, constantly make your animals poorer; and as the stock raiser makes his animals poorer he makes himself poorer. If he keeps up the process, bankruptcy is as sure as fate. The opposite policy is the winning policy. Sell the poorest and retain the best. All sell enough of the poorer animals that you may buy a few better than the best you now have. This is making your animals constantly better and yourself richer. Soon your worst will bring as much as your best now. If you have not pure-bred animals, sell enough scrubs or grades to buy an animal of each sex, pure-bred. Hold fast to the full-blooded produce and to the highest grades. Almost before you are aware of it you will have only pure-bred animals. If once we start with pure-bred animals, the increase of breeding makes us rich in flocks and herds of the best blood in what, when the goal is reached, seems a very short time.

OUR LITTLE SON.

Four years old, afflicted with a painful skin disease. Six doctors tried to cure him; all failed. Got worse and worse. Completely cured by one set of Cuticura Remedies, costing $1.75.

Our little son will be four years of age on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful breaking out of the skin. We called in a physician who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as the breaking out, supposed by the physician to be hives in an aggravated form, became larger in blotches, and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night and rub him with soda in water, strong liniment, etc. Finally, we called other physicians, until no less than six had attempted to cure him, all alike failing, and the child steadily getting worse, until about the 20th of last July, when we began to give him Cuticura Resolvent Internally, and the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and by the last of August he was so nearly well that we gave him only one dose of the Resolvent about every second day for about ten days longer, and he has never been troubled since with the horrible malady. In all we used less than one-half of a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, a little less than one box of Cuticura, and only one cake of Cuticura Soap.

Scrofulous Humors.

Last spring I was very sick, being covered with some kind of scrofula. The doctors could not help me. I was advised to try the Cuticura Resolvent. I did so, and in a day I grew better, until I am as well as ever. I thank you for it, very much, and would like to have it told the public.

Portable Houses.

The advertisement of Allen & Herrenkind of Fort Worth, Texas, in this issue brings before the people an excellent specimen of a portable house, either frame or box, which is shipped from the factory in bundles so that any ordinary mechanic can put it together in a few hours. The illustration represents design E. an attractive cottage of four rooms each 13x15 feet with 6 feet hall, together with a one-room addition in rear for kitchen 10x12 feet. It includes a 12-foot piazza in front and another in the rear. The main building is 36x26 feet. The material in this building weighs 26,600 pounds if constructed with single wall, or 30,200 pounds if constructed with double wall. There are seven doors and ten windows.

The portable house as generally estimated is supposed to be a flimsy that three-fourths of the hay used by the farmers of Dunklin county is pea hay. On sandy land it would be bad getting along without peas, as they will grow on poor land. They will grow on poor clay land that will not make corn. Rich land is not good for peas. They go too much to vine. It depends largely on the season as to the kind of peas grown. I am not acquainted with all of them, but have four kinds growing, to-wit: the Black Vine, Clay, Whip-poor-will and the White Vine; the latter for table use. There is a black bunch, both large and small. There are many ways of cultivating, and like corn, as man fancies and the season will admit. If the land is not very foul break up twice, plant late as you would late corn. Thus you avoid cut worms. Peas want the soil warm. Drill them from two and a half to three feet apart with a corn drill. The thicker the better, as they keep down the vegetable matter, and you don't have to be particular about uncovering. When cultivating, plow once or twice with double shovel layer of each. Peas are worth $1.50 per bu. here now; never sell less. I sold one load at Dexter, Mo., last spring at $2.50 per bushel. It has been thought that the price would go down for several years, but the demand increases for them. I was told by a merchant that two years ago he and his partner sent to St. Louis and got all the peas on the market for the farmers of Dunklin county. There is one man in this county that has 60 acres. One of my neighbors will have about 200 bushels. The farmers of Illinois ought by all means to have peas, as the chinch bug has nothing whatever to do with peas. We have some bugs with us. Some corn is ruined this year. Most of people in writing about peas call them cow peas. They are more of a horse pea than a cow pea, as it is the principal hay. Peas are the finest thing for milk cows out.

Some who read this article may discredit it. They will say, if peas are so valuable why don't all the farmers of Dunklin county raise them? I have already given some reasons. Last structure, one that is merely a shell, without substantial support, with shaky roof, etc., etc., something that might do for a few days or a few months, but not for a permanent structure. The houses furnished by Allen & Herrenkind are not such apologies for buildings, they are safe, substantial and lasting, and equal to the best and superior to many of the frame dwellings erected by skilled mechanics, superintended by architects, and constructed at much greater expense. The intention of the inventor as fully carried out in the designs was to save time, money and labor for the purchasers and at the same time secure a portable house equal in every respect to the general run of good farm buildings.

The designs are fourteen in number and include buildings from a single room to five and six-room cottages, store buildings, railroad depots, etc.

Messrs. Allen & Herrenkind have one of the buildings put up for office purposes at Fort Worth and it is fully up to the description of the structure in their illustrated catalogue. The firm will promptly answer all inquiries.

Pea Culture.

W. E. Hopper in St. Louis Journal of Agriculture.

For the benefit of J. H. of Henry county, Missouri, and others who do not know the value of peas, I will say or cultivator. If not planted too early and plowed at the proper time they need no hoeing. When they get ripe, pick off the peas, take mower, cut one row at a time, let them cure, and haul in as you would other hay. Don't be afraid it is ruined because it rains on it. If the peas are picked in August and there should come a good rain, let them stand there and there will come a second crop of peas, which you can cut or pasture them with hogs, horses, cattle, sheep, goats, geese, chickens or quails. All of the above are fond of peas. To keep peas over winter store them in a dry place, either in the hull or hulled. If wanted strictly for hay prepare your land as you would for millet, sow broadcast and harrow in from three-fourths of a bushel to one and one-fourth bushels to the acre. Set the drill to sow not less than two and one-half to two bushels of wheat. To set it less will crack the peas, and the way is to plant them with corn in the hill. I have been in corn fields where I believe there were as many bushels of peas as corn. Talk about your stalk fields! When you have one of this kind it is worth something. The Black Vine pea will keep all winter in the field and come up in the spring. I have one piece planted in drills with corn. In another piece the rows of corn are 6 feet apart and a row of peas drilled between. I drilled them the last of June. They can be sown on wheat or oat stubble and make hay. The worst difficulty with peas and stubble is getting weather to cure when cut. I have sown on stubble and mixed my new hay with dry hay in the barn—a spring the people thought there were more peas than they could dispose of, so the price started at $1.50, but went to $2.50 per bushel. The reason farmers don't get along better they are too hard to get out of the old ruts. "The way our fathers did is good enough for us," say many. Why is it that more farmers don't sow rye for winter and early spring pasture? They all admit it is good, still they let some frivolous matter keep them from sowing any. We must experiment with different crops to learn the value of them. We live in a progressive age, and should improve our methods of farming as other industries do.

Dull Week and Demoralization.

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILLS., }
Oct. 2, 1888. }

Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.

If the previous week was a dull one and prices demoralized, the week now ended was far worse in all respects. The excessive receipts of range cattle and native cows here and at other points were unheard of in the trade. Prices at the present writing are the lowest in years. What more can be said? Shippers have been warned to hold back their stock, to no avail, however. Yesterday and to-day the only remarkable fact to note was the quality of the offerings. The bulk of the supply consisted of cows and thin steers, for which there is no demand. Prices will not pick up for some time to come. The East is badly demoralized.

Cassidy Bros. & Co. sold for F. M. Dougherty 10 steers, 1109 lbs, $2.90; 28 steers, 929 lbs, $2.70; E. B. Carver, Henrietta, 53 cows, 743 lbs, $1.85; C. R. There is nothing new to note in the sheep market. Good muttons are in demand by all classes of buyers. But comparatively few Texas sheep were offered, and the quality not very good. Prices ranged from $1.50@2.90 to $3.50 per 100 lbs. Common grades are almost given away. Good Texas muttons would readily command $3.50 per 100 lbs and more. Only good muttons should be sent to market.

Cassidy Bros. & Co. sold for Solomon & Rosenthal, Waco, 419 Texas stock sheep of 67 lbs at $2.60.

Scaling & Tamblin sold for T. M. Riley, Brownsville, 436 stock sheep of 64 lbs at $2.70.

The run of Texas horses moderate, but large for the season. The market may be called dull and uninteresting. Prices low down, while the demand is very small and altogether for the better grades of mares. Prices are slow at a range of $15@25 per head.

Business is only fairly active in the wool market. The demand is not so urgent as in weeks gone by, still it is quite large for desirable grades, and prices range in extremes from 12½ to 22c per lb, according to quality.

CHICAGO MARKET LETTER.

The Banner Month's Receipts of Cattle—Heavy Receipts From the West—Fancy Cattle Very High.

Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.

U. S. YARDS, }
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 1, '88. }

Last week's receipts of cattle were 67,500 of which 28,000 were Western rangers and 12,000 Texas and Indian cattle. The total receipts of range cattle last week were 40,000, the same as the week before and the largest number on record. The receipts of range cattle the past week, 28,000, were never before equaled.

There were fewer native cows the past week, but the proportion of that kind of stock has been large for some time past.

This fact is partly explained by the fact that while the hay and corn crops are generally fine the late pasturing in Iowa, Illinois and other states is not good and many farmers have had to either send their cows to market or begin feeding them hay and new corn.

Sales of native cows the past week have been at $1@3, mainly at $2@2.40.

The week opens with Texas cattle selling as follows: Cows, inferior to fair, $1.55@2; good to choice, $2.10@2.35; steers, inferior to fair, $2.10@2.40; good to choice, $2.55@2.90; bulls, $1.50@1.90; Texas calves, $2.50@3.50. Some 272 to 300-lb calves sold at $2.70@2.75.

S. A. Crosby marketed the following Texas sheep to-day: 230 head, 81 lbs, $3.50; 138, av. 80 lbs, $3.50; 60, av. 76 lbs, $3.15.

W. B. Ecton sold here 259 Texas sheep, 81 lbs, $3.45; 265 av. 77 lbs, $3.30.

The sheep market is low owing to the heavy supplies of Western range sheep coming. The Utah, Wyoming, Oregon and Montana sheep 90 to 120 lbs, are selling at $3.25@3.60 to feeders and $3.50@3.75 to butchers. Native sheep, $3@4.15; native lambs, $4 to $5.50.

Ohio, Indiana and Illinois farmers are buying many feeding sheep here now.

There is a great scarcity of hogs. Even pigs are scarce and some farmers in the West have paid as high as $5 to $6 per head for 50-lb stock pigs just to get a start.

Receipts of hogs are very small, but are larger than last year.

Really choice corn-fed cattle have been and still are very scarce. Some fancy 1600-lb beeves recently sold at $6.50 to $6.85, highest barring one load, in four years.

Only about a dozen cars of prime cattle arrive each week and that is why the best bring such high prices.

The receipts of cattle at Chicago during September were 259,736 head, being the highest run on record. For the first nine months of the year we have an increase over 1887 of 156,002 cattle, 45,269 hogs and 113,125 sheep. This undoubtedly means another banner year on receipts of cattle and sheep.

A. C. HALLIWELL.

Missouri Crops.

Ohio Farmer.
Secretary, Sanborn's report of Sep-
1, estimates the winter wheat yield at 13½ bushels per acre and the spring wheat at 11 bushels. The yield of oats per acre is 31 1-7 bushels, beans 14 bushels, flax 9 bushels; corn condition 90½ per cent., Irish potatoes 91 per cent., cotton 88 per cent., hemp 93 per cent., sorghum 89 per cent., grapes 77 per cent. The yield of wheat is above the average yield of 11.75 bushels, but less than the old-time average, when the output aggregated 23,682,263 bushels. Nine per cent. of last fall's sowing was plowed up in the spring. The yield of oats is above the average. The quantity of merchantable oats is, however, less than usual.

Texas State Fair and Dallas Exposition.
1888. October 11 to 31. 1888.
At DALLAS, TEXAS.

The coming Fair and Exposition will, beyond doubt, excel in point of attractiveness, numbers and variety of exhibits any heretofore held.

The County Exhibit Department promises to be the most attractive feature, one never before attempted by any State. Over forty counties up to date have secured space, and more still to enter. The exhibits these counties will present will be something that will astonish visitors.

Every variety of attractions has been provided for, and the musical treat we have in store for visitors will be presided over by the world renowned Cornetist, Prof. A. Liberati.

The purses offered in the Race Department cover $20,000, and will be competed for by the best racers in the land. The management of this department propose to give during the Fair and Exposition the finest races ever given in the South.

We desire to call the attention of counties to the fact that now is the time to get up their exhibits, when grain, fruits, etc., are ripening, and not wait until it is too late.

Space in the County Exhibit Department is free, and no county of our State can afford not to be represented. There will be more people here than ever before, and we want them all to see the varied resources of our great State.

To exhibitors in general we can promise them the finest opportunity ever offered to make displays, from which will return good results, and to visitors we can assure them of the grandest entertainment ever given in the Southwest.

HIGHER PRICES ARE REALIZED HERE

Than in the East is due to the location at these yards of

with an aggregate daily capacity of 3300 cattle and 27,200 hogs, and the regular attendance of sharp, competitive buyers for the packing houses of Omaha, Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, New York and Boston.

All the sixteen roads running into Kansas City have direct connection with the yards, affording the best accommodation for stock coming from the great grazing grounds of all the Western states and territories, and also for stock destined for Eastern markets.

The business of the yards is done systematically and with the utmost promptness, so that there is no delay and no clashing, and stockmen have found here, and will continue to find, that they get all their stock is worth with the least possible delay
