

Mr. Cottonspoon, 64, Considers Retirement

By Ray Martin
Joseph C. Cottonspoon will turn 65 next March. That means he will be eligible for his full Social Security benefits, including medicare.
But Joseph C. Cottonspoon is not certain that he wants to cash in his chips, so to speak. For one thing, he's not sure he could live on $250 a month and support himself and his wife and the visiting grandchildren in a manner to which they have become accustomed. (That's counting $125 a month from SS and $125 he earns.)
On the other hand, he might just as well retire now as wait until next March. Or should he? He didn't know the answer to those questions.
So last Wednesday he and Mrs. C. went to see Jim Latimer who is with the district Social Security office in Lubbock. Latimer treks to Muleshoe each Wednesday to answer questions of people like Mr. Cottonspoon, 64.

Social Security is a bit complicated. But Latimer is adept at making it lucid. In fact, many a puzzled Social Security inquirer has come away from a visit with Latimer far less puzzled than before. Latimer has a way of making even government bulletins seem simple.
So, yours truly sat in a corner while Cottonspoon, (soon to be 65) and Latimer visited. Mr. Cottonspoon having signed a waiver to permit use of his picture and his name and his interview for a news feature. (Without that signature, Cottonspoon's interview could never have been made public; rule A432480 SS Code says so.)
It might be explained as a forenote to the questions and answers that followed that Cottonspoon's case is typical. "We get lots of such inquiries every week," Latimer explained. Anyway, the interview went something like this:

Mr. Cottonspoon, 64: Pretty soon I'm going to be thinking about retiring and—well, I just thought I'd come over and talk to you about it and see what direction I want to go.
Mr. Latimer: May I see your Social Security Card?... yep, it says you were born in 1902, so you must be 64. What type of work have you been doing?
Mr. C.: Professional.
Mr. L.: You mean doctor, lawyer, teacher? Something like that?
Mr. C.: Yes, a professional man.
Mr. L.: Do you work for yourself or for somebody else?
Mr. C.: I've always worked for the other fellow. I'm still working in fact. But I'll be 65 next March and Mama and I have been talking about me retiring right now—say this autumn. How much would I lose if I file my claim now instead of waiting until next March?

Mr. L.: If you filed a claim and you choose to take an age 64 check instead of an age 65 check, then your monthly Social Security check would be 6 1/3 percent less than the monthly check you would receive if you wait until you are 65 to start.
Mr. C.: Then how much will I draw?
Mr. L.: Let's see. You were born in 1902 and we would have to use 11 of your best Retire Now... or Later?

Joseph Cottonspoon has been toying with the idea of retiring soon, so this past week he and the Missus visited Jim Latimer of the Social Security office here and made a few inquiries. Here Latimer answers a question from Mrs. Cottonspoon who is beyond the range of the camera. (Journal Photo).

Irked by Textbook, Old Chap? Protest

Name of C. E. Mason, representing 4-H clubs, was omitted from the outlines of Page 1 picture in Thursday's Journal. He was third from the left in a picture which showed County Judge Glen Williams proclaiming this week as "Farm Safety Week."

Thelma Gage and Ona Berry left Muleshoe Tuesday morning for Monahans where they attended a meeting Tuesday night, from there the women went to Odessa for a meeting and to Rankin for a meeting

So you don't like the textbook Junior will study in biology? Or maybe it's his history. Or his government textbook. Or what have you?
You don't like the book for various and sundry reasons. O.K., there's recourse for you. So says Muleshoe School Superintendent Neal Dillman who has issued a lengthy sheet on procedures for protesting textbook.

Of course, the matter has been given careful study by a whole flock of well-educated people before the book got adopted, but you still don't like it and you think it's a shame and a disgrace for the book to be one of the ones Junior will wag back and forth from school all next school year.

Here's how you go about it: Originating a Protest. Any citizen referred to below as "petitioner" desiring to enter a protest against a book or books which are offered for use in Texas Public Schools must declare by September 1, 1966, in writing, his intentions to do so to the Commissioner of Education.

Notification of a Protest. Upon receipt of a protest, the Commissioner will notify the State Textbook Committee and the publisher(s) involved.

Filing of the Protest. On or before September 10, 1966, the petitioner shall file three (3) typewritten and signed copies, on one side of 8 1/2 x 11 white paper, of his protest with the Commissioner of Education. This protest must set forth clearly and specifically by direct references to page and paragraph designations the material which he is protesting, together with a concise statement as to his reasons for so protesting. If a hearing before the State Textbook Committee is desired, a request for such a hearing should be included. Upon receipt of the above copies of the protest, the Commissioner of Education will cause the protest to be reproduced and will send copies to each member of the State Textbook Committee and to the publisher(s) affected.

Answer to the Protest. The publisher(s) may answer the protests by filing three(3) type-

Teachers Hired, Staff is Complete

Twelve new teachers hired during the past few weeks have brought the teacher roster up to "just about complete," Superintendent Neal Dillman said Saturday. With the opening of the autumn term only five weeks away, school officials are keeping their fingers crossed, hoping that the usual August last-minute resignations will not occur this year.

Farm Bureau Here Launches Two New Contests

Bailey County Farm Bureau has announced a new type contest for girls and young women between the ages of 17 and 30, and a new type contest for men. Mrs. Engeling, publicity chairman here, said Saturday. Actually the contest is two contests, she explained, "one permitting the girls to display their talents and the other their discussion ability, winner in each contest here to receive a $150 scholarship and a chance to compete in the district meet in Brownfield Aug. 8.

Mrs. Engeling said Jan Landers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Landers, Muleshoe, is the first entrant in the talent contest which, incidentally, will be held in the high school cafeteria Friday, Aug. 5 at 8 p.m. Entrants must be members of the Farm Bureau or from Farm Bureau families, and Dec. 1 is the age limit. The entrants also must be amateurs.
Winners at Brownfield will compete in the national contest

Said Superintendent Dillman: "We are glad to have all the vacancies filled this far ahead of time, and only hope we don't have late resignations. We have a full complement of teachers with the exception of a junior high girls' physical education teacher."
New teachers hired during the summer months, including six named at this past week's July meeting of the school board, include Larry Allan Harris, Nellie Rannals, William G. Gravitt, Jean Sultemier, Raymond Schraeder, Jean Moore, Mildred Turner, Edna Willoughby, Judith Hadlin and Pauline Griffin.

Larry Harris is the new junior high band director. He is a 1966 graduate of West Texas State University in Canyon, and has a BME degree in music. Harris is a native of Childress, and was graduated from Childress high school.

Muleshoe Team Takes Second LL Victory

Muleshoe All-Stars cleaned Morton All-Stars, 15-5 for the Mules second victory. Friday night in the Littlefield tournament, and Saturday were grinding for their third game in the meet - and the title - in a game with Plainview Americans.

A big second inning when 10 runs were scored highlighted Friday night's game. LeRoy Medlock was the winning pitcher, Lewis the losing hurler, Muleshoe. For the second night in a row, the pitcher got a homerun.
Plainview Americans beat Anton 4-0 after earlier cleaning up on Littlefield, 5-1.
Ninety-pound, 12-year-old Johnny Hayes was the hero of the Muleshoe-Plainview opening game in the Little League tournament in Littlefield Wednesday afternoon. The lad not only pitched a no-hit game, but managed to ring up a home run also when the Muleshoe team swamped Plainview Nationals 11-0.

The home run was Johnny's first home run for the summer. Only two men got on base.

Nuisance?

A letter to the Journal this past week hurled some pretty strong language at the above light (2nd and D) which calmly works around the clock, summer, winter, spring and autumn, come what may. (Journal Photo)

It's a Cotton-Pickin' Nuisance, Writer Says

At 5 o'clock in the morning there's a very unhappy young man sitting at the corner of Ave. D and Third, looking at the stars and getting madder every second.
You see he's sitting at that corner waiting for the red light to turn green. There are no other cars—just his. But he waits for the light to change its cycle. Frankly sometimes he admits he gets so disgusted that he sneaks on through on red, because there's a job he's got to do at the clinic in a few minutes. (You see he's a medical technician.)
So this past week he got so disgusted, he said, "that I just couldn't help sitting down and writing a letter to your newspaper."
The letter contained the information already listed. And it said quite a bit more: "Please, isn't there something that could be done during the summer months anyway to get rid of that cotton-pickin' light that is just about the biggest nuisance anybody ever saw?"
"I don't mind so much waiting for that darn thing to change in the winter time, even at 5 o'clock in the morning, because maybe a fully-functioning light has some reason at that corner during the school term."
"But to go green and amber and red and then all again during the summer at midnight, 2 a.m., 6 p.m. or what have you—well, that's silly."
"Why not take it down and put it somewhere it can at least serve a purpose? That thing is the silliest stupidest light I ever saw!"
And just in case you are curious about the signer, the writer added: "You can use my name on this letter if you like. You don't have to put that business about name withheld by request."
He signed it Sylvester Tangama.

Water Board Forecasts Questioned by Cities

Texas water Development Board has come in for much discussion (and cussing) this month since it released what it considers the water needs for Texas for the next half-century or so. Along with the forecasts, of course, went predictions of populations, as a basis for the water needs. And therein hangs the controversy.

Some of the towns—including Abilene and Hereford, to name a couple—are unhappy over the predictions. For that matter, Muleshoe is not too pleased with the prediction that it will have only 2000 by 2020, Abilene it might be pointed out, even filed a protest in Austin to the predictions for that city's growth; Abilene claims the figures are far, far, too low.
And some organizations are conducting their own studies, among them the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., which has appointed a committee to study the committee's report from TWDB.

The Texas Water Plan is being formulated by the Texas Water Commission and the Texas Water Development Board at the request of Governor John Connally. It is "a flexible proposal for the protection, conservation, development, redistribution and administration of water resources to meet water needs for all purposes throughout the state to the year 2020 and beyond."
A major portion of the plan as now laid out in the TWDB report is concerned with the impounding and redistribution of surplus surface waters in Texas.
But the High Plains and the rest of West Texas is specifically excluded from the re-

PRE-BROWNIE CAMP-Nine pre-Brownies enjoyed a day of camp Wednesday in which they made padded hangers which they are displaying here. Attending the camp were Cheryl Johnson, Tammie Bruns, Peggy Williams, Tanya Burton, Pattie Pena, Joyce Camp, Kim Small, Yvette Tanguma and Cathy Cockrell enjoyed a day of Brownie camp Wednesday afternoon. Due to the hot day, the Brownies enjoyed making their craft which was a padded hanger to hang their Brownie dresses next year when they become full-fledged Brownies. The girls, under the leadership of Ann Haynes, adult leader and assistant, Margaret Cockrell, along with their junior leader, Jan Cockrell, were taught the Brownie promise and were briefed on their uniforms for the coming year. They were also taught several Brownie songs. They also enjoyed Brownie and Girl Scout games. Taking full advantage of the out-of-door life, they carried a sack lunch and were served milk. It seemed to be a very successful day for the group although the heat seemed somewhat harder on the adults than the girls. (JP)

KOPS Entertain At TOPS Meet

Nineteen members answered roll call Thursday night at the TOPS club meeting held in the Bailey County Electric Co-op at 7:30 p.m. Two visitors were present; Mrs. George Crain, and Clarence Clayton. Mrs. Clayton joined the club. Loranette Mason, group leader, was in charge of the pledge and fellowship song, which is a regular opening ceremony for the group. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved before Clara Langford's name was read as claiming the title of "queen for the week". Her courtesses were Evelyn Harris and Lucille Harp. Gainers for the week entertained with special music direct from the pig pen. Each member is asked to bring a gift for the white elephant box and also to remember the gifts for the birthday box. Girtie Kirk had a birthday during the past week, thus entitling her to a gift from the birthday box and the group sang "happy birthday" to her. Myrtle Wells, recreation chairman, was in charge of the program. KOPS had charge of presenting a skit and telling how they had lost weight and been able to "keep off pounds sensibly." Members presented the skit were Evelyn Johnson, Zora Mae Bellier, Mae Province and Jewell Feeler. The goodnight song was observed before the group dismissed to meet Thursday night in the community room of the Bailey County Electric Co-op.

DON'T GAMBLE WITH YOUR LIVELIHOOD OR LIFE

KEEP IT SAFE

A Safe Farm Is A Productive Farm--Check It!

FOLLOW THESE SIX SAFETY SUGGESTIONS

1. Keep all equipment in good repair--know and use the safety rules in operating machinery on the farm and highways.
2. Eliminate all fire hazards around your farm and be aware of fire dangers at all times. Don't smoke in barns.
3. Be careful around water holes, wells and lakes. Learn how to swim and never go in water alone.
4. Treat animals with caution--always speak to an animal as it is being approached. A frightened animal can be deadly.
5. Many accidents can be eliminated by keeping your farm clean and neat. Keep buildings in sound condition, too.
6. Learn the methods of first aid--keep a kit handy, and always apply first aid promptly when an accident occurs.

4-H's Prepare For Dress Revue

Two members of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club have been meeting this past week to work on their dresses for the 4-H Dress Revue. Renee Nickels and Sandra Haley have met with their leader, Glenda Haley in her home to prepare for Bailey County's Dress Revue to be held Thursday in the Muleshoe High School Auditorium. Both girls have made a fashionable dropped waist shift. One dress has a gathered skirt and the other has a pleated skirt. Final clothing meeting was held Friday when the girls completed the clothing records which are to be judged also.

Something bright is afoot this summer. It's colorful cotton sneakers, available in a wide range of fabrics matched to sportswear styles. To clean sneakers, use a scrub brush dipped in detergent and water, then in dry baking soda. To dry sneakers without puckers, stretch them on shoe trees. Give old solid-color curtains a distinctive new look by trimming them from top to bottom with rows of cotton curtain fringe. Choose fringe in a gay coordinated color and sew it on in equally spaced rows, as close to together as you like.

Sorghum Growers At Record High,

Grain Sorghum Producers Association, serving the southwest's biggest crop (acreage-wise) now also has a record enrollment, directors tell at their recent meeting in Amarillo. Operating budget also climbed to a new record.

The organization, to which scores of Bailey county farmers belong, has made much progress in its research and market development programs. The directors also were told that grain sorghum has not reached a record consumption, and the output is expected to reach 742 million bushels at home and abroad for this marketing year ending Sept. 30. Sam Attebury of Attebury Elevators in Amarillo reported to GSPA, who named him to a U.S. Feed Grains Council assignment to India to study grain sorghum distribution and handling. Attebury pointed out that 1,750,000 tons or about $70 million worth of grain sorghum had either been shipped or committed to India this year and that the need for it as food certainly would continue for some time.

years to figure your monthly benefit rate. You say that you made the maximum taxable amount ($4800 a year), so we would use 1965 back through 1955 in figuring your Social Security payments...

Mr. C: There's something I should tell you: There were a couple of years during the last 11 when I worked for myself. I lost money, but just the same, I worked for myself, and I didn't pay Social Security. What would we do in that case...

Mr. L: Then we would have to use two other years to replace those two self-employed years. Now let's figure it again... Well, I believe if you retire now--six months ahead of your 65th birthday, you would draw about $7 less per month than you would receive at 65...

Mr. C: And how much can I earn besides my $125 or so that I will get from Social Security?
Mr. L: You can make $125 a month or $1500 a year in addition to your Social Security payments. Now there's one thing that many people don't know...

Mr. C: If that's true then I can make only $250 a month all together--or $3000 per year--figuring my Social Security and the $125 a month additional I'm allowed to draw?
Mr. L: That's correct.

Mr. C: Then how can I make more money? Wife and I can't live on $250 a month. Would I do better if I did outside selling along with my Social Security?

Mr. L: Nope. You still can earn only $1500 a year, regardless of what type of work you do--commission, salary or whatnot.
Mr. C: But I have friends who draw Social Security and earn more than $1500 a year in addition. How can they do that and stay within the law?

Mr. L: Simple. They have earnings from investments, rents, leases, royalties or...

distribution plan. Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says the plan, in effect, declares West Texas an "ineligible receiver" and allocates all surplus water to South Texas.

State Senator Joe Kilgore, chairman of the water board's Consulting Advisory Panel, has stated that the most urgent water requirement facing the state is an adequate surface water supply for irrigation on the High Plains and in the El Paso and Trans-Pecos areas.

That statement and the rest of the quote is contained word for word in the TWIB report. It continues: "There is not enough surface water in the rest of Texas, excess to foreseeable requirements, to provide for the present level of water use in these West Texas areas..."

The report goes on to say that there is no hope water could be made available to Texas from such sources in less than 30 years...

G. H. Nelson, Chairman of the Water for the Future Committee of the West Texas Water Institute, says that West Texas is not getting a fair shake under the plan.

It makes no allowance for the fact that there is no hope water could be made available to Texas from such sources in less than 30 years...

Mr. C: Well, this has been most interesting. Now I get to decide whether I want to retire ahead of time or whether I want to wait until next March and retire then, or whether I just want to forget the whole business and go right on working at my present salary.

Mr. L: Yes, that's the way it is. And while you are thinking about retiring, you may want to do something toward locating a part-time job for that additional $1500 in earnings.

Mr. C: Think I'd better do something that brings me a little more than I make now. Mr. L: That, my friend, would be a good idea.

Those interested in entering either contest should secure information and enrollment blanks at the Farm Bureau office here, 1612 W. American. Deadline is 5 p.m. Aug. 4.

Appeal to the State Board of Education. Appeal from the decision of the Commissioner of Education to the State Board of Education must be filed no later than November 9, 1966.

Sixty-four Texas school districts have received letters from the federal Office of Education warning of slowness in faculty integration, reports Leon R. Graham, assistant state education commissioner.

Graham said 33 other districts around the state were notified that they had violated federal law by failing to submit plans for integrating teachers.

He said the Office of Education expects districts to employ at least one Negro teacher for each school which was previously all-white and at least one white teacher for each previously all-Negro school.

No federal funds will be given schools which fail to comply with the regulations of the Office of Education, Graham noted, and the federal government wants full-time teachers integrated, not part-timers or substitutes.

NEW EGG REPORT--Texas Department of Agriculture's Marketing Division begins publication of a new one-market egg price report July 19.

Formerly, quotations from six separate state egg market areas were used in reporting egg prices. "Advantage of the new policy," White said, "is that the single state-wide price quotation for each grade represents a true market for the state so the information is more useful to producers and buyers."

Decision by the Commissioner of Education, The Commissioner of Education shall render his decision on the appeals on November 3, 1966, San Marcus. She has been a substitute teacher here, and is a native of Johnson City. She was graduated from Johnson City high school.

Earlier Dillman had announced the resignations of Charlie Beaton who accepted a position in Oklahoma, and Mrs. Willie McAlphin, 7th grade reading teacher in Junior High.

Dillman said the board at its meeting this past week also approved the increasing of substitute teachers' pay from $10 to $12 per day.
