ST. LOUIS MARKET LETTER.

EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL.,
March 25, 1890.

Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.

The market presented no new features the past week. The demand was large and for all grades above common, and even these found sale without much difficulty.

Corn-fed, fed, meal-fed and wintered Texans are coming forward in some numbers. The bulk of the run were fed in Kansas and the Territory. Prices paid in extremes ranged from $3@3.75, with the bulk of sales going at $3.15@3.40. Of course the $3.65@3.75 steers were choice ones of 1150 to 1250 lbs. All classes of buyers wanted fat cattle, and their demand exceeded the supply. The cry is for more cattle.

Choice native steers of 1300 to 1600 lbs and over are mighty scarce, and shippers and exporters can do but comparatively little business. Some of the Eastern shippers take the heavy Texas steers.

Southwest steers of 900 to 1200 lbs in fair supply, and buyers must depend on these for want of anything better. Prices for these range from $2.75 to $3.50 per 100 lbs.

Such stock as cows, heifers, yearlings, bulls, etc., sell well on account of limited receipts, and bring from $2 to $3.25 per 100 lbs, according to quality.

Texas hogs are coming forward quite freely, but the quality is deteriorating somewhat, for which shippers must be on the lookout, for the strong values now prevailing may not last long. Prices paid the past week ranged from $3.75 to $4.10 per 100 lbs for hogs of 170 to 220 lbs. All the shippers made money and do not care about parading their profits, so I am compelled to generalize only.

Mr. Geo. A. Scaling, son of Samuel Scaling, who is well known down in Texas as a pushing and enterprising stockman, has become associated in the live stock commission house of Scaling & Tamblin, and will make this point his stamping ground from this time on. George has hosts of Texas friends who will be glad to hear of his new venture.

The same old story to relate about the sheep trade. The supply was again small and but comparatively few Texas sheep were offered. Good fancy mutations in active demand at very strong prices. Fair to good Texans, $4@4.75 per 100 lbs. Common sheep are not wanted.

The wool market is slow, with prices about 10 per lb lower. Holders are letting go in order to be ready for the clip. Prices for Texas wools range from 11@21c per lb in extremes. RATTLER.

CHICAGO MARKET LETTER.

A lot of 499 native stock sheep, averaging 59 lbs, sold at $4.25. They were very thin.

The horse market is active and firm. There is a heavy supply of plain work stock coming on the market, and they are selling readily at rather low prices; but choice horses, whether heavy draft, saddlers or single drivers, carriage teams or coaches, are in moderate supply and selling readily at good prices. We quote: Broncos and plugs, $25@60; all purpose horses, sound, $75@125; streeters, fair to good, $110@125; saddlers, common to good, $90@150; saddlers, well-gaited and fine, $175@250; single drivers, $100@125; single drivers, fine, $140@225; carriage teams, good, $300@450; heavy draft, 1400 to 1600 lbs, plain, $110@150; heavy draft, extra, $160@225.

Some 1538-lb high grade Shorthorn steers sold at $5.35; the highest in several weeks.

The export demand for cattle is improving again. A. C. HALLIWELL.

EL PASO, TEX., March 19, 1890.

Editor Texas Live Stock Journal.

The great convention has come and gone, and is now one of the things of the past. As to the benefits or the good it has done, no one can say yet. It was, however, to say the least, a picnic to the hotel men of Fort Worth, and but for the fact that cattlemen never drink, the saloon men might have enjoyed a rich harvest.

Harmony and concert of action among cattle producers would, no doubt, add materially to their prosperity; but in their present condition it is difficult to get them to act in unison. These reunions and conventions ought not, if properly managed, to do any harm; and let us hope that much good may result from the one just closed.

My recent association with cattlemen from all sections of the country has fully confirmed, in my mind, the opinion heretofore given, that the cattle business is now on the eve of a prosperous season. This idea prevails among the best posted men from all parts of the country; to use a cow-boy expression, "You can smell it in the air." It is bound to come, in fact it is on us now, and is quietly being taken advantage of by our far-seeing dealers.

Of course it is difficult to obtain statistics, showing facts and figures, to show that the demand will far exceed the supply in the near future; and for this reason Col. Black's idea of a cattle exchange and bureau of general information is a good one, provided it can be carried out, and I see no reason why, with sufficient amount of capital, it should not be reduced to a system and made a success.

The heavy marketing of cows, calves and all kinds of mixed cattle that has been going on for the past few years, is enough to satisfy close observers that a change for the better must come soon. There is a general business principle governing the price of all products, which is this: When bottom has been reached there is but one way for prices to go, and that one way is up. Therefore there can be no stand-still or continual depression; and if bottom has now been reached and I am sure it has, we must, by all business rules and regulations, have better prices in the future.

There are quite a number a buyers through this section, but they are taking hold slowly. Kansas feeders seem to do most of the buying. There are quite a number of large herds that can be bought at $11 for two-year-olds and $15 for three-year-old steers. They are certainly very cheap, and those who have ranges in the North, or can provide facilities for maturing these steers, are certainly making great mistakes in not buying them now. It will be eight or ten years before they will have another such opportunity. Very truly,
GEO. B. LOVING.

A Demand for Organization.

PROGRESS RANCH, TEX.,
March 19, 1890.

Editor Texas Live Stock Journal:

Permit me to ask a few questions pertinent to the organization of the Wool Association of the state of Texas, so auspiciously launched at the convention last June in Galveston. At that time, much lamentation was indulged in with regard to the indifference of sheepmen to their own vital interests, and the failure of all previous efforts at organization was directly attributed to the indifference of wool growers to anything that did not materially affect the condition of their sheep or the state of their bank account, if such thing as a sheepman's bank account exists anywhere except in the imagination of these poor targets of patriotic political darts.

To get back to the convention, there was a large (measuring by the size of the heads at the time) and enthusiastic, (according to the quantity of beverage quaffed) attendance, and it was determined to turn over a new leaf and start fresh, which was probably done, but backwards. The business men of Galveston took a decided interest in the matter at that time, hence that place was selected as headquarters, and a majority of the executive officers selected there. Methinks there is somewhere an old adage about "building your house upon the sand," that should have been conspicuously displayed at this time. It was agreed to furnish a secretary whose duty it should be to put the organization into effective operation by communicating with all growers and securing their co-operation and membership, and to collect such data and information as would be of value; in fact they were going to put their shoulders to the wheel and push the old cart out of the deep rut into which it had sunken, and start it rattling along the high, level road of efficiency. Our necks have gotten crooked and stiff from applying our ears to the ground to catch the first echo of the rattle; but alas, not a sound has shattered the stillness that reigned before and since. An overpowering drowsiness seems to prevail, now and then disturbed by the plaintive bleat of some ewe lamb to remind that it requires more than the fostering care of Ben Harrison.

Will the time ever come when the sheepmen of Texas will be aroused from their lethargy and bend their united energy towards establishing a commercial and financial prestige commensurate with the importance of the industry in which they are struggling for a livelihood? Who is to blame if the sheepman away from home is eyed askance, and a business exchange with him looked upon as a hazardous enterprise? He is known to fame as one we hear much of, see little of, and care less for, whose home is everywhere except anywhere.

Organization, whilst it is not a cure-all, yet it is recognized as a wholesome application for the general debility of the wool trade. Then, instead of spasmodic and irregular applications, why not take it regularly as prescribed? It is only in this way that we can expect any beneficial results.

The nature of our occupation necessitates that we delegate the authority and application to the details of any organization we may have to especially selected parties. In doing so, however, care should be exercised to select such parties as are in accord and harmony with us, and who are willing to be active in our interest; in other words, we don't want figureheads, but figurers, and go-aheaders. The secretary should be not alone, antique, and ornamental, but should give as much of his time to the service as the service requires. Then each and every grower should give his genuine moral and financial support. To begin with, a representative should be appointed to visit each wool growing county in the state and establish a thorough county organization, and at the same time collect all the necessary data and information. This should be done at once, and the county organizations should select and send their representatives to the general convention, to be held in June or at a later day, when the whole should be embraced in a central organization and a charter secured. Unless this is done we had better not attempt to have any organization, for until it is done we will never have anything more than a farce.

Hoping that this matter will receive as much attention as it deserves, I remain,
Respectfully,

THE popular taste for better beef is increasing and butchers are now being forced to improve the quality or lose trade.

THERE are now not many ranges, large or small, in Southwest Texas that are not under fence, and the tendency is to subdivide those already fenced.

THE STOCK JOURNAL is the recognized authority on live stock values in Texas, simply because no points are spared or private interests intervene in giving all the facts attainable in live stock trades, whether on the ranch or at the large markets.

THE report of the agricultural department for January and February, 1890, shows an average decrease in price of beef cattle in the United States since some time last year of 2 per cent. while there was an increase in price of cows for the same period.

A RISE in the values of live stock is the only thing now needed to bring on the biggest boom all over Texas ever known to a state in the Union. Deep water and the establishment of refrigerators would go a long way towards bringing about that result.

THE consumption of San Antonio during 1889 was 16,906 heaves, 3835 calves, 3996 hogs, and 6075 sheep and goats, which shows a decided increase over previous years except in sheep and goats, in which there was a falling off of 2335, and in 1884 there were 11,452 consumed, or nearly double the number of 1889.

THE demand should be made of the Texas representatives in congress that they work for the harbor improvements of the Texas coast, as a condition of their continued political life, and that a harbor is needed right away, "where the deepest water can be had for the least money in the shortest time," in preference to any mere local interests.

IT is now a fixed conviction in the minds of practical rancheros that the days of big ranches as a paying investment have gone forever, no matter what may be the future of the stock industry.
Scrub stock is poor property, and the high grades, in order to be made profitable, must have better care, which is almost impossible to bestow upon large numbers. Also, by putting up feed the capacity of the range is largely increased. This condition of things means increased wealth to the community, and is therefore favored by every public spirited citizen. It is on the books, and must come, and very soon at that.

SHIPPERS in stable cars should mention on their way-bill how many feeds and unloading they wished, naming the stations. This would prevent many misunderstandings and overcharges.
Stock in stable cars are altogether under the control of the shippers, independent of any laws, and therefore the shipper can suit himself as to their handling.
Keep this in mind when you ship, and avoid much expense and annoyance.

THERE has been a call issued for a meeting of stockmen at Corpus Christi on April 30, with the view of the establishment of a refrigerator and looking to the deepening of Aransas Pass. This is an important matter affecting the entire stock interests, and the attendance should be in keeping with the magnitude of the interests at stake. Every head killed on the Texas coast and shipped direct to a foreign market keeps it from entering into competition with the remainder of American cattle.

THE sale of Learnmouth's sheep and their transfer from Mexico to Texas is a practical illustration of the benefits of protection to the sheep industry. The sheep could be run much cheaper in Mexico, but when it came to disposing of the wool it was found that no profit was left. Now they are on American soil, furnishing labor to American citizens, and paying taxes to an American government for the maintenance of American free institutions for the benefit of the American. The effect in this particular case is applicable in nearly every branch of industry having sharp foreign competition. The protection of American industry forces competitions to come among us and be of us.

TEXAS has 8,011,195 head of cattle worth $75,227,582, which is only $2,414,- 119 more than the value of the cattle of Iowa, the next state in value, although Iowa has only 3,900,049, or 105,549 head less than one-half of the number that Texas has. These dry figures teach the important lesson of the value of improvement in stock. At the average price of the Iowa stock Texas cattle would be worth $124,172,522, instead of $75,227,582, a discrepancy against us of $48,944,940. When the fact is taken into consideration that the cost is only a trifle greater to raise the good than the scrub stock, a proper idea can be formed of the great need of improvement in Texas of the grade of cattle.

THE STOCK JOURNAL notes with pleasure the efforts of the railroads at giving improved live stock transportation service. It has always contended that better service was in greater demand than any material reduction of the freight tariff. When the time in transit is reduced to its minimum, and stock put on the market in the best possible condition, a shipper can well pay for it, but it is when he has to pay a good figure and then gets poor service that he has a legitimate kick coming to him. There is less excuse for the care-

THE committee appointed by the Fort Worth interstate cattlemen's convention on the establishment of refrigerators in Texas, is on its rounds of inspection of the plants at Fort Worth, Columbus and Victoria. This establishment of refrigerators by resolution is becoming rather a rancid chestnut. If running refrigerators in Texas, or anywhere else, is not a paying investment, all the resolving in the world will not make it so. The STOCK JOURNAL believes that if run by practical men, on strict business principles, it will pay; but it also believes that the only way to run it on those principles is for men of sufficient capital to go into it for the purpose of making money, and if that class of men are not in charge it is useless to make the attempt. It is folly to hope to buy stock cheaper for a Texas refrigerator than it will bring in Chicago, and for some time even more must be paid for it, taking into account the difference in freight, for all of which the projectors must make calculations. Ranchmen will only learn by bitter experience to sell at home. Therefore, the item that a certain and sufficient capital had been enlisted by practical men to engage in the wholesale slaughter and refrigerating business, willing to go into the open market and take business chances, will be hailed with pleasure, and the STOCK JOURNAL will guarantee its share at educating ranchmen to the feeding of stock for an all around year supply. That is the best it can do in the premises.

San Antonio Horse Market.

There has been quite a revival of the market since the last report, although no specific cause can be given for it, as the Northern trade has not yet set in,

but the demand seems to be from all over the country, the better classes going first, as usual. Good work stock, whether horses or mules, in good condition find ready sale at fair figures, showing the practicability of handling the stock before put on the market.
Colts are yet slow sale, but will be in good demand inside of a couple of months, and a fair premium will be paid for unbranded colts, whether horses or mules. The retail trade is a little off just now, as cow-ponies are in little demand.

The shipments for the week aggregated 971 head, and mostly went east to Eastern cotton states.

HORNS AND HOOFS.

Roach & Mahon of Kinney county recently sold to Jerry Williams of Kansas City 316 steers for $20, under guarantee that they were 1000-lb cattle, and when weighed at their destination they averaged 999 pounds.

Recently Roach & Mahon sold 798 head of steers to Northern parties for $17 per head. They go to the Territory.

Greenwood & Sons of Val Verde county sold Jerry Williams of Kansas City about 600 head of one and two-year-old steers, to be matured on Mr. Williams' farm, for $6 and $9 per head.

Capt. Lee Hall shipped two car-loads of fine bulls to Mexico for the Cloete ranch and the Maloney ranch. They were bought in Northern Texas.

The best place in San Antonio to buy carriages, buggies, etc., is at Hicks' repository, West Nueva street. Rice's coil spring vehicles a specialty.

T. S. Vick, live stock agent of the Illinois Central, returned from Eagle Pass the latter part of last week, where he had been looking up business for his route. Largely through his efforts and a desire to correct past evils, the Southern Pacific has given the live stock service a thorough reorganization, and it is now in keeping with the excellence of their road and its train service. The regular running time of the Illinois Central from New Orleans to Chicago is only fifty-three hours, and now as this end of the route is alive to the importance of the trade, no more stock will have to be driven across the country to reach competing lines. It is to be hoped that in future live stock shippers will have no just cause for complaint on this route, and that the Southern Pacific may become as popular as it has been the contrary in times past. All the STOCK JOURNAL asks for is good live stock transportation service, as here is a great drain in the profits of the business.

Eagle Pass Times:—Two large herds of cattle, one of 2000 head belonging to Mr. Dillard Fant of Goliad, and the other of 4000 head belonging to Messrs. Stoddard & Blocker, passed the city this week on the trail to Colorado.

Some of the herds en route north that are passing over the Western trail are suffering somewhat from lack of water, and some losses are reported. The water holes are nearly all under fence, and as rain has not fallen the streams are pretty generally dry.

G. W. Blassingame and A. J. Adkins bought 7000 yearlings and two-year-olds in the country below the Texas-Mexican railroad, for which it is reported they paid $4.50 and $7.50 respectively.

R. W. Butler, representing Gregory, Cooley & Co., reports beef cattle getting ready to go to market from the lower country in large numbers.

Brown & Van Meter have one of the most successful horse ranches in Texas, situated in McMullen county. It contains about 16,000 acres, and they have over 1000 fine horses on it.

Alice items in Corpus Christi Caller:—A Mexican shipped five cars horses to Fort Worth, another shipped three cars of horses and mules to San Antonio. The inimitable Tisdall shipped one car-load of good saddle horses to Fort Worth, paying a fancy price for them here and spoiling the market for local buyers.

The country west of Uvalde is in need of rain. Natural water holes are dry, and grass is slow in starting. A good soaking down-pour would be very welcome just now.

Stock yards situated opposite the I. & G. N. railroad shipping pens in San Antonio, occupying 150x440 feet, covered pens, office, hydrant water, feed racks, hay barn, and all the accessories to a first-class business, with the good will, for sale at $12,000. Address Winter & Co., 206 Soledad street, San Antonio, Texas.

Hondo Quill:—Ed Kauffman has bought of Mr. John Merriman 37 head of his fine blooded cattle which he proposes putting on his ranch and improving his stock. The cattle purchased were all half and three-quarter breed Durham and was as pretty a bunch as man wants to put eyes on. The people of the Hondo country are fast getting in blooded cattle and are improving their stock. They have found that after they once get the start it does not cost any more to raise a $40 cow than it does to raise a $15 cow.

J. L. Brush, after a pleasant visit among old friends in this section, left for his home in Colorado on last Sunday. He is president of the Colorado Live Stock association, and is known as a progressive and enterprising stock raiser and business man.

Will H. Jennings shipped a train-load of beeves from Pearsall last Saturday, consigning them to the Chicago Commission Co.

Cotulla Ledger:—Andrew Armstrong shipped a train-load of the prettiest, sleekest four and five-year-old beef steers to the St. Louis market Wednesday last that we have seen leave the shipping pens here for a long time. He has several more train-loads just like them which will go to market soon.

Thos. Dewees has already sold several thousand acres of the ranch in Wilson county to small farmers and is ready to sell the greater part of 40,000 acres, recognizing the fact that large ranches are coming to an end in this portion of the state.

Wm. Votaw of Dimmit county, who bears the reputation in his section of having blue-ribbon grass beeves, is now engaged in marketing them.

B. L. Crouch of Frio county was in town Tuesday.

A. P. Rachal, now of Beeville, was shaking hands with his numerous friends in this city the first of the week.

The spring is coming on apace and soon it will be in order to record the breeding records of the several ranches. Southwest Texas has several that will show an annual increase of over 15,000.

Electric Belt Free.

To introduce it and obtain agents, the undersigned firm will give away a few of their $5 German Electric Belts, invented by Prof. Vander Weyde, Pres. of the New York Electrical Society (U. S. Pat. 257,647), a positive cure for Nervous Debility, Rheumatism, Loss of Power, etc. Address Electric Agency, P. O. Box 178, Brooklyn, N. Y. Write to them to-day.

THE WOOL SACK.

Every once in awhile you see an item that Mr. Blank has shipped some goats to Chicago as an experiment. This is no experiment, but for several years they have been going to that point and sold for one-half what muttons bring, but like the San Antonio butchers, the Chicago butchers sell these goats for mutton.

During the year 1889 there was an increase of 2 per cent. in the number of sheep of Texas. This is the first year for several past that the number has not decreased. And still you will find men who say that high tariff is detrimental to the sheep industry.

D. Little of Frio county is shearing off the spring clip, and it is safe to count on a broad smile on his face later on when he counts out proceeds.

Eagle Pass items in San Antonio Express:—E. H. Carl recently sold 5000 head of muttons to Messrs. Negley, Riddle & Co. at $1.20 per head, sheared.

Eagle Pass Guide:—The Van Riper brothers have just brought to town some 150 head of goats, which had been stolen from ranches in Mexico and smuggled over the river.

A BIG SALE

Of the Old Dawson, Word & Byler Ranch.

ON WEST-BOUND T. & P.,
March 26, 1890

Editor Texas Live Stock Journal:

I have just learned the particulars of a big cattle sale, which, if true, will prove an item of interest to stockmen generally. Mr. F. Cullen, a real estate agent of Dallas, has just returned from Cincinnati, and reports that he has consummated the sale of the old Dawson, Word & Byler herd of the Pecos river to capitalists of the above named city. The herd referred to numbers between thirty and forty thousand head. The prices reported by Mr. Cullen as having been paid for these cattle are as follows: For yearlings, $9; 2-year-old steers and heifers, $12; 3-year-old steers, $17; 4-year-old steers, $20; 3-year-old heifers, $16; cows from 4 to 8 years old, $14; cows over 8 years old, $9; bulls, all ages, $40; for 13 sections deeded land, leases, improvements, horses, range rights, etc., $50,000.

These cattle were owned by Philadelphia people and managed by Mr. James Kennedy of Dallas, who was also one of the largest shareholders. I hope, in the interest of the owners and for the good of the business, that future developments may substantiate Mr. Cullen's report. I am, however, of the opinion that it is too good to be true, and that it will turn out to be one of these by-deals that never materialize. The above, however, are the figures reported by Mr. Cullen, and asserted by him to be correct.

W. R. McEntyre of Dallas is on the train to-day, going to his ranch at the head of the Concho to superintend the delivery of 1000 cows, sold to parties in the Indian Territory. This sale was made at $10 per head.

E. J. Simpson, manager, of the Aztec Cattle company of Arizona, but who continues to make his home at Weatherford, returned from New York to-day. Mr. Simpson thinks the feeling toward the cattle business has materially improved in the East during the last few months.

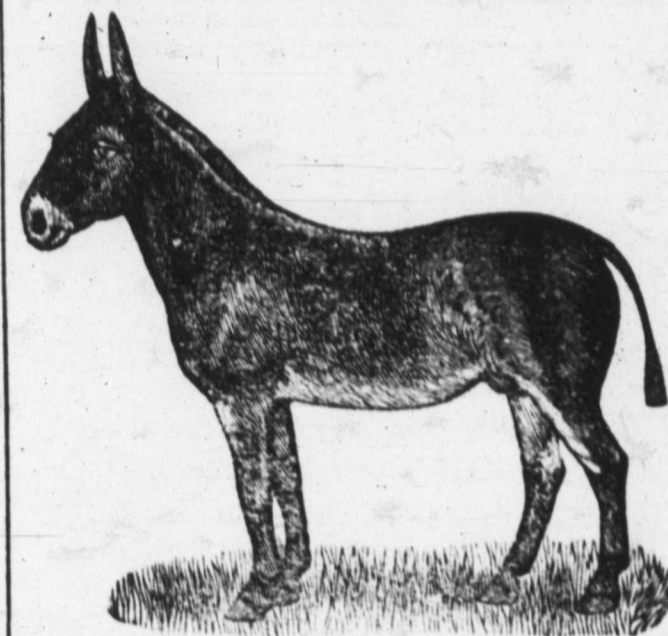

Mr. Richards, ranch manager for W. L. Crosby, who owns a large cattle ranch in Montana, has just purchased twelve to fifteen hundred 2-year-old steers of the Magnolia Cattle company. This herd is located about 50 miles northwest of Colorado City, and is a very fine lot of cattle. The price at which the sale was made is $12.50 per head; delivery to be made May 10th at Amarillo, Texas.

I traveled from Pecos to Colorado City Tuesday morning in company with John S. Harris of the last named place. Mr. Harris was returning from his cattle ranch on Seven Rivers in New Mexico. He reports cattle on the Pecos as being in very bad condition, and thinks the loss for the next few months from starvation will be very heavy.

All along the line, and especially from Abilene to Big Springs, cattle are very thin, and judging from the number that can be seen from the car window lying dead around the water holes, I conclude that the loss outside the pastures must be pretty heavy. The country between El Paso and the Pecos is also very dry and but little grass left. Unless favored with rain soon (which is hardly probable), the loss through the section referred to will be very heavy; in fact, the drouths, scarcity of water, short grass, etc., are doing a big work in the way of reducing the supply, and seems to be running in opposition to the "Big Four." The boom that is soon to follow will however be a balm to all the cattlemen's ailments, and will afford them a fine opportunity to retrieve their lost fortunes and to again come to the front. Very truly,

GEO. B. LOVING,
Of El Paso, Texas.

A Chapter on Hogs.

Hogs no longer sell at high prices simply because they are heavy, and it is evident that the day for 400 to 700-lb hogs has gone by. The Eastern trade now calls for hogs weighing from 160 to about 200 pounds. Baltimore takes the lightest hog; New York requires a hog just a little heavier, and Philadelphia is satisfied with hogs weighing a trifle over 200 pounds. Packers use hogs from 200 to 300 pounds, and if it so happens that the heavy weights are superior in all that constitutes a first-class hog, the packers are willing to pay for weight combined with quality. But heavy hogs, if not finely bred, incline to roughness, and sell lower than the light-weight hogs.

The point of interest to Texas hog raisers is that the light weight or 160-lb hog has sold, and probably will sell, almost as high in price as any hogs, and this class of hogs is certainly the easiest to raise, unless conditions are unfavorable to the purchase or rearing of young hogs, in which case the feeder may as well finish hogs on hand to heaviest weights consistent with profitable feeding.

The only requirement of the 160-lb hog is fatness. If fat it is a good shipper, and may go to any market in the country with fair prices realized as compared with the general range of values. Such hogs can be raised in five months. A good litter of pigs, with mother sow well cared for, and the pigs pushed from the start with liberal feeding, will do it, and such pigs (for pigs they are, although marketable) can be sold readily at good prices at home or shipped to other markets.

As quite a number of Texas hogs have sold at the St. Louis National Stock Yards during the last month, a few examples are furnished herewith, showing how Texas hogs have sold, and although some of the sales have been reported in the JOURNAL, a partial repetition will not injure our readers.

On Tuesday last the highest price for hogs at the market referred to was $4.12½ for some choice hogs of 202 lbs average, and on that day Texas hogs weighing 258 lbs went to packers at $4.07½, and 85 more of 183 lbs sold at $4.05 per 100. This day heavy 366-lb hogs sold at $4, and some hogs weighing close on 300 lbs sold at the same price. On Wednesday some 98-lb pigs sold at $3.50. These would have made good hogs, but in the section they were shipped from corn was exhausted. Seventy-nine hogs of 191 lbs sold at $4. These were large enough, but not well fattened. Thursday 84 Texas hogs of 148 lbs sold at $3.97½, while 61 Texas hogs of 212 lbs average and 75 Texas hogs of 265 lbs average sold at $4.10. On this day a fancy lot of hogs of 265 lbs, all smooth, uniform and apparently from the same litter of pigs, was picked from 5000 head, at $4.17½. On Friday 77 head of 167-lb Texas hogs sold at $4.05. These were of the weight suitable for the Eastern trade, and sold at the range of prices such hogs were selling for, and 65 223-lb hogs sold at the same price.

These sales prove, first, that Texas hogs of good quality sell well enough as compared with other hogs; second, that the weight of the hogs (after passing the pig limit), does not control the price; third, that the most profitable hog for Texans to raise is one which is capable of production in five or six months.

Investigation of this subject in all its bearings will be profitable to Texas farmers.

CASSIDY BROS. & CO. OF ST. LOUIS,

Opening a Branch House at Kansas City.

On April 1st Cassidy Bros. & Co., the well-known veteran commission firm at the St. Louis National Stock Yards, will open a branch house at the Kansas City Stock Yards, under the name or style of the

CASSIDY BROS. COMMISSION CO.

The Kansas City house will be under immediate supervision of Mr. Tom F. Timmons and T. B. Patton, members of the St. Louis house, who have assisted in giving the firm of Cassidy Bros. & Co. the high reputation it has obtained. The Kansas City house includes Mr. A. (Dick) Forsythe of Pierce City, Mo., a well-known ranchman of the Cherokee Strip. This step has been taken upon the solicitation of many friends, and is a necessity and consequence of the growing importance of the Kansas City live stock market.

At the same time the St. Louis house is increased and strengthened by the admission of Messrs. Keechler and Coddington into a partnership interest. Mr. A. L. Keechler is a cattle salesman of considerable ability, having received his education in a practical way under the supervision and instruction of the veterans of the firm. He is every way competent to handle his share of the business to the satisfaction of the patrons of the firm. Mr. Eugene S. Coddington has acted as one of the hog salesmen of the firm for several years, and promotion to a partnership interest is simply the recognition of faithful services, combined with great abilities.

Messrs. Ab Cassidy and W. L. Cassidy continue to superintend the St. Louis house. Mr. G. W. Doerr, also of the firm, continues as cashier, and the other forces remain unchanged.

The Kansas City house will at once take an important place in that market, and it is safe to predict that they will maintain in the Western market the high standard of integrity characteristic of the exclusive St. Louis house, and will give the same satisfaction to their patrons the parent firm has given for many years as the largest receivers of live stock at the National yards.

FORT WORTH.

General Range and Stock Notes.

A. S. Nicholson reports a good inquiry for steer cattle, most of the inquiries being from Montana, but says sales are non est, so far as he is concerned.

Winfield Scott of this city on Wednesday closed a trade by wire with W. R. Moore, who was then in Albany, for 1000 head of four-year-old steer cattle, at $18 per head. The cattle will be shipped to the Indian Territory from Shackelford county.

George E. Brown has been making some sales lately of the fine stallions he brought here from Aurora, Ill. The imported Cleveland Bay, "Darnley," he sold to Dr. Orr of Terrell. Wyley M. Fair and C. N. Brooks, Jr., of Hillsboro secured that beautiful three-year-old Cleveland Bay, "Rattler." Adolph Hern of Borlin bought the toppy three-year-old Cleveland Bay, Robert Adair, and W. R. Clifton of Waco bought a magnificent mahogany bay coacher.

In the matter of cattle receipts, business at the stock yards this week has been rather quiet, but mutton sheep and hogs have come in quite lively. On Wednesday six car-loads of sheep and one of hogs from San Angelo, billed to Kansas City, were fed, and on Thursday another car-load of mutton sheep came in, billed to the same place. There has been no rush in anything, but in both sheep and hogs business has shown material improvement.

Grass in this county appears to be distributed in spots. Where the prairies have been burned off the young shoots are growing rapidly, but in those sections still covered with the old grass the new seems backward in putting out. It is believed by some that this is caused by the severe spell of weather experienced here several weeks ago, which killed the young shoots that were then beginning to appear.

Fat hogs, light weights, medium or heavy, have been selling readily in this section this week at 3c, not only to butchers but to parties wanting them for shipment. A gentleman well posted as to the demand and supply of hogs in this part of Texas, claims that many more fat hogs could be sold in this county than are here to sell, and expresses surprise that farmers do not give more attention to this branch of industry, as there is certainly money in it.

Mutton sheep continue remarkably scarce in this market—in fact, none can be had by the butchers. There would be a ready market at good prices in Fort Worth if the sheep were only here to buy.

The wheat crop in this portion of the state is not doing as well as most people expected it would. The stalks, in many instances, have been killed, either by some kind of bug, or were so badly injured by the severe weather early in March that they are doing but little good.

Hon. J. L. Brush, president of the Colorado cattle growers' association, passed through the city Monday en route from San Antonio to Denver. While in South Texas he shipped thirteen cars of beef cattle to Chicago, "as fine beef," he said "as I ever saw shipped off the grass in any country." To a reporter, Mr. Brush stated that the cattle interests wherever he had been in Texas looked well. He believes the outlook in the cattle business is brightening, and looks for better prices in the near future. Mr. Brush has made arrangements to ship about 7000 head of Texas cattle over the Fort Worth and Denver road to Montana and Wyoming.

Attention is invited to the card of the Farmers' Manufacturing Co., Chicago, Ill., who make the "Champion" hay press, which appears in another column of this week's issue of the JOURNAL. The "Champion" continuous travel press is constructed with an automatic throw-back which withdraws the plunger should the rebound force of the material not be sufficient to throw it out, so that no time is lost waiting for some one to pull the plunger out by hand, as is often necessary with other makes of machines where the rebound force of the material is depended on to throw the plungers out. This is a feature contained in no other continuous traveling baling press, and one which is highly appreciated by anyone experienced in operating baling presses.

Mr. George H. Pearson, of Round Rock, Texas, is owner of the famous Cleveland bay horse Edgar, imported from England. He is said to be a fine horse, and all his colts show up first-class.

Coffin Bros., of Itaska, Hill county, were in the city during the week with blooded acclimated jacks for sale.

Spring lambs are doing well in North Texas, and will soon be ready for market.

Philip H. Hale, editor of the National Live Stock Reporter, published at the National stock yards, East St. Louis, in a recent issue of his paper says: "This market, in addition to all local butchers' demands from dressed beef and pork packing houses, has an excellent shipping demand. All eastern markets are represented by buyers of cattle, hogs and sheep. There is no better distributing point in existence. The market can dispose of 3,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs and 3,000 sheep daily and half the number Saturday. During the past week the receipts were 5,581 cattle, 22,815 hogs, 2,181 sheep. The discrepancy between demands and supplies amount to about 10,000 cattle, 32,000 hogs, 14,000 sheep. This is a subject for the producing interest to ponder over. Chicago and Kansas City are receiving more than those markets can handle and this market is not being one half supplied."

Work on the enlargement of the stock yards is progressing rapidly, and when the improvements now being made are completed, no yards in the southwest will afford better accommodations than those at Fort Worth.

Col. James A. Wilson, the popular and accommodating general agent of that popular railroad, the Chicago & Alton, has been doing some good work among cattlemen recently, and the results of it will make themselves known when the spring movement of beef cattle commences. Since the Alton made the first step towards the reduction of rates on cattle, the road has become more popular than ever with shippers.

Mr. Albert Hammer, of Rose Hill, Ill., offers for sale some very fine young Essex sows, registered Berkshire boars, and one imported Essex boar. His card will be found in our For Sale columns.

We desire to call the attention of our readers to the card of The Alexander-Rogers Co., live stock commission merchants, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ills. Their card will be found on the second page in this issue; any business entrusted to them will receive careful and prompt attention.

Mr. Albert Cook of Kansas City, Mo., is prepared to take from 10,000 to 12,000 steers, one-year-old and over, and care for them until matured. His card will be found in this week's issue on the second page.

Col. J. W. Burgess of this city offers for sale 50 head of Shorthorn high grade bulls, and also 50 head of high grade yearling heifers. His card appears in our For Sale columns.

Three hundred head of stock cattle are offered for sale in this week's issue of the JOURNAL by F. H. Holloway of Burnet, Texas. His card appears in our For Sale and Exchange columns.

Maj. Sam Hunt, general live stock agent of the M., K. & T., predicts a lively movement in cattle between now and May 1st, to the Indian Territory from points in Texas west of Fort Worth and from the southern part of the state. "Notwithstanding the reported shortage of cattle," he says, "I believe the shipment of beef cattle to market this year will be fully as large as it was last year. There will not be so many inferior animals marketed, but the aggregate will be fully up to the business of last year."

and from the southern part of the state. "Notwithstanding the reported shortage of cattle," he says, "I believe the shipment of beef cattle to market this year will be fully as large as it was last year. There will not be so many inferior animals marketed, but the aggregate will be fully up to the business of last year."

Tuesday last E. M. Daggett sold to J. G. Anderson of Childress one car-load of fat steers at 2½ cents.

Beggs & Hackett purchased from different parties in Parker county, and shipped to El Paso, three car-loads of fat hogs. They were sold at good prices to parties wanting them for Mexican markets.

Mr. T. T. D. Andrews, for the Home Land and Cattle company, has purchased the one and two-year-old steers belonging to George W. Littlefield, now on the Littlefield ranch in New Mexico. The price paid was $9 for the yearlings and $13 for the twos, the twos to be delivered on board cars at Clayton, and the yearlings at the company's ranch. The purchase embraces 5000 cattle, which are said to be above the average cattle of those ages.

The impression which prevails to the effect that there is no extra charge under any circumstances on cattle shipped in palace or stable cars is wrong. When cattle or live stock of any kind are shipped from one point to another in the state the additional 10 per cent. is charged; but when cattle are shipped from Texas points to points outside of the state the 10 per cent. additional is not charged. It is said, however, that the additional charge on local business will soon be taken off and all cattle shipments will be on the same footing.

Mr. A. F. Lacy of Des Moines, Iowa, was in the city during the week after Texas sheep. He wishes to purchase 15,000 head to feed and then ship to Northern markets. Mr. Lacy gives rather a discouraging account of cattle conditions in his section of the country, stating that during the past winter a large percentage of the cattle had been lost. He went from Fort Worth up the Denver into the Panhandle country.

Capt. W. A. Godair, a member of the well-known Chicago commission firm of Godair, Harding & Co., and who owns a large cattle ranch near San Angelo, was in the city during the week, and made arrangements to ship seventy car-loads of cattle to the Indian Territory next week. In conversation with a STOCK JOURNAL reporter he stated that rain was badly needed in his section, none having fallen since November 1st, and as a consequence the range was suffering and cattle were getting thin in flesh. A good rain would start grass to growing in a hurry and cattle would rapidly pick up.

Capt. W. D. Van Eaton, an extensive feeder of Kopperl, was in the city Wednesday.

Fendley & Benham of Decatur, Texas, offer for sale 400 head of Northwest Texas raised one and two-year-old steers. Their card will be found in the For Sale column.

Mart Ozee come in from Taylor county during the week, and reports that the stock in that section of the state is suffering from a shortage in the rainfall. Cattle, however, he said are looking remarkably well, and grass is tolerable good, but unless rain falls soon it will begin to fail.

Andrews & Graham, on Wednesday, sold 1200 head of the Lane steer cattle, located in Eastland county, to G. W. Bryson of Gainesville. The cattle were twos, threes and fours, the twos bringing $11 and the threes and fours $15. Delivery is to be immediate on the range in Eastland and Stephens counties.

J. A. Jamison of Azle, this county, shipped 63 head of beef steers to the Chicago market, last week, and sold Monday for $3.65.

Beggs & Hackett bought three car-loads of hogs from Tom, Dick and Harry in the Arlington section this week at 3 cents, and shipped, Wednesday, to St. Louis.

Col. J. W. Buster, of Dallas, was among the visitors in the city Thursday. He was attracted here by the fact of Sam Jones' engagement being on.

The local butcher market has been stiffer this week with prices slightly advanced. The following prices have ruled for butchers' stuff: Beef steers—2½ to 2¾c. Cows—2@2¼c. Sheep—4¼c. Hogs—2¾@3c. Calves—3c.

Capt. Tom. C. Hunt, of Baird, has been in the city during the week endeavoring to negotiate the sale of 1000 head of steer cattle.

E. L. Cunningham & Sons purchased this week the following butcher stock: Thirty-nine head of beef steers from David Boaz at 2¾c. Forty head of mutton sheep from parties in Bosque county, at 4¼c., delivered in Fort Worth. Fifteen head of muttons from A. J. Hodson at $2.60 per head, and ten head of hogs, averaging 240 pounds, at $2.80.

Col. R. E. Maddox will soon begin the work of erecting a magnificent barn with all modern improvements on his blooded stock farm, Maddoxia, near the city. The plans have been prepared by one of the best architects in the country.

Miller & Collis purchased of a Bosque county party one carload of mutton sheep at 4 1/4 cents delivered in Fort Worth.

The demand for hides in this market is fair, with a limited supply. Prices range for good stuff, from five to nine cents.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proved catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. I. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

The Packing House.

The plans for the packing house, which it proposed to establish at the stock yards have been received, but the specifications are still in the hands of Mr. Thomas, the architect, at Kansas City. They are expected every day, and as soon as they come bids for the construction of the building will be invited.

It was originally contemplated to couple the slaughter and refrigerating of beef with pork packing in this one establishment, but it has been concluded to abandon the beef feature, and let that business be looked after by the refrigerator company that has plants at Victoria, Columbus and Fort Worth.

The Refrigerators.

The committee appointed by the cattlemen's convention, consisting of Charles Goodnight, Ike T. Pryor, R. E. Maddox and H. B. Stoddard, have this week been examining the different refrigerating plants at Victoria, Fort Worth and Columbus, and are perfectly satisfied with them. It is said that a proposition has been made to the parties owning the plants and the contract with the English syndicate to supply so many carcasses of refrigerated beef annually, accept the different plants at a fair cash valuation, and pay for them one half cash, and the other half in stock in the new company that is to be formed by the cattlemen of Texas. This proposition is perfectly satisfactory to some, it is said, but others claim that something should be allowed for the contract with the English syndicate. The report of the committee will be made public in due time, and much of interest to the cattle industry of Texas will be contained in it. If the result of the committee's work will be the starting up of the refrigerators in Texas, there is no doubt that, in the minds of leading cattlemen of the state, the beef cattle business will receive a boost such as has not been experienced for several years.

GALVESTON.

Galveston Wool Market.

GALVESTON, TEX., }
March 26, 1890. }

Editor Texas Live Stock Journal.

The market is firm but quiet, with no prospects of any material change until after the spring clip begins to arrive. The demand for the past week has been light, which wool men attribute to the failure which took place in New York city recently, and doubtless this has had much to do with the sudden falling off of inquiries from Southern and Eastern manufacturers, who have for the past sixty days been liberal buyers in this market.

Quotations are unchanged, hence I repeat figures of the week previous:

Spring, twelve months fine, 15@18c; do. medium, 17@20c; six and eight months fine, 14@18c; do. medium, 16@20c; Mexican improved, 14@16c; do. carpet, 12@14c; sandy and burry, 3@8c less than quotations. Twelve months scoured, XX, 52@54c; do. X, 48@52c; do. No. 1, 45@47c; eight months scoured, XX, 50@52c; do. X, 47@49c; do. No. 1, 44@45c. Fall scoured, XX, 45@47c; do. X, 43@44c; do. No. 1, 40@42c.

The receipts of this port for to-day amount to 4630 lbs, and for the week ending to-day at 4 o'clock p. m. 11,500 lbs, while the receipts of the season show a grand total of 5,768,577 lbs, against 4,866,582 lbs, at this date for the year previous, which is a gain of 901,995 lbs.

Sales and shipments for the past seven days amount to 7521 lbs, and for the season 8,560,281 lbs, while the total at this time last year was 8,048,721 lbs, which is a gain in favor of this season of 511,560 lbs.

The stock on hand to-day amounts to 348,368 lbs, against 57,321 lbs the year previous at this present date. Of the above mentioned 50,000 lbs is scoured, which is the property of Messrs. Exline & Gruendler, proprietors of the Galveston wool scouring mill. These gentlemen informed me to-day that their mill is now in perfect order, and that they will "let her go Gallagher" just as soon as the spring shearing begins to arrive. They also report that they are shipping sacks to interior points every day, and in much larger lots than was ever shipped from this market any previous season.

An Eastern wool broker has been negotiating for the past two days with the above mentioned firm, by wire, for their entire stock of scoured wool, and the indications to-day are that the sale will be consummated before the end of the present week.

The foreman of the Texas wool scouring mill informed your correspondent to-day that Mr. J. A. Bryans, the superintendent and representative of the owners, C. G. Sargent's Sons of Boston, Mass., will arrive in the city about the first of next month, and that he will have steam raised in this mill also between the 15th and 20th of April. It is reported that the above firm will be large purchasers this season, and as it is well known that they have unlimited means, it is safe to calculate that they will contribute largely toward the building-up of the wool market of Galveston.

As stated in a previous letter, your correspondent obtains the correct quotations furnished you weekly from the committee of woolmen, who are appointed by the factors and buyers of the city for the purpose of revising quotations. By a comparison of the quotations in the JOURNAL with those of the Galveston News, it will be seen that there is a difference on all grades except Mexican improved and carpet of from one to three cents per pound. As the News takes its figures from the boards of the cotton exchange, which have not been corrected for the past two months, it would seem that the quotations of the JOURNAL are very much more reliable than those of the great morning daily of the Island City.

The reports received the past week from interior points by the wool firms of the city are all of an encouraging nature, which warrants the belief that the wool business of Galveston for the present year will far excel that of 1889.

The real estate boom continues to grow, and as a natural consequence is the all-absorbing topic of conversation with classes of business men, therefore until the spring clip begins to arrive I cannot hope to give you anything of much importance in the wool line.

SANTA FE ROUTE.

The Attention of Live Stock Shippers of Texas is Directed to the Santa Fe Route

For handling their cattle to the best advantage. The Union Stock Yards at Fort Worth, Texas, have lately been completed and have ample facilities for handling stock to the best interests of all concerned. The G. C. & Santa Fe R'y runs direct to these yards and the Santa Fe route for shipping of live stock from there to Kansas City and Chicago cannot be surpassed.

The last few years have demonstrated the fact the shippers cannot afford to go direct to Chicago without first trying to dispose of their stock in Kansas City.

Up to September 27th, 1889, the receipts of cattle and sheep in Kansas City stock yards were as follows:

Cattle, 801,585; increase over 1888, 140,295. Sheep, 256,838; increase over 1888, 12,561.

Consumed in Kansas City same period for 1889:

Cattle, 323,651; increase over same period in 1888, 71,578. Sheep, 136,882; increase over same period in 1888, 7,746.

The above figures show the importance of Kansas City as a market. The largest dressed beef establishments in the country are located there, and the Chicago dressed beef houses, and all the principal Eastern markets have representative buyers at these yards. These facts clearly demonstrate the many advantages the Kansas City market affords shippers.

The Santa Fe route from Kansas City to Chicago is 30 miles shorter than any competing line and their facilities for handling stock between those points cannot be equaled. Give us your shipments and be convinced.

Cattle Crookedness.

Cotulla Ledger.

During the past ten days several head of fat cattle with blotched brands have been picked up in and around Cotulla and are supposed to have been dropped out of a herd of crooked cattle that passed through the neighborhood. Some of the cattle have been recognized as belonging to a Mr. Sackville, who lives in Frio county and who has been notified concerning the stock. Mr. Barnhill, a member of the newly organized ranger company, had one of the beeves this week and no doubt the whole transaction will be given a thorough investigation by that company. Already has the effect of this company been felt along the frontier, and the stockmen who are able to do so should respond liberally toward maintaining the organization. This seems to be about the only remedy for stock thieving and if this company can be kept in the field six or eight months several leading thieves will wear striped garments and do the state good service in the near future.

LITTLE & BRODERICK,

Live Stock Commission Merchants, National Stock Yards, East St. Louis, Ills.

The STOCK JOURNAL desires to call the attention of its readers to the fact that Messrs. Little & Broderick, live stock commission merchants at National Stock Yards, East St. Louis, Ills., have entered the Texas field, for a share of the live stock business going to St. Louis.

The firm is composed of W. D. Little and W. J. Broderick, who have been doing business at the National yards, for the past sixteen years, and have given universal satisfaction to their patrons, and all business entrusted to their care has received prompt attention.

Their business, heretofore, has been confined mostly to native cattle, but they will hereafter go in for a portion of the Texas and Indian Territory trade.

They have an extensive knowledge of their business, and having just entered this field, they will naturally put forth their best efforts to please their customers.

A trial shipment will show shippers that they will get the top of the market, for cattle shipped to this firm.

They will have a representative in the Texas field, and their sales will appear in the TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL each week.

References are: The National Stock Yards Co., and the Stock Yards Bank, at East St. Louis, and to their customers throughout the country.

They expect to increase their business by proper efforts for this trade in all legitimate means, and the STOCK JOURNAL bespeaks for them a fair share of the Texas and Indian Territory trade.

McKenzie's lake is in the west end of the proposed pasture and the mouth of Contrary creek on South Llano will be near the east line. The effect of this pasture will be felt to the eastward and will compel the fencing of all the range from the Wentworth pasture to the Kerrville and Junction City road. Teddy's Round-Up.

IN THE SADDLE, March 25, 1890.

Dear Journal.—In me last epistle to the Texicans Oi wor jist out av an imaginary Indian foight on the head wathers av Clarecrake, caused boi the howlin' av a pack av wulves, which Oi tuk to be Indian yells. Es ye hev probably degisted that advinshur, Oi will prosade wid me narrative av the remaindher av the thrip.

We started aff at the first pape av daylight. Lavin' Pomp to bring up the rear ind av the axcurshun wid the commissary depaartmint, wid instruchshuns to make for Big Oisland, an' sthop an' cuk dinner for us, Oi placed meself at the head av me tin min (countin' meself wan av thim) and sthruke out to make me first round-up. We hed tuk six horses along for aiche hand, makin' sixty av the intoire bunch. Indade it wor a butiful soight to see meself at the head av this magnificent body av min, all av thim wid big whoite hats, leather breaches an' big sphurrs on the two haies av thim, an' the sixty horses throttin' along behoind us, nippin' the butiful grass, wid two av the byes dhrivin' thim afther the rist av us. Oi had tuk Yanky Bob (one av the min) into me confidence to give me instruchshuns (unbeknownst to the other byes) about how to prosade in makin' round-ups. Yanky Bob wor an ould axpariened hand at the bizness, an' knew parfictly well how to do the thing natly. Afther goin' about thrae moiles from camp, we sthruke a hoigh ridge av land clost to the suburbs av a marsh, an' found whor the cattle hed roosted the noight previously, an' lukin' to the westward we saw thim strung out in butiful phrofusion, fadin' on the rich succulent grass av the low land. Yanky Bob says to meself, now, this is the place to commence the round-up, an' Oi'll tell ye how yez hed betther worruk these cattle accordin' to the lay av thim. Ye see that other ridge about a moile to the west? Oi told him Oi sane it. Thin, sayes he agin, d'ye see that small bunch av thraes wid a bunch of horses fadin' clost to thim? Oi told him Oi did see that same. Thin, says Yanky Bob agin, shure thor is a grate big pond av wather thar an' it is the hurdin' ground fur this bunch av cattle. Now, says he, ye head the loine to the lift, an' Oi'll head the loine to the roight, an' the min will folly on the soides an' rear, an' kape the cattle cumin'. Ye will go through whor ye see that divoide atwixt the cattle on ye're soide, an' Oi'll do the same with my soide, an' we will go clane entoirly round an' beyant the hurdin' ground till the two av us mate aich other, an' thin all the cattle will be insoide av a circle, or "round-up," an' we can thin press thim together, which will be no trouble, es the cattle are thrained to it an' know whor to go. Now, says he, ye can giv' the min the order an' we will prosade to bizness. Oi toorned in me splindid saddhle, an' lukt back at the min, an' Oi cud see boi the luks av thim that they wor in a moighty gud humor, as though they wor thinkin' to thimselves, Phwat does that grane Oirishman know about cattle? Me proide wor up in arums in the twinklin' av an oye, an' thinks Oi to meself, thinks Oi, Oi'll disapphoint ye, me lad-diebucks, an' raisin' meself up to me full hought in me sthirrups, Oi fixed me rcing gray oye (Oi hev' but wan) upon thim, an' spakin' in a commanding tone av voice, Oi roared, "Min, remembher the Alimo!" The effict wor electricthrical. Wid loud cheers they sphrung up clost together. Oi hed showed to thim that Oi hed a dape insoight into Texas charhacter, an' they appreciated the remark as cumin' from a native av down-trodden Oirland, the same as Texas wor whin undher the tyrannical government av Mexico. "Now, min," says Oi, "folly ye're leadher, fear no danger, the battlle is not always to the sthrong, nor to grate numbers, but to the detarmined, wid roight on their soide. So f-o-r-w-a-r-d m-a-r-r-c-h, boi flank, rear an' frunt, surround those cattle an' wall thim in complately wid a livin' wall, ye min av valour." An' yez hed oughter sane the min wurruk thim. Their movements wor far ahed av the Dublin Loight Horse Infantry. Their flank an' rear attack on the enemy (the cattle) wor axecuted wid brilliancy, nateness an' dispatch. Meself an' Yanky Bob (the commandin' general an' his orderly) headed the flank an' frunt movemints, an' in about an hour, or sooner, perhaps, we met as the loines av the circle convarged to a point. We wor jist in time, es a bunch av cattle wor jist makin' fur that point to effect their escape, but we wor too quick fur thim, an' quickly changing frunt to rear we charged upon thim an' they bate a hearty retrate back to the hurding ground. Jist thin the other min chrowded all the others in frum flanks an' rear, an' we hed completed the round-up. Oi made a few remarks to the min, thankin' thim fur doing gud worruk. (This always kapes the min in a gud humour, an' costs nothin' to the boss). An' whoile we wor restin' our horses a bit before dividin', or cuttin' out, Yanky Bob ast me if Oi cud guess how minny cattle wor in the round-up, an' Oi told him Oi thort thor wor a million at laste, that their horns lukt thicker than ship masts in Dublin harbor. Yez hed oughter hur-rud the byes laff at me guess. An' whin Oi ast thim how minny thor wor they sayed thor wor about foive hundred. Well, whin we risted our horses a bit, we prosaded to get reddy to cut out our stock. This wor anither new axparience to me. We brought our drove av loose horses in about fifty yards av the hur-rud av cattle, so as to put our cut wid thim, an' lavin' wan av the min to moind thim, Oi scattered all the rist av the min (except Yanky Bob an' meself) around the hurrud to moind the suburbs av thim, while Yanky Bob an' meself prosaded in the intarior av the hurrud to cut out our stock. Y. Bob told me to sthay roight besoid him, as he knew the brands an' wud instruch me an' the byes wud not catch on to me graneness, so as we got into the hurrud Y. Bob sayes, aisy like, there is a cow an' calf av Sphur K, let's put thim out, so we got wan on wan soide, an' wan on wan soide av thim, an' drew thim to the aidge av the hurrud, an' we made our horses give a jump forward, an' shoved the cow and calf out towards the bunch av horses, an' Oi hollered to the byes, "Luk out for the Sphur K sthock an' kape thim out." Thin Y. Bob an' meself wint back into the interior agin, an' we found nixt a two-year-old yearlin' av the gintleman cow persuasion widout burn or cut on him. "Be jabers, thor is a foine maverhic," says Y. Bob, "Let's put him out." So we got afther him, an' he wor as unruly as Phelan Dooley's ould billy goat in Cork. We run him through an' through the hurrud toime an' toime agin an' foinally wan av the byes came in to help us an' we got him out, an' he wint wid a snort an' a sniff, but he wuddn't go towards the cut-off at all, but sthruke aff on his own responsibility. Y. Bob an' meself an' the ether fellar afther him. Oi raiched down an' got him boi the tail, and nixt toime Oi'll tell yez how Oi let go.

Yours in distress,
Z. TERRENCE WARD.

Kansas City Stock Yards.

Kansas City is the second largest cattle market in the United States. There were received at the Kansas City Stock Yards in 1889 1,220,343 cattle. Sold to feeders, 112,570; slaughtered, 474,885; sold to exporters, Eastern packers and speculators, 391,630, and forwarded, 241,258. This shows that 80 per cent. of the entire receipts were sold there. This market being the nearest to the Texas grazing grounds, it seems the proper place for her cattle to be marketed.

The Edmunds Inspection Bill.

A Bill providing for an inspection of meats for exportation, prohibiting the importation of adulterated articles of food or drink, and authorizing the president to make proclamation in certain cases, and for other purposes.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the secretary of the treasury may cause to be made a careful inspection of all salted pork and bacon intended for exportation, with a view to ascertain and determine whether the same is wholesome and sound for human food, and may authorize the proper officer of customs to give an official certificate, clearly stating the condition in which such pork and bacon is found; and no clearance shall be given to any vessels having on board salted pork or bacon found, on inspection, to be unwholesome for human food; but any pork or bacon may be exported to any foreign country without such inspection when it is proven to the satisfaction of the collector of customs that the same has been properly salted and packed more than sixty days prior to the date of the application for inspection or manifest for exportation; and such collector shall in that case certify to the fact that such meat was properly salted and packed more than sixty days before the date of such entry. One copy of any certificate issued by such collector or inspector shall be filed in the custom house where such inspection is made, another copy shall be attached to the invoice of each separate shipment of such meat, and a third copy shall be delivered to the consignor or shipper of such meat; and as evidence that packages of salt pork and bacon have been inspected in accordance with the provisions of this act, and found to be wholesome and sound for human food, and for the identification of the same, such marks, stamps, or other devices as the secretary of the treasury may by regulation prescribe, shall be affixed to each of such packages.

Sec. 2. That it shall be unlawful to import into the United States any adulterated or unwholesome food, or vinous, spirituous or malt liquors, adulterated or mixed with any poisonous or noxious chemical, drug or other ingredient injurious to health. Any person who shall knowingly import into the United States any such adulterated food or drink, knowing or having reasons to believe the same to be adulterated, being the owner or the agent of the owner, or the consignor, or consignee of the owner, or in privity with them, assisting in such unlawful act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to prosecution therefor in the district court of the United States for the district into which such property is imported; and on conviction such person shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $1000 for each separate shipment, and may be imprisoned by the court for a term not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 3. That any article designed for consumption as human food or drink, and any article of the classes or description mentioned in this act, which shall be imported into the United States contrary to its provisions, shall be forfeited to the United States and shall be proceeded against under the provisions of chapter eighteen of title thirteen of the Revised Statutes of the United States; and such imported property so declared forfeited may be destroyed or returned to the importer for exportation from the United States, after the payment of all costs and expenses, under such regulation as the secretary of the treasury may prescribe; and the secretary of the treasury may cause such imported articles to be inspected or examined in order to ascertain whether the same have been so unlawfully imported.

Sec. 4. That whenever the president is satisfied that there is good reason to believe that any importation is being made, or is about to be made, into the United States from any foreign country, of any article used for human food or drink that is adulterated to an extent dangerous to the health or welfare of the people of the United States, or any of them, he may issue his proclamation suspending the importation of such articles from such country for such period of time as he may think necessary to prevent such importation; and during such period it shall be unlawful to import into the United States from the countries designated in the proclamation of the president any of the articles the importation of which is so suspended.

Sec. 5. That whenever the president shall be satisfied that unjust discriminations are made by or under the authority of any foreign state against the importation to or sale in such foreign state of any product of the United States, he may direct that such products of such foreign state so discriminating against any product of the United States shall be excluded; and in such case he shall make proclamation of his direction in the premises, and therein name the time when such direction against importation shall take effect, and after such a date the importation of the articles named in such proclamation shall be unlawful. The president may at any time revoke, modify, terminate, or renew any such direction as, in his opinion, the public interest may require. The foregoing provisions of this and the next preceding section shall expire on the fourth day of March, A. D. 1892, and shall no longer be in force.

Sec. 6. That the importation of neat cattle, sheep, and other ruminants, and swine, which are diseased or infected with any disease, or which shall have been exposed to such infection within sixty days next before their exportation, is hereby prohibited; and any person who shall knowingly violate the foregoing provision shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, on conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding three years; and any vessel or vehicle used in such unlawful importation shall be forfeited to the United States.

Sec. 7. That the secretary of the treasury be, and is hereby, authorized, at the expense of the owner, to place and retain in quarantine all neat cattle, sheep, and other ruminants, and all swine, imported into the United States, at such ports as he may designate for such purpose, and under such conditions as he may by regulation prescribe, respectively, for the several classes of animals above described; and for this purpose he may have and maintain possession of all lands, buildings, animals, tools, fixtures, and appurtenances now in use for the quarantine of neat cattle, and hereafter purchase, construct, or rent, as may be necessary, and he may appoint veterinary surgeons, inspectors, officers, and employes by him deemed necessary to maintain such quarantine, and provide for the execution of the other provisions of this act.

Sec. 8. That the importation of all animals described in this act into any port in the United States, except such as may be approved by the secretary of the treasury as quarantine stations, is hereby prohibited; and the collector of the port where such animals are landed may cause to be slaughtered such of the animals named in this act as may be, under regulations prescribed by the secretary of the treasury, adjudged to be infected with any contagious disease, or to have been exposed to infection so as to be dangerous to other animals; and that the value of animals so slaughtered as being so exposed to infection but not infected may be ascertained by the agreement of the collector of such port and owners thereof, if practicable; otherwise, by the appraisal by two persons familiar with the character and value of such property, to be appointed by such collector, whose decision, if they agree, shall be final; otherwise, such collector shall decide between them, and his decision shall be final; and the amount of the value thus ascertained shall be paid to the owner thereof out of money in the treasury appropriated for the collection of customs; but no payment shall be made for any animal imported in violation of the provisions of this act. If any animals subject to quarantine according to the provisions of this act are brought into any port of the United States where no quarantine station is established the collector of such port shall require the same to be conveyed by the vessel on which they are imported or are found to the nearest quarantine station, at the expense of the owner.

Sec. 9. That whenever, in the opinion of the president, it shall be necessary for the protection of animals in the United States against infectious or contagious diseases, he may, by proclamation, suspend the importation of all or any class of animals for a limited time, and may change, modify, revoke, or renew such proclamation, as the public good may require; and during the time of such suspension the importation of any such animals shall be unlawful.

Sec. 10. That each collector of customs where any of such animals are landed shall cause careful inspection to be made by a suitable officer of all imported animals described in this act to ascertain whether such animals are infected with contagious diseases or have been exposed to infection so as to be dangerous to other animals, which shall then either be placed in quarantine or dealt with according to the regulations of the secretary of the treasury; and all food, litter, manure, clothing, utensils, and other appliances that have been so related to such animals on board ship as to be judged liable to convey infection shall be dealt with according to the regulations of the secretary of the treasury; and the collector of any port may cause inspection to be made of all animals described in this act intended for exportation, and provide for disinfection of all vessels engaged in the transportation thereof, and of all barges or other vessels used in the conveyance of such animals intended for export to the ocean steamer or other vessels, and of all attendants and their clothing, and of all head-ropes and other appliances used in such exportation, by such orders and regulations as the secretary of the treasury may prescribe; and if, upon such inspection, any such animals shall be adjudged under the regulations of the secretary of the treasury to be infected or to have been exposed to infection so as to be dangerous to other animals, they shall not be allowed to be placed upon any vessel for exportation; the expense of all the inspection and disinfection provided for in this section to be borne by the owners of the vessels on which such animals are exported.

Are by far the most commodious and best appointed in the Missouri Valley, with ample capacity for feeding, weighing and shipping cattle, hogs, sheep, horses and mules. They are planked throughout, no yards are better watered, and in none is there a better system of drainage. The fact that better prices are realized here than in the East is due to the location at these yards of eight packing houses, with an aggregate daily capacity of 3600 cattle and 37,200 hogs, and the regular attendance of sharp, competitive buyers for the packing houses of Omaha, Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, New York and Boston.

All the sixteen roads running into Kansas City have direct connection with the yards, affording the best accommodations for stock coming from the great grazing grounds of all the Western states and territories, and also for stock destined for Eastern markets.

The business of the yards is done systematically and with the utmost promptness, so there is no delay and no clashing, and stockmen find here and will continue to find that they get all their stock is worth, with the least possible delay.

Receipts for 1889 were 1,220,343 cattle, 2,073,910 hogs, 370,772 sheep and 34,563 horses and mules. Total number of cars, 83,972.

UNION STOCK YARDS,

FORT WORTH,

THE LIVE STOCK MARKET OF TEXAS.

The management of the Union Stock Yards Company of Fort Worth with pleasure announce to the stockmen of Texas that these yards are open for feeding purposes, and that all stock delivered at the yards will receive every care in unloading and reloading, be held in spacious, well drained pens, amply supplied with artesian water and the best of feed. Ample hotel facilities at the yards for stockmen.

As the yards are on the direct line of traffic to greater markets, stockmen can avail themselves of the ample facilities afforded at these yards without increase in expense or loss of time. The largest trains can be unloaded at once.

The Union Stock Yards Company of Fort Worth confidently rely upon the earnest co-operation of the stock raisers of Texas in the effort to build and operate a large home market in their interest. To do so, stockmen should insist that all stock passing through Fort Worth be unloaded and fed at these yards.

The Public Want Their seed fresh and true.
Would they not be most likely to obtain such by buying directly from the grower? I can buy seed at half what it costs me to raise it, but could not sleep sound should I warrant seed of this class. For the same reason I make special effort to procure seed stock directly from their originators. You will find in my new seed catalogue for 1890 (sent free) the usual extensive collection (with the prices of some kinds lower than last season) and the really new vegetables of good promise. You should be able to get from me, their introducer, good seed of Cory Corn, Miller Melon, Hubbard Squash, All Seasons and Deep Head Cabbages and many other valuable vegetables, which I have introduced.
