Three Perish In Plane Crash North of Farwell

WRECKAGE—The wreckage of a 150 Cessna is shown here after it nosed into the ground and burst into flames on the Leon Langford farm seven miles north of Farwell. Three were killed.

Joint funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Friday in the Farwell High School Auditorium for three residents of that area who were killed Wednesday evening when their light plane crashed near the home of one of the victims.

Killed in the firecrash were James Harold Norton, 28, pilot of the 1966 model 150 Cessna, his son, James Harold Norton, Jr., 8 and a young friend, Russell Darren Langford, The Cessna went down some 300 feet from the Texas - New Mexico line (Texas side) in a pasture only a few yards from the Leon Langford home, located seven miles north of Farwell, who were parents of the Langford youth.

Justice of the Peace J. R. Thornton pronounced the three dead at the scene. Officials at Clovis Municipal airport said the trio left the airport at 5:05 p.m. (MST) on a flight over the vicinity and were returning to the traffic pattern when the crash occurred at approximately 7 p.m.

Cause of the crash has not been determined. Federal Aviation Agency and Civil Aeronautics Board officials investigated the crash early Thursday, however, an airport spokesman said it would probably be several weeks before the results of the investigation would be released.

Other officials said the pilot may have buffed the Langford home to let Mrs. Langford and Mrs. Norton, who was visiting there know they were returning from the flight.

When the Cessna went down, Mrs. Langford and Al Burleson, an employee of the Langford farm, ran to the plane and pulled the victims from the wreckage just as it burst into flames. Mrs. Langford was treated for minor burns and released from Clovis Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Norton called State Patrolman Robert Shedd as soon as the plane crashed. Emergency vehicles were immediately dispatched to the crash site. Shedd reported that Mrs. Langford said her son was breathing when she arrived and she applied artificial respiration, but the attempt to save his was in vain. Farwell firemen also administered oxygen in an attempt to revive the boy.

The blaze was extinguished by burning the engine section and part of the wings.

Leon Langford was in Denver exhibiting cattle at a livestock exposition when the tragedy took place. He was notified there and returned home Wednesday night by plane.

Airport officials said Norton was issued his pilot's license about a week ago and the single engine plane belonged to a Clovis Flying Club of which Norton was a member.

Dean Eldridge of Clovis, who was piloting a plane just ahead of Norton's said he heard Norton ask over the radio for the wind velocity and which runway to land on.

Eldridge said Moreland Martin, another pilot flying in the area, said he saw the beacon light on Norton's plane glow down Claborn Funeral Home, Frona. Norton is survived by his to the ground, but thought that he had landed on a farm road. Officiating at services were the Rev. James T. Bass, pastor of the First Baptist Church. He will be assisted by Dr. Stanley Letcher of Central Christian Church, Clovis, and Elder Vernon Venable of Primitive Baptist Church, Olton.

Burial will be in Farwell Cemetery under direction of See CRASH Page 3

Arts Boosters Slate Meet

An important meeting of the Fine Arts Boosters of Muleshoe schools will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the choir room of the high school.

This meeting will more or less determine the outcome of the pending trip for the band and choir to attend the festival at Corpus Christi.

The Fine Arts Boosters paid lodging and registration fees for the All-Regional try-outs held in Lubbock Saturday. From among the group, 26 rated for the All-Regional Band and Choir last year. The Lubbock festival and concert will be held there next Saturday, January 22.

A tabulation of funds on hand will be the important factor of Monday night's meeting. Some See BOOSTERS Page 3

School Census Being Conducted

The annual "head count" of all school age students and pre-school youngsters began on January 1, 1967 and will continue until midnight, February 1, 1967.

All students between the ages of 6 and 17, inclusive, as of September 1, 1967, are required to be counted by the state. All pre-school children are being counted for use in future planning by the Muleshoe schools.

"It is very important that all school age children are registered because part of the schools income from the state is based on the per capita basis of the census," Superintendent Neal Dillman said. Census forms will be sent home with students from each of our schools for the parents signature. Please check the forms and see that all information is correct before signing. These forms will be sent to the parents on January 16 and must be returned to the school on the 20th of January.

If parents do not have school age children now, but will have a first grader next year, please pick up forms at the school Business office.

Economic Outlook For Cattle In 1967

Taking an economic outlook for cattle in 1967, the number of cattle and calves on farms January 1 were down probably 1 1/2 to 2 percent from the 106.6 million head at the same time last year.

More important, from a price standpoint in 1967, is that cow numbers were lower at the beginning of 1967 than at the beginning of 1966. As a result, the productive capacity of the herds will be reduced in 1967.

The 1966 calf crop was close to 900,000 head smaller than in 1965. A further reduction in the calf crop is likely this year.

Cattlemen as a whole are more optimistic now about future prices and are beginning to take steps to expand numbers. This situation brought about reduced calf and cow slaughter in 1966. Another decline in calf and cow slaughter is likely this year as the expansion in numbers develops. Beef and veal production likely will decline for the first time since 1958, except in 1962 when production was about equal to the year before.

The supply of feeder cattle will be smaller this year than a year earlier. However, the demand for feeder cattle will be strong in 1967, giving continued strength to feeder cattle prices.

Feeder and stocker cattle prices are expected to remain well above year-earlier levels during coming months, as interest in herd rebuilding increases and demand by cattle feeders continues strong.

Strength in fed cattle prices this year likely will be reflected in higher feeder cattle prices as was true throughout most of 1965-66.

Cattle feeders will have high costs in the first half of 1967, because feeder cattle will boost more and feed costs also will be higher.

The improved dairy situation is likely to slow the liquidation and increased slaughter that has been occurring in dairy herds. Beef cattle prices will receive less competition from the slaughter of dairy animals this year.

For 1967 as a whole, marketing of fed cattle are expected to be smaller than last year. However, marketing may be

Legislative Program Outlined

The Texas State Teachers Association of which Mrs. James Jennings is one of the committee members is aware of the critical areas requiring immediate attention, has recommended a legislative program for consideration by the 60th Legislature convening in January, 1967.

The State Board of Education has recommended to the Legislature and the Governor adjustments in teaching salaries for 1967. This recommendation and TSTA's salary proposal result from the increasing loss of experienced teachers and the alarming decrease in the number of college graduates fully qualified to teach, who do not accept teaching positions in Texas. Almost 11,000 teachers who finished the 1965-66 school year in May, 1966, did not report for duty in 1966. Almost 4,000 college graduates of the spring class of 1966 who had met all requirements to enter teaching did not accept teaching positions in Texas. Texas schools opened this year with 1,200 vacancies and 4,400 teachers who were regarded as seriously lacking in ability and qualifications to teach. Heaviest losses were among men teachers. The spiraling cost of living and higher salaries available in almost every other field were the major factors in this damaging loss of teaching talent.

To meet this present emergency and to make teaching more attractive so that the youth of this state will not be short-changed in their educational opportunities, the legislative program in this brochure is recommended to the 60th Legislature the following.

SALARY

1. To place Texas teachers at the national average in salary received and to provide an interim salary adjustment designed to recruit into teaching more college graduates and to hold in service experienced teachers, the following minimum salary is proposed; a) a beginning minimum salary of $5,004 for the bachelor degree teacher with increments to reach $6,957 at the top of the minimum schedule; b) a beginning salary of $5,310 for master degree teachers, scheduled to reach $7,065 on the minimum schedule.

This provides a salary increase ranging from $61 per month to $100 per month. In addition to this minimum schedule, local districts will continue to provide salary schedules above the minimum.

This program will cost 85 million dollars the first year, of which the State would pay 68 million and local districts.

Career Teachers Grants Made Available By PTA

Grants totaling $4,800 will be offered in 1967 by the Texas PTA in the association's continuing program to encourage summer study for career teachers, state president, Mrs. L. L. Ledger said today.

Twelve recipients each will receive a grant of $400 for study next summer in a college or university of the teacher's choice, Mrs. Ledger said. Recipients will agree to take a minimum of six semester hours, and study must be in a field to improve the applicants teaching proficiency. Recipients also will agree either to teach in Texas the following year or repay the amount of the grant.

In 1966, twelve $300 summer grants were sought by more than 200 applicants. The growth of the state PTA's endowment fund, principal source of funds for the program, has made possible an increase of $100 per grant this year.

"It is our hope that the teachers, administrators, and school boards of Texas will take this as tangible evidence of PTA's desire to cooperate for the benefit of Texas students," Mrs. Ledger continued. Any Texas teacher with at least three year's teaching experience in the state and who currently is teaching in a school with a local PTA unit in good standing with the Texas PTA is eligible for consideration. Previous grant recipients, as well as members of the immediate families of the PTA state Board of Managers, the State Office staff, and the Board of Trustees of the endowment fund are ineligible.

Teachers may obtain grant application blanks prior to March 1 by writing Scholarship See GRANTS Page 7

Lions Attend District Banquet in Littlefield

Members of the Muleshoe Lions Club attended the District 27-2 Mid Winter Convention and Golden Anniversary Celebration held in Littlefield high school Saturday.

Activities of the conference began at 3 p.m. and closed at 6:30 p.m.

The Golden Anniversary banquet, commemorating the 50th year of Lionism was held in the school cafeteria.

Club presidents, secretaries, public relations chairmen and membership chairmen, as well as other Lions and their wives from some 56 clubs attended.

Theo (Pete) Chaney, Lubbock, District Governor, presided over the session. A special feature was the attendance of Sharrell and Shirley Harris, district and state queens who live in Lubbock.

A style show was staged by Wares and Norma's, Littlefield, for the Lions' ladies, during the convention hours.

Welcome addresses for the convention was given by Mayor J. E. Chisolm and a summary of the first six months of the district was given by Chaney. Reports were given and discussion held on membership, club extensions, peace essay contests, international relations, Care Friendship project, public relations, Youth Exchange Program, district convention, international politics, membership and activities and Crippled Children's Camp.

Dr. Albert Perkins was master of ceremonies for the conference and Chic Conway, Littlefield, was master of ceremonies for the Golden Anniversary banquet.

Bernie Howell, Lubbock, and the Tri-O-Lins provided special music for the banquet.

This is the second time in four years Littlefield has had the honor of hosting the convention.

Littlefield also has the distinction of being the smallest town in the district to host such a meeting, Kip Cutshall, Littlefield Lions president stated.

Don A. Jennings was chairman of the convention in general.

Muleshoe Lions and wives attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hooten, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Don Harmon.

Continued construction on a 210,000 kilowatt generator at Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo, is part of Southwestern Public Service Company's $20,000,000 improvement program for 1967. Pictured is the installation of a 225,000 pound boiler drum for the new generating unit.

Electric Company Construction To Update Public Services

A 1967 construction program calling for the investment of a fourfold increase in the more than 20-million dollars amount of power available in the new electric facilities South Plains area. It will be announced today by A. R. Watson, president and general manager of Southwestern Public Service Company, which now delivers power into the area at a point south of Lubbock.

The new investment is being made, Watson said, in order that the electric company can continue to provide economical service for its customers at 45,000 square miles service area the same time that it assures with adequate power resources for future growth. Every "Electric service seems to be the best holiday gift we can give to our customers. The purchasing power of assured that adequate, economical electric service dollar amount power is one of the assets $1.07 - or 7 percent more - sets it can include in an investment 1952 value. On the other hand, the dollar you use to buy working in cooperation with other goods and services is all of the cities that we serve, worth just 77 cents today, when we have embarked upon a new you compare it with a 1952 area which we hope will add 10,000 dollars.

"There are two reasons for the increased value of the electric service dollar. Our customers are using more service, and the more they use the less Company anticipates a 1967 they pay for each unit. This gross peak load of 1,368,000 increased consumption, in turn, kilowatts and will have made it necessary for us to have a continuing program of construction. The new equipment being brought in, larger and more efficient helps us keep our service economical at the same time that we improve its dependability," Watson said. Southwestern Public Service Company has not had a general rate increase for electric service in more than 15 years. Since that time, a rate simplification program has been initiated to reduce the number of rate schedules in the commercial and industrial fields, resulting, generally, in lower costs for users.

The major item in the 1967 program is continued construction on a 210,000 kilowatt generating unit at the company's Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo. When the new unit goes into service in mid-1968 it will double the generating capability of the station.

"We design, engineer and supervise the construction of all of our generating stations. This 'do-it-yourself' approach assures our customers of the best possible plant at the lowest practical cost. Right now, for example, our costs per installed kilowatt of generating capacity run substantially below the nation-wide average for units of comparable size," Watson said. Watson also pointed out that the major additions made to the company's generating facilities in recent years are using less fuel and water for each unit of electricity produced, enabling the company to partially offset substantially increased costs for gas fuel and to conserve water resources.

Automation is also playing a major role in holding the price line. Some 70 percent of the company's total generating capability is now controlled by a computerized automatic dispatching system. The ADS constantly computes the cost of generating and transmitting the power so that the most economical means are utilized under all load conditions.

Additional power for the South Plains section of the company's service area will be provided by a 230,000 volt transmission line which will be built from Plant X, in Lamb County, to Tucco Station, in Hale County, Mrs. Allie Barbour, 621 W. Ave. C, left Muleshoe about 2 p.m. Friday to return home with her son, Billy Don to Farmington, N. M. She will be in Farmington approximately 2 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold King and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bliss returned home Wednesday afternoon from a business trip to Phoenix, Ariz. The group left Muleshoe early Sunday morning.

State Senator Jack Hightower, whose district includes Wichita County, drew a four-year term in Austin today. Due to re-districting, the thirty-one members of the Senate drew to see which ones would have a two-year term and which would serve four years. Hightower, who formerly served in the House of Representatives, was elected to the Senate in 1963.

17 million. The cost would increase slightly for the second year of the biennium to approximately 87 million dollars. This salary increase will raise the Texas classroom teaching salary to the national average.

Texas now ranks 33 of the 50 states in the nation in salary paid teachers. The last salary increase gave beginning teachers a $10 per month raise, and all teachers with few years of service received small increases. The cost of living is increasing at the rate of 3 percent per year, and wages across America are increasing at an average of 4 to 5 percent per year. Since Texas is already well below the average salary paid teachers, failure to make adjustments in 1967 would result in a severe compounding of the already serious shortage of qualified teachers. Teaching salaries in Texas which increased at the earliest possible date and that earliest possible date is 1967, during the regular session of the Texas Legislature. The education of 2,500,000 Texas children is in the balance.

The TSTA House of Delegates unanimously approved the elimination of the proposed biennial adjustment in teaching salaries to keep Texas teachers at or slightly above the national average. No legislation, therefore, will be proposed to achieve this objective. This insures that the committee of fifteen will have full leeway in making their recommendations on teaching salary. Few Texans will be satisfied to keep their teachers at the national average; the committee of fifteen School Program is to rank among the top states in the nation, its teaching salaries cannot be frozen to the national average.

RETIREMENT
An increase of $1.50 per month for each year a teacher has been retired will be requested. This would give a teacher retired for 10 years a $15 per month raise. No current appropriation is required to finance this program, and it will benefit more those retired teachers who need assistance most.

A constitutional amendment will be introduced to permit members of the Retirement System to make deposits on the actual salary they receive. No retroactive provisions are included (Not more than $8,400 may be used in establishing the ten-year average), and each member will pay increased deposits each year for the additional benefits he receives for that year. This amendment, with approval of Texas voters, will be effective in 1969. This plan has been approved by the retirement actuary.

SICK LEAVE
A minimum sick leave bill to provide five days per year cumulative to 30 days will again be presented to the 60th Legislature. This bill will provide a foundation for the sick leave programs of all school districts and will provide for some 15,000 teachers their first opportunity to have sick leave protection. The program will cost approximately 4 million dollars per year with the State paying 3.2 million of this cost.

PROFESSIONAL CONSULTATION
After a year's study, a special committee, composed of school board members, superintendents, and classroom teachers, has recommended the introduction of a bill to provide a legal basis for local boards to work with local professional associations in developing written policies to permit closer relations among teachers, administrator, and board. This bill is permissive and will in no way affect the power of local boards of education, but it will provide a legal basis for professional consultation policies. The language of the proposed bill is listed below:

Article 2780a, Consultation with Teachers
The Boards of Trustees of independent schools districts and their administrative personnel may consult with teachers with respect to educational policy and conditions of employment and may adopt reasonable rules, regulations, or agreements to provide for such consultation. This Article shall not limit or abate the power of said trustees to manage and govern said schools.

CONTINUING CONTRACT
Another special committee, composed of school board members, superintendents, and classroom teachers, has studied carefully the need for legislation to provide security for teachers and assistance to local boards in setting up a simple, contractual procedure for the employment and retention of teachers. The committee recommended the introduction of legislation on this subject and suggested the guidelines for such legislation. Their recommendation was approved by the TSTA House of Delegates, and a bill incorporating their recommendation will be introduced.

The bill will provide a probationary period for each Texas teacher; however, a local board of education may award to its experienced teachers a three-year contract to take them to a continuing contract in one step. After securing continuing contract status, the teacher can be dismissed as enumerated in the law for specific cause. Provision for hearings and appeals will be provided, and the teacher's responsibility in fulfilling contracts will be recognized.

The bill proposes to provide security for capable teachers and maintains the full powers of local boards of education. Adding as a profession and will contribute materially to the recruitment of young men and women into the teaching field.

PRACTICE TEACHING
In keeping with the recommendations of the State Board of Education and upon the unanimous approval of the TSTA House of Delegates, a bill will be introduced to provide a uniform program for administration to develop a plan for approval of local school districts that are selected to provide student teacher services. This program will cost 1.75 million dollars per year. In addition to the specific bills listed above, TSTA will study carefully all other bills introduced which relate to education. Those which are constructive will be given support, and those which appear to be destructive will be opposed. Information about major education bills will be provided through the "Legislative Bulletin" and other TSTA publications. To secure the enactment of provision of local school districts that are selected to provide student teacher services. This program will cost 1.75 million dollars per year. In addition to the specific bills listed above, TSTA will study carefully all other bills introduced which relate to education. this legislative program, which is designed to meet the immediate needs confronting public education, it will be necessary for every citizen interested in his schools to understand the program and give it his support.

Mrs. H. E. Reeder ...finishes banana cake

Banana Cake is Favorite of Mrs. H. E. Reeder

Mrs. H. E. Reeder, 122 W. Ave. H, puts the finishing touches to her Banana Cake and decides it must be about her favorite recipe.

Mrs. Reeder is the mother of 3 children: Eugene 10; Gwendlyn, 8; and Denise, 7. Her husband is employed at Ladd Pontiac. Mrs. Reeder and her family attend Trinity Baptist Church where she is reporter for the Homemakers Sunday School Class which she directs. She is a den mother for Cub Scouts also. Her hobbies are sewing, crocheting and embroidery.

Following is her recipe for Banana Cake:

1/4 cup butter
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1 cup mashed bananas
1 & 1/2 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda

1 teaspoon vanilla extract
METHOD
Cream butter, add sugar and cream until smooth and creamy. Add vanilla, add eggs and beat until well blended. Add bananas and mix well; sift together dry ingredients. Fold into first mixture. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 to 35 minutes.

ICING
Use powdered sugar with a mashed banana; add milk and butter to suit taste.

Homemaking Tips
FROM THE OFFICE OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT
Robin Taylor

Consider both sides of home ownership.

Is home ownership really for you? Hearty 60 percent of the families in Texas have voted "yes" by buying a home.

If you are seriously thinking about buying a new home, you have numerous reasons why home ownership would be advantageous to you and your family. But, have you stopped to consider the disadvantages? No sound decision is made by looking at only one side of the picture.

Among the drawbacks in owning a home is the fact that it will require a good bit of time and money for upkeep. If you would rather not use your loose change and spare time wielding a paint brush or hammer, perhaps you need to rent and let the landlord handle the maintenance. There is always the possibility that property values will go down, thus reducing your chance to "break even" on the investment if you decide to sell.

Research has pointed out numerous times that the family who owns its home is less mobile than the one who rents. The renter doesn't lose sleep worrying about what might move next door - undesirable neighbors or a filling station.

More families are realizing that as living requirements change from one stage to another, there is a strong need to adjust housing to meet the demands of the family. Since few houses are adequate for the beginning family with small children, the family with teenagers, and the same aging couple in later years. Families either must adjust their present housing or find more suitable living space. For the renter, it's often considerably easier to meet changing demands for living space.

The New Congress

The 90th Congress, off and running as of the 10th, will be one of major news potential. It represents a change in national sentiment from the Great Society—LBJ mandate 89th Congress.

It contains leaders who may well be on one or both party tickets in 1968—and the record it makes, the position certain members take, will be of vital importance in the Presidential campaign two years hence.

The most perplexing of the new Congress' tasks is that of fathoming what should be done about the war in Vietnam, where American boys are dying and where the American dollar and U. S. gold may also be losing out. In the end Congress will probably go along with the President's Vietnam recommendations and requests, but what some members think, say and discover in hearings on the subject will have a major influence on the thinking of the American voter.

The supreme test, as to the character of the 90th Congress, will be whether the conservatives and moderates arrest the forward march of the liberals and the Great Society program. Indications are that the fight will be close. The record of the 90th Congress will be judged on how far the Great Society's momentum was rolled back, or whether it was checked or carried still further.

From the mood of the electorate in November, there is certainly something of a mandate to slow the pace, as a minimum.

State of the Union

GUEST EDITORIAL—

THE STATE of the Union message has become an annual reflection of both the mood of the people and the mood of the presidency at that point in time.

If the President's approach for 1967 cannot be termed more conservative, there is no denying that it was less militantly liberal.

Some observers attribute this to the diminishing influence of the liberal advisers within the White House, and the increasing influence of more moderate elements.

But there is also a definite shift in the mood of the country, away from the better-skeeter rush toward the welfare state. Many of the revolutionary programs hurriedly stamped out in 1965 served primarily to prove to the American people that haste does indeed make waste, inflexible bureaucratic flats ignored the realities of specific situations and the rights of individual citizens.

The mood of the nation's citizens today is to stop, look and listen. The President, who has built his career in politics on a keen ability to divine the mood of voters, and respond to it, has done so now.

Instead of the emotional exhortations to revolution of previous years, he implied a readiness to put the nation's house in order.

In outlining the administration's blueprint for domestic policy, the President has clearly given the voters what he believes the majority of them want.

Sen. Yarborough is no doubt correct in assessing it, from the liberal side, as "a no-retreat speech." Yet there were phrases that no conservatives could fault.

The President's declaration that new government programs need leadership and administrative skills rather than more dollars echoed conservatives, who have also pointed out that solutions to the nation's problems cannot be forced or bought.

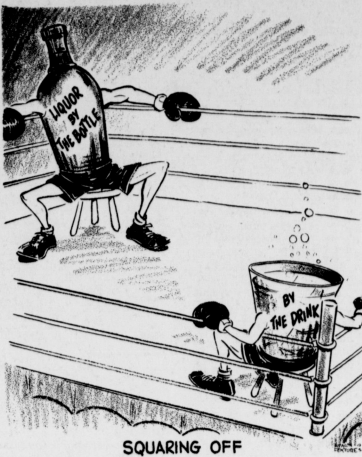

The President reaffirmed his dedication to equal rights for all. But he also implied that lawlessness in the name of civil rights will no longer be condoned. The country agrees.

"Our nation's laws must be respected," he declared, "Order must be maintained."

On the war in Vietnam, the President offered a grim but realistic prospect of the American people. "We will stand firm," he said and therefore we can expect "more cost, more loss and more agony, for the end is not yet."

Overall, the President appears to have taken a turn from the left, a turn requested by the voters and demanded by the nation. Conservatives hope it's a turn for the better.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

SHEPHERD NAMED PARK TRUSTEE—John Ben Sheppard has been appointed sole trustee and administrator of the LBJ Park Fund.

Fund consists of money donated by land across from the LBJ Ranch in Gillespie County.

The former attorney general for this post was made by the State Parks and Wildlife Commission following criticism of the Commission for its handling of the fund.

Simultaneously, the commission announced it is fencing 25 acres of the 247-acre park to contain deer, buffalo, turkey, longhorn steers and other native animals.

Park has been enlarged to include historic and scenic, as well as recreational objectives. Area will be open soon, commission Sheppard said.

Commission Chairman Will Odom of Austin said Sheppard was named to make the project function more smoothly and not because of earlier criticism. Sheppard said he will reveal the names of the donors to the fund, as requested by Governor Connally when all land acquisition is complete.

TOURISM EXHIBIT—A $12,000 exhibit has been prepared to demonstrate the scenic and recreational attractions of Texas. It will be displayed at major travel shows across the nation.

Exhibit includes a miniature waterfall, slides and a diorama depicting each of five areas of the state -- East Texas, the Hill Country, the Rio Grande Valley, the Gulf Coast and the Trans-Pecos/Far West Texas region.

Theme of the exhibit is "Texas... For a World of Difference."

FESTIVALS ON PARADE—Eight top tourists attractions will be represented in the inaugural parade for Governor Connally and Lieutenant Governor Smith here on January 17.

They are the Fiesta San Antonio; Austin's Aqua Festival; Bucaram's Days (Corpus Christi); Chorro Days (Brownsville); Washington's Birthday Celebration (Lorado); Sun

New Social Security Raise Nearly Sure

Whatever else Congress may or may not do in its 1967 session beginning today, it is a virtual cinch that it will expand and liberalize Social Security benefits. Since both political parties favor it, the only question is how and how much.

There is also the question of how the increased benefits are to be paid for, but that does not appear to worry anyone in Congress.

President Johnson favors an increase of at least 10 per cent in Social Security benefits. This, according to the calculations, would require the Social Security tax to be raised from 4.4 per cent to 4.6 per cent, or the taxable base to rise from $6,600 of annual earnings to $7,800.

The Republicans want to do it a little differently. They call for an 8 per cent across-the-board increase in benefits, with future automatic increases as the cost of living rises. They say, although it is not fully explained, that this can be done without an increase in Social Security taxes.

There also are proposals for expanding medicare. These range from eliminating all deductible features (the first $40 of hospital bills and the first $50 of doctors' bills) to having the program pay for eye glasses, hearing aids and even dental care.

The chances for some expansion of medicare are good, for once you get a thing like this going it is hard to find a place to stop. And pressure will be on the congressmen from oldsters who find that medicare at present does not take care of all their health problems.

But Congress may do one bit of retrenchment. The sentiment is strong, as it should be, for placing limits on federal participation in the new program for medical aid for welfare recipients and those classified as medically needy. New York, for example, put into effect such an extravagant program that federal authorities are agast at what it would cost if other states likewise.

Even the federal treasury can hardly stand the drain if 50 states are given an unlimited credit card.

Janca Named Local Coordinator

Bob Janca, Manager of Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, has been designated as the local coordinator for a cultural resources inventory to be taken in Muleshoe as a part of an official statewide survey now being conducted by the Texas Fine Arts Commission, according to John Ben Sheppard of Odessa, chairman of the newly created state agency.

"We are indeed grateful to Mr. Janca for undertaking the completion of our survey in Muleshoe," Sheppard said. "This is a unique undertaking in Texas; nothing of its kind has ever been attempted in the State of Texas before."

The purpose of the survey, Sheppard explained, is to determine both the quantity and quality of cultural activity both by organizations and individuals participating in the towns and communities in our state. "We plan not only to catalogue the various organizations active in the fine arts fields in Texas, but to identify individual artists, authors and craftsmen, and the location and identification of local public and private works of art and collections," Sheppard said.

When tabulated the results from the statewide survey will be used by the Commission to develop an over-all plan to utilize the cultural resources of the State to meet the needs of the greatest number of persons possible. The survey results will also permit the Commission to publish a "Who's Who" in the arts in Texas, a calendar of cultural activities and events, and a list of available talent, performing arts groups and exhibits, and to develop pilot projects that would assist in the development of the arts in Texas.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

RELEASE . . . NOT TO SAY THE LEAST

Dear Amy: A very dear friend of mine recently included in the press the engagement announcement of her son, a college grad. The announcement included her son's accomplishments and honors received at Law School. I know (and so do many others) that he did not achieve at school what she said he did. As a matter of fact, he was lucky he graduated at all. Now, I ask you, how can a mother release such erroneous statements to the press and get away with it? And how would an honorable young man (her son) permit his mother to publish these untruths? Explain, please.

The "bragging mother" is as commonplace as an ice cream cone. Perhaps her son did not know of her plans to exaggerate in the press. But now that the deed is done, it would look worse for her son to print a retraction. If I were you, I would ignore it. Sometimes it's far better to voice your disapproval in this manner. Who else will listen?

Julia Toth

Dear Amy: I want to write as well as you do. I have read many books from the library on how to write stories as a vocation. They haven't helped. I feel I have things to tell that may help people. However, I don't know how to fabricate a story professionally enough to be acceptable by a publisher. I'm my most severe critic.

Could you help to steer me or give me an example in writing a story — like a short story — from start to finish, and what's important in most of it to prepare a manuscript for submission to publishers to catch their interest. I can't afford a course in writing. Anything you can do to help me to do for me will be greatly appreciated. I enjoy your column immensely, also, your sisters. You are amazing girls and you do provide a helpful service. Who else will listen?

Dear Amy: Just finished reading your column and the letter from "Mrs. R.R." Like her, I also gave up my Catholic religion when I married. I now have a daughter. My husband and I had her dedicated by a Protestant minister, but this doesn't make her a Protestant. Having her dedicated will give her the privilege of choosing her own religion later in life and be baptized as such.

Maybe this is the solution "Mrs. R.R." is looking for.

Mrs. F.R.

Dear Amy: Our neighbor is continually borrowing from us and we can't put a stop to it. In the past we have spent more than twenty dollars supplying her with odd things, and she has even gone as far as borrowing wood from us last winter. We have put a halt to it in the past, but lately, she just comes back and back for more and more. Just what can we do?

Mr. and Mrs. Angry

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Angry: There is no one more annoying than a borrowing neighbor who doesn't know when to stop. Make up your mind once and for all to get rid of the itch by location and identification of local public and private works of art and collections," Sheppard said.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

The LBJ-Kennedy Feud—The Background—Story Not Yet Told—A Question of Timing—

Washington, D.C.—Repeats who covered the 1960 Presidential campaign and who knew both then Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and then Senator John F. Kennedy have long known that explosive attitudes and thoughts have been suppressed since the tragic assassination days of 1963 when Johnson became President.

It is ironic that the two men concerned shared a rather high opinion of each other. Johnson liked Kennedy and while he thought he knew more about government and how to get things done (perhaps rightly) and could achieve more as President, he nevertheless never developed an intense personal antipathy for John F. Kennedy.

Kennedy, unlike some of his close confederates, had a high opinion of Johnson's ability and his technique to get things done. He said on several occasions in 1960 that if he did not win the nomination he thought Johnson was the best qualified man to be President.

Yet the tragic trip to Dallas puts a strain—still—on the relationship and causes emotions among many on both sides. In the first place, Kennedy was going to the Vice President's state to patch up a war between Democratic factions that some thought Johnson should have been able to do himself. A number of his intimates had advised him not to go.

There is evidence that Johnson and Kennedy had words in Texas and that there was some strain involved in the early part of the trip, though this might be easily exaggerated.

After the assassination, the Kennedy entourage, including Mrs. Kennedy, were annoyed at the new President's quick assumption of power and control, when the main thought of Mrs. Kennedy was get back to Washington with the slain President's body.

Yet some of the Johnson entourage thought Mrs. Kennedy was too easily annoyed (as has been since) even in view of the tragic circumstances, and they feel the President did everything he could have been reasonably expected to do to console her at the time. Most of these inner thoughts have not yet been publicly expressed.

The feeling goes back to the 1960 nomination race. Then supporters of the two men discounted chances and assets of the other and fought it out and after Kennedy won and controlled the party Johnson, though having accepted second place on the ticket, was relegated to a relatively minor position of power, certainly below the perch upon which Bobby Kennedy sat.

And then the Attorney General apparently didn't grieve when government men went after Bobby Baker, who was one of the key Johnson men in the 1960 campaign.

Thus, when Johnson suddenly was catapulted from a relatively minor position of power to one of overwhelming power, including power over a family as proud and strong-willed as the Kennedys, the basis was laid for resentment and pain that will probably last longer than the human beings involved.

And a book or books—outlining yet-unwritten Johnson thoughts of the tragic 1963 days—will some day be published as a book to be published this year detailing the Kennedy family's impressions.

INSURANCE RATES CHANGING—7.3 per cent across-the-board increase in title insurance rates, the first jump since 1962, has been approved by the State Board of Insurance.

Increase, which became effective on January 1, is based on a formula that board actuaries worked out in 1962.

At the same time the Board approved a general statewide reduction of four per cent in crop-hail insurance rates.

Reduction was approved when the Board approved a filing by the Crop-Hail Actuarial Association of Chicago proposing rules, rates and forms for the 1967 growing season.

Miss Butler, Mr. Coile Exchange Vows in Tulia

Wedding vows were repeated between Catherine Lynn Butler and Lee V. Coile in double ring ceremonies at 7 p.m. Jan. 7 in the Central Church of Christ in Tulia, with Morgan Sturgess officiating.

Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Butler, Tulia, and Mr. and Mrs. Coile, Happy.

The couple exchanged vows before an archway decorated with emerald greenery and white satin bows, flanked by two pair of seven-branch candelabra with white tapers, also trimmed in emerald greenery and bows. White bows marked the bridal aisle.

Nuptial selections were provided by a choral group composed of James Sturgess, Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams, Jimmy McClendon, James Willett, Bumbye Harmon, Terry Carlisle and Pam Dutton.

The bride wore a gown in white brocade satin fashioned with square neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt of unpressed pleats was floor length. Her three tiered veil of illusion fell from a satin brocade bow, and the bride carried a cascade of white feathers and carnations centered with a green cymbidium orchid.

Carrying out tradition, the bride wore the wedding ring of her grandmother for something old; an old coin, minted in 1860 was borrowed from the bride's cousin. She wore a blue garter and a new opal necklace.

Mrs. Forest Newton, Tulia, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmatron was Mrs. Mike Gowen, Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Marilyn Coile, Happy, sister of the bridegroom and Dana Anderson, service and the three-tiered white cake with touches of green topped with bride and groom. Other houseparty members were Mrs. Hap Rogers, Mrs. Wayne Flint, Mrs. Alvin Cox, Mrs. Mike Powell, Mrs. Ralph Bates and Mrs. Ellen Ham. Mrs. Robert Herring, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests.

The bride chose a two-piece green tweed suit of wool knit with black patent shoes and bag, black kid gloves, and an orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet for traveling to Carlsbad, N. M. The couple are living in Happy.

Hill Services Held Friday

Funeral services for Granville R. Hill, 54, were held Friday at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Earl Hord, Walsenburg, Colo. officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Sam Sowder, Progress.

Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Park under direction of Singleton Funeral Home, Muleshoe. He died Wednesday at 2 p.m. in Green Memorial Hospital.

Hill lived in Littlefield for some 30 years prior to moving to Muleshoe in 1954. Survivors include his wife, Stella; one daughter, Mrs. Dale Fields of Littlefield; one son, Raymond E. Muleshoe; one sister, Mrs. Corine Clinton, Tahoka; and two brothers, Mitchell, Eldorado, Okla., and Lester Leveland.

'SWEET CHARITY' GOES HOLLYWOOD

NEW YORK (AP)—The Broadway musical "Sweet Charity," which was based on an Italian movie, is now to be the source of a Hollywood movie.

The stage show stars Gwen Verdon as a dance-hall hostess who always falls in love with the wrong man. In the original film, "Nights of Cabiria," the story took place in a circus. Universal Pictures has acquired screen rights to the adaptation which has a music score by Cy Coleman and Dorothy Fields.

AG Chemicals Used to Fight Hunger, Disease

COLLEGE STATION—Agricultural chemicals are being used to wage a two-pronged attack on the two oldest enemies of a man—hunger and disease.

Dr. Jack Price, leader for the agricultural chemicals program, Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service, says that armed with the weapons provided by the agricultural chemical industry, research institutes and government agencies, the United States has provided its citizens with the benefits of an agricultural economy that offers them the highest quality foods at a most reasonable cost.

Because of the efforts and cooperation among the nation's farmers, the governmental agencies improving and regulating agricultural products and the chemical manufacturing companies, the 190 million plus population of the U. S., is well fed, says Price.

With in the borders of the United States, hunger is being held in check, but in the rest of the world, it is another story, notes Price. According to the World Health Organization estimates, two-thirds of all the people in the world go to bed hungry every night, and about 10,000 die every day from starvation and malnutrition.

The agricultural chemical industry must meet this challenge of hunger, says Price. Outstanding among the products developed by the industry are the pesticides. Over five million people in the world owe their lives to the pesticides developed by the agricultural chemists since 1942, according to the U. S. Public Health Service. This is the number of people who have been saved from Malaria and encephalitis by the use of chemicals to control insects which carry these diseases, says Price.

Pesticides have freed hundreds of millions of the world's population from such insect-borne diseases as malaria, typhus, yellow fever, cholera, trachoma and encephalitis.

Were the use of pesticides restricted, epidemics would grow and become wide-spread throughout the nation and the world, and hunger would be their companion, concludes the agricultural chemicals specialist.

BUFFET STYLE—Workers of the Muleshoe area United Fund are pictured at last week's banquet getting things underway for the appropriation dinner. Several workers are shown filling their plates.

Navy Officers 'Thank' Students For Concern

WACO--Response to Baylor University students' efforts to show their concern for servicemen and civilians in Vietnam includes a letter from H. T. King, United States Navy Captain and Commander of U.S. Naval Support Activity in Saigon.

Capt. King, writing on Christmas Day, thanked Baylor students for a program of Christmas greetings and carols broadcast over Armed Forces Radio Vietnam Dec. 25. Baylor student radio station, KWBU-FM, recorded the 90-minute tape.

In a letter to Baylor President Abner V. McCall, Capt. King said the students' Christmas greetings and "especially their words of support to the servicemen in Vietnam provided real inspiration and a reminder that the large majority of college students fully support the American servicemen."

Other thank-you letters to Baylorites were from a native Wacoan and Texas A&M University graduate, 2nd Lt. (C.E.) William R. Hancock, and Lt. Col. I. M. Mims whose home is in San Antonio.

Veterans Q's and A's

Q - In past years, I have heard that taxpayers were permitted to take their income tax refunds in Savings Bonds. Will that be possible this year?

A - Yes. On your Federal income tax form, you will find a line to be checked, if you want your refund in Bonds. You will receive the largest denomination Bond that your refund will purchase, plus a check for the difference between the purchase price and the amount of your refund.

Q - They say that Savings Bonds are indestructible; that any lost, stolen or destroyed will be replaced. Does it actually work out that way?

A - Since the beginning of the Savings Bonds program in May, 1941, more than 1.8 million individual Bonds have been issued after records have been checked and ownership facts established.

Allen Ludden Chosen By Press Group To Receive Texan of the Year Award

Allen Ludden, moderator of "Password" . . . the word-association game on the CBS television network . . . will be honored by the Texas Press Association at its Winter Meeting in San Antonio on January 21.

Ludden was chosen by the Association's top awards committee to receive TPA's highest honor, "Texan of the Year." Presentation will be made at the closing night's Honor Banquet in the St. Anthony Hotel. Some 300 members of the press will be on hand for the event.

TPA is the only statewide organization of the daily and weekly newspapers in Texas. President is Jim Barnhill, publisher of the Hillsboro Daily Mirror.

In announcing Ludden's selection, President Barnhill said "that better choice could our committee make than to pick a man who has spent formative years of his life in our Capital City and who both in person and on their frequently and proudly refers to Texas as his home state. He has given here Oct. 29-31 to "explore and present new methods of communicating the Bible's message to men in the space age." Miss Ella Hartley, president of the Educational Communication Association, sponsor of the conference, said it is part of the "Year of the Bible" marking the 150th anniversary of the American Bible Society.

Ludden got his early education in Texas, received his B.A. in English in 1940, and his M.A. in 1941, both from the University of Texas.

He became interested in dramatics while in college and directed Austin's little theatre group. After finishing at UT he taught at Austin High School. Ludden worked briefly at radio station KEYS in Corpus Christi before entering the Army (1942-45). He rose to the rank of captain and won a Bronze Star. Working with renowned Shakespearean actor Maurice Evans in the Pacific, he produced and directed more than 40 Army shows.

After the war, Ludden became Evans' personal manager and advance man for a nationwide tour of "Hamlet."

From 1947 to 1953, he turned to broadcasting again at WTVF, Hartford, Conn. There he conducted interviews for "Mind Your Manners," a teenage discussion program that won national honors, including a Peabody and two Ohio State Awards. In 1953 Ludden moved to New York as moderator of a radio forerunner of "G-E College Bowl." In January, 1959 he began a three-and-a-half-year tenure as moderator of "College Bowl" and served concurrently as program director for CBS-owned radio stations.

He assumed his post as moderator of "Password" in 1961. In recent years, Ludden and his wife, Betty White . . . who will accompany him to San Antonio . . . have become co-starring headliners on summer theatre circuits.

Ludden made his debut as a recording personality with an album titled "Allen Ludden Sings His Favorite Songs." The Luddens live in a 100-year-old farmhouse on an estate in northern Westchester County, N. Y. They have three teenage children; David, Martha and Sarah.

Ludden joins an impressive group of Texans of the Year. They include Paul Richards of baseball fame; Van Cliburn, renowned pianist; Dan Blocker, Tex cowboy star; C. B. (Tex) Thornton, industrial entrepreneur; and Dale Evans, Queen of the Cowgirls.

NEW CULTURE CENTER TO BE BUILT

WINDOW ROCK, ARIZ. (AP) -
The nation's largest Indian tribe, the Navajos, are going to establish a culture center on the huge reservation.
The Navajo Culture Center will seek to preserve the legends,
history, mythology, songs, stories and other data pertaining to the Navajo past.
The center will be established as part of a federal economic program.
Paul Jones, former Navajo Tribal chairman, has been named director of the center.

1966 Yearbook Follows Food From Field to Saucepan

COLLEGE STATION--"Protecting Our Food" is the title of the 1966 Yearbook of Agriculture. According to a U. S.
Department of Agriculture announcement, its 416 pages and 105 photographs follows our food supply from the farmer's field to the saucepan on the stove.

During this journey, the giant job of protecting our food against pests, disease, and damage is described. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman points out in his foreword that U. S. food abundance is one of the miracles of the age, but it didn't just happen.

Authors of the yearbook point out that we have to fight 10,000 kinds of insects, combat 1,500 plant and 250 animal diseases for our food. Then, they add, we have to fight spoilage and decay.

The results of this battle to protect our food are evident, they say. In our own country,
food quality is high, the abundant, and the cost relatively low. Overseas, we have supplied 98 percent of food aid received by the less developed nations.

ARKIN UNDER ALIAS
NEW YORK (AP)—One of Off-
Broadway's new hits afforded Alan Arkin comedian a chance at directing debut under an alias.
When the play, "Eh?", opened,
the staging was credited to Roger Shert. When investigators revealed no one of that name was a member of the directors' guild, Arkin acknowledged he used the pseudonym after being hurriedly summoned in replacement of two other directors.
