REWARD OF A TEXAS RANGER William J. McDonald, the ranger captain who has just been appointed revenue agent of the state of Texas by Governor Thomas M. Campbell, is one of the most noted and picturesque characters in the southwest.

With the exception of Swartzschild & Sulzberger, all the big Chicago stock yards plants have been included in a single monster organization, according to apparently reliable reports from a meeting of the local packers' representatives tonight.

The crushing criticism of the stock yards industry which found its climax in the recent federal investigation, is said to be responsible for Mr. Armour's decision to withdraw from the enterprise, which his father's genius made famous throughout the world.

The National Packing Company, the holding organization for the separate corporations, is to be a clearing house for all of them and eventually the medium thru which the ultimate capitalization of the combine is to be made.

Details concerning the apportionment of territory have not yet become public. Just how far combine will deal with the Schwartzschild & Sulzberger company is not known, though it is agreed in financial circles that the independent concern will be compelled by the overwhelming strength of the combination to comply with the latter's wishes whether it desires to do so or not.

The annual meeting of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas in this city next March promises to be one of the most interesting in the history of that great organization, and the preliminary work in the matter of proper and suitable entertainment is already being arranged.

One of the most important matters to come before the annual meeting of the cattlemen will be the election of a secretary and general manager to succeed the late John T. Lytle, who like his immediate predecessor, James C. Loving, died in harness.

The Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas has had two secretaries and general managers during the entire period of its existence, Loving and Lytle. When Loving was called to his reward there was a pretty warm contest instituted for the position by several worthy aspirants, but the association settled the matter by taking up the claims and qualifications of one of its former vice presidents, in the person of Captain Lytle, and placed him in charge.

Over in east Texas about seven years ago there was a terrible lynching party, in which John and George Humphreys, two white farmers, were strung up and killed. McDonald went to work on the case alone and unaided, and as a net result of his efforts twelve of the desperate men who participated in the lynching were run down, captured and sentenced to long terms in the state penitentiary.

One of the tantalizing issues in the senatorial race in the Twenty-eighth district is that it costs the counties in the district about $5,000 to hold the election to elect a successor to Senator Hawkins, who resigned.

It is well known that John M. Duncan of Smith county is one of the ablest men in the Texas legislature. He is a careful student of public affairs, and does not sail along the surface, but dives down to the bottom of the subject under consideration.

LONGEVITY OF THE MULE. The longevity of the mule has become so proverbial that a purchaser seldom inquires his age. Pliny gives an account of one, taken from Grecian history, that was eighty years old; and, though past labor, followed the others that were carrying materials to build the temple of Minerva, at Athens, and seemed to wish to assist them, which induced the architect to order he should have free access to the grain market.

REPORTED PACKING HOUSE MERGER. Are the big packing houses of the country really going to carry out the oft-repeated rumor and effect a tremendous consolidation? That is a matter that is now attracting attention throughout the country and causing much speculation.

REMEDIES FOR SWINE

Hogs, to Keep in Condition—I have been raising and feeding hogs for twenty-eight years and have made a dog raising a close study. At first I had a good many failures. After trying all the paper remedies on hog ailments, I find if a hog gets seriously sick you might as well kill it at once, for if it does not die it will never be thrifty, and is useless as a feeder or producer.

Keep the lice off, which can be done with a mixture of coal oil and lard, about equal parts, sprinkled on the hogs about once every thirty days if necessary. Sometimes it is not necessary often than every two, three or four months, but at any rate it is necessary in order to have healthy hogs to keep them free from lice.

The next important thing is to keep their digestion in order. This is easily done by keeping plenty of coal cinders where they can have free access to them.

With these rules strictly adhered to in this latitude, the hog raiser never needs have any fears.—J. F. Ware, Danville, Ky.

FOUNDATION LAID IN 1867. Messrs. Sanders, Spencer and Son of Plymouth Manor, near Ives, Hunts, England, recently shipped from London to Holland two of their large white boars. We understand that Mr. Sanders Spencer is now retiring from the business, and that his son, Charles, who has been his right hand helper during some sixteen years, is taking over all farm stock and crops and the old-established business of hogs and Yorkshire pigs. The latter herd was established forty-three years since, and has enjoyed an unprecedented success, having been successful besides having representatives from it shipped to the extraordinary number of forty-six colonies and foreign countries.

From the theoretical standpoint sheep can be successfully raised in every state of the American union, and especially in the south. As a matter of fact, however, sheep are raised in flocks of thousands principally in the semi-arid states of the west, while most of the sheep kept in the humid states are in small flocks. The writer once was talking with a sheep rancher from the west who wanted to move his sheep breeding operations to the "sunny south" but after investigation has come to the conclusion that the plan of the west were better adapted to sheep raising than the south, on account of the smaller rainfall.

INVESTIGATION HOG DISEASE. Secretary Wilson in his report of the department of agriculture for 1906, refers to the experience of an increasing frequency of tuberculosis in hogs, as observed in the meat inspection service in recent years, led to experiments to determine the most probable source of infection of these animals, and the conclusion was reached that the most frequent cause of tuberculosis in hogs are found in the hogs that are fed on swill.

Some Suggestions for the Home Handling of the Meat. In dressing mutton always bear in mind that you are not to get your wether for 24 hours prior to slaughtering. It is not generally known, but undigested food is apt to flavor the flesh. Keep this point constantly in mind. Do not try fancy methods in dressing your mutton. Have your carcass perfectly plain. It is a good rule to kill the sheep in November, at least when the weather is from royalty.—Live Stock Journal.

THE MARE'S FEED. The ration of the brood mare should be of sufficient quantity to maintain her in that condition already described as indicating "tone." It is a peculiar fact, while the two extremes in condition are most unfavorable to breeding, statistics indicate that the birth rate among nations is shown to be in inverse proportion following devastation by war or famine, conditions of life in which the females become reduced to the extreme of low condition. This would seem to indicate that a natural law for the maintenance of the species, and need not be taken to indicate that starvation and extremely low condition are favorable to reproduction. It is true that a thin mare is more apt to breed than a pampered one, but a mare in low condition has no reserve on which to draw for the nourishment and growth of the colt. Her whole system is in an impoverished condition, which must be corrected before the nutrients can be available for the foal.—Livestock Journal.

ENTERTAINMENT WITH THE MIND

OF CATTLEMEN. The Mystic Knights of Bovinia have voluntarily taken upon themselves the responsibility of providing for the entertainment of the visiting cattlemen who will be at Fort Worth during the Fair Stock Show and annual meeting of the Live Stock Association, The Board of Trade, which has heretofore raised the funds to provide this entertainment, at the request of the Bovinians, has turned the matter over to the latter association, and in order to assist the Bovinians in their efforts, the business men and people generally of the city that they become members of the Mystic Knights of Bovinia, pay the regular initiation fee and dues, which amount to $7, and by so doing create a fund that will do away with the necessity of funds being solicited from the business men by the Board of Trade or anyone else.

The matter was decided at a meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade Wednesday afternoon, following the conference of the entertainment committees of the two associations the day previous. The matter was brought before the directors of the Board of Trade at the Wednesday meeting by Chairman F. L. Edwards of that organization, who stated that the plan of the Bovinians as suggested by their entertainment committee was to raise something like $5,000, and that they had requested that the committee appointed by the Board of Trade leave the matter of entertainment to them.

A resolution was then introduced endorsing the action which is being taken by the order of Bovinians, and assuring the members of the Board of Trade that they were ready to do what it could toward the meeting of 1907, the biggest success socially of any that had gone before.

George Mountcastle introduced a resolution, which was adopted, to the effect that the Ancient Order of Bovinians had undertaken to entertain the next meeting of the Cattle Raisers' Association and there was no doubt as to their being able to successfully carry out their plans and that the directors of the Board of Trade endorse the action of its committee in deciding to have the Bovinians to carry on the work, providing the Bovinians would shoulder the responsibility of entertaining the cattlemen and defraying expenses of the rentals, etc., and that the matter be turned over to them, and that the Board of Trade committee be continued to see that this was done, and that the Board of Trade give the Bovinians their good will and offer to aid, should it be necessary.

The resolution also provided that the secretary be instructed to furnish the Bovinians with a copy of the constitution which could be used in their campaign of soliciting funds.

Meeting of Bovinians. The regular weekly round-up of the Mystic Knights of Bovinia Wednesday night was one of the largest since the reorganization of the association. Chief Ranch Boss Davis was not present, having been called out of the city by the wagon boss Jim O'Dowd presided with grace, dignity and ability, ably assisted by Dr. Frazier, who impressively read the rules and regulations and administered the oath to the members before the application of the branding iron to their quivering flesh.

The exercises Wednesday were a big improvement on those of the previous meeting. The line riders were out after "strays" and captured a well-known physician and led him to the branding pens, where he got all that was coming to him.

Everything is fish that gets into the nets of the Bovinians; they make no distinction on account of nationality, and Wednesday night a Greek boss of a shoe shining parlor and administered $7 worth of ceremonies that kept the entire ranch house in an uproar for an hour.

Following the branding a committee from the Board of Trade was admitted and notified the chief warden of what action the Board of Trade had taken with reference to the entertainment of the cattlemen. The announcement was received with a wild yell and each member of the committee held up for $7 and sworn in as a bull.

The following communication was read and indorsed with a hip! hip! hurrah! ki! ki! and there the round-up was called.

"Gentlemen: I regard the meeting tonight as the most important one we have ever held, for the reason that the lodge can successfully arrange the details with the Board of Trade so as to secure the hearty and earnest co-operation of the board with the Bovinians in the matter of entertaining the visiting cattlemen. It will put the standing of the lodge before the citizenship of Fort Worth, and from a financial standpoint nothing short of a San Francisco earthquake or a Galveston storm will ever shake us from the hearts of the people. And my fellow knights, it is absolutely essential that the people should be with us if we want to carry out with credit to ourselves the ideas upon which this order is founded, to wit, the upbuilding and the glory of Fort Worth."

"In my opinion the duty of the citizen to work for his town is second only to his family, and the Mystic Knights of Bovinia offer to the citizens a chance to fall in line and work for Fort Worth, because the fees and annual dues are so small that almost anyone can afford to join us, and add himself to the ranks of the order, which is now so successfully and brilliantly battling for the supremacy of Fort Worth in the great southwest. I do think gentlemen that in the matter of treating with the board, we should realize that both the Bovinians and the Board of Trade have the same object in view, and under the circumstances, we should act jointly and together for the common good so as to absolutely insure for the cattlemen an entertainment that will redound to the credit of Fort Worth, the Board of Trade and the Bovinians, and I believe that joint earnest work will do more to perpetuate our order than any other theory on which we could act. I believe that our object should be to build up an organization here in Fort Worth that will stand as a bulwark against the endeavors of the competing rival cities of Texas, and will eventually lead to the creation in this city of a body of men who will annually give a cattle carnival equal, if not superior to the greatest of any other city in the world. The Board of New Orleans. Respectfully, "STUART HARRISON."

trated by the Rock Island system. The Rock Island brought in four full sections Thursday night and Friday two sections arriving late Thursday night, one section at 7:30 a. m. Friday and one section Friday afternoon. On the two sections Thursday night there were not less than 400 people, each section being made up of seven coaches. There was fully as many on the two sections Friday. At Fort Worth this great tide of immigration splits, but the bulk of it is headed for the coast and Brownsville country. One of the Rock Island's sections from the north went north out of Fort Worth to Amarillo, from where it will go to the country west along the Pecos Valley road. This movement of homeseekers is one of the heaviest that there has been for several years. Most of it is from the north and northwestern states.

SPILLER MAY ACT AS SECRETARY

Committee Will Meet Here in March

Final action in the appointment of a secretary of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association to succeed Captain Lytle will probably not be taken until the regular meeting of the executive committee of the association in March, although an acting secretary to fill the unexpired term may be selected. It is very probable that Berkeley Spiller, who has been acting as confidential clerk of Captain Lytle, and upon whom most of the work of the association office has fallen during the past few months, will be appointed by President Pryor of the association, with concurrence of his associate members of the executive committee as acting secretary to fill the unexpired term of Captain Lytle until March, when the secretary will be appointed.

President Pryor of the association is at present in Washington, where he is assisting Sam H. Cowan, who has the interests of the association there. From Washington he will go to the annual meeting of the American National Live Stock Association in Denver, which commences next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, so that the earliest date that he could possibly get here for a special meeting of the executive committee would be Saturday, Jan. 25. It is possible that he will send instructions for a special meeting of the association for the appointment of a regular secretary at once.

Past custom of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association has been to appoint some older cowman, well known to the members of the association, as secretary of the organization. Should this custom be followed in the election of an officer of the association this time it has been suggested by a number of the members that the office of assistant secretary be created and be made elective. If such an office is made, Spiller will probably be elected to it.

The Mule's Revenge
 When Mulberry Sellers decided to emigrate to Missouri and become a cattle raiser, he carried with him a mule of his faith to a single article of commerce—mules. He drew pictures of mules upon the walls of his sleeping room, he dreamed of mules by day and night, and he carried mules whenever he closed his eyes. He feasted psychologically on mules—whereat the world laughed and conceived it to be a good joke. In the meantime, his mule, which had been away and at last, but for many years, he has turned the tables on his tormentors. The mule as a millionaire producer has ceased to sleep and has become a veritable quack. He bubbles and foams like a sober fact? The time has come for the mule to laugh.

Texas is greatly interested in this subject, because it has more mules than any other state in the union—about 528,000. Missouri, to which Mulberry Sellers emigrated for the purpose of going into the mule business, comes next, with only a little more than half as many as Texas.

While Texas has more than twice as many horses as mules, the first are valued at only $35,416,773, against $25,532,599 for the mules. The mules are, therefore, these are lived with rosy promise. The whole mule fraternity in Texas, old mules, young mules, middle age mules, sway-back mules, mules of good behavior, mules of the M. C. faith and persuasion, average up the large sum of $70 per head. This is indeed a high testimonial to the mule. There are about as many "Afro-Americans" in Texas as there are mules. They do not represent in productiveness a capitalization of $70 per head. In other words—speaking solely from an economic standpoint, Brother Post—the mule, as over-taken and passed Samba. No post up Uteas contracted his powers. The motor car drove him out of the service of the street railway and he quietly turned to other fields of employment and developed a greater usefulness. His services are in demand because he always gives a quid pro quo for the cost of them. Whether in the heat of a coat mine or in the middle of a cotton patch, he is ever the same strictly business proposition—doing the thing appointed for him to do without any noise or protest.

An average pair of mules is now worth in the market from $250 to $350. They can be produced for a sum certain less than the mule sum. In Texas the cost of production is probably not more than 50 per cent of the cost in Missouri.

Why shouldn't there be millions in mules?—San Antonio Express.

GREAT STOCK SHOW

Denver is Making Preparations for Event of Coming Week

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 19.—Final preparations are being made today for the western livestock show, which is confidently expected to be the greatest ever held in Denver or the west. Nearly all the exhibits have arrived and include some of the finest cattle ever shown in this or any other country. Representatives of the various associations will be seen here, and the show is expected to attract a record-breaking crowd.

The show will last thru next week and in connection with the various conventions to be held here will undoubtedly attract thousands of people to Denver. Among the big meetings to be held here next week are those of the American National Livestock Association, which begins Tuesday, and the Trans-Missouri Dry Farming Congress, which will hold its first session on Thursday. Numerous smaller conventions, including the Colorado Cattle and Horse Growers' Association and various state horticultural, agricultural and stock associations, will also be held.

A horse show will be given in connection with the cattle exposition and it will be one of the largest ever in the west. All horses, from draft horses to Shetlands, will be on exhibition.

Representatives of commission merchants and packing houses from Chicago, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Omaha, Fort Worth and other livestock centers, will attend the show and conventions, and the Colorado Traffic Club will keep open house for the week to entertain the visiting business men.

Ware an Applicant
 Exclusive announcement in The Telegram last Sunday that among the candidates for the position of secretary of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association was C. T. Ware, was confirmed Thursday in the following letter which is being sent out to members of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association:

Fort Worth, Jan. 16.
 Dear Sir: You have doubtless heard of the death of Captain John T. Lytle, secretary of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas. I with a host of friends regret the loss of this good man and fully realize that his post of honor will be hard to supply. Captain Lytle's successor will be elected by the association at the annual convention in March, 1907. At the solicitation of a number of the members of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, who are my personal friends, I shall allow my name to go before your honorable body for this position, and write this letter to ask your support in my behalf. If elected to this trustful position I shall retire from the live stock commission business and will devote the whole of my time and attention to this important office. I have had large experience as general live stock agent of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway and am fully identified with the cattle industry in every respect.

Thanking you in advance for anything you may do for me in this connection, I am, yours very truly, C. T. WARE.

A Giant Turnip
 CLARENDON, Texas, Jan. 18.—This is a turnip on display at A. M. Beville's office that is a revelation to the newcomer and those of skeptical turn. The turnip weighs an even ten pounds, and was raised by H. G. Kimbrell on his farm, twelve miles south of town. It was planted in October, between rows of corn that was planted in May on sod land. This is only one of the many of the same kind that have been produced on this farm. Mr. Kimbrell purchased this land from J. A. ranch twenty months ago for $4 an acre and says he now values it at $25 and considers it cheap at that.

Good Crop of Corn
 CLARENDON, Texas, Jan. 18.—Rev. J. T. Bell is leading two cars with corn to Lella for the Powell Trading Company. Mr. Bell raised 1,000 bushels of corn on fifty-two acres and has made 1,200 at 45c. He has made more than an equal crop with enough corn left to make the next crop.

LARGEST COTTON MILL IN WORLD

Manager Green Preparing to Handle Big Proposition

TRAFFIC IS GROWING

Inland Waterways Would Help Solve Transportation Problem Now Before the Business Men

SINTON, Texas, Jan. 19.—The largest cotton mill in the world is to be built near this place on the Taft ranch. Manager Green says:

"We have a pretty big proposition, 163,000 acres nearly all tillable land. We did not know that it was good for farms until we tried it out. We could not afford to sell a few thousand acres and have them farm by wrong crops or wrong methods, so we cleared up several thousand acres, graded roads, put in drainage ditches where needed on the level lands and proved what what could be done with the land. We have averaged .68 of a bale of cotton of high grade for seven years, have raised good crops of corn, kafir corn, cane, broom corn, and vegetables, but as a cotton county San Patricio leads the state with 750 bales on 800 acres, and 125 bales on 110 acres, and it is long staple grading very high. We intend putting all the land a mile on each side of the Sap in cultivation from Sinton to the Gulf, making a continuous farm two miles wide and twenty-five miles long. Each 100 acres will have a house, barn and water supply and will be rented on shares. The tenants will be to the benefit of our experience and supervision. Our cotton crop has averaged us $7 rent from one quarter of the crop for seven years. The remainder of the land will be opened to settlement from time to time and sold to actual settlers on easy terms. We put a clause in the deed providing that the purchaser must start with his land within one year, both on farm land and on town lots in Sinton. Charles P. Taft and Mrs. Taft of Cincinnati, the principal owners of the ranch, will be here next month accompanied by Secretary William Taft, Secretary Root and his son and Charles Taft of New York. Charles P. Taft has not seen his ranch in eight years. It is the largest cotton mill operator in the state of Georgia and they intend to establish at Sinton the largest mill in the south. We will give the first manufacture our own cotton, the first plant in the world to do this."

THE TEXAS RANGE
 Cattle Are Generally in Good Condition

Reports from inspectors to the office of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas indicate fair to good conditions in the range, but mostly fair weather. Cattle generally are reported in fair condition, the looking bad in some instances. Altogether matters are in better shape than usual at this time of the year. One hundred and twenty-three cars of stock were shipped.

E. B. Spiller, the assistant secretary of the association, is in charge of the office of the Cattle Raisers' Association since the death of Captain John T. Lytle.

Victoria and Edna—Range and weather good. Three cars shipped.—Charles E. Martin, Inspector.

If You Are Sick

It is because some of the organs of the body are not doing their work well. There is a lack of that nervous energy that gives them motion. Consequently you are weak, worn-out, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, indigestion, etc. because there is not sufficient nerve force to keep the organs active and allow them to perform their natural functions. Dr. Miles' Nerve restores health because it restores this nervous energy.

"I have been sick for a year, and did not know what was the matter with me. I tried a lot of medicine and none of them proved of any value. I heard of Dr. Miles' Nerve. I procured a bottle, and before I had taken half of it I was better. I procured had nervous prostration. I had not got this medicine when I did. I continued to take it until I was entirely well. I have since recommended it to my five of my lady friends, and they have all thanked me for doing so, for it benefited them all."

MRS. ROSE OTTO,

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that this little bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

ARID FARM MADE GARDEN BY GREAT FLOWING WELL

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.
 One of the prettiest and most interesting countries anywhere is that rich, historic valley thru which run the limp waters of the San Antonio and the romantic San Pedro. The hot summers are tempered by the gulf breeze laden with the ozone that proves to be a wondrous tonic to tired and wasted bodies. Sunshine is for always and the dark days rarely ever come. Roses bloom all the year and the very air is rich with the breath of flowers. In this valley, and in the gay and laughing city of San Antonio, the very ancient blends with the very modern. All the heritages of a new age are received out of a dim and ble base of supply. The outlying valley was a wilderness of mesquite and cacti. Now, by the touch of wisdom and thrift, the desert is blossoming like the rose and the city has become a paradise of the wildest beauty.

 It is amazing how long people kindled their camp fires around these gushing springs before they really understood for why nature had been so lavish. That valley's history absolutely loses itself in obscurity. Before Columbus discovered America the city was an Indian village and the whole valley a war plain. When the Monte-zumas swayed the scepter in Old Mexico the Aztecs drove a people northward beyond the borders of the Rio Grande. And in this wonderful valley, in 1689, Don de Leon, governor of very distant past. The sound of voices coming from modern and superb casthedral in the silence of the missionary built in the dawn of the eighteenth century by colonists come over from the Canary Islands.

 All the country round about is blessed with beautiful springs that are exhaustless in their supply. Great, gurgling springs lie within the very city. The San Antonio river and the beautiful San Pedro flow from fountains

Coahuila, found a prosperous and contented people.
 And why should they not be—children of the forest and dwellers in tents by the courses of laughing waters!
 Their rude houses were built about more than a half dozen great springs, clear as glass and each large enough for a swimming pool. They lie in a semi-circle. They deploy into a lagoon that spreads out into a beautiful lake before it narrows into the far-famed that are as clear as crystal and unfalling. The city obtains its water supply from twelve artesian wells that have a flow of over thirty million gallons per day. In another section of the valley, and near the city, there are artesian wells that discharge each day nearly one million gallons of hot sulphur water at a temperature of 104 degrees.

 There was a time, and not so many years in the past either, when beauty and profit in this valley were undreamed of. These famous springs were bones of contention over which the Indians, Spaniards and American pioneers waged relentless war. In those crude days they formed a valuand romantic San Pedro creek. As if to embrace one another, and reaching across the rippling waters, the tangled arms of giant oaks have been stretched for ages. Along with them the graceful weeping willows droop in feathery branches. It is a natural beauty unequalled anywhere.

 Is it any wonder that the strange people chased northward by the Aztecs beyond the Rio Grande, when they found this enchanted region, should exclaim "Tejas! Tejas!" ("The land of the blessed.") Paradise? It can be no matter of surprise that as early as 1565, when Don de Leon found these people prosperous and contented, he

WHY THEY SUCCEED

Marvel Kinsey Explains Why
 Hot Springs Doctors Succeed Where Others Fail

Why are we so universally successful in our treatment of disease? When this question was put to Marvel Kinsey by a reporter, the genial gentleman smiled and said the answer is a simple one. "The doctor's office at 900 Houston street are men who have devoted the best years of their lives to the study of certain chronic diseases. Not only are they graduates of the best colleges in Europe and America but they have spent years in the diagnosis of the particular disease which they have chosen to treat.
 During these years they have seen thousands and thousands of different cases and naturally have gained a great deal of knowledge by experience.
 By the use of their knowledge and of valuable instruments for diagnosis, they are able to tell immediately whether the case is curable or not, without asking for the patient's history. If the case is not curable they will not accept it. This accounts for the fact that they make no failures.
 "All our doctors are registered in Tarrant county and the state of Texas. We have hundreds of testimonials from people we have cured right here in Fort Worth and we have refused to treat as many or more whose cases we found incurable." The conversation was interrupted at this point by a grateful patient, Mr.
 Parks, who was looking in his eyes of the skill of the Hot Springs Doctors.
 The gentleman is here from St. Louis in charge of some construction work that is being done for the Electric Light and Power Company. He informed Dr. Kinsey in the presence of the reporter that he had been taking treatment from the Hot Springs Doctors only three weeks and that he felt like a different man. Before taking treatment he was all run down and would take cold on the slightest provocation. "Since taking the treatment I have been unusually careless, but have suffered no bad effects from my carelessness."
 Dr. Kinsey smiled that kindly smile of his that makes one feel at ease in his presence. The reporter bade the genial gentleman good-bye, passed thru the crowded waiting room and remarked: "Well, I can understand why these gentlemen have the confidence of their patients."

should exclaim "Tejas! Tejas!"—"the land of the blessed"—Paradise.

San Antonio's Example

It remained for others, however, to use these extravaganzas of nature so as to produce comfort and prosperity for the most people. No man more completely did this for San Antonio than the late Ludwig Mahneke. So effective were his services as a commissioner that the Alamo City has become famous for her beautiful breathing spots. Colonel George Brackenridge gave the city 265 acres in the northeastern portion of the city, where trees hung with grape and ivy. Spanish moss thickly festooned all. It was a jungle of mesquite undergrowth and agave. Thru this impenetrable wild-derness the San Antonio crawled in serpent fashion. Now it is a vast outdoors for thousands—rich and poor alike. Flowers are blooming and masses in the richest in Texas. The velvet to the feet. Canoes glide softly and the fish are watched as they sport in beds of filmy moss deep in the water. Majestic swallows wheel noiselessly if perchance they be fed from a child's hand. Shaggy buffalo—the last of thunderous herds, antlered elk gathered from herds of the mountains hills not far away, and many other things that bring one so near to nature's heart. And the shadows of Lover's Lane have kept sacred the whispings of many a love story.
 Here the Spanish youth thrums his mandolin while his dark-eyed senorita —lovely as a dream—sings to him the deepest note of her heart. Tender the impulsive and determined American whispers to a maiden in the depths of whose blue eyes he has caught the flash of the love-light. These are the scenes where once the fiercest and howled and danger lurked. These are the scenes where once were enacted the tragedies of contending pioneers.
 San Antonio will not forget her park commissioner for he was a pioneer in the building of breathing spots in a great city. He taught municipalities how nature in her wilderness could be so tame and so lovely that it could be natural. He gave his life and his means to this end. Mr. Mahneke, at his own expense, often imported rare plants and flowers to be used in beautifying these parks, squares and boulevards. And now, since his dreams have grown into realities, San Antonians have awakened to the fact that these very breathing spots have increased the value of every piece of property in the city. Thus he so planned that his beloved city is in the forefront as the most enchanting and beautiful in all the southland. To the poor, as well as the rich, the memory of this pioneer is as precious as the fragrance freshly blown from roses blooming in the gardens he established. Ludwig Mahneke, the dying before the fullest appreciation of his labors, turned San Antonio into a wilderness of beauty and wealth, every breeze with an aroma that makes one forget his cares.

WHITE BREAD

Makes Trouble For People With Weak Intestinal Digestion.

A lady in a Wisconsin town employed a physician who instructed her not to eat white bread for two years.
 She tells the details of her sickness and she certainly was a sick woman.
 In the year 1887 she gave out from over work, and until 1901 I remained an invalid in bed a great part of the time. Had different doctors but nothing seemed to help. I suffered from cerebro-spinal congestion, female trouble and serious stomach and bowel trouble. My husband called a new doctor and after having given me any food for 10 days the doctor ordered Grape-Nuts for me. I could eat the new food from the very first breakfast. The doctor kept me on Grape-Nuts and the only medicine was a little glycerine to heat the alimentary canal.

"When I was up again Doctor told me to eat Grape-Nuts twice a day and no white bread for two years. I got well in good time and have gained in strength so I can do my own work again.
 "My brain has been helped so much, and I know that the Grape-Nuts food did this, too. I found I had been made ill because I was not fed right, that is I did not properly digest white bread and some other food I tried to live on.
 "I have never been without Grape-Nuts food since and eat it every day.
 You may publish this letter if you like so it will help someone else." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Get the little book, "The Road

AD. MAN'S CORNER

THE AD-MAN HAS TAKEN MILI-TARY POSSESSION OF THIS COR-NER AND WILL FIRE FROM THIS FORT EVERY WEEK.

THERE'LL BE SOMETHING DO-ING ALL THE TIME, TOO, FOR THE IMMUNITATION FOR THIS PURPOSE IS INEXHAUSTIBLE AND SMOKE-LESS POWDER WILL BE USED.
 WATCH THE AD-MAN'S CORNER
 ALL THE TIME.

Dear Reader: We have this week a great variety of things advertised, and we believe that every reader can find among them something useful and useful in the place of an outdoors—which is worth investigating.

It costs you but little trouble to write these advertisers, besides, what they offer for sale may prove to be just what you want, and the fact that you can, by correspondence, buy so many things just as satisfactorily as if you were present, thus saving time and expense of travel, ought to be sufficient inducement for you to do more buying thru the mails whenever possible.

Just take a careful look over this issue and note the different advertisers seeking a share of your trade. We believe every reader of the Stockman-Journal is its friend and would like to see it become a greater paper and that's what it's going to do, and therefore is willing to assist us to accomplish this, especially when they can do so at no loss to themselves.
 How can you help us? Just this way: Help the adman hold his advertisers by writing to them or calling on them in person and by telling the advertiser that you read his advertisement in the Stockman-Journal. You buy many things by reading advertisements of them, and when you do, that's the time to put in a good lick for us. You may see something advertised that you want to know something about; if so, inquire about it. You may want it when you have learned of it, or you may not. You have learned of it now.
 If you didn't buy, don't wait. Do it now. This old world is moving too fast for us to delay about things. Did you ever stop to think how time flies? Of course you have. We are spinning around with the earth on its axis at the tremendous speed of 68,000 miles an hour. Have you any time to lose or waste? Then tell us. Tell us that you read this advertisement in the Stockman-Journal, and receive the everlasting gratitude of THE ADMAN.

outlying regions. Recently, this gentleman was kind enough to meet me in San Antonio and take me for a drive over his irrigated garden farm. A most delightful hour I never spent than in his spacious and beautiful home in conversation with himself and wife.
 They literally lay themselves out for the pleasure of the visitors who see the wonderful garden and the reputed drouth or water section of the great southwest. In other words, what Mr. Collins has done can be done by any other if the same amount of energy is put into it. The government in the matter of farming or gardening. Mr. Collins is a Texan. His fortune was accumulated in this state for which he has a love that amounts to a passion. Having gathered together much of this world's goods, he is looking after this great enterprise as a matter of pleasure and in the meantime, to show what natural resources will accomplish when guided by intelligence and thrift. He has seen the army and navy incident in the days in the northwest and the Spanish struggles in the southwest. From Rusk in 1855, he moved with his father to a ranch twenty-two miles northwest of Fort Worth. He was in the adventures and experiences on that frontier would make a volume. Those were the days when the Comanches, Kiowas and Apaches were raiding and the bloody raids into the land of the face. And those were the times when Quantrell's band were dare devils set to exterminate the lawless and the reckless.

In 1877, Mr. Collins moved to San Antonio. It was the year the old Gulf, Harrisburg and San Antonio road, now the Southern Pacific, was put thru that country. He entered once upon his business in hydraulic engineering.
 For years he manufactured and sold every sort of a water supply contrivance. While he is connected in many affairs yet, for over forty years, he has not ceased to be a student. Invariably, and every day, he sets apart a time for the scientific study of the thing that so engages his mind. The truth is, his great garden is a demonstration farm without the support of the government or any individual. He spends hundreds of dollars in experiments. His one desire seems to be to show just what, and just how perfectly, the Texas soil will produce.
 When that is discovered Mr. Collins is happy.

They travel extensively. Their son —who married the daughter of Mr.
 Nick, the only experimenter on the Rio Grande—manages his father's large Angola ranch in the Uvalde country.
 I shall never forget the moment I stood with Mrs. Collins before the picture that hangs on the wall.
 We were so close to the piano whose strings are swept no more.
 And my heart was deeply stirred as the mother looked on the fair face of a vanished and transfigured girl. Thus alone, they go often to the continent.
 Mrs. Collins is an authoress both in poetry and fiction. Among her most cherished mementoes of England are personal letters from good Queen Victoria and an ivory bust of Queen Alexandra, with whom she had the rare privilege of an audience.

Irrigation is centuries old in the San Antonio country, but its scientific use is only in the last six or seven years.
 The river rises in the northern mountains of the city in a series of manna springs. Their sparkling floods form a stream about thirty feet wide and ten feet deep. The adventurous Span-ard, 200 years ago, trained this water

An Experiment in Irrigation

In 1900 Mr. Collins decided to retire from business. At the same time he determined to spend the balance of his days demonstrating the possibilities of scientific irrigation. He well knew that under this valley existed an immense subterranean basin, whose supply would be exhaustless. If this could be reached all that vast cactus and mesquite wilderness could be transformed into blooming fields and gardens. His friends smiled when he set 100 Mexicans to work clearing 180 acres of bare and desolate land on the Leona road that he purchased for a song.

Mr. Collins, knowing that all depended on tapping a basin deep under the soil, began boring for water. A depth of 700 feet was reached—and water, clear as crystal and exhaust-less. The result was an artesian well with a steady output of 100,000 gallons.
 Rising twenty-eight feet above the surface, it flows in a solid stream twelve inches in diameter. The water falls into a large cement basin, from which it flows through a large canal, thence distributed over the entire farm.
 A gentleman standing by this well and looking toward the vast volume covering the farm, said: "Mr. Collins, how do you get your power?" "Up in the Panhandle, I reckon," quickly responded Mr. Collins. It would be interesting to know just in what high altitude nature has stored these oceans of crystal water. The government analyst in Washington pronounced this well the only absolutely pure water ever analyzed in that office. Mr.
 Collins has seen let's see—let's see—how Mr. Collins rushed out and got a large fish on short order for dinner.
 It makes one hungry to watch them sport in the immense, clear basin near the well.

This farm is rented in twelve-acre blocks to professional gardeners. The rent comes easy at $25 per acre, cash-less friends laughed and thought he had wheels in his head because he dreamed of any virtue in these arid acres. The other day a gentleman from Maine offered him $500, spot cash, for each acre, and it was as promptly refused. The people laugh no more.
 Since Mr. Collins has shown what can be done, from the old Pleasanton road near to the Leona hills—a distance of six miles—is one vast garden watered by these unfailing fountains.

Some things interest me. One is that on five acres he raised a crop of ribbon cane that cleared him $1,500 in old cash. Another crop of corn on the same land and in the same season averaged 140 bushels. Another, his solving of the boll weevil question on 200 acres of Texas. He planted his cotton on three acres remote from the public road. The quail and birds on his farm have perfect protection from the weevil. He planted where the boll weevil devastated fields, he gathered four heavy bales from the three acres. Surely here is room for thought. Nature will correct her evils if not interfered with.

Will Raise Hogs

PANHANDLE, Texas, Jan. 18.—J.
 S. Wyatt came here from Missouri four years ago and moved on a section of land south of town and went to farming. The first year he sowed Kaffir corn and maize and raised about eighteen bushels of seed to the acre, for which he received $1 per bushel.
 The second crop produced twenty-eight bushels per acre and sold for more than $200 a ton. He sowed Kaffir corn and fifty acres of sorghum that produced thirty bushels of seed to the acre. This coming season Mr. Wyatt will put in between 600 and 800 acres of crop, of which 200 acres will be in oats, 65 acres of fall wheat now on the place, 160 acres will be sown to feed-stuff and corn. This latter field will be fenced hog tight and he will turn his hog drove in on it before harvest time. He is going extensively into the hog business, as he believes there is good money in raising hogs in the Panhandle.

A Fort Worth show for all kinds of stock, pets and poultry, as well as cattle, hogs and horses, is advocated by J. B. Buchanan of Fort Worth in an open letter to C. C. French, secretary of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show Association. In his letter Mr.
 Buchanan says:

"Let's make this show the biggest in the world. We have everything to do and children, into this great move; they are marketing over $1,000,000 worth of poultry a year out of Texas.
 I have seen men and women pass by a $5,000 bull or a $10,000 stallion to look at a coop of Bantam chickens or bronze turkeys. Let's have the finest horse show ever held—when I say horse show, I mean everything—we have in Texas that few people realize. Let's have some of these asses in line at the show; and hogs, why, we can't do enough in the hog line; everybody needs them; everybody eats them, and while we speak of hogs, had you thought anything of sheep and goats?
 Great Scott, the man who is raising good sheep is making more clear money on his investment than any other line of live stock, and they are shipping goats from South Africa down here to a 17,000-acre ranch near "Lamerville" better known as San Antonio. Some of them, I hear, bring $500 head—let's have some goats in line."
 "By the way, did you ever know there are more dog cranks than any other cranks? Why, there are dogs in Texas that are worth $500 to $5,000 a head—let's have a bench show along with the others. In fact, Mr. French, let's have every kind of pet and live stock show that going—have it good, have it big, and right up to now. We are right in the heart of the country that is producing all of this stuff—let's give it good and let the world see it next March."
