School Officials Attend Meeting

Neal Dillman, superintendent of schools and Murl Brown, business manager of the school system were among more than 2,500 Texas school administrators attending the mid-winter school advisory conference on education.

Glenn H. Ivy, director of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education addressed the first general session of the conference on "The Governor's Committee Study: Perspective for Change."

This general session began at 9 a.m., Thursday, January 4, in the Terrace Motor Hotel Convention Center with J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education, presiding.

The Texas Education Agency annually sponsors this conference so delegates can discuss new education programs, and review and suggest improvements in procedures used by the agency in its relations with local public schools.

Don Robbins, Director of Administrative Services at the agency, says the administrators will be discussing such topics as how to prepare teachers for change, how to decide what changes are needed in the organization of the respective schools, and how to develop a climate in a community that will be responsive to changes from the traditional methods of instruction and curriculum.

Texas Cities Approve Tax

Voters in 158 Texas cities containing 70 percent of the state's urban population approved the one percent municipal sales tax in elections held during 1967. The tax was defeated in only 22 cities.

Actual collection of the tax, authorized on a local option basis by the legislature last spring, began January 1, 1968 in 14 cities where elections were held and results reported to the state comptroller city by the end of September. The comptroller administers the tax and returns proceeds, except for his expenses, to the city of origin, but the law allows a full calendar quarter to elapse between election and collection.

Cities where collections have begun include Aransas Pass, Austin, Brackettville, Corpus Christi, Elgin, El Paso, Henrietta, Ingleside, Nacogdoches, Orange Grove, Port Aransas, Taylor, Texarkana, and Wichita Falls. Retailers in municipal sales tax cities collect three percent (two percent state and one percent city) of the price of purchases beginning at the 17¢-49¢ range, where the first penny of tax falls. An additional penny for both state and city tax purposes is levied with each increase of approximately 33¢, or fraction, of purchase price.

In 144 cities voting the tax between October 1 and December 31, 1967, collection will begin April 1.

The 158 cities approving the tax in 1967 contain a total population of 6,231,211. Population of cities defeating the tax last year totaled 377,987.

Elections during the first month of 1968 have been called in at least a dozen more cities.

FIRST BABY OF YEAR--Deanna Carol Peel captured the spotlight as a 'first' when she was the first baby born in Bailey County in 1968. She not only was the first baby of the new year, but is the first child born to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Peel, of Route 2, Muleshoe, and the first grandchild for both maternal and paternal grandparents. She was born at 4:34 p.m., Wednesday, January 3, at Green Memorial Hospital and weighed 7 pounds. She was 19 1/2 inches long and has blue eyes and brown hair. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Peel, Polson, Mont., and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stratton, Muleshoe. Deanna Carol and her parents will receive a total of 21 gifts given by local merchants.

Hospitals Clear of Flu Cases

While upper respiratory ailments, common colds and flu are reported cutting attendance in schools and closing doors in some places, all schools in Muleshoe are holding steady attendance.

Absentee counts throughout the four schools here show no drop in attendance. Spokesmen at West Plains Hospital say several outpatients are being treated for colds as usual for this time of year. The same type report comes from Green Hospital with no flu patients being admitted at either of the hospitals.

Cleburne schools were closed Thursday which was the first major school district in Texas to close because of the flu-like illness which has struck most of the state. Fort Worth has had the epidemic stage number of cases.

Crowell schools have also closed and will remain closed for several days, according to officials there. Absenteeism is maintaining a normal level for this time of year. Few who are absent attribute their illness to the common cold-type illness.

Friday, Dr. G. Mason Kahn, director of the Amarillo bi-city-county health unit, said that if the current trend of increasing cases of flu con-times, "we will have an epidemic." Dr. Kahn said Amarillo doctors reported Thursday 1,500 cases of flu. Last Thursday doctors reported only 550 cases.

Amarillo residents have been advised to avoid going to places where there will be large gatherings of people, to rest well and drink plenty of liquids. Amarillo schools seem less affected than persons above school age.

Amarillo hospital employees have been hard hit, creating a personnel shortage, reports show. Tom Jinks, principal of Muleshoe High School said "Most of our students are healthy and attend school on regular basis and if we have a major drop in attendance, it will be something new."

All meetings will be held at the Hub community center meeting room. The seminar is co-sponsored by Farmer County Extension Service, the County Sub-Committee on Family Living, and Comsorsors of Farmer County schools.

Dr. Loyd Schakelford, Friona will use as his subject "Force and Power of the Mind" under the heading of "Discipline of the Mind" at the first meeting slated for January 16. Chairman will be Baker Duggin, Friona school.

On Tuesday, January 23, Dr. Mercedes F. Allizer, Portales, N.M., will speak on the topic of "Physical Development" under the heading of "Parents, Pabulum and Problems." Chairman is Mrs. James Mabry, Family Living Committee.

Tuesday, January 30, Charles Turner, Farwell, Bovina and Lazbuddie counselor will give an educational development program on "Art of Listening." "Books and Toys for Children" will be the subject by Jennie Kitching, specialist in Increased rates for all classes of mail except parcel post and international mail go into effect January 7, Postmaster Spencer Beavers reminded postal customers today.

"Even with the new rates of six cents for first-class mail and 10 cents for air mail, postal service is still a real bargain," Postmaster Beavers declared. "For six cents you can send a letter to any of the 50 states, to any United States territory or possession, to Canada or Mexico, or to an American serviceman stationed anywhere in the world."

Postmaster Beavers pointed out that the new rate for post cards will be five cents and for air mail post cards eight cents.

He said the added cent in the letter rate is a 20 percent increase compared to a 24 percent boost in the rates for mailing newspapers and magazines and a 34 percent hike for advertising circulars, "occupant" mail, and other material in the third-class category.

The new rate of six cents per ounce for first-class mail applies up to 13 ounces and the new rate of 10 cents per ounce for air mail applies up to seven ounces. Under the new rate structure all first-class mail over 13 ounces and all air mail over seven ounces will be merged into a single category.

Bryant Injured In Accident

Billy Joe Bryant, 26, was transferred from Green Memorial Hospital to Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, late Friday after he was injured in an early morning accident.

Bryant, employed by Kerr Construction Company, contractor on U. S. Highway 84, west, was injured near Larlat when the tractor he was driving overturned. He was pinned beneath the tractor, reports show.

Bryant was treated at Green Memorial for a fractured jaw and knee injury and transferred later in the day to Lubbock.

Dynamics of Child Development Is Topic of Seminar Programs

The "Dynamics of Child Development," is the theme of a series of four meetings for parents in Farmer County which will start Tuesday, January 16. Highly qualified speakers will appear on the program.

The seminar will include a series of four meetings to be held January 16, 23 and 30 and February 6. Each meeting will start at 2 p.m. and end at 4 p.m.

All meetings will be held at the Hub community center meeting room. The seminar is co-sponsored by Farmer County Extension Service, the County Sub-Committee on Family Living, and Comsorsors of Farmer County schools.

Dr. Loyd Schakelford, Friona will use as his subject "Force and Power of the Mind" under the heading of "Discipline of the Mind" at the first meeting slated for January 16. Chairman will be Baker Duggin, Friona school.

Early Man Displays Lie Unviewed in Museum

By Gordon K. Greaves
Portales-News Tribune

A human leg bone dug from the key ring as the door swung open to the aluminum-trimmed brick building.

"We don't have lights," explained Dr. George Agogino as he escorted the visitor into the Blackwater Museum. "The electric bill was $400 month, and we had to order the meter disconnected."

This is the building for which the 1965 New Mexico State Legislature appropriated $100,000 to display early man artifacts found among the skeletons of five mammoths in a gravel pit midway between Portales and Clovis in 1963.

The 1967 Legislature failed to make an appropriation for staffing and maintenance. The building is officially the responsibility of Eastern New Mexico University. But it is eight miles from the campus. President Charles W. Meister explains that the Board of Regents accepted the building with the understanding there would be annual appropriation for staffing and upkeep. The 1965 legislature specified the location of the museum at the old state park.

Inside the building, Dr. Goldstein pointed to rows of display cases and dioramas on either side of the corridor which follows the outside wall of the irregular shaped building. In the center is a large unfinished

He will assist Mrs. Simmons as assistant postmaster and see after his farming interests.

Measles Clinic Sponsored Here

Bayley County Medical Society is sponsoring a measles immunization clinic Saturday, January 13.

All children who have not had measles or vaccines are hoped to take the vaccine made available to them at no charge. Donations of any amount the parent may make will be accepted, however, in the event the person is not able to pay, there will be no fee for the vaccine.

The clinic will be held at Mary DeShazo School nurse's office that day between the hours of 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Vaccines will be given by school nurse Imogene Tiller and Mary C. Miller, Public Health Nurse, Lubbock.

Effects of the administration of measles vaccine to more than 10 million children were first seen in 1965 when 265,501 cases were reported as compared with 487,819 in 1964. In 1966, a total of 202,886 cases were reported, representing the lowest incidence in 21 years. Reported cases represented only about 10 percent of the number actually occurring, so a better estimate of the incidence of measles in 1966 is about two million cases. Less heartening are figures to show that more than 150 children suffer post-measles encephalitis, one of the most serious complications of the disease. Additionally, an estimated 250 children died from measles in 1966 while 50 times as many died from polio.

A Delicate Hint

A gentleman visited the house of an old friend, where the butler, an Irishman, paid him every attention and finally saw him into his motor. The gentleman, who was miserly, did not tip him. As a delicate reminder, the butler said: "Fair, sorr, if you lose your purse on the way home, remember you didn't pull it out here."

Rules For Avalanche-Journal Bee

orally or both of classroom champions may be designated on the basis of their daily grades. However, the regional finals held in Lubbock for county champions are conducted orally and the National Spelling Bee conducted the national finals in Washington orally.

3. Words for the regional Spelling Bee sponsored by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal will come from the "Words of the Champions" book with a supplemental list being used only if all the regional winners in the "Final Words" list have been called. The pronouncer may skip words at his or her discretion in the "First Round words" and "Intermediate Words" and "Final Words" lists. If the close of the "Final Words" list is reached without a champion having been determined, the pronouncer then shall retrace and call words skipped the first time in the "Final Words" list only. If a winner has not been determined by that time, the pronouncer shall call "Winning Words" and "Can You Spell These" lists on Page 32 of "Words of the Champions." If these words are spelled correctly, a supplementary list provided by the Avalanche-Journal shall be used.

Words used in the national finals shall be selected from the "Words of the Champions" book.

from the lists used in the various city and regional contests, and from Webster's Third New International Dictionary.

4. In competition, contestants may pronounce words before spelling them, after spelling them, or not at all.

5. A contestant may request that a word be re-pronounced, defined or used in a sentence. The pronouncer shall grant the request until the officials agree that the word has been made reasonably clear to the contestant. Judges may disqualify any contestant who ignores a request to start spelling.

6. Having started to spell a word a contestant shall be given no opportunity to change letters once pronounced. A speller having started to spell a word may retrace, provided letters and their sequence are not changed in the re-tracing.

7. If no definition of a homonym is given, the correct spelling of either word shall be accepted as correct. When a speller is given the definition of a homonym he must spell the word defined.

8. When a speller fails to spell a word correctly, he or she must drop out of the contest, and no other word shall be given to the next contestant in line.

9. The elimination procedure changes when the contestants are reduced to two. At that point, as soon as one contestant in the opinion of the judges, misspells a word the other contestant immediately shall be given an opportunity to spell that same word. If the second contestant spells that word correctly, plus the next word on the pronouncer's list, then the second contestant shall be declared the champion.

10. If one of the last two spellers misses and the other, after correcting the error, misspells the new word submitted to him, then the misspelled new word shall be referred to the first speller. If the first speller then succeeds in correcting the error and correctly spells the next word on the pronouncer's list, then he shall be declared champion.

11. If both spellers misspell the same word, both shall continue in the contest and the one who first misspells the word shall be given a new word to spell. The contest shall then continue under Rules 9 and 10.

12. Webster's Third International Dictionary shall serve as the final authority for the spelling of words. Such variants and re-formed spellings as appear in small type at the bottom of the page in Webster's, keyed with a dagger or double dagger, will not be accepted as correct.

Obsolete and archaic spellings will be regarded as errors.

13. The judges are in complete control of the Bee. Their decision shall be final on all questions.

14. Any question relating to the spelling of a word must be referred to the judges immediately. No protests can be entertained after the contest is ended.

15. The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Spelling Bee district includes Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Ector, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Howard, King, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Scurry, Terry and room - space for a workshop or for an auditorium.

"We intend to trace the prehistoric man who exhibits through this corridor," the Harvard-trained archeologist explained.

Six dioramas near the entrance are near complete. They trace the geological ages up in time of man.

Further down the hall the display cases stand before unfinished murals of hunters and animals that had not been seen in the New World for 10,000 years until European explorers arrived with their horses.

The cases are mostly empty, but Dr. Agogino says that exhibits are available from the gravel pit showing man's development of hunting equipment and tools through 12,000 years at this site.

One display features the life-size plaster head of a Columbian mammoth with inward curving tusks nine feet long.

Another will show the nearly complete skeleton of the extinct bison antiquus, and the Folsom type spear points found in association with it.

The mammoth was the primary source of food for the first humans on the North American continent. They followed the mammoth.

16. Parochial schools are eligible to enter the contest.

17. County Spelling Bee directors are asked to conduct county contests at least two weeks prior to the date of the regional Bee. County champions are to be certified to the Spelling Bee Editor, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, by the county Spelling Bee director.

18. County champions are asked to register for the Avalanche-Journal Spelling Bee at O. L. Sloan Junior High School Auditorium in Lubbock at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, May 4, 1968.

The winner in the regional finals will be sent to Washington, D.C. for the National Spelling Bee, with transportation, lodging, meals and entertainment expenses paid by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. The regional winner will receive a set of Encyclopedia Britannica; Encyclopedia Britannica World Atlas; a Paper-Mate Capri pen and pencil set, and possession for one year of an inscribed rotating plaque.

In addition, the school of the winner in the Avalanche-Journal Spelling Bee will receive free use of one Britannica film each month during the following school year.

20. Second place winner in the regional finals will receive a cash prize of $20.00; third place, $15.00; fourth place, $10.00; and fifth place $5.00.

21. Each county champion, including the finalists, will receive a photograph from the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. These plaques will become the permanent possession of the winners.

A.W.O.L. soldiers found to be increasing.

lowed the lumbering beasts across the frozen Bering strait, then down through Alaska and Canada.

The route has been traced by the distinctive flint spear points and knives lost along the route. Archeologists have named these "Clovis points" after the place where they were first found in association with mammoth bones - the Blackwater Draw of northern Roosevelt county.

In addition to the mammoth, the scattered bones of horses, camels, and the were wolf which became extinct in the Americas 10,000 years ago have been recovered from this site. Stratas from the 12,000 year-old lake bed have yielded fossil pollen which will enable scientists to reconstruct the weather over this period by the variety of plants that grew at different times.

Dr. Agogino says that all of this material has been removed from the gravel pit ahead of the site which has since destroyed almost all of the deposits. Much of this material has been encased in plaster jackets, awaiting technicians to place to look at a permanent display in the museum.

Up to now no human skeleton has been found anywhere in the New World that can be positively identified with the Clovis or Folsom ages. "The odds against finding such a skeleton are a million to one," Dr. Agogino says, but he emphasizes that the Blackwater Draw area is one of the most likely places to look, and the continued excavation by commercial gravel dredging machinery increases the chances.

It may take something of this nature to re-kindle the interest in the Blackwater Draw Museum, which gained strong support in the legislature in 1965 when the discoveries were fresh, and articles appeared in newspapers and magazines across the nation about them.

State Senator Odus Echols, Jr., of Clovis, says that the Senate twice voted approval of a $15,000 appropriation for the museum in the 1966 session, but the item was deleted in the joint committee of the House and Senate on the appropriations bill during the waning hours of the session. "I had enough votes in the Senate to put the item back in the appropriation bill, but then we realized that this would have meant an extra session and possibly a stalemate."

House majority leader Dave Norvell, also of Clovis, was a member of this five man joint committee. He said recently that the $15,000 appropriation for the Blackwater museum operation fund was written into the appropriations bill, and he considered it safe. But he was called out by the committee meeting in a decisive moment to confer with Governor Cargo about whether the legislature would finish its work during its regular time.

"When I came back they told me the item had been deleted, by unanimous vote," Norvell said that at this late hour he was unable to gain re-consideration.

State Senator R. C. Morgan of Portales thinks it will be no simple matter to gain an annual appropriation for the opening and operation of the museum but that it would be a shame to let the facility stand unused after so much effort has gone into it.

"We need the help of the Clovis people in getting this museum open," Morgan said.

Bob Spencer, manager of the Clovis Chamber of Commerce says that Clovis people are willing to do all they can. "This is a project on which people of both communities can work together. I think this will develop into a great tourist attraction in the years to come if we properly promote it," he said.

Eastern New Mexico University is asking an appropriation of $20,000 for the museum from the next legislative session. Dr. Meister said that $5,000 will be needed to finish the exhibits, $10,000 will be needed for staffing and $5,000 for maintenance and upkeep.

Griffith Named Assistant

Bailey Griffith was recently promoted to assistant to Tripp-Way management director, Dr. John Alman, Canyon.

Griffith was born in Littlefield, educated in Three Way, and attended Texas Tech and attended Texas A&M two years.

Griffith farmed near Muleshoe and later received five years experience with hog confinement systems in Olton, New Deal and Canyon.

Griffith's experience in hog production gives him excellent background for his specialty-trouble-shooting for the Tripp-Way corporations.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith.

He and his wife, Linda, are parents of three children, Hud, age 4; Roni, 2 years and Leslie age four months.

PHIVATE POOL INVADED San Bernardino, Cal.--Arnold Lovick had to delay his usual early morning swim in his backyard pool recently when he found a large deer leaping swimming. Before the animal catcher arrived, the deer climbed out and walked away.

Hog Production Shows Increase with Grain Sorghum

COLLEGE STATION--Availability of sorghum grains favors an increase in Texas pork production.

The facts show that Texas sorghum grain production was approximately 17.36 billion pounds in 1966 and only five to six percent of the state's total production was used for feeding hogs, T. D. Tanksley Jr., Extension animal husbandman, said.

In contrast, midwestern farmers market 35 to 45 percent of their corn through hogs (and cattle). Extensive livestock feeding developed in the corn belt because it provided an opportunity to market grain at a higher price.

If Texas farmers marketed only 25 percent of their sorghum grain through hogs and this increased the selling price of sorghum grain by only 50 cents per hundred-weight, it would increase the net income to Texas farmers by over $15 million annually. Feeding this amount would enable Texas hog production to increase from 1.2 million head to about five million which is approximately the number consumed by Texans each year.

With that in mind, Tanksley said, prospective pork producers may be interested to know that commercial pork production in Texas is undergoing significant changes. Production units are becoming larger and more specialized. As a result, the need for skilled management and a critical business approach is becoming increasingly important.

The progressive pork producer has adopted new breeding and selection programs to increase pork meatiness. Pork products are becoming more lean and tender, Tanksley pointed out that recent meat composition tables indicate that the fat and caloric content of today's pork is one third less than pork of fifteen years ago.

In addition, new housing techniques with environmental control and mechanization to reduce labor are being incorporated into today's confinement units. Cooled and heated farrowing houses, slatted floors and a "flush" type manure disposal system are common features in modern pork enterprises.

"This doesn't mean that everybody growing grain should be in the hog business, but it won't hurt to think about it," advised the specialist.

"The 50 cents per hundred-weight is a conservative estimate and is merely a focus on the possibility of increasing farm income through hog production," Tanksley concluded.

OBJECTIVE ATTAINED!--Colonel Bob Scott, 832nd Air Division commander, discusses replacement of the "Objective Best on TAC" sign with Lt. Col. Frank H. Shepard, commander, 832nd Supply Squadron, following news that Cannon's Supply System has been named the best in Tactical Air Command. The discussion followed the announcement that the 832nd Supply Squadron has been chosen to represent TAC in world-wide competition for the prized Daedalus trophy, awarded annually to the most effective and efficient supply system in the Air Force. Specialized Flying Training Available Under GI Bill

Five new categories of specialized flying training can now be taken under the GI Bill, the Veterans Administration and the Federal Aviation Administration announced recently.

FAA district offices are accepting requests from certificated flying schools that want to offer the following types of FFA-approved training to veterans who already hold pilot certificates:

- * "Class ratings to cover additional aircraft categories.
- * Additional ratings to be added to instructor certificates.
- * Proficiency training needed to prepare for an airline transport rating.
- * Proficiency training needed for a certificate as a rotorcraft external load operator or chief pilot.
- * Proficiency training needed for a certificate as an agricultural aircraft operator or supervisor.

Flying training was authorized for veterans under the Veterans Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 (Public Law 90-77), but two conditions were specified:

First, the eligible veteran must have a valid private pilot certificate (or have completed the necessary flying training leading to such a certificate), and be medically qualified for a commercial pilot certificate.

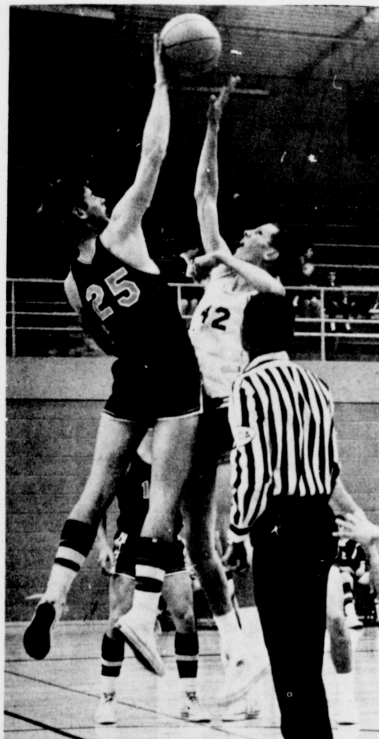

Second, the flight school courses must meet FAA standards and be approved by FAA and the appropriate State authority.

At the time the law was passed, FAA inspected and certificated only those flying training courses leading to pilot certificates, instructor certificates and instrument ratings. The number of applications from veterans for the more advanced courses caused FAA to amend its rules to include them.

Those taking approved flying training are reimbursed quarterly for 90 percent of the cost of the course they are taking.

Railway Adding New Freight Cars: Alliliate to Handle Cannon Jet Fuel

The 1968 capital expenditure program for Santa Fe Railway and its controlled affiliated companies will approximate $82 million, John S. Reed, president, has announced. The Santa Fe's capital expenditures for 1961 approximated $81 million.

Plans call for taking delivery of approximately 1,850 new freight cars and 40 high-capacity road freight diesels.

Work will continue on a new $12 million terminal improvement at Kansas City, Kan., including a new automatic re-tarder operated freight classification yard. Important modernization projects will be started in yards and servicing facilities at several other points on the system. Other major improvements will include renewal of 389 track miles with continuously welded rail, plus an additional 51 miles of welded rail to be used in the Kansas City, Kan., yard project.

A 712-mile microwave system will be installed between Wellington, Kan., and Silsbee, Tex., also linking Oklahoma City, Fort Worth, Cleburne, Temple and Somerville, Tex., and connecting with Santa Fe's existing 2,450-mile network between Chicago and the west coast. Computers will be installed to effect further modernization of data processing functions in four of the system's centralized station accounting bureaus and to coordinate them with Santa Fe's large data processing center at Topeka, Kan.

Additional piggyback and highway equipment will be purchased for Santa Fe Trail Transportation Co., a trucking affiliate. An important subsidiary company project for 1968 will be the construction by Santa Fe Pipeline Co. of a common carrier pipeline between Amarillo and Clovis to handle jet fuel for Cannon Air Force Base as well as petroleum products for commercial users.

COLORED POLES
New Orleans—E.C. King, president of the American Wood Preservers Association, told members colored utility poles will soon appear on the American landscape. He said that by 1975 half the nation's multi-millions of poles will feature new designs and color.

CREATION...

ISN'T IT AMAZING

... Scientists say that there are no two snowflakes alike! How many snowflakes do you suppose there have been since the beginning of time? Billions? It staggers the imagination when one thinks of all the things that God has created from nothing.

Genesis, the first book in the bible means beginning. It tells of many of God's more major creations, and how He created all these things for the benefit of man. Attend church, study God's word and learn more of God's plan for man.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The Sandhills Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm struggles with a new tax proposal this week.)

Dear editor:
According to an article I read in a copy of a newspaper last night while two television newscasters were taking up time telling what they thought instead of just reporting the news, the economic experts in Washington have mapped out a plan to bolster the American dollar and its relation to the international balance of payments, a matter I do not understand now and which I have no intentions of understanding any time in the future.

One of the points in the plan is to restrict American's travel abroad for the next two years. I can ratify this, in fact, any time I get off this Johnson grass farm, except maybe for an occasional trip into Muleshoe when the traffic is light, I feel uncomfortable and begin to notice a definite dollar drain, but what I'd like to know is what is this going to do to candidates for President?

How can a man run for President if he can't first travel through half a dozen countries to improve his standing as an expert on foreign affairs and get his name in the papers? Everybody knows you can't enter the Presidential Primaries in New Hampshire without first going by Moscow, Paris and South Vietnam. I never have seen one who thought he ought to come by my farm out here. And also, the economic experts have argued, if just asking Americans not to travel abroad won't work, a tourist tax should be voted. There'd be a special tax for leaving the country, one for returning. This sounds like a good idea to me, one of the genuinely new sources of tax revenue thought up in a long time.

After all, if a man is going to be taxed even while at home minding his own business, why shouldn't he be taxed also when he's leaving?

This way the government would have money rolling in, coming or going.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

ATTENTION COTTON FARMERS...

If You Cannot Sell Now... Use Form "A" Loan

The area cotton industry has made great strides in 1967 in re-establishing itself in the Marketplace. We urge you to personally see that your product moves into the channels of trade, rather than allow it to become government property.

However, if you feel that it is not feasible for you to sell your cotton now, the Form "A" Loan is available to you as an orderly marketing tool. Your county A.S.C.S. office will help you place your cotton in the loan. Under this loan you retain title to your cotton, and have an opportunity to sell it until July 31, 1968.

TO PUT YOUR COTTON IN THE FORM "A" LOAN COSTS AT LEAST $1.00 PER BALE LESS THAN OTHER LOAN PROGRAMS AVAILABLE TO YOU. Also, it provides that you keep title and full control of the cotton.
