cannot rightfully claim an exclusive right to use coloring matter. The object of the pending bill," they say, "is to prevent competition between two home industries by building up the one and destroying the other. Such use of the taxing power of the government is an abuse which should not be encouraged or even tolerated for a moment. The bill is class legislation of the most dangerous character."

MORE FACTORIES WANTED The convention of commercial organizations, called for the purpose of forming a central state organization, met at Austin Jan. 25, with most of the larger Texas cities represented, but after consideration it was deemed best to postpone permanent organization until April 9 and 10, when another convention will be held in Dallas.

Secretary Tom Richardson, of the Houston Commercial club, addressed the meeting on the "Organization and Management of Progressive Commerce and Industries." The bills were then made by Chas. Knight of San Antonio, W. F. Gill of Paris, J. F. Zang of Dallas, Levin Plunkett of Waco, S. A. Pishburn of Dallas, J. W. Higgins of Waco, J. Farley of Dallas, E. Jenkins of San Antonio, E. S. Russell of El Paso, O. P. Bowser of Dallas.

The following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted: Whereas, Texas is in much in need of a more rapid development of our manufacturing industries, and Whereas, we are not keeping step with our sister southern states in the establishment of such industries, and Whereas, the policy of exemption from taxation for a term of years by several southern states has had the most satisfactory results, be it

Resolved, that a committee be appointed by this convention to appear before and address the committees on manufacturing and constitutional amendments and urge the adoption of measures looking to such exemption under the laws and constitution of the state as will secure the desired results.

Mayor Higgins of Waco was appointed a committee of one to appear before the above committee. The following resolution was adopted: Whereas, the state of Texas is teeming at present with idle home capital seeking investment and Whereas, our people are to a great extent wanting in knowledge of the great possibilities of manufacturing in Texas, therefore be it

Resolved, by the convention of the commercial bodies of Texas, that the legislature would render an invaluable service to the state by the creation of a commissioner of manufacturing, whose duty would be to collect and disseminate by lecture and otherwise all manner of data calculated to arouse our people to the wonderful opportunities for profitable investment in manufacturing in Texas.

The afternoon and night sessions were taken up with a discussion of the question of effecting a permanent organization. It was finally voted to postpone permanent organization until April 9 and 10, on which dates another meeting shall be held in Dallas for that purpose.

Coming Sales. FEBRUARY 26-27-28 and MARCH 1-2-3-4, C. A. Stannard, W. S. Van Natta & Sons, Scott & March, Hereford, Kansas City.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. All correspondence and other matter for the Journal should reach us not later than Monday morning to secure prompt publication.

NO QUARANTINE IN TEXAS.

The resolutions adopted by the recent convention of commercial organization at Austin are worthy of the most careful consideration by all classes of citizens who have the welfare and prosperity of Texas at heart.

Texas is not at war with outside capital. She wants investors, men with money to develop her resources and push forward her infant industries.

But the capitalists themselves are to be convinced of this. Whatever the cause, the belief is prevalent in the east that Texas does not give the protection to foreign investments that is guaranteed by other states.

At no previous time has the prosperity of Texas been so great as at present but millions of dollars of outside capital will be required to bring to light the great undeveloped industries of the state and the idea that Texas has established a shotgun quarantine against foreign capital should be dispelled.

SOTHAM'S SALE.

The great Hereford sale which was concluded at Kansas City last week was in some respects the most remarkable in the history of the Hereford breeding business in America.

The results are to be attributed to several causes: the high standing and well-known integrity of Mr. T. F. B. Sotham and the breeders who were associated with him in the sale, the individual excellence and splendid breeding of the offerings, the healthy interest now manifested in Hereford breeding and the liberal use of printers' ink by Mr. Sotham who had the sale in charge.

TEXTILE MILLS IN THE SOUTH.

The South is rapidly realizing that the place for cotton mills is beside the cotton fields and the industrial wave which carried the New England states to the height of their prosperity is now breaking over those of the South.

or completed in 1900, while Virginia and Mississippi each had eight, Tennessee eleven, Alabama sixteen, Georgia and North Carolina each forty-one, and South Carolina forty-seven. In these Southern states work on 173 mills was commenced or finished.

The agricultural bill reported to the national house of representatives carries an appropriation for a tobacco expert to come to Texas to teach the farmers how to raise and cure tobacco and experiments to eradicate the pear blight are likewise provided for.

While the averages that will be made in the approaching sales in Texas may fall below the record of the great Sotham sale of Herefords in Kansas City last week there will no doubt be many animals disposed of which will be equal in breeding and point of individual merit to some of the best animals sold in Kansas City.

Prof. Price estimates that by the expenditure of $350 any cotton gin in Texas may be fitted with complete apparatus for a small cannery factory. The profit from such a factory in any fruit district in a few months' time would more than balance the outlay.

William McKinley took the best prizes at the Boston cat show. We trust this is not in violation of any laws of the constitution.—Kansas City Journal.

There is no need to worry. He probably won by a scratch. The fight over the Grouse bill is simply a contest for supremacy between the dairy interests of New England and the Middle West and the agricultural and cattle interests of the South and West.

Mr. Clem Graves, the noted Hereford breeder of Bunker Hill, Ind., has never been regarded as a forist; still, $3700 for a single Carnation is a pretty good figure.

It seems that saloon wrecking in Kansas has become a national issue. How many pounds of pork, as represented in a live hog, does a bushel of corn represent is a question which has frequently arisen. It has been the custom in past years to count a bushel of corn as equivalent to ten pounds of pork.

CHURCH IS COPYRIGHTED.

The ubiquitous camera fiend has at last met his Waterloo. It is situated in the quiet town of Alexandria, 20 miles distant, and takes the form of a copyrighted church. The particular incident which brought this strange anomaly to public notice was an altercation, which ended in a free fight, that disturbed the quiet of the streets a few days since. The principals were a party of tourists "doing" the sights and the aged sexton of Christ church. The young women and three men were in the party of pleasure-seekers with a couple of cameras to complete the outfit. They had been strutting about snapping now a colored baby and again a curious little shop half lost under overhanging windows, when they came upon the church and started in to work in real earnest. The weather-bitten structure is a relic of early colonial days and bears the imprint of its dignity in every moss-grown stone. It was here George Washington worshipped and here that the entire Mount Vernon family bowed the knee. Alexandria literally lives up to the famous old building and any approach to flippancy within those precincts would no more be tolerated than an affront to the father of his country. The tourists happily unconscious of the provisos in the case, snapped away unobserved at short and long range, and finally determined to see the interior. They summoned the sexton and listened to his fluent history of the edifice with the glowing consciousness that they had made a "find." The high-backed Washington pew elicited a little shriek of delight from the girls. "Oh, we must have a picture," cried one impulsive miss in the act of focusing her machine. "You can't do it!" ejaculated the sexton, appalled at the intended vandalism and finally planting himself in front of the sacred pew. "It's against the law." They expostulated. They tried bribery—all was to no avail! They even threatened violence but the old man only reiterated—"It's against the law." "What do you mean?" demanded one of the men angrily—"It isn't against the law to take a picture." Then the old sexton led the way to the side of the church and pointed with a grin to a tablet set in the wall. On it the disgusted tourists read this legend: "This Church is Copyrighted."

MARKETS

Entered at the postoffice at Dallas, Tex., as second class mail matter.

FORT WORTH. (Reported by the Fort Worth Live Stock Commission Co.) Fort Worth, Jan. 28.—The past week opened up strong and active on good to choice packing hogs and on Monday a car of choice hogs brought $5.07 1-2, but toward the middle of the week our market went off to the level in sympathy with the northern markets and from the middle to the close of the week it took something fancy to bring 50¢. The quality of the receipts as a whole was poor, nearly every load considerably mixed, and too many half finished and light weights and we are advising our customers to buy the skips back as it does not pay to ship them. We had 25 cars on the market and made a good clearance, the local buyers taking everything offered. The order buyers have extra orders this week for choice packers weighing 170 to 200 lbs. and this kind of stock on basis today's market at $4.50 to $5.00. Among the receipts last week were a good many best hogs which we sold for $4.25 to $4.50.

Hogs—Receipts as follows: Choice fat steers $3.50 to $4.00, medium fat steers $3.00 to $3.50, choice fat hogs $4.50 to $5.00, common fat hogs $3.50 to $4.00, common fat hogs $2.50 to $3.00, common fat hogs $1.50 to $2.00, choice fat hogs $2.50 to $3.00, common fat hogs $1.50 to $2.00, choice fat hogs $2.50 to $3.00, common fat hogs $1.50 to $2.00.

HOW RICH MEN FARM.

The produce sent to the market by just seventeen multi-millionaires of New York, will exceed in value $500,000 per annum, says a report from that city.

By the millionaire farmer or florist the pursuit is generally a fad; his grounds are the most expensive that a man can buy; his barns are princely structures; his house plants are the best that soil and sun can produce; his produce is sold in the most desirable way; his cow is nurtured as kindly as a baby. She is guarded by day and by night; her food must be of the most delicate flavor; her milk she must be filtered; she is bathed and combed and sponged; she has mats to lie on and her horns are polished. She has the attendance of a famous veterinarian. The poultry yard is the pride of the farm; the fowls are equally fine. Science relieves the hen of maternal duties; her chicks are hatched by the incubator and housed in grandeur. The millionaire farmer does not raise the pursuit to clear a fortune. But he sells the produce; that is a part of the fad.

In Madison, N. J., lies the princely estate of Hamilton McK. Twombly, son-in-law of the late John D. Rockefeller, the largest producer in this part of the country. He owns a beautiful park, traversed by macadamized roads and covered by macadamized roads, and called Florham Place and the palatial residence cost $1,000,000. It is a wonder of domestic architecture, but the farm in its way is wonderful. Mr. Twombly averages in the neighborhood of $75,000 a year from the sale of produce. The sale of the milk from his farm averages $2000 a month; his flowers, from $20,000 to $30,000 a year. He supplies the Madison market with milk, cream, butter, vegetables and flowers, and sends large consignments of flowers to New York. Mr. Twombly peddles milk at 10 cents a quart—3 cents in summer—in a $1200 wagon, drawn by a pair of $1500 thoroughbred in gold-mounted harness. The farm wagons are hauled by $1000 thoroughbreds. The cow stables are finished in hardwood. They are built upon English models, regardless of cost. The dairy, built of heavy stone, is the most comfortable of the finest in the United States. There are about 150 head of Guernseys on the farm, imported thoroughbreds, which furnish for market 300 quarts of milk a day. The average price cow is the famous Rutilla's daughter.

HORSE.

GREAT STARS OF 1901.—Probably more great harness performers than we witnessed on the turf last season will start the grand circuit this year than for many seasons past. One reason for the reappearance of so many of the free-for-all champions is the fact that so few of the sensational trotters broke down or were purchased for foreign racing. The world's champion trotter, The Abbot, 2:03 1/4, is reported in fine fettle at Village Farm, Buffalo, under the tutelage of his old mentor, Ed Geer. There is no class in which he can perform except in special exhibitions against time or matched races with Crescens (2:04). It is reported that Mr. S. Connell, the owner of The Abbot, has offered to match his horse against the champion stallion for a series of races, $10,000 a side, best two out of three heats. Crescens' forte, however, is great staying powers, and George Ketchum would not entertain a match except on the conditions of best three in five heats. Such a match would undoubtedly result in a series of record-breaking races and offer a sensational attraction. Lord Derby (2:07) and Borama (2:08) promise to compete for honors again this year. Lord Derby was served by the Hamlin when they closed out their stable, including The Abbot, as the most likely candidate for 2:00 honors ever bred at the Village Farm. He was defeated in the Transylvania by Borama, although he was timed three-quarters of a mile in 1:23, a 2:04 gait. The present outlook for record achievements on the turf this season is auspicious, as the champions are all in good form with known speed to beat their records.
