Union Stock Yards,

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

The Largest and Best Live Stock Market in the World

The entire system of the Railways of the West centers here, making the Union Stock Yards the most accessible point in the country. The capacity of the yards, the facilities for unloading, feeding, reshipping, or for the sale of stock are unlimited. There is no point in the United States where stock will find as satisfactory market and sale to the shipper as the Union Stock Yards.

The quality of feed and accommodations given cannot be surpassed at any point in the country. The great city of packing houses that are located here, the large bank capital and the large number of buyers for the Eastern market constantly on hand, make this a quick, active and independent market. Cattle from the North, West and Southwest should reach this market without fail, in order to procure the best prices. There is now established a direct Cattle, Hog, Sheep and Horse trade between these yards and the most important markets in Europe. Agents constantly here from London, Paris, Hamburg, Liverpool and Manchester. The daily shipments from these yards to Europe are from one to two steamer loads. THIS IS STRICTLY A CASH MARKET.

New Discovery for consumption; am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

ROUND-UPS.

Notice is given, that S. W. Lynn, heretofore Manager of the Dickinson Cattle Company, having resigned J. N. Jones, was elected President of said company, and appointed General Manager.

San Angelo Standard:—Joe Funk last Thursday sold 210 head of steers to R. R. Stearns, of Williamson county, for $4410, or $21 per head, delivered at the stock pens next week. H. W. and F. T. Nason returned from a seven days' hunt up near J. M. Phillips ranch on north Concho, Tuesday. Their success was small, only getting one deer, a few ducks and some curlew. They saw one bunch of 75 antelope.

San Angelo Standard:—B. A. Goodwine of Cameron, Milam county, was probably the most important person that visited San Angelo this week. He bought $20,650 worth of steer cattle as follows: From L. B. Harris, 500 threes and up, and $19.50, and 100 long two and up, at $14.50; from P. C. Lee, 525 3's and up, at $18 per head. In all he purchased 1125 head of steers. This cattle will be immediately shipped to Milam county, corn fed during the winter and placed on the market early next spring.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., Nov. 13.—News from the Choctaw Nation received this morning is to the effect that the stockmen are considerably exercised over the passage of a bill by the Choctaw Legislature just before it adjourned last Wednesday, prohibiting the introduction of steer cattle into the nation except only in the month of November and December. The bill prohibits cattle being truned loose on the range. Stockmen say this will destroy the industry in the Choctaw country. The bill affects the interests of nearly one-third of the citizens of the nation.

The Live Stock Indicator says:—It would be interesting to know what shrinkage there was in the milk of each cow in dairy herds, where they were not provided with proper shelter during the late cold wave. Those early storms generally catch the careless handler of stock napping and rob him as certainly of money that should be in his pocket, as the most expert thief would. Probably he would shoot the thief or subject him to summary justice. Yet he smiles complacently as he looks out through the window at his cows with their backs up and nothing but the wire fence for a shelter, forgetting all the time, that mismanagement is the most ruinous robber of all.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with abscess of lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption he would have died of lung troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at H. W. Williams & Co's.

A Fast Dog.

N. M. Stock Grower.

Some years ago one of our worthy New Mexico ranchmen thought he would purchase a good dog east for the better protection of his sheep. He accordingly went east and returned with a dog which was highly recommended and cost him quite a handsome sum of money as well as considerable trouble to get to his ranch. He told his friends of his valuable purchase and gloried in his possession and in the fact that his sheep would be disturbed no more. He went out one day among the foot hills with the dog. The latter soon scampered off on some scent or other and his master followed as well as he could. He saw in the distance two objects running, one after the other, in mad chase. The dog was doing nobly. Following on he came to an acquaintance.

"Say, Jack, did you see my dog and a coyote go by here?"

"Yes, about ten minutes ago."

"Well, how was it?"

"Your dog was a little ahead."

The dog has not yet returned to the ranch.

GLENWATER FARM, PROPERTY OF J. MONROE LEER.

"Falcon" in The Eden of Asses.

We make the following flowery extracts from a graphic letter from "Falcon," in the Louisville Times:

"Stand on the crest of the ridge anywhere upon the farm and cast your eye north, south, east or west, and somewhere in the shade of a locust bush or maple tree you will see one of these shaggy-haired lovers with his long ears held back over his shoulders and his head stretched straight forward, while from his wide-open mouth flows forth a perfect Niagara of passion—a veritable song of Solomon—making his flanks heave with the intensity of his vocalized yearnings. Some of these air pulsating poems come from the summits of far-off hills, chastened and tempered by the dim distance which they have traversed, until they touched the heart of the listener with a strange, half-melancholy flavor of hope deferred, like one of Ella Wheeler's poems soon after her engagement to be married. But the next breath of air brings you the blatant, strong, soulful, nerve-shaking and earth-quaking voice of a sad-eyed gentleman donkey near at hand, which, in its ghoulish intensity, reminds you of the 'Quick or the Dead,' and makes you wish to be one of the dead.

"Among the congregation of princely asses have I been wandering to-day listening to their solos and choruses, and watching them playing their pranks—for no ass except the human one is solemn all the time. I thought of Coleridge and his invitation to the young ass to join and emigrate to America: On Monroe Leer's farm he certainly could have found the earthly Eden of Asses, for there if any place in this world is the spot 'Where Toil shall call the Charmer Health his bride, and Laughter tickle Plenty's ribless side.'"

"We were introduced to the Emperor of Jackasses, the great 'Napoleon of Glenwater,' as he is called. In a paddock to himself, with a stable of his own, he meditated in enforced seclusion upon his triumphs in the arena, and philosophized no doubt upon the joys and sorrows in the life of a premium jack. When his stable door was opened he stalked forth as majestically as any crowned king, and viewed the bystanders with an air of magnificent disdain. Any attempt to make him frisk or play he treated as an innovation upon his royal habits, and infringement upon his royal dignity. He went down to the pond and drank a little water, so that we might see that even the imperial purple did not place him above the ordinary incidents of mortal existence. When at last he condescended to bray, he did so somewhat as a great man would yawn—rather for his own pleasure than for our amusement.

"And such a bray! He laid his ears back and opened his mouth and sucked in such great balloonfuls of the careering wind that he made a vacuum around him, and the breeze ceased to blow. His flanks distended and every hair bristled like a porcupine's quill. Then he began to utter. First came a roll of distant thunder, followed by short, sharp claps, which jarred the earth; then the roar of a hurricane came mingled with the scream of eagles flying from its chasing shadow, and the shrieks of the wounded could be heard through the whirlwind as the falling timbers crushing women and children; then the storm passed with its rumbling, growing fainter in the distance and the shrieks grow more agonizing until death came to the relief of the wounded, when they too became silent, and we rubbed our eyes and looked around us only to see a comtemplative jackass gazing placidly upon us out of his melancholy eyes. We could hardly believe that nature would so soon resume its wonted course."

Have you a few hours or a few day's spare time occasionally that you would like to turn into money? If so, then write quickly to B. F. Johnson & Co. of Richmond, Va., and they will give you information that will prove to be money in your pocket.

Rock Salt.

Messrs. Turner, McClure & Co. of Fort Worth have en route a car-load of the celebrated rock salt, which is the best salt that can be used for cattle, horses, and all kinds of stock. Cattle like the rock salt and prefer it to all other. They cannot eat enough to hurt them, as it is as hard as a rock and must be licked. Messrs. Turner, McClure & Co. will fill orders by mail promptly, either in large or small quantity. Send a trial order.

THE CLIP.

The local wool trade of Texas is paying liberally for wool when wool is offered, but there are not many of the small lots left in the state.

Quotations from the Boston Advertiser:—Texas and Southern wools: Texas spring mediom (12 mos). 20@25c.; Texas spring fine, 17@22c.; Texas spring fine (six to eight mos). 15@20c.; Texas spring med (six to eight mos). 18@22c.; Texas fall fine, 18@22c. Texas fall med 18@22c.

Boston Advertiser:—Texas and Southern: 328,000 lbs spring Texas, 17@25c; 10,000 lbs do do on p t; 457,000 lbs fall do, 20c; 30,000 lbs do do, 18c; 10,000 lbs do do on p t; 250,000 lbs do do, 22@25c; 20,000 lbs do do, 20c; 10,000 lbs do do, on p t; 10,000 lbs do do on p t. Total, 1,125,000 lbs.

Messrs. Wm. Macnaughtan's Sons of New York have issued a circular reviewing the wool trade. The tenor of the circular is that the stocks are light and present quotations very strong. This firm is the only New York house steadily soliciting Texas and Western wools. They do a large business, securing good prices for their consignors.

Messr. W. A. Allen & Co. of Chicago furnish the following quotations for Texas wools.

	Bright 12 mos. light dingy.	Short light dingy.
Fine, heavy to light (buck 8@12).....	16@25	12@15
Medium, heavy to light.....	16@25	16@23
1/2 blood, heavy to light.....	20@24	16@22
Coarse heavy to light.....	18@20	16@18
Kempy.....	@	12@14
Burry 1/4@1/2 less, Earthy and heavy, quotable about 12@14.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 16.—On the night of October 15, Mr. C. J. Meyers, living about 13 miles north of this city, drove away a strange dog which was biting his sheep. A few days ago some of the animals began to act strangely, attacking every one who came near them, and after a few hours would drop dead. A veterinary surgeon who was called pronounced the disease to be hydrophobia.

Chicago report, American Wool Reporter:—The election of Harrison has given an impetus to trade in the West. Wool is booming all along the line. In Wisconsin, washed and unwashed wools still command the attention of Eastern buyers, several large lines having been shipped east during the week; what now remains in the hands of the "growers" or local operators have been advanced in price fully 2c. per lb. since the presidential verdict of last Tuesday went forth.

American Wool Reporter:—The St. Louis market is firm and prices have advanced all along the line about 1c. per lb. All kinds are selling freely, and no expectation of any boom can be reported here among the trade generally. In fact, no one wants a boom; it's too expensive always in the end. A good legitimate demand is all that is wanted here, with the natural advance, as the supply is lessened and parties get what they are entitled to for storing and handling the wools.

Chicago Wool Journal:—The market during the past week has been slightly less active than during the week previous. The demand from manufacturers has been brisk, but dealers have advanced prices to more than they are prepared to pay, and the amount sold has been smaller in consequence. Prices are very firm, and the bright medium and fine wools have advanced fully 2 per cent per pound, while territory fine and medium have advanced 1 cent per pound. The amount sold during the week is somewhat less than for the week previous, amounting to about 30,000 pounds. All medium and fine wools are in good demand, and the stocks of these are very small here.

Boston Advertiser:—Owing to the excitement and the different views between different dealers and also the flexibility of buyers' views, no established quotations can be given on any grades, as often sales of almost identically the same wools have been made at a considerable difference in price, and quotations given this week are merely nominal as a whole. Some buyers will not operate, as they think values are too high, while others, if they are in want of the wool, will pay the prices with no haggling. The feeling seems to be that values will go higher instead of lower, and many lots of wool are still held out of the market either by the owner here or the Western consigner, as the case may be.

American Wool Reporter:—The statistical bureau of the United States department of agriculture gives the amount of wool produced in this country in the calendar year 1883 as 300,000,000 pounds, and in 1884 as 308,000,000, the latter being the largest elip ever shorn, according to that authority. The same authority has since reported a decrease to 285,000,000 pounds. The estimates of Mr. James Lynch and others have greatly exceeded those of the agricultural bureau; and unfortunately, statistics of wool production in the United States are very defective. But while a considerable increase has taken place in the production of wool in Montana, Oregon, Washington Territory, Arizona and Nevada since 1883, we do not believe this has been sufficient to offset the large decrease in Texas and California and in Ohio, Michigan and other states east of the Mississippi River. There is every indication that the amount in 1888 will foot up considerably less than in any previous year since 1883.

Boston Advertiser:—Texas wools sold very freely during the week, and prices in some instances have ruled very high. One house reports the sale of 250,000 pounds fall at 22@25c., but the latter is very extreme. One lot of 20,000 pounds at 20c. is reported, and another house cleaned up 475,000 pounds at the same figure. The scoured basis for fine free Texas fall is about 52 @53c, with fine medium at 51 @52c, and lots to command more than this have to be above the average. A lot of 328,000 pounds of Texas spring wool is reported cleaned up at 17 to 20c. California wools have also went well, one sale of 240,000 pounds is reported at 20c, while a lot of 250,000 pounds is reported taken at 20 to 22c. Good lots of California and Texas spring wools range about the same scoured as territories on 12 months' lots, with 6 to 8 months' growth at about 2 to 3c less.

Boston Advertiser:—The sales for the week comprises 6,449,400 lbs of domestic fleece and pulled and 757,000 lbs of foreign, making the week's transactions foot up 7,106,400 lbs against 3,111,700 lbs for the previous week, and 2,850,100 lbs for the corresponding week last year. The wool market this week is in an excited condition and the volume of business done is larger than for any one week this year. The fear of free wool which has been hanging over the market for so long past is now dispelled, and there seems to be a general wakening among the mills. The number of buyers in town has been large, and as a rule they were all in want of wool and generally not afraid to buy. They did not all buy on their judgment and because they thought the wool cheap, but in many cases they took the wool because it was a case of take it or someone else would get it. Those buyers who have been laboring under the impression that wool was in plentiful supply, and by holding back they would be able to have their own way in regard to price, have been undeceived this week, and have found that in order to get supplies they have to talk quick and not haggle much over prices.

Poultry Notes.

The following notes we take from the Poultry yard:

In whitewashing the interior of a poultry-house do not leave a spot even as large as the head of a pin untouched anywhere. Splash the whitewash liberally into every nook and corner, crack and crevice. If the henry has a floor of cement, stone, brick or boards, whitewash that also.

What is worth doing at all is worth doing well and substantial, commodious buildings for poultry will pay as well as for other stock. Yes, a fowlhouse need not necessarily be very expensive; on the contrary, it may be a very simple affair, where the poulturer desire to avoid expense, or for any reason where it may be an object to him to economize the buildings he already has upon his place.

A good mode for killing poultry, as it causes instant death without pain or disfigurement, is to suspend the birds by tying their legs firmly to a pole or heavy wire across the killing room, a convenient distance from the floor, and opening the fowl's beak, and with a sharp pointed, narrow-bladed knife make an incision at the back of the roof, which will divide the vertebrae and cause immediate death.

See that your poultry-houses have perfect ventilation, as it will soon be time to confine your fowls from the frigidty of the winter. No matter how limited may be the number of birds thus confined, a poisonous gas will quickly form, and if there be no chance for it to escape freely, sickness or death soon ensues to the inmates that are compelled to breathe the foul air. In cold weather, during the middle of each day, the fowlhouse should be thoroughly ventilated.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low-test, short-weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St., N. Y.

San Antonio Fair.

The unfavorable weather that this enterprise met at its initial opening continued unabated for nine days, during which there was not a single day clear throughout, and only two passable, with several almost unbearable. The city was dirtier than ever before known which had the effect of keeping many away from the grounds who had come hundreds of miles, they supposing that the fair grounds must be even worse, while the contrary was really the case. One of the greatest drawbacks to the complete success of the fair was the inadequate provisions for the accommodation of strangers. Not that room could not have been found, but owing to the lack of central and authoritative office of information many found themselves without shelter throughout the night in a drizzling rain. Towards the latter part of the first week, this want was supplied.

Many additions were made to the live stock exhibit too late to compete for prizes, until this department is eliciting the praises of many experienced and traveled stockmen. Only the black polled cattle are conspicuous for their absence.

The races, or rather those that have come off, have given satisfaction, and now that the fair has been continued and the weather has cleared off with a stiff norther, the prospects are that the programme in this department will be carried out to the end. The bad weather put a stop to even the live stock awarding committees, and only a partial list can be given in this issue, with a complete list promised as soon as completed. The roping contest promises to draw a big crowd, and especially, the five one-legged cowboys.

Many of the visiting live stock exhibitors were beginning to get the blues, by the bad weather, but when it cleared off they brightened up, and have now fair prospects of making some good sales.

The following are some of the awards made:

FINE CATTLE WHICH WERE AWARDED PREMIUMS YESTERDAY.

Yesterday was appointed as the day for awarding the premiums in class 1—Herefords, class 4—Shorthorns, and class 20—Standard Breed trotters, in the cattle and horse departments. Owing to the inclemency of the weather but few spectators assembled in the ring, and it was 11 o'clock before the committee of awards got to work.

CLASS 1, HEREFORDS.

For best bull three years and over, F. M. Houts of Wise county, Texas, took the first prize of $25, with his famous bull Harkaway, a beautiful animal bred in Indiana, but who has been in Texas since he was five months old. The red ribbon and $15 prize was taken by Jot Gunter of Grayson county, with his bull, Duke of Clear Creek.

For the best bull two years and under three years, Jot Gunter took the first prize of $15 with his Hereford bull, Duke of Sherman.

American Hereford Record.

The American Hereford Record Volume VIII, is received at this office, thanks to the secretary, C. R. Thomas Esq., of Independence, Mo. The book is an improvement on former compilations and gives all pedigrees in full. The Record shows also that most of the Texas breeders are letting their registration go by default which they will find to be a great misfortune to them at some future time.

Inspection Resolutions.

The Consolidated Cattle Growers' association passed the following resolution:

Whereas, the inspection of the cattle and other animals and products thereof, which are to be sold for human food, should be uniform and national in its character, so as to insure an inspection which shall be thorough, honest and free from local prejudice; therefore be it

Resolved, that this convention advocates the enactment of a national inspection law by congress, providing that it shall be unlawful to transport from one state into another state or foreign country any beef, pork, mutton or veal to be sold as human food which has not been inspected alive at the slaughtering place by an inspector of the United States and found healthy; and that a special bureau for such inspection should be created in the department of agriculture. And be it further

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to each member of the house of representatives and each senator in congress by the secretary of this convention.

A Decrease in Cattle.

An old hand on the produce exchange advanced the idea that it was an impossibility to figure from statistical reports upon the rise and fall of a commodity, that general prosperity or poverty of the masses had more to do with values of commodities than the amount of any given article upon the market.

National statistics as published by the departments seldom do more than act as a guide, and are very slow to show progress or retrogression. Like the census figures such compilations simply show a state of affairs that did exist at some time in the past. An attempt was made recently to ascertain how near official figures of assessment rolls of cattle were to the true facts, but a vast amount of research, examination and cross examination of range cattlemen simply elicited the knowledge that the figures are slightly incorrect now and that such figures were very incorrect a few years ago. The result in actual figures does not amount to much, but the investigation exhibits the fact that in Texas the Indian Territory. New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona and Kansas, there are full one million less cattle than there were in 1885. If other states and territories show a like decrease, while the increase in population goes marching on, cattle will be in demand again in a very short time.

Texas Raised Bulls.

One would naturally suppose that a man who had imported blooded cattle amounting in value to many thousands of dollars, and had lost one out of every two, or two out of every three imported, by acclimation fever; that he having succeeded in obtaining a choice herd of cattle at great expense and greater risks, the local demand would be so heavy as to insure his prosperity. The natural supposition is that the man wanting a bull for service in his herd would rather buy one Texas bred animal than two, three or four animals having to be acclimated. But such is not the case. Many a man insists upon experimenting in this direction and the average loss on all such purchases amounts at least to six out of every ten imported.

The loss in acclimating blooded cattle in Texas is beyond doubt one of the mysteries of the cattle trade. The oldest importer knows but very little more than the man who experiments to-day. There are one hundred theories but no successful practice. Sometimes cattle die a very few days after reaching the state and sometimes they die after they have been so long in the state as to be considered beyond danger. Imported cattle died freely at the Dallas fair and imported cattle died more than freely at the San Antonio fair.

We have but one word of advice to offer those who want to purchase blooded cattle of any breed, and it is to exhaust the supply in the state before going abroad. There are some of all kinds of blooded cattle here and it would do the cattle interest much good to have all that is offered for sale, sold at once. When the home supply is exhausted or is found to be inferior, then foreign purchases can be made. The breeders expect to take such risks for the purpose of selecting choice animals to head their herds. Such risks can be run after herds are established better than to establish the herds. Hunt Texas over first is the advice we give and the advice is extra good.

Market Gardening in Texas.

In his work entitled "Garden and Farm Topics," Peter Henderson of New York says: "In the immediate suburbs of New York where lands are rapidly taken up for building sites, many of the market gardeners pay as high as $100 rent per acre, and that too in most cases, without a lease. All such lands are cultivated to their fullest capacity and even at present prices bring an average gross income of $1000 per acre."

Such statements as the above will astonish most men, but other statements by the same author are equally true, impressive and startling. In his work entitled "How the Farm Pays." He makes the following general statement. "It is safe to say that the average profits to the market gardener in the vicinity of large cities is at least $300 per acre. The usual amount of ground cultivated is 10 acres, and it is a poor year when their profits from that amount of land do not average $3000 and that too when nearly all the products are sold at wholesale to middle men in large quantities and which before reaching the consumer costs him at least double the original price paid."

Another statement made by Mr. Henderson is as follows.

"I am inclined to believe that whatever kind of horticultural products is grown, whether fruit, flowers or vegetables, he that is nearest market has a decided advantage, so much so that in most cases a man had better pay $50 or even $100 per acre rent if within one or two miles from the market of a large city than to get land ten or twelve miles away for nothing."

People who have not investigated the sources of vegetable supply consumed in Texas would be astonished to learn the pitiful extent Texas is supplied with Texas products. A few vegetable gardens are to be found near by our principal cities, but these are not cultivated to produce but the merest fraction of the demand except in about two months of spring. The balance of the year our dependence is upon New Orleans and the South for early vegetables and on the north for late vegetable supplies of all kinds. So small indeed is the home supply of vegetables that the produce merchant does not rely on the vicinity of his city for anything and merely fails to import the regular supplies when temporarily the local gardens are able to meet the demands.

Market gardening in Texas affords to the gardener a very favorable field in which to operate, first because the climate favors the business and secondly because Texas city population pays more for vegetables than New York City.

SLADE AS A COMMISSION AGENT.

His Consignments, Expense Account and Observations.

The LIVE STOCK JOURNAL, always anxious to advance live stock interests and kindred industries, applies to me for hints that will benefit live stock commission agents. I am an experienced l. s. commission agent, and have the requisite hints on top. Yes, I served a brief and glorious career acquiring experience last summer. I acquired more experience than consignments. My experience is tabulated in the Chicago office of the company which was fortunate enough to secure my services about as follows, to-wit:

Salary three months	$ 450
Expenses	909
Total	$1350
By commission on Consignment 36 cows	18

Total profits on three months work on wrong side of ledger.....$1332

To the thoughtless reader, three hundred dollars a month for expenses may seem a little elevated, especially when none of this was included as railroad fare, but it took every cent of it and I was sober nearly half the time. Imaginary trips over assumed stage lines, livery hire, etc., have to be put in the expense list at fan-prices, at the end of a month during which three kings, flashes, "bobtails and nerve" positively failed to win the pot. But some one not overly well posted is ready to ask "why must items like the above be put in an expense account?" In reply, how would an account like the following look at headquarters? For instance this:

To a seven full on fives beat by 4 trays	$18.00
To amt. bet with Tom Shoemaker on pony race	5.00
To 31 games seven up with Bill Curtis	1.10
To Sunday nights 5c ante game	85
To gal. Western pine top whisky bet on weight of Waggoner's cattle	2.50
To hotel bill (partly paid)	1.75
Total	$29.20

I imagine the above table explains to a mind of average intelligence why costly stage trips and such like must be put into an expense account. Why I have known "boys" who after having luck dead against them for sometime go out on a ranch and live a week or ten days to let their expense money catch up with 'em. It's rather tough to have it to do I know, but then this life is not all sunshine—and pat fulls. "Sleeping car fare" was formerly a popular item in which to disguise a deficiency of two dollars, but it's outlived its usefulness. Statistics carefully kept show that only one traveling man out of 1700 who charged sleeping car fare in their expense accounts really occupied a berth in the Pullman car. The other 1699 each turn two seats together in the smoking car, and placing their respective heads on 1699 "grips" snore fitfully at the rate of thirty miles an hour interrupted only by the conductor who punches their ribs and then their tickets.

Stockmen are wont to complain that the commission they pay on cattle sales are too high. Such is not the case. The commission charges are only 50c per head, and I am prepared to prove that it costs the commission company all the way from $1.25 to $8.75 per head—according to the hands held by the agent and his opponent respectively—to secure consignments.

Commission merchants are men who have already made their fortunes and they are doing business simply for the sake of handling cattle, and they mean to handle them even if they have to lose money to do so. I have an idea fraught with great good to stockmen. It is this: Be a little more stubborn to the importunities of the commission agent, and when finally one offers to sell your cattle for nothing, go tell a rival agent of the offer and this rival agent will give you six-bits a head to get to sell your cattle for you. Then is your time to strike him to pay the freight also, and like as not he will do it.

There are three kinds of live stock commission agents, one is good, the second is no good, and the third is worse. The good agent goes straight ahead secures what consignments he can honorably, makes no vain promises, does enough business to leave his firm a decent profit after his salary and expenses are paid and leave things in a good shape to do business another year. The no-good agent does the best he can but doesn't do enough business to make his work profitable to the house. The worse agent is a hummer. He splurges. He is all things to all men. He promises all things to all men. He does everything to secure the present consignment regardless of the future, and rather than see another house get a coveted consignment he buys the cattle at the pens, and entails heavy loss to his house thereby.

All in all, the life of a live stock commission agent is not congenial to a man who likes a quiet literary life. There is so much bustle, and get up in it—such an irregularity in meals, and sleep—so many poor hands to endure, and full ones to encounter, that ones tranquility is quite ruffled. SLADE.

The Chicago Quarantine meeting is said to have moved the quarantine line below Tom Green, Nolan and Mitchell counties, which will admit cattle from those counties into the territories without restriction.

There was quite an exodus to St. Louis on Saturday and Sunday last of stockmen going Northward. Some went to the St. Louis convention and many intended going to the fat stock show at Chicago.

Mr. W. A. and D. F. Sansom of Alvarado, recently purchased a ranch in Mitchell county of P. J. Willis & Co., and have received the cattle during the last two weeks and shipping in 1000 feeders to Johnson county.

Mr. Robertson, one of the directors of the Texas Land & Cattle company, and Mr. Jno. Tod, manager of the company, visited the JOURNAL on Thursday. Mr. Robertson had been taking a view of the company property.

D. B. Gardiner returning from the Cherokee Strip reports that country as receiving a heavy frost and snow, and that it came on green grass, and before the weather had been cold enough to cause any leaves to fall from the trees.

Mr. J. Monroe Leer of Paris, Kentucky again uses the For Sale or Exchange columns of the JOURNAL to advertise 25 extra black jacks. His place and stock are described after a fashion, in one of our selections from a Kentucky paper.

The first witness appearing before the senate committee was Mr. D. H. Snyder of Georgetown, Texas. His evidence was purely negative, and amounted to an expression of belief that the depression in cattle was due to over production.

Messrs. Young, Andrews & Kuhlen of Fort Worth will receive a very choice consignment of Jersey cattle, all registered from Indianapolis, Ind. The owner, Mr. Baum, will be present and show the cattle to all who may desire to examine them.

John S. Andrews is busy putting 900 head of steers into his fattening pens, that he will full feed this winter. Jno. S. is a close observer and attentive to his business, and knows just when to invest his money in a bunch of feeding cattle to his profit.

Mr. Slade, well known to the readers of the JOURNAL served an apprenticeship to the live stock commission business during the summer season, and the result he has furnished to interest the readers of the JOURNAL. Do not fail to read it.

R. E. McNulty of Albany, who has concluded to take up permanent residence in Fort Worth, has also made a permanent investment by the purchase of a good block of stock in the City National Bank, one of the solid banking institutions of Fort Worth.

In the For Sale or Exchange columns Mr. Eugene Enloe of Woburn, Ill., offers a car-load of young pure-bred Herefords and five three-year-olds, in exchange for cattle or horses, or he will put the bulls into a herd of cattle and receive an interest in the herd.

A gentleman recently from the Fort Davis country says that the fencing up of new pastures has crowded some free range cattle into small space, and while as many who can, will secure grazing privileges, some must necessarily risk their cattle where their only hope will be in the fall meeting the spring half way.

Messrs. P. A. Huffman & Co. of Fort Worth have sold to Mr. E. T. Kirtz of New Castle, Pa., a lot and two houses on the Southside of Fort Worth for $3,500, and have about concluded some other important transactions in Fort Worth realty to non residents. They report a brisk inquiry for city properties and suburban tracts.

Mr. W. S. Ikard of Henrietta, again writes the JOURNAL that his advertisement has brought more orders for Berkshire pigs than he can fill at present. The orders came from all over the state. This is a sample of what advertising does. We cannot force a demand for a certain line of stock, but we can make things interesting for breeders when there is a demand.

The weather in North Texas has treated the stock interests badly, during the past two weeks. The signal service for a time exhibited fair weather signals until discouraged with continued rain and cold the local operator folded up the flags and went out of business. It looks at this writing as though there will be no more fair weather predictions until fair weather puts in appearance.

The Chicago convention of the Consolidated Cattle Growers' association received Mr. Pikerell's report on the Texas cattle fever tests, the results of which showed that Northern cattle would catch Texas fever from Texas cattle suffering with that disease, but the Northern animal was in no danger from another northerner, although the latter had the fever. Discussion of the subject was generally participated in.

Stock cattle in the Panhandle have not changed hands to any great extent of late, so that no prices are recognized as standard. In Western Texas and including Archer county, and in some Western counties north and south of the Texas Pacific, stock cattle have changed hands at $8 per head, when yearling steers have sold at $10 and some few two-year-olds at $15. Stock cattle have not sold well for two years.

The Burnett cattle, shipped by Harrold & East, sold and weighed up very well. 100 head which cost Harrold & East $45, weighed 1410 pounds and were sold by Strahorn & Co. for $4.25, another lot 108 head, 1238 pounds, were sold by Strahorn at 4c. and 89 head of the same cattle, 1207 pounds average, were sold by Paxson, Shattuck & Co. for $3.65. Mr. E. B. Harrold says in his opinion the first hundred head were the best grass cattle that ever left the state, and the JOURNAL fully endorses the opinion.

On the 21st inst., at Kansas City, the reorganized Cherokee Strip association met to consider a proposition from Chief Mayes, who in turn has thought fit to say something about terms and prices. His proposition is to lease the strip to the association for grazing purposes for fifteen years at an annual rental of $200,000 for the first five years, $250,000 for the second five years, and $300,000 for the third five years. A majority of the members are said to favor this arrangement, and it is possible that the lease will be effected to begin January 1.

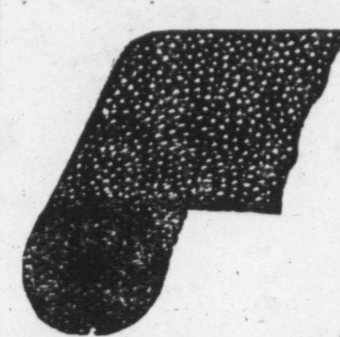

In Answer to an inquiry the Stock-Grower of New Mexico says that good Western Texas steers are selling at present at from $9 to $12 per head on the range, for full two-year-olds the price is the extreme limit, and steers in order to bring the price must be A 1. All of which says the TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL is not so. Yearling steers in Western Texas are long yearlings and will be twos in five months, and are very closely sold at $10 around, and two-year-olds, coming three, are scarce as beef on the New Mexico range, and not a hoof can be had at $12, $13 or $14, unless money pressure forces the sale.

Colonel W. C. Young has returned to Fort Worth, having spent some time on the ranch. He sold a string of steers at Colorado City, at $22.50 per head, on his way home. During his western trip Colonel Young was in the Nave-McCord, Magnolia, Jumbo, St. Louis, Bush, Lexington, and Blum pastures and he says that the entire country is in a much better average condition than it has been at the same time of year, for several years; the Llano pasture has excellent grass including one large pasture not used during the present year. The stock holders of the companies mentioned will be glad to know that the prospect for the cattle wintering well is very good.

Hon. O. D. Austin, formerly representative of Fannin county made the JOURNAL a pleasant call this week. He says he is going to sell out at Bonham and thinks he will buy dirt in Dallas.

As shown each week, by the reported sales of Carter & Sons, all kinds of stock find a comparative ready sale in the Dallas market at fair prices. The JOURNAL readers can readily post themselves each issue by observing the sales of the above firm.

The shipment of all sorts of stock to this market has been greatly retarded on account of the continued rains for the past two weeks. The people of every political complexion appear to be ready and willing for a clear-up shower; even the JOURNAL, at this end of the line, is ready for a dry spell.

Mr. Mills, a Michigander, who has been in Texas the past two years, has recently patented an attachment for all turning plows to keep the black-waxy soil from sticking to the mould-board. The attachment consists of a hog-skin fastened on the dirt side of a turning plow and is said to work all O. K. A son of Mr. Mills has a ranch of fine sheep twelve miles from Dallas.

Two Women Witness a Masonic Ceremony.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Masonic societies in Scotland, and, in fact, in England also, are deeply agitated over the discovery that two women gained admission to lodge Celtic and witnessed on the occasion of their visit a portion of the proceedings. It appears that the lodge was performing the obsequies over a dead brother and that a member named Edwards assisted the two daughters of the deceased to conceal themselves in a loft overlooking the hall, from which they saw and heard through a partially opened glazed door a portion of the proceedings. It is not charged that the ladies have divulged the secrets of which they became possessed, and yet Edwards, who concealed them in the loft, has been solemnly expelled from the order of Free Masonry at a meeting of the grand lodge of Scotland, which was presided over by Sir Archibald Campbell, M.P., the grand master Mason of Scotland.

A Railroad that will offer Every Inducement to draw Settlers.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 22.—President John H. Inman, of the Richmond and Danville system, in an open letter says he expects very soon to have a consultation with the heads of the Richmond and Danville, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, and the Central railroad systems, to offer special inducements in the way of side-tracks, short branches, long-term contracts, and cheap freight, and to endeavor in every way possible to stimulate the erection of new manufacturing plants, the building and strengthening of those already in existence, and by lowering emigrant rates to make inducements for settlers to come into the south and help build her up.

The case was prosecuted to a judgment by plaintiffs. Under the judgment Randolph has received, it is alleged, $19,999.99 and the suit is brought for ten per cent of that sum, the percentage agreed to be paid the plaintiffs by Randolph.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston Commercial Bulletin.

The bars are down and the bulls are loose. For years has not been such a week of general inquiry and good business. The usual guess at the sales has been ten million pounds. The statistics of actual sales collected from special reports show a total of 8,847,872 pounds of all kinds of wool sold in the Boston market during the past week. Two months ago the largest sales on record were reported. On that date, however, the sales were swelled by the aggregate of a month's business of one house amounting to several millions. This week's figures, however, represent this week's sales, and it may be truthfully said that the volume of business has not apparently, but actually, surpassed that of any other week in the history of the trade. Speculators who believe in a further advance have made a rush for certain lines, dealers with broken stocks have replenished their empty lofts, manufacturers, large and small, have decided that the free wool scare is practically dead and all three classes have come into the market as buyers and have had to pay the price. It is difficult to keep cool in the midst of a market where scoured wool that is offered at 48c on Monday is sold at 52c on Wednesday and cannot be replaced at that figure on Thursday. The happiest men are the large mills that stocked up with cheap wool before election and the speculators who see a profit of five or six cents a pound on what is left of their spring purchases. The great fleece buyers have kept away from the market, but every kind of unwashed wool has met with an active demand and the sales of scoured wool have again been large. Stocks in the country are exceptionally light and there seems nothing in the way of a continued advance of wool to the point where the increased cost of goods will admit a new deluge of foreign fabrics.

The advance in fall Texas has helped holders of noils and has been the cause of large orders for waste which have been sent abroad this week. * * Texas wools have been marketed with great ease throughout the West. Fall wool has been sold in large quantities and at prices which a month since would have seemed impossible. Free fine fall wool has sold at 21c, and even for higher figures, the scoured basis being 53c. Medium free fall wool has sold at 23c.

QUOTATIONS.—Texas fine, 12 months, 20@23c; do do 6 to 8 months, 18@22c; Texas medium 12 months, 19@24c; do do 6 to 8 months, 20@23c; Texas fall fine, 17@21c; do do medium, 19@23c.

Fort Davis News:—About two months ago Ellison & Stafford unloaded a lot of Southern Texas cattle at Haymond and drove them across the country to their ranch on Alamito creek, in the eastern part of Presidio county. Ranchmen along the line of drive protested against the introduction of the diseased cattle into the country, and at that time it almost excited bloodshed. It now transpires that native cattle have become infected and are dying in large numbers on Alamito creek. The cattlemen of Green Valley are highly indignant at this outrage, and legal measures will probably be evoked to reimburse them for their losses.

The Quarantine.

The quarantine convention that met in Chicago this week attracted much more attention north than right here in the section that is in discussion. This is accounted for by the fact that we now hold the key to the situation. That this is the best breeding country in America, has long been conceded by all well informed persons, and we have also proven that we can mature with at least as good a profit if not better than any other section. The Northwest is undoubtedly a good maturing country, but as a breeding field it is a failure. Heretofore they have been able to induce our ranchmen to drive our surplus to their borders, where they cornered the market with the quarantine and bought our stock at their own figures to the financial ruin of many of our best rancheros. Two years ago we were forced to keep our cattle at home, and began to market our surplus, but we did not sell the top young steers, but it was the old cows and bulls that were rushed to the beef markets of the North, and the steers kept at home to mature into beeves. This has resulted in placing us into a better financial condition than we have been for years. Last year few cattle were driven out of Southwestern Texas except by men from the North who bought them here and moved them North to face their own quarantine laws. This proved highly satisfactory to us, and will probably be followed in the future. Our stock is for sale, and if buyers come in and offer more than we can make by holding them over for beeves on our own ranches, they can get them, otherwise not. We are not any more obliged to sell them at a loss or drive them North to be cornered on a bald prairie to die of starvation or thirst, or give them away. To-day Southwest Texas is the best stock country under the shadow of the American flag, and as a proof we offer the fact that there can be found no ranchero in this section who has his ranch paid for, who is willing to exchange for any ranch of similar value in any other portion of the United States. That is the reason we are not worrying about quarantine matters in the Northwest now, we let those who loaded the gun try to get out of the way of its recoil, the range is too large and its shot too scattering to interest us much.

An Open Letter.

CHICAGO, ALTON & ST. LOUIS R. R. CO.
OFFICE GEN'L LIVE STOCK AGT.,
ST. LOUIS, July 20, 1888.

The undersigned, as the live stock representative of the old reliable and well-known Alton road, respectfully calls the attention of live stock shippers to the improved fast time now being made by this line from St. Louis, Kansas City and Higbee to Chicago. The cars of this line are uniform in size, and the roof is higher and better ventilated than any other ordinary stock cars now in use on other lines. In addition, the Alton is furnishing more of the improved palace stock cars to Texas shippers than all other lines combined. The Chicago & Alton makes a specialty of the handling of live stock, and in the past five years shipments have largely increased each year, which shows to all fair-minded people that we give attention to our patrons. No other line in the country transports as much live stock as the C. & A. in proportion to mileage. The books of the stock yards at St. Louis and Chicago will verify this. I can say, without fear of successful contradiction, that the C. & A. in the past has done some good work in behalf of live stock shippers so far as rates are concerned. The officers of this company have at all times looked upon the prosperity of stockmen as being beneficial to the road. The success of one was prosperity for both. I respectfully solicit of shippers a good share of their consignments, and promise them good treatment, fast time and rates as low as any first-class road makes.

I sincerely thank live stock shippers for the large patronage given our line in the past, and ask for their friendship and support in the future.

Shippers desiring any information or favors, by addressing me at St. Louis, will receive prompt replies.

JNO. NESBITT,
Gen. Live Stock Agent.

He Was Excused.

Forest and Stream.

We had met to determine when and where we should pitch our tent this fall. One member suggested that we start either before or after Circuit court met, for some of us would surely be summoned on the jury. Then H. C. S., the genial captain of our party, said, "Did you ever hear how I was excused from serving some time ago? While Judge Buckner presided over this district some time ago, I was summoned, and after court was called I went to the judge and asked to be excused, as I had urgent business to attend to at home which required my presence."

The judge replied, "There are no doubt twenty-five men here who would want to be excused for similar reasons. I cannot excuse you."

"Your Honor, I have served as juror in this court for three consecutive terms, and you ought to excuse me this time for these reasons."

"That," answered the judge, "only proves your value to the county as a juror. I cannot excuse you."

"Your honor, I have still others. You ought to excuse me for old acquaintance's sake. When I was quite a small boy you used to camp on my father's farm every spring to keep from serving on the jury in the adjoining county, and I used to supply you with fishing worms."

"You are excused," cried the Judge, amid the roars of laughter that followed from the officers of the court.

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 19, '88. }

Receipts of cattle last week were about 57,000 being about 5000 larger than a year ago. The receipts for this week, however, opened with 20,000 on Monday. This is the largest number ever received.

Old cows, Texas cattle, and inferior to fair native steers made up the bulk of the stock. The general market was only about 10@15c lower even with this unheard of run. The Texas cattle sold went partly as follows:

143 cows, 764 lbs, $2.10; 93 cows, 820 lbs, $2.10; 23 cows and bulls, 1100 lbs, $2.25; 58 cows, 885 lbs, $2.25; 167 steers, 958 lbs, $2.50; 84 steers, 894 lbs, $2.75; 115 steers, 968 lbs, $2.80; 70 steers, 1056 lbs, $3; 23, 858 lbs, $2.50; 11, 841 lbs, $2.50; 51 steers, 820 lbs, $2.70; 98, 1083 lbs, $2.80; 97, 1082 lbs, $3.25; 11 cows, 783 lbs, $2.20.

Hints on Fattening Hogs.

Swine Breeders' Journal.

The process of converting grain into pork by means of a machine called hog is by no means a difficult one, provided the machine is kept in running order. It is folly to suppose and expect that a hog can convert any and all kinds of food into pork. It is necessary that, if we want pork, we must feed those foods that will produce flesh and fat. When hogs arrive at the proper age for fattening see that every one is in a healthy condition and is thriving. The system must be in perfect order that food may not be wasted. Don't throw in a wagon load of corn, reminding your hogs that that is all they will get for a week, but gradually and systematically work them up to "full feed." Do not change the diet too suddenly, and especially use care in changing from green to solid food. Adopt regular hours for feeding, and the animals will soon learn to expect it about that time every day. With old hogs food twice a day is often enough, but with young hogs I would advise feeding three times a day, as by only twice they overload their stomachs. The food should always be given in a clean wholesome condition, and never allowed to sour. The barrels of vats in which food is mixed should be cleaned after each feeding, and all surplus food removed.

SORE FROM KNEE TO ANKLE.

Skin Entirely Gone. Flesh a Mass of Disease. Leg diminished one-third in size. Condition hopeless. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It had diminished about one-third the size of the other, and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and the result was as follows: After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

ST. LOUIS MARKET LETTER.

About the Convention—Sales of Cattle and Sheep.

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILLS., }
Nov. 20, 1888. }

Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.

There was no great change in prices one way or the other for the week now ended. In other words, values did not fluctuate much. To say the least, there was some firmness the best part of the week from the fact the supply each day was only moderate, which is strange to relate when Kansas City and Chicago were flooded with all kinds of stock for the same time. Interior shippers, the dressed beef company and local speculators needed a fair number each day and they paid the strong prices prevailing under protest.

Native steers are coming now in larger numbers, but they are not displacing range cattle to any extent. Native steers of 1200 to 1400 lbs brought from $4@4.75 to $5 per 100 lbs.

At the present writing good Texas steers of 900 to 1050 lbs are bringing from $2.75@3.35 per 100 lbs. Indian steers of the same weight, $2.75@3.50 per 100 lbs.

Cow stuff in abundance and sales are readily effected at $1.65@2.30 per 100 lbs for Texas and $1.75@2.75 for native cows.

To-morrow the National association of butchers and cattlemen will open up at the Exposition building as also the Senatorial Investigating committee. There is a large attendance of butchers, cattlemen, drovers, dressed beef men and others. There is a great deal of interest being taken, and the papers are full of interviews and statements. There are plenty of Chicago men here and the proceedings promise to be quite lively. The Chicago men want to be let alone. The railroads, too, are taking an interest in the convention.

Cassidy, Bros. & Co. sold for L. R. Hastings, Colorado City, 104 cows, 760 lbs, $2.25; Hastings & Brakebill, Colorado City, 50 cows, 800 lbs, $2.15; 17 bulls, 938 lbs, $1.65; Smith & Forsythe, Hunnewell, 382 steers, 876 lbs, $2.95; 209, 870 lbs, $3; 69, 875 lbs, $3; 26, 854 lbs, $2.90; J. B. Wilson, Dallas, 115 cows, 775 lbs, $2.30; W. M. Morris, Lone Oak, 23 cows, 742 lbs, $2.10; J. W. Lynch, Lone Oak, 27 cows, 735 lbs, $2.20; Jones & Williams, Antelope, 35 cows, 704 lbs, $2.25; 46 steers, 951 lbs, $3.

Scaling & Tamblin sold for Jesse Reeves, Honey Grove, 18 cows, 755 lbs, $2; Sparks Bros, Sulphur Springs, 49 cows, 746 lbs, $2.20; Webb & Houston, Bellevue, 20 steers, 903 lbs, $3.15; 18, 825 lbs, $2.25; C. M. Bivens, Terrell, 20 steers, 1037 lbs, $2.90; W. S. & J. B. Ikard, Henrietta, 20 cows, 909 lbs, $2.10; 14 cows, 905 lbs, $1.80; Sid Williams, Terrell, 45 cows, 785 lbs, $2; Hughes & Rothwell, Coleman City, 44 steers, 827 lbs, $2.50; 65 steers, 819 lbs, $2.40; Burch & Hicks, Henrietta, 24 cows, 816 lbs, $2.25; A. McElroy, Tioga, 26 steers, 810 lbs, $2.25; A. H. Stinnett, Tioga, 12 cows, 735 lbs, $2.10; 24 calves at $9 each; Burton & West, Sweetwater, 25 cows, 780 lbs, $2; A. G. & W. M. Gunter, Gainesville, 44 hogs, 298 lbs, $5.20.

Hunter, Evans & Co. sold for W. J. Good, Quanah, 49 steers, 926 lbs, $2.75; 18 steers, 1106 lbs, $2.75; J. C. Good, Beeville, 63 calves, $6.50 each; W. J. Runge, Tioga, 21 steers, 892 lbs, $2.45; W. P. Gamble, Gatesville, 45 cows, 688 lbs, $2.05; C. B. Marshall & Son, Scyene, 23 steers, 959 lbs, $3; L. C. Wright, Hillsboro, 47 cows, 796 lbs, $2.25.

The sheep market continues uninteresting. The run of sheep is comparatively light and not of the best quality. Fair to fancy muttons are in active demand from all classes of buyers, but common and thin muttons are dull of disposal at very low prices. Good fat Texans of 90 lbs, would command from $3@3.50 per 100 lbs. Thin sheep, $1.25@1.50 per 100 lbs. These should be kept at home.

Hunter, Evans & Co. sold for J. Runge, Galveston, 1078 fat sheep of 88 lbs, $3.35 per 100 lbs.

The wool market had a boom the past week and prices have advanced from 2@3c per lb. The demand quite active from both speculators and manufacturers. Sales were quite large and more could have been sold had it been offered. Texas wool sold in extremes from 12@26c per lb, with bulk at and around 19@22c per lb.

The Texas horse market dull. Season over and only a few arrivals. Some go through and some are sold here. No quotations can be given.

RATTLER.

The St. Louis Meeting.

The call for the St. Louis meeting was to cattle raisers, cattle feeders and to butchers, and the purpose first to devise means to restore competitive markets and second to raise American meat products above the suspicion of disease. The cattlemen were desirous that both ends should be gained and the butchers hoped to do away with the unwavering dominion of the so-called Big Four. The butchers believed that they could originate and increase a sentiment in favor of state inspection being established in all the states so that cattle sold in New York should be killed in New York, and the same in other states, and so as an incident to the sanitary measure the Chicago packing houses would lose the power of control and be no more powerful than any ordinary butcher with moderate means.

The result of the meeting so far as Associated press report goes is that a very strong sentiment prevails in favor of strict live stock inspection, but the point in dispute is whether the inspection shall be by state or national authorities.

The following is the report of the first days' proceedings:

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 22.—The long deferred joint convention of the range association and butchers was held tonight in the exposition building. Colonel Thomas Armour, chairman of the joint committee, presided.

The report of the joint committee of the International Range association and the Butchers' National Protective association was read by H. M. Taylor of Denver. The report cites the dangers of the combination and concentration of the markets of the country in the preamble, while the resolutions favor a combined effort on the part of butchers and cattlemen to secure such legislation as will restore the old condition of the trade, so that instead of having only two markets for cattle in the country, there will be hundreds of points where brisk competition will ensue to the benefit of small dealers and consumers.

Colonel Charles James, president of the Butchers' National association, addressed the convention at length, reading the results of his investigations in various cities as to the workings of the dressed beef combine. In Boston he said meat that could be bought in New York for 94c per pound was selling for 124c. In St. Louis beef could be bought at 6 and 6 1/2c per pound. He explained this wide difference in price by asserting that the dressed beef men were at present engaged in wiping out the St. Louis butchers and small dealers, and when they had accomplished this they would advance prices from 25 to 50 per cent. He said the present convention or conference had accomplished all that had been expected. It was simply an entering wedge in the great work to be done in the future.

An address by C. C. Slaughter of Texas followed, after which Colonel James O. Broadhead of St. Louis read a paper on the constitutionality of the state inspection law. Louis A. Samuels of New York and Brewster Cameron of Arizona made brief addresses. C. A. Ousley, representing the Texas Farmers' alliance, read a paper on the growth of trusts, and A. W. Hilliard of the International Range association one on the meat question.

Secret conferences held places the butchers and range men in favor of the passage of laws providing for the inspection of cattle on hoof only at regular live stock yards, and the inspection of meat for export at the request of exporters.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 22.—While the joint convention of the range men and butchers was in session in the exposition building, a meeting of committees from the live stock exchanges of Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and Kansas City was held at the Southern hotel. They were reinforced by seceders from the convention, and adopted a set of resolutions setting forth their views. The preamble recites that whereas an inspection and approval of meat products is necessary to command the confidence of the consumer, and such inspection and approval should be made under authority free from local prejudices, and the interest of producers and consumers alike demand the best facilities for the marketing of live stock and products, therefore it is

Resolved, that we favor a national inspection law, providing that it shall be unlawful to transport from one state into another state or foreign country any beef, pork, mutton or veal to be sold for human food which has not been inspected alive at the slaughtering place by inspectors of the United States and found to be healthy.

The resolutions favor the appointment of practical stockmen as national inspectors and opposes local or state inspection laws which shall hinder free transportation and the marketing of meat products; that such laws would have a tendency to destroy competition, and would not command the confidence in foreign countries that national inspection would. A copy of the resolutions will be mailed to each United States senator and congressman.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS

Are by far the most commodious and best appointed in the Missouri Valley, with ample capacity for feeding, weighing and shipping Cattle, Hogs, Sheep, Horses and Mules. They are planked throughout, no yards are better watered, and in none is there a better system of drainage. The fact that

HIGHER PRICES ARE REALIZED HERE

Than in the East is due to the location at these yards of

with an aggregate daily capacity of 3300 cattle and 27,200 hogs, and the regular attendance of sharp, competitive buyers for the packing houses of Omaha, Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, New York and Boston.

All the sixteen roads running into Kansas City have direct connection with the yards, affording the best accommodation for stock coming from the great grazing grounds of all the Western states and territories, and also for stock destined for Eastern markets.

The business of the yards is done systematically and with the utmost promptness, so that there is no delay and no clashing, and stockmen have found here, and will continue to find, that they get all their stock is worth with the least possible delay
