$38,515.50 PAID IN CLAY COUNTY BY HOME LOAN CORP.

According to information announced by Donley Suddath, local attorney for Home Owners' Loan Corporation for Clay county, thirty-four loans have been closed entirely with only three pending, making total loans reach the mark of $38,515.50. The average loan made was $1,243.60, the largest reaching $4,274.33 and the least dropping to $302.60.

Many of the loans issued from this corporation were used in payment of taxes. Records show that $1,663.90 state and county taxes were paid by HOLC, $1,028.60 city of Henrietta taxes paid by HOLC, and $960.25 school taxes paid by HOLC. Total taxes paid by HOLC amounts to $3,652.73.

The Home Owners' Loan Corporation loaned the three billions of dollars appropriated by Congress, and has ceased taking applications for loans until and unless Congress appropriates more money for loans. Congress is being asked to appropriate one billion dollars more for this purpose. Congressman McFarlane is seeking to get this appropriation through as early as possible.

These loans are intended to finance home owners who are in distress and about to lose their homes through inability to finance the loan otherwise. Over the entire nation, it is estimated that more than 20,000 homes were redeemed that had actually been lost to the home owner through foreclosure.

OBSOLETE TEXTS TO BE SENT TO AUSTIN

County Superintendent J. W. Callaway and his deputy, Mrs. Bettye Douglas, have been busy the past week making improvements in the appearance of their office in the courthouse.

Large numbers of books lining the shelves of the office are now out of adoption and were removed, being replaced by new text books arranged in neat and precise manner. Many books, due to overcrowded conditions in the office, were stored in an adjoining office, created an inconvenience for the office workers. Since the re-arrangement, shelf room has been secured for these books also.

The out-of-adoption texts have been sacked, numbering approximately 15, and are ready for shipment to Austin, where they are handled by state authorities.

CENTENNIAL GOVERNOR'S GREETINGS TO AMERICAN LEGION AND AUXILIARY

By James V. Allred Who Took the Oath of Office as Governor of Texas on January 15

We are beginning a new year, rich with possible accomplishment of service to Texas. The eyes of the world will be upon Texas during the next twelve months. This is an hour that calls for the best in every man and woman. Moving together, we can set Texas upon the pinnacle of the states. Rich in resources, blessed with climate, populated by the sons and daughters of pioneers, strategic in location, an empire in its own right, Texas faces a future bright with promise. We have merely scratched the soil. It is time for us to prepare for the larger harvest.

Centennial year will soon be upon us!

We pause from our busy tasks to commemorate one hundred years as a free people. Under six flags, including our own Lone Star, we have come through a hundred years of development. Looking back across the dim vista of the century, we can re-affirm the stout cry of our fathers at the Alamo: "We shall never surrender nor retreat!"

The American Legion and its Auxiliary occupy a central place of opportunity in this, the Centennial era. Composed of men and women still young in body and spirit, actively engaged in industry, agriculture, education, and government, we bear upon our shoulders burdens that our fathers bore. We shall carry them without complaint. Standing on the threshold of this new year, the American Legion looks back with pride upon the traditions and history of Texas, and to forever commemorate the glorious past of Texas, we, as Legionnaires, are engaged in a great undertaking.

We are committed to the task of building a great memorial museum in which the treasures of days gone by may be kept for the unborn generations of Texas. This is a great undertaking, worthy of the Legion and the people of Texas. I heartily endorse and am thoroughly committed to participation in this worthy cause.

This is a year when old hatreds will be forgotten. This is a new day, new for the old and the young, a day that calls for our very best. Let us go forward with the spirit of our fathers, those tall men who settled the forests and the plains of a new land. Let us go forward with the spirit of our mothers, who made a wilderness into a garden spot, and bequeathed to their children a spirit that shall never die.

This is a new year for Texas in many ways. I unhesitatingly pledge to you without reservation my sincere consecration to the task that you have given me as Governor. Yet this task of every man and every woman in Texas. Together we shall succeed, by the help of God, for the sake of our children, and for the glorious future of Texas.—Texas Legion News.

One of the biggest talent hunts in the history of movie-making got under way in preparation for "The White Parade," Jesse L. Lasky production for Fox Film which comes to the Dorothy Theatre on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 25th and 26th.

"The White Parade" is the first film dealing with the semi-cloistered lives of girls in training for careers as nurses. It is based on the novel of the same title, by Rian James, who also wrote the screen play, in collaboration with Jesse L. Lasky, Jr.

Besides a large and impressive cast of featured players, more than 200 girls were given atmospheric roles as "young ladies in white" in this powerful picturization of the student nurse. Loretta Young plays the leading role.

'WHITE PARADE' OFFERS MANY HEART THROBS

LORETTA YOUNG - JOHN BOLES ARE FEATURED IN DRAMATIC MOVING STORY

Described as one of the most human and dramatic screen stories of the year, Jesse L. Lasky's "The White Parade," a Fox Film production, will be seen at the Dorothy Theatre Friday and Saturday, Jan. 25th and 26th.

Loretta Young and John Boles play the leading roles in this first of all films to deal with the student nurse—her training days, her heart aches, and her happiness in service. To judge from advance accounts, the picture sets a new high for faithfulness to life and for discovering heart throbs, pathos and laughter in the most realistic of material.

Student nurses—the girls nobody knows! These are the subjects of this tender and touching story, which Director Irving Cummings has brought to the screen under the supervision of Lasky has made in his long and notable production career, which parallels the whole development of the industry in this country.

A notable cast is lined up in support of the two leading players. Among them are Dorothy Wilson, Muriel Kirkland, Astrid Allwyn, Frank Melton, Walter Johnson, Jane Darwell, Frank Conroy, Sara Haden and Joyce Compton.

Rian James wrote the novel on which the screen play of "The White Parade" is based and in collaboration with Jesse L. Lasky, Jr., he likewise prepared the screen play. Sonya Levien and Ernest Pascal handled the adaptation.

A picture of heart throbs, of pathos and laughter, of touching humanity and high resolve—that is what is promised to local audiences when "The White Parade" is revealed here.

GATESVILLE—The cost of digging and filling a 60 foot trench silo was only $18.50 for an estimated amount of 25 tons of silage, W. T. Perryman, Coryell county, told D. W. Sherrill, farm demonstration agent. Mr. Perryman declared that the $18.50 covered the cost of labor and all other expenses, and that the estimated replacement value of the 25 tons of feed in the silo is $250. "In a time of short pasturage and feed the use of trench silos and the saving of feed that otherwise would be wasted is very important," Mr. Perryman says.

WHAT ABOUT YOU?

About every country town has two classes of citizens, of which the majority of both are undoubtedly well meaning.

One class speaks well of the home community, finding much that is praiseworthy and deserving of comment. They see the best side of everything and do not hesitate to make it known. They also see the worst side, regret its existence, and are always ready to do what they can to remedy undesirable conditions. A community advances under such guiding hands.

The other side recognizes the town as home, but sees little to commend. Undesirable conditions, though trivial in their importance, are magnified many fold and become a dominant subject of criticism. Sincere and well meaning though they may be, a community controlled by such hands invariably stands still, or worse. There is no incentive for advancement.

It is an unfortunate fact that words of praise are heard and remembered for the moment. A knock rolls on indefinitely, gaining momentum as it travels.

It will pay you to give this subject a few minutes of serious thought, and ask yourself to which class you belong.

"I am determined that the people of this country keep before them the fundamental issues. I refuse to be diverted by the misrepresentations of opponents, the fears of the weak, the madness of the unreasoning."—President Roosevelt.

STATESMEN OR POLITICIANS???

It is not an exaggeration to say that the average business man looks to a session of Congress with dread and uncertainty. That has been especially true during the past few years, inasmuch as economic stress has led to an oversupply of proposed "remedies" for all our financial and social ills—remedies which, for the most part, would have been worse than the disease.

Nothing could do more to encourage business, and the average citizen, than a conservative, responsible attitude on the part of the present Congress. Conservatism does not necessarily mean, "stand-pat-ism" but it does mean a decent regard for our Constitution as contrasted with the "isms" that are attacking it. It means that in the effort to bring about needed reforms, honest businesses will not be sacrificed to the Gods of Socialism, Communism or Dictatorship. It means that charges of bad faith and crookedness should not be hurled at American business in general by public officials seeking temporary popularity at public expense.

It is the common belief that responsible Congressmen of both parties are frankly worried about radicalism within their own ranks. It is to be hoped that the sound and sober thinking servants of the people will be able to curb the irresponsibles—and help restore that priceless element—confidence—to the people.

DON'T KILL THE LEAD DOG

The Saturday Evening Post recently published a symbolic cartoon which illustrates with remarkable aptness political abuse of industry.

The cartoon shows a dog-team driver, against a background of Northern snows. The team has been drawing a tremendous load of bundles, labeled High Costs, Unbalanced Budget, Government Spending and Government Competition in Business. Apparently the dogs are weary and are unable to go farther without rest. The driver, who typifies Political Radicalism, is not willing to pause. Instead he is beating to death with a club labeled Taxes, the lead dog named American Industry. The second dog, Expansion, has collapsed in the snow, tongue hanging out, eyes closed. The fourth dog, Capital Goods, is exhausted, as is the last dog, Employment, which looks as if it were about to give up the ghost.

Severe as this caricature is, it is eminently justified. If American business is to continue to pull its heavy load, it must have confidence. It must be given a chance. It must expand and develop. It must employ men. Instead, however, all units of government seem trying to outdo each other in wielding the tax club. Excessive taxes close factories, confiscate homes and farms, prevent construction, destroy employment and investment, and drive capital into hiding.

It is foolhardy to beat and berate industry when it is weary and overworked—when it should be given stimulation and confidence. It is the height of folly to kill the lead dog with a club of confiscatory taxation and onerous legislation when the wolf pack of depression and unemployment are at our heels.

WHY NOT COMPULSORY BACON EATING?

Again we are faced with proposals for more compulsory experimental laws. For example, in Oregon the legislature will be asked to pass a law to the effect that beginning with 1936 it will be made compulsory to add 3 per cent of alcohol made in Oregon from farm waste, such as cull potatoes, to each gallon of gasoline, and furthermore that the percentage of alcohol shall be increased to 5 per cent, then 10 per cent and then 15 per cent each succeeding year. The legislature will be further asked to make such alcohol producing plants free from taxes for five years, and free from one-half of all taxes for a second five-year period, if they operate at 50 per cent capacity.

Why should a man driving a motor car be forced to use alcohol if he does not want to, on the theory that it will use a farm crop? If alcohol for fuel is as good as it is claimed, and is cheaper, why is it not sold to the public as any other commodity? If it is as good as it is claimed, why is it necessary to force the public to buy it? The mere fact that it cannot compete in the open market, should be pretty good evidence that it will not justify the claims for it by its sponsors.

This is not an argument against using waste farm crops, it is an argument against using alcohol for fuel, but it is an argument against forcing a man to buy a product that he may not want, and that may be as good for his use as other fuels.

Why not pass a law to make every person blend two slices of bacon with his breakfast every morning, to use up waste hog production?

"From the bottom of my heart I believe that this country of ours is entering a time of great gain . . . for 120,000,000 human beings and not a prosperity for the top of the pyramid alone."—President Roosevelt.

CAPITOL NEWS LETTER

By W. D. McFarlane M. C. 13th Congressional District.

Appropriation Bills

In spite of the fact that there have been numerous recesses, legislation has been moving through Congress at a much more rapid rate than last year. Already the Independent Offices Appropriation Bill has passed both the House and the Senate. Last year this bill was argued and debated for weeks in both houses before its final passage. Friday, the 18th, the House passed the District of Columbia Appropriation Bill with little or no fanfare. The requests for increases in the appropriations received little support and the Blanton-Cannon combination effectively blocked any additions.

Social Security

President Roosevelt's dream of bringing a reasonable economic and social security to every American family, came a bit closer to full realization on Thursday, January 17. The President sent his message on the subject to the Senate that day and immediately Senator Wagner of N. Y. and Representative Lewis of Maryland introduced bills into their respective Chambers which embodied all the points made in the President's message. These bills were rushed to a preferred place on the calendars and immediate action may be expected. The House Ways and Means Committee has decided that this is more important than the Bonus and so that measure has been pushed back to make way for the social security bill in an effort to get this legislation through Congress before the state legislatures adjourn; for, the actual administration will be by state boards.

The plan outlined by the President in his message and placed in the bills takes in almost every conceivable feature of social reform. Not only the old age pensions and unemployment insurance proposed but maternity, child, and health benefits have also been included. As usual the liberals think many of its provisions far too modest and the conservatives denounce it wholeheartedly as being radical.

The unemployment insurance plan will permit a maximum compensation to the worker of $15 per week beginning four weeks after losing his job and continuing for not more than 16 weeks. After that he must secure work on the public works program to draw money from the government. The insurance will be financed by a federal payroll tax which will be increased to a maximum of 3 per cent by Jan. 1, 1938. Any payments by employers to State unemployment funds may be deducted from the tax.

The old age pensions plan is divided into three parts consisting of noncontributory, compulsory, and voluntary. The noncontributory class will include all persons at present over the age of 65. These will receive a maximum of $30 each month from the combined subsidies of the various states and the Federal government. The compulsory fund will be financed by a payroll tax graduated from one per cent in 1937 to five per cent after 1957. The tax will be borne equally by the employer and employee. Persons too old to build up their own insurance would still receive the benefits and in case of death the heirs would receive the actual amount of the payments plus interest. The voluntary system will permit the purchase of additional annuities up to $50 per month.

The third point in the program proposes subsidies to the States for the aid of mothers and dependent children amounting to $25,000,000 annually. Besides this amount an annual appropriation of $4,000,000 for state maternal and child health grants is requested; also, appropriations of $2,000,000 for the state care of crippled children and $1,500,000 for aid to child welfare services.

The fourth is supplemental aid from the Federal government to the state and local public health agencies. An annual appropriation of $10,000,000 is requested for this purpose. Of this, $2,000,000 is to be devoted to the Bureau of Public Health for research work and the balance to be allotted to the various states on the basis of their need.

When he was in Greece, Insull said if he were tried in the United States he wouldn't get justice. P. S. —He was right!

Agreements Signed On Terracing Plans

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 24.—Terracing takes its place early as an important rural activity of 1935 and is so recognized by an agreement between the Texas Extension Service and Texas Rural Communities Inc. to co-operate in increasing the amount of land in the State under the protection of terraces.

Under the plan, which is definitely a part of the rural rehabilitation program of the Emergency Relief Administration and of the soil and water conservation program of the Extension Service, R. M. Bentley agricultural engineer, will have charge for the Extension Service and will give supervision to the work which will be carried on in the counties through the farm demonstration work supplemented by terracing assistants employed by relief agencies.

The Extension Service, according to the agreement, will be responsible for securing the co-operation in counties desiring the program; for furnishing technical supervision of county terracing assistants employed by the Rural Communities Inc.; and for assisting with training workers and giving general supervision of conservation work.

The Rural Communities Inc., which is the governmental agency charged with rural rehabilitation, will employ an assistant to its manager to furnish general supervision of these terracing assistants, will provide funds on a refunding basis to facilitate conservation work that will furnish work for relief labor and will also provide financial aid for individuals who desire to terrace their lands with relief labor but are unable to obtain the money for it from regular financial institutions. These loans will be so arranged as to be payable over a long period of time with small interest charges.
