Texans Are Urged to Buy New Stamp at March 2 Event

All Texans should join in a drive to make the first day sale of Texas Centennial stamps at Gonzales, March 2, the greatest first day stamp sale ever held, according to Charles Roster, director, state department of information for Texas Centennial Celebrations.

It was suggested that individuals could do this and at the same time promote interest in the state-wide Centennial celebrations now underway throughout the state by writing invitations to friends and relatives in other states, asking them to visit Texas during 1936, and sending the letters to Gonzales to be mailed March 2 under new stamp cancellations.

Such letters, with envelopes addressed by the sender, should be sent under cover to the postmaster at Gonzales, accompanied by a proper amount of cash or money order. The Centennial issue is a three-cent stamp. Stamps or checks will not be accepted. The letters then will be stamped with the new Centennial stamp and will be mailed from Gonzales March 2, with the coveted cancellation.

All previous records for first day sales on new stamp issues may be broken when the Texas stamp goes on sale at the "Lexington" of Texas independence. The heavy demand made by stamp collectors throughout the world is being increased materially by efforts of Gonzales business men to secure large orders for future use from business firms. Texans throughout the state may swell the volume by sending Centennial invitations to Gonzales to be mailed under the new stamp on March 2.

The school has grown in enrollment and is now rated the highest school in Clay county. Mr. George is also one of the civic leaders of Byers and an able church leader in the First Methodist church.

His host of friends congratulate him upon his work and all feel sure of its progress next year under Mr. George's excellent supervision.

In the second and closing day of the first annual Clay County Livestock show Saturday, more than 3,000 spectators thronged the exhibition grounds to view the pride of the county's livestock.

Owner of the grand champion calf in the 4-H Club contest was James Lewis Crockett, whose junior entry bred by George W. Scaling, was adjudged the outstanding calf of the entire show. It weighed 830 pounds.

Winner of the special livestock judging contest held by the vocational agriculture class of Henrietta High school was Junior Ayres, who made 410 out of a possible 500 points in judging to take the Kiwanis loving cup and first place.

George Graner took first honors in the poultry division, when his first place pullet entry in the Rhode Island Red class was adjudged grand champion bird of the show.

Carl Sanzenbacher's calf, with a premium of 14½ cents per pound, brought the best price in the auction of 4-H club calves by J. R. Ray of Wichita Falls. The bull calf was sold to the Central Meat Market of Henrietta, and weighed 880 pounds.

Both calves fed by Carl Sanzenbacher were Polled Herefords. He only fed the calves for 137 days, each calf gaining 2½ pounds each day, and weighing 880 pounds at the time of the show.

None of the calves brought less than 11 cents per pound.

The winner in the 4-H Club senior division contest was a calf fed by Robert Payne and bred by L. B. Hapgood. It was given the title of reserve champion and weighed 930 pounds.

James Short received the highest price for hogs auctioned, selling his to James Henry for 12 cents per pound.

Judging of beef cattle was in charge of G. W. Barnes of College Station. Mr. Ray of Wichita Falls, judged the poultry. G. D. Baptists to Honor General Houston in Religious Service

Baptists all over the United States will join in a religious celebration of the birthday of General Sam Houston, March 1.

Houston's birthday falls on Texas Independence Day, March 2, but services will be held in all Baptist churches the preceding Sunday. In his letter to 2,000 Baptist congregations Rev. Howard Williams, secretary of the Texas Baptist Convention, urged union services in every community where there are two or more Baptist churches.

Special services will be held in First Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., which Houston attended when he was United States Senator, at Baylor University in Waco, Texas, whose founder Dr. Rufus G. Burleson baptized General Houston and at Independence, Texas, where he joined the church.

The Texas Centennial Exposition which is co-operating with the Texas Baptist Convention in plans for this religious observance will have a $50,000 Hall of Religion, a spacious and beautiful building for free exhibits by all denominations. In the Baptist section of the structure special stress will be laid on Houston's services to his state and to the Republic of Texas of which he was the first president.

CAPITOL NEWS LETTER

By W. D. McFarlane, M. C.

To Restore Farmers' Buying Power

The Senate passed S. 3780, a soil conservation measure to replace AAA legislation in keeping with the recent decision of the Supreme Court. This measure provides protection of the land resources of the country and requires state administration in compliance after 1938 before federal funds are available. The House committee is due to report and consider on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday a similar bill to replace AAA, this legislation should be completed and in free conference before the end of the week. It will then be necessary to provide revenues and make appropriations estimated at $440,000,000 to care for same.

More Taxes?

The President, it seems, is due to send a message to Congress during the week recommending new taxes to replace the farm processing taxes and perhaps other needed revenues. The Democratic platform on taxation provides "A system of taxation levied on the principle of ability to pay." More than 60 per cent of the revenues were received from taxes based on ability to pay in 1930; in 1935 over 60 per cent were received from revenues other than based on ability to pay (sales taxes, etc.) The American Liberty League seems to have overlooked this point in their attack on this administration. Under all recent economic surveys the poor are getting poorer and the richer richer. The writer has repeatedly recommended amendments to existing tax laws to correct this situation, to stop the loopholes and raise revenues based on income, rather than on consumption (sales taxes). It seems this question is to be fought over again this session.

War Department Appropriations Bill

The largest peace-time War Department appropriation in history was passed in the House Friday, appropriating more than $500,000,000, over 310,000,000 of which applied to non-military activities such as rivers and harbors improvements, etc. This measure provides for all kinds of increased armaments and weapons of national defense and provides for building our air force to treaty strength of 1,800 planes. The writer pointed out the insufficiency of our procurement methods as compared to that of other nations and our relative position in air defense. Strong efforts were made to increase the aircraft appropriation. The writer bitterly opposed an amendment for $13,000,000 for additional aeroplanes and it was defeated. The bill provides for all aircraft possible of construction of available plants the next year. The writer succeeded in adding an amendment to this bill that will limit the profits of aircraft and supplies to 10 per cent. This amendment is estimated to save the tax payers more than $25,000,000 annually.

The Calendar

The House debated the War Department appropriations bill practically all the past week finally passing it Friday evening. There were

This legislation should be passed finally by the House and sent to the president this week. Neutrality legislation has been reported and should be considered during the week. The president has taken all of the unused funds of PWA and RFC to be used for other purposes to be announced during the week. Ways and means of paying the bonus are still pending—will it be through unexpended funds taken from other departments, through a bond issue or through reflation?

NYA of Texas Has More Boys At Work Than Other States

Austin, Feb. 19.—Texas is leading the Nation in putting youths to work on NYA and WPA projects.

This was revealed in a communication to Lyndon B. Johnson, state NYA director, from Thelma McKelvey, secretary to the national advisory committee of the National Youth Administration.

Miss McKelvey's letter stated: "I have been accumulating figures on youth employment throughout the country and can truthfully and happily say you are the first to report any figures of this size. I thought you would be pleased to know you are 'number one' in youth employment."

The January report submitted by Director Johnson showed that 8,571 youths are at work with 6,751 of that number on NYA projects and 1,820 on WPA jobs. The report also showed that 467 projects had been approved and $429,530 had been set aside for prosecution of the projects.

"Through the co-operation of the WPA, Texas Relief Commission and state and national employment services we have been able to attain this figure, and we expect to have 12,500 youngsters on the job by Saturday, Feb. 22," Director Johnson said. Latest totals at NYA headquarters show that jobs have been made available for 19,426 youngsters and that federal funds allocated for approved projects total $447,288.10.

VICTORIA CELEBRATES

The City of Victoria, center of a wide-spread cattle industry, will join the Texas Centennial celebration parade on April 15 when it will review its colorful history with a field mass and pageant. The mass will commemorate a mass held on the banks of the Guadalupe river on April 15, 1869, which was presided over by Alonzo de Leon who was searching for La Salle's settlement.

IS SPINACH CENTER

One farm in Zapata county, Texas, alone produces more spinach each year than is grown in any other one state in the Union. Zapata county is in the rich Winter Garden district of Southwest Texas. Crystal City, county seat and active shipping center is a Centennial celebration city with its Spinach festival planned for March 17.

No coss examining lawyer can beat Rosborough when it comes to this questioning business—"Were five loads of manure applied to each acre of your garden?" he asked (if not, rotted manure, leaf mold or rotted gin burs can still be applied, he says).

Reminiscences

By Etta Mae Rains

Early one summer morning
The sun was shining bright,
All over the golden meadow
It gave a gloomy light.

And birds from their nests in the tree-tops
Had all come out to sing;
All of the insects were humming
For it seemed as everything
knew it was Spring.

The busy little workers
From out of the woodland so fond,
Were gathering honey from the lilies
Growing in the shadeless pond.

I sat on the mountain at sun-up
And looked o'er the meadow so
fair;

For all of these little workers
I could see not, and knew that they were there.

But I could see down in the meadow,
The old mill-house and stream,
Where many a day I wandered
On the grass so soft and green.

With many a barefooted playmate
And many a sweet-heart fond,
I wandered around the mill-house
And played in the beautiful pond.

Yes, the scene is very beautiful
To look on the meadow so fair,
But it is very sad and lonely, too,
When you find no playmates
there.

The playmates have all gone away
To that beautiful land so fair,
Where gladness, love, joy and happiness
Are all our comforts there.

And I felt it somehow as I sat on the mountain side
And looked o'er the meadow so
fair,
That in the future not very long
off,
I would meet my playmates
there.

PWA Applications for Loans Are Put on New Time Limit

Returning from a series of conferences in Washington, Julian Montgomery, PWA State Director for Texas today declared that no further substitution of public works projects will be permitted and that communities which do not accept at once offers already made by PWA are likely to lose their projects thru revocation of allotments by the Administrator of Public Works.

The State Director said that he had been advised by Administrator Harold L. Ickes that communities which have selected PWA projects and have received allotments for them from the 1935 appropriation must now proceed with those projects or miss their opportunity in the current PWA program.

In the formulation of the present PWA program the State Directors were permitted where conditions warranted to recommend to Washington substitution of approved projects. Numerous changes were approved by PWA upon proper justification. Now, however, sufficient opportunity has been given all recipients of allocations to make up their minds as to the projects desired most. PWA therefore, while not depriving any community of funds for specific projects which have already received allotments, will not entertain further requests for the substitution of projects.

State Director Julian Montgomery sounded a warning to communities which have failed to accept offers from PWA. If offers already in the hands of applicants are not accepted within a reasonable time after receipt, a week or ten days at most, allotments will be rescinded forthwith, Mr. Montgomery said.

"Administrator Ickes told us in Washington that we cannot wait for these laggard communities," he added. "If they are not prepared to go ahead, now that PWA has allotted the money and now that the offer has gone out, we will have to rescind." The Administrator said that in no case over a week or ten days from the time of offer has been received should we wait for a community to dilly dally, trying to make up its mind whether it wants PWA assistance or not.

"The Administrator also emphasized the necessity for speed in the completion of PWA's part of the program. With the exception of a few of the larger undertakings all projects for which allotments have been made must be completed by next fall."

ONE YEAR $1.00

Payable Cash in Advance

$16,000,000,000 WORTH OF SECURITY

We are accustomed to astronomic figures these days. We think of a billion as we used to think of a million, and a mere hundred thousand seems insignificant.

Even so, recently published figures concerning the life insurance industry should cause the reader to think twice about the service the industry is rendering the nation.

During the year 1935, life insurance payments totaled $2,600,000,000—of which $1,700,000,000 went to living policy holders, and only $900,000,000 to beneficiaries. No one knows how much of that great sum was received by persons in straitened circumstances, to whom it meant the difference between comfort and privation, but it is certain that a substantial part of it served that purpose. For the six-year period beginning in 1930, life insurance paid out over $16,000,000,000—dollars which kept homes from foreclosure, businesses from failure, and individuals from dire want.

Quietly and efficiently, the life insurance industry has done a magnificent piece of work in bringing social security to millions of foresighted, thrifty citizens.

WISE FARMERS STICK TO FARMING

The fear has been expressed that the development of the agricultural co-operative movement will tempt the farmers to go into other lines of business—lines in which they are entirely inexperienced.

Commenting on this, the head of the largest and most successful dairy co-ops in the nation said that there is no reason for economic justification for farmers going into alien fields of endeavor on a commercial basis. And he added that, due to the high mortality in all business, there would be so many costly failures if farmers attempted to extend their "co-ops" to different lines, that the co-operative movement as a whole would be harmed and endangered.

It would be as unwise for a group of farmers to go into manufacturing, as it would be for a group of industrialists to go into farming. The farm co-operative movement, soundly conceived and administered, parallels the association activities of other lines of industry. To distort this movement, and change its fundamental purpose to embrace former-operation of businesses distinct from agriculture, would be a dangerous folly. In other words, let the farmer stick to his farming and the manufacturer to his factory.

"There are determined groups that . . . steal the livery of great national constitutional ideals to serve discredited special interests."—President Roosevelt.
